B. S. Degree Received By Miss McAdams At Hardin-Baylor

EDNA MAE McADAMS

Miss Edna Mae McAdams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. McAdams, of Sanderson, was one of forty-five students who graduated from Mary Hardin-Baylor College in the commencement exercises Monday, May 26.

She received a Bachelor of Science degree.

Dr. C. E. Hereford, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Corpus Christi, delivered the baccalaureate sermon Sunday, May 25. The commencement address Monday was given by Thomas Luther Tyson, Corsicana lawyer and member of the board of trustees of both the college and Buckner Orphan Home, Dallas.

Mr. and Mrs. McAdams, accompanied by their daughter, Mrs. Frank Warren, attended the graduation exercises.

LISTEN TO LUKE

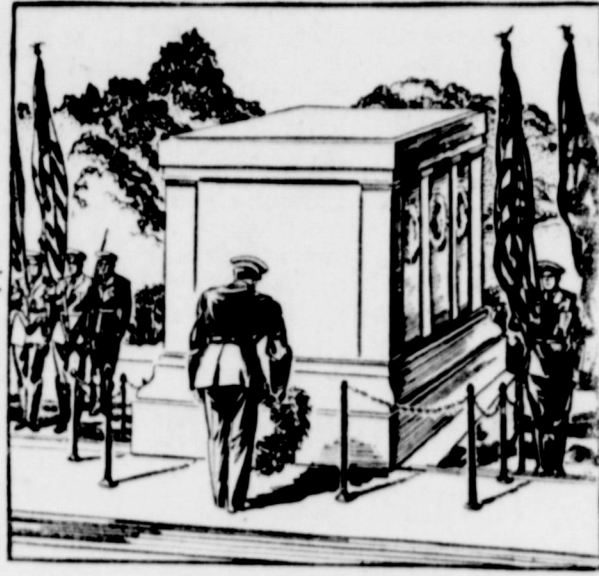

When the Gilbreaths bought the Sanderson Times, they expected to assume full responsibility of the work at an early date, the reporting, writing, editing, all of the mechanical work. Last week was the week they chose to roll up their sleeves and begin. We could give you a long story of the trials and tribulations that were ours all of that week—Albert and his family are still living at the tourist court and he was pretty sick with the "flu" for a week, the family automobile was in the garage for repairs. Oh well, what we started out to say was that we realize that we are handicapped in not yet being very well acquainted with the people here but we are still anxious to cover the news of Sanderson in particular and this area in general and give the news while it is news and we are seeking your cooperation and help. Any news, personal happenings, social events, reports of meetings, notices—anything that is news—will be very much appreciated if it is phoned in or brought to the Times Office. If you don't want to write the story give us the facts or notes and we will be glad to do the rest.

Would it be amiss to add that J. A., his wife, and Milinda, are still wanting a place to live in Sanderson?

HIS LEGACY

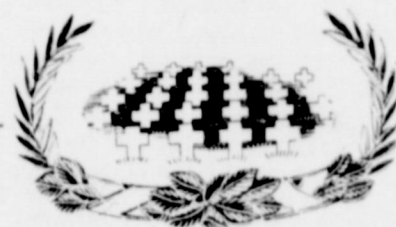

The country weekly paper field To those sincere will often yield An income none can well ignore, A dollar a day and often more. No throwing dice or playing pitch. Will equal a printer getting rich Writing news and setting type, Pulling stories before they're ripe— He rakes in the kale, makes the dough Playing a friend and praising a foe. The fascination will more than pay For fourteen working hours a day; And if he writes, his features well In heaven he may choose to dwell When irate readers conk his bean— And spreads some roses on the scene. The paper files, the news replete He leaves behind in yellow sheet.

"They Shall Not Have Died in Vain"

As the wreath of laurel leaves is placed on the grave of the Unknown Soldier on Memorial Day this year, we think of all who so recently gave their lives that freedom and justice might be preserved. If these brave men could but speak from their graves they would ask only that from this day on each of us dedicate ourselves to the building of an everlasting world peace. The achievement of this task is the finest tribute we can pay our war dead. Toward this goal let us strive "that they shall not have died in vain."

