SANDERSON, TEXAS, FRIDAY, AUGUST 22, 1952

NUMBER 27

LISTEN TO LUKE

We have been asked to contact some of the older settlers of Terrell County to determine if there are any who can remember when this drought began. Jim Happle is the oldest-timer in this section who can almost always have an answer but he said he can only recall the beginning in 1901. He says the drought has been interrupted on a few occasions, but not for very long at a time.

Frank K. Harrell has been here longer than Mr. Happle but we haven't been able to contact him for a statement.

At any rate this drought is the "worst yet." You know every drought is "worse" than the other. Joe Nichols penned some of his sheep the other day to cut out some lambs for a feeding project and said he was surprised to find them in fair shape even though he has had less than four inches of rain in the past fourteen months.

A lot of people in this country raise the lecheguilla and cactus on the ranches, but the Lord knew more about ranching when he put this country here than most of the ranchers know themselves. That lecheguilla ad cactus has been a lifesaver for years and unless different kinds of "deals" in Washington decide to get rid of it this will always be a good ranching country, year in and year out. Don't let a bunch of "carpet-baggers" talk you into cutting it off your ranch if you expect to continue in the ranching business.

This is the best sheep country in Texas. Of course every rancher will have hard years but they have always pulled out of it in good years. Many of the old-timers accumulated a sizeable ranch and left it debt-free with plenty of stock to their offspring. Now if the heirs can't manage it, it is because they are depending on help from Washington instead of getting off their boot heels and working at the job.

This country needs rain and bad weather but the gripping in the world don't make rain. We have to tighten up our belts and take advantage of every means of saving and get to work at the job of doing the best we can until we do have a better season.

A minister last Sunday made a statement that got him in all the newspaper headlines. He wanted, possibly, more than he wanted to preach the gospel. Because Governor Adair was at his service he took the opportunity to call a minister a liar with a few adjectives. This column has some peculiar beliefs about a minister's responsibility and duties. Outside the pulpit, we believe a minister is just another citizen who has the American right to speak his mind concerning secular matters, political otherwise, but when he takes position in the pulpit and uses that position to call a man a liar because the other man is present to hear him, he puts himself in a worse position than all others in the world.

The Senator had stated that Stevenson was the worst governor Illinois had ever had. That was his opinion and who can question his right to think that? If the minister thinks Stevenson is the best governor, that doesn't necessarily make the minister a liar in the opinion of the Senator. The fact of the matter is that the minister thought that since Governor Stevenson was present in church he would make a big hit with him by calling his high estate as a minister to get a pat on the back from a governor.

Governor Stevenson has said: "We talk about and deplore incessantly the increasing centralization of power over our lives by Washington, but that tidal drift toward the capital will go on and on unless those necessary functions of government which don't have to be performed in Washington are Continued on page 2"

ONE BOX OPEN FOR VOTERS SATURDAY

Terrell County voters will make use of the one voting box at the courthouse in Sanderson to cast their vote in the Democratic runoff primary election. Saturday polls will open at 8 a. m. and close at 7 p. m.

W. W. Sudduth, chairman of the Democratic executive committee for the county, stated last week that the only contested race is for nomination to an associate justice post on the Texas Supreme Court.

Frank P. Culver of Fort Worth is in the run-off against Spurgeon Bell of Houston in the race.

The name of Martin Dies, unopposed for the post of Congressman at large for Texas, will also appear on Saturday's ballot.

No names will appear on the ballot for Justice of the Peace, Precinct 1, but that office will have to be filled by a write-in in the runoff since E. B. Eaton, present incumbent and high man in the July election, has announced that he did not want and would not accept the office for another term.

Famous Last Words - Stevenson Quoted On 'Nomination'

"I am pledged to run for governor. I must run for governor. I seek no other office." "Meet the Press" television program, Washington, March 30, 1952.

"I could not accept the nomination for any other office this summer." Springfield, Illinois, April 16. "The question (of being nominated for the presidency) is getting mighty tiresome to me. All I can add is I still want to be governor of Illinois as much as ever." Also in Springfield, Illinois, June 28.

