

"Liberty lies in the hearts of men and women; when it dies there, no constitution, no law, no court can save it; no law, no court can even do much to help it."

... Judge Learned Hand

Friona has a problem-housing. I wasn't aware that it was so acute until I started looking for a comparatively decent place recently. All I need is to locate a clean, livable house where two people can live in some measure of comfort. Such a simple demand should not be too hard to fill. But, I have not had any luck yet. Meanwhile, four other people have stopped in the office and inquired as to the possibility of finding a house for rent. I would like to lease one for at least a year. That makes five houses in demand this week. I am also aware that the landlords have a problem. If a man goes out and builds a few houses for rental purposes, he has made a major investment at the price of construction today. Then, when a family moves in and literally wreaks havoc with the house, he (being a normal human being) begins to worry about the possibility of even getting his original investment back before the house is completely destroyed.

He goes up on the rent and after turning loose of a few hundred dollars to repair the damage done by a short term renter, he gives it up as a lost cause and allows the house to remain in its dilapidated state.

No logical person can blame a person for not throwing good money on bad investment. But, there is still another side to the picture.

It is my observation that if a renter is selective about the place he chooses to live in, he will take a little more pride in the house and will tend to take better care of it. By the same token, the landlord who is a little more selective about the type of family he allows to move into his house will be more apt to have the house left in one piece when the renter moves on.

Very few people will move into a house with warped doors, peeling wallpaper, cracked, curling floorboards, flaking paint, grease-splattered walls, rusted sinks and faucets and make - shift closets and make much of an attempt to take care of the house.

To invest in rental property is a risky business, but recent history will show that every town which has grown and is continuing to grow must have a proportionate number of houses for rental purposes.

Friona seems to be a little behind in this respect.

Last week, I said that I was highly impressed with the number of people attending the watershed project meeting at Hub. Last Friday, I was equally appalled with the attendance at the presentation of 4-H and FFA grain sorghum and cotton contest awards at the same place.

Only about half of the recipients of awards were present. What's more, only about half of the boys present were accompanied by parents.

Work must be getting very pressing on the farm when a boy can't get to a meeting to receive recognition and a cash award for the previous year's work. Particularly so, when the meeting is after dark, during a windstorm, on Friday night.

It will be hard to expect the contributing organizations to continue to sponsor the contests with the kind of response exhibited Friday.

I was told Monday that such an occurrence was just another example of the apathy of the American people. If this is so, then I have something to say about apathy and the American people.

It is bad enough to have only 50 per cent of the eligible voters go to the polls in a national election and then scream like murder when the government

Budding Antenna Last Chance Friday For Dog Vaccinations

According to the latest bulletin, farmers in Arkansas are wishing they could pump some of the water back into the ground instead of pumping it out.

Earl Jamison received a letter from his brother, Earnest, who lives in Prescott, Ark, this week. Earnest had written that so much rain had fallen recently that "the TV antennas were sprouting."

Dog owners will be given a last chance to have their animals vaccinated and purchase a city dog license for them tomorrow between 3 and 5 p.m. at the city hall, Jake Outland, city manager, reported.

A charge of $2 for the dog tag will be assessed. Only 39 dogs were vaccinated and tagged during the first scheduled time on March 9, Outland reports.

"We feel sure that several dogs were missed the first time so we scheduled the second vaccination time to give the owners a last chance to comply with the city ordinance before apprehending unlicensed dogs," Outland said.

According to the city ordinance, any person allowing a dog to run loose on the streets without a rabies vaccination is guilty of a misdemeanor and subject to a fine not to exceed $100 and each day's violation shall constitute a separate offense.

The full text of the city dog ordinances is carried elsewhere in this issue.

City, School Posts Filled Next Week

City and school offices will be filled next week as county residents exercise the constitutional privilege of voting for the candidate of their choice.

City elections Tuesday will fill the offices of mayor and two aldermen for the coming term. At present, there is little doubt as to the outcome of the balloting since only one candidate has filed for each office and no move to fill an office with a write-in candidate is evident.

Incumbent Mayor Raymond Fleming and Alderman Glenn Reeve and Ralph Taylor are the three names on the ballot for city officials. Friona School District trustees election on April 7 is also very predictable. The two trustee candidates, Walter Mabry of Hub and Ellis Tatum of Black, are unopposed on the ballot.

Voters will get the chance to use the pencil to strike out one name in the County Trustee at large list, Paul Fortenberry of Friona is seeking the post now occupied by Bill Sherley of Lazbuddie. The most noticeable campaigning has been for the county post.

Absentee ballots may be obtained from County Judge Loyde Brewer in Farwell or at the school superintendent's office. Absentee ballots must be submitted by 5 p.m. April 3.

George Taylor Submits Low Bid Of $14,911

Contract to construct a new field house on Chieftain Field was awarded to George Taylor of Friona at a special meeting of the school trustees Friday in the Superintendent's office.

Taylor submitted the low bid of $14,911.77 for the 125 by 25 foot structure. The bids ranged up to $18,782.

The semi-fireproof building will be constructed of concrete tile with steel girders supporting a steel deck and tar roof. The roof will have a four inch slope to the back.

A large dressing room for the Chiefs and another for the visitors will occupy the majority of the structure. In addition, a coaches' office, training room, laundry and storage room and heated rest rooms for fans.

It will be constructed along the fence in the northwest corner of the field and will face the east. Construction is scheduled to start in the near future with a completion date of July 25.

Board members also gave tentative approval to plans for moving the north fence of the field to include the additional six lots of school property north of the field.

The trustees authorized the purchase of one new school bus for the coming year. Tentative considerations are for a 60 passenger vehicle.

Swimming Pool Opens Saturday

The Dive-Inn, Friona's indoor heated swimming pool, will officially open for business at 1 p.m. Saturday.

Classes in a water safety course, sponsored by the Deaf Smith chapter of the American Red Cross, are scheduled to begin at the pool Friday at 7:30. A Red Cross water safety instructor will teach classes for adult beginners, intermediates, swimmers and senior life guards.

Classes are free but a pool charge of $5 per person will be levied for the eight-week course. The two-hour classes are scheduled for each Friday night.

Regular pool hours will be 4-9 p.m., Monday through Friday and 1-5 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday with a charge of 50 cents for persons of all ages until the end of school. Truett Johnson, owner, reported.

Changing of the water and painting the edges of the pool were completed this week.

Boosters Club Meets Monday

Friona Boosters Club will meet Monday at 8 p. m. in the school cafeteria to discuss plans for the club's activities during the coming year, John Renner, president, announced.

