

General Rains Soak Parmer County

SURVEYING THE DAMAGE done to one of his fields by hail is A. W. (Dub) Anthony, who farms eight miles north of Friona. With his hand, Anthony indicates how high the feed was prior to the hail storm Saturday evening. Some spots of the Anthony farm received severe damage from the hail and other parts received lesser damage.

Some Hail Reported

General rains, accompanied by isolated hail and some strong winds, soaked all of Parmer County during a four-day period from Friday through Monday.

Amounts of moisture varied from about two inches in the extreme southern part of the county to 7.5 inches in the northern part of the county. Only a few reports were less than three inches.

Spotted hail and wind, which caused damage ranging from "slight" to "severe," was reported in the Larist-West Camp area, eight miles north of Friona, and at Rhea.

As has been the case with other hail storms this summer, the past week's severe weather was local and only a few farmers were affected.

One hail-laden thunder storm, which came out of the northeast about 6:30 Saturday evening, pelleted the Anthony Brothers farm eight miles north of Friona. A. W. Anthony reports that 40 acres of cotton and sizable acreage of grain sorghum were damaged.

In spots, damage was severe, Anthony says, and other parts of the 600 acres was affected by the storm received lesser damage. Anthony believes that most of the maize and cotton hit by the hail can come back and do pretty well, but he says that the yields will be affected.

There was also some hail and wind damage reported in the Rhea area, but it wasn't too severe, according to reports.

In the West Camp area, south of Farwell, several farmers reported hail damage Saturday afternoon. Hardest hit, according to reports, was the farm of Junior Snyder.

The largest amount of moisture reported in the county was 7.5 inches by Al Reznik, who farms eight miles north and two miles east of Friona. Reznik says his rain gauge showed 3 1/2 inches Friday night and 4 inches Saturday. In the Rhea area, 5.4 inches of rain was reported and Bovina received a combined total of 5 inches during the four days.

Friona received moisture on each of the four days, recording 1.99 Friday night, .95 Saturday, .21 Sunday, and .40 Monday. In Texico-Farwell, the rains totaled about 3 inches.

Rain totals from throughout the county can be found on the moisture map which appears in the Farm and Home section.

The moisture was timely as far as farming operations were concerned, coming after all of the wheat was in the elevators and at a time when most of the irrigation wells were going at full force.

While the moisture, generally, was timely and beneficial, the consensus among farmers is that there has been enough rain for the time being and a few days of sunshine would certainly be welcome.

Bank Deposits Up Over Last Year

Bank deposits in Friona are up almost $800,000 over this time a year ago, according to a statement of condition released last week by the Friona State Bank.

The bank statement, which reflects the general economic condition of the area, reveals that deposits at the close of business on June 30, 1961, were $4,695,733.26, an increase of $797,774.04 over last year.

At the close of business on June 30, 1960, deposits totaled $3,897,959.22.

Bill Nichols, vice-president and agriculturalist of the bank, says the big reason for the huge increase over last year was the wheat harvest, which was the biggest in the history of the area.

Also, Nichols says, early payments from the new government feed grains program also helped to up the total.

Loans this year were up $61,000 this year to $2,470,221.80, over $2,409,132.55 a year ago. Total assets were up from $4,249,109.92 to $5,099,325.82.

Post Office Operated Economically--McLellan

Leo McLellan, whose tenure as Friona postmaster was terminated recently, this week issued a statement on the operation of the post office during the 7 1/2 years he served as acting postmaster.

McLellan said that the post office during his tenure was operated on the same number of man hours each year as it was during the year 1949.

"Naturally, the salaries of postal employees have been increased since 1949," McLellan said, "but the number of hours postal employees worked did not increase."

The former postmaster pointed out that the quantity mail handled since 1949 had increased considerably, as indicated by the postal receipts which had more than tripled since that time.

Postal receipts in 1949 were only $9,734.

McLellan said, compared with more than $32,000 in 1960.

McLellan explained that postal department operations are budgeted each year in regard to man hours needed to run the post office, rather than the amount for salaries, since the money paid to employees is determined by Civil Service.

"I conscientiously tried to give the most service and accommodations possible at the greatest economy to the Post Office Department and to the taxpayers," McLellan said in a letter to the postal patrons of Friona.

The letter, which also contained other statistics on the operation of the post office, can be found elsewhere in the Star in an advertisement.

McLellan, who took over as postmaster in November, 1953, was replaced by Mrs. Martha Clements on June 23, 1961.

Attention!!!! L.L. Mothers

Plans are being made for a game between two teams of Little League Mothers. A meeting for all mothers of players in the Little League will be held at the ball park at 5 p.m. Monday.

Any mother who is interested in participating in the game but unable to attend the meeting is asked to contact one of the committee members.

REPAIRING THE DAMAGE done to one of the telephone lines in the Friona area during week end lightning and thunder storms is Glenn Kennemer, workman for General Telephone Company. Ray Priest, of Brownfield, division construction superintendent for General, points to the damage and explains to a photographer how a complete circuit which served the Parmer exchange was knocked out during the storm.

Storm Disrupts Phone Service

Telephone service in the Friona area was back to normal Wednesday after being curtailed over the week end and during the early part of the week by electrical storms.

The entire Parmer exchange was out of order Saturday and Sunday, and from 75 to 100 individual phones were out in Friona, according to Ray Priest, of Brownfield, division construction superintendent for General Telephone Company. Priest was in Friona Monday checking on the progress being made by workmen who had been on the job repairing damaged lines since Saturday morning.

Priest said the extent of damage caused by the week end storms in and around Friona was unusual for an area this size.

The damage consisted mostly of lines being sliced by lightning.

Eight workmen from Levelland and Muleshoe were here Saturday and Sunday repairing damage, and several of them were still on the job Tuesday afternoon.

After the damage was repaired, all of the circuits had to be checked out through the exchange building in Friona to make sure that all were functioning properly.

More Tires Stolen

Tire thieves struck again in Parmer County over the week end, hitting a Bovina service station Saturday night and one in Farwell Sunday night.

Twelve tires were reported missing from an outdoor, steel-enclosed rack at the Northside Service Station in Bovina, and 15 tires were taken from the Farwell Oil Company Fina station.

A lock was broken on the tire rack at the Bovina station, and entrance was gained to the Farwell station by breaking a window, says Parmer County Sheriff Charlie Lovelace, who investigated the thefts.

The sheriff says he does not know whether the two thefts are persons, or whether or not these two can be linked to a tire robbery which occurred at the Grady Dodd warehouse in Friona several weeks ago.

One hundred tires were taken during the Friona burglary.

Similar tire thefts from warehouses have been occurring frequently at towns around Lubbock during the past several weeks.

A truck which was stolen the same night of the Friona tire theft, and presumed to have been used to haul off the tires, was found last week by Sheriff Lovelace in a field near the town of Spade on the South Plains.

Lovelace went looking for the truck after a theft similar to the one in Friona occurred last week at Acuff, near Lubbock.

He was successful in recovering the truck, but so far the Parmer County sheriff and other law enforcement officers have been unable to solve the burglaries.

