LISTEN TO LUKE

Each week lately we have had something to say about the lush growth of beards hereabouts. Today it is time to point out that there are still many slick chins roaming the streets.

There are shaving permits for sale at $10 for the season. Most of us who live here have pledged to get behind the move to make this birthday celebration a success. That will mean that whether or not we grow beards we will have to help out in some way or another if this is to be the success we all would hope for. There are those who vow that they are allergic to beards; then there are those who just plain don't want to look shaggy. Whatever your reason is for shaving or not shaving, help out the sponsoring club by either growing a beard or buying a permit and everyone will feel better about it.

It is possibly undignified for a newspaper man to look like he had been in a sheep camp for a month, but that is what the group asked for so here they grow — an off-color gray.

A "traveling" Negro man asked for the jail in order to have security and get a good feed here this week. He insisted on getting in jail so he broke a plate glass window in the CPS office and reported it to the "law". It's one type of security, and find it he did. But security of that kind does not last too long, as is the case here.

This column has mentioned the proposal before the Congress to put over a nation-wide federal highway system, federally financed. The Senate-passed version of the bill is somewhat altered from the administration's proposal in all but one way — they both stink! You can see, hear, and smell the politics all the way from Washington over that unheard-of piece of highway dictatorship which is being dangled before the public — just like the socialized medicine propaganda under the guise of polio vaccine.

Gene Dow, editor of the Wink Bulletin, editorialized on this subject in better words than this column commands. (We might not use the proper words if we attempted to say our piece — and we always have to deal with the post office department and students of English in our choice of words.) We don't want all the right signals on Texas highways operated from a desk in Washington.

Here is Dow's column headed "Monkey Business."

If you ever want to catch a ring-tail monkey, here's how it's done: Go to a vine and pick out a fat green melon. Cut a small hole in the melon, just wide enough for a ring-tail monkey to squeeze its head through. Then wait.

If you've chosen the right hunting ground, sooner or later a ring-tail monkey will come swinging along and will spot your carefully prepared melon. The monkey will

SHS Seniors Spend Six Days on Trip

The seniors of Sanderson High School returned home Wednesday afternoon from their trip to New Orleans. They traveled in two buses and were accompanied by Norman E. Rath, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Riley and Mrs. Gus Flores. The group left Sanderson about 8 a. m. Thursday and spent the first night in Houston. Three days and nights were spent in New Orleans for sight-seeing. En route home one day and night were spent in Austin with visits made to the capitol building and to the university.

Plea Made For Historic Data For Anniversary Exhibits

Several members of the various organizations of the county who are working on historic data for various exhibits planned for the 50th anniversary celebration of Terrell County have asked the cooperation of citizens in their venture. Historic pictures and information are badly needed to complete the many exhibits.

Anyone who has any documents, pictures, clippings, old papers or the like is asked to please contact the general chairman, Mrs. H. A. Smith, or leave such items at The Times office.

Mrs. Smith will relay the data to the proper committee chairman who is working on the history related to the material turned in for that committee or organization's use.

Old-timers of the county are asked to make diligent search in their keep-sakes and albums and are assured care and protection will be given the material.

These items are badly needed to make interesting and attractive exhibits for the information and pleasure of those who will be here for the celebration.

All borrowed material is being catalogued so that proper ownership is established and all possible care is used to see that none of the items are damaged.

VAGRANT BREAKS WINDOW IN LOCAL CPS OFFICE

A Negro man Sunday night threw a rock through one of the large plate glass windows in front of the Community Public Service Co. office here, according to local officers. They related that the man, a vagrant, reported himself as the vandal and stated that he had done it in order to get a place to sleep and something to eat. The rock, weighing about four pounds, did no damage to furnishings or stock in the office.

Some Loss From High Water In Sanderson Area

The dust storm and rain which caused devastating damage to parts of North and West Texas reached Sanderson at about 9:00 Wednesday night. The heavy black cloud came in with a gust and dust created almost zero visibility for some time.

The slow steady shower which followed here in Sanderson was light while the northern part of the county reported heavier precipitation. No material damage from windstorm was reported in this section.

Rainfall was reported to be from about .2 in Sanderson to 1.25 in other parts of the county.

