LISTEN TO LUKE

Who will investigate who, what, why? The powers that be in Washington have vowed and sworn that there is no fraud, bribes or corruption in any of the governmental agencies. Newspapers and the investigating committees in Congress have brought so much of the stenographer and stirred it up there is no way of denying it more, so the administration has appointed a clean-up man to investigate and report to the Attorney General any information that may gather for prosecution. That is not mean the Attorney General will actually prosecute — he failed to function in that respect on all other evidence that has been turned over to him.

But, it now develops that there is a shadow over the investigator named by the President for that important job — true to past appointments. The Congress will, without a doubt, investigate the investigator. It is rather in this administration for the President to make such a clean-up — if he sincerely wants to clean up — and asking that he is sincere, he should have selected a man with a reputation above question for the job.

This week there was another "specialist" in town. He called one of the business men of town to correct some errors that existed on the mark-up forms that had been submitted. Of course that could have been done from the Lubbock office. He had a government car and a billing expense account and his car going on so why not make a long trip down here to get things straightened out.

One of the merchants had figured his markup prices and in one place the percentage was approximately three per cent high. Another was about one and a half per cent low. The items such as would sell for less than $10 and his sales on either would not be more than ten per cent. The sales he would make to that item fixed to the satisfaction of the "expert."

This country is loaded down with these "carpetbaggers" who come up the time of a busy merchant who is trying to make a buck and pay the high taxes that are imposed upon him.

In less than four decades, the individual income tax rate has risen from one per cent with a maximum rate of seven per cent on net income of $500,000 and — to a starting rate of 22.2 per cent, with a combined normal surtax rate of 92 per cent on net income of $200,000 and, writes Gordon Grand, Jr., in Tax Review.

In the space of less than 40 years, the corporate income tax has risen from one per cent combined normal, surtax and profits marginal rate of 82 per cent — The number of individuals subject to income taxes has risen from less than 400,000 to 5,000,000.

If this wasn't bad enough, the new proposed Administration get, as offered to Congress, shows a deficit of over $22,000,000 during the next two years.

Apparently the only Administration solution is more taxes — though taxation takes about a third of the whole national income now. There is the usual talk about economy and efficiency — but no one high in Administration circles ever comes up with a concrete suggestion for materially reducing non-defense, essential spending of any kind.

The Communists, who would do nothing so much as an economic collapse in the United States, must find this encouraging.

1952 POLL TAXES TOTAL 790 AFTER DEADLINE COUNT

Terrell County residents paid the usual last-minute call to the office of the tax collector Thursday to pay their 1952 poll taxes and swelled the total taxes paid to 790 which is eighty more than in 1948, the last general election. Exemptions issued totalled 25. The exemptions held by oldsters of the county will swell the potential voting strength of the county to over 1,000.

TO HEAD CANCER CRUSADE— Ernest L. Kurth of Kellys, prominent East Texas lumberman and founder of the South's newspaper industry, will serve as state chairman of the 1952 Texas Cancer Crusade. Beginning in April, this year's educational and fund-raising drive against cancer ever staged in Texas.

Gas Show in Well Near Marathon Lifts Area's Oil Hopes

A light showing of gas below the 7,200 foot level was found in the Woods Oil and Gas Co. No. 1 Mary Decie test being drilled, it was reported by C. W. Hassinger, general manager of the drilling. The well is about five miles northwest of Marathon.

"The drill hit a cavity Friday night of last week and we lost our mud," Hassinger said, "but we have encountered a small showing of gas. While we are burning a small flare at night, we do not yet know what we have."

He stated that they were attempting to find out what sort of cavity was hit and what the structure is. "So far there is nothing to get excited about."

The show of gas created considerable excitement and, according to Hassinger, has been the cause of many unfounded rumors and reports, all of which have caused the closing of roads to the public.

Guest Speaker To Be At Baptist Church Sunday Morning

Mrs. Cliff W. Brannon, wife of the noted evangelist who is conducting a revival at the First Baptist Church in Alpine, will give a testimony at the First Baptist Church here in Sanderson next Sunday morning.

According to Rev. Claude Bridges, pastor, "Her testimony tells how she objected to her husband entering the ministry because of the great difference between the income of a successful lawyer and an independent evangelist. This feeling on her part was so great that she threatened to divorce her husband if he did enter the evangelist's field. He did enter and is one of the outstanding evangelists today."

The public is cordially invited to hear this testimony at 11:00 Sunday morning.

Business Men Again Reminded of School On Credit Procedure

The business men of Sanderson are again reminded of the school on retail credit procedure to open here Monday, February 18, under the auspices of the University of Texas, Division of Extension in cooperation with the Texas Education Agency.

All phases of retail credit operations will be covered during the course, which will be held nightly from 7:30 to 9:30 at the court house.

Final Plans Made For 2nd Annual FFA Show

Final plans have been made by R. M. Turner, local vocational agriculture teacher, and the members of the local F. F. A. chapter for that organization's second annual show to be held at the Eagle Field beginning at 9 a. m. Saturday. The boys have been working diligently this week in the preparation of their stock for the show. Bucks, ewes, lambs, capons, hens and roosters will be exhibited at the show.