Poppy Sale Here Saturday Successful

The Buddy-Poppy sale sponsored by the local auxiliary of the American Legion Saturday was reported to have been very successful. Young lady members of the auxiliary sold poppies on the streets and in the business houses. The funds derived from the sale will be used locally for rehabilitation. Twenty million poppies was the national goal for the annual poppy sale and as reports continue to come in from over the nation, it appears that the goal will have been attained.

Once a year American Legion Auxiliaries organize the sale of poppies made by our American Legion disabled veterans, now from two wars. These men spend their winters feverishly, excitedly, or hesitantly, fashioning the little red flowers which give them a sense of creation and usefulness. Sometimes it takes a man a long time to realize that his fingers can do something besides clench into impatient fists or lie hopelessly at his side.

This work of making poppies, which are sold by Auxiliary members on every street, in every town, city, or village in America, is the only activity most of the veterans in Government hospitals have throughout the year. Lying helplessly in bed is a trying ordeal to a man, who, but for a bullet fired by a fiend, or a piece of shrapnel designed by a mad man, would be leading a normal and healthy life. There is too much time in which to think and brood when a man is supine, day in and day out, month in and month out. The poppy industry helps the veteran to help himself and gives him hope and courage in the knowledge that he is helping others as well.

Not only does the poppy making give the veterans something to do, but it pays them for their labor of love and hope as well. The Auxiliary furnishes the materials, at no cost to the veterans, and the men receive remuneration for every single poppy made. There are those who will never leave their white coats and for them the poppy manufacture is all they have to give them added comforts and outside interests. This work is their only solace and impetus to a healthy morale. The money which the veter-

Scouting Is Urged in Talk to Local Clubs

Dr. Thomas Hadl Shelby, Rotary Governor of District 129, scoutmaster and educator, was guest speaker at a joint meeting of the Rotary and Lions Clubs of Sanderson last Thursday evening at the Kerr Hotel.

Dr. Shelby spoke of the need for Boy Scout activity in Sanderson and urged the clubs to reactivate the work here. The work of Boy Scouts has interested Dr. Shelby for many years. He has been a member of the National Council, Boy Scouts of America, since 1930, and is active in the Capital Area Council, Austin. His most interesting and inspiring work, says Shelby, is his activity on the local troop committee where he has a more direct contact with the Scouts themselves. Much interest was manifested by the members of both clubs in attendance and representatives of the local American Legion post. The three organizations have named committees to meet to formulate the plans for reactivation of the Scout troop.

Rotary president, C. G. Bradford, presided at the meeting which was opened by singing one verse of "America", after which Lawrence Gutierrez rendered several numbers on the piano. Two beautiful numbers were sung by Misses Cecelia Goode and Ora Mae Blackwelder, accompanied at the piano by Miss Jeanette Cobb. President Bradford introduced the speaker.

Terrell and Pecos County Ranchman Buried Wednesday

Millard Gault Slaughter, 66, a Sheffield ranchman for twenty years, died in a San Angelo hospital Monday. Frank Black and R. H. Stanley officiated at funeral services which were conducted from the Church of Christ in Sheffield Wednesday with interment in that city.

Mr. Slaughter had large holdings in Terrell and Pecos Counties. In the 1920s, with his brother, W. L. Slaughter, who died in 1927, he was a partner in the Blackstone-Slaughter ranching interests in the Sheffield, Barnhart and Sanderson areas.

Mrs. W. W. Sudduth and daughter, Barbara, spent the day in Fort Stockton Wednesday.

LEGION TEAM LEADS IN SOFTBALL

The American Legion team is leading the local softball league with three games played and three games won. Several games have been postponed due to the recent rains and conflict with community activities which leaves several games to be made up.

In the games this week the Lions played the Teen-age team in a make-up game and won 7-4. The Railroad dropped a game to the Youngsters 8-7 and then retaliated by winning over the Rotary Club 19-11. The Railroad-Teen-age game turned out to be quite an upset as the Railroaders were leading up to the last half of the seventh when the Teen-agers talked two runs in a rally which gave them top honors in the game.

