Memorial for Alamo's Heroes

San Antonio's annual Pilgrimage to the Alamo, which opens the city's Fiesta San Jacinto, will be held Monday, April 19, when a scene similar to this will be enacted at the "Shrine of Texas Liberty". Cities, organizations and individuals are invited to send flowers which are carried to the Alamo as a memorial to the men who died in its defense.

Adm. Chester Nimitz Guest Speaker for San Antonio Fiesta

Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz will speak at the "Shrine of Texas Liberty" at twilight Monday, April 19, when the annual pilgrimage to the Alamo is staged as the opening event of San Antonio's Fiesta San Jacinto.

Admiral Nimitz's talk will be made from hallowed Texas ground a few feet from the Alamo entrance, while thousands assemble in Alamo Plaza, originally part of the battle ground on which the heroic garrison of 186 men fought Santa Anna's army of 4,000.

A new feature of this year's pilgrimage will be the appearance of flags from most of the states which were represented by the men who died in the Alamo. Mrs. Clyde Chalk Sierk, president of Alamo Mission Daughters of the Republic of Texas, custodian of the Alamo, said that in response to a query from the organization, governors of 11 states have already agreed to send flags and a number will send floral offerings. Sixteen states were represented by the Alamo's heroes.

APRIL 4-10 IS SPRING CLEAN-UP WEEK IN TEXAS

The week of April 4-10, 1948, has been designated as Spring Clean-Up Week by Governor Beauford H. Jester in his proclamation of March 1.

The Spring Clean-Up Week campaign, a year, has many objectives of interest to each man, woman and child of our community. The objects of the campaign are as follows:

- A clean community and good health.
- A clean community and fewer fires.
- A clean community creates a better home life.
- A clean community builds up pride of ownership.
- A clean community increases property values.
- A clean community attracts home-seekers and industries.
- A clean community means fewer law violations.
- The net result of all seven of these means "a clean community" is a community of happy men, women and children, and free from economic ills brought on chiefly by ill health, lack of business, too many fires and too much law violations.

Guests in the Don Allen home last week end included Mrs. Allen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thurston Smith and her brother and sister, Ray and Emilyn Smith of Colorado City.

S. P. Orders 8,500 New Freight Cars

Southern Pacific is now placing orders for 8,500 new freight cars, covering a major portion of the 9,830 included in its 1948 program, according to a statement made here by E. A. Craft, executive vice-president of the lines in Texas and Louisiana, following receipt of word from President A. T. Merrier in San Francisco.

This new order, Mr. Craft said, will bring to 19,250 the number of new freight cars ordered by Southern Pacific since the close of World War II. Of the 10,750 new freight cars on previous postwar order, 7,251 had been delivered by the end of February and it was expected the entire number would be delivered and placed in service by the end of July.

The freight cars now being ordered will include 3,350 box cars, 1,000 drop-bottom gondolas, 700 tight bottom gondolas, 2,100 flat cars and 350 covered hopper cars.

Delivery of the general service gondolas and box cars is scheduled to begin in August and September. Receipt of the other cars will start by the end of this year.

In addition to the new freight car program, Southern Pacific's freight service equipment has been augmented in the postwar period by receipt of 20 powerful diesel-electric main line freight locomotives with 20 more remaining on order. Its fleet of diesel-electric switch locomotives, with 20 additional units to be delivered later.

Feed Burns On Key and Evans Ranch Last Week

An estimated loss of about $1500 was the result of a fire on the Key and Evans ranch last Monday afternoon. The fire started in stacked bales of hay and sacks of feed near the pens. For a short time it looked as if the fire was going to get beyond control and the Sanderson fire department was summoned.

Asst. Fire Chief Marion Batson and Bob Kerr took the Ford truck to the scene of the fire and put out the embers that were flying over the countryside due to a high wind thereby preventing further spread of the fire. The blaze had been extinguished when they arrived.

Besides the pens being burned, between five and six hundred bales of hay were lost and an unestimated number of sacks of feed.

WORK STARTED ON LOCAL BALL FIELD

Work is to begin this week on the local softball field located near the Community Public Service Co. warehouse. The field is under the sponsorship of the local Lions Club and W. W. Sudduth, chairman of the softball committee, announced this week that two additional poles with two lights to each will be installed this year supplementing the present lighting. The pole located in left field will be moved back out of the playing field and one pole will be installed in center field and one in right field.

The entire field will also be scraped and dug in order to insure a fast diamond.

Practice is expected to get under way within the next week with the formation of the various teams of the town. Announcement of the teams and managers will be made as soon as available. It is planned to start playing about the first of May, giving time for location of players on the respective teams, and practice for plenty of competition.