The organization is planning an all-day affair, with the final event being the parade of champions at 3 p. m.

Local people and area ranchmen are urged to visit the show and see the results of the work of the boys who are studying vocational agriculture in the Sanderson High School. The boys are limited to two sheep per entry in the show and all of the sheep raised by the boys will be taken to San Antonio and exhibited in the show in that city next week.

No admission price will be charged for the show and the homemaking girls will have hot coffee, cold drinks, sandwiches and candy for sale at the concession stand at the football field.

F. F. A.ers To Enier Lambs in Show At San Antonio

The Sanderson Future Farmers of America chapter will be represented by 25 exhibitors at the boys' fat stock show of the third annual San Antonio Livestock Exposition on February 15-24 in the Bexar County Coliseum, according to R. M. Turner, local advisor and agriculture teacher.

Projects Add to March of Dimes Fund

W. W. Sudduth, chairman of the Terrell County March of Dimes Drive, and Jimmy Caroline, treasurer, reported this week that there had been $839 turned in to date.

The coffee sales and contributions from Jimmie's Steak House Saturday amounted to $15.67. Clayton Stubblefield turned in $5.95 from his lubrication and oil and cold drinks sales Sunday and stated that the inclement weather cut down considerably on his sales for the day.

Local Unit Observes Boy Scout Week

The members of the local Boy Scout troop are observing Boy Scout Week in compliance with the proclamation of the President of the United States and Governor Allan Shivers. The boys will have a window in The Kerr Mercantile Company to display their work and the scope of Boy Scout work of the local troop. R. P. Stewart is Scoutmaster of the Sanderson troop.

The Scouts are wearing their uniforms this week so that the town's citizens will recognize them as members of the largest organization of boys in America.

The local Boy Scout troop is in the process of being rechartered and the Sanderson Rotary Club, sponsors of the local organization, has appointed a new troop committee to include Joe Kerr, Jr., chairman; Marshall Cooke and

He was taken to a Fort Stockton hospital in an O. T. Sudduth ambulance for examination and treatment. After his condition improved, he was moved to his home Tuesday. Mrs. Lee Grigsby returned to Sanderson.

Methodist W. S. C. S. To Meet Monday

The Methodist W. S. C. S. will meet Monday at the church at 2 o'clock in the afternoon for the Bible study to be presented by Miss Eva Billings, spiritual life chairwoman of the organization.

Football Banquet To Honor Local Grid Warriors

The Sanderson Lions Club has completed arrangements for their annual football banquet to honor the 1951 Sanderson Eagles and their coaches. The club has been so honoring the local grid players for several years.

Max Baumgardner, coach of the San Angelo Junior College Rams will be the principal speaker for the evening and he will bring with him a film of the Oleander Bowl game last season.

Baumgardner was elected "Junior College Coach of the Year" after his record last season with the San Angelo team. He is a graduate of the Wichita Falls High School and Texas University. He played end with the university where he won stellar honors as all-Southwest-Conference end.

The Lions Club committee for the banquet this year is arranging for other entertainment to go with the balance of the program that has been scheduled for the evening.

Coach C. W. Snowden, Eagle pilot, will make the award to the boy voted the most outstanding player by the balance of the squad.

As has been the custom in the past, the Lions Club will have as their guests their wives, the coaching staff of the Eagle teams and their wives, school board members and their wives and the honored guests, the 1951 Eagles.

The banquet will be in the band house on Tuesday, February 18, at 7 p. m. The menu will consist of turkey and the trimmings.

News of Service Men

Sgt. Monte Goode, a U. S. paratrooper, talked with his mother, Mrs. M. H. Goode, Jr., last week. He stated that his buddy was killed in the last jump they made in Korea.

Cpl. Walter Paul of the U. S. Marines, is expecting to leave Korea early in March on the rotation plan.

Marine Corporal Jimmie Harris is spending ten days in Japan on a rest leave.

Linn Hise, husband of the former Miss Mary Nell Gates, has resigned his position as instructor in the Del Rio public school system to report to Fairfairs for induction next week.

GLYNN CHANDLER 1st-PRIZE WINNER IN AREA CONTEST

Glynn Chandler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Chandler, of Sanderson was named first place winner of an essay contest sponsored by the Rotary Club of San Antonio recently. Chandler was the only entrant submitting an essay to the Sanderson Rotary Club.

The prize won by Chandler was a registered Suffolk buck and two registered Suffolk ewes. The sheep will be entered in the San Antonio Livestock Exposition by Dr. Leon Kopecky, donor, of San Antonio, and Chandler may claim the sheep following the show.

He will also be a guest of the Rotary Club of San Antonio at a luncheon on Saturday, February 15, and will receive a special certificate of award for his prize-winning essay.

John T. Williams, member of the Sanderson Rotary Club, will be a guest of the Rotary Club of San Antonio when the presentation is made to Chandler.

Chandler is a sophomore in the Sanderson High School.