Law enforcement agencies in the various towns which have been hit are, however, still checking out several possible leads.

Lions To Install Officers

Annual installation of officer ceremonies for the Friona Lions Club is slated for tonight (Thursday) at 8 o'clock in the Friona Woman's Club Building.

Ed Skypala, of Hereford, Lions Club zone chairman, will be the installing officer.

The new officers, who will serve the club for the next year, were elected in April.

Date Set For Church School

The Union Congregational Church will hold its annual Community Church School the week of July 17-21, Monday through Friday. Classes will begin at 9 a.m. and end at 11:30 a.m.

All children who are planning to attend are urged to contact Mrs. Virginia Jennings, Phone 5101, or Hudson Phillips, Phone 9031, anytime between now and Sunday evening.

Baseball Managers To Meet

A meeting for all managers of Friona's Little League and Babe Ruth League teams is scheduled for Wednesday at 9 p.m. in the community room of Friona State Bank.

Vernon Scott, director of Friona summer baseball program, says the purpose of the meeting will be to select all-star teams and to set the dates for the post-season games in all the leagues.

Student Drivers Getting Practice

If a 1961 white Chevrolet, with several occupants in it, is getting to be quite familiar to most Friona residents, these days it's not that the persons riding in the vehicle are out "joy riding" all the time.

But, on the contrary, it's several of Friona's younger citizens doing something a little more serious.

The youngsters, 46 of them in all, are participating in Friona High School's summer driver training program, and at the present time they are getting in their "road work." During a six-week period, which will end July 28, all 46 of the students each have to get in six hours of actual driving time. Combined, that's 276 hours and it explains why the car is in operation 12 hours each day.

The student driving program is being supervised by two Friona teachers, Tom Jarboe, who supervises the student drivers from 7 a. m. to 1 p. m., and Bill Adams, who is with them from 1 p. m. to 7 p. m.

Besides the six actual driving hours, each student is also required to spend 12 hours in the car observing someone else's driving.

Supervised instruction is broken down into both city driving and open highway driving.

After completing the course, a student can receive his driver's license at the age of 14, rather than waiting until he is 16, which is the normal age for receiving a driver's license in Texas.

All of the Friona students who satisfactorily complete the summer driving course will be administered the state test for a regular operator's license on July 28, the final day of the course, say the instructors.

In all, the summer driving course will last or pine weeks. The first three weeks were devoted to classroom work and the final six are being devoted to actual driving.

During the supervised driving, students are judged either "poor," "fair" or "good" on such things as speed, passing, starting and stopping, parking, pulling on and off the highway, turning, and various other maneuvers.

All phases of the course are designed to make the student a qualified, safe driver.

THE QUACK WARD

Congressman Walter Rogers Asks :

Will Berlin Bring War?

(The following is Congressman Walter Rogers weekly newsletter to the people of the 18th Congressional District):

If the Berlin crisis causes a third World War in this century, it will be a sad commentary on man's ability to handle his own problems. It will be definite and conclusive proof that wars have always created problems, not settled them. Some historians would probably write that the third World War in the 20th Century was caused by a fight between the two major victors of World War II over the spoils of that war.

Such a statement would not be completely true unless Berlin could be called a spoil of a conflict. There is no question but that it was thoroughly spoiled from a physical standpoint at the end of the war. There are scars still standing like grim specters throughout the city, but the physical spoil has been cured. West Berlin has been rebuilt into a modern city, primarily by the generosity and help of this country.

The Eastern sector has also been rebuilt, but it is very crude in comparison with the modern look of the Western side. This physical difference actually reflects the difference between Communism and the free enterprise system. The difference is also reflected in the faces of the population, sadness in the Eastern sector, joy in the Western sector.

Whatever may be argued, it cannot be denied that Berlin was the center of the activities and conduct that brought about World War I. It was the center of activities and conduct that brought about World War II, in both instances the city and the country were in full control of the German people and a German government.

Although it may be said that the same exists today insofar as West Berlin is concerned, it must be admitted that the influence of other countries on West Germany and West Berlin is much more pronounced under the present circumstances than it was before.

The German people in the Eastern sector are dominated by the Soviet Union. Hence, if Berlin becomes the point where the spark that fires World War III comes into existence, it cannot be blamed on the Germans. It will be the fault of the outside powers.

The propaganda machine of the Reds is at work again to try to split the West on this issue. The recent remarks of Walter Ulbricht, the Communist leader in East Germany, that Western Germany was rebuilding itself for the purpose of renewing its traditional military activities, are a good example. This is undoubtedly being done for the purpose of creating suspicions among the Western powers.

If there is any reason to suspect the activities of Western Germany, the several governments which comprise the NATO organizations could control the situation without too much difficulty, and should. On the other hand, the Red propaganda machine is slyly suggesting that there is a rift between Red China and the USSR. The Free World should recognize this for what it is-- a move to lull us into a false sense of security. It must be realized that if a controversy existed between these two powers it could hardly redound to the benefit of the Free World.

We are not dealing with a bunch of naive people. We are dealing with a shrewd, ruthless and tough opponent. The worst mistake we could make would be to again underestimate this bunch. The people in this country were led to believe that a great revolution was about to take place inside Russia and that much internal unrest was on the move. There is very little evidence of that being the case. There is less evidence that if such a revolution were to start it would have the most remote chance of the least possible success.

The complete failure of the countryside to rise up in support of such a move occurred in the recent Cuban invasion. Had the countryside arisen to the challenge, the invasion probably would not have failed.

We in this country must face the cold, hard facts of reality and understand that whistling in the dark is not going to scare off the attempts of the Communists to try to take all they can get. We must let them understand without question of doubt that we intend to fully support our commitments and the protection of our rights, whether it be Berlin or any place else. To negotiate fairly and honestly "Yes," to sacrifice principle "No." This will do more to avoid war than any other else.

Editorial Comment:

Imprisonment Or Guillotine?-- Not Too Much Of A Choice

The election of John Tower to the Senate in a recent special election still has many a political pundit shaking his head in bewilderment, and trying to arrive at some logical conclusion as to why the young, ultra-conservative candidate was elected in a traditionally Democratic state.

Especially puzzling to most liberals, and a few conservatives, was the fact that Tower was such an overwhelming success in this predominantly agricultural region of the High Plains--an area where more than 90 per cent of the farmers had just signed up for the Kennedy administration's "volunteer" feed grains program.

The feed grains program is one piece of socialistic legislation that makes most conservatives quiver in their boots when trying to foresee just what the long-range repercussions of such a program would be.

This being the case, then why did most Farmer County farmers, along with other farmers throughout the Plains, sign up for the grain program and then go to the polls and vote for a man who opposed this type legislation.

As one liberal said following the election, in a tone reflecting both puzzlement and disgust, "It looks like the farmers went down and picked up their government checks and then went to the polls and voted for Tower."