FIRE DEPARTMENT CALLED OUT TWICE LAST FRIDAY

The Sanderson Volunteer Fire Department was called out twice Friday afternoon; one fire and one false alarm. The first call was to a recreation car in yards at the local T&N depot. The fire was extinguished before serious damage was incurred to the car.

Following the fire at the recreation car, the local volunteers met at the fire house for drill and to test pumps and equipment on the trucks and were at the fire station when the second alarm was turned in. A tourist coming into Sanderson from the East saw smoke near the Carl Cochran ranch and, supposing it came from a fire there, turned in the alarm when he reached town. The trucks left immediately to the reported scene of the fire which was some trash burning near the highway.

Dedication Service For Windows At Methodist Church

The triple art glass windows in the front of the Methodist Church will be dedicated in special services which have been arranged for three o'clock Sunday afternoon. The public is invited to attend.

During the construction of the church building, funds were obtained by popular subscription for the purchase of the windows to be dedicated to the service men and women from Terrell County. Only recently was the church able to obtain a suitable plaque so that the windows could be dedicated.

The beautiful bronze plaque which has been placed in the larger of the windows on the west side of the church will be unveiled Sunday. The larger window has the inscription, "Come Unto Me All Ye That Travail and Are Heavy Laden and I Will Give You Rest." On one of the smaller windows is "Tis not the whole of life to live", and on the other is "Nor all of death to die."

Nance, their youngest daughter, Kathryn Nell Nance, became the bride of Dan Murrah, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Murrah of Alpine. Vows were exchanged under the direction of Rev. Clifford Spencer, pastor of the local Baptist Church, before an improvised altar arranged before the fire place in the living room. Evergreens were used for a background and tall floor baskets of calla lilies flanked the large white candleabra holding long white tapers which were arranged at each side. The wedding scene was reflected in the mirror above the mantle where silver bells tied with white ribbons were suspended from the center. Will J. Murrah, cousin (Continued to page 3)

W. P. WALLACE, JR. CANDIDATE FOR DIST. ATTORNEY

Making the announcement from his home town of Del Rio, W. P. Wallace, Jr., last Friday announced that he is a candidate for the office of district attorney for the 63rd Judicial District of Texas in which Terrell County is located.

Wallace is filling the unexpired term of Roger H. Thurmond, who resigned to become district judge and the current campaign will be his first for election to the office he holds.

In making his announcement, Wallace said "When the office of district attorney was made vacant by reason of the appointment of the Honorable Roger Thurmond as district judge, without any commitments other than to faithfully and to the best of my ability discharge the duties of my office, I was favored with virtually the unanimous endorsement of the Bar of the entire district, for appointment as district attorney. The appointment was made by Governor Coke Stevenson.

"I have tried to discharge the duties of the office faithfully and in submitting my candidacy for the office for the first elective term, I feel that the experience gained during the time I have served as district attorney would better qualify me for the office. I desire to repeat my pledge to serve the people in that office faithfully to the best of my ability and without favor to any particular person or group," the candidate concluded.

Wallace served a number of years ago as county attorney before resuming his private practice until his appointment by Governor Stevenson as district attorney.

"The Czech People Have Now Set Their Feet Firmly on the Road to Freedom and Democracy." That headline was splashed across the first page of one of the largest newspapers in the world the day after the communists took over the Czechoslovakian government. The paper, as the reader may have guessed, is published in the Soviet Union. Its name is Pravda, which means Truth.

This particular communist achievement has an ironical twist. Czechoslovakia was largely the creation of an American with a passionate faith in representative government, Woodrow Wilson, and its Constitution was patterned after ours. Its president, Eduard Benes, is a democrat with a complete distrust of the communist ideology. He fought as long as he could against the red onslaught. But in Czechoslovakia, as in other countries, the communist technique proved sound. No one knows just what proportion of the Czech people really want communism, and it hardly matters. For the communists were superbly organized and disciplined and the opposition was weak and divided, devoting much of its energies to internal quarrels. Thus, this communist victory was much like those that have gone before — except, in Czechoslovakia, there was no need for much force of arms. But no one doubts that the arms would have appeared and been used had Clement Gottwald, the communist leader, thought them necessary.

