T&SRA Moves To Stamp Out Sheep Scabies in State At Coleman Meet Saturday

Coleman, Sept. 16 — The Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association moved to take a direct hand in stamping out sheep scabies in Texas at their quarterly directors' meeting here last week end. The association president, Jake Mayfield of Juno, stated that the scab problem was the most serious immediate problem facing the sheep industry in the state.

A committee is to be appointed to meet with the Livestock Sanitary Commission of Texas and work with them to formulate an aggressive program for eradication of scabies.

Livestock theft also came in for considerable discussion. The livestock theft committee urged all growers to brand and mark their sheep in every practical way that would positively identify them. Juries in theft trials must have absolute proof, it was pointed out.

The directors deplored the use of suspended sentences. They asked that judges and prosecutors use such sentences sparingly.

They also recommended that the association develop a plan for brand inspection at all stockyards where sheep are traded in quantities, and that suitable records be kept that will aid in identifying and tracing stolen animals. This would be done in cooperation with the Texas & Southwestern Cattle Raisers' Association.

The sheep scab situation within the borders of the state is not so bad as it was a year ago, but it has brought serious repercussions from other states. Outbreaks of scab in other states have been blamed on Texas sheep. That has resulted in strict rulings regarding importation of Texas sheep, and even in an absolute ban on their movement into Arizona.

Ray W. Willoughby of San Angelo, a member of the Texas Livestock Sanitary Commission and president of the T&SRA, said the known scab cases in Texas are now confined to only nine flocks. All but four of these flocks have been dipped twice, and the four are now being dipped.

Willoughby said that some regulation and control of livestock auction sales and full cooperation by ranchmen will be necessary in fighting the infestation. A shortage of funds is hampering the effort.

He declared that when auction companies are regulated under the Packers & Stockyards Act, as central markets are, much of the scab trouble will be eliminated.

According to Coach M. B. England the Eagles were kept from 2 more possible scores by penalties which set the Eagles back with extra yardage to go for a first down.

At the Schools

Forty students are enrolled in the beginners' band under Loyse Jacob, band instructor for the local school. Future material for the senior band will come from this group. There are eight students in the Junior band.

Despite the loss of several band members who graduated last spring there are now twenty-two members in the band and they will make their first public appearance of the current school year at the football game Friday night. Twelve boys of the football team are also members of the band.

Supt. Bader attended a meeting of school superintendents of this district in Alpine Tuesday and the group voted to not have girls basketball in the Interscholastic League events or district competition.

Feed pens and sheds are being built by members of the vocational agriculture class of the Sanderson High School to take care of the lambs and bucks which the boys are to use in that project this year. The pens are being built just north of the football field.

R. M. Turner is teacher of the course and he is being assisted by C. C. Mitchell in laying out plans for the pens. Mr. Mitchell is also assisting by furnishing labor and some material for the job.

LISTEN TO LUKE

When the Latin-Americans celebrate dies y seis in America we are only of their loyalty to the country of the independence of their fatherland. That is well and good up to a certain point. Since we are Irishmen in the United States who religiously celebrate Patrick's Day and others who celebrate certain days that are sacred to their hearts, so should the Latin-Americans of Mexican descent.

In the present day system of education it is about time we put stress on hyphenated Americanism and all work as Americans. Those who celebrate dies y seis do not know what the Fourth of July is for — and they were born raised in America. There was never here once who was anxious to learn some Spanish words that he could better make his own. Our schools are here for the purpose of teaching those who are to be better Americans. It is intended that they should grow up many generations in this country trying to hold on to a language that is foreign to this country.

Many families of Mexican extraction make no effort to teach their children the English language and let them start to school unprepared and behind the American children. The language handicap makes for slow advancement. That is an injustice to children who are by birth Americans and who want and expect American privileges.

This column recently urged against the unsightly condition of city's dump ground. The unhygienic disposal of trash and rubbish is a breeding ground for vermin and is an unwholesome sight for motorists as they enter or leave town.

Suggestions were made for construction as to means of dragging ground and seeing that all the trash is dumped in a pit where it can be sprayed and burned or buried.

The commissioner of this precinct informs this column that there are no funds available for work at the dump ground. We do not know where the funds are but we know it can be done.

It takes more taxes than let's say the amount raised to take care of this column has suggested a public subscription might be enough to do this job. After all, it is not so difficult to think it over that it is impractical. A few would bear the burden of the load and others sit idly by and ride. Let's make our taxes do the work.

This week sees more and more Terrell County's young men go to the service of our country. We are now beginning to realize that we are at war. The time has come when all of us must get in line to help win another war.

We continually trying to keep a world safe place for ourselves. It takes all we have to have to do the job but we must do it. There are blundering bunglers rampant in this country but they cannot be in power and endanger the lives of our young men as well as safety of our civilization.

