LISTEN TO LUKE

Next week the people of Terrell County will be called upon to contribute to the Terrell County Crippled Children and Folio Fund.

While this county hasn't been hit severely by the polio epidemic there have been other counties where it has been felt in larger number of cases. The task of raising funds for the drive should not meet with any discouragement. We feel that every one in Terrell County will want to have a part in the contribution to this worthy cause.

Mrs. Mary E. Mitchell will serve as chairman of the fund drive in the county and we know she and her committee members will appreciate any help you can give. Every family in the county will receive a letter next week explaining the purpose of the drive in detail and every family of the county should offer their money, if not their time, to help make the drive a success.

With the granting of the appropriation for new paving on the ten-mile stretch of old paving east of Dryden another gap in the U. S. Highway transcontinental route will be put in good shape for the immense amount of east-west travel.

There is approximately 13 miles of unrepaired road west of Dryden which is badly in need of a new road. The right-of-way for this stretch is already in the hands of the highway commission and as soon as funds are available we are sure the commission will push that project through.

Many of the accidents on Highway 90 through Terrell County occur at the curved stretch of old pavement between Sanderson and Dryden. It is hoped that before the ten mile stretch east of Dryden is completed that a new appropriation may be made for the remaining 13 miles.

A new paint job has lifted the face of the Turner Hotel building which includes the postoffice building, the barber shop and the doctor's office and hotel entrance. All the wood work on the building is being painted and the improvement in the looks is quite noticeable.

When (and if) the postoffice gets a sign to show what occupies that part of the building it will be easy to direct tourists to the postoffice.

It has been suggested that the

NEWS OF SERVICE MEN

News is coming this week from local boys of the First Marines stationed in Korea. Jimmy Harris is continuing his service, doing guard duty with a road building crew. His outfit was recently shelled by trench mortars and machine guns by the retreating Red armies in the "punch bowl" area.

Pfc Walter Paul and Harris recently had a reunion, their first visit in many months. They enlisted a year ago. Pfc David Thompson is in a rest area for a few days. He wrote his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Thompson, that the recent fighting was the bloodiest and resulted in the most U. S. casualties than any other engagement in which he had participated. The U. S. Marines accomplished their objective but at a tremendous price.

J. A. Hemple of the U. S. Navy arrived Monday for a visit with his sister, Mrs. Tommy Billings, and family. He is on a thirty-day leave after spending several weeks in a naval hospital for medical treatment and will report to Santa Rosa, California, for his next assignment.

Band Boosters Club Organized Monday

The Band Boosters is Sanderson's newest club and was organized Monday evening when the parents of the students of the three bands of the Sanderson schools and other interested parties met in the high school auditorium.

Officers were elected to include Mrs. C. C. Mitchell, president; Mrs. D. L. Duke, vice president; and Mrs. G. D. Vincent, secretary, treasurer.

The next meeting is scheduled for Monday evening at 7:30 in the high school auditorium and a large crowd of band members, parents and interested citizens is anticipated.

The first project of the Band Boosters will be to raise funds to buy more band uniforms. There have been no new uniforms purchased in the past five years and there are barely enough uniforms to suit out the forty members of the senior band. There are forty pupils in the junior band and some who have had band for two or more years are ready for the senior band and their instruments would be a worthwhile addition to the band but there are no more uniforms for them, according to Mrs. Mitchell. There are forty-three pupils in the beginners' band and some of them should soon advance to the junior band to fill the ranks of those who should be promoted to the senior band, it was stated.

This is the largest enrollment of band pupils in the school's history. L. E. Jacob is the band director.

It was voted that the organization hold at least three business meetings during the current year. The president may call other meetings when necessary. The time of future meetings was not decided. The time and place of any social functions were left to the discretion of the officers.

George Turner stated that with the operation of the Turner Hotel and Cafe and with the remodeling planned for that business in the near future he was unable to continue to operate the separate business to best advantage of the shoppers and himself. He stated that he appreciated the patronage given the store while under his ownership and hoped that the people of this trade territory would find the same prompt, courteous service under the ownership of his brother, Jack.