Some loss was noted from damage by high water in the county last week end, although light rains only were noted locally.

High water on US 285 north of Sanderson washed out the highway at a dip near Web Townsend's turn-off, causing the highway department to close the road while a temporary detour was constructed after the water subsided.

The road was opened late Sunday afternoon.

The highway from Dryden to Sheffield was also closed last Saturday after rains Friday afternoon late caused Buck Creek, Myers Canyon, Big Canyon and Independence Creek to run heavily. Some damage was done at Big Canyon Crossing earlier in the week and additional damage Friday night added to the trouble of highway maintenance men.

Austin Chriesman lost his car in Buck Creek Friday night when high water washed it off the crossing.

Chriesman was on his way to the ranch when his car became stalled in the high water.

Jolly Harkins' car was damaged considerably when high water completely covered the engine and rose into the interior, covering both seats.

Harkins was attempting to cross Big Canyon on the road to Sheffield toward US 285, and the vehicle dropped off into a hole. Harkins' family and Joe Little walked out of the Creek and Charles Baker, who is operating a maintainer in that precinct, and Mrs. Baker came to their aid with a truck and chains pulling the car out of the high water before it was washed down the canyon.

Three men and two women from Odessa, who were fishing on the John Clark place in the Independence-Pecos River country, were reported missing Saturday night after searchers had failed to locate them following the heavy rains Friday night.

Later investigation revealed the people had been stranded on a sand bar when the rise came down and swam to the Val Verde County side of the Pecos River and walked to a ranch for aid.

Work on Lines Precludes Dial Service

Some preliminary work on telephone lines and electric service lines in Sanderson is the beginning of re-arranging facilities for the installation of dial service to residents of Sanderson who are telephone subscribers.

The Community Public Service Company has a crew of linemen in Sanderson putting up new poles and re-stringing electric service lines where necessary to get their wires away from the telephone service wires and in many cases relocating their wires for either convenience or safety.

Many of the poles of town will be used to support both electric and telephone wires with the electric wires being above the phone lines for safety's sake.

It has been noted that many of the telephone service wires will have to be replaced over town, but this will not be done until later in the year.

The tentative date for the installation of the dial system is near the first of the year.

Game Dept. Sets Public Hearing For June 16 Here

The Texas Game and Fish Commission will follow the practice initiated in 1953 of holding public meetings in the Trans-Pecos region of Texas beginning June 14. Instead of having only four in centrally located cities as was done originally, a meeting will be in each county seat of the nine-county area. The purpose of these meetings is to afford landowners and hunters the opportunity to discuss hunting regulations with representatives of the game department.

Under a law which went into effect in 1953, the Texas Game and Fish Commission is empowered to prescribe the open seasons, bag limits and the means and methods of taking game surpluses in the nine-county area west of the Pecos. This is substantiated by the fact that the supply of any game bird or game mammal of the state is uncertain; that necessary regulations for the taking of same cannot be provided until careful study is given to the current supply and that such studies and the resulting regulations that may be required by the provisions of the law can best be made and provided by the commission, it was stated.

All interested hunters and landowners are urged to attend the meeting in the courthouse. Wide representation of both groups is necessary to make the public meeting program serve the purpose for which it is intended.

It was pointed out that one county may advocate a general closed season on quail and deer for the entire region or a year-round season on javalinas. These proposed laws may be applicable to game of one or more counties but not necessarily to all of the others.

The meeting in Sanderson will be on Thursday night, June 16, at 8 p. m. in the district court room of the courthouse.

P. B. Uzelle, representative of the Texas Game and Fish Commission, who was in town Tuesday, stated that the regulatory laws governing all game in the Trans-Pecos area would be discussed at the local meeting and particularly the law concerning javalina. It was pointed out that some ranchmen favor an open season on the animals, but present laws would permit only two months' season on the javalina, at the most. Uzelle also stated that this animal would be in for a lot of discussion at the meeting and urged all ranchmen interested in javalina control to make it a point to be at the meeting.

Uzelle stated that two movies, "The Magic Valley" and "Salty Sand" would be shown for the entertainment of those who were at the meeting.