Evaluation of the several aspects of Friona Athletic program and comparison of results with programs maintained by other schools within the interscholastic district will be one of the main items on the agenda.

After discussing the status of the present program, the club will formulate plans for supporting the teams during the 1962-63 season, Renner reported.

Top Citizens Named At Chamber Banquet

Friona's outstanding citizens of 1961 will be announced at the Chamber of Commerce banquet Friday night in the school cafeteria at 8 p.m.

The presentation of the man and woman of the year and the most courteous employee and teacher of the year will highlight the program. The presentations will be made on the basis of conduct and deeds during 1961.

Plaques will be presented to those chosen to fill the positions.

'Fair, Just Fair' Crop Season Seen

"Fair, just fair," mumbled the grey-haired Lazbuddie farmer as he squinted at the thin whisp of smoke drifting toward the brightening eastern horizon.

"Come on. Give us the prediction," came an impatient remark from the small crowd of relatives and friends gathered around the sputtering pile of planks and old posts as J. W. Crim studied the wavering smoke and prepared his annual March 22 forecast for area agriculture.

"I guess it will be just fair," Crim responded, glancing over his shoulder into the wind. "It's (the wind) coming from the west and veering a little to the north," he added.

The wind was blowing gently from the west, northwest with undulations which buffeted the smoke from side to side as it rose into the clear morning sky. A long, thin bank of clouds blocked the view of the 6:56 a.m. sunrise, but Crim gave voice to his prediction at exactly that time.

"Better tell the boys to keep the irrigation motors ready because we will need them this year," he elaborated. "The way it looks, we better go a-

Editorial Comment:

Where We Came In

Word from Geneva at this writing is that East-West discussion of an atomic test-ban treaty, and, at the foreign ministers' level of a Berlin solution are completely and hopelessly deadlocked. But the talkathon - similarly deadlocked on disarmament a year ago while the Russians planned last fall's gigantic blasts - will apparently drag on and on.

At his press conference in Washington, President Kennedy indicated that the talks would continue. In Geneva, Russia's Foreign Secretary Gromyko declared, after a stalemated dinner discussion with Britain's Foreign Secretary, the Earl of Home and US Secretary of State Rusk and a subsequent and equally fruitless two-hour session with Mr. Rusk, that the conferees would keep on talking. What is not clear as yet, however, is just who will be talking to whom about what.

In the test-ban discussions, the Russians are no more ready today than they were three years ago when the Geneva chats began to consider inspections of any sort on their soil. And the US, thankfully, seems equally determined that nothing less can protect the West. As for Berlin, Communist provocation of the Allies continues and East Germany's stooge "Foreign Minister" has arrived in Geneva to join the Gromyko gang even though he is not a member of the disarmament committee and without standing in the conference.

Clearly, this is where we came in last year and there would seem little profit to either our security or dignity in staying longer. Russia is happy to filibuster just as long as it stalls our resumption of testing - and once more, perhaps, covers her own preparations for still further nuclear adventures.

It's time to save further rent on the hall - and return to our own knitting.

WE JUST CAN'T GET TOO ENTHUSED over Khrushchev's announced willingness to cooperate with the US in joint adventures in space. Perhaps it reminds us too strongly of a kid's willingness to cooperate on another's ice cream cone.

Disarmament, says K, will speed us (jointly) to the moon, Venus and Mars - but he won't cooperate to the extent of permitting test-ban inspections.

He believes in give-and-take - when we give and he takes.

doesn't do things to suit them. But to allow, and even teach, children to acquire the habit of letting someone else "carry the ball" for them is worse.

If a person can't be on hand to let someone place a cash award in his hand, what attitude will he take toward going to the polls and casting his vote where there is no reward other than the satisfaction of fulfilling your responsibility in determining the leaders of our government? What ever the attitude, it will most likely be classed as apathetic. And someone else (or some unfriendly government) will "carry the ball."

If only 50 per cent of the people vote, (and that is a very high percentage in most elections) and all the non-voters allow their three or four children to assume the same attitude, the number of apathetic Americans would reach monumental figures within a few years.

Our only hope is that the voters continue to multiply at an equal pace and that a few of the non-voters wake up and become concerned enough to shoulder their responsibility before it is too late.

Editorial Comment:

Where We Came In

Word from Geneva at this writing is that East-West discussion of an atomic test-ban treaty, and, at the foreign ministers' level of a Berlin solution are completely and hopelessly deadlocked.

At his press conference in Washington, President Kennedy indicated that the talks would continue. In Geneva, Russia's Foreign Secretary Gromyko declared, after a stalemated dinner discussion with Britain's Foreign Secretary, the Earl of Home and US Secretary of State Rusk and a subsequent and equally fruitless two-hour session with Mr. Rusk, that the conferees would keep on talking.

In the test-ban discussions, the Russians are no more ready today than they were three years ago when the Geneva chats began to consider inspections of any sort on their soil. And the US, thankfully, seems equally determined that nothing less can protect the West. As for Berlin, Communist provocation of the Allies continues and East Germany's stooge "Foreign Minister" has arrived in Geneva to join the Gromyko gang even though he is not a member of the disarmament committee and without standing in the conference.

Clearly, this is where we came in last year and there would seem little profit to either our security or dignity in staying longer. Russia is happy to filibuster just as long as it stalls our resumption of testing - and once more, perhaps, covers her own preparations for still further nuclear adventures.

It's time to save further rent on the hall - and return to our own knitting.

WE JUST CAN'T GET TOO ENTHUSED over Khrushchev's announced willingness to cooperate with the US in joint adventures in space. Perhaps it reminds us too strongly of a kid's willingness to cooperate on another's ice cream cone.

Disarmament, says K, will speed us (jointly) to the moon, Venus and Mars - but he won't cooperate to the extent of permitting test-ban inspections.

He believes in give-and-take - when we give and he takes.

head and pre-water. The Spring rains will probably come too late," he added.

Crim said that we would have rains, but maybe two months of dry weather would follow. There might be some hail but it would not be too heavy, and tornadoes would not be a bother this year.

Last year, Crim predicted a "bumper year" and for most area farmers it was. Early freeze and snow hampered the cotton crop but Crim has stated several times that his predictions are good only to "about September or October."

Crim has been forecasting the weather on the basis of the wind conditions at sunrise on April 22 for some 31 years. Castin'-- doesn't do things to suit them. But to allow, and even teach, children to acquire the habit of letting someone else "carry the ball" for them is worse.