The Lions Club and the American Legion played a very good game from the spectators standpoint Wednesday night. It was a well-matched game all the way but the Legionaires just managed to squeeze in enough scores to be on the top side at the end of the game.

Fans witnessed some good pitching last night on the part of Ernest Harkins, the local speed-demon, who held the Lions to a lot fewer hits than the Legion fielders did. These two teams won't be matched again until July 2, but it would be worthwhile to keep that date in mind because a good game will be assured.

They will be joined by a brother from Plainview and a sister from New Jersey. They plan to be gone for several days.

Miss Naomi Charlotte of San Antonio is the guest of Miss Ora Mae Blackwelder this week.

Miss Sanderson To Be Chosen Saturday Night

The stage is all set for the carnival and beauty contest sponsored by the Lions Club at the high school auditorium Saturday evening. The auditorium was open last night so that those who cared to do so might practice on the stage. No timidity or stage-fright is anticipated when the tiny-tots, older girls and young ladies, sponsored by local business firms, families and ranches, parade before the out-of-town judges and the audience as they vie for the title of "Miss Sanderson" and the prize offered for the winner of each division.

Miss Sanderson will be chosen from the senior group and will go to Fort Stockton to participate in the all-Southwestern Bathing Revue on Saturday evening, June 21, during the Fort Stockton Water Carnival. A trip to Hollywood is the first prize offered to the winner. Contestants are being invited from towns and organizations all over the Southwest. Miss Southwest will be the representative to the Sun Carnival at El Paso.

Besides the carnival in the gymnasium and the beauty contest in the auditorium, supper will be served, beginning at 6 p. m., in the high school home economics department. The War Mothers are sponsoring the supper and will add the proceeds to their fund for the erection of a war memorial and monument. After the beauty contest there will be a dance at the Masonic Hall to which the public is also invited. A local orchestra will furnish the music for modern and old-fashioned dancing.

Local Man Suffers Second Degree Burns

J. C. Davis who is employed on the I. C. Roark ranch about 60 miles from Sanderson suffered second-degree burns on both hands and arms and about the waist last Thursday afternoon. He used gasoline to build a fire on a forge that had not been used in about two weeks, and it is not known what fired the spark that caused his clothing to ignite. Mrs. Davis, upon seeing him try to remove his burning clothing as he ran, took a blanket from a near-by clothesline and helped him smother the flames. He probably owes his life to her quick thinking and acting.

Mr. Davis was brought to Sanderson and is staying at the McKnight Motel where he is under the care of a local physician. He is reported to be resting quite comfortably. Mrs. Gertrude Davis of New Mexico, Mr. Davis' mother, is attending Sul Ross College in Alpine. She was here with her son for several days, returning to Alpine Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Goggans of Dallas arrived Thursday to be guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Harrell and Mrs. Ethel Thynne for ten days. Mrs. Goggans is a sister of Mrs. Harrell and Mrs. Thynne.

ECONOMIC HIGHLIGHTS

Happenings that Affect the Dinner Pails, Dividend Checks and Tax Bills of Each Individual

It will certainly not come as a shock to newspaper readers to be told that the great postwar spending boom is but a shadow of its former luster. It has tapered off in almost all lines, and in some fields it has practically come to a halt. Many of the present speculations of economists deal with the question of whether we are approaching a depression or a recession — the latter being, of course, a sort of mid-sized depression. Opinion on this runs the whole gamut, from the optimists who think business and employment will hold at high levels, after certain "corrective readjustments" are made, to the pessimists who forecast darkly that what is coming will make the '30s look like giddy prosperity.

Regardless of the guesswork, some of the economic facts of the time are worthy of sober thought. One of the best summaries-up recently appeared in the Wall Street Journal under the by-line of a staff correspondent Vermont Royster.

Mr. Royster, whose sources are largely governmental, starts out by observing that "the nation's families are going back to the Old American custom of living off next week's pay-check." What this means is that the cash buyer, whose name was legion during and immediately after the war, is becoming harder and harder to find. During 1946, consumer credit increased by $2,400,000,000. In March of this year installment credits alone jumped $70,000,000 and was 65 per cent higher than in the same month in 1945. In other words, the American family is returning to the little down and a long time to pay system of buying what it wants.