DR. MENDENHALL GETS DEGREE FROM BAYLOR

Mrs. C. P. Peavy returned home Friday from Houston where she attended the graduation exercises at the Baylor Medical College where her son-in-law, Elliott Mendenhall, Jr., received his medical degree. He will serve his internship at Duke University, Durham, N. C.

Mrs. Peavy's daughter, Mrs. Thurman White of Winters, went with her on the trip and Mrs. Mendenhall accompanied them home, going by Winters for the grandson, Clifford White.

DR. JOHN W. PATE TO ALPINE PRACTICE

According to an announcement in the Alpine Avalanche, Dr. John W. Pate will take over the office of Dr. John W. O'Donnell in that city about July 1. Dr. Pate has purchased the O'Donnell residence also, and will move his family there about the middle of June.

With his sons, John and Bart, he left Sanderson after the close of school to visit with relatives in Dallas.

DEN MOTHERS NEEDED FOR CUB SCOUT WORK

Mrs. James Word, the only Cub Scout den mother in Sanderson, has issued an urgent appeal for more den mothers to assist in carrying on Cub Scout activities in the community.

"Any boy between the ages of 8 and 11 is eligible for membership in the Cub Scouts," Mrs. Word said. "However, adult leadership is necessary before any more dens can be organized. Any mother, even if she has had no previous experience, can be a den mother as plenty of material, literature and helps are available. I will also be glad to give any help I can," Mrs. Word concluded.

The Cub Scouts are sponsored by the Sanderson Lions Club. Any mother who will volunteer her services as den mother is requested to contact Mrs. Word, and any boy interested in becoming a Cub Scout is requested to contact her for further information.

Seventh Producer Found On Gaines County School Land

The Anrow (Devonian) field of Gaines County has been extended one location southeast with completion of Amarada Petroleum Corp. No. 1-B Terrell for a daily flowing potential of 445.42 barrels of 35.1-gravity oil, not water, with gas-oil ratio of 14-1.

Production of the well was between 12,665 feet, where 5 1/2-inch casing was set, and 12,700 feet, the total depth. Pay section was acidized with 500 gallons.

Tubing pressure was 30 pounds, with packer on casing. The top of pay dirt was 12,685 feet, on elevation of 3,132.

County Judge R. S. Wilkinson stated that this well was probably the best well in the Gaines County School Land group as far as production was concerned and was the best for the school because of the fact that more of the minerals revenue would go into the permanent school fund.

Women of Community Invited to Program On Jury Service

A special program has been planned for the Legion Auxiliary for the regular monthly meeting on Tuesday evening at 7:30 in the Legion Hall and the women of the community are being invited and are urged to attend.

The program will be on "Women and Jury Service" and will be both informative and interesting. Since recent legislation which permits women to serve on juries in Texas for the first time, the average woman finds herself confronted with many questions pertaining to the duties of a jurymen from the time she receives her summons until she is dismissed either before or after the case is tried. Several erroneous opinions are held in regard to jury service and women could save themselves embarrassing and confusing situations by being informed of the regulations and duties of those serving on juries.

A cordial invitation is extended to every woman in the community to attend the meeting. A question and answer period will follow the program and many points of discussion may be clarified.

Honesty in Foreign Policy

If anyone has a right to speak out about the future safety and the foreign policy of the United States it is General William H. Wilbur. During his more than 30 years in the U. S. Army he served in nearly every nation in the world. His military leadership was outstanding. In the midst of World War II, President Roosevelt, in an almost unprecedented act, conferred on him the Congressional Medal of Honor for extraordinary bravery.

Since retiring from the Army, General Wilbur has dedicated his life to public service and has concentrated his attention on Foreign Policy. He has visited and studied social, economic and political conditions in Europe, Asia, Africa and South America. He was one of the speakers on the Freedom Forum program conducted recently by the National Education Program on the Harding College campus. The General is a stirring figure, with his graying hair, his level, penetrating eyes. He stands to speak, braced on crutches which he must use to walk or stand - mute testimony to the sacrifices he has made for his country.

