LISTEN TO LUKE

Just about everybody has gone hunting. There is talk that they are in good shape despite the drought. That is hard to believe unless they have been getting some of the good government hay that was intended for sheep. Lots of deer have been found almost starved to death, but the bucks seem in much better condition.

The football here Tuesday night had a shortage of linemen in Sanderson. Some of the oldersters got childish ideas and tried to play had to rub some sore muscles all night. Of course the game didn't involve any 75-yard runs with the ball but there were some who found they were not as spry as they were once.

While we are on the subject of football, this column wants to go on record as offering public congratulations to the boys of the Sanderson High School Eagle football team and the coaches who have through this season's play. The attitude and performance of the players and coaches are above reproach. As our testimony has professed little or no knowledge of the finer points of the game, we do not know whether or not they are good coaches or the rudiments, or whether they are apt pupils, but they turned out a district-winning combination up to this point and they have the will to win further fame in this year's football history books, so that must attest for the ability of all concerned.

We know the boys are sports.

Blackwelder Takes Over Gandy's Milk Dealership Here

James Blackwelder has taken over the operation of Gandy's ice cream distribution for Sanderson this week, buying the business from W. F. Wilkins.

Wilkins had been here about two years and had established a sizeable route in wholesale and retail distribution. He was assisted by son, D. L. Wilkins.

Blackwelder has been recently employed at Turner Grocery in the part of town. He has leased the building from the Turner Plant where he will store products for delivery.

Blackwelder will continue to make house-to-house delivery and will continue to sell ice cream and milk will be delivered daily to the business men who use or sell his products as well as to homes.

5 Tons of Hay Delivered to Local Ranchmen

Robert Meredith, local P. M. A. secretary, announced Wednesday this week that there had been 5 tons of hay delivered to the office for sale to the ranchmen of the area. He added that 554 tons have been ordered and that ranchmen who ordered hay and did not receive it as yet could expect slow delivery from now until corn harvesting time in the section of the country where hay is produced.

Meredith stated that all of the hay that had been received locally was of good quality feed except one ton on which the price had lowered due to the inferior quality.

Service Club Meeting Saturday Night

Over one hundred persons, including the members of the S. P. Club with their families, friends gathered at the Mahall Saturday evening for a service club meeting.

Music was furnished by the members.

The dance, Mr. Hawkins of Houston Service Club, showed a film "A Hundred Miles of Snow", depicting the scenic beauty of the Southern Pacific from Del Rio and Sierra Blanca of particular interest to people of this section.

DATE AND PLACE SET FOR GAME WITH HERMLEIGH

The date and place for the bi-district game with Hermleigh, district winners of that area, have been set for 7:30 p. m., December 5, in Snyder, according to information released by Supt. Matt Bader.

The date and place for the game were set at a meeting of officials of the two schools in Odessa Sunday.

Supt. Bader explained that Interscholastic League rules forbid the playing of the bi-district game this week end without the consent of the other two teams, contenders for bi-district championship, which will meet the winners of the Eagle game for the regional title bout. He added that next week end being Thanksgiving week end and traveling distance so great as to necessitate leaving on Thanksgiving Day, consequently working a hardship on players and fans alike, it was decided to have the game on December 5. Mr. Bader explained also that the time was set for 7:30 p. m. that fans from here who went and had to return the same night would have 30 minutes extra time to begin their journey home.

It was pointed out that plenty of accommodations would be available in hotels and tourist courts in Snyder or Big Spring for all who wished to spend the night.

The Eagles will have three weeks off before their next game and the time will be well spent in repairing injuries suffered in the Fort Hancock game and perfecting their offensive and defensive plays for the bi-district tilt.

Band Sweethearts Named At Game Friday Night

The Sanderson High School Eagle Band, in addition to furnishing half-time entertainment for the football fans, added to their show the naming of the two band sweethearts selected by the members of the organization.

Following the band's entrance onto the playing field and alignment facing the Sanderson stands, the pep squad marched onto the field and formed a heart directly in front of the band. Then the pep squad mascots, Lynn Baker and Ronnie Perez walked to the chosen girls and brought them into the formation of the heart where Band Director Philip Cherry presented each girl with a bouquet. The girls named as sweethearts were Amelia Borrego and Mary Lou Cargile.