Jess Davis' Barn, Truck, Feed Lost in Blaze Sunday

Last Sunday night flames consumed the barn at the Jess Davis ranch, the old Carpenter place, north of Dryden. All of the contents of the building were destroyed, including a 1950 Ford pickup about 150 sacks of feed, windmill tools, saddle, leggings, bridle, etc.

The conflagration began during the night and it was impossible to save any of the contents of the barn after the fire was discovered.

The cost of the building and contents destroyed by the fire was not known.

Area Towns In Reserve Survey By Air Force

Austin, Texas, Feb. 2 — Fourteen cities in Texas and New Mexico have been selected as sites in the Air Force expansion program to complete personnel surveys on Air Force Reservists in the two-state area.

This was announced today by Colonel Edgar E. Glenn, Commanding Officer of the 3rd Air Reserve District Headquarters in Austin, who added that seven of the surveys would begin in early April, upon completion of large-scale operations which begin on Monday, February 4, in San Antonio and Houston.

Tentatively selected for Air Force survey sites were McAllen, Wichita Falls, Childress, Corpus Christi, Beaumont, El Paso, Paris, Waco, Tyler, Midland, Amarillo, and Abilene. Terrell County is in the Midland area.

Texans Oppose Pending Bill On Mexican National Laborers

West Texas Livestock Weekly Directors of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association, in a special meeting at Sonora this week, went on record as opposing proposed legislation covering employment of Mexican nationals in this country and asked for a reasonable, workable agreement which would at once solve their own labor problem and eliminate immigration officers throughout the ranch country.

However, they were not optimistic that their opposition or request would have much effect.

The meeting was called for discussion of the Omnibus Immigration Bill and especially the provisions of this bill which would make a ranchman liable to fine and imprisonment for employing Mexican "wetbacks" and which would give federal officers permission to search a ranchman's premises without a warrant. The directors left it up to their labor committee, headed by William B. Wilson of San Angelo, to submit an amendment which would make permission for search and seizure by federal officers a matter to be determined by courts.

Wilson, who with Ernest Williams, secretary of the association, recently returned from Washington, told the meeting that he felt sure the legislation would be passed in the near future, possibly within three weeks. He indicated that the desires of the ranchmen would be hardly considered in the House version of the bill, and that their hope for consideration was with the Senate. Wilson said that farmer groups were well represented on committee hearings on the bill, but that the livestock industry was excluded. These larger pressure groups, which former-

Malone Mitchell Named President Of Hereford Group

N. M. Mitchell of Sanderson was elected president of the Texas Polled Hereford Association last week when the group held their annual meeting in the Worth Hotel in Fort Worth. Mr. Mitchell was elevated from the office of vice president of the association.

Two bull calves and two heifers which Mr. Mitchell took to the auction in that city were sold for higher prices than prevailed during the 1951 auction. Officials stated that due to the broad demand for polled Herefords, it was difficult to get enough animals together for the sale.

Mitchell's ranch holdings are in both Terrell and Pecos Counties and his chief interest is in the polled Herefords rather than sheep which are common in Terrell County. He with his son, Malone, Jr., attended the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show and Exposition last week in conjunction with the association meet. He will enter two bulls and a heifer in the San Antonio show this month.

Malone Jr., entered two calves in the Fort Worth show and they placed 7th and 12th in their respective classes.

O. P. S. MUST OK LIVESTOCK SHOWS, NEW LAW STATES

Organizations promoting livestock fairs, shows, or exhibits must apply to the district office of the Office of Price Stabilization for their area before such shows are held, OPS officials reported this week.

Prior to the dates for such a livestock exhibit, the president, secretary or manager of the organization promoting the show must apply for permission to have the "club" or "show" stock sold at the fair and slaughtered.

In turn the OPS district office will authorize the officials of the organization to issue certificates permitting non-slaughtering purchasers to have the stock they purchase slaughtered for them whenever it finds that the sale at the fair is held under the auspices of the 4-H clubs, Future Farmers of America, or other recognized youth organizations.

The organizations in this area should direct their applications or requests for information to the Lubbock District OPS office, 1202 Texas Avenue, Lubbock.

THREE CAGE GAMES HERE LAST WEEK

Friday night of last week the Valentine cagers came to Sanderson and split the bill between the boys' "A" string and the girls team. The Eagles lost their fray 23-13 with Ruby Bell scoring 3 points for the high pointer for the locals. The boys won their game 37-28 with Charles Stegall scoring 14 points and Jack Talbot scoring 10.

Monday night the Fort Stockton Elementary school cagers were here for a session with the pro-vees and the little local lads won 20-15. Salvadore Garza was top scorer for the Sanderson team by 6 points.

Tuesday night the Sanderson "B" team met the Marathon "J" team in the first of a triple-header in the local gymnasium and won 54-16. Bustos scored most for the "B" boys with 10 points aggregate.

In the girls' game Sanderson won 18-17 with Yolanda Esqueja and Ruby Bell scoring 7 points each.

The nightcap between the "A" teams proved too much for the Eagles and they gave in to the Marathon quintet by a score of 31-25. Juan Olivares was high pointer with 16 points of the 25 scored by the Eagle team.