If, as many believe, we are actually involved in a "cold war" with the Soviet Union, the melancholy fact is that we aren't doing so well. According to an AP summing up, since the war the communists have extended their rule to nations, some of them of the highest strategic importance, with an area of approximately 650,000 square miles and a total population of over 110,000,000 people. The most aggressive of the czars were never that successful. And the communists haven't even begun to satisfy their ambitions. They are actively at work in Turkey, Greece, Italy, France, and elsewhere. Whenever they obtain control all opposition is purged by decree. And, as in the Soviet Union itself, individual dissidents have a habit of disappearing. In other words, communist suppression of its enemies is complete and final. Every precaution is taken to prevent the seeds of rebellion from sprouting.

The Russians and their satellites jubilantly regard the conquest of Czechoslovakia as one more very important achievement in the organized effort to sink our European aid program. But there's many a slip 'twixt the cup and the lip, and that program is moving steadily toward completion. Every conceivable viewpoint has been heard. Some believe that the European governments themselves could do much to make major aid by us unnecessary, but this group, whatever the merits of its stand, is a small minority. Perhaps the most remarkable plan of all is that suggested by third-party presidential candidate, Henry A. Wallace. He wants the whole program turned over to the UN, despite the fact that Russia could sabotage it completely with a veto — a power she has used on innumerable proposals presented to the UN in the past. And, ever, dismissing this, we would put up practically all the money and supplies, at the same time losing control over what happened to them. What seems to be a rather general reaction to the Wallace idea was expressed by the Portland Oregonian, when it said, "Americans, we think are not softheaded enough after the last war and the daily example of Soviet expansion to shell out tax money to finance communist coups in countries which may be kept free."

There has been deep concern over whether Europe is really trying to help herself. Some telling evidence of deficiencies in this regard has appeared. Yet, Walter Kerr, of the conservative New York Herald Tribune, reported from Paris on February 21 that, "The countries of western Europe — with millions of men, women and children eating far less food than they ate before the war — are making a valiant effort to do their part in the European recovery program."

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Pickard and daughter, Ann, were week end guests in the home of Mrs. Pickard's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Underwood.

This faithful canine, who was mascot on a troop transport will never forget his permanently injured master, Lt. Leroy C. Baker of Sawyer, N. D., with whom he is pictured. Their reunion is a part of a plan to prove that Americans are as loyal and grateful to their war heroes as is "Doc Sunshine," the dog.

Treasured moments of Texas History

Where did Texas get its name? It's a grand old story. 259 years ago, in 1689, an expedition headed by Capt. Alonso de Leon and Father Massanet blazed their way into this territory in search of riches and converts to the Christian faith. Instead of warlike savages, they found the land inhabited by peaceful Indians who called themselves "Tejas", meaning friends or allies. In that treasured moment Texas got its name — a friendly, hospitable name that has survived under 6 flags and through 2 1/2 centuries.

Many are the treasured moments we enjoy today, especially with delicious, sparkling, PEARL Beer at hand. Here's a truly fine brew whose superior quality and friendly flavor have made it "thirst-choice" of 3 generations of taste-wise Texans. Enjoy a treasured moment yourself. Say, "Bottle of PEARL, please!"

HINTS AID IN ARRANGEMENT FOR FLOWER SHOW

Mrs. E. E. Farley

In the arrangement classes in the Garden Club Flower Show to be presented April 24 there will be Japanese, Dutch, French, English, Victorian and Georgian, American, Modern, Colonial, Early American, Miniature, and the Junior Gardener's Class.

In the Japanese flower arrangements, line rather than mass is featured, and balance and harmony is shown without duplication and symmetry.

The Dutch are more influenced by the love of rich colors, and the arrangements are indicative of rich, luxurious living.

Among the French, arrangements are lighter in color and more graceful in form.

The English arrangements are divided into two classes: Victorian and Georgian. In the Victorian arrangement the flowers are handled for their massed effect.

The American Colonial arrangement consists of round bouquets, largely classical.

Mohair Market Can Be Established By Advertising Medium

From the Devils River News

There is quite a bit of talk these days. That's good for the buyers because as long as it keeps us, their offers will stay down.

The way we look at it, there are three things growers of mohair can and should do. First, they should stick together throughout the whole mohair producing area of Texas.

Second, a concerted and well-planned effort to create a steady demand for mohair products should be undertaken.

The point of the lemon example is that advertising, properly carried out, will create a demand for almost anything.

Third, the mohair grower can sit tight on his mohair and sell off his old goats at some very attractive prices.

Uses having sharp, bold lines and angles such as Calla lilies, bulbous Iris. The containers are usually built on simple angles.

A miniature arrangement is the effect of a fewer arrangement of a larger size reproduced in miniature.