Some liberals have also been using the high percentage of sign-ups for the feed grains program as proof that the majority of farmers want such a program. They have pointed out that Farm Bureau leaders, who represent the majority of the farmers, and oppose this type of farm legislation, are speaking to farmers rather than FOR farmers.

Perhaps it is understandable that some liberals see an inconsistency in the actions of farmers, and why others would see a farmer who signed up for the feed grains bill as being a proponent of the liberal philosophy.

On the surface it would appear that farmers were inconsistent in their actions regarding the election, and the grain program. Also, it might appear that they are overwhelmingly in favor of controlled agriculture.

But to get a true picture of what the farmers actions really represent, one has to look a little below the surface. By doing so, it becomes quite clear that the farmer who signed up for the program, and then voted for a conservative, isn't really a hypocrite.

To understand the situation clearly, a person would have to look at one important aspect of the administration-sponsored feed grains bill. That aspect being the broad powers given the secretary of agriculture in administering the program.

As soon as one farmer had signed up for the program, and consented to a price support and a lay-out payment, the secretary was given authority to start putting surplus grain on the market at any price he saw fit.

It is easy to see what such broad power for the secretary would do to the price of feed grain. This situation was included in the bill, admittedly by its proponents, so that the secretary would have a weapon to force compliance.

A farmer who didn't comply with the program would quite likely find the corn or grain sorghum market price next year considerably lower than the $1.40 he received last year.

The conservative farmer's position in regard to the feed grains program could be compared to that of a condemned prisoner who was confronted with a choice between the guillotine or life imprisonment.

Either way, his fate is not going to be too pleasant, but if he must make a choice . . . (Editor's note: Another aspect of this topic will be discussed next week).

IT'S A BLOODY MESS

In a letter to the folks back home, Congressman August E. Johansen (R-Mich.) poses this provocative question:

"Would it make sense for a patient to be receiving a blood transfusion and giving a blood donation at the same time?"

It's the Congressman's opinion that such a practice, aside from being extremely dangerous, would be entirely objectionable.

"In a word," says Congressman Johansen, "it would be medical quackery." Then the Michigander makes his point:

"I wonder whether we are not indulging in something just as ridiculous and perilous in the area of government and economies.

"I refer to the continuously increasing simultaneous policy of Federal taxation and Federal aid--especially when resorted to as a supposed basis for improving economic health.

"Of course this policy provides a wonderful windfall of political power and profit for the Doctors of Big Government and Phony Economics who promote and administer the procedure."

Congressman Johansen couldn't be more correct. It is rugged for the patient--and it sure has the odor of economic and political quackery.

Legislators Return For Tax Fight

By Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association
AUSTIN—Texas legislators, like students who failed to complete their work in the long term and have to come back to summer school, return to Austin this week to "get it over with."

Goal is the passage of a two-year appropriations bill expected to run around $2,600,000,000. To pay for it, they will need to find some $350,000,000 more in tax money than now provided on the law books. But if money is short, advice is not.

At least three committees have a word or two for the lawmakers. Two are unofficial. They are the Citizens for a Sales Tax, whose name explains its purpose, and the Citizens for Fair Taxation, which is pushing Gov. Price Daniel's plan for additional selective sales taxes, plus more business taxes, higher taxes on alcoholic beverages and others. A third committee, appointed by the Governor, avoided a single, specific recommendation but pinpointed some sort of retail sales tax as the most likely source for the amount of money needed. This committee is composed mainly of the chairmen of governing boards of state welfare and educational agencies.

Committee suggested that either the retail sales tax passed by the Senate last session (a "general" sales tax with exemptions for food, farm supplies, medicine) or a "Pennsylvania-type" tax which affects only the items listed in the bill or a combination of the two might be the answer.

All of which leaves the Legislature just about where it was—with at least some support, and some opposition, for any course it might take.

AUTO INSURANCE RAISED—Beginning August 1, Texas motorists will pay higher premiums for automobile insurance.

How high the premium goes will depend on the county in which the motorist lives and its accident record. In general, the big city counties have higher accident rates and insurance premiums than rural counties. In Travis County (Austin), the increase on a typical policy would be 15 per cent; in Dallas County, about 17 per cent.

This is the first increase in the base rate for auto insurance ordered by the State Board of Insurance since 1958. Reductions or increases for traffic accidents and violations under the Safe Driving Plan will continue as before.

Reasons given for the rate raised include:

1. More people than expected qualified for the 20 per cent premium cut allowed under the Safe Driving Plan for drivers with no accidents or violations. This caused a decline in premium income.

2. Higher cost of repairing today's wrap-around windshield, wrap-around fender cars.

3. Generous jury awards for injury and damage claims.

4. Drop in the number of new cars sold last year.

5. Apparent dropping of insurance by some motorists who had previously carried it.

HIGHWAY COSTS UP—Cost of having good roads, the State Highway Department frankly admits, is going up.

Highway Commission has announced a highway maintenance budget for the next fiscal year (Sept. 1, 1961 to Aug. 31, 1962) of $51,300,000 -- which is up $2,100,000 from the previous year.

Reasons given for the increase: Texas had more than 1,100 new highway miles to care for and it costs more per mile to care for them. But proper upkeep, says the Commission, "stretches the taxpayer's dollar by increasing the life of the road."

Department now maintains 57,757 miles of highway at an average cost of $811 per mile for upkeep. Per mile upkeep cost has increased $19 since the last fiscal year.

HIGHER SPEED, HIGHER TOLL—Beginning September 1, higher toll charges will be made on the Texas Turnpike, linking Dallas and Fort Worth.

Beginning August 28, effective date of authorizing legislation passed last spring, the speed limit on most of the toll road will be raised from 60 to 70 miles per hour.

Toll charges for an end-to-end trip by passenger cars will be hiked from 50 to 60 cents; for heavy trucks, from $1.25 to $1.35.

Texas Turnpike Authority voted the higher fares after receiving estimates that the operation would have a $425,000 deficit at the end of this year unless revenues increased.

SABINE DAM UNDER STUDY—After a hearing on the pros and cons, State Board of Water Engineers has granted the Sabine River Authority's application for a permit to build the proposed Toledo Bend reservoir.

Sabine, for quite a stretch, serves as the boundary between Louisiana and lower East Texas, and the proposed dam is to be a joint Texas-Louisiana project.

Spokesmen for timber interests in the area told the Board the reservoir, slated to be 100 miles long, would put valuable timber under water and sawmill workers out of jobs.

It would take 10 years, said a sawmill representative, to get all the timber out of the area.

Advocates of the dam contended that the $54,000,000 project will ultimately benefit the area by attracting new industry and helping to offset future water shortage.

MORE JOBS, MORE JOBLESS—More Texans were at work and more out of work this May than a year ago, Texas Employment Commission reports.

Employment increased 3,200 over a year ago, but unemployment was up by 30,800, indicating job seekers are increasing 10 times faster than job openings.

Average weekly wage for Texas factory workers during May was $91.46, compared to the national average $92.66.