Positive American Action

General Wilbur told the Forum audience of people from 27 states that three actions in our foreign policy, since the rise of the Communist conspiracy at the end of World War II, were outstanding - the "Truman Plan" of military and economic assistance to Greece when that country was being invaded by Communist forces; the very considerable strength we lent to Turkey when Communism tried to get her to knuckle under; and the Berlin air life which defied the Soviet bluff and bluster before the eyes of all the world.

The significant thing about all three of these actions by the United States, General Wilbur pointed out, is that they were "genuine American actions in their concept and their execution - we didn't have to consult with and get permission from anybody else. We were fronting squarely with Russia," he continued, "saying: 'No, we're not going to do the things you want us to do; we're going to do the things you don't want done.' Of course, that takes courage. In the eyes of civilian populations everywhere, America gained stature."

'Co-Existence' A Hoax

Then, he said, America and the Western nations began to back-track, to appease all along the way in the cold war. The Communists used threats and bluffs to scare other nations with their might, then offer up to all a Communist-made phrase: "Co-existence." "To them," said General Wilbur, "coexistence means a reasonable security against any fighting war, with a full opportunity to continue their insurrection all over the world.

The Communists have established a school in Prague," said the General, "at which they are educating Africans and Asians, in communism and subversion. I am informed on reasonably good authority that the school has turned out 12,000 graduates, to infiltrate African and Asian nations. . . . And after some eight years of indoctrination, the Communists are sending back to Greece the 30,000 youths whom they kidnapped when their military forces were in northern Greece. They are now 18, 20 and 22 years old. They've been brainwashed, indoctrinated, and now they're saying to Greece, 'we're sending your children to you.' This is now they are working everywhere.

Positive Suggestions

"Now what shall we do about Communism? We must establish an aggressive, vigorous psychological war of our own and it must be able to function inside the Iron Curtain. There are groups there who are willing to fight for their own freedom. We shouldn't send any American soldiers to free any country. We should assist in establishing in every one of these countries an underground and see that it is trained and equipped.

"Our American foreign policy must change. I don't think we are going to do anything like Yalta again, where we were dishonest. I hope we will follow American policy based on Christian principles. I hope we'll do those things that have been successful - confronting the bluff and the threat with positive action. Any American foreign policy, to be successful, will have to be honest. And it should follow strategies which will make it so difficult for Russia, inside the Iron Curtain, that a third fighting war will be impossible."

Mr. and Mrs. Allister Dishman and children visited here last Thursday en route to their home in San Antonio after visiting her parents in Wyoming.

After visiting in Uvalde for a few days with her sister, Miss Bessie Gordon, Mrs. Sylvan Walker has enrolled in Sul Ross College for the summer term.

Mrs. Tom Parish and Tommie Kay spent several days in Ozona with Mr. Parish before returning to Alpine where Mrs. Parish will attend the summer session at Sul Ross College.

trust its hand eagerly through the hole and snatch up a fist full of the delicious seeds inside. Then the monkey's expression will change from delight to perplexity. It can't get its buiging, doubled-up fist out of the tiny hole. What does the monkey do? Does he let go of the seeds to get out of the trap? No. The greedy monkey will stand there with its hand imprisoned in the melon until you come along and capture it.

That's the technique followed by the African Zulus. It works every time. In case you haven't noticed, the same technique is used by some government officials over here. Only here it isn't ring-tail monkeys they're trying to catch. It's you.

Right now a plump, ripe melon is being readied in Washington to lure the taxpayers of all 48 states. This melon is the proposed national highway program. It's packed with luscious seeds - billions more than the taxpayers ever got from the traditional federal highway grants. The trap is the means of financing: the duplicating and overlapping federal gasoline tax. It's even being suggested that the trap be made tighter by increasing the tax 50 per cent or more. The federal gas tax has always been a hindrance to state road programs. It was passed "reluctantly" to bail the national government out of a depression crisis in the early 30s. It was to expire in one year. That was 23 years ago.

Will the taxpayers see through this latest trick? Will they see the danger to states' rights if Washington becomes the big highway spender and hence the big highway dictator? Will they see the disadvantages of a road program designed in the air-conditioned offices of a Washington bureau without regard for local preferences or needs? Or will they be fooled into surrendering their local control over their roads for a big fat melon filled with federal "aid"? Watch developments in Washington.