As is to be expected under these conditions, savings are dwindling. According to Mr. Royster, nearly half of the $25 government bonds purchased in 1945 had been redeemed a year later, and the rate seems to be increasing. And where, in 1945, the nation's families were saving nearly 24 per cent of their income, the rate has slipped to 10 per cent — about where it was in 1940. It is highly significant that this has occurred in spite of wage increases for most workers, and indicates just how tough the rise in the cost of living has been on the typical family.

The volume of business is showing signs of suffering from these trends. As is to be expected, businesses of the luxury character have been hit the hardest so far. A long time ago the night clubs and the taverns began to feel the pinch. Amusement enterprises have been subjected to the bleak wind of declining patronage. And now semi-luxuries are facing a steady drop in purchasing.

In more staple lines, business is still good, but there are clouds on the horizon. Production is rapidly making up the backlog in the majority of lines, and has more than caught up in some. Retailers are buying much more carefully than in the past. Inventories are growing rapidly in both wholesale houses and on the shelves of stores. Once hard to get items — men's shirts and nylon stockings are good examples — are now in almost super-abundance.

Mr. Royster says that "the building boom, counted on to take up the reconversion slack, has failed to live up to expectations." This was one of the greatest fiascos of the postwar economy. The experts confidently figured that millions of homes and other residential units, to say nothing of a vast amount of industrial construction, would be needed. It may still be needed — but people just won't pay the current prices if there is any way to avoid it. Many a returning veteran who thought in terms of the kind of home you could buy in 1940 for eight or ten thousand dollars found that an equivalent home cost twice that and often more. His GI loan wasn't sufficient to finance the kind of house he had pictured in his mind's eye, and his income wasn't enough to make the monthly payments. So, if he could find any kind of a place to live, he didn't build or buy. Trouble ahead is forecast for ambitious residential sub-divisions where the costs of the houses and other developments outran the estimates by an incredible amount. On top of that, many people, including GIs, who did buy on small down payments, have given up and are letting the properties go. They simply can't afford to pay for and maintain them.

Some producers, such as the motor-car companies, still have big backlogs of orders, and sales are no problem. But that doesn't mean that everything is rosy. Manufacturers and dealers are definitely worried as to what will happen once the backlog is wiped out. Many a prospective buyer has shaken his head at sight of the price tags on the new cars. Thousands on thousands of orders have been cancelled.

What it all adds up to is that the basic cost of just plain living is absorbing most of the average family's income, and it has less and less left for other things. That is the growing problem we have not yet been able to solve.

SMALL TOWN'S BIG FUTURE
By Graham Patterson
Pathfinder News Magazine

People have always migrated from the smaller cities and towns in which they were born to big cities.

Usually it is because of the belief that the big city offers a shorter road to fame, fortune and a successful career. And often when their goal has been reached and they have time to really live and enjoy life, these same people find themselves returning to their home town.

To anyone who has lived for any length of time in a small town, the reason is not hard to find.

Generally it is because they feel that small town living offers more solid satisfaction than life in a bustling metropolis. And it does.

It is fortunate that this still is a nation of small towns. More than 60 per cent of all the people in the U. S. live in places of less than 25,000 population.

Despite the popular conception of America as a land of populous cities, there are only 92 cities of more than 100,000 population. And there is a growing trend toward small communities, in industry as well as among people.

You folks who live in what is called "Main Street America" are a most important people of our economic machine.

The future and welfare of our country depend upon a balanced economy — and that means prosperity in our small communities as well as in the large cities.

You can contribute materially to your home community's prosperity and growth by giving active support to your home town activities, social, cultural and commercial.

In other words, spend your money where it will help make jobs in your town, build churches, schools and other cultural institutions for your town, to benefit your family and your children.

Economic independence, like charity, begins at home.

With Our Neighbors . . .

An election at Ozona recently was to determine whether the district school tax was to be raised from $1.25 to the maximum rate of $1.50 per $100.00. It was raised.

