SANDERSON, TEXAS, FRIDAY, JANUARY 6, 1956

NUMBER 47

LISTEN TO LUKE

As predicted, the year is now under way and we begin getting accustomed to 1956 now.

As is usually the case, we look back and see some of the things we all made in 1955 and recognizing them, we should be in a position to better ourselves in 1956 ahead.

We can spend all of our time regretting the things we accomplished and putting ourselves on the backs for what we have done and we are not accomplishing anything but building up a regret for 1955 is past and gone. We could it have been better?

Do we show proper respect to our neighbors and friends? Did we actually do our part in all of our civic activities of the town? Do we truly say that the schools, churches and organizations of the community got our whole-hearted support? Have we done our best ourselves? By our families? By ourselves?

Is this one way we can benefit from last year's experience?

Where, if at all, did we fall short where can improvements be made?

Is there no crusade for a Eutopia where we can show improvements in our civic and home life actions. We know that Sanderson and Del Rio County are good places to live, but we know they can be better.

We all know of the possibilities that beckon that befall us as a community, and we know of those that affect us personally. But the time of activity to better our way of life must not be taken as come satisfaction with our status. We must all need to be awakened to the cold facts that we, as citizens, have a job to do in our community and there is no one to do it for ourselves.

The civic clubs of the community: The Rotary Club, The Lions, American Legion, The V.F.W., Garden Club, The Culture Club, Evening Study Club, the Ranch Club, and others we may have overlooked, are for civic betterment in their own ways, the same as the Chamber of Commerce. We do not meet to eat and drink. They have a goal, an aim, a purpose. There are only two of them mentioned, the veterans' organizations, whose membership is limited, others are open to the people of the county who are interested in civic affairs and their betterment. Are you a member of any of them? Are you active? Why not, you belong?

The churches of the county certainly have a purpose, an aim and a motive. Are you active in any of them? Is your faith in a supreme God exemplified by a statement of your true belief shown by your actions? Go to some church today and definitely show which you are on, and keep up with it by your daily actions.

Then there are organizations of churches that need your support.

First Candidate Announces For County Sheriff

Austin Nance has announced for the office of sheriff, tax collector and assessor of Terrell County. He is the first candidate to announce for any office locally.

Nance, a long-time resident of the county, has been in the service station business, dairy business and for the last several years has been engaged in ranching.

In making his first bid in politics, he stated that several local residents had approached him to seek the office and he gave his consent since his ranch near Sanderson did not consume enough of his time to be in conflict with the duties of the office of sheriff, if he was the choice of the voters.

He said that he felt he was well acquainted with the responsibilities of the sheriff's duties.

He added that most all of the people of the county had known him for many years and were in a position to judge his qualifications for the office.

He added that he would sincerely do his best to carry out the duties of the office to the best of his ability, if elected, and would consider the office duties having first priority of his time.

Nance concluded with the statement that he would appreciate the consideration of the voters in his behalf at the July primary.

Javelinas Said To Be Fair Game

Austin — Stalking javalinas is recommended as prime sport by the Assistant Director of Wildlife Restoration for the Game and Fish Commission.

He debunked some of the harrowing tales coming out of South Texas thickets about the wary brush hogs, but did admit javalinas have the weapons to be mean when wounded. Above all, he said javalinas are difficult to outmaneuver and besides make good food, especially when barbecued.

"The javalina's keen sense of hearing and smell plus his habit of living in the thickest brush makes him one of the most difficult of game animals to approach," said the Assistant Director. "If your stalking ability has enabled you to approach a javalina close enough for a shot, that shot must be good. If you miss, the javalina will be out of sight behind a clump of prickly pears in a fraction of a second and chances are that unless you have stalked a herd and an escaping animal passes close by, you will not get another shot."

