LISTEN TO LUKE

It happens every time. Just when we had made so many resolutions for the New Year there comes some irking incident which makes us blow our top and disregard all good intentions that we have had.

This past week when everything was moving along smoothly, there appeared notices in cafes that the price of a cup of coffee and a spot of cream would be advanced to 10c. How can we understand why coffee would make a 100 per cent increase when the retail price advanced 3c per pound. There are about 65 or 70 cups of coffee to the pound, so a 100 per cent increase in the price is justified, especially since we don't want to pay 6c or 7c for a cup and to carry pennies around in our pockets all the time. And then a substitute drink, went up 10c on a "sympathy" strike to the coffee industry.

And to top it all off, the milk companies supplying Sanderson are putting their milk in paper containers instead of glass bottles. You can't see whether you're getting any cream or not, and notice the deep cream line" was its original selling point. And you've noticed how hard it is to drink from one of those things? I don't know why they don't keep selling it right out of glass bottles, the way nature intended it to be.

It looks like the nickle is just now for making change when you buy two cups of coffee and only a quarter in your pocket.

This column resolved to stay out of politics and as soon as we made that fact public a little red-headed squirt from Wichita Falls came out with the announcement that he will likely run for governor of Texas. Do you think that column could keep still on that? We are really happy that a youngster has decided to run that he can find out how his popularity has dropped since he was in the agricultural post over Donald.

We think that Mr. White should register his name on the ticket as a member of the Fifth Amendment Protection Association judging from some of his statements regarding some of the Congressional investigations. There are some politicians who would deny all of the Constitution of the United States, except the Fifth Amendment, if they had their way.

Sanderson was represented by four delegates to the Travel US 90 meeting at Marathon Sunday. The ladies of the host chapter themselves proud in preparing a delicious Mexican dinner for the delegates. Every town from Marfa to Rio was represented with more delegates than Sanderson. This is a loss for an explanation for the apparent apathy on part of the citizens of Terrell County on so vital a matter which affects the economy of this territory to such a great degree. The good to be derived from a program of development such as this simply should not be ignored.

There were some who had planned to go but were prevented by circumstances over which they had no control, while there were others who had no interest in the work of the association. Many depend to a large degree on highway traffic for their business simply want somebody else to carry on the promotion and just let them ride.

Mr. W. R. Stumberg went to San Antonio last week to be with daughter, Mrs. Marshall Miller and family for several days. Mr. Miller is recuperating from major surgery performed Friday. His condition is satisfactory, according to reports.

Members Laud Work Of Chamber Meet Here Monday Night

Directors of the Terrell County Chamber of Commerce who were present at the meeting of that organization Monday night were very strong in their praise of the enthusiasm that was shown and for the many new and interesting ideas which were brought forth in the efforts of the plans for the body.

A committee to investigate and promote, if possible, the selection of a dam site on the Rio Grande near Sanderson consists of W. G. Downie, J. W. Byrd, Jimmy Carline and O. T. Sudduth. This committee will be very busy with correspondence within the next few days to inquire into the plans that have already been made and to also seek support in behalf of the advantages to this county.

A committee consisting of W. G. Downie, Hugh Rose, Joe Kerr, Jr., and Ray Hodgkins was named to investigate the reasons for the lack of funds and feed for ranchers' drought aid.

A highway promotion committee consists of Greene Cooke, L. H. Glibreath, Earl Pierson, Jimmy Martin, W. J. Ferguson, Jr., and Joe Kerr, Jr. This committee will work to boost highway travel on U. S. 90 and will work with the Travel US 90 Association in all their efforts.

It was suggested that all local merchants write to their wholesale distributors in El Paso urging that they join in the efforts to boost winter travel over U. S. 90 since many of their accounts lie on the Mexican border route and they will be directly benefitted by additional business within all of the towns along the transcontinental highway.

It was also suggested that all directors write to their state and national representatives to boost the facilities within the Big Bend National Park to take care of the peak travel anticipated in the increased number of visitors to the park. All of the towns along US 90 and in this section are working to boost attendance of travelers in the park. Their request will also call for added expenditures for park improvements of all kinds.

Local directors and members are urging all who are interested in the work that will be attempted by the organization to sign up as a member of the group so that a concerted effort may be carried on to boost Terrell County in every way possible.

Opinions of Shepperd During December

Attorney General John Ben Shepperd has released a list of all opinions of his office for the month of December. The office received 206 requests for advice or opinions and closed 208 opinion files during the month.

The office won 97 per cent of all cases tried or appealed during the year. A total of 1199 cases were won out of 1232 tried. During December 35 cases were tried of which none were lost.

