LISTEN TO LUKE

The March of Dimes drive in the county has been under way for nearly a month now and so far the results of the drive are a little short of previous years. This is understandable, to a great extent, by the fact that many people do not have the cash at this time for a contribution to any cause, no matter how worthy. But some of our local students came up with an idea which it is hoped will take care of some of the deficit. Charles Stegall, a member of the Sanderson basketball team, mentioned the fact that other towns were raising money by various methods among which was a pledge for a cash contribution to the March of Dimes by merchants for each point made by their basketball team on a specified night.

This idea struck home with Buddy Sudduth, as any good idea would strike home to anyone who was trying to raise some cash. He sought the consent of local school officials and so such a thing will come to pass here Friday night.

The Eagles are playing Marathon in a conference game, and if the desire to win wouldn't be sufficient for the boys to try their best, they will now be trying to see how much money they can make local merchants and individuals spend and they will also see how much they can make for the March of Dimes.

This should, by the way, help to create a very interesting basketball game, and all who can are urged to go out and watch the game. We know that it will cause a good crowd, because any business man likes to watch his money being spent, and he will have the opportunity that night and how many times the local boys make a goal or a free shot, they can say well, there goes 50c, or 25c, or whatever amount they pledged for each point.

We personally endorse the whole affair — the way the money is being raised, and the cause for which it is going.

Oil play is booming in Terrell county, and who knows, we may be listed as one of the oil producing counties of Texas within the next few months.

Oil exploration, highway construction, REA construction, and other things have brought many families to this area with the hope to come. The people of the area should do everything possible to offer their best in the way of facilities to these new comers and make them welcome in our communities.

Housing facilities, we understand are at a minimum, but new ones are being erected to alleviate the shortage somewhat.

It is time to end the double talk. Since the people voted for fundamental changes in the federal government, there should also be changes in the words and phrases used to discuss public issues. In an excellent editorial on subject, the Saturday Evening Post has pointed out that "Every time a question is ticketed so that anybody who raises his voice about anything can be taken off immediately as 'reactionary,' 'progressive' or 'liberal'—for example, why is it 'reactionary' to favor a free market, and 'progressive' to plump for price control? What is 'liberal' about a bureaucratic operation of the electric power companies, as opposed to the 'Tory' theory that private companies have done pretty well that field."

It would be a healthy thing for our country if people would take the time to look beneath the labels of "liberals" who so blithely minimize the achievements of private citizens while always finding some cause for extending the authority of government over our lives and directing us with ever heavier taxation. As the Post so aptly says, "What is liberal about price

Funeral Services Here Monday For Mrs. C. H. Arvin

Rev. John W. Byrd officiated in the funeral services which were held Monday afternoon at four o'clock at the First Presbyterian Church for Mrs. Josephine Corder Arvin who died in a San Antonio hospital Saturday evening. She had been in the hospital since November. An O. T. Sudduth, Inc. funeral coach brought the body from San Antonio and she was buried in Cedar Grove Cemetery beside her late husband, Cecil H. Arvin, who died seven months ago.

Mrs. Arvin, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Corder, pioneer Big Canyon ranching people, was born in Kimble County on September 28, 1880. She came to Terrell County with her parents in 1905 and was married to Mr. Arvin in 1909.

She was a member of the First Christian Church in San Antonio. Survivors include a sister, Mrs. Mary E. Mitchell, of Sanderson; four brothers, Monty and Dick Corder of Sanderson; Theo Corder of Las Cruces, N. M., and Eugene Corder of Sabinal.

Dr. Sam Morris To Be At Baptist Church Sunday For Services

DR. SAM MORRIS

Dr. Sam Morris of San Antonio will be the guest speaker Sunday at the First Baptist Church of Sanderson of which Rev. Claude Bridges is pastor.

Dr. Morris will speak to a meeting of men only at 9:30 a. m. in the Masonic Hall basement. He will preach at 11 o'clock at the Baptist Church on "The Bible and Strong Drink." Sunday night he will speak on "Swinging the Moral Shutting off the Faucet."

"Great crowds always greet Dr. Morris wherever he goes," said Rev. Bridges. "He spoke to more than 4,000 in Constitution Hall in Washington, D. C., more than 5,000 heard him in Wichita, Kansas; 6,000 in Birmingham, Alabama and more than 10,000 in Owensburg, Kentucky. Leading magazines of the country ascribe to Morris the credit for the many victories won against the liquor industry throughout the nation."

The public is cordially invited to hear Dr. Morris at each of the services.