Sad Note From The Bugle

All of us on the Clarion were alarmed to learn that our principal rival in the newspaper field - the Balesville Bugle - might have to shut down.

Crops were bad in Balesville last year and one of their factories moved out of town. Just temporary hard times, of course - but the Bugle needs help now if it's to survive.

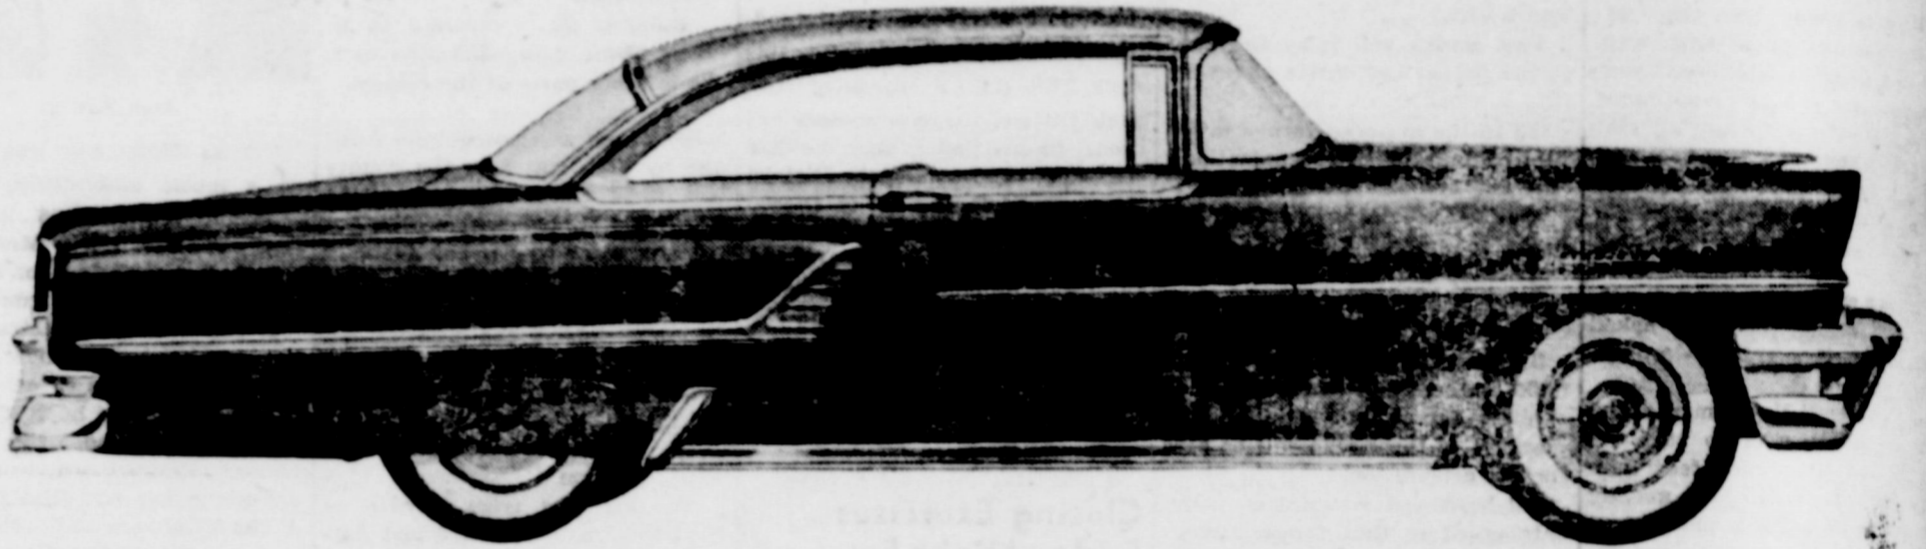

So, this paper is going to scrape up a little money to help tide them over, and we hope other local concerns will do the same. We've seldom agreed with them editorially over the years - but we want their competition to keep us on our toes.

From where I sit, this country needs papers with different points of view - just as it needs people with different ideas and tastes. You may prefer iced tea as a hot-weather cooler. . . . I generally choose a cold glass of beer. But if either of us couldn't express his opinion, and act on it, that would be "bad news" for the whole community.