The girls then stood with the mascots in the formation while the band played "Let Me Call You Sweetheart."

Mary Lou is drum major of the band and Amelia plays a French Horn in the band.

Kick-Off Breakfast Starts Sanderson Scout Fund Drive

The Sanderson Rotary Club, sponsors of the local Boy Scout troop, and the Sanderson Lions Club, Cub Scout sponsors, met at a breakfast at the Turner Hotel Wednesday morning for the purpose of starting the Scout fund drive.

Joe Kerr, Jr., Rotary president, presided at the meeting and team captains were named and assigned individuals to contact in the drive.

E. J. Hanson was named drive chairman and Marshall Cooke, representing the Rotary Club, and J. A. Gilbreath, as representative of the Lions Club, were named as heads of the drive within their respective organizations.

August Hebert, council headquarters representative, outlined the plans for the drive and listed some of the expenditures for council operations.

The fund drive is scheduled to end after two weeks.

Governor Allan Shivers signs the official memorandum designating the period from November 17 to December 25 as the official Christmas Seal Month in Texas. Mrs. Frances Rains, Seal Sale Director for the Texas Tuberculosis Association, looks on. Inset is Dr. Z. T. Scott, retired Austin physician, who instigated the first Christmas Seal Sale in Texas in 1909 and now serves as treasurer for the statewide organization.

Resort Planned For Persimmon Gap Near Big Bend Park

From the Alpine Avalanche

The 32,000-acre Purnell ranch bordering the Big Bend National Park at Persimmon Gap will be turned into a modern tourist resort, according to N. S. Carroll, resort owner from the Lake Tanyecommo region of the Missouri Ozarks.

A charter has been applied for from the Secretary of State at Austin to organize a corporation recently and the owners, L. C. Purnell of Austin and Mr. Carroll stated they had plans completed to erect a hotel and 50 cottages, a store, service station, swimming pool and other recreation facilities near Persimmon Gap on the east side of the highway. In addition, the plans call for an earthen dam across Calamity Creek a short distance northeast of the lower outlet of Dog Canyon, or approximately seven miles east of Persimmon Gap.

Work should start on the project within 30 days, Mr. Carroll stated. It is estimated the improvements nearest Persimmon Gap will cost $185,000 and the dam, $85,000. The area of the lake is estimated at over 500 acres when filled. The drainage basin reaches from the Big Bend National Park to a point near Alpine in the Cathedral Mountain area — a drainage area of approximately 1,003 square miles. Facilities of the lake will be reserved for stockholders in the corporation who will be permitted to build their own cottages.

On the recreation side, it is planned to have a riding academy with appropriate trails. The ranch itself will not be stocked with cattle or sheep but will have deep, antelope and wild horses. The dam is located near enough to Maravillas Creek with its underground supply of water, Mr. Carroll said, that in case of unusually dry weather and evaporation difficulties, the level of the lake could be maintained through the use of pumps.

Mr. Carroll's son, Gail Carroll, and wife, came out to the ranch early in the year and have spent several months in gathering information on the area. He is a dirt contractor from Wichita, Kansas. Another son, Lee Carroll will arrive soon. He is a building contractor.

Holidays Scheduled For Thanksgiving

The schools of the county will close Tuesday afternoon, November 25, for the Thanksgiving holidays. Classes will be resumed on Monday, December 1.

The postoffice and the Sanderson State Bank will close on the national holiday. Other business houses of the community will also be closed on Thursday.

Christmas Seals Being Mailed Here This Week

Austin, November 15—A bright little scrap of paper which challenged mankind's deadliest enemy almost half a century ago will reach more than a million Texans through the mails this week.

It is the Christmas Seal. And, it has powered the campaign of tuberculosis associations throughout the nation to bring under control the disease which has taken more human lives than all others combined.

Governor Allan Shivers has designated November 17 to December 25 as Christmas Seal Month in Texas, calling attention to his official memorandum to the "needless waste of human life and resources" caused by TB and its "staggering" cost to Texans.

