LISTEN TO LUKE

Last Saturday this columnist had the honor to be at the informal dinner where General Eisenhower spoke at the Baker Hotel in Dallas. It was an honor because the General is an able man and a great speaker. The fact that he is seeking the nomination on the Republican ticket as candidate for the highest office in the United States has added significance to the opportunity of hearing and seeing him.

The time has come in the American life when every voter and every citizen must be impressed by the gravity of the political situation and be alert to gain the views of all aspirants to public office at whatever level of government. The belief in the American way of life is of far greater importance to the life and liberty of the American people than any party name. After hearing the General speak I am in better position to form an opinion as to his qualifications than I would have had I stayed away.

Many developments can and may come to light that will alter the opinion of many of us. We must determine to choose leaders who will carry out the precepts of government that have been the cornerstones upon which this nation was built. I am not interested in the Republican fight for who shall be seated in the national convention. I am not interested in that party winning the election, nor the way the next President spells his name, but I am sincerely and deeply interested in what he can do to straighten the mess that Harry has left us in.

He made it quite plain to his listeners in Dallas Saturday that honor and integrity in government are essential to the welfare and the cause of American liberty. Thomas Jefferson, in speaking four own government years ago, outlined a similar pattern when he stated:

"I place economy among the first and most important virtues and public debt as the greatest dangers to be feared. To preserve our independence, we must not let our leaders load us with perpetual debt. We must make our choice between economy and liberty, or profusion and servitude. The same prudence which in private life would forbid our paying for money for unexplained projects, forbids it in the disposition of public money. We are endeavoring to reduce the government to the practice of rigid economy to avoid burdening the people and giving the magistrate with a straggle of money which might be used to corrupt the principle of government."

These principles of government do not seem easy to associate with what is now being called the Democratic party by the socialist bureaucratic regime now in power. They have gone a long way from the Democratic principles as expressed by Thomas Jefferson.

Mr. Truman has been terribly set lately by some of the spendings of privately owned power companies. The evil things, he says, are spending millions and millions of dollars in advertising to influence "mass mind" against public power. These millions would otherwise go into taxes so that his bureaucratic hijackers could use it for political propaganda and to influence the same "mass mind" that they are getting something out of through public power. The President was terribly upset at the action of the private companies and their "vicious" propaganda spending. So much was he disturbed that he may ask the new Attorney General to see whether their actions were not a violation of the Corrupt Practices Act. If they were not spending that money to influence mass minds there would be millions more that the "Deer Deal" would have to spend their pet projects such as pub-

First of Soil Movies Shown Saturday

The first in a series of movies to be shown this year was presented by the Sanderson F. F. A. Chapter Saturday in the high school auditorium. Several ranchers and F. F. A. boys were present.

The movie, entitled "Grassland", stressed the importance of every man, woman and child putting forth their efforts to conserve our soil and in turn conserve our grass.

Regardless of our profession, we "Regardless of our profession, we are either directly or indirectly affected by soil erosion. Soil produces grass, grass produces wool and wool produces our clothing," the movie commentator stated.

It continued: "More grass means more money. More money means a higher standard of living. A challenge is before us. Each one must do his part."

The next movie, entitled "Richer Range Rewards", will be shown July 16 at the high school. All ranchers and people interested in ranching are invited to attend.

Several F. F. A. boys are selling subscriptions to the "Soil and Water" magazine. This is a non-profit magazine owned by the soil conservation districts of Texas. C. C. Mitchell is offering a hat to the boy that sells the most subscriptions.

lic power. It is outrageous. The ex-haberdasher has been quoted as saying that this group is deliberately trying to manipulate people's opinions by "appealing to their emotions and not their reason."

Imagine that expression coming from the one who perfected the technique of demagogic appeals to the emotions of the people, rather than to their sense of reason. After having the pattern of such appeal set by the President of the United States it is no wonder that many people have lost all sense of proportion and perspective in their approach to the many confusing problems.

lease received from the Bartlesville, Okla., offices of the company.