If a person can't be on hand to let someone place a cash award in his hand, what attitude will he take toward going to the polls and casting his vote where there is no reward other than the satisfaction of fulfilling your responsibility in determining the leaders of our government? What ever the attitude, it will most likely be classed as apathetic. And someone else (or some unfriendly government) will "carry the ball."

If only 50 per cent of the people vote, (and that is a very high percentage in most elections) and all the non-voters allow their three or four children to assume the same attitude, the number of apathetic Americans would reach monumental figures within a few years.

Our only hope is that the voters continue to multiply at an equal pace and that a few of the non-voters wake up and become concerned enough to shoulder their responsibility before it is too late.

It is through his effort that Girlstown is known in all the states and many foreign countries.

Girlstown, U.S.A. is located on a 1,425 acre ranch nine miles south of Whiteface, Texas. It is a home where girls learn to live with others in a family environment. Duties are shared. The girls attend public school in Whiteface. They share honors with the Whiteface students. The churches in Whiteface welcome the girls into membership. They are accepted in the community with the loving warmth which is indicative of the small towns in this wonderfully democratic United States of America.

Eleven board members direct the policies of Girlstown to insure proper management. Nine of these members live in Texas, one in Arizona, and one in Missouri. It is the desire of the board to add four more directors. Most of these will be from other states than Texas.

Lions Club Samples Reading Techniques

Friona Lions Club members went to school last Thursday night—and didn't fair very well in comparison with the fourth grade students under modern methods.

An explanation and demonstration of the reading program in the Friona Grade School was presented at the club meeting by eleven students and three teachers.

Mrs. Juanez Green, Mrs. Gladys McVey and Mrs. Iona Cook each explained a part of the program. During the program, the entire club was given two tests from material presented, in both tests, the students fared much better than the adults.

Mrs. McVey first read a short, fourth grade level story and requested that the members fill out a form to test their comprehension and retention of the material. Even the club members were astonished at the comparatively low results with the relatively simple material.

Mrs. Cook then presented a short story on the reading machine at 300 words per minute. The story is flashed on a screen, a few words at a time. This technique prevents the reader from re-reading a portion of the material and forces him to focus his entire attention on the story at all times.

The club members were again tested along with the students. Of the 11 students, four made 100, three made 94, two made 88, one made 76, and one made 64.

From the 22 papers surrendered by the members, there were three 100, six 94, eight 88, one 70, and four below 70 with one 28. Several papers were not submitted and prevented a very valid comparison.

"There really has been some changes since I went to school," one member was heard to exclaim as he left after the meeting.

Open House Fetes

Robbie Boggess

Mr. and Mrs. Louie Welch of Houston held an open house in their home March 17 honoring Robbie Boggess, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Boggess, Friona. Miss Boggess is the bride-elect of Guy Welch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Welch.

Floral arrangements decorated the entertaining room and hall and an orchid bouquet centered the serving table.

Small cakes, iced with flowers and wedding bells, fruit punch and coffee were served to about 250 guests calling from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m.

Attending from Friona were Mrs. Eugene Boggess, Mrs. Lucy Welch and Mrs. Nora Welch.

Coastal Bermuda Makes Excellent Pasture Grass

Coastal Bermuda is an excellent pasture grass which produces high yields of good quality forage once it becomes established. Many farmers fail to get good stands or quick stands, however. What causes this?

E. M. Trew, extension pasture specialist, says the major reasons for not getting a good stand are planting in a light or heavier stand of other grass, using dried out sprigs, or grazing before a stand is obtained. He says these problems can be overcome with proper management.

The first step toward a good stand is preparing a good seedbed. It should be clean, firm, and moist, and free of other growing grasses. Trew says farmers are expecting too much of Coastal Bermuda when they expect it to take over from established grasses.

Next is planting at the proper time. It is usually best to plant in the spring, after the soil warms up. South Texans, however, can plant in the fall. A satisfactory stand cannot be expected unless fresh, viable sprigs are used, the specialist points out. Sprigs should be planted the same day they are dug, and they should contain at least three nodes. It is important to keep sprigs shaded and moist until they are planted. Tests have shown that exposing sprigs to sunlight for four hours reduced viability by as much as 97 percent.

Recommended planting rate is 9 to 15 bushels of sprigs per acre, planted in 30 to 42 inch rows. It is essential that soil be firmed around the sprig after planting, says Trew. This can be done with the tractor wheel or large compress wheels.

Before fertilizing, the farmer should have his soil tested. Where soil is not too weedy or grassy, the fertilizer can be put in a band 3 to 4 inches below the sprigs at or ahead of planting. Otherwise, fertilizer should be applied as a topdressing after Coastal begins to grow. Never broadcast fertilizer until a good stand is obtained, advises the specialist. It is also a good idea to topdress once or twice with nitrogen to stimulate growth.

"Remember," warns Trew, "don't graze the Coastal until a good stand is obtained. Grazing before this may seriously delay getting a stand."

The AMA Board of Trustees has pledged a fund of $60,000 to guarantee loans to Cuban refugee physicians who qualify to borrow up to $300 a month for three months. The loans will be repayable at the rate of $50 a month beginning two months after their international cooperation at its best.

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

BY RAYMOND EULER

We thought we had one of the best kick-off banquets last week that we have ever seen in this county.

Tables were nicely decorated by Mrs. Joe B. Jennings and Mrs. Raymond Martensen. The meal, arranged for by Earnest Kube and Calvin Meissner, was real good, and the entertainment furnished by the Friona Male Quartet was enjoyed by everyone, we believe.

Warren Newberry, AFBF staff member made a very good talk to inspire the people. President Hamilton handled the meeting well and Vice President Meissner got his workers lined up in good shape. Of course, a lot of the work that made the success possible was done by your good secretary, Nell Davis. We will give a report on the membership drive in next week's column.

In discussing Farm Bureau's National Farm Program, Bill Wedemeyer, director of research and promotion for TFB said in part, "The surest way to guarantee low prices to farmers is for the government to establish a support price above what the market will pay."

The present Secretary of Agriculture made the statement in 1961 that the price of soybeans was increased to prevent them from advancing in price. Prices cannot be supported above what the market will pay unless the government pays the difference between the established "fair price" and the "market price."

Fabian Essays on Socialism explain how Socialism (or Communism) eliminates free enterprise by "due process of law" this way: "The government owned industries, operating with government credit behind them, will begin to choke off private enterprise. After a while the private producers will disappear, not because there will be any law against individualist production, but because they will not pay." Does this ring a bell for you?