A volunteer fire department was organized in Ozona last week. There are 15 members.

At Eagle Pass, after months of negotiations, the airport and all buildings on the flight line at the Maverick County Air Field (the former Eagle Pass Army Airfield) were conveyed to Maverick County by the War Assets Administration. Surplus property there valued at approximately $100,000 was offered for sale by the WAA last week.

We know the turning down of the application to T & N O for first class passenger service between Eagle Pass and San Antonio was a disappointment.

Uvalde is becoming quite clogged with parallel parking being ordered for specified sections of the downtown plazas to relieve congested traffic.

The Chamber of Commerce of Brackettville which was organized in January with 167 members reports good success with its first and most important projects.

It was a bad break for Alpine recently when the three-day rodeo had to be cancelled on account of rain which began to fall Thursday night after the first performance. Or, was it? Rodeos will never take the place of rain in West Texas.

At Brownwood, C. M. Grady observed his 93rd birthday with relatives staging a picnic in Coggin Park and Mr. Grady took his first airplane ride. Age isn't always a matter of years.

The Desert Sage at Sierra Blanca comments that he has received a new price list from a wholesale paper house announcing price advances of 10 to 30 per cent, having had only two or three such price advances during the year. Well, things like that were formerly blamed on the war but now we hear a different reason for the advanced price on any item.

At Marfa it is becoming expensive to pack concealed weapons. The sheriff's office reports show that 180 days of jail residence have been assessed recently against two men who were found guilty of carrying weapons—one an ice pick and the other a pistol. And Jesse Blackwell was honored with a dinner arranged by alumni of the school bearing his name and from which he is retiring after twenty-five years as teacher there.

The high school at Fort Stockton was approved last week by an inspector from the state department and credit was allowed in two additional subjects: drawing and choral music. General Ira C. Eaker delivered the address to Fort Stockton's largest graduating class, fifty in number.

With the bringing in of the 8th and 9th producers in Schleicher County's oil field and spudding in of three new tests in that locality, interest continues in that field. There is a new pastor at the Church of Christ and the Presbyterian Churches in Eldorado.

Santa Anna is beginning to worry about its water supply as the lakes now hold only about a four-month's supply. Recent rains have not fallen in the area where the water sheds to the lake and conservation of the present supply of water is urged.

The death of Dr. J. I. Sanders of Del Rio came as quite a shock to patients and friends in this area. He was injured in an automobile accident. He had been practicing in Del Rio for eight years.

Butane Users Urged To Install Storage For Winter Months

With the return to the domestic market of gas-burning appliances in large numbers, the problems of the butane industry are increasing rapidly, according to a statement just made by Lyle Blanton of Hereford, who is president of the Texas Butane Dealers Association. He pointed out that prior to the war few persons were heavy users of butane and propane as a heating and cooking fuel and that the small storage system in general vogue at toe time was ample to meet his needs.

"As the manufacturers get back into production and appliances begin to flow to the markets, thousands of persons are adding ranges, refrigerators, water heaters and space heaters to already overloaded systems," continued Blanton, "with the result that there is an unprecedented upon their small systems and the customer often finds himself without fuel. This requires frequent trips by the dealer to the customer's premises, but it also raises the more serious question of whether or not the trend will continue to the point where there will not be enough gas produced during the peak months of November, December, January and February to fulfill the demands. As a matter of fact, this condition did develop in many parts of Texas last year and it appears it will be even worse next winter.

"The logical and practical answer to the problem," stated the president of the butane trade association, "is for customers to take out 'winter insurance' by purchasing and installing systems large enough so they can 'stockpile' the butane gas during the summer months when the domestic demand is the lightest. In that way they can have sufficient fuel on hand at the beginning of the winter months to carry them through until spring without another filling of their tank. There is absolutely no loss to the customer from evaporation or shrinkage during the months the gas is being held in the customer's tank."