MRS. DONALD GENE BARBER

Barbara Lou Rose Weds Gene Barber In Del Rio Friday

Miss Barbara Lou Rose and Donald Gene Barber exchanged wedding vows in the First Methodist Church of Del Rio Friday evening at 8 o'clock. Rev. Olaf Hoggard of Eastern New Mexico University at Portales, a former pastor of the First Methodist Church in Sanderson, read the double-ring ceremony by candlelight.

The bride, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Rose, former Sanderson residents, is a student at North Texas State College, Denton, as is her groom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Barber of Big Lake.

Arrangements of white gladiolus, white Marconi daisies and white tapers in candelabras formed the background of the altar space.

Candlelighters were Lawrence Strickland of Denton and David Seals of Big Lake.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a waltz-length gown of porcelain white imported Florentine lace and silk illusion. The fitted bodice featured a high neckline with stand-up collar, the long fitted sleeves ending in petal points. The skirt from the dropped waist line had a wide lace panel in front and softly gathered tiers of silk illusion to give a bouffant effect. A Mary Queen of Scots cap of Florentine lace edged with appliqued lace leaves held her fingertip veil of imported French illusion.

A white orchid encircled with stephanotis was atop the white Bible which she carried and which had been used by former brides of the family.

The maid of honor was Miss Joy rose, sister of the bride. She wore sky blue crystaletta of waltz-length on princess lines with scalloped neckline. Her pink lattede bandeau was studded with pearls and a brief off-the-face veil. She wore shell pink pearlized kid slippers and carried pink asters in cascade.

The bridesmaids were Misses Pat Parker of Dallas and Jo Ann Rochell of Rockwall. They wore rocks of shell pink crystaletta fashioned like that of the maid of honor. They wore blue slippers and bandeaux and their cascade bouquets were of blue asters.

Roy Johnson of Big Lake was the best man and the groomsmen were Stephen Spears of Arlington and Richard Edwards of Oiden.

Mrs. Earl Glassie, Jr., sang "O Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer". She was accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Alice Cowley, who played the traditional wedding marches and Schubert's "Traumerie" preceding the wedding.

A reception followed in the house of Friendship of the church.

The table was laid in an imported pointe de Venice lace cloth and centered with white asters and gladiolus. The three-tiered, blossom-decked white wedding cake was topped with wedding bells. Mrs. C. B. Rees of Big Lake served the cake and Mrs. Allan E. Smith of Del Rio poured the punch. They were assisted by Mrs. Sam Draper, Mrs. Joe Kerr, Jr., and Miss Mary Landon Rose.

Mrs. H. G. Woodward of San Antonio presided at the guest book.

For traveling, the bride wore an ensemble of avocado and pink sheath dress with avocado coat of dress length. Her bag and slippers were black patent and her hat and gloves, white. She wore a white orchid at her shoulder.

After a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Barber will be at home in Big Lake during the summer. They plan to return to Denton in the fall to resume their studies at NTSC where both will be seniors.

Attending the wedding from Sanderson were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Deaton and children, Mrs. L. M. Wooten and Sharon, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Smith and daughter, Mrs. W. H. Grigsby and Sarah Pat, Mr. and Mrs. Reg Monroe and children.

Miss Rose was complimented at a tea Thursday afternoon when her cousin, Mrs. Sam Draper, assisted by her mother, Mrs. Landon Rose, entertained in the Draper home in Del Rio.

Magnolias were arranged in the party rooms for the tea. The tea table was laid in an imported lace cloth and centered with a crystal bowl of the magnolias. Mrs. Tol Murrah of Sanderson and Mrs. H. G. Woodward of San Antonio, cousins of the bride, served at the tea table.

The hostesses presented the honoree with a gift.

*It's the new kind of hardtop—
The 4-Door Riviera!*

THERE seems to be some confusion about what a hardtop really is, and we'd like to set the matter straight.

A hardtop is a car that looks like a Convertible with the top up—but has a solid steel roof overhead—and no center posts in the side window areas.

Up until just recently, it could be built in volume only with two doors—not more—because it would take wholly new structural principles to hinge another set of doors without floor-to-roof center posts.