Friday night of this week the Eagles will play the Marfa Blackwell school in their last home game of the season, according to Coach Norman Rath. The Eagles' games this year have been a little under par with the late start of one of the boys, Juan Olivares, due to an injury during football season and the inability of David Mitchell to play because of a football injury. Tommy Mansfield's basketball season was cut short because of the injury to his hand held over from a football season and a broken bone in the hand of Joe Nessmith which prevented his taking part in the hardwood sport all season.

Eleven Eagle Band Members Named For All-Star Concert

The Sanderson Eagle Band joined eleven other bands over the area in Del Rio Saturday for the annual festival-clinic sponsored by the Del Rio clinic.

The Brady band won the trophy for the third consecutive year as the best large school band and the small school trophy went to the Comstock band. The Sanderson band won the small school trophy last year but is now in the large school class and had to meet stiff competition at the festival, according to L. E. Jacob, director.

There were eleven students chosen from Sanderson to play in the all-star band concert Saturday night and they were: Jimmie Caroline, Eneida Perez, Lupe Cardenas, Amelita Silvas, Glynn Chandler, Jack Talbot, Humberto Arredondo, Pablo Flores, Mary Lou Cargile, Rodolfo Bustos and Jack Savage.

Besides the clinic in which all bands played, there was a luncheon at noon, a parade in the afternoon and then following the evening concert, there was a dance at Teen-Town to close the day's activities.

L. E. Jacob, the band director, and a number of teachers and parents, accompanied the band to Del Rio.

CITIZENS ARE WAKING UP

The population of the United States may be on the verge of becoming politically active in a big way. Such a development is forecast in the flood of mail that has come in as a result of my suggestion in a recent column that on all election days in 1952—local, state and national—each eligible voter who actually votes be given a little red-white-and-blue tag to wear in his lapel. The idea received nationwide publicity, and people in every section of the country are writing me.

The League of Women Voters, of Yardley-Morrisville, Pa., report that they have tried out the "Tag Day" idea and have found it to be excellent stimulation for potential voters. The tags were used three weeks ago in a local election in Mountain Home, Ark., and in two parishes when Louisiana Democrats held a primary a few days later; and letters on my desk report that in both instances the tags, and attendant publicity, helped boost the percentage of eligible voters who went to the polls. The little tags bear the challenge: "I have voted! Have you?"

ALL JOINING HANDS

The mail expressing interest in the tag-for-voters idea comes from all kinds of organizations, groups and individuals—and they all express a determination to work for anything that will stir up the population to the importance of each top radio and television commentators, is giving the "Tag Day" idea wide publicity on his American Broadcasting System coast-to-coast broadcasts. "Normally, I detest tag days," he says on his broadcasts, "But Harding College has come up with a tag day idea which I wholeheartedly approve. They would hand out a small red-white-and-blue shield at the voting place on election day. I hope the idea spreads fast. I hope there is never another election in the United States in which half of all those eligible to vote, fail to do so."

The Americanism Committee of the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce has adopted "The Power of Your Vote" presentation as part of the nationwide "Freedom Flame" project in which 1,800 local Jaycee groups are eligible to participate. The general manager of Everybody's Daily, largest Polish newspaper in America, published in Buffalo, writes: "As a publisher interested in seeing that 100 per cent of our readers vote in all political campaigns, would be interested in material for promoting this program in newspapers."

IN OUR HANDS

S. E. Johnson, managing editor, the Amarillo Globe-Times, reports: "I wore the tag Tuesday during a local election and it drew much comment. It would be our idea to sponsor 'Tag Day' on the various election days coming up this year." Orville Revelle, editor, Fort Lauderdale Daily News, writes: "We plan to sponsor your plan in this area." Mrs. Lucille U. Deetz, principal, Moffitt Heights Elementary School, Massillon, Ohio, says she desires "to use 'The Power of Your Vote' before Parent-Teacher Association groups."

Altogether the mail indicates an awakening. With corruption weakening the character of our government (and our nation), with the United States armies at war in Korea and girding for even a bigger conflict, with a soaring national debt, and with inflation and high taxes sapping the earning power of all citizens, perhaps the American people are ready to accept the old adage: "We get the kind of government we deserve." Alert citizenship, an informed voting citizenry deserves—and gets—a good government. A do-nothing citizenry does not. The problem is in our hands—as individual Americans.

"I Have Voted! Have You?"

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Hill and children have moved here from Marfa and are occupying the Sudduth house formerly occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Wright.

Mrs. L. M. Wooten went to Del Rio Sunday to be with her mother, Mrs. Burke Rose, whose condition had taken a turn for the worse while she was recuperating from major surgery.

Spotlight Moves To Drinking Drivers As Serious Menace To Highway Travelers

Drinking drivers are a far greater menace to safety on streets and highways than official records disclose, the Association of Casualty and Surety Companies declared today in calling for a concerted public demand that they be put "in the spotlight and in the spot" as one of the major causes of increased fatalities and injuries in traffic accidents in recent years.