"Many javalinas are killed each year by deer hunters as they sit in blinds waiting for deer to come by. Few are taken by hunters who set out to stalk a herd. Only a hunter who has developed his stalking ability to its keenest point or one who accidentally runs into a herd is successful in bagging a javalina if he is hunting just for them."

"Anyone who has seen the head of a javalina mounted by a skilled taxidermist will marvel at the long, razorsharp teeth, exposed by bristly lips. Sharp beady eyes and laid-back ears give it a pose that is not easily forgotten. Such a mount makes for much conversation in the hunting camps and in the dens of men. Wild tales about the ferocity of the javalinas are retold striking fear into the hearts of greenhorn and veteran hunters alike until each panics at the sight of a javalina."

"But the javalina isn't really ferocious. He much prefers to run rather than fight. If he has to fight, he does it with blinding speed and a slashing hook with his sharp tusks that will tear a dog open from shoulder to hip, even splitting the ribs. For a little fellow, he really puts up a rousing battle when cornered."

Javelina seasons vary but many South Texas counties have open seasons on the brush hogs the year around.

$117 Million Spent On SP Improvements During Last Year

Southern Pacific made a record outlay of $117 million for capital improvements during 1955 and launched major programs whose greatest impact will be felt in the future. D. J. Russell, president, reported in a year-end review made public here by B. S. Sines, executive vice president of the railroad's lines in Texas and Louisiana.

In addition, the railroad continued important projects started last year, among them the $7 million ultra-modern classification yard near Houston, to be completed in February.

Looking to 1956, Russell commented that Southern Pacific expects traffic movements "compatible to the good volume enjoyed by our lines in 1955."

He reviewed these major 1955 developments: A start on installing remote-control devices to increase capacity of 11 miles of line in Southern California; completion of 844 miles of pipeline to carry refined petroleum products into Arizona from Texas and California; and deliveries of 2,948 freight cars and 169 diesel locomotive units.

He pointed out that the latter deliveries chiefly include prior years orders and only a small portion of 1955's over-all orders for 14,725 freight cars, for about $124 million, and 186 diesel units for another $34 million.

The rail president reported that Pacific Fruit Express Company, in which S.P. shares ownership with Union Pacific, received 200 new "super-giant" mechanically refrigerated cars during the year, and was authorized to acquire or convert 375 more, plus acquiring 1,800 standard "reefers."

He noted that the first unit of the $34 million pipeline project is expected to go into operation the first week of January.

Other 1955 achievements included improved freight schedules over all of the system, and adding more full-length dome-lounge and "hamburger grill" cars to passenger service.

During 1955 the railroad extended its popular trailer-on-flattcar "piggyback" service into more areas of Texas and Louisiana, and also into the Midwest by linking S.P. "piggyback" with that of the company's affiliates, the St. Louis and Southwestern (Cotton Belt).

Volume of this service also increased from 3,800 vans handled in 1953 when it was new, to about 50,000 this year. S.P. also acquired or ordered 1,044 trailers as well as 760 tractors and trucks.

Talented Quintette Scheduled For Appearance Here Monday, January 9

The Eppley Sisters Gospel Quintette of York, Pa., will appear at the First Baptist Church in Sanderson on Monday, January 9, at 7:30 p. m., according to an announcement made this week by Rev. Claude Bridges, pastor.

The five sisters render a deeply spiritual program featuring vocal quintettes, soprano and alto solos, artistic piano playing, and numbers on the following instruments: Vibra-harp, violin, electric Hawaiian guitar, saxophone, accordions, cathedral chimes, trumpets and organs. These five sisters are known from coast to coast, and in all countries of North America and in many European countries. They are widely used in Youth for Christ Rallies.

"If you wish to hear a musical program that is unique and different and has been rated as one of the best programs of its kind in the country, come and hear these five sisters. They have appeared in churches of 42 different denominations the past 11 years. Their recent tours have included leading churches and radio stations in the U. S. and Canada and in Europe. Thousands have heard this group, churches have been crowded to capacity and many turned away," according to Rev. Bridges.