"I would shoot myself if nominated. For the last time, I am not going to run for the Democratic presidential nomination. I am not interested in the job." Camp Riley, Minnesota, July 13.

"I am committed to run for governor of Illinois and finish up my program there." Camp Riley, Minnesota, July 14.

"I cannot conceive that, with all the willing candidates available and with all the talent and ability at its disposal, the Democratic Party would turn to an unwilling candidate who is running for another office." Chicago, July 18.

"I couldn't—wouldn't—did not wish to be a candidate for president. I have no fitness—temperamentally, mentally or physically—for the job. And I ask therefore, that you all abide by my wishes not to nominate me nor to vote for me if I should be nominated. I just don't want to be nominated." Caucus of the Illinois delegation, Chicago, July 20.

"Oh, how I wish I was in Peoria," Chicago, after his name was placed in nomination, July 24.

"I wish I could change places with you." On seeing a workman on the second floor of a building under repair in Chicago, July 25.

'Pilgrim's Progress' To Be Shown Sunday At Baptist Church

Rev. Claude Bridges, pastor of the First Baptist Church, has announced that a motion picture in color with sound effects, of the greatest story outside of the Bible, John Bunyan's "Pilgrim's Progress," will be shown at the church, Sunday night, August 24, at 8 o'clock.

"Real thrills await you as you follow Pilgrim through the Slough of Despond, his meeting Mr. Worldly Wise Man who falsely directs him to Mt. Sinai, his arrival at the wicket gate, and the house of the Interpreter," said Rev. Bridges. "What a joy it is when he loses his heavy load at the foot of the cross! Many adventures follow, and after Christian receives his armor at the Palace Beautiful, he has that breath-taking, life and death battle with Apollyon."

"No words can explain the thrill, impressions, inspiration and joy in this beautiful film. You will cry and laugh and thank God for the Christian organization of the Baptist Film Society." Rev. Bridges continued. The public is cordially invited to enjoy this wonderful film with the members of the Baptist Church.

There is no admission, but a free-will offering will be taken at the close of the service," Bridges stated. "Those who have received a blessing and want to have a part in the expense of the film may do so. Those who cannot are just as welcome as those who can."

Bob Weatherby of San Angelo visited here last week with his son, R. W. Weatherby, and family, and with his mother, Mrs. B. N. Weatherby.

Roping Club Prexy To Entertain With Barbecue at Ranch

Herman Chandler, president of the Sanderson Roping Club, has announced that he will be host to all persons of this area who are interested in the continuance of the club's activities, at a barbecue at his ranch on Saturday, August 30, at 4 p. m.

Chandler has worked hard for the past year as head of the club and has promoted several good shows here. Since he became president, there has been a great deal of money spent for new stock and improvements at the arena in the eastern part of town. The need now is for a grandstand for the comfort of the spectators, he said.

In announcing the free barbecue, Chandler stated that he intended to furnish the feed and get as many interested people there as possible so that plans for the future could be formed and work continue.

Interest has lagged at the last two events of the club, he said, and it is hoped that a revival of interest will result in building a grandstand and arousing the community interest. This past week end there were some of the top ropers of the area here and the spectators didn't click the turnstiles.

The barbecue will be at the Herman Chandler ranch on Independence.

In the two-day average goat roping Cliff Lowery was first with 22, John Ray Powell second with 23.4 and Jack Riggs third with 23.8.

In the matched roping events, some of the closest matches seen for many years were witnessed by spectators at the roping last week end. Gene Newman roped four calves against Jack Riggs. Newman's time was 58 and Riggs time was 78.6.

Pinky Carruthers roped three calves in 113.2 to beat George Fisher's 114.1.

Baker McGilvery roped four calves in 83.5 to beat Glenn Babb and his time of 119.4.

Jack Riggs roped and tied four calves in 68.8 to beat Glen Babb with 69.3.

Walton Poage roped and tied six calves in 90.9 to beat Buster Babb with 106.4.

 performed and properly performed at the state and local levels."

That tidal wave started under Roosevelt who found a total budget outlay when he went into office of $4.6 billion. When Truman goes out of office his successor will find a budget expenditure of $85.4 billion. That drift amounts to a 1,700 per cent increase in federal costs.