At total depth of 14,522 feet, the well had penetrated 917 feet into the Ellenburger dolomite carrying gas from 13,924 to total depth.

Additionally, a tight gas zone was encountered between 13,707-13,817 feet. It is expected that several hundred feet of this formation should be encountered below the present total depth.

After setting casing (5½ inch) at 14,485 feet, the bottom 37 feet of open hole had a potential of nine million cubic feet of gas daily. After acidization, this section had a potential of 60 million cubic feet daily.

A 60-foot section between 14,400 and 14,460 feet, which had been perforated, showed a potential of 20 million cubic feet per day. This section was not acidized.

A third test through perforations between 14,090-14,295 feet gave a natural potential of 16 million cubic feet daily. Shut-in pressures averaged approximately 4,450 pounds per square inch.

Phillips is proceeding to test two additional zones within this formation. No oil or distillate was reported.

The Ellenburger was topped at 13,605 feet on elevation of 3,369 feet.

The discovery is located at the approximate center of the 23,000-acre Glenna block of full interest leases owned by Phillips. In addition to the Glenna block, Phillips has in this area numerous large lease blocks totaling more than 200,000 acres.

Seven outposts and offsets to the No. 1 Glenna have been staked by Phillips. These include four Ellenburger tests and three Permian tests. Drilling has commenced on three of these wells. The Ellenburger tests will drill to 15,000, while the Permian projects will test to 3,000 feet. The No. 1 Glenna was reported to have logged Permian oil.

The discovery, now testing on perforations above 14,090 feet, is the fourth deepest producer of either oil or gas in the United States.

The U. S. production record is held by a California well, Standard Oil Co. of California No. 5 Mushrush. This well produces from above total depth of 15,530 feet.

The only other producers deeper than Phillips No. 1 Glenna are Shell Oil Co. No. 1 Gonstulin in Louisiana, producing from pay above total depth of 15,336 feet; and Denver Oil Co. No. 1 School Land in Oklahoma, producing from pay above total depth of 14,460 feet.

Phillips did not report oil or distillate shows in the No. 1 Glenna.

Location is 665 feet from north and 660 feet from west lines of section 28-101 TCR survey, 30 miles southeast of Fort Stockton.

WHERE EISENHOWER STANDS

By RAYMOND PITCAIRN, Editor Americans for Eisenhower

REAL GRASS ROOTS

The national trend toward Eisenhower for President had its start among the people. Among the beginnings of this grass-roots movement was a petition poll, asking Ike to run, taken of all the voters in the borough of Bryn Athyn, Montgomery County, Pa. The result was astonishing: 78%, including Democrats, asked Eisenhower to run as the Republican candidate.

Poll at Gettysburg

Preparations are under way for a house-to-house poll of the historic town of Gettysburg and neighboring communities in Adams County. Your columnist outlined the reasons for drafting Eisenhower at the organization meeting of the Gettysburg Chapter of Americans for Eisenhower in the following address:

The Man and the Crisis

The world comes to Gettysburg for inspiration in human leadership; for this was the soul of Lincoln. As in his time, our country must combat sinister forces that threaten human liberty not in America alone but throughout the world.

In times of crisis men are raised up by the Divine Providence to guide the nations. Today the man who looks on the world horizon as best qualified to lead America and the world is Dwight D. Eisenhower.

A Great Statesman

We are met tonight to petition General Eisenhower to run for the great office of President of the United States.

"This great American's statesman-

IT'S THE LAW in Texas A public service feature of the State Bar of Texas

The privilege or rule against self-incrimination makes news from time to time in connection with court proceedings and legislative committee hearings. The statement, "I refuse to answer on the grounds that it may tend to incriminate me", has become familiar to many. Some do not understand the background of the legal principle which allows a person to remain mute in such circumstances.

Lawyers say this is one of the most important basic rights of the individual in this country. The Fifth Amendment of our Federal Constitution provides that "no person shall be compelled in any criminal case to be a witness against himself." The early American statesmen insisted that this guarantee become a part of our law for excellent reasons.

