THIRD FREEZE OF WINTER HITS AREA

Several weeks of balmy weather in Terrell County abruptly ended last Friday with a return visit of wintry blasts which terminated in the third below-freezing siege of the winter.

The heavy clouds which prevailed all day Friday finally brought moisture in small quantities to most sections of the county. On the local gauge .09 was recorded with similar amounts and up to one inch reported from other areas.

Saturday's weather was again quite balmy but the fresh norther blew in that night and temperatures dropped steadily until a low of 30 as reached about mid-morning Monday. Clear skies have prevailed and temperatures rising steadily are again in the mild bracket.

Local residents are of the opinion that the fruit in this section has been killed by Monday's freeze. Otherwise, little damage was expected from the latest cold spell.

TS&GRA Directors Favor Cut In Some Subsidy Payments

Directors of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association voted favorably on a resolution calling for the elimination of the subsidy payments through the PMA at the regular quarterly meeting in Bandera last Saturday morning.

The original resolution presented was written by Walter G. Downie, Terrell County ranchman. After much debate and many amendments and cuts to the amendment it was passed favorably. The action of the directors on this matter called for "the elimination of this subsidy item as well as all other items not essential to the national defense from the national budget."

In another resolution the directors opposed price ceilings on livestock, declaring that they would "only tend to reduce production and create shortages of meat." Maintaining the competitive market for livestock was the only means of assuring orderly marketing, seemed to be the prevailing thought at the meeting of ranchers and wool and mohair merchants.

Duval Davidson, director of the Texas Sanitary Livestock Commission, made a brief report on the sheep scab situation. The commission's work has been handicapped, Davidson said, "because of lack of funds. Expenses, he said, are around $7,000 per week."

Directors voted to take contributions from producers to supplement state funds for expenses incident to the proper handling of the scabbies situated until such time as the legislature make funds available for the work.

Attending the meeting from Terrell County were John T. Williams, vice president of the TS&GRA, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Martin and L. H. Gilbreath.

Headquarters for the meeting was at the Frontier Hotel in Bandera and the program started with registration and general hall session in the hotel lobby starting at noon Friday and a private dance at the Silver Spur room Friday night.

Rep. Regan Opposes $220 Million For New Water Bureau

Washington, March 13 — Rep. Ken Regan, 16th distict, strongly opposed the proposal of Rep. John Murdock of Arizona that the government spend $220,000,000 for a new set-up among federal bureaus to obtain basic water data.

Because of opposition of Regan and others on the committee, the House Interior and Insular Affairs sub-committee has decided to suspend hearings on the bill which largely amounts to tabling the proposition.

"It was ridiculous," said Regan, "because we now have the weather bureau, the geological survey, the coast and geodetic survey, the bureau of reclamation, the army engineers, and other groups in government which are already doing this work. We also have the President's Water Resources Policy Commission which just recently came out with two thick volumes about water.

"Arguments put forward that we need this agency to measure rainfall on both sides of the mountain do not stand," said Regan, "as it is a simple matter of arithmetic to determine the average rainfall over a valley beneath and then divide up the average by the acreage. No, I am not going to vote to spend any more government money on such an agency."

LISTEN TO LUKE

Last week end this columnist attended a meeting of the directors of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association in Bandera and a lot of talk went on in the bull sessions about rain and lack of it. One delegate was overheard to say that he had just received about an inch of rainfall since he left home after reading the message he had to wonder how long it would be before he would get another rain.

Many of the wool men and sheep raisers didn't know but what this man had a couple of goats or so they went right on talking in hundred-thousand language as we were looking for an S. There were so many nice ewes in Bandera — some were ones — who tried to show this man how people live when they are in the $1.50 per pound class. I accepted it as though we were accustomed to eating steaks and going on that level day in and day out.

