ALLEGORY

In the midst of a forest there stood a mouse-trap man- ufacturer who turned out a de- sirable item. His was a home- made mouse-trap. He worked hard long hours making steel traps by hand. Mother kept books and wrote the letters. There were no sales agents. Customers already beaten a path to his door— formed a waiting line.

Donations in Red Cross Campaign Are Lagging

Donations to the annual Roll Call campaign of the American Red Cross in Terrell County thus far in the drive to raise $100,000,000 in the United States is far short of the quota set for this county.

Harvey D. Gibson, national chairman of the 1946 Red Cross Fund appeal, this week called upon all campaign workers in chapters to unite in an undiminished effort to raise the $100,000,000 required in what he described as the most important peace-time fund raising effort in Red Cross history. Mr. Gibson, nationally known financier and philanthropist, served from August 1942 to May 1945 as American Red Cross Commissioner to Great Britain, and Western Europe.

"Together we toiled through four years of conflict to carry Red Cross services to our valiant fighting forces throughout the world," said Mr. Gibson. "We have seen that job accomplished, thanks to the unflinching support of the American people."

"Today we face another equally important task, if not in fact more difficult, by reason of the transition from war to peace. It is the obligation and responsibility of every chapter worker to see that the services of the Red Cross to our veterans—to our men still overseas—to the wounded in our hospitals—continue for us long as these needs exist."

"The campaign objective of $100,000,000 represents an absolute minimum. Provided the opportunity to participate is extended to the entire citizenship I am fully confident that the goal will be achieved."

M. H. Goode Jr., County and District Clerk of Terrell County announced this week that he will not be a candidate for re-election to this office.

Announce Another Southern School Assembly Program

William G. "Happy Bill" Cope International Ambassador of Goodwill, will appear at the Sanderson High School auditorium on Thursday, March 21st, at 8 p. m., according to an announcement by the Sanderson P. T. A.

Born in England, he came to Canada at an early age and went West, ranging over the different provinces until World War I started. He volunteered in the Canadian army and was in France, January, 1915. He spent three years and nine months in the Ypres sector.

He never seriously entertained the idea of becoming a musician before enlisting. During the third battle of Panchandale in Flanders he found a mandolin in a once-used German dugout and started to play for the fun of it.

On his return to Canada, the Canadian Government sent him to Florida for his health and there the music bug hit him via the banjo. He soon mastered it and his first engagement was in the George Mason Hotel in Jacksonville. From there he went into vaudeville. From vaudeville he became entertainer in smart hotels and resorts; West Palm Beach in the winter and Saratoga in the summer.

He has played in England, France and Belgium, and at the time of the Munich crisis was heading a revue in Lille, France. Before World War II he was Master of Ceremonies on the Empress of Britain, one of the greatest of the luxury lines, sunk early in the war by the Germans.

Cope has made dozens of trips across the Atlantic; and in America, by speedometer reading, has traveled a million and a half miles in the line of entertainment.

He plays Stephen Foster melodies and popular folk songs on the Banjo; Musical comedy and novelty numbers on the Piano; and South American music marches and popular American music on the Piano Accordion.

Cope's versatility, genial personality and superb showmanship have made him a favorite with audiences for many years. His show is truly different and enjoyable.

Andy Anderson, accompanied by his daughter, Joan, were business visitors in San Antonio this week.

Presentation of charter to the Sanderson Lions Club was made Thursday evening, at a banquet held in the basement of the Masonic Hall, with District Governor, Charles H. Dean of Plainview, Texas, making the presentation.

Preliminary steps toward organizing a Lions Club in Sanderson were made about six weeks ago, with a membership of 31 attending the first dinner meeting of the club, which was held in the Banquet Room of the Kerr Hotel.

The membership increased by leaps and bounds, and at the time the charter was presented to the local club on Thursday evening some 62 paid-up members had been accepted.

Members of the local chapter of the Eastern Star prepared the food for the banquet, serving about 120 people. Mrs. Ruel Adams, Worthy Matron of the Eastern Star, served as chairman of the committee.

The program Thursday evening began with the call to order by Paul Counts, president of the Sanderson Lions Club, after which everyone sang "America," followed by the Pledge to the Flag, and the invocation by Rev. John Byrd, pastor of the Sanderson Presbyterian Church.