The public is cordially invited to attend the program and the people are urged to come early.

Dial Phone Users Become Accustomed To New Gadgets

Dial telephone users are fast becoming accustomed to their new instruments since they have been installed for just over two weeks.

Most of the technical difficulties of the new system have been ironed out and subscribers are finding the new system generally very satisfactory, according to most comments. Rural subscribers, too, are getting better service and more audible telephone conversation since the change-over, according to the ranchmen contacted.

Subscribers who dial a wrong number or, because of technical malfunctions, get a wrong number, and being accustomed to the facilities and human-error possibilities of operators, have been known to say, "I'm sorry, they gave me the wrong number."

But generally, discounting the inconvenience of having to memorize new numbers frequently called and looking up numbers rather than asking for them by the name of the subscriber, telephone subscribers are pleased with the new instruments.

All subscribers are asked to please familiarize themselves and their families with the emergency numbers so that in time of stress they will not be too excited to dial the number, and instead dial the operator instead, thus using up what may be precious time.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK:

"My covenant will I not break, nor alter the thing that is gone out of my lips." Psalms 89:34.

In an age of doubt, fear, and truce breaking, bear in mind that there is one who will keep His word with you forever. You can absolutely depend on His word, for there is no small print in the promises of God. — H. B. Dean.

Sanderson Wins Over McCamey In District Cage Tilt

The Sanderson Eagles began their district 5-A cage play with a win over the McCamey Badgers here Tuesday night by the narrow margin of 46-43. McCamey was the district cage champ of last year.

Luis Cobos and Roland McDonald held the scoring honors for the Eagles, netting 17 and 14 respectively.

In the "B" game Sanderson lost out by a score of 79-27. David Graham led the Eaglets with nine points.

Sanderson will play Wink here Friday night with both A and B games scheduled.

Sanderson scored 13 points in each of the first two quarters and 10 points in each of the last two periods to beat the Badgers.

January Last Month For Poll Tax Payment

The remainder of January is all the time left for the payment of poll taxes in Texas.

With general elections and possibly other elections due or arising this year, the payment of $1.75 for the privilege of voting is being stressed all over the state.

This year's elections already scheduled include the election of a school board member, the July primary and general election in November and possibly proposed amendments to the state constitution.

Not all county and district officers will be elected this year due to an amendment okayed by the voters two years ago, but several county and district officers will be named, as will be all state officers, representatives to national legislative bodies and the president and vice-president.

Tax payers are reminded of the fact that the price for poll taxes is not included in the statement for county and state taxes sent out by the local tax collector.

Poll taxes may be purchased at the tax collector's office in the courthouse.

You CAN Pick Your CANDIDATE BUT... THE RIGHT TO VOTE IS YOURS ONLY IF YOU... PAY YOUR POLL TAX!

March 5-10 Named Public School Week

The week of March 5 - 10 has been named as Texas Public School Week, by Governor Allan Shivers and the Texas legislative bodies. The first week in March has been set aside as Public Schools Week in Texas for the past several years in an effort to get the public more interested in the free educational system of the state.

Between now and then, The Times will publish several articles that should be of interest to patrons and citizens.

What Our Schools Should Accomplish

Schools are established by and operated for the good of all the people of the community which they serve. They complement the educational opportunities provided by the home and the church, and have as their particular aim the development of ideas and ideals and the teaching of knowledge and skills needed by the community.

Educational purposes are based on the values that are accepted by the community, state, and nation — both values that are enduring and values that are altered by experience and by changes in society.

Since the founding of their first schools, Texans have shown concern toward the necessity for providing the best possible educational opportunities for their children. The schools of the pioneer settlers, inadequate as they may seem in comparison with the schools of today, often were considered adequate to meet the needs of the small communities that existed at that time.

