Fort Stockton Panthers Bow To Sanderson 18-0 In Non-Conference Tilt

When the Sanderson Eagles invaded the field of the Fort Stockton Panthers last Friday night with the determination that they had they were almost certain to return with the victory over that football team. Sanderson was favored to win the tilt since the Fort Stockton team is made up of green players with the definite lack of experience the local boys have, even in face of the fact that the Panthers team outnumbered the local boys in reserves greatly and had quite a bit of weight on them.

Garden Club Fair Nov. 11 Offers Many Attractions

The Garden Club Fair will be held Tuesday, November 11, at three o'clock in the afternoon on the courthouse lawn. Approximately twenty booths and concessions will be open to the public. These will include bingo, a white elephant sale, livestock auction, pet show, donkey rides, coffee and doughnuts, and many others. There will be a Mexican supper at 5:30 at the school and a dance at 8 o'clock that night at a place to be announced later.

The booths are being sponsored by various clubs and the proceeds will go to the individual club sponsoring the booth or to the community house fund. The purpose of the fair is to obtain funds for the decorating and furnishing of the house leased by the Garden Club for the purpose of a Community House. This house is to be maintained in good order by the Garden Club and used as a modern lending-library and for all community functions. Any club or individual will be able to use the house and apartments for a small fee which will be set at a later date. The fee will help to defray the expense of utilities and upkeep of the house which will be available for all club meetings, social gatherings, lectures, school functions or public gatherings. The house will be opened in 1948 with Mrs. Jack Haynes as director.

The money obtained at the fair will also pay for the completion of the Community Playground, which is being sponsored by the Rotary, Lions and Garden Clubs.

The 1947 Fair will be marked by unusually good exhibits and fun for all, according to Mrs. J. W. Pate, chairman, and a record attendance is hoped for.

Dr. Fred R. Baker Dies in San Angelo

Dr. Fred R. Baker, pioneer San Angelo optometrist, who has been serving the residents of this area over a period of years on his regular visits to Sanderson, died in a hospital in San Angelo Tuesday. Dr. Baker was 76 years of age and recently closed his offices, retiring because of ill health. After undergoing surgery last week, his condition failed to improve.

Funeral services and burial were in Dallas Wednesday. Survivors include his widow, four daughters and a son. Dr. Baker held high offices with state and national organizations. He opened offices in San Angelo 41 years ago and is said to have had the first lens gridding plant in Texas.

Mrs. J. W. Leatherwood and baby returned Sunday from Eden where they had visited Mrs. Leatherwood's mother, Mrs. A. B. Carnes for two weeks.

Panthers to start the game. The Panthers immediately lost the ball on downs to Sanderson and the Eagles did not slow up until they had crossed the goal line. The first touchdown was scored on a pass from Dishman to Russell. The kick was blocked in the attempt for the extra point. The first quarter ended with the score of 6-0 for the Eagles.

The second quarter was scoreless for both teams. Sanderson made 2 first downs, attempted 5 passes, completed 1, intercepted 1. Fort Stockton made 1 first down, attempted 6 passes and completed 2 and intercepted 1.

In the third quarter Jack Harrell intercepted a pass and went over for the second Eagle touchdown. The try for the extra point failed. Fort Stockton took to the air and even though successful with a good number of passes and interceptions were not able to score.

Hill tallied again for the Sanderson team in the fourth quarter on a line play that was good for 30 yards and 6 points. The attempt for the extra point failed again. The game ended with the score of 18-0 and the Eagles definitely on top.

Statistics for the game: Fort Stockton 7, Sanderson 12-3; Panthers 17-6; Sanderson intercepted 2 passes and the Panthers intercepted 3; penalties, Sanderson 25 yards, Fort Stockton 10.

The Eagles met the Grandfalls Cowboys last night on the local grid. A write-up of this game will appear in the next issue. The Eagles defeated the Cowboys once before on their field, 12-6, and the predictions are that the score will be a little better for the Eagles on their own field.

As a courtesy to the visiting delegates and guests, the Legion Auxiliary entertained with a tea in the banquet room at the high school Saturday afternoon. The table was covered with a pink cloth, the gathered ruffle extending to the floor. Orchid tapers in crystal holders flanked the centerpiece of fall flowers in pastel shades. Clusters of purple grapes and leaves extended down the center of the table.

Squash painted in shades of yellow and orange were arranged around the pumpkin and yellow candles burned in brass holders. Mounds of grapes further emphasized the autumn theme. Mrs. Bustin Canon and Mrs. P. E. Dishman, Sr., presided at the coffee service.

ECONOMIC HIGHLIGHTS

At the request of General Lucius D. Clay, Commander-in-Chief of the European Command, U. S. Army Forces, Lewis H. Brown recently made a trip to Europe to study Western Germany's postwar industrial potential.

