SANDERSON, TEXAS, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 20, 1953

NUMBER 1

LISTEN TO LUKE

This issue begins the forty-sixth year of publication for The Sanderson Times!

Usually editors run a whole lot of stuff about how they have enjoyed the paper and "serving you" during the past year and will try to do a better job next year and the usual blah-blah which you may or may not believe.

To tell the truth, we have worked like the dickens, during the almost six years we have been here. Not because we specially like the idea of work, but because we needed to make a living and pay off our debts.

As we have indicated before, we believe that publishing the paper every week bordered on work, but we won't say that we didn't enjoy it. We like the idea of eating and have at least a few of the so-called comforts of life.

But we won't say we ran the Times — it ran us; all over town in search of news, job printing, ads, and the sale of office supplies and equipment. In our language that runs into work, but it is better than picking cotton, digging a ditch or cutting sotol, at least from the "labor" standpoint, not from the monetary.

And, too, we have enjoyed our association with you. We have tried to share in your joys and sorrows, your good fortunes and your misfortunes. We expect to keep on doing so in the forty-sixth year of this paper.

With your friendship, good-will, and your business we expect to be as pleasantly happy in doing so.

Parts of the county had from 1 to 10 drops of rainfall Wednesday morning early and most of the inches counted every drop that fell on their roofs. Nobody seems to know where the cloud came from that produced the moisture, but it was here nevertheless.

Last week we intended to have something to say about a moving picture that was here two weeks ago but got wound up on something else and forgot all about it temporarily. The movie was "The All Rogers Story".

The portrayal of the life of the great humorist, actor, columnist, entertainer was well done by his son, Will, Jr., to a degree that brought back many fond memories that great man.

We are proud to belong to one of the circles in which he moved, probably the one which created most of his greatness — that of a columnist. His little quips were depicted more by the reading public than possibly any predecessor or antecedents thus far.

We would not try to imitate or do that great man because nature did not bless us with the ability. Continued to page 2

Sgt. David Thompson Home After Cruise In Mediterranean

Marine Sgt. David F. Thompson, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Thompson, recently returned to the United States and Camp Lejeune, N. C., after completing a six-month tour of duty in Northern Europe and the Mediterranean.

Last fall, he participated in two of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's biggest displays of might, Exercise Mainbrace and Exercise Longstep.

The Mainbrace operation in September, involving eight NATO nations, was the largest peacetime joint-naval exercise in world history. It was culminated when almost 2,000 Marines landed on the Jutland peninsula of Denmark to aid NATO forces hard pressed by mythical enemy troops.

Sgt. Thompson also participated in NATO's other big show, Exercise Longstep. This two-week operation was the largest peacetime Allied maneuvers ever held in the Mediterranean.

The exercise, involving 179 ships, and 500 planes of six nations, ended with the realistic amphibious landing of U. S. Marines, Greek Raiders, French and Italian Commandos on the shores of Turkey to capture a beachhead against mythical enemy forces.

Frank Sheffield, Old Resident of County, Dies Wednesday

Graveside services in the Sheffield Cemetery Friday morning at 10 o'clock will mark the final rites for William Frank Sheffield, Jr., who died here about 10:30 Wednesday night following several months of ill health.

The passing of Mr. Sheffield adds another to the lengthening list of pioneer Terrell County residents who have died in recent years. He came to Sanderson about 33 years ago and was in the employ of the Southern Pacific for many years in the maintenance-of-way department until failing health forced his retirement about two years ago.

Born in Mills County, Texas, in 1884, he was the son of pioneer parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Frank Sheffield, who came to what is now Sheffield and established the first postoffice in the community that bears their name. Mrs. Sheffield was the former Miss Virginia Judson and with Mr. Sheffield was a native of Georgia.

Are teachers going to get more money?

The answer is maybe so. A bill to give them $600 per year increase is now in legislative process.

The bill, by Senator A. M. Aikin, Jr., of Paris, easily passed its first test. The senate education committee approved it unanimously and moved it along to the senate floor.

Senator Aikin said the bill, if passed, would cost the state 32 to 35 million dollars a year.

If the Aikin bill passes, where will the money come from to pay the teachers?

Governor Allan Shivers, who is writing a series of articles about teachers' pay, suggested the following solution:

"1. Transfer part of the available school fund, which goes to all districts on a strict per capita basis regardless of need, over to the Glimmer-Aikin minimum foundation fund, which guarantees a decent standard to the less prosperous schools, and

"2. Return to the original proposition of one local dollar for each three state dollars of Glimmer-Aikin support."

Another bill passed out of committee is one that regulates optometry. This one is highly controversial and kept the House Public Health Committee in session until well after midnight.

The bill, sponsored by the Texas Optometric Association, was supported at the hearing by Dr. Ira Woods of Littlefield, a member of the State Board of Optometry Examiners, who said: "There is a racket in eye glasses which we want to eliminate." He added:

"There is a minority of optometrists who don't recognize professional standards and use unscrupulous means of advertising. Then, there is a large octopus of chain store optometrists in Texas."

ity to produce humor from the everyday happenings of men in government and the like. To us, most of the happenings of the last decade have been too much on the ridiculous side to find any humorous connections.