But Buick came up with those new structural principles and is now building—in volume—hardtops with four doors.

You see one pictured here. It's the 4-Door Riviera. And it's taking the country by storm ...

Because here, at long last, is an automobile with the sleek and sporty styling of a true hardtop—but with separate doors for rear-seat passengers, plus the added room of a full-size Buick Sedan.

On top of that, this beauty is all Buick—with the buoyant ride of Buick's all-coil springing—the wallowing might of Buick's record-high V8 power—the whip-quick getaway and sizable gas savings of Buick's spectacular Variable Pitch Dynaflow.*

And it's available in Buick's two lowest-priced Series—the budget-tagged 188-hp SPECIAL, and the high-performance 236-hp CENTURY, illustrated here.

Come visit us for a first-hand meeting with the 4-Door Riviera—and see how quickly and how easily the last word in automobiles can be yours.

*Dynaflow Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Deer Range Short, Say Game Experts

Austin — Game and Fish Commission Technicians have determined that deer move over small areas even when comparatively short distances mean the difference between food and starvation.

The Director of Wildlife Restoration said the studies have been made in the main deer range in the Hill Country of Central Texas where the thought has intensified already acute conditions caused by deer overpopulation and faulty soil practices. The inquiry covered October 14 through March 16.

While the research continues to implement proposed management techniques, the initial investigation showed that from a regional standpoint the maximum movement was within a circle approximately one mile in diameter. Here's the formal field report on the first phase:

The initial phase of the deer movement study was begun on October 14, 1954, and terminated on March 16, 1955, in Mason, Gillespie and Llano Counties. The chief purpose of this study was to determine as far as possible whether there was any appreciable movement of deer within and/or between vegetative types in the Hill Country.

Four trap lines, each approximately 20 miles in length and running generally in a north-south direction, were operated. Cottonseed cake, yellow shelled corn and milialtose were used as bait to draw deer into the aluminum traps. Each trap was fenced to exclude livestock.

Each trap line was situated along a course which traversed three major vegetative and soil types, with trap sites equally di-

MOTHER'S CUPCAKES
 1 1/2 cups sifted Swans Down Cake Flour
 1 1/2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1 1/2 cups shredded coconut
 1/2 cup butter or other shortening
 1 cup sugar
 2 eggs, well beaten
 1/2 cup milk
 1/2 teaspoon vanilla

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift together three times. Cream butter, add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add eggs and beat well. Add flour, alternately with milk, a small amount at a time, beating after each addition until smooth. Add vanilla and coconut and blend. Turn into greased muffin pans, filling them 3/4 full. Bake in moderate oven (375° F.) 15 minutes, or until done. Makes 18 cupcakes.

Prepare Lemon Butter Frosting. Spread on tops and sides of cupcakes. Place tiny colored candies on 6 of the cupcakes, spelling out the word "MOTHER" by making one letter on each cake.

LEMON BUTTER FROSTING
 1/2 cup butter
 1 1/2 teaspoons grated lemon rind (about)
 4 1/2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 6 tablespoons lemon juice

Cream together butter and lemon rind. Add part of sugar gradually, blending after each addition. Then add remaining sugar, alternately with lemon juice, until of right consistency to spread. Beat thoroughly after each addition. Add salt and blend.

vided among these types. The north ends of the lines extended well into the granitic soils, where hawbrush and mesquite are the dominant species. The middle one-third of the lines traversed the perimmon-elm-live oak type where the granite gives way to sandstone. The southern ends of the lines extended out of the Central Mineral Basin into the limestone-caliche soil where shinnock

Spanish oak, post oak and black-jack predominate.

A total of 102 deer, including 85 does and fawns and 17 male deer were trapped, tagged with numbered cattle ear tags holding plastic discs striped with paint across the rump patch, and numbered with 30 inch numerals painted on each side midway between the hips and shoulders. One stripe across the rump indicated the deer was tagged in the granite soil type, while three stripes marked a deer from the limestone-caliche soil type.

Forty-one of the deer were recaptured one or more times, with one spike buck leading the field by getting trapped six times in the same trap. All recatches, with only three exceptions, were made in the same traps in which the deer were originally caught. They retrapped within one-half mile of the site where they were originally tagged.