After 20 years of Democratic rule the drift in increasing the civil service rolls has been 1,100 per cent. In 1932 less than two million Americans got regular payments from the U. S. government. In 1952, the number is estimated at 24,000,000 persons.

The tidal drift has also drifted the tides of Texas to the government. That, too, is a Democratic drift.

A man who plants peanuts and doesn't sign up for the government program can't sell his peanuts. He fed his own peanuts to his own hogs. He had committed no crime yet, when the P. M. A. got on his trail, he was brought before a U. S. judge and fined $309.10. The crime he committed was that he didn't fill out a government form for the thirty-six bushels of peanuts that he raised and fed to his own hogs. Then there was the story of the high-ranking general who fed some government contracts that were worth millions of dollars to some favored friends, signed a pauper's oath and got out with a small jail sentence. The Democratic drift is that way.

Closer to home there was a rancher who was feeding out some steer calves for beef under contract to a chain of cafes. He had some twenty-five fat calves ready to deliver as the cafe needs required. Along comes a government "satchel" man who tells him he

'TRIP TO CANADA' DETAILS RELATED

by Jack Savage

July 25, Leaving Lake Louise, Alberta, Canada, early this morning and enjoying throughout the day the magnificent scenery of the Canadian Rockies, we camped that afternoon in Skookumchuk, British Columbia, Canada, near a small but beautiful stream. In this small stream we did our washing. After supper we just "sat around" and sang songs to the accompaniment of Rev. Hoggard's guitar and my uke. We were prohibited from building a fire in that place.

July 26 we camped in Spokane, Washington, U. S. A., having left Canada early that morning. On the outskirts of Spokane, our two vehicles became separated about noon; hence, we lost the entire afternoon trying to find each other. Finally, at sundown, we were united.

can not exceed his quota for a certain period. That leaves him with fat calves on his hand and he has to keep pouring the high-priced feed to them or turn them out and let the fat go to waste. If the cafe needs ten calves he can't supply them, even though he has them ready for delivery. That is some more of the Democratic drift going to Washington.

There is no need for the government officials trying to place the blame for those conditions on the failure of the lower levels of government. That condition has become a part of the political policy of a gang of usurpers of power who have no conception, at least in practice, of the fundamental principles of the Democratic Party.

Do you think Stevenson, running in the shadow of the leaders of the present administration and party, is the man to lead us out of this drift? What do you plan to do about it?

again, through the help of the city police.

July 27 we camped in Conley, Oregon. We were fortunate in that during the majority of the trip, we were able to camp near running water. We bought a fresh salmon and cooked it, finding it to be very delicious. We also went swimming in the first warm water we had encountered in a long time.

July 28 we camped near Bandon, Oregon. We saw the Pacific for the first time early that morning — quite a sight for desert-acclimated eyes. We passed many large trucks hauling huge timbers. Moreover, our camp was near a lumber mill. The atmosphere was heavy due to the nearness of the ocean, but the temperature was delightfully pleasant.

July 29 we camped near Ukiah, California. This day, in my opinion, was our most thrilling day. Our entire day's drive was along the Pacific and through the giant redwoods. For most, it was the first time to see and to play in the ocean. The trees were beyond comparison and description. One could truly see and believe that only God could create such marvels of nature. That day we covered over 400 miles of scenic highway. We saw a small forest fire just before we camped.

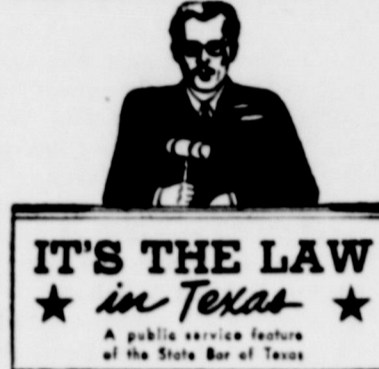

July 30 we camped near Fresno, California. Early that morning we crossed the longest suspension bridge in the world — the Golden Gate. We also crossed the Bay Bridge — the very longest bridge in the world. It rained some and we went swimming. We were now heading south and toward home.