Uninhibited drinking drivers were linked directly to the big rise in deaths and injuries caused by speeding in 1950 and 1951, by Thomas N. Boates, public safety director of the Association of Casualty and Surety Companies. Mr. Boates declared that nearly half of the traffic fatalities and injuries at night and on week ends were caused by drinkers who insisted on driving and stepped too heavily on the accelerator.

A collision last November that orphaned 11 young children whose parents were killed when their car was struck by another automobile occupied by teenagers who had been drinking, was cited by Mr. Boates as an example of the multiple-death accidents that are frequently caused by drinking and driving. In an accident on Long Island a few weeks earlier, he said, five youths were instantly killed while traveling 89 to 100 miles per hour after having a drinking party, according to police.

"Public opinion must back up enforcement of the law against drinking drivers and keep them off the roads to safeguard the lives of others riding with them, innocent people in other cars, and pedestrians," Mr. Boates said. "It must also make it unfashionable to drive after drinking, if there is to be a real reduction in the accident toll. The dangerous custom of taking one more drink — 'for the road' — must be forced out of the drivers' language. It has become the toast to death for thousands of innocent victims every year, as well as for many of those who drink so confidently.

"If every driver knew how much even a few drinks blunt his driving ability and lessen his chances of getting home safely, and then acted on the logic of the facts rather than on his false feeling of security after imbibing, he would always leave his car at home and travel some other way, rather than risk an accident after drinking. That is the sure way of avoiding accidents if one drinks." More than 6,000 drivers involved in fatal accidents in 1949 had been drinking, Mr. Boates said. In addition, 2,000 pedestrians met death in traffic while in an alcoholic haze. However, these official figures reflect fully the growing menace of drinking-and-driving accidents, he declared, for in one state alone last year 49 per cent of fatal rural accidents involved a drinking driver, and in 31 per cent of accidents involving injuries the drivers had been drinking.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Pruett of Marfa spent the week end here with their daughter, Mrs. C. P. Peavy, and daughter, Miss Betty Ann Peavy.

Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Harris returned home last week from a visit with relatives in Houston and in Bryan with their daughter, Mrs. W. H. Dishman, and family.

New Notes in Cooking

Have you heard? Garlic butter toasted on hard or soft rolls is a taste treat.

When preparing French dressing, add 1/4 teaspoon Accent (pure monosodium glutamate) per cup. Your salads will taste better than ever and your reputation as hostess will skyrocket.

Creamed chipped beef, in a casserole, topped with fluffy seasoned mashed potatoes and grated cheese is a Casserole Supreme!

As little as half a cup of leftover cooked rice works wonders in pancake, waffle, or muffin batter. If there is a cupful so much the better. Try this as a Sunday breakfast surprise!

The rice ring you prepare to hold a creamed mixture will be prettier and tastier if you blend in finely minced parsley along with the Accent (pure monosodium glutamate), butter and seasonings. Save out a little parsley to sprinkle on top of the filling.

It's Loaded — So Be Careful!

Before you drive the Golden Anniversary Cadillac, there is one thing we should like to impress upon you: It's loaded—so be careful!

There's more power in that dynamic engine than you'll ever need—except for the rarest emergency. And it should never, never be used for dramatic display on the get-away.

If somebody else wants the honors when the light turns green—let 'em go. You don't have to prove anything, anyway.

But that great power works for you—even when you're not unleashing it to the limit.

It works for you as a reserve—and gives you that easy, quiet, flowing ride which makes a Cadillac such a joy to own and such a thrill to drive...

It gives you that slow-moving engine—that simply loafs at all legal speeds—and which is a literal Methuselah when it comes to long life...

And it is a primary reason for that unbelievably low upkeep expense, at which Cadillac owners never cease to marvel. Some fleet owners have found, for instance, that Cadillacs cost less to operate and maintain than any other cars they have ever used. And the easy-going engine, that never operates under strain, is a big factor in this economy.

Yes—Cadillac's great power works for you—and is necessary—and is one of the vital reasons why Cadillac's performance is so outstandingly different.

But we trust that no Cadillac owner will ever use it for dominating the highway. To do so is not only counter to the rules of safety—but it is not in keeping with the graciousness the motoring public has come to expect from the person who sits at the wheel of a Cadillac.

Have you seen this great Golden Anniversary creation? If not, we should be pleased to welcome you to our showrooms—at any time.

One ride and You'll say:

"That's the Smartest Million Dollars BUICK Ever Spent"

WHEN we tell you that every 1952 Buick rides like a million dollars, we're not just slinging slang—we're talking real money—right-on-the-barrelhead cash.

A million dollars and more were poured into research and testing—design and tools—engineering, production and components—to team up the combination of ride features you'll find on a Buick—and on no other car in the world.

A million dollars and more was the price paid to work out control of end-sway and side-roll on curves—to double-check vertical "throw" with shock absorbers and big soft-acting coil springs for all four wheels—to V-brace the torque-tube keel and X-brace the frame—to cushion body and engine—and to silk out the whole operation with Dynaflo Drive.*

You may not care how the job was done, or what it cost. But we'll lay you this: You're going to say "thanks a million" to Buick engineers once you get this spirited smoothie under your hands and haunches.