CORRECTION

In the O. T. Sudduth & Co. ad last week some words were erroneously omitted that could change the meaning intended by the advertiser. The correction has been made in the ad in this week's paper to read "There will be butane for fuel from now on but each consumer must look to his own storage facilities for storing a part of his winter needs during summer months when the demand is not so great."

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our thanks to the Sanderson Volunteer Fire Department for their kindness and consideration in bringing their equipment to the fire at our ranch last week when for a time it looked as if we would have a very destructive fire.

Dallas Lawyer
Collects Oddities
From Wills

Jim Putnam, a Dallas lawyer, has a scrap book of strange unusual bequests taken from last wills and testaments of curious people during the past several years.

Here are some of the entries:
A man left $100.00 to be used among those who attended his funeral. His secretary tended the rites and made of all who were present.

A bachelor divided all his money among three women. He had refused to marry any of them," he wrote, "I owe earthly happiness."

A man willed $500 per year to his son for as long as he remained in college. Forty later the son was still a student in the physical education department of the college.

One man willed a church 500 a year as long as he would not take up a public tribune at the worship of

Butane Gas Is Here To Stay!

RUMOR HAS IT THAT BUTANE GAS AS A FUEL FOR HOMES WILL BE SHORT LIVED

TO CORRECT THIS RUMOR WE WOULD LIKE TO ADVISE OUR CUSTOMERS THAT ON A RECENT TRIP TO AUSTIN BY A MEMBER OF THIS FIRM THE RAILROAD COMMISSION, GAS DIVISION, WAS CONTACTED REGARDING THIS VERY TOPIC. WE WERE ADVISED THAT BUTANE PRODUCTION WAS ON THE INCREASE WITH A NUMBER OF APPLICATIONS FOR ESTABLISHMENT OF NEW REFINERIES, SEVERAL OF WHICH WILL BE LOCATED IN WEST TEXAS.

IT WAS ALSO POINTED OUT THAT BUTANE GAS WOULD BE SHORT IN THE WINTER SO LONG AS CUSTOMERS AND DEALERS DID NOT HAVE AMPLE STORAGE TO CARRY THEM THROUGH 4 WINTER MONTHS. THIS IS TRUE BECAUSE OF THE DEMAND FOR BUTANE GAS FROM INDUSTRIAL PLANTS WHO ARE WILLING TO SPEND THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS FOR STORAGE TO BE FILLED IN SUMMER MONTHS. THE QUOTA OF EACH DEALER IS BASED UPON SUMMER CONSUMPTION, AND IT CAN BE SEEN THAT BUTANE GAS USERS OF THIS SECTION CANNOT POSSIBLY USE AS MUCH GAS IN THE SUMMER AS IN WINTER MONTHS. THIS SIMPLY MEANS THAT THEY MUST HAVE LARGER STORAGE OR THEIR DEALER MUST INSTALL THE STORAGE FOR THEM. THE LATTER COURSE WOULD BE OUT OF THE QUESTION FOR THE MAJORITY OF SMALL DEALERS BECAUSE OF THE COST OF STORAGE TANKS.

THERE WILL BE BUTANE FOR FUEL FROM NOW ON

BUT EACH CONSUMER MUST LOOK TO HIS OWN STORAGE FACILITIES FOR STORING A PART OF HIS WINTER NEEDS DURING SUMMER MONTHS WHEN THE DEMAND IS NOT SO GREAT.

AT PRESENT WE HAVE MORE BULK STORAGE (44,000 gallons) THAN THE MAJORITY OF DEALERS IN TEXAS. BUT TO CARE FOR ALL OUR CUSTOMERS NEEDS DURING WINTER MONTHS WE WOULD BE FORCED TO MULTIPLY THAT BY FOUR AND ONE-HALF TIMES. THIS WOULD MEAN ADDITIONAL INVESTMENTS AMOUNTING TO APPROXIMATELY $40,000.00. THESE FIGURES WILL ILLUSTRATE TO YOU THE IMPOSSIBILITY OF SMALL DEALERS FURNISHING ALL NEEDED STORAGE. THEY MUST HAVE HELP FROM THE CONSUMERS THEY SERVE IF THEY ARE TO FURNISH BUTANE GAS WITHOUT A WINTER SHORTAGE.

AMPLE BUTANE GAS FOR COOKING, HEATING, AND REFRIGERATION IS, AND WILL CONTINUE TO BE AVAILABLE IF THE GREATER PORTION IS PURCHASED DURING THE SUMMER MONTHS. THE SHORTAGE IN WINTER IS NOT DUE TO LACK OF BUTANE BUT LACK OF STORAGE FACILITIES.