Mr. Brown's purpose is to indicate what must be done if the Marshall Plan is to succeed, and a program developed which will be acceptable to Congress.

The key to the revival of German industry is coal. The key to coal production is adequate food.

But that is only the beginning of his solution for Germany's economic problem. The German terrific war damage, cannot haul the coal away from the mines.

Prior to the war, England was the principal supplier of coal to Western Europe. The coal was brought by water to the large ports, around which major industrial areas grew up.

one of the biggest contributing factors to the British dollar system shortage. His solution is to declare a moratorium of from 12 to 15 months on the shipment of coal out of Germany so that all German coal can be employed inside the country.

England has great coal resources and a great coal industry. But production has been diminishing. That, Mr. Brown says, is in large part caused by Labor's nationalization program.

The United States, Mr. Brown continues, will have to contribute heavily if his plan is to succeed. But he wants our contributions to be made part of an organized program whose end result is to put Europe on her feet.

Lastly, Mr. Brown considers what Russia might do in the face of such a plan for the reconstruction of Western Europe. He does not believe she will go to war. He does believe that if we fail, a worldwide economic depression will result.

The memorial address was given by Robert W. Sisson, manager of the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Lubbock was a most impressive discourse paying tribute to the men who had given their lives for the cause for which the American Legion stands.

"We are assembled at this hour to pay tribute to the brave men who rest in silence and in peace.

"On such an occasion it is difficult to find fitting words to express the thoughts that stir in our minds and hearts. If silence is ever golden, it must be beside the graves of those men whose deeds were so much more significant than our words can ever be.

"We pause here today to listen in silence — to the voices of those who loved their country to the last full measure of devotion.

"That one voice is the voice of America. It speaks silently to our hearts. It is more compelling in its command than any human voice we shall hear with our ears.

"As there is a way of living, so also, is there a way of dying. In dying in the search for peace, those men left by their example a noble heritage to our nation.

"There is a living part of America in every foreign land where our gallant dead lie. Their graves honor the soil of New Guinea. They have sanctified the battle scarred earth of Iwo Jima. We have dropped precious seed in the field of France and beyond the Rhine.

"The cause for which they died must not, and cannot die. We may mark their graves with our flag. But if we fail to hold the torch of freedom which they passed on to us, then we are cheating our heroic dead out of

DUCK SEASON OPENS NOV. 4

Open seasons for duck hunting in Texas this year will be from November 4 to November 17 and from December 16 to December 29, according to the Texas Cooperative Wildlife Research Unit and the Texas A&M department of fish and game.

Under new regulations of the Department of the Interior, the states west of a certain north-south line are allowed to choose either a season of 35 consecutive days or a split season of 14 days each, and Texas has chosen the latter.

Both the hunting season and bag limits have been reduced in order to stem the noticeable decrease in waterfowl which has occurred during the past three years, according to the Secretary of the Interior, who states: "If the sport of wildfowling is to continue, we must regulate the take to less than the season's increase."

Regulations prohibit taking waterfowl by bait or with live decoys.

Not more than one wood duck may be included in the bag of four. American and red-breasted mergansers may be possessed 25 singly or in the aggregate.

HINTS FOR DEER HUNTERS

"If you want to drop a deer in his tracks, forget the time-honored heart shot and hit him in the neck."
That's the advice of John S. Rose, the National Rifle Association's conservation expert, gives the nation's 11,000,000 hunters in the October issue of "The American Rifleman," based on the results of a six-month study of the business of deer killing.
"Then," quoting Rose again, "If you miss your lead and the bullet lands a couple of feet in back of where you wanted it, you can still count on a very tracks and the rest trailed up to an average of 35 yards with extreme cases going to a thousand yards.

Among other types of hits he studied the gut shot, frowned upon by very good hunters, and found that it turned in a record that compared favorably with the heart shot.
Rose misses no arguments in the defense of his viewpoints. He considers all types of hits, angles of shot, ranges, leads, bullet performance and all sundry other factors that might come into a successful kill and then defends his neck shot above all others.
He did find that the NRA survey backed up the reputation of the spine shot, which has always been classed as deadly. Eighty-four per cent of all the deer hit in this area are dropped in their tracks. The average trailing distance for all hits in the spine was barely over thirteen yards.