It is the forty-fourth annual "staggering" cost to Texans.

One man, just launching his career in medicine, was directly responsible for the first Christmas Seal sale in the state. He is Dr. Z. T. Scott of Austin, who still serves the TTA as treasurer.

Dr. Scott, now retired from active practice, relates that he became interested in the tuberculosis problem a medical student around the turn of the century. It had cost the lives of several members of his family.

He heard of the Christmas Seals sold in Delaware to keep open a tiny sanatorium caring for a few tuberculosis patients. That was Christmas in 1907.

People were learning then, he explains, that the disease could be cured, that it need not necessarily mean a death sentence.

"When I read of the Christmas Seal," he recalls, "I thought 'here is a way . . . a way to get funds to do something about this disease.'"

Meanwhile, on a train en route to Washington, in September 1908, a group of Texans headed by the state health officer, Dr. W. M. Brumby of Houston, and bound for a meeting of the International Congress Against Tuberculosis, had organized the Texas TB Association.

The infant association grew and Dr. Scott put on the first Christmas Seal Sale in Texas in 1909.

Dr. Brumby has said that during those years, the U. S. Bureau of Vital Statistics reported 173 of every 100,000 persons in Texas dying of tuberculosis.

The TB death rate has been brought down to 24 per 100,000.

"Nobody need die of TB," he reasons. "Nobody should even have it. It is preventable and yet Texans are dying of it, spreading it — and paying for it — at the rate of more than seventeen and a half million dollars a year.

The resources derived from the sale of the Christmas Seals goes into research, cure and prevention of the disease TB. It is, in a manner, the greatest health insurance policy ever written.

The Christmas Seal Sale, Governor Shivers' memorandum notes is the "one annual appeal" of the TB Associations over the state for funds to continue their progress in eliminating this disease.

He strongly recommended the purchase and use of the traditional vultide stamps as a sound investment in health and happiness.

The annual union Thanksgiving service for Sanderson will be on Thursday, November 27, at 10 a. m. at the First Baptist Church with Rev. John W. Byrd, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, bringing the Thanksgiving message.

The special offering will go to the Latin-American Methodist Church as has been the custom for the past several years.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Garner are on a vacation trip to New Orleans.

Eagles Close District Play With 27-12 Win Over Hancock

The Sanderson Eagles swamped the Grandfalls-Royalty Cowboys by a score of 27-12 to wind up their conference play last Friday night before a large crowd from out of town and local fans.

Both teams played a very clean and sportsman-like brand of football to furnish the crowd with plenty of thrills and entertainment.

Both teams were scoreless in the first quarter and fumbles and

Firemen Busy With Repair, Testing Of Equipment

Members of the Sanderson Volunteer Fire Department have been busy at their last two meetings repairing and cleaning equipment at the fire house. They have also been familiarizing themselves with the equipment on hand and new fire-fighting paraphernalia that has been purchased within recent weeks.

The most recent addition to the equipment to aid the firemen in extinguishing blazes, is a powder-type extinguisher, exceptionally useful in combatting oil, gasoline and electrical fires. The extinguishers were tested and demonstrated and were found to be very effective on the oil blaze used in the demonstration. They also have two new portable, pump type water-filled extinguishers to use in hard-to-get-to places, or small fires where water would be effective.

The purchase recently of a supply of "wet" water proved very helpful in fighting the recent blaze in a car of baled cotton at Dryden. The solution is poured into the tank on the truck and used as ordinary water in fighting a fire. Its characteristics are that it penetrates such items as cotton and wood more speedily than ordinary water, thus soaking any substance that is afire to extinguish the blaze faster. On previous cotton fires, it was oftentimes necessary to refill the truck at least once before the blaze could be brought under control, but by the use of "wet" water the cotton fire at Dryden was extinguished with about 500 gallons of water.

The firemen have also been busy strapping and cleaning the hose they now have on hand to insure greater durability. The trucks have been put in first class condition, with repaired water tanks and a protective coat of paint on the exterior where rust had begun to damage metal parts.

The firemen now consider themselves well trained in the use of the equipment at hand and feel qualified to make best use of the paraphernalia in combatting fires.