Farm Bureau opposes, by resolution and action, socialism and communism wherever and whenever they may appear.

Your membership strengthens this opposition. Farm Bureau is for free enterprise in farming or industry, large or small operations.

CONSIDER THIS: As the cold of snow in time of harvest, so is a faithful messenger to them that send him; for he refresheth the soul of his masters. Proverbs 25:13

Only two of the twelve recipients of cotton contest awards were present to receive the plaques and checks.

The contests are sponsored by the Farmer County Cotton Growers and Grain Sorghum Producers Association as a means of encouraging boys in the use of applicable and efficient practices that will result in higher yields per acre of good quality products.

Awards for cotton and grain sorghum in both 4-H and FFA contests were: 1st-$40 and Plaque, 2nd-$35 and plaque, 3rd-$25 and plaque, 4th-$20, 5th-$15, 6th-$10, and 7th-$5. A silver dollar was awarded to

Sesame Production Discussed At Bovina Meeting Monday

Sesame - the crop without federal controls - and its production will be discussed at a steak dinner and meeting in Bovina Restaurant on Highway 60 in Bovina at 7:30 p.m. Monday.

Robert L. Parker, executive vice-president of the Sesame Growers Association, Bill Wimberly, High Plains manager, and Raymond Hodges, fieldman of Muleshoe, will show color movie and discuss Sesame production. Deryl Coker, county agent, will be in charge of the meeting.

Because Sesame (and four other oilseed crops) are non-surplus and non-price supported crops and are now being imported in large quantities, Congress and the Department of Agriculture has granted special considerations for their production.

Farmers may take advantage of a provision of the feed grain and wheat laws which permit the growing of Sesame on retired land. Farmers with limited feed grain or wheat base or limited acreage allotments for other crops can grow Sesame, since no federal acreage control has been imposed on the crop.

Most of the Sesame in this area is grown on contract to the Texas Sesame Growers Association, but it can be marketed by the individual farmer. The contract production usually results in a better cash return because the volume desired by Sesame buyers cannot easily be produced by one farmer.

Doyle or Ennis Cummings or John Burrows should be called at Cummings Farm Store, sponsor of the meeting, for reservations. "Price for number one quality Sesame seed has averaged 10 1/2 cents per pound for the last two years and prospects for 1962 are even better. Limited supply and higher prices for competing imported seed is the reason for the improved prospects," Robert L. Parker of the Texas Sesame Association said.

Former Farmer County farmer Fred Cathel, now farming in Lockney County, produced the nation's highest yield for the second year in a row. Cathel's 105 acres of Margo Sesame produced 1,228 pounds of clean seed per acre for a gross profit of $128.45 per acre. All farmers interested in Sesame are invited to attend the meeting.

WITH THE COUNTY AGENT

DERYL COKER

I have received a great number of phone calls from farmers who have wheat that looks a little sick. Most of the wheat that I saw, that fits this category had not been irrigated, or is dryland and is being damaged by the brown wheat mite and greenbugs.

The brown wheat mite is a pest of small grains and damage by this mite occurs only during dry weather and in some respects resembles that caused by drouth. A mottling of leaves occurs, and when observed from a distance, a yellowing or bronzing effect may be noted. Infested leaves first show a silvery cast and later turn brown. When this stage is reached, hundreds of mites can be seen on the leaves and on the ground at the base of the plants.

The mite has a rounded, metallic dark brown or blackish body about the size of a period in newsprint, with short hairs on the back. The legs are pale yellow, with the fore legs characteristically longer than the other three pairs. It can be identified with a hand lens in the field. This species does not spin webs as do some spider mites.

Brown wheat mites pass the summer as small, shiny, white eggs. The egg is coated with a white waxy material, and one end is flattened in a circular cap somewhat larger than the egg itself. Large numbers of these eggs may be found at the base of the plants in the soil, attached to debris and clods.

To hatch, the eggs must be in contact with free moisture.

Hatching begins in the fall as soon as there is a small amount of free moisture. Young mites are bright red and have three pairs of legs, but as soon as they feed, most of them become brownish. The next two stages each have four pairs of legs; some of them have greenish bodies and some resemble the adults in color.

After hatching, the mites reach the adult stage in 9 to 10 days. Egg laying begins 1 or 2 days later. Winter eggs, laid during the fall, winter and early spring, are brick red spherical.

They hatch in 6 or 7 days under favorable conditions. Each adult lays 70 to 90 eggs in a 3-week period. According to Baker and Pritchard males are unknown and the eggs hatch without fertilization. During the late spring, certain adults begin to lay summer eggs, and will lay about 30 during a 3-week period. An adult does not produce both summer and winter eggs.

Heavy rains reduce greatly the brown wheat mite populations. Replicated plot experiments at the Amarillo station have shown that irrigation lowers populations. Border irrigation is similar to flooding from field ditches, except that small levees or border dikes confine the water to a limited area as it moves across the field. Although mite populations were low, control with border irrigation was good for about 3 weeks.

Complete flooding by border irrigation is better than flooding by corrugated furrows to lower mite populations. When irrigation is done by flooding listed furrows, the water does not cover the tops of the ridges, and the undisturbed mites may migrate and become as numerous in a week on the plants in the furrows as on the ridges.

Brown wheat mite populations usually are much lower on summer-fallowed wheat than on continuously cropped wheat. If the land is fallowed following a wheat crop and summer eggs hatch from stubble or residue in the fall, the young mites will die from lack of food.

Controlling this pest with chemicals is difficult. Tests

Texas Farmers Export $447 Million In '61

The world market continues to be a highly important outlet and source of income for Texas farmers. They supplied the export market with products worth $447 million in the 1960-61 fiscal year, ranking just behind California among all the states, according to a recent U. S. Department of Agriculture study.

The principal commodities produced for export by Texans included cotton, grain sorghums, wheat, rice, and livestock. "It is a real tribute to the efficiency of Texas farmers that they were able to make this contribution to helping feed the world's consumers," said David Brown, economist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "We need to continue to keep our eyes on events affecting foreign markets because they have a real dollars and cents meaning to Texas agriculture even though our farms and ranches are a long way from foreign markets," Brown added.

