LISTEN TO LUKE

There is no animal on earth as fast as a wild donkey and none as slow as a bridled one. This columnist can speak from experience on the subject of donkeys.

Sometimes I think the best way to study human nature is to first give a good study to the nature and habits of the lowly donkey. You may spur, quirt, beat and otherwise abuse a donkey to try to induce him to increase his pace, but to no avail, but if you will use a short nail in a piece of board to gauge him in the withers, he will, for appearance sake, go into a rocking pace instead of the slow easygoing walk. If you were to clock the animal, however, you will find that he was covering no more ground than before.

Saturday night will bring to light some of the animal nature of the donkey which will remind you so much of human nature. If you think the donkey has no other speed than they demonstrate under rein and rider (?), then you should try to rope a wild donkey from your fastest horse.

Anybody who thinks they are smarter than a little donkey, come out Saturday night and volunteer to outsmart him. We feel sure that if donkeys think, they are all now thinking that they don't want to be ridden very far.

A note of gratitude should be awarded to those who are responsible for bringing to Sanderson a congregation of the best ropers of the nation. These ropers, all of national fame, will be competing against one another for top honors and money at a matched roping here Saturday afternoon.

We have not attended all the rodeos of the country, of course, but it would be our guess that it has been a long time since so many of the best have been pitted against one another, and we know that such a small town as Sanderson is really honored to be favored by this spectacle.

If you like roping and want to see the best, here it is!

We have a lot of activity going on up and down main street, what with the moving of power poles

Two Vacancies Filled For Fall School Term

According to Supt. Matt Bader, two vacancies in the high school were filled this week by the employment of a new coach and a vocational agriculture teacher.

Fred W. Hickman of San Angelo has been employed as head coach and science teacher. Mr. Hickman is a graduate of the San Angelo College and North Texas State College. He made an outstanding record as an athlete in both schools, lettering in football for three years at San Angelo College and two years at North Texas State. He also earned letters in track, basketball and baseball. During the past school term he was employed as coach at the Thomas A. Edison Junior High School in San Angelo. Mr. and Mrs. Hickman will move to Sanderson the latter part of August.

L. R. Armstrong, a graduate of Texas A&M College, has been employed to teach vocational agriculture. Mr. Armstrong has had 12 years of experience in teaching vocational agriculture in public schools. He also taught agriculture in a veterans school for two years. For the past two years he has been employed at Quitaque, Texas, as vocational agriculture teacher. He is married and has two children five and five years of age.

The Armstrongs plan to move to Sanderson about July 1 to begin their work here.

Mrs. Jerry Pigg and two children of Bakersfield, California, are visiting here with her mother, Mrs. Olene Sayles, and other relatives.

Preliminary Work On Widening of Oak Street Continues

The preliminary work before the paving and widening of U. S. 90 through the business district of Sanderson is progressing rapidly.

Curbing on U. S. 90 through Sanderson was begun on Monday in the east end of town, just west of the bridge across Sanderson Canyon and the crew will work west along the main street until the work is finished.

The curb work, when completed, will have a rounded corner and a short extension into the streets that intersect Highway 90.

The first project was the lowering of water mains across Oak Street, which is also the highway, and the moving of power poles to the back of the curb line.

A crew of employees of the Community Public Service has been working the past two weeks moving power poles back to the curb line and lowering water mains along main street so that work of reconstruction of the highway through town can begin immediately.

The work has been planned so that at no one time have any of the blocks been completely closed to traffic, with work being done alternately on each half of the street.

Alamo Lumber Co. Is Low Bidder On Highway Building

The Alamo Lumber Co. was low bidder on the proposals for construction of a warehouse, office for resident engineer, maintenance foreman and equipment storage shed in Sanderson, according to information from W. A. Davis, resident engineer, upon his return from Pecos Monday.

There were seven bids submitted. The awarding of contract will be made at the meeting of the State Highway Department Commission on June 23.

CONSTRUCTION OF $2,000,000 GAS PLANT IN PUCKETT FIELD TO BEGIN VERY SOON

The Fort Stockton Pioneer

Materials are beginning to arrive and work is planned to begin about July 1 on the construction of a $2,000,000 gas treating plant on the M. C. Puckett & Son ranch, 30 miles southeast of Fort Stockton.

The plant will extract carbon dioxide from gas produced in the Phillips Company's gas wells in the new Puckett Ellenburger field and the sweet gas, after removal of the carbon dioxide, will be taken by pipeline to a plant north of Rankin for extraction of propane and butane. It then will be put in a pipeline now under construction for Permian Basin Pipeline Co. to Denver City, and transported to Pampa and thence north to Omaha and other points by the Northern Natural Gas Co.

It is expected that the plant will be ready to begin processing gas and putting it in the pipelines by December 1, and that a peak of 225 men would be required on the construction at the busiest times.

The first unit in the treating plant, covered by the initial contract, will have a capacity of 35.7 million cubic feet per day, extracting the unwanted carbon dioxide gas, and producing 25 millions cubic feet of sweet gas daily.