LOCAL CAGERS TO PLAY FOR 'DIMES' DRIVE FRIDAY NIGHT

Announcement was made this week that the Sanderson Eagles would play basketball Friday night for the local "March of Dimes" drive. The Eagles will play the Marathon Mustangs in a conference game.

Local citizens and businesses have pledged to give a specified amount of money to the March of Dimes for each point made by the Eagles during the ball game. It is thought that this will enhance the spectator and player interest in the cage fray Friday night.

The total amount per point that has been pledged is $3.05 with a promise of more per point by several of the merchants who had not been contacted Thursday at noon.

This project, along with many other novelty ideas have been carried on over the state to load the coffers of the fund and any person or business that has not been invited to participate in the project Friday night is asked to contact W. W. Sudduth or one of the basketball players.

All of the proceeds of the project will go to the March of Dimes. Charles Stegall, a member of the Eagle cage team, conceived the idea as a local project and school officials and the county chairman of the drive agreed to try and put over the project as one of the local means of raising funds. The basketball boys assured the chairman that they would be working to see that those who had pledged so much for each point would give a sizeable contribution to the worthy cause.

The series of games will get under way at 6 p. m. with the "B" team playing the first game, followed by the girls' game then the "A" team game.

The public is urged to attend.

Oil Activity In Terrell Lively As New Drilling Sites Covered By Rigs

Cable tools rig has moved in location on Harrison No. 1, Section 22, Block D-4, south of Dryden. Keck Oil Co. of Long Beach, California, has a large block in the Dryden Area, and, according to R. J. Keck, president, extensive exploration is planned by his company.

J. C. Lewis Drilling Co. of Monahan has contract for drilling to 4,500 feet with cable tools and their rig has spudded in this well this week on the John Harrison ranch.

The president of the Keck Company, together with his brother, W. W. Keck and E. F. Pierson, vice president of the company, all of California, are here and have been making preparations for the drilling activity.

A road has been built to the location and water lines laid before the rig moved in.

According to Mr. Keck, this will be a tight hole.

Banner No. 1 on the Banner estate, spudded in Monday afternoon for a new well in the east central part of Terrell County. This location is approximately one mile south of the M. H. Goode well that was closed down last week after a gas showing. The new location is about two miles from the Willie Banner ranch and about the same distance from Wilson Banner's.

The Great Western Drilling Contractors are putting down the hole for Western Natural Gas Co.

DLT Co. has moved a cable tool rig on the Goldwire ranch north of Sanderson, reportedly for a shallow test. This is to be a tight hole and little if any information will be given out as drilling progresses. The location is in Sec. 97, Block 1, TCR Co. survey.

Two attempts have been abandoned in that area but the new location will govern future exploration in that area, according to reports.

Fred Turner of Midland has located a No. 2 H. C. Noelke, Jr., well as a 2,000-foot combination tool-wire in the northeastern part of Terrell County just several miles southwest of Sheffield. The location is in section 50, Block B-2 CCSD&RGNG survey, 600 feet from the south and west lines and 2 1/4 of a mile west of the Turner No. 1 Noelke well, which was plugged and abandoned last fall at 11,677 feet. The well was reported plugged back to 2,855 feet where shows were tested between 2,608-23 feet in the San Andrea. It was reported to have topped the Glenburger at 11,290.

The well is scheduled to begin operation on February 1.

Humble No. 1 Blackstone was reported to be drilling below 9,045 in lime and shale this week. The location of this well is section 58, Block B-2 CCSD&RGNG survey.

Drilling will be resumed in the near future on the Freeman well east of Dryden. The drilling operations have been suspended since before Christmas, but Mr. Freeman stated that his driller will be back to start up again in the very near future.

The Roark No. 1 in the southern part of Brewster County near the southwestern part of Terrell County, is drilling at about 500 feet in a difficult formation according to information from crew members for the Hipp Drilling Co.

This crew is working three tours a day and have started with a 20-inch hole.

DAYS RECEIPTS TO GO TO MARCH OF DIMES DRIVE

All receipts for coffee sales on Saturday, January 31, will be donated to the March of Dimes Drive by the Turner Hot-Spot Cafe.

Hollis Haley, hotel manager, said he wants to urge his customers to contribute freely to the little chests which are placed on the counters when they are enjoying coffee at the hotel's expensé. James Blackwelder, distributor of Gandy's milk products, has agreed to assist in the drive by donating all coffee cream for the day.

So far the contributions in the counter chests have been below expectations, Haley said. It is hoped that this means of promotion will fill the chests for this worthy drive, he said.

Regan Introduces Bill For Purchase Of More Park Land

Washington, Jan 15 — A bill to authorize the acquisition of acreage within limits of Big Bend National Park still owned by individuals, has been re-introduced by Representative Ken Regan of Midland.