The doctrine against self-incrimination is most probably an outgrowth of "trial by ordeal" practiced in the ancient days of England. A person accused of a criminal offense had to plead either 'guilty' or 'not guilty' at the time he was arraigned for trial, and still does today. However in those days the accused had neither the benefit of counsel nor the right to testify in his own defense, and either plea ultimately amounted to just about the same thing.

If the accused pleaded 'guilty' he was hung a little sooner than was the case if he pleaded 'not guilty'. This situation, understand-ship has already been well proven by his ability to compose the differences and enlist the cooperation of other strong and able men.

"He has demonstrated his ability to stand firm against the pressure of friends, the assaults of enemies, and the cunning devices of self-seekers. He has shown genius in determining the time for important action, and calm courage in acting when the time has come. He has proved that he can discover and inspire whatever of goodwill and cooperation is in men's hearts and minds. He has revealed outstanding executive ability to lead, rather than compel, other men to work and act together for so much of a cause as they can agree upon and support in unity.

The Man to Unite Us

"His force of character is governed by patience—patience with which to await the appointed hour, the free cooperation of others, and the guidance of Almighty God.

"Eisenhower is the one man who can unite all Americans who are determined to restore our country and its government to integrity and sanity. He is the one man who can effectively enlist world cooperation and respect in our dealings with friendly nations.

"By firmness of policy, soundly based upon experience, Eisenhower can also do more to secure respect from our enemies and thereby prevent another world war than can any other living American.

"He is the man of the hour, not by his own striving or seeking, but by his wisdom and fitness for the work which the hour demands."

ably enough, caused many persons charged with crime to stand silent on arraignment and not plead either way. When that happened, the accused was subjected to torture to induce him to plead one way or the other.

Incredible methods of making a person talk were used with almost total success. In some cases the accused was placed in close confinement with a bit of bread to eat one day, a sip of water the next, and so on from day to day until he consented to plead or died of starvation.

On other occasions heavy weights were placed on his chest above the heart and attendants stood on the weights, or he might have been forced to recline on a bed of sharpened stakes. Investigations in those days arose primarily because of alleged dereliction from the rules of the church.

With memories of such atrocities, it is plain to see why the colonists from England made sure that such practices would be prohibited by their fundamental laws.

The privilege against self-incrimination is not only incorporated in the Federal Bill of Rights, but is also guaranteed under the constitution of all but two of the 48 states. Our Texas Constitution provides that an accused "shall not be compelled to give evidence against himself."

The right of a witness to refuse to answer on these grounds has been repeatedly sustained by the courts of the United States. Although the U. S. Supreme Court has not directly passed on the question of self-incrimination before a legislative committee, there is a fair inference that the privilege established by the Fifth Amendment protects witnesses in Congressional investigations as well as in judicial proceedings.

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts, because the facts may change the application of the law.)

ANOTHER MINK COAT SCANDAL

Warm Weather Increases Danger of Food Poisoning

Bacteria grow more readily in warm weather and this increases the danger of food poisoning, Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer warns. Since modern refrigeration, public health has improved. However, cases of food poisoning do occur, in spite of the more healthful measures of storing food.

Sickness from food poisoning usually strikes quickly and explosively, and those who do not eat the infected food escape. Usually in one to four hours after eating contaminated food, victims feel ill. If it is a mild case of poisoning, recovery usually begins in eight to twelve hours, but victims may feel the ill effects for several days.

Another important safeguard to prevent food contamination is that the hands of the person who prepares the food be scrupulously clean, and free from cuts and sores of any kind.

Usual symptoms of food poisoning are diarrhea, nausea, vomiting, abdominal cramps, and weakness. Whenever you feel these symptoms be sure to call your physician. Do not wait, hoping it will wear off; sometimes food poisoning is fatal.

The staphylococcus organism grows best in foods which are slightly fatty, such as fat meats, salads with rich dressing, cream pies, cream puffs, or any food with custard fillings. So if anyone in your family takes his lunch to work during the coming hot months, be careful of the foods you put in the lunch, and don't include any of these foods.