It was with regret that we received some of the honors of the organization. First, this column that we should make a publication for our failure to get some of the important roles of the convention. The auxiliary members must have felt slighted as I failed to appear at their banquet at Lost Valley Ranch to address them. The men's meeting at the theatre was held up ten minutes while they were waiting for this writer to give the long address, but with all the hands on our time it was impossible to take care of all the questions as they should have been. This explanation may tend to appease the disappointment to those who had waited expectantly for hearing that this column represented there. Our explanation for not speaking at the meeting, but remaining in coffee shop to drink five-cent coffee, is that we were somewhat tired and due to the fact that many different persons were a part in the program arrangements — each thought the other had invited us to speak and result was everybody forgot it.

Bandera did a wonderful job of entertaining us — the delegates visitors. Much credit is due to entire town for handling the ranchers and warehousemen and auxiliary members in a commendable manner.

I want to go again to the place where they make you glad.

Sunday morning from 8 to 10 o'clock committee meetings were held at the high school building and the ladies of the auxiliary had coffee at the Lost Valley Ranch. From 10 to 1 the directors had their general meeting at the Theatre.

A session closed with a barbecue for directors and visitors at Cowboy Bar as guests of the Comanche Ranchmen and Goats Association and the Bandera County Livestock Improvement Association.

Delegates attending were in their praise for the splendid manner of entertainment and thanks to the entire citizenry of Bandera for the magnificence of fellowship and good for which that community is famous.

Economic conditions in Sanderson have shown little if any decline in recent months. This is no start a calamity howl, but are some merchants who had difficulty collecting past accounts. They have put off the accounts over to the Merchants in the hopes of getting some collections without forced to hurt the credit of their friends and neighbors.

A small community, where all neighbors and most try to be friends with his neighbor, it is a difficult task at to report an account to the merchant as a bad account. It is a small matter for the merchant who is privileged to use an account to drop around to

Rep. Regan Raps Wanton War Waste

Washington, Mar 7—The policy of some military procurement officers, of accomplishing excessive supplies and thereby causing a waste of government funds and a drain on domestic supplies was denounced in Congress this week by Rep. Ken Regan, Midland, representing the 16th Texas District.

ten during his service in World Wars I and II of meeting the slogan that no one is ever censured for having too much but always gets in trouble for having too little.

Regan called for Congress to put on needed restrictions if the procurement officers in military circles do not themselves stop it. He listed these examples: In the present emergency, the press, he said, carried reports of Army purchases including 100 pipe organs, 800,000 pounds of black pepper, 13,000,000 can openers, 2,000,000 gallons of insecticide, 22,000,000 pairs of boots, 58,000,000 yards of cotton webbing for belts, or enough to put a belt completely around the world at the equator with sufficient surplus to give every man in the armed services a belt for each day in the week and on Sunday too.

A current requisition for delivery in the next four months of 6,400,000 gallons of paint at a cost of $15,000,000 may mean the paint will be placed in warehouses where it will solidify and become valueless, before the military has opportunity to use it, Regan said.

In World War II, Regan recalled the experience of a friend on the east shore of the Mediterranean Sea. He was supervising a military truck-line hauling lease-lend and other military supplies to Russia. Every ship brought an ever-increasing supply of heavy duty truck tires and despite his urgent requests to headquarters to stop these shipments, they continue to arrive until he had a surplus of multiple thousands of these heavy tires. To get them out of the sun and out of the way, he finally dug a trench in the desert and buried the tires and so far as he knows, they are there yet.

"This happened at a time when we were financing every possible method in the manufacture of synthetic rubber and rubber for civilian requirements was practically non-existent," Regan said.

An officer of the Quartermaster branch told Regan while he was on duty in Alaska in 1944, every ship brought hundreds of tubs of butter until it got to the point that the soldiers stationed there were using it most extravagantly in all their cooking. His protests to reduce the shipments were not heeded and finally to get rid of thousands of tubs of surplus butter that was becoming rancid he had it dumped into the Bering Sea.

Regan said the procurement division ordered 400,000 McClellan saddles, a type long used by the cavalry, and no doubt in long supply from previous purchases. Upon completion of this order and the consequent tremendous drain on our leather supply, it was reported that there were considerable less than 5,000 horses in the entire Army. "Did you find a scarcity of shoes during that period?" Regan asked.