U. S. agricultural exports are running at record levels. Last year, $5 billion worth of U. S. farm products were exported. Sixty million acres of U. S. cropland are producing for export. This is about three times the harvested acreage in Texas. The USDA study, in appraising the stake Texas farmers have in foreign trade, showed that the State's equivalent share of the nation's crop exports included 2 million bales of cotton, 46 million bushels of grain sorghum, 39 million bushels of wheat and 6.4 million hundred-weight of rice.

On the basis that foreign trade is a two-way street, Texas also plays a part in the imports of agricultural products. Many are non-competitive consumer items such as coffee, tea, cocoa, spices, bananas, etc. Although competing agricultural products also come in from abroad, Texas' agriculture is far ahead in the exchange since the State's share of exports is more than three times its share of competing imports.

Many agricultural commodity groups are working closely with USDA in efforts to expand exports even more. One of the big national objectives at this time is to arrive at an international trade program that gives U. S. agriculture better bargaining power so it can sell even more actively in foreign markets.

Here is a good recipe for getting along with a husband; Feed him well, baby him a little, and praise him a lot; and it'll either make him so nice you wouldn't give him up for the world, or spoil him so nobody else would want him.

HD Agent's Notes

BY MISS ETTIE MUSIL

If you are a high school senior and scheduled to graduate this spring, you will soon have an important decision to make. The decision will be one of the most important of your lifetime.

The one big question is "Should I enroll for additional education after high school?" This important decision will affect your career. If you drop out of school when you take your diploma, and make no plans for additional vocational or professional training, you are freezing your job possibilities. In other words you will be putting a ceiling on your earning power. This time of year before school is out many programs on careers are planned for the high school students. No matter what you plan to do, this is also your decision.

However, the future employment picture for unskilled laborers looks dim indeed. The activities of the world need more people who are skilled and educated. Certainly, the future looks most discouraging for the boy or girl who drops out before completing high school. So think twice or several times before dropping out of high school or not completing higher education.

In the last two or three years we see many newspaper and magazine stories that education will count more and more. The need for professional and technical workers, laboratory workers, statistical technicians and other qualified workers is expected to increase by 40 percent before 1970. Managers, proprietors, clerical and sales people, skilled repairmen and mechanics all require extra training. And competition gets keener all the time.

Young people need and want guidance for career and job opportunities. Yes, millions of trained young men and women are needed for jobs, but they need the extra training to qualify.

A study was made recently on the lifetime expected income of an individual.

For a person who has completed less than 8 years of school his total expected income is $115,418 from 18 to 64 years of age. If he has completed 8 years of school his expected income is $161,643.

If a person completes 1 to 3 years of high school his lifetime expected income is $188,362, in comparison to 4 years of high school with the income of $231,509.

For your all important decision of higher education after high school graduation, your earning power increased. With 1 to 3 years of college your earning power from 18 to 64 years of age is $279,640. Planes Signal Greenbug War

Buzzing planes darting over wheat fields signaled the attack on greenbugs in the county last week.

The small pest has infested several fields and has caused concern on the part of many wheat farmers. County Agent Deryl Coker reports that he is receiving numerous calls from farmers inquiring about the details of combating the plant lice.

The Greenbug reproduces rapidly at temperatures between 55 and 75 degrees. Its natural enemies, however, reproduce very slowly when the temperatures are below 65 degrees. Thus, in cool weather, the greenbug may increase to enormous numbers while the number of its natural enemies increase slowly.

Therefore, insecticides must be applied to prevent serious damage to wheat, but the necessity for spraying depends upon the number of greenbugs present, size and vigor of plants variety, temperature, time of year, moisture conditions, state of growth and presence or absence of parasites and predators.

As might be expected, irrigated wheat can withstand larger populations of greenbugs without a marked loss in yield.

A count of greenbugs in a field can be used as a reliable guide for spraying. A minimum of five counts of one linear foot while walking across a field in a diagonal line should be made. The bugs should be shaken from the plants onto a paper and counted or estimated if there is a large number present.

If the plant is four to six inches high at present or during the remainder of this month, the presence of 200 to 400 greenbugs per linear foot indicate the need for spraying. During April, when the plants reach a height of six to sixteen inches, 300 to 800 may be allowed before spraying will be required.

The appearance of small deadened areas caused from greenbugs feeding is also a good indication that insecticides should be applied.

Recommended insecticides and applications for greenbugs on wheat are:

- (1) Malathion applied with one and one-half to two pints of concentrate spray (5 pound toxicant per gallon) per acre.
- (2) Parathion applied one to two pints concentrate spray (2 pound toxicant per gal) per acre.

Wheat should not be grazed for 7 to 15 days after the application of the insecticides in most all cases. Additional information on this subject may be obtained from the county agent.

Germination Test Advised For Cotton Planting Seed

There is one sure way to know whether cotton planting seed will germinate when planted. Fred C. Elliott, extension cotton specialist, says it is through the use of germination tests.

In recent visits with ginners and farmers, Elliott reports that many are finding the seed which was saved to plant this year's crop isn't measuring up to expectations. And, points out Elliott, getting a good stand on the first planting may have a lot to do with yields next fall.

Elliott reports the lowest germinating seed apparently are from fields which were harvested when the moisture content was too high. Research, he explains, has shown that seed should not be saved from cotton which is harvested when moisture content is above 8-10 percent. When moisture is above this level and the seed cotton is held for even a comparatively short time on the trailer, the cotton goes through a heating process which not only lowers the grade but also the quality of the seed.

The specialist strongly recommends to all growers who plan to plant cottonseed saved from last year's crop that they have a germination test run or use the familiar "rag doll" test at home. The small fee for a germination test, he adds, could save replanting. He also suggests that after the germination ability of the seed has been established that they be treated with an approved fungicide. Seed treatment will aid in the reduction of stand losses from seedling disease and also helps to prevent seed decay and damping off from soil and seed borne organisms.

Germination Test Advised For Cotton Planting Seed

Elliott suggests a visit with the local county agent for more information on germination testing and seed treatment.

agent.

Coker also reported that John Thomas, area entomologist said his checks of wheat fields in the area did not show greenbugs in sufficient quantity to warrant spraying at present.

Spray planes like the one shown here have been dipping and skimming along the surface of wheat fields in the country during the past week as the farmers call for aerial help to fight greenbug outbreaks.

New TSCRA Head Named

Lt. Col. Joe Fletcher, Assistant Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety for the past 17 years, resigned today to become Secretary-General Manager of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association in Fort Worth, effective March 20.

Announcement of his resignation was made jointly by Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., DPS Director, and Dolph Briscoe, Jr., of Uvalde, President of the cattle raisers association.