"This is one service that admission will be charged at the door. The admission will be something that everyone can bring, said Rev. Claude Bridges, pastor. The admission will be a nail; big, little, rusty or new. These will be used in the church," he added.

"If you have ever been a member of this Sunday School, or if you do not attend any Sunday School, this will be an opportune time for you to begin," he continued. In this service each new class will be formed and the new teachers will be there to take the classes. The new literature will be given out and the service will close with a dedication service.

Marfa Wins 32-0; Eagles To Play Fort Stockton Here Fri.

The Class A Marfa Shorthorns paced the Sanderson Eagles last Friday night in that city all during their non-conference game and came out on the top side of a 32-0 score. There was an estimated 30 pound per man difference in the weight of the two teams.

Marfa was the favored winners in the fray in pre-game predictions but had the assurance of a strong bid in competition by the lighter Eagles' scrapping team. Marfa won their game from the locals last year with their end-sweeping plays led by plenty of power and used the same tactics against the lighter Eagles again this year. The Eagles held the passing attack of the Shorthorns down considerably as compared to what was seen against Alpine in the previous week end grid battle.

Minor injuries received in the game against Marfa are reported to be mending satisfactorily, according to Coaches C. W. Snowden and Norman Rath and the Eagles will be in full strength when they go against the Fort Stockton Panthers on Eagle Field Friday night.

The Fort Stockton team is Class A and in the district with Marfa and Alpine and are expected to give the Eagles plenty of trouble. Fort Stockton was downed by Del Rio in their first game of the season by a score of 14-6, and will give the players and fans an idea of the outcome of the Sanderson-Del Rio game from the score of Friday night's game.

The Sanderson boys are meeting plenty of tough competition in their grid games this year, playing four Class A teams in order to fill out their schedule and give them the games necessary to round out their grid experience for the season. Brackettville is the only Class B game scheduled to meet the local team this year other than the conference games.

The game Friday night will get under way at 8 sharp and the local grid fans are urged to come out and see a good brand of football with the Eagles in there showing their claws in every play of the game.

Home-makers' FORUM A Digest of GOOD IDEAS for Planning, Building, Decorating and Maintaining Your Home. Brought to you each week by Sally and Johnny O'Mala. INSULATION Is Weather Protection Here's How It Works. Johnny Says: OLD HOMES AND NEW need insulation. No matter how solid your house is built, heat flows THROUGH the wood and masonry. Heat will flow out of your house in winter and into it in summer unless you install adequate ventilation. HOMES TODAY need insulation more than ever because of changing styles. Houses are more spread out and rambling, have larger glass areas, have lower pitched roofs, fewer interior partitions and less attic space. All these mean more heat loss and more heat gain unless you insulate. ATTIC INSULATION is NOT enough. Too many houses have only attic insulation even though the greatest heat loss is through the walls. Generally, insulation should be installed in all outside walls, in floors (if there is no basement), in ceiling and walls of a used attic, in ceiling of rooms under unused attic, in flat or shed roof. STOP AIR LEAKAGE too, if you want to save money and be comfortable. Here are two important things to do about it. BUILDING PAPER If you are building a new home, be sure that a good quality building paper is applied under the shingles, between rough and finished floors. The savings in fuel costs soon pay its small cost. WEATHERSTRIPPING Good weatherstripping is the best means of reducing air leakage around windows and doors. There are many types that can be installed on existing homes, and if you are building a new house, make sure that your window sash is factory equipped with weatherstripping.

Learning to walk may take longer the second time: At the Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation for Crippled Children, Texas' own treatment center for physically handicapped little ones from every portion of the state, many hours are given over to the re-learning of the art of walking, first between parallel bars, then on crutches, finally on stairs. Fort Worth, one contributed by the citizens of Houston, and the third, the Wheel Chair Chapel and classrooms, by the daughters of H. R. Cullen, of Houston. The first patients occupied these buildings in 1948.