The same measure was passed by the House at the last session but was "bottled up" in the Senate interior and insular affairs committee.

Regan's bill amends the public law creating the vast park to provide that 8,876 acres in the park be purchased with national park service funds.

The public law which created the park provided that the state of Texas should provide all land. One of the parcels of land in the park still held by a private individual contains 5,000 acres. Several other small parcels comprise the remainder. It has been estimated that $80,000 is necessary to effect the purchase.

'Thank You' Given To Local Movie-Goers For Drive's Success

An official "thank you" to Sanderson movie-goers was extended this week by Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation, Texas treatment center for victims of poliomyelitis and other neuro-muscular ailments, as results of the 1952 Texas Theatre Crippled Children's Fund were made known in a special folder.

Carlton White, manager of the Princess Theatre which joined 648 other Texas theatres in the drive, received the mailing piece which announced the state total at the drive's end reached $262,883.23. Of this amount, the Princess Theatre's patrons contributed $76.99 when special collections were made August 31-September 6.

Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation is a non-profit organization built with the donations of Texans and operated and maintained by the Texas. Highlights and Sidelights FROM Your State CAPITOL

By Vern Sanford Texas Press Association

Austin, Texas—Maybe you don't realize it, but as a taxpayer you have 40,000 employees.

These people are state workers. And it looks like you are going to increase their salaries. All depends on the legislature.

A bill to hike the pay of state workers has been introduced by the Austin delegation and if it passes, the measure will give "temporary emergency" wage boosts of 15 per cent on all state salaries up to $3,600 per year and 1 per cent on the first $3,600 of higher salaries.

In his opening message to the legislature, Governor Shivers asked that an increase in workers' pay be included in the budget bill, but that cannot become effective until September 1 when the fiscal year begins. Hence the emergency legislation.

It is Edward Clark, Austin attorney, who bosses the legislature, says Leslie Velle, writing in the February Reader's Digest. Velle charges that some of the state's most important laws are written in Clark's office and in his capacity as lobbyist for Herman Brown of the firm Brown and Root.

Velle says Clark has and uses the power to tell potential political candidates "not to bother" to run, and that he can tell the lawmakers "what they should bother with."

In reply to all this, Clark snapped that Velle's story was a "false, foul and infamous smear." He added that he was "shocked and surprised" that the Digest would print a story so "very definitely off-color and completely untrue."

A number of bills going into the hopper for legislative consideration are familiar—they have been introduced at previous sessions.

Dr. J. L. Kincannon OPTOMETRIST will be in his offices in The Henshaw Building Every Thursday

One of these is the so-called fair-trade bill. This time its author is Representative Lamar Zively of Temple. The measure would prohibit advertising or selling of goods below cost.

Also familiar was a bill to legalize race track betting in Texas. The author of this one, Representative Ed Sheridan of San Antonio, declared that it would raise many millions of dollars in tax revenue.

SHARING THE WEALTH

The 13th Harding College Freedom Forum, held on our campus last week, dug deeply into the problem of how to improve labor-management relations in America. Among the 100 conferees from 25 states were 15 men from the ranks of organized labor. Other groups represented included business, the clergy, education, the American Legion, and civic clubs. There were five women conferees.

The give-and-take Forum discussions on the problem of labor-management relations were based on the unanimously accepted fact that every American, regardless of his occupation, economic status or politics, has a stake in making the private enterprise system work better and produce more goods and services. The more wealth the system produces, the better will be the living standard of everyone.

65 Per Cent To Employees Of unusual interest at the Forum were the facts showing that Surprise Ending!

That raffle for our Volunteer Fire Department went over fine. We're going to have money to get a new engine—and then some.

Our local merchants really donated some wonderful prizes. Like Buzz Ellis, the radio-TV dealer, giving that big television set... and the Superior Motors putting up a brand-new car.

There was a humorous note, too. The prize of a year's supply of coal—donated by Baker Coal Yard—was won by Mrs. Thayer, whose husband is the biggest fuel-oil dealer in the county! What did 65 per cent of the national income goes to employees, 9 per cent to professional men and unincorporated business, 7 per cent to farmers, 4 per cent to landlords, 4 per cent to stockholders, 4 per cent to bond holders and other lenders. Another 2 per cent is retained by business for expansion; and that's what makes new jobs. The final 5 per cent in the statistics represents the portion of the national income corporations, altogether, pay in taxes.