Contract Let On F. M. 1217 For 10.3 Miles North of Dryden

W. A. Davis, resident engineer for the Texas Highway Department, announced this week that the contract for the FM1217 construction had been awarded to Harry Campbell of Austin whose bid was $146,800.

Work is expected to get under way in December on the construction of 10.3 miles of highway from 5 1/2 miles north of Dryden.

This will put the end of the pavement just south of Big Canyon.

Work is also scheduled to begin soon on retopping U. S. 90 from the Terrell County line to the Brewster County line, all in Pecos County.

It was also reported Wednesday that work was progressing on the reconstruction of U. S. 90 east of Dryden.

punts kept the defensive players on their toes throughout this period.

In the second quarter Sanderson worked down to the 2-ft line where Sivvas went over for the first TD of the game. The try for the extra point was no good. The Cowboys came to life following the Eagle trolley and Hare, for that team, went through the middle of the line and evaded tacklers for 25 yards to cross the goal line standing up for their first score. Their try for the extra point also failed.

When the Cowboys kicked off Sivvas took the ball on his own 15-yard line and went right down the sideline for an 85-yard run to put the Eagles out in front again. The extra point was converted by Roman Zepeda on a placement kick. The Cowboys lost the ball on downs to the Eagles following the kickoff and the Eagles worked downfield again to the 5-yard line where Higimo Pena took a hand-off from the quarterback, Juan Cuavares, and threw a pass into the end zone to Joe Nessmith, Eagle end, for the third Eagle score. Zepeda again kicked the extra point.

The Eagles failed to score once in the second period when they had the ball down on the goal line with inches to go for a score. A 15-yard penalty for offensive holding put the ball back to about the 10-yard line and they worked up very close to the goal line again, but lost the ball on downs after an incomplete pass into the end zone.

The only score in the third quarter came on a pass from Pena to Nessmith, after Olivares had lateralled to Pena. The play was good for about 30 yards. Zepeda again converted the extra point.

B. Watts, for the Cowboys, ran the ball for 13 yards to cross the goal line for the second and final Cowboy tally. The extra point try was blocked by James Clark, Eagle lineman.

The fourth quarter saw plenty of aerial activity on the part of the visitors in desperate efforts to try to even up the score, but the Eagles' defensive crew held them back from any serious threats. The reserve Eagles saw some action in the fourth period in both the line and backfield and accounted for themselves in a commendable manner. Ramirez, reserve Eagle center, saw full action Friday night, owing to injuries to Charles Stegall and Odell Carruthers sustained in the Fort Hancock game. Stegall came into the game for punting, but Carruthers was not able to suit up owing to a sprained ankle.

Pena saw quite a bit of action as quarter back, replacing Olivares periodically. Ruben Ochoa saw action in the backfield in David Mitchell's birth as well as in the defensive line and backfield. Both Olivares and Mitchell had injured knees.

The regular Eagle defensive line stalwarts, Dickie Escamilla, Galoar Cobos, Glynn Chandler, James Clark, Frank Vasquez, Ruben Escamilla; line backers Jack Savage and Joe Nessmith, saw plenty of action Friday night and aided the Eagles in their defensive work, as well as offensive playing.

AMERICA MOVES TOWARD THE CENTER

The record-breaking turn-out of voters on November 4 gave proof of a number of important facts. Many interpretations will be placed on the Eisenhower landslide, as it reflects the thinking of the people, but from an educator's viewpoint the most important factor is that the vast majority of American people can be reached and influenced by educational facts.

Since the election is over, non-partisan observers now are agreeing that a great underlying issue in the contest was the Welfare State philosophy. By their votes, 55 per cent of the American electorate have apparently rejected it. There were other issues, some of more immediate concern perhaps, but the difference in the basic political theories of the two parties is considered by most non-partisan observers to have been one of the major fundamental issues upon which the voters expressed themselves.