Rev. J. W. Hendrix, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Sanderson, gave the address of welcome, after which a short program was presented by the Alpine Lions Club, headed by Jack Perryman, president of the Alpine Club, who served as sponsors of the local organization.

Following the program, Rev. Hendrix introduced Charles H. Dean, District Governor of Plainview, who gave the main address of the evening.

After the presentation of the charter by District Governor Dean, and the acceptance by Paul Counts, president of the local club, the National Anthem was sung.

Texas 4-H Club Girls Show Outstanding Work in Past Year

COLLEGE STATION, March 15—The year 1945 shows record achievements of the 45,939 4-H girls in Texas, according to Lorene Stevent, 4-H Club specialist of the A. and M. College Extension Service.

Miss Stevens reports that 24,804 girls planned and served 563,443 meals and canned 1,889,007 quarts of fruits, vegetables and meats.

In the sewing line, 30,922 club members made or renovated 115,201 garments, including underwear, dresses, suits, coats and accessories.

Interior home improvement was a project of 12,302 club girls last year. Their work included re-papering, refinishing woodwork and furniture, adding windows, re-arranging furniture for comfort and convenience, or otherwise improving their homes by adding drapes, window shades or bed linens.

One Million Home Gardens Is Goal Set for This Year

COLLEGE STATION, March 15—The goal of three quarters of a million home gardens in Texas, previously announced for 1946, has been upped to a full million by C. R. Heaton, horticulturist of the Texas A. and M. College Extension.

The upward revision points out the need for home production of vegetables at a level equal to that of the war years and reflects the critical world food situation.

Dr. Trotter has instructed all county agricultural and home demonstration agents to make home gardening a major activity. He said recent developments in the world food situation are such that food will be as critical an item, if not more so, than during any year of the war.

Enrollment at Texas University Sets All-Time High

AUSTIN, March 15—University of Texas enrollment for the spring semester reached an all-time high, with 12,272 students paying fees, the bursar's office reports.

This is the largest registration the University has ever had and is approximately 3,000 more students than were here during the winter semester which ended with spring registration March 1. The pre-war peak enrollment was 11,078 students in 1939-40.

Although no figures have been tabulated officials estimate that at least 5,000 of the enrollees are ex-servicemen and women.

The increased enrollment has not only caused a shortage of books, supplies, and eating places but also of teachers and sections in various subjects.

Both married and single couples are housed in University-owned huts, and in apartments and rooms throughout the city, as well as in boarding houses and dormitories.

The spring semester extends through June 24, when commencement is held, and in September, 1946, the pre-war two semester program will be in effect once again.

Amount of Social Security Benefits Depend On Wages

"The amount of social security benefits that are payable depend upon the wages reported for the workers by their employers," said Elliott W. Adams, manager of the Social Security Board office in San Angelo. This is true for the payments made to widows and children and other survivors, as well as to the older workers who retire from employment.

Wages, according to the board official, must be reported quarterly, by employers, with sufficient identification that each item can be posted to the appropriate social security account.

"When employees fail to make certain employers have correct records of their social security account numbers and names," Adams said, "they are failing to protect a very valuable insurance policy. When an employee gives the wrong social security account number and incorrect name to his employer he is jeopardizing his insurance protection. He may be depriving his widow and children or himself and wife of monthly insurance benefits already paid for. Employees should always show their social security accounts numbers to employers for whom they work, and they should assure themselves that each employer has made an accurate record of the number and name."

"When employers report the account numbers and names along with the wages of their employees, the posting of each employee's wages to his individual social security is assured. If the employer fails to list the account number as it appears on the card, the worker's wages cannot be posted to his account. Employees, therefore, must show their account number cards to each employer for whom they work."

Pastures Treated With Phosphate Hikes Production

COLLEGE STATION, March 15—Pastures treated with phosphate fertilizer will produce more, and more nutritious forage will provide more protein per animal and will carry more animals on fewer acres. All this, according to M. K. Thornton, is in addition to grass of better bone building quality.

Bone building was all that was once expected of phosphate as a pasture fertilizer, he pointed out. On the basis of data collected by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station on an experimental plot near Beaumont, Thornton calculated that:

Cows on pastures fertilized with 160 pounds of 20 per cent superphosphate consumed 165 more pounds of protein—the equivalent of 383 pounds of cottonseed meal—in 300 grazing days than did cows on adjacent unfertilized pastures.