In the 30 year period 1920-1949, corporations paid out in dividends $96 billion and paid out in taxes to the government $117 billion. Of interest, too, were the statistics, based on research conducted by the University of Notre Dame, showing that 73 cents out of every dollar of interest, dividends and rent payments to individuals go to people with less than $100-a-week income. In other words, the property and the wealth of America is distributed widely through the whole population.

One-Cent Profit As this column is being written I have on my desk the January issue of Swift & Company employee magazine containing a report on Swift's business for 1952 and a personal letter from Swift's president, John Holmes. The report and letter are good examples of the social value and the social consciousness of today's big industries in America.

Swift's sales last year totaled $2,592,630,543. Raw materials including livestock, dairy and poultry products, cottonseed, vegetable oils, etc., cost $1,971,627,518—or 76 per cent. Other operating expenses were $249,093,279. Of the remainder $320,981,387 was needed for payrolls and employee benefits for Swift's 76,000 employees—leaving $29,228,942, which was paid in state and federal taxes, and $21,698,417 in net profit for Swift's 64,000 shareholders, or owners. Swift thus made approximately one cent profit on every dollar's worth of sales. The government got more in taxes than the owners got in interest on their investment.

Teamwork Did It Mr. Holmes wrote his employees: "To a large degree, our success in 1952 came as a result of good work—and good teamwork—by Swift men and women. You have shown your ability to overcome tough problems. I have always believed that the greatest source of Swift & Company's strength is its people. I am now more convinced than ever.

"We have reason to be proud of our 1952 record, but I would like to think of it merely as a starting point for greater accomplishments. It is gratifying to show improved earnings because for the good of us all it is desirable that the company we work for be successful and profitable. I am encouraged over the opportunities that lie ahead."

Yes, it is desirable that the company we work for be successful; and it is even more desirable that we preserve the successful economic system under which industry has made such great strides and our living standard has become the envy of the world. Good employee-employer relationship is a keystone in this dual objective.

control, under which every merchant in the country, big and little, lives with a constant threat of penalties—even jail—if he deviates from incomprehensible rules drawn up by political appointees wholly inexperienced in the business of retailing? It is indeed a warped conception of liberalism which can accept with equanimity such intrusion of government into the basic rights of American citizens.

Around town we have seen plenty of people watching the clouds pass by with wistful looks on their faces... fun-making, derisive remarks being made to a certain "executive-type" rancher... plenty of drivers having plenty of reason to observe plenty of caution in driving on local streets... Bernie Kerr passing out cigars (reportedly)... Jimmie Caroline's secretary and cashier back on the job.

Livestock Profits Depend On Feed

College Station, January 27—Texas livestock producers would like mighty well to see an improvement on the profit side of the ledger in 1953. The sharp drop in cattle prices and the price of sheep and wool since last year was made much more acute by the drouth which covered much of the country. Recent rains, however, have made the prospects for feed and some strength has been noted in livestock prices.

Prospects for 1953 are not too bright, says C. H. Bates, farm management specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension service. That prediction is based on the forecast that more beef and poultry will be available. The supplies of mutton and pork will be less but the over-all total of all meats is expected to be larger than 1952 supplies. Prices, says Bates, for both live animals and meat at retail are most likely to decline unless unforeseen changes occur.

On the favorable side of the picture Bates adds that the strong demand for meat is likely to continue through 1953 and too, consumers should have more money with which to buy meats and other foods.

The long time outlook for profits from livestock production, believes the specialist, depends on how well producers balance livestock numbers with feed supplies. He points out that Texas producers in 1952 had some 21 per cent more cattle than 10 years ago and this resulted in heavier stocking of range and pasture land. The drouth coupled with the 20 per cent less acreage planted last year to hay and silage crops made the feed situation a tough one. Even with normal yields there would have been feed shortages in most areas.

Profitable livestock production in 1953 or for most any year, he says, depends on the plans that are made by the individual producer for an adequate feed supply which must include reserves. Unless there is a stable feed supply livestock profits are doubtful regardless of a strong demand for meat and reasonable prices.

He found these models among his neighbors in Arlington, Va. Posing at left is the late Henry Ford, when he was a watch repairing boy of 10 years, is Robert DeBlock, 12, seventh grade student at Arlington Memorial school. Public Schools Week Set For March 1-7

A proclamation issued by the Governor of Texas and adopted by the Texas legislative bodies, and state educational officers, departments and teachers associations has set the week of March 1-7 as Texas Public Schools Week. The purpose of the observance of such a week, it was pointed out, was to try to encourage an active interest on the part of Texas' citizens in the public school system which would call for closer cooperation between the parents, citizens and taxpayers and the officials and educators of the public schools.