Rose's survey proved two things—that the neck and spine shots were most deadly. With that in mind he tells in his well-illustrated "Rifleman" article why all hunters should forget their time-honored heart shots and aim for the neck. He proves that if your lead is bad and you miss the neck, you most likely will hit the deer in the spine. Thus you get a chance at the two most deadly shots as proven by the study.
Rose ends his article with the unqualified statement: "To put the whole affair on a blunt, meat-getting basis, the hunter who uses the neck shot, regardless of considerations of sportsmanship and humane killing, is going to have a better chance of bringing home the buck than will the adherent of the heart aiming point."
There is no doubt that the National Rifle Association's conservation expert has shaken the time-accepted deer killing theories. All hunters should read it.

dead deer somewhere in the immediate vicinity, or at least a deer that won't run into the middle of the next county."
Rose, in his provocative article, "Stop That Buck," presents facts based on over 5,000 1946 deer kills and attempts to prove that "the ideas of the vast majority of United States hunters on where to hit a deer to bring him down are way off base."
Rose's findings are startling and will be something a lot of experienced and inexperienced hunters alike can mull over just as they are getting ready to take to the field.
The conservation expert began his study by questioning a representative group of "big name" hunters on where you should hit a buck if you want to be sure of anchoring him in his tracks. He got the "cut and dried" answers — "hit behind the shoulders," "bust him in the heart," "get him in the chest."
After questioning the big name boys, Rose studied his five thousand kills and his findings refute the hunters.
The NRA expert found that 94 per cent of all deer hit in the neck dropped in their tracks or trailed over five yards as an average. The heart shot brought down only 51 per cent in their

Named to Head March of Dimes

George D. Wilson

Appointment of George D. Wilson, Houston businessman and civic leader, as Texas State Chairman for the 1948 March of Dimes was announced today by Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

The 1948 campaign to be held January 15-30, will mark the tenth anniversary of the National Foundation, established by Franklin D. Roosevelt to "lead, direct and unify" the fight against infantile paralysis. The March of Dimes each January is the sole support of the National Foundation.

Mr. Wilson formerly headed the trustees of the University of Houston, the Houston Board of Education and the Junior Chamber of Commerce. He has been active in the American Red Cross and served on the Presiding Bishop's Committee on Laymen's Work of the Protestant Episcopal Church. He was 1947 March of Dimes chairman for Texas.

In announcing that Mr. Wilson had accepted the state chairmanship, Mr. O'Connor revealed that since 1943 infantile paralysis has taken a tragic toll with more than 72,000 Americans having been stricken.

"Thousands," he warned, "continue to face a long fight for recovery. This summer, fortunately we had a 'breathing spell' as polio incidence nationally did not approach the awful total of 1946.

"The cost of the 1946 epidemic alone will run to some $30,000,000, without taking into account the large sums necessary to care for those stricken this summer. We do not know what 1948 may bring, but we must be prepared."

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Price returned to their home in Fort Stockton Friday after visiting in the homes of their daughters, Mesdames M. C. Dye and O. T. Sudduth for several weeks. Mr. Price became ill shortly after coming here and had to remain until he had recovered sufficiently to be able to return to his home.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Suduth and Barbara went to Ft. Stockton Thursday where they joined Mrs. Suduth's brother, S. E. Brown, Mrs. Brown and their daughter, Betty, of Wickett, for a trip to Austin. There they visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Blaydes and attended the Texas-Rice football game Saturday.

Fred Charlton, of San Antonio, was a guest in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Charlton, Saturday and Sunday.

Lewis Lemons was a Del Rio visitor over the week end.

When Will You Be 90 Years Old?

Will you be 90 years old on November 7, or thereabouts? A substantial birthday surprise awaits any Texan or Texan, now residing within the state and whose birthday was November 7, 1857, the date from which stems the coming 90th anniversary of establishment of Sanger Bros., in Texas.

In the event none is found whose birthday coincides with that of this retail Texas institution, then the November date nearest November 7 will be honored.

"Texas has become the greatest of all of the states because of the thrift and perseverance of hardy pioneers. Therefore, Sanger Bros., proud of the confidence long held in this store, is anxious to celebrate jointly with its twin, or twins, and out of which will come worthwhile recognition for our guest or guests," declared E. P. Simmons, president of the firm.

Because birth certificates seldom are available for such a distant date, reasonable proof should be available from a famous public record.

Information should be sent immediately to Eli Sanger, Sanger Bros., Dallas 2, Texas, and must arrive not later than Saturday, November 1.

Among those attending the races in Del Rio Saturday and Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Laughlin, H. A. Mullins, Jack Deaton, Eddie Leatherwood, Sid Harkins, H. B. Louwien, Max Bogusch, Roy Bogusch, J. M. Corder and Roy Deaton.

Mrs. O. W. Story and son and daughter are leaving the first of next week for Edinburg, Texas, to make their home. Mr. Story, who was trainmaster here for the T&N, was transferred to that city and has been there for two weeks.

Ginger Magill, who is a student at the San Marcos Baptist Academy was a guest in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Magill, last week end. Mr. and Mrs. Magill took her back to San Marcos and returned home Tuesday.

Jimmie Caroline went to Abilene Tuesday on a business trip to be gone for several days.

Roy Rice, of Brady, Texas, is visiting in the home of his uncle, Tip Frazier.