July 31 and August 1 we camped near Winslow, Arizona. To get there we drove almost continuously for 35 hours. We drove in relays — two would drive while two would sleep in the pickup. Our drive through King's Canyon and Sequoia National Parks was most inspiring. We stayed at Grand Canyon only a short time, then resumed our journey.

Leaving Winslow, we drove 22 straight hours to reach home. Near our last night's camp, occurred a bad car accident. Learning that we could be of no assistance, we drove on. The drive home was uneventful, with the exception of our passing through a cloudburst between Las Cruces, N. M., and El Paso. Bill and Buck decided to stay in El Paso while the rest of us drove on into Sanderson and we arrived home at 5:15 a. m. Sunday.

Home Buyer's Attorney Performs Varied Functions

When the real estate sales contract provides that the seller is to furnish to the buyer an abstract of title, then it is up to the latter to employ an attorney who will examine the abstract. After the examination, the lawyer will give the buyer a written opinion as to whether or not the seller has a good marketable title. If the title is defective, then his opinion will state what action is necessary to bring it up to par.

In addition, the attorney usually advises on important matters not revealed by an abstract. He will ascertain whether any delinquent taxes exist against the property. He will check on the possibility of some third party being in possession, claiming the property as his own. He will determine whether a survey has been made so that the buyer may know that required footage is there and that the neighbor's fence, driveway, etc. is not encroaching upon the property being purchased. He will explain the practical effect of each legal paper which you agree to accept in closing the deal.

If the contract of sale provides that the seller is to furnish the buyer a title insurance policy, then the latter should employ an attorney to examine the policy offered and advise him on other details in closing the transaction. The fact that an attorney designated by the title insurance company examines the title is not sufficient to protect the purchaser in every respect.

A title insurance policy is similar in principle to a fire insurance policy. Just as you insure against damage caused by fire, so you can insure yourself against damage caused by failure of title. As is also common with fire insurance policies, you must be named as the insured in the policy, in order to collect the proceeds. You cannot recover more than the amount stated on the policy even though the damage caused by the fire or the title failure is greater than that amount. The property insured must be accurately described in the policy. There are exceptions to the coverage which may cause harm to a particular buyer who is not aware of their meaning, or even of their existence.

Insurance companies, in order to stay in business, cannot afford to accept too great a risk in proportion to the premium charged. A fire insurance underwriter decides whether your house is a safe fire risk for his company in view of the coverage provided by the fire insurance policy. An attorney hired by the title insurance company decides whether your property is a safe title risk for his company in view of the coverage provided by the title insurance policy. Making such decision is the sole obligation of that attorney in the transaction. He is not in a position that enables him to advise you as to the quality of the title you are acquiring — his only duty is to his client, the title insurance company.

It might also be said that an attorney who passes on the title for the mortgage lender is in the same position. His main obligation in the transaction is to advise his client on whether your title is adequate security for the loan, which is for quite a different purpose than if his client was buying the place, as you are doing, for use as a home.

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform — not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts, because the facts may change the application of the law.)

-1195 extra pounds of it!
—to cut your costs, increase your profits!

GMC engineering brings you this great new Model 470 highway tractor that hauls up to 1,195 pounds more cargo than any other vehicle in the 45,000 gross weight class.

Here are the reasons why. It will pay you to study them carefully.

- Sensational new engine. Model 470 is powered by GMC's new 145 h. p. valve-in-head "302" engine — the most powerful gasoline engine for its weight in truck history.
- Maximum power-to-weight ratio. The "302" engine weighs as much as 500 pounds less than other engines of comparable power, due to new high efficiency design.
- Highest Compression — 7.2 to 1 — exceeds any other standard gasoline truck engine, accelerates faster. Delivers full power at an easy-stroking 3,200 r.p.m.
- More ton-miles per gallon — less dead weight in engine and chassis means more profit in every mile.
- Highest payload capacity — upwards of one-half ton greater than any other tractor of the same GCW rating.
- Price—the biggest surprise of all. Compare the price you have to pay for this pace-setting GMC against the field. Nowhere else will so little buy so much in a 3- to 4½-ton tractor.