The fertilized pastures produced 4,570 pounds of dry forage per acre as compared with 2062 pounds of unfertilized acre, an increase of 2,508 pounds.

Protein equivalent per fertilized acre was 477 pounds as against 171 pounds per acre in the unfertilized plot.

One and two-tenths acres of the phosphated pasture carried one cow—based on a consumption of 25 pounds of dry forage per day for 300 days—while it took 3.67 unfertilized acres for one cow.

"Easy does it"

Yes, "easy does it" when loading, unloading or handling livestock.

Bruises, crippling and death losses cost American stockmen 12 million dollars each year—equivalent to the value of a single file of market hogs stretching all the way from St. Louis to Chicago.

And the producers do pay those losses; directly through deaths and excessive shrink caused by bad loading and shipping practices... indirectly through bruises (we find them in over 20% of all livestock slaughtered!) which reduce the value of otherwise good carcasses. Yet a great part of those losses can be prevented with a little extra care when loading, unloading and handling.

So, that's why we suggest "easy does it"—and that you keep these six "loss-stoppers" in mind: (1) Never beat animals with whips or clubs. Use canvas slappers or electric prods... (2) Inspect chutes, trucks and cars for nails, splinters, etc... (3) Furnish good footing; bed properly. For hogs, cover dry sand with straw for winter shipping; use wet sand in summer... (4) Cover floors of loading or unloading chutes with straw... (5) Do not overload. Partition mixed loads... (6) Easy does it when trucking. Avoid sudden starts and stops. Check your load frequently for crowding.

We'll be glad to mail you instructive Agricultural Research Bulletin No. 20, "Preventing Losses in Handling Livestock." Address request to Department BB, Swift & Company, Chicago 9, Ill.

THE EDITOR'S COLUMN

From time to time, it will be our policy to have various members of the Swift & Company organization write this column. So, let me introduce to you this month's "guest editor," T. G. Chase, one of my associates in the Agricultural Research Department.

T. G. Chase

There's an old story about a downstate cattle feeder who brought a load of steers to Chicago to be sold. He turned them over to his commission man, then wandered around the yards, for it was his first trip to Chicago. Soon he was back, all excited—"Sell those steers right away for whatever you can get. There's not enough people in the world to eat all the cattle I've seen here!"

The salesman managed to calm him down and sent him downtown to see the city. He landed in the heart of Chicago, took one look at the crowd of people, and dashed into a drugstore to phone his salesman. "Hold those steers of mine for the highest price. There's not enough meat in the world to feed all these people!" This old story makes a good point. All of you know the price we can pay for your livestock is governed by what we can get for the meat and by-products. Also you know that what we can get for the meat and the by-products is greatly affected by the supply of livestock and the demand for meats. The ever-present problem among producers and meat packers is the matching of the supply with the demand, wherever the supply and demand may be. The job of nation-wide meat packers is to balance the supply of meat with the demand by efficient distribution of the meat to the places where people want to buy it.

Native Range Grasses may be supplemented by seeding abandoned land to adapted range grasses. Intermediate wheatgrass, crested wheatgrass, Russian wild rye, smooth brome grass, and western wheatgrass have done well in Colorado dry-land pastures. They may be seeded in early spring or late fall.

KEEP EWES WITH GOOD FLEECES

Before shearing time, ranging flock ewes should be carefully examined and the ones with poor fleeces marked for culling later. Experience in western states during 25 years has shown that 20 to 30% more wool per sheep can be obtained by the systematic selection of range ewes.

One livestock man reported that the average weight of fleeces from his flocks, of about 40,000 head, had increased nearly 3 pounds during a period of ten years of systematic culling in cooperation with the University of Wyoming. He got better lambs, too. Others report similar results obtained by searching out and discarding the ewes which are below standard in wool production.

Creole Pork Casserole

1 1/2 pounds ground pork shoulder 1 1/2 cups cooked tomatoes 3 onions 1/2 cup grated cheese 1 1/2 cups cooked macaroni 1/2 teaspoon salt 3/4 cup bread crumbs Chop onions fine, and brown with pork in fry pan. Drain off fat. Add macaroni, tomatoes, cheese and salt. Turn into baking dish, cover with crumbs. Bake 45 minutes in a moderate oven (350° F.).