The treatment program at the foundation seeks to take into account the over-all needs of each individual patient, incorporating and coordinating physical, social and educational development, of which physical rehabilitation is the basic consideration.

Physical rehabilitation consists basically, of physical therapy, remedial activities and the prescribing of supporting apparatus to minimize handicaps.

Based on careful evaluation of the patient's physical condition at the time of admission, exercises, assistive and resistive, are prescribed. These are administered by registered physical therapists, either on treatment table or in the treatment pools. The treatment pools are used to assist the patient in making prescribed movements by taking advantage of the buoyancy of water. Specially designed and created apparatus is used in the pools to enable the patient to perform specific and measurable movements. Heat treatments, when advisable, are given.

After the patient's rate of improvement has leveled off, he is discharged, but the treatment program does not end there. Through social service contacts and in coordination with the referring physician, periodic check-backs are scheduled in order that the hospital may record the progress and prescribe necessary changes in the home treatment program.

Brief History of Foundation Lists Expansion of Treatment Facilities Available At Warm Springs Unit

The Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation was organized in 1937 by a group of Gonzales business men and professional men. The location of the unit is about 12 miles northwest of the city of Gonzales, just off State Highway 29.

The warm spring from which is derived the name of the foundation is the result of oil exploration in 1909. A well that was intended to discover oil, turned out to produce water of approximately 106 degrees temperature in quantities up to 200,000 gallons daily. The oil drilling company abandoned the well, which flooded the countryside for a while and went uncontrolled until its waters were put to use by the Gonzales Foundation. Naturally this supply of warm water was the inspiration for the site of the present foundation hospital.

The water has no curative nor medicinal value per se, but medical science has developed treatment techniques in a water medium to benefit muscles affected by neuromuscular diseases or disorders. The treatment pools at the foundation are fed by gravity from the artesian warm water at correct treatment temperatures.

The first building at the foundation, the Gonzales unit, was ready for patients in 1941. It had a 16-bed capacity and included indoor as well as an outdoor treatment pool. Until the fall of 1947 this was the extent of the physical plant.

In the intervening years, monies were solicited and collected to enlarge the facilities to enable the foundation to care for a greater number of patients. Later, in 1947, three additional buildings were erected and furnished, one through the generosity of the citizens of

Skip Makes a Slip

Miss Gilbert, the teacher, was telling me how Skip Lawson almost went to sleep in her physics class. She noticed him nodding and—since they were discussing electricity—said in a loud voice: "Now maybe MR. LAWSON will explain what electricity is." Skip started up, looked around wildly, and blurted out, "Gee! I used to know, but I forgot."

"What a loss to science!" sighs Miss Gilbert. "No one to this day knows what electricity really is, and here we have a genius who could explain it—but forgot!"

From where I sit, I hope this taught Skip that you're better off if you admit you don't know all answers. Some grownups haven't learned that yet—like the ones who are always telling other people what's best and what's right and what's wrong. I like a temperate glass of beer, myself, but if you prefer buttermilk I won't argue. I've seen too many "know-it-alls" turn out to be wrong!

Maybe you're missing something BIG

WE know how you feel when a car has given you faithful service. You like it. You're loyal to it. And that's only human.

But just suppose you found out that some other car could make familiar roads seem a lot smoother.

Suppose some other car held the curves in a way you'd never felt before.

Suppose some other car had more thrilling power—steered like a dream—held its course like an airliner on the beam—and let you finish a long day's drive feeling daisy fresh.

Wouldn't you feel you're missing something big unless you tried it out?

There is such a car. Its name is Buick.

It has big soft coil springs on every wheel. It has a Fireball Engine. It has a "front-end geometry" that does miracles with steering. And it has Dynaflo Drive.*

And incidentally, it wears a price tag that makes it a very smart buy compared to anything else you own.

We'd like to have you try this car. You'll never know what you're missing till you do.