Tea and Lecture Saturday Closes Garden Club Year

For the last meeting of the club year, the Sanderson Garden Club entertained with a tea Friday afternoon at the ranch home of Mrs. H. A. Smith to present Mrs. Chester Kilpatrick of San Antonio who was a guest of Mrs. W. T. Bondurant. Mrs. O. T. Suduth was co-hostess for the occasion.

The tea table was arranged on the front porch and the guests were served upon arrival. The tea table was laid in green and white and centered with an all-white arrangement made by Mrs. T. R. Arrington, club president. The same color scheme was noted in all of the appointments and the refreshments of punch and sandwiches.

Mrs. Kilpatrick chose for her subject, "Summer Arrangements from Roadside and Gardens." As different arrangements were mentioned in the course of her lecture, Mrs. W. G. Downie presented an arrangement of that class. The twelve arrangements were made from at least three-fourths native material including rocks, sotol, sumac, greasewood, yucca, tree stumps, and flowers from the gardens of several of the club members. Mrs. Kilpatrick made one all-white arrangement.

Mrs. Kilpatrick is the president of the Garden Center of San Antonio which represents about seventy-three garden clubs with a membership of over two thousand. She is state flower show judge and after completing a judges' school in San Antonio on July 8, 9 and 10, she will be a nationally accredited flower show judge. The local club members considered themselves fortunate to secure her for the lecture which they shared with about twenty invited guests. Saturday afternoon, Mrs. Kilpatrick presided at a flower arranging clinic at the home of Mrs. Bondurant. Twelve members brought their containers and flowers for arrangements to be made for criticism or commendation. Eight members were present.

W. D. Casey, T&NO brakeman, has returned from a Houston hospital where he had major surgery. Mrs. Casey and Robert met him in San Antonio.

Phillips-Zuehl Rites Read in Del Rio

Miss Betty Zuehl, daughter of Mrs. O. Frederick Zuehl of Del Rio, became the bride of Lt. John Ben Phillips, son of Mrs. R. R. Milstead of Abilene, Saturday evening in St. James Episcopal Church in Del Rio with Rev. O. W. Nickle, rector of the church, officiating at the ceremony.

After a wedding trip to New Orleans, the couple will be at home in Fort Knox, Ky.

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, Jack E. Fokes, wore a ballerina-length gown of white tulle and imported Chantilly lace with bouffant skirt banded with a panel of the scalloped lace. The round shoulder-wide yoke joined the bodice of her gown with an edging of tiny tulle tucks and lace. Short sleeves were accented with long tulle gauntlets. Her waist-length veil of bridal illusion cascaded from a calot of tulle over satin and was appliqued with lace flowers in a pattern matching the lace of her gown. She carried a prayer book topped with gardenias and stephanotis.

A reception was held in the Roswell Hotel following the ceremony.

Mrs. Phillips was formerly a teacher in the Sanderson schools. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kerr, Jr., attended the wedding.

Whitey Sure "Rang the Bell"

Telephone woke me out of a sound sleep last Friday about eleven-thirty. "This is Whitey Fisher out on River Road," says a voice. "I just wanted to tell you how much I like this week's Clarion."

"Thanks, Whitey," I told him. "But why in blazes call to tell me at this time of night?" "Simple," he says, "your paper boy just delivered it a short while ago. Been waiting for it all evening."

Next day, Buzzy Wilson tells me he delivered Whitey's paper late because he stayed for the school dance and thought it would be OK to drop it off on his way home.

From where I sit, I can't blame Whitey for his joke. He was just reminding me we owe other people the same respect we expect from them. Since I'm always talking about respecting the other fellow's rights—including his right to enjoy a glass of beer if he chooses, it was only fair that Whitey should "wake me up" to his right to get his copy of the Clarion on time. Thanks again, Whitey!