YOU RAISE 'EM—HE SELLS 'EM

It is a far cry—an average of over 1,000 miles—from livestock on the Western range to meat on the kitchen range. Ollie E. Jones is the man who, perhaps more than any other, helps bridge that gap. Ollie Jones, born on a farm in central Illinois, has never lost his interest in agriculture. He now produces and feeds livestock on his 50-acre farm in Illinois. Taking a beginner's job with Swift & Company, he learned the business literally "from the ground up." He advanced steadily through many divisions of the Company, to become vice president in charge of sales, advertising and merchandising. The nationwide sales departments which heads market more of the products of American farms and ranches than any other organization in the country. That's why we say at the start of this story, "You raise 'em—he sells 'em."

A Week Ago

Who has Jeanette been writing all those notes to? We wonder.

Everyone seemed rather unhappy this week. Must have been worrying about six-week tests. Imagine that!

Wonder why Aggie wanted to go to the drug store Tuesday night? Couldn't have anything to do with Bosco, do you think?

Is it Kennedy, Gates? We would like to know?

Looked for a while like Temple and Oro Mae were going to break up, but guess it was a false alarm. They seem to be getting along O. K. now.

Betty Pearl, what boy did you get a note from last Friday? (Nice day, isn't it, Budgy?)

Hazel and Jack really do write stacks of notes. Interesting, aren't they, Bado?

Mary, were you really studying hard Wednesday night or was some boy detracting your attention?

Ah-hem, Cookie! Who were you with Sunday night?

Don't look now, but saw Doris D. and Gene together at Harrison's party.

What's this we hear about Jeanette and Bill breaking up? Dudley seems to be enjoying the mumps, but it wouldn't be surprising if Cookie took them!

What's wrong, Jimmy M., afraid you would catch the mumps if you went into Gate's house?

Cecelia really got over the mumps quick when Hut came home, so she thought! Too bad she's in bed with them now.

Mary, who is the new interest?

Bosco seems to have it bad and is it good!

Cute hat you were wearing Sunday evening, at the tennis courts, Jimmie D. You ought to wear it more often, if it lasts that long.

Cheez's theme song still seems to be, "Don't Fence Me In." Too bad, girls.

Molly, who is the girl you keep whistling at every time you see her? Mmmm! Note the wolfish attitude.

Bado, don't you know cigarettes hurt the girls when you burn them with one?

Doris Mc, what did you have cooked up on a certain Sunday night? Tell us more!

This Week

Betty Pearl, you seemed to be doing all right at the dance Saturday. Especially with Sammy!

Jeanette, who were you with at the dance? We've never seen you together before?

What girl (or girls) seem to think C. W. Lee is such a good dancer?

Jimmy M., (Teatnus) is having a time deciding between you and a certain Comstock boy, isn't she??

Looked like the Sanderson girls (especially two Juniors and a Soph.) knew quite a few of the Ft. Stockton boys. They were detracting during the volleyball game, weren't they, kids?

Budgy, you and Walt shouldn't listen on the party-line to girl's telephone conversations. It isn't nice!

ANNUAL STAFF CELEBRATES

Tuesday, March 12, the annual staff celebrated, at Jimmie's Steak House, the ending up of their work on the 1946 annual.

Mrs. Cade had fixed up a table for twelve with flowers in the center. For favors, she gave each member of the staff a wooden duck or rabbit painted in bright colors with "Polly's 1946" on its back. Mrs. Bradford the annual advisor, was given an adorable compact. Mr. Bradford, the annual guest, was given a cigarette case.

The food was delicious and everyone enjoyed it very much—thanks to "Polly."

WORK ON FOOTBALL FIELD

Tuesday, March 12, the boys who were interested went up to the new football field to help clear it off. The boys reported for work at 8:00 and worked until about four. Dump trucks were used to haul in good dirt while two pick-ups were used to haul out the rocks and trash. The boys made a lot of progress on the field and expect to have it sodded in the next week. Old-Age Assistance To Cost Tax Payers More This Year

Old-age assistance in Texas this year will cost State taxpayers nearly three times as much as the "ceiling" predicted by sponsors of the aid plan when it passed the Legislature in 1935, the Texas Research Institute points out in a report issued this week.