Be still, and know that I am God.—(Psalm 46:10)

These are days of uncertainty in our beloved land, of anxious questioning about our future. Frightening predictions are made on every hand, and the temptation is to lose faith and courage. We seek peace for our country and peace of mind and soul... Let us take a quiet moment to reflect: Do we love God? Do we trust in Him?

Usher: "How far down do you want to sit?"

Little Old Lady: "All the way, I'm very tired."

The horse player met a fellow gambler on the street and inquired about the latter's forlorn expression.

"I had a hundred bucks stashed away to play the ponies today," he explained, "but when I went to look for it, it was gone."

"Well, what happened to it?" asked the first sportsman.

"My wife found it and blew it all on groceries."

Several delegates from Friona's FFA Chapter are scheduled to leave early next week for the annual state FFA Convention, slated for July 19-20-21 at the Statler-Hilton Hotel in Dallas.

Four of Friona's delegates, Bobby Daniel, Donald Busby, Reggie Hays and Earl Crow, will be competing in the state FFA Talent Contest.

The four boys, who call themselves the Treble Teens, qualified for the state contest by winning district and regional competition earlier in the year.

Three members of the local chapter will be awarded their Lone Star Farmer degrees at the convention. Boys who have earned the degrees are Jerry Rankin, Floyd Reeve, and Craig Coon.

There will probably be some more delegates from Friona to attend the convention, says J.C. Lane, one of the ag instructors.

Among them will be Joe Reeve, president of the local chapter, who will accept a gold medal chapter emblem, which is presented only to outstanding FFA organizations in the state.

David McVey, who along with Lane is an advisor to the local chapter, will accompany the boys to Dallas.

The S.L. McLellans

Box 247, Friona, Texas
July 13, 1961

Dear Mr. & Mrs. Friona Postal Patron,

In stepping down as your local postmaster June 23, 1961, I would not want to miss this opportunity of expressing my profound appreciation to each and every person who has cooperated with me to make my stay in office a pleasant one and one filled with accomplishment. The strides that have been made at the Friona post office during the past seven years and eight months could not have been made without the wholehearted help of the public. For this I am very thankful.

As I leave this position of public trust, I wish to point out that the Friona post office was being operated, and very efficiently I have been told, on the same amount of hours that it was using in the year of 1949. During that year the receipts were only $9,734.00, which is less than 1/3 of the 1960 gross receipts, which were more than $32,000.00.

I have conscientiously tried to give the most service and accommodations possible at the greatest economy to the Post Office Department and to the taxpayers. I do not believe in the needless use and waste of man hours as we are seeing enough of that at our missile bases and defense plants. At our present rate we will prove Mr. K. wrong when he said, "America, we will bury you." For we will bury ourselves under a mountain of wasted and very precious man hours. In other words, government debt. For we are now surely in one of the greatest wars that we have ever fought, and I only hope it is not later than we think.

I think that you would be interested in knowing how your tax dollars were spent in the Friona post office during the year of 1960. Postmaster, base pay $5,965.00; Mrs. Bill Flippin, base pay $5,505.00; Mrs. John Burrow, base pay $2.68 per hour, gross pay $5,731.00; Mrs. Ann Houlette, gross pay $1,438.00; Joe McLellan $1,364.00; Mrs. Laura Hart $213.00; custodian $520.00; making a total for salaries of $20,736.00. I think that the first three named jobs are at the top on an average of the jobs in Friona and that you are entitled to the best of service and accommodations.

The carriers and mail messenger are not considered a cost of the operations of the post office as they are contract jobs for hauling the mails. They are as follows: Route 1, $7,204.00; Route 2, $5,412.00; Route 3, $7,230.00 and the mail messenger $1,605.00; making a total of $21,451.00 for hauling the mails to and from the Friona Post Office.

I trust that the above information will help you in forming a better judgment of how your dollars are spent and what you want in the future.

Again, thanks for everything, friends,

Sincerely,
Leo M. McLellan
Former acting postmaster

Rain Postpones Baseball Action

Rain interfered with better than half of the Little League and Babe Ruth League baseball games last week, but that didn't stop Brookfield Drilling from regaining the lead intermediate action.

The Brookfield team hammered Star-Hurt, 11-1, last Thursday night and now needs only to win its final game to sew up the championship.

Friona State Bank, which had been in a tie with Brookfield after last week's games, lost to McCaslin Lumber, 5-2, and fell one game off the pace. The Bank also has just one game to go.

A loss for Brookfield, when they play Associated Growers next Thursday, and a win for the bank team, which plays Reeve Chevrolet, next Friday would put the two teams into a tie with 7-3 records and necessitate a playoff.

Also still in the running for a share of the crown is Associated Growers, who defeated Reeve Chevrolet, 13-7, in the only other intermediate game played last week.

All of the remaining games involving the three teams still in the running had been scheduled this past week, but were postponed because of the rain.

Only one Pee Wee game was played last week, that being Thursday night when Ethridge-Spring defeated Rockwell Bros., 11-6.

Four of the five Pee Wee teams have three games remaining, and the championship is still up for grabs, with four of the teams having a mathematical chance for the title.

Friona Motors still leads the league with a 4-1 record, Parmer County Pump is in second place at 3-2, Ethridge-Spring is 3-3, and Co-Op is 2-3. Rockwell Bros., the only team out of the running, is in the cellar with a 1-4 record.

The remaining Pee Wee games are as follows: Thursday, July 13--Co-op vs. Ethridge Spring, and Friona Motors vs. Rockwell Bros.

Friday, July 14--Co-op vs. Parmer Co. Pump and Ethridge-Spring vs. Friona Motors.

Monday, July 17--Co-op vs. Rockwell Bros.

Tuesday, July 18--Friona Motors vs. Parmer Co. Pump.

Friday, July 21--Rockwell Bros. vs. Parmer Co. Pump.

Following rites held in Dalhart Thursday morning, funeral services for Mr. Camp were conducted Thursday, July 6, at 3 p. m. in the Friona Methodist Church. Rev. Hurshell Thurston, pastor of the Hereford Methodist Church, officiated.

Rev. Phillips Returns From Council Meet

Rev. Hudson Phillips, pastor of the Friona Congregational Christian Church, recently returned from a general church council meeting in Philadelphia.

The purpose of the general council meeting, which took place in the Stratford Hotel in Philadelphia from June 29 to July 2, was to make plans for the formation of the United Church of Christ, Phillips says. The new denomination, a union of the Congregational Christian Churches and the Evangelical and Reformed Church, was formally established on July 4, two days after the council meeting. During his trip, Phillips also visited with friends in Buffalo and Rochester, New York. He left on June 24 and returned to Friona on July 8.

"Quality you can measure by your car's performance."

In 1960, there were ninety days on which nobody died in Texas traffic, the largest number of "Deathless Days" in any single year since 1945. In 1959, there was only one "Deathless Day."

In January, 1960, 144 persons died in Texas traffic, the lowest number for any single month since February, 1950, when 140 traffic deaths were recorded.

Greatest reduction in traffic deaths in 1960 took place on highways and roads outside of Texas cities, under direct supervision of the Texas Highway Patrol. The reduction was 13 per cent over 1959.