Garrison said Fletcher's resignation will mean "an irreparable loss to the people of Texas whom he has served for more than 30 years. His decision to leave the DPS was fully justified, in my opinion, being based upon financial considerations. In fairness to the financial security of his family, he could not see fit to refuse it."

"I regard Joe Fletcher as one of the outstanding administrators in the country, as well as one of my closest friends over a quarter of a century."

Briscoe said, "The Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association is proud to obtain the services of a man of Colonel Fletcher's ability, to direct the affairs of the largest cattlemen's association of its kind in the nation."

In his new post Fletcher will work closely with Ernest Duke, Assistant Secretary of the Association in all matters of benefit to the cattle industry of the Southwest.

Fletcher, a native of Marysville in Cooke County, took his first job as an automobile mechanic in Gainesville in 1922, and after several months enlisted in the U. S. Navy for a period of four years, serving as a gunner's mate.

Fletcher subsequently served as a Highway Patrolman at Odessa, Pecos and Big Spring. During this period he became interested in fingerprint identification, and set up a small identification bureau for the Sheriff's Department in Reeves County.

On October 15, 1935, he was transferred to Austin as a patrolman on special assignment in the Bureau of Identification and Records, where he pioneered in the establishment of a central criminal records file which today contains well over one million sets of criminal fingerprints.

In 1937, he was promoted to the position of handwriting expert and, on October 18, 1938, was promoted to Chief of the Bureau of Identification and Records of the Department of Public Safety.

On January 17, 1945, Fletcher was promoted to Assistant Director of the DPS, in which capacity he was charged directly with the operation of all of the training schools held by the state agency, the operation of the communications bureau which involved the development of a statewide network, as well as with assisting in the administration of the entire department.

Fletcher recently was re-elected Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Texas State Employees Retirement System, which is charged with operation of that agency and the investment of its $95,000,000 fund.

He is a member of the Texas Sheriff's Association; the East Texas Peace Officers Association; the Constables and Justices of the Peace Association; the Texas Division of the International Association of Identification Experts, and a past president of this organization; the South Plains Peace Officers Association; the Five States Peace Officers Association; the Hill Country Peace Officers Association; and the Texas Police Association.

Facts about Fire and Clean-Up

Every 12 minutes a home in this nation is destroyed or damaged by a fire starting in rubbish, according to National Fire Protection Association records.

The three storage areas of the home - attic, basement, closets - are the spots where 17.5% of all dwelling fires originate, National Fire Protection Association studies show.

About 550,000 U.S. homes are hit by fire each year, and over 6,000 persons - 30 percent of them children - die in these fires, according to National Fire Protection Association records.

Last year 1961, Americans burned up more than $1.6 billion worth of property in over two million fires, figures compiled by the National Fire Protection Association show.

At one time, prairie dog villages stretched over a hundred miles and more than 400 thousand of the little animals inhabited these villages.

Area Farmers Aid In Forming Sugar Act Proposal

By BOB HAMILTON
Plains Farmer Publisher

This should actually be two stories, no, really, it should be printed in several volumes. The story coming out of Colorado last week contains mostly the future, but has much of the present and all of the past in it.

It all started about four weeks ago, when former Hale County Sugar Beet Growers Association president Earnest Sammann received a letter from Charles Schenk, Schenk, the president of a newly-organized beet association, Wabash Valley, represented some 6,000 prospective growers in Indiana and Illinois, and he wanted to join forces with all the other states who had been working on beet legislation.

Representatives from 11 states, and more than 40 organizations, showed up at the meeting, held in Denver last Wednesday. Twenty nine men, representing Indiana, Washington, Arizona, Texas, Nebraska, Illinois, Kansas, Iowa, North and South Dakota and New Mexico were there.

Of this group, by far the largest delegation was from Texas. Seven were from the Hale County association, Jim Witherspoon and Benny Benefield, and one from the Trans-Pecos association. Hale's group was represented by Don Hegi, Earnest Sammann, Bill Sylvester, Don Tullis, Grady Murry, Homer Garrison and your reporter.

In a nut shell, the prospective beet growers will ask of the government this year, legislation allowing 100 per cent of the growth factor consumption, 150,000 tons annually, to be produced in the mainland of the United States, with most of this increase for new growers.

Of the 100 per cent growth factor, the group proposes 75 per cent be allocated to sugar beet growers and 25 per cent to cane growers, "with a special reserve, for beets, of up to 85,000 tons, or such acreage as would yield per year accumulative, 85,000 tons would be available each year for the expansion of mainland industry."

The 85,000 tons of sugar would allow for approximately two new refineries to be constructed on the mainland each year.

This legislative proposal was a compromise. One portion of the group wanted all the growth factor plus a million tons of the former Cuban 3-million ton allotment. Another faction was willing to settle for a legislative proposal put forth by the entire sugar industry.

The proposal sent by the industry reportedly represented the negotiations which took two and a half months to formulate. Representatives of the American Sugar Beet Industry, Mainland Sugar Cane Industry, U. S. Cane Sugar Refining Industry, Hawaiian Sugar Industry and Puerto Rican Sugar Industry had drawn up their own proposal which was considered fair by those at the Denver meeting, but not enough for needed mainland expansion.

Actually, the grower proposal is a very slight change to the industry's. The industry wanted 67 1/2 per cent of the growth factor for domestic continental areas and 32 1/2 for foreign areas, with a special reserve of up to 20,000 acres for industry expansion.

The rest of the industry's bill was accepted by the growers, giving them, if the grower change is accepted, a united front with which to approach the legislature. This is the first time this unity has been attained for proposed legislation on sugar.

As the proposed legislation now stands, here is what our congressmen will have to work with:

SUGAR LEGISLATIVE PROGRAM

1. Term: The new law would be a five-year Act extending from January 1, 1962, through December 31, 1966.

2. Basic Quotas: New basic quotas for domestic areas would be established at a consumption estimate level of 9,700,000 tons. These would be as follows: Beet Area, 2,665,000; Mainland Cane Area, 900,000; Hawaii, 1,150,000; Puerto Rico, 1,200,000; and Virgin Islands, 15,000.

3. Growth: Growth over the 9,700,000 level of consumption requirements (consumption estimate minus unallocated amounts and deficits in allocated amounts under section 408) would be 100 per cent to domestic continental areas. The 100 per cent would be shared 75 per cent by the domestic beet sugar area and 25 per cent by the Mainland Cane sugar area. If in any year, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, or Virgin Islands, produces more than its basic quota, it may in the following year, upon request, have such quota increased by the amount of such excess; Provided that in no event shall such quota exceed the basic quota (plus growth) under the law before amendment, all such increases being charged to the foreign total. Puerto Rico's direct-consumption limitation would be 1.5 per cent of the consumption requirements in lieu of the provision relating thereto in the Present Act.