The report is a factual study of the cost of ten years of old-age assistance in Texas.

When the first pension law was enacted, its sponsors said annual payments would not exceed $9,000,000 from State funds. This year, the Institute points out, the aged people of Texas will receive $25,400,000 from State funds.

Total cost to State taxpayers of ten years of old-age assistance has been, in round figures, $155,000,000, the report declares. The cost has skyrocketed, according to the Research Institute, because the original idea of old-age assistance has been transformed into a system of old-age pensions. The policy of "granting assistance to people who are not needy has resulted in less funds for those who are in need," the Institute states.

Figures show that 452 out of every 1,000 Texans sixty-five or older are receiving assistance, while the national average is but 210.

Button Pops Off In Irish Cafe; GI Gets Irish Bride

DENTON, March 15—Because a button popped off the jacket of GI Frank Giovalie in an Irish cafe during a match shortage, an Irish bride and her year old daughter are on their way to make their home in Vet Village on the North Texas State College campus.

When Giovalie, a senior major at NTSC, started to unbutton his jacket before the fireplace in a bus station cafe in Belfast, North Ireland, about two years ago, a highly polished button popped off his jacket.

A few minutes later, when a nurse at a nearby table asked him for a light, he inquired whether she had a needle and thread. She, admiring his highly polished button, wanted it for a souvenir, not knowing that with the button went tall, wavy-haired Frank Giovalie of Texas.

The Irish nurse, then Miss Tillie Charlton of Cookstown, North Ireland, is now Mrs. Frank Giovalie, soon of Vet Village, Denton, Texas.

After a year in Ireland, Giovalie "toured" France with a medical unit. Daughter Ruth was born while he was in France and it was after V-J Day when he first saw her, and now he has received word that the two from Ireland will leave for the States soon.

Giovalie, whose home is in Beaumont, says that Texas will seem warm to his wife compared to her native North Ireland, and he is now busy getting his Vet Village prefabricated home ready to become an Irish lassie's first Texas home.

Your Red Cross Must Carry On! Give Generously!

STILL THE Greatest Mother
OF THEM ALL!

TWENTY-NINE years ago, in 1917, your Red Cross was given the proud title, "The Greatest Mother In The World." Today after the greatest struggle in history, that title has been retained. The list of services your Red Cross has given our Servicemen—your Serviceman—is almost endless.

Blood plasma made the difference between life and death to many thousands of our men.

Food parcels packed by the Red Cross meant survival to many of our men in prisoner of war camps. Red Cross Clubs have sprung up all over the world . . . wherever the Armed Forces went . . . supplying a warm touch of home for lonely, homesick lads.

Red Cross hospital workers provide amusement and recreation facilities to shorten long, dreary days. The cheerful smile of an American girl helps banish loneliness and boredom . . . helps a man keep his chin up when things look pretty dark.

And on the home front, wherever fire, flood or other disaster strikes, the Red Cross is ready with relief for the suffering.

Yes, your Red Cross is literally mother to many millions . . . friend of the friendless . . . comrade in time of need. And its work must go on. Hundreds of thousands of our men still need the Red Cross. They need it now.

It is your Red Cross. The gift you give is its only income. Without you, the Red Cross can not carry on. Don't put off giving to the Red Cross. Give today!

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS . . .

TED: "Clem and I were wonderin' what you thought of that new movie about the chronic alcoholic, Judge. Understand you saw it before we did."

OLD JUDGE: "Well . . . it's true most of us never see a case as extreme as that in real life because they are so few and far between. But it does point out one thing . . . chronic alcoholics are abnormal people and we've got to change our ideas about how to help them."

CLEM: "In what way, Judge?"

OLD JUDGE: "We've got to realize that excessive drinkers are suffering from more than a craving for alcohol. According to psychiatrists and medical men at one of our great universities, the alcoholic is a sick person. The study of hundreds of cases shows he is suffering from some physical, social or emotional condition . . . just as in the case of that poor chap in the picture. Fortunately, they represent only a very small percentage of those who drink."

TED: "Is anything being done to really help these folks, Judge?"

OLD JUDGE: "Yes . . . a great deal in clinics throughout the country. And with the cooperation of the beverage distillers who sincerely want their product used only in moderation."