Something To Think About

6th. Street Church of Christ
Box 515 -- Friona, Texas

Quite often we find people who are disturbed as to the source of the Bible. Where did we get it? Who wrote it? There are several worthwhile considerations associated with an answer to these questions. The devil did not write the Bible because he is condemned by its teachings, and exposed by its doctrine. Sinful men did not write the Bible because the things that they enjoy the most, are denounced and forbidden by the Bible. None of the modern denominations gave us the Bible because the only justification for denominationalism, disrespect for God's law, is expressly condemned by the Bible. The Romish hierarchy did not give us the Bible because the Bible condemns all of her favorite dogmas and practices. If not one of these, then who did give us the Bible? Let it speak for itself; "All scripture is given BY THE INSPIRATION OF GOD, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction, in righteousness; that the man of God may be perfect, thoroughly furnished unto all good works." (2 Timothy 3:16) The answer is very evident, God is the author of the Bible. Not only is he the author, he is its source of inspiration. The plea of the New Testament church is that all men accept the Bible as the Will of God, respect its authority, and conform to its directives.

come to church sunday

This is vacation time, a time to get away from it all -- a time to go on a long trip, and a time when we usually come home worn out and no more rested than when we first left on the trip. Here are a few rules that will help us to enjoy any trip and make it as restful as possible.

1. Attend Sunday School and Church wherever you are; at home, among friends or relatives or away;
2. If you "must" travel on Sunday, don't ever drive during service but stop in some town and attend Church.
3. Seek opportunities to witness to others about your wonderful Christ.
4. Tell others about the GOOD things of your own Church.
5. When visiting friends or relatives, be a spiritual blessing to them.

Friona Ball Team All-Stars To Meet Hereford Friday

A select group of boys from Friona's Babe Ruth League are scheduled to take on the Hereford Pony League All-Stars Friday at 8 p.m. in Hereford. The game will be played at the Pony League field in Veterans' Park southeast of Hereford. In selecting Friona's players, promoters of the game tried to pick outstanding boys from the four local teams who make up the Babe Ruth League. It is possible that some boys who should be on the team were overlooked, since they were not selected by a vote of the coaches, it has been pointed out.

---A SIMPLE SMILE---
I'd rather be a stepping-stone than to be a stumbling-block. I'd rather be a ray of sunshine than to possess hi-priced stock. To aid one 'who's down and out' makes life well-worth while. So I'll continue on my way. Greet the world with a smile. Sometimes a smile is hard to give. 'Twould be much easier to frown. But looking a-head with hope keeps me from falling down. Paths to tread, bridges to cross. Many a long and treacherous mile. But somewhere along life's way. Boosted I am from 'A Simple Smile'...

MRS. TROY WAYNE BOYKIN

Patricia Ann Love And Troy Wayne Boykin Wed

Miss Patricia Ann Love, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Love of Cee Vee, and Troy Wayne Boykin, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Boykin of Tell, exchanged wedding vows Friday evening, June 30, in the Cee Vee Methodist Church.

Rev. Calvin Nevils, minister of Tell Baptist Church, performed the double ring ceremony before a white arch decorated with emerald and orchid staccato centered with a white bow, baskets of gladioli, white pom poms and four branch candelabra. Aisles were decorated with satin bows and orchid staccato.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length dress of white silk organza over taffeta designed by her mother. The dress featured a sweetheart neckline, fitted bodice, short sleeves and a bouffant sweeping skirt with a silk organza bow in back and lace cutouts trimming the front panel. She wore elbow length mitts of silk organza, embroidered with pearls and sequins and fastened at the wrist with tiny buttons. Her veil of silk tulle fell from a tiara of pearls and sequins and she carried a bouquet of white fringed carnations centered with a white orchid and fluer-de-amour and white satin streamers.

Miss Carol Sandefur, pianist, played traditional wedding music and accompanied Miss Janice Black as she sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly." Mrs. John Browning of Tell was her sister's matron of honor and she wore a street length dress of orchid cotton satin with a matching head piece. Her bouquet was white carnations centered with orchid asters.

Miss Tinkey McKenzie of Levelland and Mrs. Arthur Smith, Denton, were bridesmaids. Their dresses were fashioned identical to that of the matron of honor.

Candle lighters were Larry and Julia Ann Browning of Tell, niece and nephew of the bride.

W. J. Boykin, brother of the groom, served as best man and Bill Murray and Joe Thomas of Childress were groomsmen. For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Love chose a mauve dress of lace over taffeta and Mrs. Boykin wore a beige lace dress. Their corsages were white carnations.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents following the ceremony. Guests were registered by Mrs. W. J. Boykin.

A white cut work cloth covered the bridal table that was decorated with orchid and white carnations. The tiered wedding cake was served by Mrs. Donald Love and Miss Brenda Boykin presided at the punch bowl. Other members of the house party were Mesdames Dudley Chewning, Donald Monson, Jack Isbell, Lock Seal and Bill Hoffman.

"Amelia Remembers"

By Mrs. Hudson B. Phillips (Editor's Note: Mrs. Charles Schlenker, resident of the Friona area for the past 51 years, celebrated her 95th birthday on Wednesday, June 28. The following poem, titled "Amelia Remembers," was written by Mrs. Hudson B. Phillips, mother of Friona Congregational Church pastor Hudson Phillips, and friend of Mrs. Schlenker. We enjoyed reading it and think our readers will to.

staked out his claim,
Dug for water, and planted the seeds
And then sent for me and all nine of my brood
Sending a list of my needs,

I took out my luggage and started to pack
To pick and to choose what I'd take
"This--not this" I would murmur aloud
"Seems about all I'll need is a rake."

Well the day finally dawned
When I must depart
And bid my dear friends sad adieu
"This is the end," they said thru their tears
Of Amelia and her children, too.

Then, the nine little children were lifted aboard,
The train whistle blew a good-bye
And waving and throwing our kisses to all
It was "Texas to do or to die."

And so for these fifty-four years we have lived
Our lives on the Great Texas Plains
With two more babies to add to our brood
And far fewer losses than gains.

"Would you do it again?" "Were you sorry?" you ask,
I knew not one day of regret
The land has been good, and my friends have been kind
And memories crowd me, they live with me yet.

I like to remember what Charles said to me
Some fifty-one years ago.
"We're going to Texas my darling," said he,
"And I thought you ought to know"

"Texas, Texas, is that a State?" I asked him in great surprise,
"Or a desert where cowboys and Indians meet
And many a brave man dies?"

"Amelia," he said, "There is land to be had Stretching farther than eye can see,
Where wheat and corn will cover the plains
And we'll be rich as can be."

"Well, when do we start?" I bravely asked
For I knew there was naught I could do
But follow my man to the ends of the earth,
As I promised when I said "I do."

What's the Difference?

They Look Alike

WHETHER it's girls or cigars, you can't be sure about their quality by appearance alone. Some that look very much alike may turn out altogether different in performance. Fortunately, at least insofar as cigars and most other items of an inanimate nature are concerned... we can determine quality in most cases before we buy.