Why not come in and see for yourself!

WHERE EISENHOWER STANDS

By RAYMOND PITCAIRN, Editor
Americans for Eisenhower

REAL GRASS ROOTS

The national trend toward Eisenhower for President had its start among the people. Among the beginnings of this grass-roots movement was a petition poll, asking Ike to run, taken of all the voters in the borough of Bryn Athyn, Montgomery County, Pa. The result was astonishing: 78%, including Democrats, asked Eisenhower to run as the Republican candidate.

Poll at Gettysburg

Preparations are under way for a house-to-house poll of the historic town of Gettysburg and neighboring communities in Adams County. Your columnist outlined the reasons for drafting Eisenhower at the organization meeting of the Gettysburg Chapter of Americans for Eisenhower in the following address:

The Man and the Crisis

"The world comes to Gettysburg for inspiration in human leadership; for this was the soul of Lincoln. As in his time, our country must combat sinister forces that threaten human liberty not in America alone but throughout the world. In times of crisis men are raised up by the Divine Providence to guide the nations. Today the man who looms on the world horizon as best qualified to lead America and the world is Dwight D. Eisenhower."

A Great Statesman

"We are met tonight to petition General Eisenhower to run for the great office of President of the United States. This great American's statesmanship has already been well proven by his ability to compose the differences and enlist the cooperation of other strong and able men. He has demonstrated his ability to stand firm against the pressure of friends, the assaults of enemies, and the cunning devices of self-seekers. He has shown genius in determining the time for important action, and calm courage in acting when the time has come. He has proved that he can discover and inspire whatever of goodwill and cooperation is in men's hearts and minds. He has revealed outstanding executive ability to lead, rather than compel, other men to work and act together for so much of a cause as they can agree upon and support in unity.

The Man to Unite Us

"His force of character is governed by patience—patience with which to await the appointed hour, the free cooperation of others, and the guidance of Almighty God. Eisenhower is the one man who can unite all Americans who are determined to restore our country and its government to integrity and sanity. He is the one man who can effectively enlist world cooperation and respect in our dealings with friendly nations. By firmness of policy, soundly based upon experience, Eisenhower can also do more to secure respect from our enemies and thereby prevent another world war than can any other living American. He is the man of the hour, not by his own striving or seeking, but by his wisdom and fitness for the work which the hour demands."

HEALTH FOR ALL—

ALWAYS TIRED?

We all know at least one person who complains of feeling "tired all the time." Not all these complaints can be dismissed as laziness. In addition to robbing a person of his zest for life, chronic fatigue can be a symptom of serious illness.

Fatigue, in itself, is actually a good thing. For it is the body's warning that it has had enough physical or mental activity for the time being and needs restoration of its energy in the form of sleep and rest. Or, especially in the case of persistent tiredness, it is the body's signal that something is seriously wrong and a checkup with the doctor is in order.

Some of us who suffer from chronic fatigue can easily supply the answers ourselves for a "cure." We are depriving ourselves of sleep and rest, or we are not eating enough of the right kinds of food to keep body energy high. This calls for a simple prescription of getting to bed on time and eating three good, well-balanced meals.

But if fatigue persists for no explanation, the best thing for the sufferer is a prompt visit to his doctor for a general health check-up. Prolonged and unexplained fatigue can be one of the symptoms of such serious diseases as a heart ailment, tuberculosis, cancer, nutritional disease, or anemia. The doctor is the only one to detect the source of the trouble and give the patient relief as well as check the progress of the disease.

Too many of us suffer from a form of chronic tiredness known as "emotional fatigue." The phrase simply means that the person is wasting his precious stores of energy in worry, frustration, resentment or boredom, instead of expending it in hard work he enjoys, hobbies, and pleasant social contacts.

It may not be literally true that "hard work never killed anyone." But it is a fact that people who work hard enough and enjoy what they are doing seldom have to seek medical advice for either unexplained or emotional fatigue.

Whether chronic tiredness is due to organic or emotional upset, the doctor is the one to get to the root of the trouble, help the sufferer regain his energy, and, in the final analysis, restore his enjoyment of living.