President Truman and President Roosevelt before him repeatedly classified themselves and their administrations as "slightly left of center." The program which both sponsored but never quite got through Congress was considerably left of center. Its basic philosophy was embedded in the Democratic platform adopted at Chicago last July. It frankly embraced the proposition that the citizen has the right to look to the government for at least the minimum economic needs of life. The present Republican philosophy, on the other hand, projects as government's prime responsibility, the improving and widening of the citizen's opportunity to provide his own economic needs and wants for himself.

The first sign of a trend toward big paternalistic government were becoming evident 15 years ago. It was also evident that we were permitting a generation of youth to grow up not knowing about the benefits provided by the American system and not knowing the real factors in our way of life which are responsible for our unmatched productivity.

Not only were we neglecting, in many cases, to give our school and college youths the facts to make them dedicated supporters of constitutional government and the capitalistic system, but American industrial employers were doing little toward selling their own employees on the principles of private enterprise. In the last several years, however, a great many citizens have awakened. School administrators and teachers by the hundreds have begun groping for suitable American citizenship teaching materials, and many American business men have been carrying the economic facts of life to their employees and customers.

If the leftward trend is being slowed down, it is because the people, weighing the facts at hand, feel their best self-interest lies in having a less powerful and more middle-of-the-road government. In our Republic, and with our democratic electoral processes, government must constantly reflect the will of the people — based on their knowledge, their hopes and fears. If a government doesn't reflect the peoples will, it is a dictatorship.

In the depression days of the 1930's the overwhelming will of the people dictated to government that it should use all means within the framework of the constitution to get the nation's economy back on its feet. But when such measures as the NRA and the Supreme Court packing bill were tried, the people felt they were being carried too far toward government control, or one-man rule, and they made their wishes known. The "Fair Deal" program, compulsory health program, and proposals to override State's Rights, has now been rejected, according to the widely-held interpretations of neutral observers.

Ahead of the administration which takes over next January is a combination of problems that will tax the minds of the nation's wisest. And the kind of wisdom needed doesn't repose in any one man or small group of men. Never has the need been so urgent for all the people of America to keep well informed on international and national developments and express their opinions to their representatives in Washington. It's our government, obedient to our will. We can strengthen it and build a more secure and happier future for all if we will continue to seek the facts and make our opinions known in the court houses, the state capitals, in Congress and the White House.

we can recognize that easily, and we are reasonably sure that this idea of sportsmanship is handed to them, in a large sense, by their leaders, at school, at home and in other activities of the community. We are proud of that fact, also!

President-elect Ike had a set-to with Harry this week, the purpose of the briefing, we understand, was so that Ike could see what Harry had been doing and then be able to do something else. He wouldn't be far wrong if he set a hard and fast rule to just take the opposite stand on all questions.

After all the name-calling that went back and forth in the recent campaign, it looks to me as if it would be a dangerous thing to put them in the same room together.

The Christmas season is almost here and the thoughts of gifts take up some of the brainwork. You know it is a problem to make $5 buy gifts for one's family and friends. Many people are wondering if it wouldn't be a good time to get away from the old gift idea at Christmas time.

Well, that is one tradition which has gone beyond its usefulness. Each year there is more and more commercialization on the idea of gifts at Christmas and it has become a habit rather than a real heartfelt gift.

Last week we noticed a column predicting the outcome of the Alpine-Marfa game last week. We noticed a similar prediction of the Fort Stockton-Sanderson game last year. There is a lesson to be learned from such prognostications, and that lesson is this: —

"Even the lowly turtle doesn't get anywhere without sticking his neck out."

Dadburnit! That's how it goes. We start out to have a little good natured ridicule to offer to those who insist on predicting the outcome of football games, and we end up by showing a good lesson.

But such is life, and also, such is football.

After you get this column in your hands next week you may not have time to adhere to this admonition, so I will have to put it in this week's paper and hope that it falls on ears attuned to such a trend of thought.

Sometime between now and Thanksgiving Day stop and count all your blessings and see if in your heart you cannot find many, many things to be very thankful for, even though there are many, many things that cause us at times to overlook our indebtedness to the ONE that provides us with those little things that make our lives complete.

If you do that, I'm sure Thanksgiving Day will mean more to you and to those around you.

Mrs. B. F. Dawson went to Paso last week to visit with relatives.