Opinions of general interest include the following:

The State Auditor must count Junior College semester hours certified to him by the Texas Education Agency even though certification is made after the date specified by law.

A volunteer fireman who has retired and has drawn a pension may return to duty and again contribute to the pension system and subsequently again retire.

No more than three persons may attend an out-of-state meeting or gathering of any kind at state expense.

An act regulating employment in the public schools of teachers after retirement is unconstitutional because incorrectly drawn.

Plans Completed for Fourth Annual Terrell County F.F.A. Show Saturday

A large crowd is expected to be on hand Saturday at the Sanderson Wool Commission Co. warehouse, the site of the Fourth Annual Terrell County F. F. A. Livestock Show. Animals will be in place at 9 a. m. and judging will start promptly at 10 a. m.

At noon a barbecue will be served and ticket sales indicate a large amount of interest has already been displayed.

Following the barbecue, judging will be resumed at 1 p. m. and will be concluded with the presentation of awards at 3 o'clock or as soon thereafter as possible.

W. T. Posey of Fort Stockton and T. E. Tatum of Del Rio will be the judges for the show.

There will be no admission charge to the show, and $1 is the price of the barbecue dinner.

Local and area citizens who are not able to attend all of the judging events are urged to come by and see the animals and observe the efforts of the boys who are working on their F. F. A. projects.

2nd Place Winner in Fort Stockton Show

Zip-Lo, two-year-old quarter horse stallion shown above, placed second in the horse show at Fort Stockton's 15th Annual Livestock Show last week end. The horse registered Zip-Lo No. 40,998 with the American Quarter Horse Association, was sired by Kee-Lo out of Bo-Lo; and was named by Zipper Claver, out of Texas Dandy. Zip-Lo was foaled April 14, 1951, and is owned by Clayton Stubblefield of Sanderson. Stubblefield stated that the horse probably would have made a better showing if it were not for the fact that he had no previous showing experience and was troublesome in the ring. The ordeal of showing the horse was apparently harder on the handler than on the animal since Clayton came out with several skinned knuckles and a very hard disposition.

Marathon Host To Travel US 90 Meet

Representatives from Hondo, Del Rio, Ciudad Acuna, Sanderson, Marathon, Big Bend National Park, Alpine and Marfa attended a luncheon and meeting sponsored by the Marathon Chapter of the Travel US 90 Association meeting at the Marathon High School Sunday, January 10.

The Marathon ladies prepared and served a Mexican lunch starting at 1 o'clock.

Judge Arthur Rothe and Mrs. Rothe represented Hondo at the conference of travel promoters seeking ways and means of attracting increased visitor traffic to US 90. Hondo's neighbor — nearby Castroville — has already contributed $80 toward the publication fund of the Travel US 90 Association and this reflects the public-spirited effort of Miss Ruth Lawler of the old Landmark Inn in that city.

Marfa reported the completion of a twenty-foot highway sign west of Van Horn that directs traffic coming from El Paso and the west onto US 90. Marfa's artist, Frank O'Leary, has just painted the sign with the senorita used on all Travel US 90 publications and supplied a descriptive series of black-and-white sketches to illustrate a publication describing the route to the Big Bend, through the Davis Mountains, and along the Mexican border starting in El Paso and ending in Houston. Because US 90 is the shortest, easiest and most scenic drive, all travelers are urged to use the route of fun and sun.

More than one hundred persons attended the bi-monthly meeting of the association Sunday. It is anticipated that "Attractive Travel Tips", the 48-page booklet describing the route from El Paso to San Antonio and Houston will be ready for distribution by the next meeting.

Methodist Men To Serve Supper At Church Soon

The men of the First Methodist Church of Sanderson will cook and serve a spaghetti supper in Fellowship Hall of the church on Wednesday, January 27, it was decided at a meeting of the official board of the church here Monday night.

Plates will be served to adults for 75c and to children for 50c. It is planned to start serving at five o'clock in the evening and serving will continue until all are served, according to W. F. Frazier, chairman of the arrangements committee.

The men decided that since the ladies are called upon so often for pie and cake sales and other duties, it would be a treat for them to enjoy a feed prepared and served by the men. Tickets will be offered for sale to the public and all are invited to participate and enjoy good food and fellowship. Frazier said.

THE STORY OF NITROGEN

Fifty-six years ago Sir William Crookes, noted chemical scientist, foresaw the possibility of the end of life on the earth. He wasn't forecasting a plague, another great deluge, the development of the H-bomb or bacteriological warfare. He was merely calling attention to the dwindling supply of usable nitrogen in the earth's farmlands. Unless a way could be found to replenish the nitrogen being drawn from the soil by crops, the soil gradually would become unproductive — and wholesale starvation would face the human race.

