USO Trailer Film Now Being Shown At Princess Theatre

The shooting war is over, but there's many an unsung hero who will need a home away from home—and there are two hundred thousand in hospitals making that long journey to complete recovery.

So says Joe E. Brown, who acts as commentator in a USO trailer film now being shown at the Princess Theatre as part of the current campaign to raise $19,000,000 nationally for USO. In this city, the USO Campaign is headed by Ruel Adams.

One of the greatest troupers in show business, Joe travelled some 250,000 miles entertaining American Service men in practically every theatre of war. The trailer film carries several shots of Joe in action—"All I had to do was open my big mouth to get a laugh"—depicts scenes in various USO clubs, and pictures USO-Camp Shows at work in hospitals.

As the film rolls on, Joe continues:

"Today most of us don't realize that in 1947 we will still have a million and a half men in service, that the 424 USO clubs in the United States and abroad will fill an important need in the lives of our boys—a 'home away from home'—a place to eat—something to read—a place to write his folks or his best girl—to get a heavy load off his mind—"

A shot of a scene in a hospital, with bedridden patients being entertained, causes Joe to remark:

"If we can win a smile—when a smile is good medicine—I say let's give our heart and soul to the job. USO with its Camp Show entertainers, its clubs, its thousand and one services for service men, needs your help to keep it up through 1947."

Joe closes with quoting General Eisenhower, who said: "The need for the USO is still with us, not as a luxury, but as a basic necessity," and Admiral Nimitz, who wrote "Give our men the backing they had during the war and they'll do their share of winning the peace."

Coast Guard Veterans Informed Of New Ruling

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 18—Veterans of the United States Coast Guard may now enter the new post-war Organized and Volunteer Naval Reserve program with the rate they held when discharged, the same as Navy veterans, Eighth Naval District headquarters announced this week.

The new policy is the result of a recommendation made to Naval Reserve headquarters in Washington by Rear Admiral A. S. Merrill, USN, Eighth Naval District Commandant.

"Since Coast Guard men performed essentially the same duties as Navy men during the recent war, they can make the same contributions and should receive the same benefits as any naval veteran with a rating who participates in the new Naval Reserve program," the Admiral said.

Army and Marine Veterans may also join the Naval Reserve with the rate of Seaman First Class, Fireman First or Steward's Mate First Class, it was pointed out.

Southern Pacific Orders New Type Freight Locomotives

HOUSTON, Oct. 18—Twenty powerful Diesel-electric freight locomotives have been ordered by the Southern Pacific Company, President A. T. Mercier has announced.

The new freight Diesels are for main line operation and are in addition to the recent purchase of five powerful new passenger Diesels. Together with the Company's Diesel-electric engines, they will comprise one of the largest fleets of railroad Diesel-electrics in the United States.

"This important purchase of new main line freight Diesels is significant as a recognition of the development in recent years of the territory served by Southern Pacific," said Mr. Mercier.

The new Diesels will be of 6,000 horsepower, or equal to that of the Southern Pacific's most powerful steam locomotives, including the huge articulated-consolidation steam engines with cab in front, an exclusive Southern Pacific design.

Purchase of the new Diesel power is the outgrowth of a survey of the Company's power requirements and recent notable developments in the railroad motive power field, it was stated. The committee making this survey and analysis included specialists of the Operating, Motive Power, Engineering and Transportation Research Departments.

Law Enforcement Officers to Meet At Austin Nov. 12-15

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Oct. 18—A four day statewide administrative conference of all Police Executives of the State of Texas will be held at Austin, Texas between November 12-15, 1946, it was announced today by M. W. Acers, Special Agent in charge of the FBI. The conference will be held under the joint sponsorship of the Texas Department of Public Safety, the FBI and the Texas Police Association.

Recent developments in criminal activity over the United States have indicated the need for organized planning and coordination between law enforcement agencies, according to Mr. Acers. He pointed out that for the first six months of this year there has been a thirteen per cent increase in crime as against the same period for last year. In the rural areas over the country this increase has amounted to almost twenty per cent.

Mr. Acers explained that this is the largest increase in crime since the first national figures were available sixteen years ago.

The purpose of this conference is to afford all executive officers of the law enforcing agencies of the state an opportunity to meet together and discuss their mutual problems. Outstanding authorities on subjects of interest to the officers will address the group during the four days, according to Mr. Acers. These will include representatives from the FBI at Washington, D. C. as well as officials of the Department of Public Safety and police executives of local law enforcement agencies over the state.

Officers attending the conference will participate in perfecting plans for greater coordination of effort among the local, state and federal law enforcement agencies of the state. The latest developments in the field of police science and crime detection will be discussed. Mr. Acers announced.

The sessions will be held at the Stephen F. Austin Hotel at Austin 10 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. each day. Mr. Acers pointed out that it is planned by the sponsors that this conference will be the first in a series of annual meetings of this kind for the purpose of uniting all law enforcement agencies of the state in the fight against crime.

Veterans' News

Q. Does the veteran's right to obtain government guaranty or insurance on loans continue indefinitely?

A. No, but guaranty or insurance may be had when obtaining a loan if within 10 years from the officially declared termination of World War II so the right will continue for a long time.

Q. What will happen if loan payments are not made?

A. That will depend upon the terms of the loan, the attitude of the lender and the laws of the State where the veteran and security are located. If payments are not made when due the loan is in default and the lender may take action as is provided in the loan agreement and is permitted by the State Law and by the regulations for guaranty and insurance of loans.