We go on we will replace who are not qualified and find someone to take their place.

While riding on the sidewalks Sanderson has again become a hazard and to our old-timers have to hobble along as they can on foot.

Years ago racing on the streets was so common that it was considered safe to walk on them. This column threatened to move to get citizens to themselves with broomsticks through the wheels of any bicycle that passed. Now the problem is getting worse and something is done to stop it. It will be someone hurt. It is daily dangerous in front of stores and other public places where people are coming and going constantly.

groups to consider include the following items:

1. To determine the best and most practical steps necessary to accomplish the eradication of scab.
 2. To recommend such revisions from top to bottom of the personnel employed by the commission as are necessary to develop and maintain an active and efficient organization capable of eliminating scabies from the state.
 3. To call on the governor and enlist his aid.
 4. To ask the budget committee of the legislature for additional appropriations for this work.
 5. To seek the help of county commissioners' courts in furnishing additional inspectors and equipment.
 6. To demand the cooperation of auction rings in taking necessary precautions to prevent the spread of scabies, and if necessary, to seek legislation compelling it.
 7. To formulate and publicize an educational program to be carried to all sheep raisers and handlers throughout the state, setting forth precautionary steps that must be taken.
 8. To express to the Department of Public Safety appreciation to the aid already given by its men in inspecting trucks hauling sheep throughout the state and ask their continued cooperation.
 9. That the president be authorized to expend such funds of the association as he deems necessary to carry out this program.
- The directors opined the importation of black bears to the Big Bend Park. That would add another predator to the already-growing list of such animals coming out of the park and preying on livestock in adjacent areas, they charged.
- Noting an increase in predatory animals in some West Texas areas, they asked that more hunters be brought into such areas. They also observed that a lack of market for fur has discouraged hunters and trappers from killing small mammals, such as fox, coon, and that these animals are destroying young turkey, quail and other small game. The directors recommended that the game department work out some program to kill the varmints before the small game is all gone.

Mayfield appointed a four-man migratory ranch labor committee to make recommendations to any officials involved in solution of the alien labor situation. On the committee are Vic Pierce of Ozona, chairman, Roger Gillis of Del Rio, Charles Canon of San Angelo and Duke Bryson of Uvalde.

Because of the lack of an official grading system on goats and goat meat, directors authorized appointment of a committee to study the formulation of such a system. It was pointed out that in event of price control and rationing, goats would surely be affected.

Lack of a grading system and lack of knowledge of the goat industry by government officials would likely result in harm to the industry in such a case, the group reasoned.

Association officials expressed pleasure at the good turnout of directors. About 225 people were present for the barbecue lunch served by the Coleman County Breeder-Freder Association, its Auxiliary, and the Coleman Board of Community Development.

TB Patients Urged To Follow Plans Set By Sanitarium

The tuberculosis patient who receives his medical discharge from the sanitarium and then carefully follows the advice of his doctor can live a useful and satisfying life when he returns home. But mental and physical strain, which are bad for everyone, are special hazards to the ex-tuberculosis patient and might cause a "breakdown", necessitating a return to the sanitarium.

Of all groups, the most frequent breaks occur among housewives according to the experience of many doctors and tuberculosis hospital officials.

Housework can be fatiguing, time-consuming, and exacting occupation. But when women take advantage of modern conveniences and plan their household duties carefully, they find they can save much time and energy.

The housewife who has had tuberculosis should realize, in planning her work, that it must involve as little strain and as few steps as possible so there will be no danger of a re-occurrence of the disease.

Since many housewives spend a great deal of time in the kitchen, the woman who has had tuberculosis should put the most efficient methods possible into practice there. Steps and energy can be saved, for example, when kitchen units, such as the stove, the sink, and the table are near each other. All kitchen utensils, pots, dishes, and the like should be placed within easy reach from the place where most of the preparation of food is done to eliminate unnecessary walking about, reaching and stretching.

Chores like ironing, cleaning vegetables, and preparing food are easier when the housewife sits instead of stands. Even such things as sweeping and mopping can be done with out too much strain.

A number of sanatoriums offer home-making courses as part of their rehabilitation program to help prepare the housewife for her return home. These specialists are glad to show the former patient the best ways of saving time, steps and energy.

Furthermore, the family can help make life easier for the housewife returning from the sanitarium. Husband and children can relieve her of some household chores and encourage her to get enough sleep, rest every afternoon and, at the same time, see that she gets the relaxation and fun which every woman needs.

Doctors Must Register For Armed Services

Austin, Sept. 21 — The new law, passed by Congress last week, which requires that doctors register and be subject to call for service with the armed forces will reduce the number of Army Reserve Officers of the medical services with World War III service to be ordered to active duty under quotas announced August 15. Col. Oscar B. Abbott, Chief of Texas Military District stated here today.