By reliance on advertised and jealously guarded Brand Names, we can buy with confidence. A particular brand of shirt, for example, bought in the city is identical with the same brand and model of shirt we buy at home.

There is, however, one significant difference in a particular brand of shirt bought from a merchant neighbor, and the same shirt bought in some other city... a difference which lies in the fact that here the transaction is much more than a simple exchange of money for goods; it is also part of the system that supports our own individual social and economic interests.

Because, every single dollar we spend at home makes a little more secure our own jobs or businesses; and every dollar we spend elsewhere makes these a little less secure.

Prospect "Best Ever" As Cantaloupe Harvest Nears

"Prospects are the best they've ever been," says Charlie Flynn of Gateway Produce Company, as harvest nears for an 800-acre cantaloupe crop in the Bovina area. The melons are all looking good, there has not yet been any hail damage, and the market trend since the first of the year has been encouraging. These are the three reasons Flynn and Mario Trevino, office manager for Gateway, gave for the unusually bright picture.

Flynn and Pat McGee, field man for Gateway, were out checking over the cantaloupe fields Saturday morning and reported that some of the first melons should be ready for harvest around August 1.

"We'll probably start somewhere between August 1 and 5, and be rolling good by the 15th," Flynn says.

There are 16 farmers growing cantaloupes for Gateway this year and the 800 acres is about 40 per cent more than was harvested last year. There were 600 acres last year, but about 150 were lost to hail.

Fortunately there has been no hail damage this year, and the danger point is past, Trevino, the office manager, points out. "It has been our experience during the three years we've operated in Bovina, that all the acres not lost to hail by July 1 will be harvested," he says.

Facilities for handling cantaloupes at Gateway's packing shed are being doubled, and when harvest swings into full force workers will be able to turn out 1,000 crates per hour, or from 7,000 to 10,000 crates per day, Trevino says.

In all, Gateway expects to employ about 100 persons during the harvest, which will probably last about 2 1/2 months.

Market price for cantaloupes on June 1 was between $5 and $6 per crate, the highest it had ever been at that time of year, according to Trevino. This unusually high market price is something that has been in existence since January, when Gateway started harvesting and packing cantaloupes grown in Mexico.

Besides the cantaloupes, Gateway has also contracted about 300 acres of mixed vegetables with several Bovina farmers.

Mixed vegetables acreage includes 130 acres of tomatoes, and 60 acres each of peppers, cabbage and cucumbers. Some of the early cucumbers should be ready for harvest around July 25, Trevino says.

As the other vegetables become ready for harvest in August and September, they will be packed simultaneously with the cantaloupes at the Gateway shed.

Of the 16 farmers who are growing cantaloupes and the small acreage of mixed vegetables for Gateway this year, five are new ones. The new growers are Ray Carter, John Horn, Billie Mayfield, Earl Riley and Charles Trimble.

Old growers are James Boardman, Tom Caldwell, Mark Charles, Wendol Christian, COMING ALONG FINE is this field of cantaloupes on the Bob Wilson farm near Bovina. Checking the progress of the melon crop are Charlie Flynn, right, owner of Gateway Produce Company in Bovina, and Pat McGee, Gateway's field man. This field should be ready for harvest around August 1.

CUCUMBERS GALORE are what these fellows hope will be harvested from this 22-acre patch which should be ready around July 25. This field, on the John Lorenz farm west of Bovina, is part of 300 acres of mixed vegetables that are being grown in the Bovina area this year. In the picture are Lorenz, left, Pat McGee and Charlie Flynn of Gateway Produce Company.

HD Agent's Notes

BY MISS ETTIE MUSIL

Everyone needs a vacation. Nothing like a change off from the sameness of routine. Eventually sameness lowers your efficiency and morale. A change in environment and activities, for both, can put new spark and enjoyment into everyday living.

Just a day or two can do wonders for a morale booster. However, money is not the most important requirement for a successful vacation. Inexpensive entertainment can be arranged by careful planning. Many times vacations are ruined by fatigue from trying to do too much or financial worry from over-spending. Look around for museums, parks, or camping areas that could offer a truly relaxing vacation. How about reading the magazines and books you've put aside because you didn't have the time to read earlier. There are sports of all kinds that the whole family could enjoy together. Your favorite hobby or perhaps a chance for some special grooming are suggestions that will give you a lift.

I once read that you should plan a vacation of doing something you don't do everyday. For instance, if you travel much, choose a vacation of staying close to home. If you are around many people everyday, choose a few quiet days. This opposite could, also, apply. Whatever your vacation activities, keep a look-out for possible hazards that may cause injury or tragedy.

Whether camping out or eating out in restaurants on your vacation keep your family well-fed. This may be your biggest vacation problem. Select a safe, sanitary restaurant. A good rule could be to watch where local people eat or follow the recommendation of travel authorities. Notice the car license tags for local people. Eating places within a large city usually are under strict sanitary control than those outside city limits.

Drink only pasteurized milk. Avoid creamed foods such as potato salad, custard or cream pie desserts. These may be your favorite foods, but dangers of food poisoning are greatest in these foods.

Include lots of fruit, vegetables, meat, eggs and milk in your diet. Try to avoid fat or fried foods, and sweets, such as too many soft drinks, candy, cookies and ice cream. These foods may not be harmful at home in moderation, but it's easy to eat too many on a trip. They may cause you to omit other necessary foods. Eating well-balanced meals will do more than anything else to prevent car sickness and constipation -- two common problems of travelers.

John Gammon, of the Lazbuddie community, recently entered into the Great Plains Conservation Program. Gammon started his contract by installing 4450 feet of irrigation pipeline on which 50% of the cost was shared by the Great Plains program.

He is now in the process of sprigging Midland bermuda grass on approximately 20 acres. He also has plans for several acres of pasture to provide winter grazing.

Gammon first established graded borders and then listed these borders so that he could control the irrigation more efficiently. The Great Plains program paid 80% of the cost of his seedbed preparation, the cost of the seeds or sprigs and also 80% of the seeding operation.

He is also planning a pond for livestock water, to rework a pond that is already on the place and to establish some wildlife areas.

Gammon has agreed to properly use his rangeland and pastureland for the term of his contract.

For more information on the Great Plains program, contact the Soil Conservation Service in Friona.

Major equipment companies, state universities and USDA researchers haven't overlooked ole' bossy either. Up to now, two manufacturers have produced working machines for making hay wafers and many others have experimental models, reports Farm Quarterly magazine, of Cincinnati.

Hay wafers are designed for much the same purpose as the compact meals and rations. They're as nourishing as loose hay, easier to handle than hay -- either loose or baled -- and best yet, animals like it. Cattle, sheep, hogs, even burros, treat the bite-size wafer like candy.

The hay wafer is made by forcing forage through a die-like a sausage machine. The general difference between a wafer and a pellet is that the pellet is denser, requiring more power to form; is usually bonded with another feed or molasses, or stem; and the hay in a pellet is usually ground. Because of this, pelleting is generally a stationary job.