How about giving us a call—or coming in to see us real soon?

clarified before an intelligent vote could be cast.

It is the common practice in such elections for the majority of the voters to go to the polls with open minds and simply vote for or against an amendment on the basis of the first few words in the heading of the amendment. That heading can be misleading and in many cases are purposely so worded as to deceive the voters.

Take for instance H. J. R. No. 6. It is so cunningly devised that without careful study almost any Texan would gladly vote for such a resolution. No true Texan would want to deprive the aged and needy blind and needy children of Texas of a reasonable pension for a reasonable living. Yet, if you will carefully read the proposed amendment, you will see that it is calculated to do evil if it ever becomes a part of the fundamental law of Texas.

H. J. R. No. 6 increases the Texas taxpayers' burden by adding $7,000,000.00 per year to the $35,000,000.00 now contributed to the support of the needy aged, the needy blind and the needy children of Texas. This is true because the proposal would open the pension rolls of Texas to all comers regardless of residence in Texas. Those now on the pension rolls will be called upon to share the available pension funds with indigent and itinerant invaders moving into Texas from whatever state or country.

If HJR 6 is adopted by the people of Texas they will thus offer welcome to Texas pension rolls for rejects from the rolls of other states, for those dissatisfied with the pension they receive from lower pension paying states. And thus Texas may well become the haven and sanctuary for the tramps and derelicts of the entire country.

This column may, from time to time, have some comment on the other proposed amendments. If

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT AUSTIN, TEXAS September 27, 1951

ALLAN SHIVERS GOVERNOR

Mr. Brad H. Smith, President Texas Press Association 441 Driskill Hotel Austin, Texas

Dear Mr. Smith:

With a full realization and appreciation that a free press is a bulwark of the American way of life, I consider it most appropriate that National Newspaper Week is to be observed October 1-8, inclusive. During the present unsettled world conditions it is entirely befitting that this nation and the State of Texas pay tribute to an organization that must play a vital role in the days which lie ahead.

To chronicle the many contributions of the press to our Democratic nation and to the development of a world civilization is impossible. From the smallest hamlet to the largest metropolitan center newspapers constantly have been, and will continue to be, in the foreground championing civic, governmental, educational, cultural and religious improvements. In the field of international events, the diligent efforts of a vigilant press have made the people of our nation the best informed in the world.

A free press means a free people. The history of the world has taught us that nations which censor and hamper a free press do not survive. I am convinced this will continue to be true in the future and that the iron curtain of communistic countries will represent but another chapter in the fate of tyrannical governments which saw fit to interfere with a basic freedom—a freedom of the press. Truly "Your Newspaper Lights the Way of Freedom."

To a free press of Texas, to the members of the Texas Press Association and to our great newspaper industry I offer my sincere congratulations. It is my earnest wish that National Newspaper Week be observed by all Texans with just tribute being paid to a worthy organization and industry.

Sincerely yours,

Allan Shivers

The Number One American Habit

Thursday afternoon's mail starts people reaching for the facts of life — all over town. Ever think of it that way? It's the great American habit, this eager reaching for the truth, this wanting to know what's going on — everywhere and without the slightest delay at all.

It's a good habit, too, for here is the foundation of the freedoms we cherish so deeply. In knowing what's going on lies our capacity for the making of choices, the very essence of our individual liberty.

It is at this point that our favorite newspaper becomes so important to our way of life. For in its pages are presented the kaleidoscopic changes occurring constantly — the truth of what's going on in the world — the facts from which we, as individuals, determine for ourselves how we will vote, whom we will patronize, what we will think, and what we will do.

Newspaper men everywhere, conscious of the critical times in which we live, are devoting the week of October 1st to 8th — National Newspaper Week — to reappraising their service to the public. As publishers of The Sanderson Times, we invite you, our readers, to visit our plant and see how the news is gathered and brought to you. We also invite your suggestions for making this paper serve you better in guarding our cherished American Freedoms.