As a result of this new legislation, the list of officers selected for the first quota will be reconsidered and a further study made of each officer's record. A revised list will be selected in accordance with the following priorities:

Priority 1. Former ASTP students and other deferred during World War II for education who had less than 90 days military duty after graduation.

Priority 2. Former ASTP students and those deferred during World War II for education who had more than 90 days but less than 21 months service.

Priority 3. Members of the medical professions who performed no military service during the last World War.

Priority 4. Members of the medical services who had active service since September 16, 1940. These will be called in accordance with the length of service — those who served the least being called first.

The effect of these priorities will be to call to active duty first those medical reserve officers of the Army who were students under the ASTP program and obtained their education at government expense but saw little of active service. Next in line will be those who, while not trained under the ASTP program, have prior service in the armed forces. Colonel Abbott pointed out.

In order to properly classify reserve officers for the first of the Texas Military District Headquarters is sending out forms to the officers for them to accomplish which will provide the necessary information to establish priority. Officers who fail to reply or furnish the information required to determine their status will be classified as having no prior military service.

The first call for Texas Army Reserve Officers of the medical services under the revised quotas will be for 22 doctors.

Quotas will be filled in so far as possible by Reservists who volunteer for extended duty, Col. Abbott said.

Mrs. Walter Glover left Wednesday for her home in Carlsbad after visiting here with her daughter, Mrs. Mary Mayfield.

and there you are!

ACROSS this broad land there are thousands of people who have been doing themselves a disfavor.

Seems they "just naturally assume" a Buick is beyond their reach—and so pass up the car they're really itching to own.

Now why "assume" anything as important to your happiness as a new car?

Why not see for yourself how delivered prices run—how close Buick matches your own budget—how frequently it is priced under some cars you may be considering?

Then—if there is a particular car in mind—sharpen up your pencil a little.

Is it a six—or an eight, like Buick? If an eight, is it a valve-in-head eight? That adds a plus in efficiency, you know, even without the extra edge of Buick's Fireball power.

Will you ride on four soft coil springs, as in Buick—or on only two? Will the drive be through a sealed torque-tube that keeps the rear wheel assembly firmly aligned? It is in a Buick.

Do you get soft, low-pressure tires as part of the price—or as extras? Will you have bumper guards built as part of the bumper, or a one-piece cast metal grille that can be costly to repair or replace?

Does the price include air cleaner; oil filter; dual horns, windshield wipers and sun visors; an automatic dome light; self-locking luggage lid; a single key for all locks?

And is there an automatic drive*, or one in which gears still shift in normal driving?

Yes, sharpen your pencil—and there you will be, in a Buick.

Whether it's a SPECIAL, a SUPER or a lordly ROADMASTER, you'll be driving the big buy of its price class, and getting a rich bonus of driving comfort, driving thrill and "fashion-first" styling.

But you have to make the first move. You are the one who has to find out. How about starting now—with a call on your Buick dealer?

*Dynaflow Drive is standard on ROADMASTER, optional on extra cost on SUPER and SPECIAL models.

Only BUICK has Dynaflow—and with it goes!

HIGHER-COMPRESSION Fireball valve-in-head power in three engines. (New F-203 engine in SUPER models.)

NEW-PATTERN STYLING with MULTI-GUARD fender, super-through fenders, "double bubble" taillights.

WIDE-ANGLE VISIBILITY, close-up road view both forward and back.

TRAFFIC-HANDY SIZE, less over-all length for easier parking and garaging.

EXTRA-WIDE SEATS cradled between the axles.

SOFT BUICK RIDE, from all-coil springing. Safety Ride rim, low-pressure tires, ride-steadying torque-tube.

WIDE ARRAY OF MODELS with Body by Fisher.

New Operator Added To Beautiette Staff

Miss Carmen De La Cruz has arrived from San Antonio to be on the staff at the Beautiette. She is an outstanding hair stylist, having been trained under the celebrated and international hairstylist, Jeff Mills.

We are especially fortunate to have Carmen because she is not only an expert in doing smart hairdos but has had an all around background in the Beauty field for many years. In other words we have another expert in our salon!

Besides the years in Beauty Business, Carmen is a Masseuse, and has spent the last three weeks at the Colran Institute with Mrs. Randall studying Colran Method so she can feature Body Massaging and Face and Figure Rejuvenation. The same treatments will be offered at the Beautiette for skin corrections and rejuvenation that are being offered by the Colran Institute recently opened by Mrs. Randall at 504 Navarro St. in San Antonio.

Miss De La Cruz served five and a half years in the WACs and was among the first group of young women to join in Texas. She served in the medical corps and has considerable experience in hospital and physio therapy.

So we say we are indeed proud to add Carmen to our staff and we hope you will enjoy knowing her and having her do your work.