Not so with field wafering. One company is now offering a working field wafer to selected farmers on a semi-experimental basis and another machine made by a group of farmers, engineers and an equipment dealer, in an unassuming workshop in Woodland, California, is no longer labelled

Hay Wafers Better For Storing And Feeding

Ready-prepared-frozen dinners and K-rations are on occasion accepted bills of fare. While some may think them none too palatable, it can't be denied they are quick, easy and nourishing.

Major equipment companies, state universities and USDA researchers haven't overlooked ole' bossy either. Up to now, two manufacturers have produced working machines for making hay wafers and many others have experimental models, reports Farm Quarterly magazine, of Cincinnati.

Hay wafers are designed for much the same purpose as the compact meals and rations. They're as nourishing as loose hay, easier to handle than hay -- either loose or baled -- and best yet, animals like it. Cattle, sheep, hogs, even burros, treat the bite-size wafer like candy.

run. Right now, it doesn't, as the wafers take almost twice as long to unload as a comparable load of bales to go into the same barn. But, the trucker can cut down on labor with the wafers for there's no manhandling.

The shape of the wafers seems to be important in handling. Smaller wafers appear to be the answer, either square or round, but not flat. Smaller wafers will pack better, too, meaning more tons in a given amount of storage.

There's no doubt that livestock prefer wafers to bales, chopped or loose hay. From the farmer's viewpoint, wafers are an advantage because they store easier, can be handled completely mechanically and fed mechanically. Farmers who have tried them take them at considerable cost rather than returning to older methods.

There are two machines that make good wafers. One may be generally available in 1962.

For the nation as a whole, eggs sold per farm increased 94 per cent from 1954-59, but for the South Central States, including Texas, it increased by 300 per cent. John McHaney, extension economist, says egg production in this region is becoming highly commercialized and that the trend indicates that Texas producers will have to increase the size of their operations to remain competitive. They must also strive for greater efficiency in production, he said.

Weather Halts Spud Harvest

General rains throughout the area during the past week halted operations at Parmer County's two potato sheds, even before the harvest got well underway.

Digging in the Friona area got underway last Monday, July 3, but few potatoes were harvested and shipped off to market before week end rains stymied operations.

The harvest was scheduled to get underway in the Lariat area Monday morning, but the week end rains delayed operations and it will probably be late this week before any potatoes are dug, and that will depend on the weather.

Buck Gregory, whose 200-acre field of potatoes was lashed by hail earlier in the year, reports that the vines did come back "better than I expected" from the hail, but he wasn't anticipating too good a yield. Since no digging had yet been done, it was not possible to estimate what the yields and quality of the potatoes would be.

Kenneth Neill, of Friona Growers and Shippers, said that the harvest moved at a slow pace all last week, and he didn't paint too bright a picture of the harvest to date.

The early potatoes didn't look too good, he said, and the market price averaged around $2.50 per sack.

Cool Colorado wasn't so cool the past three weeks, but it was certainly colorful. The way crops grew while I was gone and from what people tell me, it must not have been so cool here either. At any rate it is good to be back and to find crops off to such a good start.

With the best wheat crop in history behind us we can now begin to make plans for an even better crop next year. It is hard to believe we can do better, but following the crop in 1959 we felt the same way and of course we beat the 59 crop in 1960 and the 60 crop this year.

While making plans for the 1962 crop, here are a few things you should keep in mind. 1. The soil test can be used to an advantage in helping determine your fertilizer needs. 2. Where phosphate is needed it should all be banded in the fall before the wheat is seeded or at the time wheat is being seeded. 3. The application of two-thirds of your nitrogen in the fall followed by the other one-third in February is a very good program to follow.

Walter Kaltwasser was just in to give me his results with different sources of phosphate on wheat, as well as the results where no phosphate was applied. I plan to publish these results soon, but would like to get reports from other demonstrators so they can all be published at the same time.

As a whole this year's cotton crop is off to the best start in years. The threat of damage from thrip should be passed and our chief concern now for a few days will be fleahoppers and bollworms. Then, of course, the time will pass when the fleahopper can damage and we will be concerned chiefly with the cotton bollworm. You must remember that the only way to detect damage from these two insects is to examine the plant terminals very closely three or four times a week.

The fleahopper stings the small match-head size squares causing them to drop off. The squares cannot be seen riding by in your pickup, so you must examine the plants and look for the insect, and how well the cotton plant is setting fruit. The cotton bollworm feeds on all size squares and bolls until maturity, so we cannot forget this pest until the crop is mature. The mistake many of you make is that you don't find worms in the terminals while they are still small. There are two reasons for finding the small worms. If found when small you can poison and kill them. Killing them at this very young age, they have time to do little damage. By the time bollworms are large they have destroyed a lot of cotton and of course it is next to impossible to kill large bollworms.

If you are planning to side-opposed and passed, 3. The more pertinent of these are discussed in the July issue of the TEXAS BUSINESS REVIEW.

The special session, which convenes for thirty days on July 10, could well result in the passage of legislation crucial to the interest of the state's agricultural constituency. Attempts will undoubtedly be made to reduce the funds available for farm-to-market road programs. The dependence of farmers and ranchers upon these facilities is considerable and an intensified effort will attempt to deter any diversion of such funds.

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

BY RAYMOND EULER

July 23 to 29 is National Farm Safety Week. It may seem to some that such an observance serves no useful purpose. It seems, however, that emphasis on such subjects may have a good educational effect on most of us and make us more alert as we go about our work.

So many farm accidents seem to be, and, in fact are unnecessary. The important point is that everyone be extra careful at all times, forseeing the injury that could occur because of carelessness.

It appears that the Agricultural Act of 1961, the Omnibus Farm Bill, has been defeated in Washington. Credit for stopping this disastrous proposed legislation goes to many individual farmers and ranchers who took the lead in educating their congressmen and senators in Washington. Farm Bureau has testified against the bill and tried to get the facts to members and all other farmers and ranchers throughout the hearings.

It is not to be expected that this will be the end of radical socialist efforts by supporters of the now dead omnibus bill. It is important that farmers and ranchers stay alert to further efforts in this direction. Farm Bureau will, of course, be watching those efforts and at the same time be promoting the Farm Bureau sponsored Cropland Adjustment Program.

We think it is exceptionally good news that the A.F.L. and C.I.O. has officially dropped its program to organize agricultural workers in California. We think, and others have stated that they believe that California Farm Bureau was largely responsible for the opposition that caused labor leaders to drop their program for the present. It cost the union $500,000 to enroll only 3,500 farm workers from a potential of 250,000 during the two and one half year drive.

It is important that we remember that they may begin similar operations in another area where the opposition may not be so alert. We believe, however, that this California deal has alerted all state Farm Bureaus to the extent that they will be able to cope with any future ones of a similar nature.

If you haven't paid your dues in the last year, do it now. We just have eleven more members than we had last year at this time.