This is the third annual observance of the Texas Public Schools Weeks and reports from other parts of the state testify as to the continued increase in interest displayed by citizens in the activities of the school.

Supt. Matt Bader has announced the date of this year's observance to the faculty members and plans are already under way to promote the project this year in a more successful manner than has been done in the past.

Cooperation will be sought of the various clubs and organizations of Sanderson to insure a complete knowledge of the purpose of the observance and attendance and visitation to the school by parents is urged, especially during this week.

"It is a healthy thing in our democratic way of life to have an intelligent understanding of the important functions of our basic institutions. This is especially true of the schools. The initiative and resourcefulness and the wisdom and leadership that our schools are inculcating in the youth of today are the answer to the problems of citizenship in the years ahead," Bader said.

"We can do our part in understanding and helping the public schools to fulfill their great obligation to our times by being a participant in the annual Public Schools Week, March 1-7. Schools will hold open house; offer our best efforts at hospitality, and you will enjoy the experience of going back to school — if but for one period. Remember it is "Texas Public Schools Week — Democracy in Action". Bader concluded.

'Made In Texas' Highway Maps Are Now Available

Austin, January 21 — Texas chalked up another "first" today when the 1953 Texas Official Highway map was released, D. C. Greer, State Highway Engineer, announced.

The new map, featuring "A Look at Texas" theme, is a 100 per cent Texas product. Wood pulp for the paper was grown in East Texas. The paper was made near Houston and the plates and printing were done in Austin.

An encyclopedia of Texas information in itself, the map provides current and accurate highway information, while the back side has pictures and information on points of interest.

Locations of roadside parks, national and state parks, national forests, mountainous areas, lakes and streams, along with other information that will add to the safety, comfort, and pleasure of the traveling public are shown. There are 1,394 cities and towns listed with a cross section of altitudes given. Thirteen enlarged city insets are provided for the convenience of motorists traveling through these major metropolitan areas. Distances are indicated between all points and a special mileage chart reflects the accumulated official mileage between the principal points.

For "A Look at Texas," the back side offers in color some of the outstanding vacation spots. Fishing, horseback riding, picnicking, sailing, and cattle branding scenes suggest some places to "go."

Greer announced that the new map is available to the general public for the asking. For the convenience of the public, a special addressed card is available in the County Tax Collector's office upon the registration of your automobile. These map cards will expedite the handling and mailing of maps, Greer added. The maps are also available free of charge at any Texas Highway district office.

Citizens Reminded Of Deadline on Taxes

Saturday, January 31, is the deadline for several groups of Tarrant County residents. That marks the last day for the payment of property taxes and on February 1 the taxes become delinquent and the penalty plus interest is added to the taxes. The period of discount on real and property taxes expired December 31.

Saturday is also the last day for aliens to file an address report card, according to a notice from the U. S. Department of Justice.

A last-minute rush is anticipated in the tax collector's office for the payment of poll taxes. Only 410 polls have been issued through Tuesday, about half of the normal issue Saturday is not only the last day for a citizen to secure a poll tax but voters are also reminded that they cannot vote in any election in Texas without a poll tax receipt or exemption. Although 1953 is considered an off-election year with no primary or general elections, there is always the possibility of a special election, and the election of a school trustee is scheduled for this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Burt Boyd returned to their home in San Angelo Friday after spending several months with their son, Chester Boyd, and Bonda Gail, who took them to San Angelo, visiting with relatives in McCamey en route.

'Dental Health Day' Named To Draw Attention to Danger

Austin, January 28 — More than half of the children in this country have as many as six cavities in their teeth before they begin school. That's the estimate of Texas dental authorities and state health officials as they announced February 2 as the date for the fifth annual observance of Children's Dental Health Day.

The day has been set aside in an attempt to call public attention to these startling facts:

Ninety-eight per cent of all 15-year old boys have one or more teeth missing, decayed or filled.

Over 284-million cavities are afflicting the teeth of American children, with teeth decaying six times faster than they are being filled.

One-half of the children between the ages of three and nine have never in their lives had dental treatment.

"One of the biggest hurdles to be overcome," State Health Officer George W. Cox says, "is the seemingly widespread attitude that baby teeth are insignificant."

He believes the attitude stems from the fact that baby teeth are only temporary, with most people thinking there is no need for concern until the child gets his permanent set.

But dental scientists say that the care of baby teeth has a direct and vital bearing on the condition of permanent teeth. Dr. Cox points out.

The Texas State Department of Health and the State Dental Society are sponsoring the state observance of the day.

They are appealing to all parents to pay attention to the plight of youngsters' teeth. And they make this prediction:

"The children will be grateful especially when they are no longer children."