The pitifully small earth deposit of usable nitrogen in Chile's nitrate mines wouldn't fill a hollow tooth in the earth's hunger for this chemical element which sustains all plant and animal life. Chemical science was being challenged. And echoing in this challenge was God's own admonition to Adam and Eve: "Be fruitful and multiply, and replenish the earth, and subdue it." Mankind had multiplied all right; and had scattered in the millions over all the globe. But mankind had not replenished the earth, as they took from it.

When Crookes made his important observation, the world's population was swiftly growing, as it is now; while the productivity of the land, on the whole, was diminishing. These two related facts were what concerned the chemical scientist. They forecast not a land of plenty, but a land of growing food scarcity.

Long before Crookes lived, pure scientists had discovered the place of nitrogen in the scheme of life. And, strangely enough, they had found that there was more nitrogen on the earth than any other element. The air we breathe is 80 per cent nitrogen, and thus in the air column over each acre of land on earth there are approximately 70,000,000 pounds of nitrogen. But before the soil, or man, or animals can use this air-nitrogen, it must be extracted and made into a different kind of chemical called "fixed" nitrogen.

The chemists found that a bolt of lightning converted the air nitrogen into "fixed" nitrogen, and thus in the air column over each acre of land on earth there are approximately 70,000,000 pounds of nitrogen. But before the soil, or man, or animals can use this air-nitrogen, it must be extracted and made into a different kind of chemical called "fixed" nitrogen.

It is doubtful that the European production ever would have been of any substantial commercial value. It took the genius of American industry to get the big job done. In 1924 some of our bigger chemical industries began experimenting with "fixing" nitrogen. DuPont and others acquired European formulae and then plowed vast resources in men and money into developing mass production of "synthetic" nitrogen fertilizer. By 1940 the fertilizer business had been revolutionized, and Sir William Crookes' spectre of a starving civilization was erased.

One of the big new nitrogen plants was built at El Dorado, Arkansas, by Lion Oil Company. It reaches up into the atmosphere and pulls in the air we breathe; it reaches down into the South Arkansas earthen reservoirs and pulls in petroleum gas. Then, this monstrous and intricate plant, covering 600 acres, pressurizes, mixes and heats the gases, and out of it comes vast quantities of "fixed" nitrogen for converting into fertilizer.

American farmers meantime have learned how to use the life-giving, stimulating nitrogen in every agricultural production job. It is performing amazing feats in increased production of crops and livestock. Man gets his nitrogen from the meat, vegetables, and grains he eats and it keeps him alive. Thus, American industry, with its freedom to grow, with its powerful incentive inherent in our competitive, profit system, and with its great capacity for research, is helping mankind to be fruitful and multiply and replenish the earth, and subdue it.

MARCH OF DIMES MONTH in Texas, January 2-31, has been declared by Governor Allan Shivers, above left. As Governor Shivers signs the proclamation, he is watched by Ruth Ann Bryant, 3206 Cherrywood, Dallas, a three and one-half year old polio victim, and General Robert J. Smith of Dallas, State Chairman of the 1954 March of Dimes Campaign and President of Pioneer Air Lines. The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, through the March of Dimes Campaign, is seeking to raise an average of 50 cents for every person in Texas. Part of the 1954 plans are to conduct vaccine field tests in the State.

Legislature, if the tax law is declared invalid.

He pointed out the possibility of a court ruling coming about the same time as his decision on a special session.

Attorney General John Ben Shepperd argued the state's case for the natural gas tax before the Supreme Court.

Pipeline companies, opposing the tax said it violated the interstate commerce clause of the U. S. Constitution. Shepperd countered by saying that Texas pays more of the tax than any other state, and that state protection against unlimited drilling enables the lines to stay in business.

A victory for the pipeline companies would probably mean that the Legislature would attempt to levy some other tax on gas; but if Texas wins the case, the Legislature is expected to increase the tax rate to provide adequate funds for teacher pay and other purposes.

By the middle of the year the state treasury's general fund may be in the red.

Big slashes in oil production — more than 400,000 barrels per day — brought about a reduction of revenue at the rate of $20 million per year. Taxes on oil production provide a major part of the revenues of the state.

Prospects for a special session of the Legislature shaped up this week as a committee appointed by the governor considered a teacher pay raise plan. Governor Allan Shivers had said that if the committee agreed on the proposal, which would give the teachers a pay hike of $402 per year, and if the legislators generally favored it, he might call the Legislators into special session in the near future. He said that a U. S. Supreme Court decision on the natural gas tax law, involving money for a teacher pay increase, would not necessarily determine his special session move.