DRINKS AND SNACKS FOR THE FOURTH

A HAPPY, care-free Fourth of July weekend can be yours. Of course you will have food on hand to feed your family regular meals, but see to it that there is an abundance of food and cold drink ingredients to take care of the off-schedule meals and snacks that will be required when the younger set pops in with the gang after their various activities. Let them help themselves, and take it easy!

Cold cuts, tinned meat spreads and a variety of cheeses for sandwiches are essential, and cookies and cakes, of course. In the cool drink department, pale dry ginger ale and bottled fruit-flavored carbonated drinks should be chilled, ready to use. Ice cream should be on hand to make delicious ice cream sodas. A glass of ginger ale with a generous scoop of ice cream added is a simple and popular soda. A strawberry soda can be made by placing two tablespoons crushed, sweetened berries in a tall glass and adding ice cream and ginger ale.

Here's a refresher everyone will like on a hot day.

California Cooler

1 pt. lemon ice 4 teaspoons lemon juice
1 28-oz. bottle pale dry ginger ale

Divide lemon ice and lemon juice among 4 tall glasses. Add ice cold pale dry ginger ale. Stir gently to mix. Fresh mint and a lemon slice make a pretty garnish.

State Health Dept. Outlines Plan For Future Polio Control

Austin, June 25 — A long-range battle plan against rampaging polio was outlined Wednesday by the State Department of Health.

State Health Officer Geo. W. Cox recommended these eight points of action in combatting the disease which this year is striking harder at Texas than at any other part of the nation.

1. Spot spray insect breeding places after they have been cleaned up and destroyed. Spraying immediately might kill a few insects on the wing, but it won't do the job. It might kill valuable plants and create a false sense of security.
2. Get rid of animal shelters in urban areas. They cannot be kept clean and consequently create a health hazard as fly breeders.
3. Get rid of dump piles, tin cans, old tires, and accumulated debris which breed flies and mosquitoes and provide harborage for rats.
4. Provide a properly operated sewage system, and get rid of all surface toilets. Dr. Cox believes surface toilets constitute one of the major health hazards facing Texas.
5. Provide a source of pure water.
6. Protect food supplies in wholesale business houses, retail shops, and in private homes.
7. Make regular inspection of all premises to see that no possibility exists for fly breeding. If you have flies, somebody is maintaining a breeding spot.
8. Garbage should be placed in fly-tight garbage cans until time of disposal. Tubs, boxes, lidless garbage cans, etc., are of no value.

He urged each home owner to assume responsibility for keeping his property clean, inside and out. This will help protect you and your neighbor. More people have been struck down by polio this year than ever before.

He said it takes months and months to clean up a city, and that it "takes forever to keep it that way." The program must be continuous. "It will take from one to five years to really clean up our larger cities," Cox stated.

"This is the same program we have followed and published for the past ten years. People have got to get over the notion that spraying alone will keep their city clean and fly free," Dr. Cox declared. "The only way to kill a fly menace is to do it methodically, block by block, by eliminating their breeding places."

"They may carry many diseases including diarrhea, typhoid fever, cholera, trachoma, just to mention a few. I firmly believe that if this 8-point program is invoked, we'll see a lessening of polio incidence in the future."

Bright Comedy Offers Fun For Family

An ingratiating comedy, "The Model and the Marriage Broker" which explodes with laughter minute and tears your heart out the next with its pathos. There is something in this picture for everyone and the three stars, Jeanne Crain, Scott Brady and Thelma Ritter, step forth triumphantly with performances of rare real raves.

Thelma Ritter, as the marriage broker, who assures her own lines by making matches for the shy and timid individuals in the world who want to get married but can't find a mate, strikes sympathetic chord. Her performance can be characterized only as brilliant and her comedy crackle with keen wit. Jeanne Crain, grown up and sophisticated is the lovely-to-look-at whose love affair with Scott Brady gives the picture a warm and human quality seldom achieved on the screen.

The laughter is spontaneous throughout the picture. There is never a dull moment. Put "The Model and the Marriage Broker" on your movie club as a "must." You'll be delighted that you did.