Q. Are there any charges for guaranteeing or insuring loans?

A. No, and commission brokerage or similar charges may not legally be made against the veteran for securing a guaranteed or insured loan. Of course, customary out-of-pocket fees usually borne by borrower, such as appraisal title examination fees and other costs and expenses incident thereto may be charged against the veteran by the lender.

Q. Are there any circumstances under which the guaranty may exceed 50 per cent of the loan?

A. Yes. Where a Federal Agency has made, guaranteed or insured, or is to make, guarantee or insure a loan for any of the eligible purposes and the veteran needs a second loan to complete the purchase price the second loan may be fully guaranteed if,

(a) The amount involved is not in excess of the veteran's guaranty.

(b) The loan is not in excess of 20% of the purchase or cost

EXCITING NOVEL COMES TO SCREEN

The phrase "green years" as used in the title of the film version of A. J. Cronin's best-seller, "The Green Years," coming to the Princess Theatre, revolves around the excitingly formative period of a boy's life when he is meeting the problems and facing the transition leading from boyhood to manhood.

The background of the tensely moving novel is a small town in Scotland, and the story abounds with some of the most unusual characters ever brought to the screen. Charles Coburn, as the deeply human, hard-to-control, old Grandpa Gow, has a part that many persons believe to be the finest of his career. Young Tom Drake, who scored as Judy Garland's boy friend in "Meet Me in St. Louis," has a star-making role as Robert Shannon, while Beverly Tyler, as the heroine of the tale, makes an auspicious debut before the cameras. Gladys Cooper, as the matriarchal tyrant of a rather grim and grasping household, has another of the season's acting plums, as does little Dean Stockwell, playing Robert Shannon as a child.

All the strongly emotional episodes of the story—the boy's frightened arrival, his first fight, his first love and his collision with all but Grandpa Gow when he unfolds his hopes of a career, are told with striking, fidelity to the original novel, under the direction of

Want a Vacation from Marriage?

Alvin Blake went south on his vacation, for some fishing, and left his Missus to enjoy a vacation from the corn-cob pipe, clothes in a heap, and solos on the harmonica.

First few days, Martha enjoyed it—house neat and quiet, top back on the toothpaste, no morning mess from Alvin's midnight snacks (Al's partial to a bit of cheese and beer at bedtime).

Come the end of the week, she began to fidget; couldn't even read the Clarion, it looked so unsmused; didn't have any appetite with nobody to cook for. She was about to wire Al, when he barges home a week ahead of time, and she almost cries for gratitude. ("Felt the same way myself," says Al.)

From where I sit, those differences of habit and opinion—whether they have to do with corn-cob pipes, a glass of beer, or playing the harmonica, seem mighty trivial when you're separated. And they are, too!

EYES ARE PRICELESS—LIGHT IS CHEAP

How much light is enough to get good grades?

HERE is one benefit you can easily give your children—Better Lighting. The plain truth is that many children do their home work reluctantly because their eyes rebel at the hard work of trying to see under poor light.
 In many homes studying is done under only two to five foot-candles.

Help your children keep their most priceless possession. Keep their eyes young. Provide them with modern light for home study—a table lamp using at least a 100-watt bulb or a floor lamp with a 100-200-300-watt bulb. Better light means better sight and better grades.

Homework on the porch has the benefit of 500 foot-candles of good light. Yet many children try to study their homework with less than 1% of this amount.

HEALTH NOTES—

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 18.—Emphasizing the urgent need for parental supervision of all phases of child health, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer said today, "Much of the impaired eyesight of advanced years could be prevented if sufficient interest in early life were applied and a correction by means of temporary glasses when required."

Parents, Dr. Cox asserted should be watchful for danger signals in the child such as frowning, squinting, persistent headache, eyesight, and watery eyes. If the youngster reads too closely or too far away from the face that situation may also be significant of trouble.

"No child likes wearing glasses, nevertheless, it is the obligation of those responsible for the future of young folks to have their eyes examined by a reputable specialist if there is a suspicion that normal vision does not exist. It is much better for a child to wear glasses for a few years during early school life than to have permanently defective vision in later life," he declared.

Dr. Cox said that neglect of the eyes is by no means limited to children. Many older persons, some through vanity, indifference, or carelessness, fail to give proper attention to the care of their eyes. Penalties, he warned are bound to occur for such inexcusable negligence.

"The eyes of any person whether young, middle-aged, or older represent one of the most priceless of bodily possessions," the State Health Officer asserted. "To take care of them promptly and properly is a responsibility which never should be sidestepped."

Adopt Resolution To Support Good Roads Amendment

The Texas Farm Bureau Federation today announced adoption of a resolution supporting the Good Roads Constitutional Amendment to be voted upon in the November 5th election.

"Our organization is in full accord with the amendment," J. Walter Hammond, president declared. "Farm-to-market roads are uppermost in the minds of rural people and the Good Roads Amendment is our assurance of obtaining greatly needed improvements."

Continuing, Hammond said, "We are in dire need of better facilities for all weather roads which will benefit rural mail and school bus routes as well."

The Texas Farm Bureau Federation is one of thirty state organizations which have already pledged ardent support of the Good Roads Amendment. The amendment, last of three to appear on the November ballot, assures the availability of gasoline taxes and motor vehicle registration fees for purposes, with the exception that one of every four paid in gas taxes will go to be allocated to the Free School Fund.