The plant will be located on a 58-acre site which the pipeline company is buying from the Pucketts. It is on the east line of the Puckett ranch, just east of the wells in the new gas field. Fourteen houses are scheduled for erection there to serve the operating personnel of the completed plant.

Workers during the period of construction will live either in Fort Stockton or Sanderson.

The Commissioners' Court of Pecos County met Saturday to receive bids on the construction of the 8 1/2-mile road from Highway 285 into the new Puckett field.

Forger Sentenced To 2 Years After Plea Of Guilty Wednesday

Floyd Hyatt, about 22, of the U. S. Marine Corps, was convicted of a forgery charge in district court here Wednesday morning and sentenced to 2 years in the state penitentiary by district judge Roger Thurmond after a plea of guilty and waiver of trial by jury.

The case grew out of an alleged forgery charge brought against Hyatt by a local businessman by whom he was employed. The grand jury issued a bill of indictment against Hyatt on August 11, 1952, but could not bring the case to trial because the accused was reported to be AWOL from the U. S. Marines. He was reported apprehended in Florida to local officers and extradition papers were obtained, as well as permission from the Secretary of Navy, before he could be returned to this county to stand trial.

No other cases were brought before the district court Wednesday.

Dodgers Unbeaten In Little League Play

The decisive game between the Dodgers and the Yankees, both unbeaten until Tuesday's game, showed the Dodgers ahead of the league when they took that game by a score of 9-2. J. T. Herring did full mound duty for the winners while the Yanks used Buddy Monroe for a starter and finished up with Martinez after the third inning.

The score was 2-2 at the end of the second frame. The Dodgers started a hitting spree in the first of the third and ran in seven runs before Manager Lloyd Bell called on Martinez to stop the show. Monroe had held the Dodgers in good fashion up to this time, but as is often the case with the best of them, they began to find their target with the bat.

Standings in the league including Tuesday's game are:

Team	P	W	L
Dodgers	3	3	0
Yanks	3	2	1
Red Sox	3	1	2
Phillies	3	0	3

Friday evening the Yanks, holding second place, and Phillies, cellar occupants, will meet for their first tussle since the league opener.

The Giants and Browns, pony league teams, have played three games with the Browns taking two of the three up to Thursday's game.

The schedule for the balance of the first round of play is:

Tuesday, June 23 — Red Sox and Dodgers.

Friday, June 26 — Dodgers and Phillies.

Tuesday, June 30 — Red Sox and Yankees.

Friday, July 3 — Red Sox and Phillies.

Tuesday, July 7 — Dodgers and Yankees.

Border Trails Group Reorganizes at Marfa Meeting Last Sunday

The defunct Border Trails Association was re-organized at a meeting in Marfa last Sunday afternoon. Representatives from towns along Highway 90 from Del Rio to Van Horn were present at the Paisano Hotel when the meeting was opened by Past President John L. Dodson, Jr., of Del Rio.

The group was enthusiastic about the plans for setting up the organization on a split basis which would place the western end of the highway from Del Rio in one district and east to San Antonio in another. This plan was decided upon because of the difference in objectives.

Dr. C. L. Baskett, Del Rio, was chosen as president and Ralph De Sola of Del Rio was selected as secretary. Hugh White of Alpine was elected as vice president to represent the western division of the organization.

The next meeting of the group was set for July 12 at Sanderson. E. F. Pierson and L. H. Gilbreath represented Sanderson at the meeting Sunday. W. J. Ferguson, Jr., was named director for the Sanderson group.

A called meeting of the Sanderson business men Monday at the Turner Hotel perfected the local organization and Ferguson was elected as permanent director for the ensuing year.

The main objective of the organization is to seek the best means of attracting tourists to Southwest Texas over Highway 90 and to instruct employees how to give information on points of interest in this section.

Lon Garrison, superintendent of the Big Bend National Park, was named an honorary director of the association at the Marfa meeting. Garrison spoke briefly to the group and outlined many benefits to be derived from participation in the proposed program.

Game Commission Making Study In Trans-Pecos Area

Austin, May 20 — Cooperation of Texas hunters is being sought in a special Trans-Pecos study of the Game and Fish Commission, according to the Assistant Director of Wildlife Restoration for the commission.

Their aid is asked through postal cards being a questionnaire sent to approximately 6500 persons who bought 1952 licenses West of the Pecos or else signed shooting preserve records as having registered to hunt on leases of other persons' land.

The assistant director said the success of the undertaking hinges squarely on the hunters' response to the questionnaire. "If they do not report their hunting results," he explained, "we have no way of determining what happened and thus cannot effectively proceed."

"The idea is to find out how much effort it took for the average hunter to get game in various parts of the area west of the Pecos River. They will tell us where we have too little game for the hunting need. We can begin special efforts to increase the supply to meet the demand in the right places.

"If you had poor luck, your first thought will be that this does not apply to you — but it certainly does. If only those who killed lots of game returned the cards, then it will appear that there are no problems. If you hunted much and killed nothing, tell us that. If you did no hunting, check the 'no hunting' and return the card. We need every man's story, good or bad."