Local butane gas dealers are supporting the program being sponsored by the Texas Butane Dealers Association to get new butane users to install adequate storage facilities, or to supplement their present systems if they are already customers, so as to take care of their needs during the forthcoming winter months.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR ODESSA WOMAN SUNDAY

Mrs. Secundina L. Vielma of Odessa died in Sanderson Friday as result of complications arising following an appendectomy in a Del Rio hospital. She and her husband were en route home when she became so ill that it was necessary to stop here. Survivors are the husband, Abelardo Vielma and a small child.

Interment was in Santa Rita Cemetery, following services at the Catholic Church Sunday afternoon.

Charles Rogers and his son, Harvey, flew to El Paso Tuesday and returned Wednesday.

Veterans' News

Q—I was discharged from the U. S. Army in May, 1945. Are readjustment allowances still available for me?

A—Yes, Readjustment allowances are available to any eligible veteran until 2 years after the official termination of the war, or until 2 years after the date of his discharge, whichever is later.

Q—I am a World War II veteran and have been ill for five months. At the end of my sixth month of total disability will I have to continue paying for my National Service Life Insurance premiums or is a waiver granted automatically?

A—No automatic waiver of premiums is ever granted. A veteran must be disabled for six months before he may apply for a waiver of premiums. You are entitled to file a claim for refund of those premiums you paid from the date on which the waiver becomes effective.

Q—I receive a portion of my husband's compensation because we are separated. Am I entitled to a widow's pension at his death?

A—At the death of your husband, you may be entitled to a widow's pension notwithstanding the separation, provided you are otherwise eligible.

Q—Under what conditions is a veteran entitled to out-patient treatment from the Veterans Administration?

A—A veteran whose disabilities are service-connected may receive out-patient medical, surgical and dental service for service-connected diseases or injuries. Treatment may be given at a Veterans Administration field station, or VA may authorize it to be given by a physician or dentist in the applicant's place of residence.

Burial in Veterans Administration cemeteries will be restricted to veterans who die in VA hospitals and homes and whose relatives do not desire burial elsewhere.

VA has announced this policy in response to many inquiries arising from plans of the War Department to return upon request bodies of World War II veterans who died overseas. This policy is necessary because of inadequacy of VA cemetery space to take care of even a small part of such rebuents.

Veterans who plan to attend school under the GI Bill for the first time next fall are urged by VA authorities to make arrangements immediately.

These arrangements include applying to VA for a certificate of eligibility and making application for entrance to the school selected.

An increase over the current enrollment of 1,200,000 ex GI's is anticipated and veterans who wait until the last minute to apply may not be able to get into the school of their choice.

STUDENTS TO TAKE FIELD COURSE IN BIG BEND AREA

Twenty-six students, and two teachers from TCU will leave for West Texas June 2 where the summer field course will take place. They will return July 12.

The course, under the direction of Dr. Gayle Scott and Dr. Leo Hendricks, will be conducted around Marathon and the adjoining Big Bend area, and will include study of stratigraphy, structure, mapping and solution of field problems.

SUL ROSS TO BENEFIT IF AMENDMENT PASSES

If the proposed amendment is enacted at the special election called for August 23, Sul Ross College at Alpine will be one of the colleges benefitting by the $60,000,000 building and equipment program authorized by the amendment to the constitution. Announcement was recently made at a called meeting of the administrators and governing boards at Waco that Sul Ross could expect to receive $945,000 for enlargement of facilities during the next thirty years if the amendment is enacted.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh
Want to Run a "Collective" Farm?
Was reading the other day about the "collective" farms they have in certain countries. It seems the folks who run them have plenty of help... good hours... and the best equipment.
Sounds pretty nice—till you learn that the "farmer" doesn't own his land, or even farm it, in our sense. He takes orders from the state; produces whatever they want him to produce, at prices they set. Even his off-hours are spent according to state regulations.
No, that would never go here.
We're willing to work hard, but we like to farm the land our own way, put our own value on the crops, and relax as we like—if only with a temperate, companionable glass of beer.
From where I sit, collective farming may produce results. But the American way—freedom to work and relax as we see fit—is what makes this country a great place to live. So let's not change it!