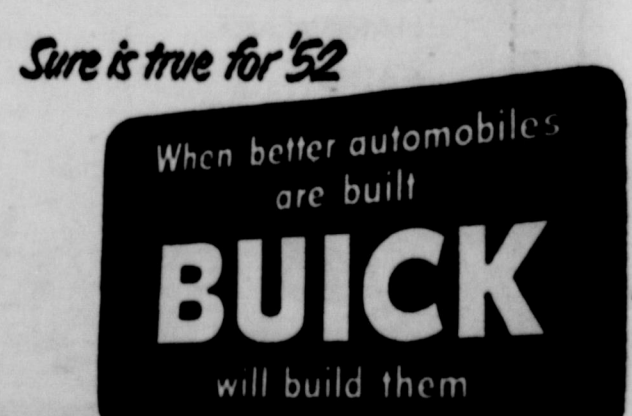

Old familiar roads take on a new smoothness. Gone are the weave and wander, the jitter and jounce that you've felt in lesser cars. You ride with road-hugging assurance and level ease.

All of which only begins to tell you what really great cars these 1952 Buicks turned out to be.

Never before have style and stamina—comfort and character—power, performance and price been brought together with such satisfying skill.

The obvious thing for you to do is come in and look them over. How about taking half an hour off to do that—today?

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. Standard on ROADMASTER, optional on other Buicks.

SANDERSON STATE BANK
MEMBER FEDERAL DEPOSIT INSURANCE CORP.

The presence of Price Daniel, Attorney General of Texas, and his family in their home town of Liberty during the holidays increased speculation that the historic old city might furnish Texas another Governor or Senator in 1952. The last Liberty lawyer to hold these offices was Sam Houston who is Mrs. Daniel's Great-Grandfather. Pictured above are the Attorney General, Mrs. Daniel and their four children, Price Jr.; Jean; Houston Lee; and John.

LIBERTY CITIZENS THINK THEY HAVE ANSWER TO '52 POLITICS

LIBERTY, TEXAS, Dec. 30 (Special)—Historic Liberty, third largest city in Texas, literally buzzed during the holidays with a talk of furnishing Texas a new governor or senator in 1952. The town's native son, Attorney General Price Daniel, and his family were at home. As the State's chief lawyer walked the streets here as a boy he had sold newspapers, his homefolks speculated there that over about the party town would play in politics the New Year.

The last Liberty lawyer to serve governor or United States Senator was Sam Houston. He served both offices.

Price Daniel's law office in Liberty was on the exact spot where Sam Houston had his office. What more, Daniel married Houston's great-granddaughter, Jean Houston Baldwin. While living in Austin temporarily, they and their children spend Christmas and vacations here.

Liberty has had a long claim on the fighting attorney general and his family. His ancestors settled here in 1824 and helped Mexican officials build the town in 1831. His great-grandfather, Hugh Johnston, was the first alcalde engaged in the early conflicts of the Texas revolution. This account for some of Price Daniel's interest in Texas history and his uncompromising fight to keep the federal government from taking the Texas tidelands away from the state's public school fund.

All these bits of history are recounted as Liberty folks predict the mantle of Sam Houston will fall on the capable shoulders of Price Daniel in 1952. They admit after several days of visiting with him that they do not know which of the two offices Daniel will seek, but they will give odds that it will be the senate.

Neighbors Comment

A Liberty merchant put it this way:

"Price Daniel has been fighting against the Truman tidelands steal and other federal encroachments several years. He never gives up. He has some unfinished business in Washington, some scores to settle with those who robbed this state, and you can bet that we will win the tidelands in Congress if Price Daniel gets a seat in the United States Senate."

A county official and former law partner also believes Daniel has his eye on Washington and is waiting only for a decision by Governor Shivers that he will run for re-election instead of the Senate. This man said:

"Price is a natural-born fighter, smart in the books, a forceful speaker, and honest as the day is long. His heart is in the fight to save the tidelands for Texas schools, and he will jump at the chance to run for the Senate because he believes the fight can be won there."

The homefolks would be proud to see Daniel run for either governor or senator, and judging from the way they talk and the way they voted in his last contested race, they will support him strong for either job. His home county gave him a vote of 4944 to 778 for his opponent in 1946, the largest majority received by any state official in his own county. In the last two elections Daniel has been unopposed for Attorney General.

When asked for a preference, Liberty people almost invariably speak of the Senate. The reason is clear. They are fed up on the scandals of the Truman administration, mad about the tidelands grab, tired of government waste and extravagance, and displeased with the foreign policy in China and Korea.

They believe Price Daniel has the nerve to oppose these things and to "fight for Texas and for honesty in government", as one man put it. They point to his fight against organized crime in Texas and predict that he would be as good as Kefauver or Fulbright in investigating corruption and demanding a housecleaning in the federal government.

Above all, they point out that Daniel has to obligations to the Truman administration which would interfere with or slow up his work. They recall that Daniel came out boldly, last October, against the renomination of President Truman and said Texas should lead the way in finding a Democratic nominee who would respect and uphold the Texas Annexation Agreement.