"What this country needs is government officials with the courage to admit that controls mean shortages."

WORDS OF WISDOM — John Stuart Mill in 1860 on Representative Government:

A people may prefer a free government, but if, from indolence, or carelessness, or cowardice, or want of public spirit, they are unequal to the exertions necessary of preserving it; if they will not fight for it when it is directly attacked, if they can be deluded by the artifices used to cheat them out of it; if by momentary discouragement or temporary panic, or a fit of enthusiasm for an individual, they can be induced to lay their liberties at the feet even of a great man, or trust him with powers which enable him to subvert their institutions — in all these cases they are more or less unfit for liberty; and though it may be for their good to have had it even for a short time.

TAKE YOUR CHOICE!

Whenever people gather to discuss the problem of the "isms" there is usually disagreement on which constitutes the worst threat to American liberty—Socialism or Communism. Ex-Communists, and almost invariably all persons who have taken active leadership in fighting Communism head-on, contend that international Communism is by far the greatest threat to our liberties.

Recently I've talked at length with Ted Kirkpatrick, the former FBI special agent who recently edited the anti-Communist publication COUNTERATTACK, with Matthew Cvetcic, who was a Communist nine years for the FBI; Dr. J. E. Matthews, leading American authority on Communist infiltration; Louis Budenz, former member of the American Communist politburo; and Ed Gibbons, editor of ALERT, the Pacific Coast anti-Communist newspaper. All consider international Communism, as represented in the world-girdling organization headquartered in Moscow and its powerful Fifth Column in America, the greatest danger confronting America.

Whittaker Chambers, who worked in the Soviet underground here, does too.

PINPOINTING THE BLAME

The tragic loss of our major ally, China, to the Communists, which the bi-partisan Senate Judiciary Committee has traced directly to Communist influence inside our government, strengthens the opinion of these men. Even so, the fact remains that for Communism to conquer our nation our industrial production must first be badly crippled and our people must be weaned away from their acceptance of the basic principles of our way of life. In other words, their will to fight for those principles must be weakened if the Reds hope to win.

It's my conviction that our nation's protective forces have at last been sufficiently alerted against the Fifth Column to prevent wholesale industrial sabotage. The gravest danger from the Communist propaganda aimed at the minds of our people and which seeks gradually to swing us, first, into an acceptance of socialistic measures, and then into full Communism by evolution or revolution. Therefore, Socialism, which is the first untraceable step of a nation heading downhill, is a menace so serious that its threat cannot be separated from that of Communism itself.

TWIN DANGERS

For years I've said that Communism and Socialism are Siamese twins; interrelated, inseparable. Socialism is defined as government ownership or control of the means of production and distribution. In economics, Communism requires exactly the same thing. The social philosophies, credos, differ at least on the surface. Some self-styled Socialists accept the idea of God. Communists don't. But every Communist intellectual I've ever come across speaks of Socialism as the philosophy of Communists.

What are the signs of growth of the Socialist idea in our own nation? There are many. Earl Browder, Communist leader who was booted out of the party for harboring questioning thoughts about Stalin, says the following measures are necessary in our nation in order for full State Socialism, or Communism, to eventually take over:

Steps Toward Communism
"Government deficit financing; manipulation of bank reserves; requirements; insurance of deposits; guarantee of mortgage control of bank credits; tinkering with the currency system; inflation of installment buying; price controls; agricultural credit; RFC loans to business concerns; social security systems; workers; various benefits for veterans; government housing; gling of the tax structure; government-organized foreign loans; mulated war armament production on a large scale."

Can a nation employ these measures and still not have Socialism? It certainly can't. Ours has. The grave danger as Browder and all Socialists fully affirm, is that all of these measures are giving the government more and more power and control in the nation's economy. As it takes control, the people lose it—in exact ratio. The simple mathematical fact is that the government largely controls the economy it is a Socialist government. That's also a fact. And still a third fact is that human liberty has never survived in a Socialist State. Stalin would say to Americans: "Take your choice — Communism or Socialism — we'll get you either way!"

Our choice should obviously be Freedom—a breaking of government's control over our economy.