Consider this: "Rejoice not when thine enemy falleth, and let not thine heart be glad when he stumbleth: Lest the Lord see it, and it displease him, and he turn away his wrath from him." Proverbs 24: 17-18

SACKS OF ONIONS⁸ harvested from a 25-acre field on the John Renner farm southeast of Friona last week, were still there this week because of the rain. The harvest started last week, but only a few loads had been hauled off to market when the rains came over the weekend. As the onions are dug, they are sacked up and left in the field for about three days to dry and mature. Even though the harvesting and marketing of the crop has been delayed, the yields and quality of the onions are good and the market price is the best in several years.

Onion Crop Appears Good

There aren't too many acres of onions in the Friona area this year, but the small crop does appear to be about the best it has been in several years.

That was the story this week from one of the onion growers, John Renner, who has 25 acres on his farm southeast of Friona.

Renner started harvesting his onion crop last week and reported a "fairly good" yield of about 400 sacks per acre. The yield is about average, Renner said, but the $2.50 to $2.75 market price is the best it has been in better than four years.

Only a few loads of the onions were hauled off to market last week before the rains came, and most of the onions were still standing in the field early this week.

Renner said Tuesday that he hoped it would be dry enough by Wednesday or Thursday to return to the field and haul the onions to market.

Besides Renner, other farmers in the Friona area who have small acreage of onions are Clyde Weatherly, Preach Edelman, Hardy May and Lee Renner. In all, there are about 90 acres of onions being grown by the six farmers.

My Son's New Shoes Are Size One And His Old Ones Are Thirteens. Can He Wear The Old Shoes For A While To Play In ?

It would be safer to shine up his old shoes for Sunday and let him wear the roomier new shoes for school and play. Parental pride tells us that children must look their best when we take them to church but hurt pride heals quickly. Deformed bones are extremely difficult to straighten and that is an understatement if there ever was one.

Farmers Now Watch Austin As Well As Washington

The time has passed when a farmer or rancher could remain oblivious to the activities of the State Legislature, according to James D. Gordon, Research Assistant of the Bureau of Business Research at The University of Texas. First, legislation pertaining to agriculture is progressively assuming a greater scope so that at present virtually no participant in agriculture -- owner, laborer, or marketer -- is exempt from the decisions made at the Capitol, says Gordon in an advance release from the forthcoming TEXAS BUSINESS REVIEW.

Second is the inevitable fact that rural representation in the legislature has not maintained its former predominance. This is a natural reflection of the continuing urbanization of Texas and the consequences thereof. A manifestation of the diminishing rural population was the enactment during the last session of House Bill 349 which reapportioned the State into representative districts.

The advocates of this measure testified that urban representation in the House has consistently lagged behind its proportional share. The amended bill provided Harris County four new representatives, Dallas two, one each for Travis, El Paso, Taylor, Lubbock and Amarillo, and one-half each of Nueces, Hidalgo, Ector, and Midland counties. The net effect was the transfer of 13 House votes from rural to urban areas. This adjustment constitutes a substantial loss, taking from primarily pro-agricultural forces while supplementing its opposition.

As a consequence of these two transitions, farmers and ranchers may no longer rest assured that their interests will necessarily be perpetuated by the state legislature. Though it would be inaccurate to surmise that adequate support in the House has been lost, the future will present an abundance of previously unencountered obstacles insofar as the promotion of farm interests is concerned.

Though agricultural representation seems somewhat more secure in the Senate, it is the consensus of most farm proponents that even in this rural stronghold intensified defensive efforts will be required in the following sessions. Emphasis is turning toward the obstruction of legislation contrary to agricultural interests rather than toward initiation or support of favorable enactments.

In the face of the foregoing, agriculture fared surprisingly well with regard to the results of the stormy 57th session concluded May 29. It was by no means a clean sweep, but farm forces exemplified their persistence and tenacity in several crucial showdowns, even in opposition to the Governor.

The Texas Farm Bureau, the state's most active agricultural lobby, assessed its achievements as follows: bills supported and passed, 20; bills opposed and defeated, 20; bills supported and defeated, 17; bills

WITH JUNE

Visitors in Friona early this week included Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Solomon of Shamrock. The Solomons own land in the Rhea community and a few years ago farmed it "long distance." At that time they generally spent several weeks during the summer on the farm and are quite well known in that community. It is always a pleasure to see and visit with this wonderful couple. Mr. Solomon stopped in the Star office to check on his subscription and expressed his appreciation of our Fourth of July edition.

Merchants who sponsor the regular 12:25 Friona newscast, which is presented through facilities of Friona Clearview each day, are glad to know that some listeners are taking advantage of this program to advertise various meetings which are of interest to the general public.

This part of the program has been planned especially for the benefit of persons desiring to call attention to community wide meetings. Persons wanting to take advantage of this service are asked to call 2291 or 4811 before noon each day.

Everyone who attended the Little League Mother's game last summer will not want to miss this year's game. Plans are being made for it and every mother who has a Little Leaguer is asked by members of the planning committee to attend a meeting at the ball park at 5 p.m. Monday.

Anyone who desires to participate but will not be able to attend the meeting is asked to contact Mrs. Bill Wooley or Mrs. James Procter.

Wheat, cotton and maize farmers are all happy over the amounts of rain we have been receiving the past few days. Haven't heard any vegetable farmers complaining, but feel sure those who have potatoes and onions ready to harvest would appreciate some sunshine.

It always seems that weeds grow faster than anything when it rains a lot. Several farmers have been heard to make a remark similar to this, "I'm sure letting the weeds get ahead of me."

Wish some expert on the subject of snakes would clue me in as to why there are so many this year. We average seeing two or three small grass snakes around the yard daily. Even though I'm not really afraid of harmless snakes, I am always startled when I see one sliding through the grass.

Several young ladies from Friona are all excited over late summer wedding plans of Charlotte Bock, a former Frionan who now lives at Dimmett. Charlotte is being married late in August to Hal Ratliff of Dimmitt. She is a 1960 graduate of Friona High School and attended Texas Tech last year.

For the past several years, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Elmore, long-time Friona residents, have made extended trips to various sections of the country in an effort to find a place where weather conditions were to their liking.

Latest report I had on the Elmore's was that they were making plans to move to Arizona in the near future. The ability of some persons to adapt themselves to new surroundings in their later years is an admirable one that a lot of us may never develop.

Tentative plans have been made for opening school August 28 this year. That means that new teachers will be moving to Friona a little bit earlier than usual. Anyone having housing facilities of any kind for new teachers is asked to contact Superintendent Alton Farr.

Past Matron's Club Has Regular Meeting

The home of Miss Faye Southward was the scene of a regular meeting of the Kinsley Past Matron's Club Friday, July 7, at 3 p.m.

Mrs. Ed Boggess presented the devotional taken from Galations Chapter 1, verses 9 through 17.

Miss Southward served homemade ice cream, cake and fruit punch to Mesdames Pearl Kinsley, Boggess, Bert Chitwood, Len Miller, Claude Miller, Charles Russell and R.W. Ginsburg.

Mayor and Mrs. Raymond Fleming were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Reeve of Amarillo Sunday. Mrs. Reeve is the daughter of the Flemings.