Probably the greatest single achievement during a century of education progress in Texas was the enactment in 1949 of legislation that guarantees to each Texas school child the right to receive at least a minimum of educational opportunity. One of the most important aims of education in Texas is to carry out these educational guarantees and encourage local communities to go beyond them in so far as it is possible to do so.

While continuing to emphasize the basic skills, our schools today are offering instructional programs that include a wide range of experiences. The aims and accomplishments of Texas schools should continue to be responsive to present as well as to future needs of the young people who are to assume the rights and duties of citizenship, enabling them to make use of formal education as a basis for learning throughout life.

Education is related to social and economic progress, developing potential skills and understandings of people. Education makes possible more efficient producers and more appreciative consumers, and enables citizens to use and value political and economic freedom. Constant study of the purposes of education is needed if schools are to do an effective job of providing meaningful knowledge, skills and ideals. Texas citizens need to take a look at what the schools have accomplished and suggest ways in which they can be improved to meet the requirements for education in this state.

A. L. FAWCETT IN IMPROVED CONDITION

AUSTIN. — Scandals, investigations, trials and political upheaval kept Texas news lively in 1955.

Most of the big '55 stories are expected to have even bigger sequels in '56. In them may be answers to now-tense questions, solutions and attempted solutions to a raft of state problems.

Some 1955 stories and topics for their 1956 chapters include:

1. Veterans land frauds were revealed, and former Land Commissioner Bascom Giles was convicted. More trials are pending and scandals are a likely summer campaign issue.

2. U. S. Supreme Court decree and follow-up action by Texas Supreme Court wiped out Texas' school segregation laws. Desegregation moves also began in public parks and transportation facilities. But many Texans in areas with large Negro populations formed Citizens Councils that will still be fighting in '56.

3. In an earliest-ever start two candidates, Reuben Senterfitt and Sen. Jimmy Phillips, entered the governor's race. Some half-dozen others jockeyed for position.

4. Wright Morrow was replaced by Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey as national Democratic committeeman. How successful Ramsey is in uniting the feuding factions of Texas Democratic party will bear directly on these big '56 questions: What candidate will the Texas delegation support at the national Democratic convention? What party will carry Texas in the presidential election.

5. Seven-million-dollar collapse of U. S. Trust and Guaranty Co. left thousands of depositors and policy-holders with potentially heavy losses. For '56 it meant more investigations, a hot new campaign issue and possibly new laws.

Auditor's Answers Awaited

Answers to two big questions resulting from the bankruptcy of U. S. Trust and Guaranty Co. of Waco hang on the auditing of the company's tangled financial accounts.

What the public wants to know is: (1) What percentage of their money will depositors get back? (2) What did the company do with all its money?

Estimates of depositor's recoveries range from 15 to 100 cents on the dollar. State Auditor C. H. Cavness said he is hopeful investors will recover 50 per cent or more, but added "enough may not be known for a month or two to make a good guess."

Cavness, at the request of the Senate investigating committee, also is trying to find out who got the money from checks totaling $25,000. They were issued by the company payable to "cash" during a period that coincided with the last legislative session.

Liquidation proceedings are expected to take one to two years. Garland Smith, chairman of the insurance commission, said the commission does not have enough staff to carry on the receivership work.

State Sen. Searcy Bracewell of Houston has advocated a special session if necessary to provide the commission with more examiners to enforce new laws passed last session.

Depositors Map Strategy

A statewide meeting in Houston sometime this month is planned by depositors in the defunct U. S. Trust and Guaranty Co.

At separate meetings last week in Waco, Dallas and Houston several hundred of the 5,600 holders of "certificate drafts" kicked off their campaign to recoup losses.

They have hired legal counsel, and enlisted the aid of state officials and legislators.

Depositor's chances for substantial recovery are based on hopes that: (1) They will be made "preferred creditors" and (2) assets of subsidiary companies will partially offset liabilities of the parent firm.

Right To Work Laws

Atty. Gen. John Ben Sheppard has taken steps to fight for Texas "right to work" law.