Expect January Decision

It won't be long now. Sometime in January Price Daniel will announce one way or the other, for senator or governor. Liberty folks are for him win, lose or draw, but they'll quickly tell you that on his record Price is not a "loser" or "drawer" but always a winner.

This is backed up by a set of solid facts which go back to his boyhood when he delivered the Beaumont Enterprise and Houston Post in the mornings and ran a laundry route in the afternoons.

It continued when he went to Fort Worth to attend high school where he won every debate championship, edited a weekly magazine for Fort Worth high schools, and was a cub reporter for the Star-Telegram.

At Baylor University he majored in journalism before taking law. He edited the campus daily "The Lantern" and the yearbook "The Round-Up" and served as a reporter for the Waco News Tribune, Holds A. B., LL.B., and LL.D. degrees from Baylor.

Returning to Liberty, Daniel hung out his shingle as a lawyer and became co-publisher of the Liberty Vindicator and the Anahuac Progress. He served two years as president of the local Chamber of Commerce, was president and teacher of a men's bible class and Master of the Masonic Lodge.

During his eleven years as a lawyer-publisher, he served six years in the House of Representatives and was elected speaker of the house as another tribute to his leadership.

The armed services saw Daniel's leadership in two branches, the Army and the Marine Corps. Waiving his legislative exemption, he entered the army as a private and emerged as a captain. He saw service with the Marine Corps in Japan on special assignment from the Army.

As attorney general, Daniel has gained nationwide attention for his tidelands defense and his fight against organized crime. On the latter, he was complimented in the final report of the Kefauver committee.

At 41, with a long list of achievements behind him, he is still just "Price" to young and old alike in Liberty. They are ready to help him make another step up, and if they have their wish, it will be in the direction of Washington, D. C., and the United States Senate.

ly took a stand with ranchmen, seemed to be willing to accept the bill in its present form to get Mexican national labor, Wilson said.

"Why do we have no labor?" Wilson queried then answered with:

"One man is responsible — the President of the United States. The Agriculture Department has informed him that more land in cultivation is needed and that more production is necessary for the country's needs. But he has promised the president of Mexico that penal legislation will be enacted before there is a labor contract. That is a promise the executive branch has no business making. He is using the farmers and ranchers as a club to beat Congress into line. And the farmers are willing to sell their soul to get a few cotton-pickers."

The feeling apparently was strong against the search and seizure clause of the Walters bill, as well as the harboring and concealing provisions which would provide, of itself, a penalty for working wetbacks. Penrose Metcalfe, a vice president of the organization, said that he was willing to go so far as to demand no contract at all if it included the search and seizure provision. Many others expressed similar opinions.

It was also deemed advisable by the directors to gather data on a prevailing wage rate for ranching areas so that this could be presented during contract negotiations with Mexico. At present the agreement, as drafted by the Mexican government, demands that ranch laborers be paid at least $100 per month, plus board.

Discussion on formation of an association to provide and assist in the processing of Mexican nationals in the event of legislation and later contracts with Mexico centered on the advisability of a single large or several small groups. It was decided that further action along this line be tabled until the legislation was enacted.

Generally, expressions dwelt on the fact that ranchmen were only a small group in the overall picture of the immigration problem. That they were opposed to illegal importations of aliens was emphasized, but they denounced the penalty provision, the search and seizure section, and the vagueness of the bill.

John T. Williams, Sanderson wool merchant, is president of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association and called the special meeting of the directors of the organization.

During his eleven years as a lawyer-publisher, he served six years in the House of Representatives and was elected speaker of the house as another tribute to his leadership.

As attorney general, Daniel has gained nationwide attention for his tidelands defense and his fight against organized crime. On the latter, he was complimented in the final report of the Kefauver committee.

HEALTH TALKS — WHO GETS TB?

Some people are of the opinion tuberculosis strikes only certain ages or physical types. There are some misinformed individuals who feel that they are too young, too old, or "too fat and healthy" to get tuberculosis.

Tuberculosis is not discriminating. It attacks young, middle-aged, rich and poor, the thin, the fat, and those with "Hollywood measurements."

Although children get tuberculosis less frequently than adults, the disease annually kills about 100 children in this country under 15 years of age. Very young children who get tuberculosis, however, frequently get an acute form of the disease known as tuberculous meningitis, a type almost invariably fatal until recent years when the drug, streptomycin, came into use and has helped save many people with tuberculous meningitis.

Tuberculosis strikes frequently in teen-agers and young adults and leads all diseases as a cause of death in the age group from 15 to 35.

But tuberculosis is also a serious enemy of the older age groups and more than half the deaths due to tuberculosis are among people 45 years of age and over.

There is no particular physical type which is most likely either to get or escape tuberculosis. Among its victims are tall, slim persons, the short and husky, and those of medium weight and height. By the same token, tuberculosis also attacks people from all walks of life — students, housewives, laborers, factory workers and professional men and women.

Since there is no "safe" age or type of person as far as tuberculosis is concerned, doctors recommend that every adult 15 years of age and over have a chest X-ray at least once a year. For the X-ray can detect signs of tuberculosis even in an early symptomless stage, among people who are seemingly healthy.