4. New Beet Growers: A special reserve of up to 85,000 tons, or such acreage as would yield per year accumulative 85,000 tons, would be available each year for the expansion of mainland industry.

5. Domestic Deficits: All domestic deficits would go to foreign areas, with the exception that the excess of Hawaiian deficit over 350,000 tons would go to the beet area.

6. Direct Consumption Sugar: All foreign sugar would be imported in raw form. The Philippines would be given the option of a larger raw sugar quota in place of their quotas under existing law and the Treaty between the United States and the Philippines.

7. Personal History: The law would assure continued use of personal history as a basis for allocating proportionate shares in those sections of the beet area in which personal history now is a basis. No charge would be made in those areas in which land history is now the basis for allocating proportionate shares.

8. Liquid Sugar Quotas: All such quotas would be eliminated except provision would be made to permit continued entry of normal quantities of Barbados type molasses.

9. Non - Transferability of Quotas: Foreign counties assigned quotas under the Act could fill such quotas only with sugar they produce. No net importing country would be eligible for a quota.

10. Sugar Containing Products: The Secretary would be given authority to limit importation of sugar containing products when such importation would be contrary to the intent of the Act.

11. Foreign Supplies: Price incentives would be maintained in the Act to insure that foreign sugar will be available to the U. S. market in the quantities needed at the times required.

That is the bill which will be forwarded to our congressmen. It's calling for less than the growers want, by far, but it is more than the industry compromise and considerably more than the administration was reportedly ready to hand out. As a comparison, industry was proposing 67 1/2 per cent of the growth factor for mainland production while the administration was to propose only 55 per cent. Earl Gregory, representing a large faction of new growers in Quincy, Wash., who has worked on legislation eight years, warned those in the meeting that they should tread lightly on the industry program. It is "a lot better than the act is now, lot better than the administration proposes, and if we upset the waters by arguing with the (industry) proposal, we will get nothing but an extension (of the present act)."

The Texas delegation, some of whom wanted part of the Cuban allotment, voted for the final proposal. They had been warned late last year by Rep. Bob Poage, vice-chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, that if we asked for Cuban allotment and growth factor we would get nothing. But, if we settled for growth factor, he would work for it, himself.

Dick Blake, representing the National Beet Growers Association, attended the meeting giving very valuable advice and information. He said Rep. Cooley, chairman of the house committee, would hold hearings on the subject around the middle or late May. He also said the old growers are sympathetic with new grower proposals.

"This gives us a unified front with which to approach the legislature," stated Schenk, who himself has done considerable legislative work. Several at the meeting commented on the valuable number of congressmen Schenk's Indiana and Illinois would add to the cause's support.

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

There seems to be quite a bit of interest among the farmers in this District in establishing grasses for irrigated pasture this year. For this reason the Soil Conservation District will present a program on establishment and management of irrigated grasses.

Jack Douglas, Agronomy Specialist from the Amarillo Soil Conservation Service Office will give a program on irrigated grasses for pasture. This program will be April 5th at 2 p.m. in Community Room, Friona State Bank in Friona. This program will be of interest and benefit to all land owners and operators in the District and the Soil Conservation District Supervisors urge all to attend.

HD Agent Describes New Fashion Trend

With Spring just around the corner fashion seems to blossom out with the flowers. Ready-to-wear and fabric shops have a flower garden of fashionable garments and fabrics for spring. Whatever the weather, it will be a "sun-bright" season for cotton. Picturesque colors will be popular, including bright, flag-waving shades of red, white, and blue, and warm citrus colors of lemon, lime, and orange. Brown will be the neutral color, as well as neutral beige and gray. Black and white is still favored for another season. Additional color interest comes in sky blue, porcelain blue, lightened navy, and fresh clear aqua.

The fashion look for dresses this season will feature femininity. Look for sleeves, normal waistlines, waist-length jackets, capes, ruffles, bias cuts and soft skirts.

Many different shapes will be in vogue. These will include the princess styles, flared skirts, raised waistlines, overblouses and the popular jacket dress. Three-piece costumes also will be featured, with open cutaway jackets made with narrow revers collars. The loose coat will fall softly from high busted smoothness. Fitted fronts, loose backs, and set-in sleeves will be used in both coats and suits.

Tunics, and overblouses or tuck-in blouses will be worn under coats and jackets of varying length. Stoles will be used for daytime as well as evening. Collarless necklines, small collars, and revers collars also will be stressed. Suit and coat fabrics will include smooth silk and worsted blends in dressy styles. There will be emphasis on black and bright colors. Lacy wools and mohair looped for a soft surface will also be used for coats and suits. The textured look will continue.

A softer, more feminine look is due in women's sportswear this season. Waistlines will be marked, but not cinched. Feminine influence will include ruffles, flounces, frills and fringes in sportswear. Skirts may have pleats or gentle flares. Overblouses will be more fitted and a bit shorter. Knitwear will follow two directions for fine gauge knits as well as bulky textures. Sweaters may be worn tucked in for the first time in a long time. Stretch fabric will be widely used in pants, jackets, pullovers, skirts, and tops. Colors, which have been on the vivid side, will swing away from the brights toward the darks.

For blouses and dresses, lightweight fabrics will be popular this season. These fabrics include chiffons, organzas and crepes. Textured silks, silk-cotton and all-cotton tweeds, and

The HAPPY HOMEMAKER

BY JUNIF FLOYD

If you are one of those homemakers who have already been bitten by the spring "clean-up, paint-up, fix-up bug", you will probably want to try the following household hints.

When you are all through with painting a room, hot vinegar makes a very effective paint remover for paint you have on windows.

It will soon be time for serving cool hearty main dishes. A recipe that is ideal for meatless meals and hot-weather dining is this hearty main-dish salad.

Tuna Mold
1 envelope Knox unflavored gelatine
1 3/4 cups milk, divided
2 egg yolks
1 teaspoon salt
dash pepper
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
1 can (6 or 7 oz.) tuna, drained and flaked
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1/2 cup chopped celery
2 tablespoons finely chopped pimiento
Cooked marinated green peas
Stir gelatine into 1/2 cup of the milk to soften. Beat egg yolks, remaining 1/4 cup milk, salt and pepper together; add to gelatine mixture.