Sheppard petitioned the U. S. Supreme Court last week for permission to present oral argument in a case involving a similar Nebraska law.

Pending the federal judges' decision, the Texas Supreme Court has delayed action on a suit by railway workers to prevent a closed shop agreement between Santa Fe Railway and the unions.

A Texas law passed in 1947 provides that no person shall be denied employment as a result of membership or non-membership in a union.

To invalidate this law, said Sheppard, would destroy individual constitutional rights.

Laughlin Wins Suit

C. Woodrow Laughlin, South Texas off-again on-again district judge, kept his right to stay on after efforts to disbar him lost out in court last week.

Laughlin was removed from the 79th district judgeship for official misconduct by the State Supreme Court in 1953. In 1954 he was re-elected and took office in January, 1955.

Disbarment, based on Supreme Court findings, were instituted by the State Bar of Texas. Texas Fourth Court of Civil Appeals ruled out the Bar's petition, said charges would have to be proven before a jury.

Short Shorts

Something new has been added in your capitol city. Six "Park-a-dettes" now are patrolling the parking meters, replacing six policemen, for more strenuous duties. Another short wheat crop in Texas is predicted for 1956, by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. US DA estimates next year's production at 19,602,000 bushels. That is about one-third of average, but 46 per cent better than 1955. Homer Garrison, Jr., head of the Department of Public Safety, has ordered Highway Patrolmen to throw away warning ticket books and to make arrests on every moving traffic violation. Reason for the order: 2,500 deaths on Texas highways in port, for all members of the family. Let's get in line and be for something definite and worthwhile. And, as always, let's clean up Sanderson and make our outward appearance a sight for travelers to marvel at and be amazed.

Just a reminder that you have only the remainder of this month to pay your poll tax and qualify as a voting citizen.

There are always a few who neglect to pay their poll tax and usually they demonstrate the most interest in an election. There is a good chance that all who pay their poll taxes will be glad they did before the year is out.

Politics are beginning to take shape and gain momentum. Every qualified citizen should have a voice in the matter of elections, so pay your poll tax before January 31.

1955. The State is facing a suit by holders of some of the $1,000,000 in bonds issued by Texas as a Confederate state, in 1862. State Auditor C. H. Cavness says that inasmuch as the bonds apparently were used to aid the rebellion the state would be barred from paying any such debt or obligation.

Texas has been allocated 71,307 additional shots of Salk polio vaccine.

Alien Registration Due This Month

Commissioner J. M. Swing announced today in Washington that the Immigration and Naturalization Service expects some 2,600,000 aliens to report their addresses in January under the 1956 Alien Address Report Program. More than 2,300,000 aliens filed out the cards in 1955.

Commissioner Swing stated that every alien who was in the United States on January 1 must report his address to the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization during the month of January 1956. In addition any alien who is temporarily absent from the United States during the reporting period shall report this address within ten days after his return to the United States.

The fact that an alien registered in 1940 and has submitted address reports in the past does not relieve him of the responsibility of again furnishing his address during the month of January, 1956, regardless of whether his address has changed during the past year.

If the alien has applied for naturalization papers but has not as yet been naturalized he still must comply with the law and submit an address report card. If an alien is a visitor or student in this country and is in the United States on January 1, 1956, he is also required to report his address. All alien children over the age of 14 are required to report their address, and parents of alien children under 14 years of age are responsible for reporting the address of such children.

Alien Address Report Cards are available at all United States Post Offices and Immigration Offices. This is a simple form which the alien fills out and signs. He then hands the completed form to any post office clerk or immigration employee.

Mr. Swing warned that if an alien willfully or inexcusably fails to report this address during January 1956 he may be taken into custody and deported from the U. S. He may also be fined and imprisoned before such deportation.

If any of your friends are aliens who are required to submit this address report, Mr. Swing asks that you please pass this information along to them so that they will be aware of this requirement.