We do believe, sincerely, that the world would profit by the ability of someone who was so talented as to give us a funny thought along with all the serious actions of today's struggle for freedom throughout the world, though, and such would be our ambition, if we thought that such a thing could be.

It has been very easy for us to read of some quip with a catch that someone thought up, and often we think, "why couldn't we have thought of that." But that's the fortunes and misfortunes of life.

It was nice, though, to have lived during that time when one was able to read daily what "Will Rogers Says" and enjoy the fruits of his great mind.

Around town this week we noticed another duster blowing away all signs of rain Monday. Local car dealers driving different cars every day, indicating some sales of new cars here. Very few coffee drinkers helping the "Dimes" coffee sales. Nothing much happening to create any excitement. Local merchants doing more and more merchandising to try to boost their sales. The need for lots of Spring cleaning of the lots, yards and streets of the town. Spring planting going on in many of the local yards.

Teamwork . . . and the Industrial Growth of the great Southwest

During the eleven year span from 1939 to 1950, the industrial growth of the territory served by SOUTHERN PACIFIC increased 372%. The rest of the nation combined showed an industrial increase of only 257% during the same period.

That this TEAMWORK "pays off" is made manifest by the fact that, over the past seven years, an average of two new industries per calendar day have been locating along SOUTHERN PACIFIC'S 13,700 miles of trackage!

This amazing lead of 115% over all other states didn't just happen. It was the result of long-range planning, of coordination of men and methods and machines, of TEAMWORK between production and transportation . . . for one cannot survive without the other, and neither can grow alone.

Ever alert to its responsibility, SOUTHERN PACIFIC meets shipping and transportation requirements of the Golden Empire with a service at the highest level of dependability and efficiency.

Since the humble beginnings of its oldest segment more than 100 years ago, the group of rail lines now forming SOUTHERN PACIFIC has played an important part in the Great Southwest industrial development. Throughout all the vast territory it serves, SOUTHERN PACIFIC encourages industry to move in, helps it get settled, helps it expand and moves its goods and personnel in all

We can help you. If you plan to expand in our territory, we invite you to see SP's confidential industrial service. Just write F. L. Gordon, Freight Traffic Manager, Southern Pacific, 913 Franklin Avenue, Houston 1, Texas.

IT'S THE LAW
in Texas
A public service feature of the State Bar of Texas

STUDY AND EXPERIENCE ARE BASIS FOR LAWYER'S ADVICE

When a lawyer saves a client from trouble or financial difficulty, the client knows only that he has been charged for "advice" — a commodity oftentimes too freely given by us all. Often overlooked is the study, work, and time the attorney has spent in order that he be in a position to give advice that can be relied upon.

A lawyer bases his fee upon the benefits received from the services he has rendered and the time and effort he has expended. In addition, he stakes his professional reputation upon the soundness of the counseling given each client.

First, a practicing lawyer must have had six or seven years of academic education. In Texas this means at least three years of college work and three years in a recognized law school. Because the community at large has an interest in the qualifications and conduct of members of the bar, these minimum educational requirements must be met before examination for admission to the bar may be taken.

During the three years of formal legal education, the law student attempts to read, digest, reconcile and understand from 10,000 to 20,000 separate cases, statutes, and monographs. He must draw from these an understanding of basic legal principles, of processes of legal reasoning, of methods of fact and legal investigation, and of court procedures which bring relief to clients.

From the standpoint of court proceedings, the community then expects the work of a lawyer to be a prompt and efficient trial of their causes at a fair cost. From a counseling standpoint, it expects reasonable promptness and efficiency with, above all, the utmost of sound judgment.

In both counseling and litigation, a lawyer must draw upon a wealth of precedent which he has attempted to store in his memory in order to apply one or more principles and rules of statute or decision are involved in even the simplest situation. Too, the problems raised by various clients, like fingerprints, are never exactly the same.

After searching his memory, the lawyer will usually check the pertinent rules and precedents. These are found in an ever-increasing volume of statutes with which modern legislation seeks to regulate many aspects of our life, and in the decisions of the courts, boards and bureaus.

Almost every problem presented to a lawyer requires research in the statutes and law books before a proper answer can be given.

Therefore, you will not receive an immediate answer to your problem from your lawyer, unless it is of the most elemental type. Your lawyer should, and you should give him time to, form his opinions from the authoritative statutes and decisions.

BAPTIST CHURCH
SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 22

My Neighbors
By BILL PAULSON

"When the communists run a 'peace offensive'...it sure is offensive!"

Prayer Circle Around Globe Slated Friday

A series of prayers will encircle the globe next Friday, the first Friday of Lent.

In Sanderson, the churches of the community are invited to participate in the World Day of Prayer Service in the First Presbyterian Church at four p. m.

The prayer series, an annual event, will encircle the globe in 24 hours, beginning in New Zealand and the Fiji Islands and continuing throughout the day.

Moving across the world hour by hour, the prayers will close with observations in Alaska and the Congo Islands.

The services are written annually by representatives of Christian Women in various lands. This year the program was written by African women who have used as their theme the significant words to the people of the dark continent: "Walk As Children of the Light." Last year some 17,000 communities in the United States observed the day of world prayer, which each year takes in more and more islands and countries. It is estimated that the February 20 program will be observed in more than 1,000 languages.

The offering taken at the service is used for missions at home and abroad.