Place over low heat, stirring constantly until gelatine is dissolved, about five minutes. Remove from heat. Chill mixture to unbeaten egg white consistency.

Combine tuna, mustard, lemon juice, celery and pimiento. Fold into gelatine mixture. Turn into a 3 cup ring mold or individual molds; chill until firm. Unmold on serving plate and garnish with salad greens. Fill center with green peas.

If desired, you may substitute salmon, lobster or crab meat for tuna. For a party, double recipe and turn into a 9 x 5 loaf pan. Serve with sliced cucumbers, tomato wedges, and radish roses.

It seems that current trends point towards waterless cooking whether you chose stainless steel or aluminum utensils. One manufacturer lists the following instructions, which are applicable to any type waterless cooking.

1. The food should fill, or nearly fill the utensil when cooking the waterless way.
2. After cleaning and preparing young, tender vegetables, place in the pan and rinse with cold water. Drain off water and cover. Just this water, which clings to vegetables will be enough for cooking.
3. In some cases when older or extremely starchy vegetables are prepared, it may be necessary to add 1/4 to 1/2 cup of water. In cases where amount of vegetables may not fill utensil, add 1/4 to 1/2 cup of water.
4. Start with medium to high heat until pan heats through, about three to five minutes. Then reduce heat to low for entire cooking period.

5. Every time cover is lifted, heat escapes, and thereby lengthens cooking time.

6. Use this simple test to prevent overheating. Place a crumb of butter in center of pan and place over a medium-high heat--as soon as butter begins to brown, add meat and sear to desired degree, then cover. When cover is too hot to touch, reduce heat to low for balance of cooking period.

7. When pan broiling meats (without fat) meat may stick to heated utensil a little until it is properly browned. Then heat should be reduced and sticking will gradually loosen.

8. Meats should be seasoned after broiling. Vegetables should be seasoned immediately before serving.

9. Select heating unit or burner which most nearly corresponds in diameter to the utensil.

10. To avoid possibility of damage to handles, read manufacturer's instructions and follow them carefully when using utensils designed for on top the stove or oven cooking.

Farm Facts

Frederick W. Waugh, writing in the Yearbook of Agriculture, points out that everyone has a stake in continuing technological improvements in agriculture.

"Our great modern industries of manufacturing and commerce would have been impossible without the technological revolution in agriculture, which made available the necessary manpower for factories, banks, stores.

"Primitive societies must use most of their resources in primary production--in farming, fishing, forestry, and mining. Very few people can be spared to work in manufacturing, trade, services, the arts and sciences.

"As our farm labor has become more productive, a smaller and smaller percentage of our workers can feed and clothe our whole population.

"The direct effects of better agricultural technology are seen in more and better food and fiber. The indirect effects are in more automobiles, television sets, roads, schools, and all sorts of non-agricultural goods and services.

FOOTSAVING EDUCATION

by James E. Edwards

Is Foot Trouble Inherited?

Medical science is very definite about the fact that bunions, hammer toes, corns, and callouses are not hereditary. Some folks get awfully red in the face protesting that they inherited bunions because they have had them from birth and their parents had bunions.

I wasn't there when they were born and I don't doubt that the parents had bunions. A generation ago you almost had to have bunions to qualify for citizenship.

The reason people cling to the idea that they inherited the malformations is simply they can't remember the tight shoes, sox or pajamas that caused them. There are still many parents who believe that it is alright to wear short shoes and sox on babies who are not yet walking. That is the age when the bones are not boney. They are cartilage as soft as the gristle of well-cooked chicken.

I never get loud, but I wish that I could shout the fact that there should never be any doubt about babies' footwear. If there is even a remote possibility that shoes, sox, or pajama feet will bend the toes, the baby should be kept bare-foot. Remember, short shoes are POISON applied externally.

Something To Think About
6th. Street Church of Christ
Box 515 -- Friona, Texas

is a fundamental law governing the relationship between God and mankind. God is the law giver and man is the subject. This has been true since the beginning of time, and there is no exception. When man obeys the law of God he is blessed, when he disobeys the law of God he will be punished. Noah knew better than to tempt God by using some kind of wood other than gopher wood. It is possible that three hundred cubits seemed to him to be too long or too short, but he had too much respect for God, and too much concern for his own soul to change the pattern that God gave him. The same God gave us a pattern of worship - he told us what and how and placed a curse upon those who would change this pattern. (Gal. 1:8 and Rev. 20:18-19) Unfortunately, many of our days are not as respectful of God's will as was Noah because they tempt God by changing his plan of worship. They add to it, and they leave part of it out, and then misuse the scripture to justify their rebellious deeds. People who are sincerely interested in their souls will repudiate such false doctrine and determine to worship God according to his divine plan.

A FALL OUT SHELTER AVAILABLE
The fear of radio active fall-out has prompted many to build shelters. There are many questions which could be asked about shelters such as, Will the shelter be sufficient to protect? What will happen when supplies run out and people must come out from their shelters? There are many problems the fall out shelters pose and much discussion is made today in our nation about it. However, I would point you to what the Psalmist had to say: "God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble. Therefore will not we fear though the earth be removed, and though the mountains be carried into the midst of the seas; Though the waters thereof roar and be troubled, though the mountains shake with the swelling thereof." (Psalms 46:1-3).
I do not condemn protection for our lives, certainly God gave us enough sense to do so but I do question the fact that the people of our nation have turned to the security of fall out shelters, social security, stocks and bonds, and man made shelters which offer shelter temporarily. God is an eternal refuge who never fails to give peace and joy, but we must turn to Him in repentance and faith.
Christ is likened to the Solid Rock. Though the storms, the wind, and the rain came yet the solid rock stood forever. As the group of disciples went across the lake of Gallilee in a small boat and the storm came down upon them while Jesus slept, they tried to save themselves from the storm. No matter what they did they were incapable of providing their needs. Finally, in despair one awakened Jesus and with fear exclaimed, "Master we perish!" Jesus calmly rebuked the winds, they obeyed His voice, and the storm quieted.
Do we have more faith in man made shelters than we do in God? God's promise is, "I will never leave thee nor forsake thee." It is a comfort to know we can always depend on God to be our salvation.
Let me invite you to turn to Him today by repentance of sin and faith in Christ the shelter in the time of need.

"Make thou an ark of gopher wood . . . and this is the fashion which thou shalt make it." (Genesis 6:14-15) Two very important truths are set forth in these verses.