He found considerable support in the House for his views on these claims.

Watch Out For The "Blind-Spots"

Stopped by Squint Miller's farm the other day and saw a vinegar bottle in his kitchen with an oversized cucumber inside it. The cucumber filled the whole bottle.

"What's a cucumber doing in there?" I asked him. "That's my 'blind-spot' reminder," says Squint. "My grandmother kept one in her kitchen to remind her to take stock of herself now and then."

"I slipped that bottle over the cucumber when it was just starting to grow on the vine," he went on. "And like certain viewpoints, not noticed, it just grew and grew—now it's there to stay."

From where I sit, we could take a cue from Squint and watch for our own "blind-spots" and prejudices before they grow too big to get rid of. We've got to respect our neighbor's right to his preferences... preferences for a certain make of car, a favorite movie star, or a temperate glass of beer after work. We won't be tripped by any blind spots if we keep our eyes—and minds—open!

What My School Means To Me

By Ruby Bell
Ed. Note: — The below-printed theme is one of five selected as the most representative papers written by the high school students during the Public Schools Week.
School to me is the symbol of our free democracy. In school one has freedom of speech, freedom of the press, and freedom of thought. It helps one to be a better citizen. School gives one the background to meet everyday problems. School also prepares one for any vocation in which one is interested. With this background and preparation one can go out into the world with a secure feeling. But without schooling it is hopeless to become a success at anything. For example, compare China with the United States. China is many times more populated than the United States. It could be the leading nation and at one time was. But it lacks the education we have. It is also many centuries older than the United States. But with education in the radius of 371 years, America has created a nation which has far surpassed all other nations. The early pilgrims and pioneers built churches and schools before they even had houses to live in. So I ask every student to think seriously on this subject, because they and I carry the torches to a brighter future for all children in generations to come.

Look what the Smart Money's buying

Now that the 1951 offerings of the motorcar industry have had a chance to strut their stuff, we ask you—can there be any doubt which is the really smart buy? If you want a "new look"—Buick has it. That sturdy push-bar forefront says "1951" to all who see it—and provides unsurpassed front-end protection to boot. If you want power that you can live with through many moons to come—Buick has that too. Years of expert engineering have made Buick's thrill-packed Fireball engine just about as dependable as a power plant can be.

If you want features that combine present pleasure with long-time durability, consider this: Buick's level-going ride stems from coil springs on all four wheels which are virtually break-proof and never need servicing. Buick's Dynaflo Drive® takes the strain out of every mile of driving—and pays off by eliminating any need for friction clutch repairs and replacements, by reducing engine and transmission upkeep, and lengthening life of tires.

No other car provides all this: DYNAFLO DRIVE — saves strain on driver and car FIREBALL POWER — high-compression, valve-in-head engine gets more good from every drop of fuel PUSH-BAR FOREFRONT — combines smart style and unsurpassed protection WHITE-GLOW INSTRUMENTS — greater clarity at night 4-WHEEL COIL SPRINGING — cushions ride, saves servicing costs TORQUE-TUBE DRIVE — steadies ride, improves driving control DUAL VENTILATION — outside air fed separately to right or left of front compartment SELF-ENERGIZING BRAKES — hydraulic—multiply pedal pressure five times at brake drum DREAMLINE STYLING — tapered car-length fenders, gleaming sweeps appear on most models Plus: Self-locking luggage lid, Step-On parking brake, two-way ignition lock, Safety-Ride rims, Hi-Poised engine mounting, Body by Fisher WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT BUICK WILL BUILD THEM

If you want room and comfort and handling that make any trip a breeze—there's no simpler way to find them than to take over a '51 Buick SPECIAL, SUPER or ROADMASTER—relax and enjoy yourself. And if you want all this at a minimum outlay of dollars—one look at Buick prices will settle this point. So the smartest thing you can do is get in touch with your Buick dealer. How about doing that right now?