The card questionnaire carries columns to report on the harvest of mule deer, javelina, bear, blue quail, gambel quail, mourning dove, white wing dove and waterfowl. The numbers bagged and the time spent in the field is also requested.

The commission can take direct action on restoring projects in the affected area because it has regulatory powers West of the Pecos.

Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Moore and children left Monday on a vacation trip to Dallas.

Ranchers Advised Against Worrying About X-Disease

By Tommy E. Tatum
County Agent, Val Verde County

"Don't worry about protein supplements as a source of X-Disease next winter," advises Dr. A. L. Malle of the school of veterinary medicine at Oklahoma A&M College.

"The cause of X-disease has been traced to feed pellets containing chlorinated naphthalene," says Dr. Malle. "This chemical has been found in grease used to lubricate uelilet making machines," he says.

Dr. Malle says all major feed companies, which manufacture the feed, have now specified that chlorinated naphthalene will not be used in manufacturing oils and grease to be sold to feed companies.

"This information seems to indicate," Dr. Malle says, "that there will be no losses of livestock this winter due to the dreaded X-disease.

X-Disease (hyperkeratosis) is a condition affecting cattle. It is recognized by changes occurring in the mouth and skin. There may be wart-like papillary ulcers in the mouth. The skin may become thickened and appear to be in crusty folds. Death may occur, but cases have been known where cattle have made complete recovery from the disease.

and lines, the moving of water service line and the installation of curbing along the highway. It gives plenty of diversion to some of our sidewalk engineers.

The work will be an addition to our little town in the way of appearance and we should all be thankful that such projects are under way. It at least takes our eyes off of the clear skies for a while even though our minds are forever and constantly on the hope of rain.

Around town we have noticed less ranchers spending less time visiting with their city friends... plenty of sidewalk engineers with their versions of how some of the water main, electrical and curb work should be done... a new line of merchandise at a local business... a fishing crew pulling out this week loaded for the biggest fish... what looks like the possibility of the installation of some fire hydrants on main street... very few spectators out at the little league games...

We are frequently forced to enter a spiritual vein in our dealings with the problems of the world and especially of the area. We do not profess to be deep thinkers of religious problems, nor a teacher of the ways of life, but from time to time an issue or problem arises in the spiritual realm of troubles and we are forced to enter our words of advice and philosophy along these lines.

It has come up recently that possibly a county-wide meeting for prayer for rain might be the answer to our drought problems.

In my opinion, an individual's prayer for strength to bear the yoke about his neck, might be a better solution.

We have never found in our Bible the promise of a heaven on earth in our mortal lives, and the promise of all of the things to make our lives prosperous, happy and content. We have read rather where true men of God were faced daily with trials and tribulations which forced him to ask for aid from the Almighty in the bearing of his burdens, rather than lifting the burden from his shoulders. Being rational beings we must do all we can to help ourselves, in our undertakings that are in line with the teachings of the Almighty, and we fail to see where or why a person should expect the blessing of success from in man's undertakings. Probably if more of us had been in a prayerful position more and for a much longer time might could bear the burden of

MRS. VERNON BLACKWELL

Miss Peggy Patton became the bride of Pfc. Vernon Blackwell in a double-ring ceremony in Las Cruces, N. M., on Sunday, May 31.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Patton of Sierra Blanca and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Blackwell of Vance, Miss.

Miss Ora Lee Adams of El Paso served the bride as maid of honor. Pfc. Ted Lippert of Fort Bliss was the best man.

After a two week's honeymoon in Mississippi, the couple will live in El Paso for the remainder of Blackwell's military service.

Mrs. Carol Tidwell, Mrs. Ellis Williams and Mrs. J. W. Tidwell were co-hostesses for a miscellaneous shower honoring Miss Peggy Patton on May 30 in the annex of the Memorial Baptist Church in Sierra Blanca.

The bride-elect chose as her colors, yellow and green, and these colors were carried out in the decorations of the reception room. Punch, cake, and mints were served from a table spread with ecru lace over pastel green. The centerpiece was of yellow jonquils with green smilax, flanked on either side by yellow candles in silver candelabra. The cake was of bridal design with pale green icing and having yellow decorations. The names "Peggy and Vernon" were inscribed on the cake.

A room adjoining the reception room was arranged with tables spread with pastel green cloths on which the gifts were attractively displayed. An umbrella decorated in yellow and white was suspended over the tables containing the gifts.

Heard About the Electric Weather Predictor?
Squint Smith built up quite a reputation last month by predicting the weather. What he said usually came true.
It got so that folks would sit around his little Antique Shop just to get his opinion.
Last Monday, though, he said he didn't know what the weather was going to be like next day. That surprised us and when we asked what happened, Squint said, "Slipped up on my electric bill and was turned off. I'll get to my radio again tomorrow though." Squint had been getting the weather over the radio—just like anyone else!
From where I sit, that's the way it goes with some "experts." They often don't have any more inside information than you can get for yourself. Like those who "know" cider is the only thirst-quencher after a day's work. Far as I'm concerned, I'll take a temperal glass of beer. But—I won't try to "predict" your choice for you.

If we may, we, too, would like to gratefully acknowledge the work of the night operators.