Tuberculosis is spread by people who have active TB. Most children who get the disease get it from an adult with whom they are in close contact. Parents who form the wise habit of getting regular chest X-rays are keeping a check on the health of their own lungs and at the same time are helping guard their children against TB.

Children's sweaters don't have the hand-me-down look when with all-purpose dye they're converted into a bright, beautiful new color with a personal touch added. Simple embroidery down the front is a dainty finish for a young girl's sweater. A wool applique football is fine for a boy's. *

Dry wet woollens in a warm room but not too near heat. That goes for wet leather shoes, too. When woollens are dry brush with a soft but firm-bristled clothes brush. When wet shoes are dry brush off dirt and give a thorough polishing with a good wax-liquid or paste polish. *

Rev. Claude Bridges Continues Series Of Special Sermons

A large and interested congregation heard the pastor, Rev. Claude Bridges, of the First Baptist Church bring his fourth message on the book of Romans. The subject of the Sunday morning was "Four Ships." The authorship, the Apostle Paul, was presented by Rev. Bridges as the greatest preacher that ever lived. "Paul, according to his own statement, never did live at all. He said, 'For me to live is Christ,'" stated Rev. Bridges. "Yes, just Christ living over again in him. And that is what Jesus Christ wants to do in every believer in Sanderson," he continued. "Then there was the next ship, 'The Relationship,'" said Bridges. "Certainly the greatest thing that can come to any person is to be one a child of God; related by Divine sonship. And if we are true children of God there will be a real love and a glorious fellowship with God as father and all of God's children. There may be a denominational difference, but every true child of God loves every other child of God."

"The last Ship was one of wonderful privilege; that of 'Discipleship,'" he concluded.

"Paul declared himself a bond-servant of the Lord Jesus Christ. Certainly the most wonderful thing in this world is to be a servant of His."

The picture for next Sunday night, February 10, will be "The Voice of the Deep." "This is a picture of the most wonderful colors made under water. One sees all kind of life and hears all kind of sounds. Even fish have a definite language of their own," stated Rev. Bridges and he extended a cordial invitation to everyone to attend the services.

Bridges stated that much interest is being shown in the sound color films by Dr. Irwin A. Moon, world renowned scientist now with the Moody Bible Institute. Dr. Moon is editor of many books on science that are used as text books in our high schools.

How firm a FOUNDATION

The foundation under your home means the difference between strong, sound, enduring home and one that is constantly in trouble. If doors sag and windows rattle, if walls crack and floors creak, if the roof leaks, wood rot, termites go to work... these are that a faulty foundation at the bottom of your trouble.

So whether you are going to build, buy, or already own a home make sure of your foundation. See to it that your foundation is suited to your climate, site, and soil. In cold climates foundation walls and footings should go below the frost line (in both basement and basement-less homes) so that the house won't shift and crack.

In warm weather zones, foundations need not be so deep, may even, in some cases, be on the ground. Unless your house is on a slab foundation, however, make sure that there is space for air to circulate under the house. Your site and soil also help determine the type of foundation that is best. Rocky soil is solid to dig on but expensive to excavate, sandy soil or loam with gravel drains well but must be stable, and built on low, wet or filled land is subject to a gamble. Check the foundation of other homes nearby, and get advice of your local lumber dealer who knows from experience the type of foundations have proved most successful.

Shall we have a BASEMENT?

In determining whether or not you will have a basement under your house, the problem will pretty well solve itself if you first consider these things:

- What kind of climate do you have? In warm climates, basementless houses are generally more popular, principally because foundations need not be so deep as in colder climates where they must go below the frost line. However, if for some reason, you must dig deep foundations anyway, it is usually more practical to include a basement.
What kind of soil do you have? Excavation costs run high in rocky soil, and low, wet land may require costly waterproofing for a satisfactory basement. On the other hand, if the soil is sandy or has loam or gravel, and is drained, you can have a good basement.
Are you building on a sloping site? On sloping sites, a basement is more expensive to build and may prove for a basement garage, a recreation room, or valuable space for heating equipment and storage.
How are you going to heat your house? A basement is necessary for radiant gravity hot-water and warm-air heat systems; while forced warm air and water heating systems, including radiant heating, can usually be installed in houses with or without basements.

TOM MILLER AKTNA LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY Del Rio - Sanderson

From where I sit... by Joe Marshall Experienced Hand Wanted

Cappy Miller's back from visiting relatives and tells about a big snow storm that knocked out the electric power for miles around.

Naturally, the local power company was doing everything possible to restore service but folks kept calling in and one woman gave them a new twist.

"I don't mind not having lights," she grumbled, "but I've got 20 cows in my barn and they all have to be milked by machine. Nobody around here knows how to milk a cow by hand any more."

From where I sit, it's only too easy to forget how to do something—even as simple as milking a cow—if we don't keep at it. And that goes for practicing tolerance, too. Like forgetting our neighbor has a right to decide for himself whether or not to enjoy a temperate glass of beer. If we don't keep the other fellow's point of view in mind we're all liable to get "snowed under" by intolerance.