B. S. Degree Awarded Mrs. W. H. Goldwire By Sul Ross College

This would almost be a good enough story for Ripley's "Believe It or Not". About five years ago, Mrs. Mary Louise Goldwire lacked two hours work having her degree from Sul Ross College, Alpine. She moved to California and completed the required hours by correspondence that year but made no effort to get her diploma. Last year while at the Sul Ross homecoming, the registrar suggested that she request a diploma, despite the lapse of time since she should have gotten it. The end of the story is that Mrs. Goldwire this week received her diploma showing that on Monday, May 26, 1947, she received a B. S. degree from that college. She was unable to be present for the graduation exercises at the college.

"Old Smarty", Sly Killer Is Dead

COLLEGE STATION, May 26—"Old Smarty" is dead, and Menard County ranchmen are resting easier. A confirmed killer, "Old Smarty" was a timber wolf who had been slaughtering sheep and goats around the Negro Gap community in Menard County for six years. County Agricultural Agent Howard Moring estimates that the wolf has done $10,000 worth of damage. Weighing in at 36 pounds, and sly as a whole family of foxes, the wolf had escaped the traps and bullets of ranchmen in the area until he was getting to be about as popular as a hard freeze at shearing time. But "Old Smarty" quit making meals out of Menard County sheep and goats recently when he took a bad step and put a paw into a trap set by Jack Beasley, U. S. Department of Interior trapper.

Mrs. A. G. Blanton of Sonora has returned home after visiting in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ben Ed Martin, and attending the graduation exercises of her grandson, Ben Ed, Jr.

FORT WORTH, May 27—Marino Anderson, junior history major at TCU from Quitto, Ecuador, isn't particularly fond of writing his signature, and for good reasons.

"Anyway," continued the irked clerk, "you aren't putting all these people in one room, are you?" "But I'm alone," Marino contested, and explained that Carlos Rogut Rauj Jenaro Marino Anderson Rivadeneira Von Kiessel Marques de Trastamara was his full name.

Crippled Children's Clinic at Uvalde

The Nine Counties Medical Society together with the Crippled Children's Division of the State Department of Health is sponsoring a Crippled Children's Clinic for the nine counties (Edwards, Terrell, Uvalde, Zavala, Real, Maverick, Kinney, Medina, and Val Verde) to be held at the Methodist Church in Uvalde on Thursday, June 5, 1947. One of the outstanding orthopedic surgeons of Texas will be present and each child will be carefully examined.

This service is intended for every child in the state under 21 years of age who has any sort of physical deformity regardless of whether the child was born with a deformity or suffered one later through disease or accident.

The state has provided hospitalization in various centers over the state and has made arrangements with the best orthopedic talent available for the care of any child who is in need of such services, but it must be obvious to anyone that these children cannot be helped unless they are brought in where they can be examined and their ailments diagnosed. In every case where treatment or hospitalization is recommended, the choice of doctor and hospital rests with the parents, provided that the doctor and hospital chosen are on the state approved list. No child will receive any treatment of any sort without the express permission of his parents or guardian.

It is hoped that word of this forthcoming clinic will reach the parents of every crippled child in the area, and that every such child will be brought in for examination and advice.

Some of the crippling conditions which may be accepted for treatment are: Infantile Paralysis, osteomyelitis, club feet, harelip and cleft palate, burns, curvature of the spine, bow legs, arthritis, rickets, tuberculosis of the bone, flat feet, supernumerary fingers and toes, amputation and sarcoma.

PARENTS RECEIVE LETTER FROM SON IN AUSTRALIA

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Gates have received a letter from their son, Bland, under the date of May 17 and written from Sydney, Australia, where his fleet composed of two carriers, two tankers and five destroyers had put into port. The cliffs at the entrance to the harbor were filled with people waiting to welcome the ships and many small boats were anchored in the more shallow waters of the harbor. He was surprised at the welcome given the fleet and said he wondered if it was because half a million dollars would probably be spent while the men were on liberty there.

Young Gates commented upon the several kinds of weather he had encountered during the recent weeks. When he left San Francisco it was spring, but it was autumn in Australia. By now he is in Guam and it is mid-summer there. Gates is a Yeoman 3rd Class on the U. S. S. Carrier Antietam.