Two tagged bucks and six tagged does, tagged by hunters during the open season, November 16 through December 31, 1954, were killed within 500 yards of the spot where they were trapped and tagged the preceding October. The carcasses of five tagged does have been found to date.

Chevrolet's special hill-flatteners!

162 HP V8

180 HP V8

See that fine fat mountain yonder? You can iron it out, flat as a flounder... and easy as whistling!

Just point one of Chevrolet's special hill-flatteners at it (either the 162-h.p. "Turbo-Fire V8" or the 180-h.p. "Super Turbo-Fire")... and pull the trigger! Barr-r-r-r-o-o-o-O-OOM! Mister, you got you a flat mountain!

... At least it feels flat. For here are engines that sing as sweetly as a dynamo... built to pour out a torrent of pure, vibrationless power. Big-bore V8's with the shortest stroke in the industry.

So most of the time they loaf. Even at the speed limit they just dream along, purring out a fraction of their strength.

An engineer can understand why they are so hyper-efficient. But you don't have to be an engineer to know that these are the sweetest running V8's you ever piloted. Just come in and try one out!

WINSTON-HOLMES WEDDING SUNDAY

Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Winston are at home in Grand Prairie, Texas, following their marriage Sunday morning at 8:30 in the First Methodist Church of Sanderson. Rev. J. Spurlin, pastor, officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

The bride, Miss Jettie Rae Holmes, is the daughter of Mrs. Jettie Holmes of Sanderson and Boyd C. Holmes of Del Rio. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Winston of Evening Shade, Ark., former Terrell County ranchers, and Mrs. Winston has taught in the elementary school here for the past year and formerly taught in the Dryden school.

White gladioli and huckleberry leaves in white wicker baskets decorated the altar of the church.

Miss Sarah Pat Grigsby sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer." Mrs. R. S. Wilkinson played the organ accompaniment, the traditional wedding marches and a medley of music prior to the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, M. E. Stroud, of San Diego, Calif. She wore a gown of white embroidered nylon organza with bouffant skirt and fashioned with fitted bodice, sweetheart neckline and three-quarter-length sleeves. Tiny covered buttons were down the front of the bodice. Her fingertip veil of illusion with wide bands of lace was attached to a coronet of seed pearls. An orchid surrounded by lilies of the valley and split carnations knotted in the white satin streamers was atop the white Bible which she carried.

Miss Sylvia Wright of Miles, the bridesmaid, wore an aqua dress with white accessories. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink carnations.

Tom Smith was the best man. J. A. Mansfield, cousin of the bride, and Kenneth Stutes were ushers.

A reception was held in the Legion Hall immediately following the wedding. The guests were registered in the bride's book by Mrs. J. A. Mansfield.

The refreshment table was laid in a lace cloth. Mrs. E. C. Ear-wood, the bride's sister, served the cake, Miss Wright the orange punch and Mrs. Roger Hefner of San Antonio, the punch.

Mrs. Winston is a May graduate of the Sanderson High School.

Mr. Winston graduated from the Sanderson High School in 1947 and received his Bachelor of Science degree from Sul Ross College. He is employed by the Chance-Vought Aircraft Corporation in Grand Prairie.

They left Sunday morning for that city.

Mrs. Raymond Farley of Dryden, Mrs. C. F. Cox, Jr., and Mrs. E. E. Farley entertained with a tea and miscellaneous shower in the home of the latter Thursday afternoon to honor Miss Holmes.

A color scheme of white and green was noted in the decorations of Bells of Ireland and candytuft.

Welcoming the guests were Mrs. Farley, Mrs. Jettie Holmes, mother of the bride-elect; Mrs. H. M. Winston, mother of the groom-elect, and Miss Jettie Rae Holmes. Miss Sarah Pat Grigsby and Miss Hannah Jo Nance registered the guests.

Other members of the house party were Mrs. Giles Holmes, Mrs. M. B. Stroud, Mrs. Bert Bell and Miss Sylvia Wright who directed the guests to the gift display and took alternate turns at serving from the tea table, which was laid in a lace cloth. Frosted
