Stop as soon as you have read the first section of this column.

Don't read any more until you have turned to the second section and studied the embarrassingly inadequate, but sincere effort to provide you with a little information which I hope will help you when you go to the polls Saturday.

It would be great to have the power to know each candidate as well as I know the palm of my hand so that I could count the wrinkles and blemishes of each and balance the strength of each against that of the other. But, since that is not possible, I must make do with that which I am able to acquire.

Undoubtedly, it leaves much to be desired, but I hope that I am able to give at least one person a little more than he presently possesses in the way of background on the candidates.

There are a few thoughts which should be kept in mind when studying the merits of the candidates. There are ways to determine the soundness of what each candidate proposes without having it spelled out in black and white.

As an example, take each plank of a candidate's platform and ask yourself how he can achieve what he proposes; how much will it cost in both money and sacrifice of personal liberties; and can the proposal be achieved without creating roadblocks for other planks in the platform.

If a candidate's platform is harmonious -- that is, each plank supporting all the other planks or at least, not acting as a hindrance -- there is an outside chance that the candidate will be able to fulfill the major part of his promises. If not, there is a very good chance that the entire platform was designed to gain votes and not with the intention of achieving goals after attaining office.

If all the planks of a platform are not in agreement with each other, I would beware the candidate. It is likely that he is not the best man -- or even a desirable man -- for the job.

Another good practice is to read every candidate's promises at least twice. The second time, see if he is really saying anything and if so, is he saying what it looks like from the surface. Nine times out of ten, the statement reads in a circle or contains a very large loophole through which the politician can escape when elected to office.

If the promise or statement is to the point and really says something, then the candidate is more than likely sincere -- or has an excellent writer on his staff.

Most important, take the trouble and time to make up your own mind. Don't let someone else do it for you.

Now, study the items in the Farm and Home section and don't forget to do your duty to yourself and your children Saturday. Go Vote.

SECTION I

Whether voters take part in the democratic or republican primary elections Saturday, they'll face a mighty long list of decisions regarding national, state and county offices -- plus the much-routed question of parimutuel betting on the horse races.

Democrats will attack the matter on two fronts: "FOR (or AGAINST) the Legislature to submit a constitutional amendment to legalize pari-mutuel wagering on horse races."

"FOR (or AGAINST) the Legislature to enact a law legalizing pari-mutuel wagering on horse races with the state and the track sharing 14 per cent of the pari-mutuel pool, the home county receiving two per cent of the total pool, and all other counties receiving one-half the net state share on the basis of population. No racing on Sunday."

Democrats fathered the issue after 200,000 voters petitioned the State Democratic Executive Committee to submit the proposal on the primary ballot to meet legal requirements for including specific legislation in the party platform.

Republicans added the issue to their ballot too, and phrased the following proposition:

"FOR (or AGAINST) the State Legislature of Texas submitting, for a vote of the people of Texas, a constitutional amendment which would legalize pari-mutuel wagering in Texas, on a local county option basis."

Both parties will take a sampling of voter sentiment on the question of repealing the poll tax as a prerequisite for voting.

Should the proposals carry on May 5, it probably would be two or more years before either issue is settled. They would have to pass by two-thirds majorities in both houses of the Legislature, and then win a majority vote of the people in a statewide election -- which likely would be in the November election of 1964.

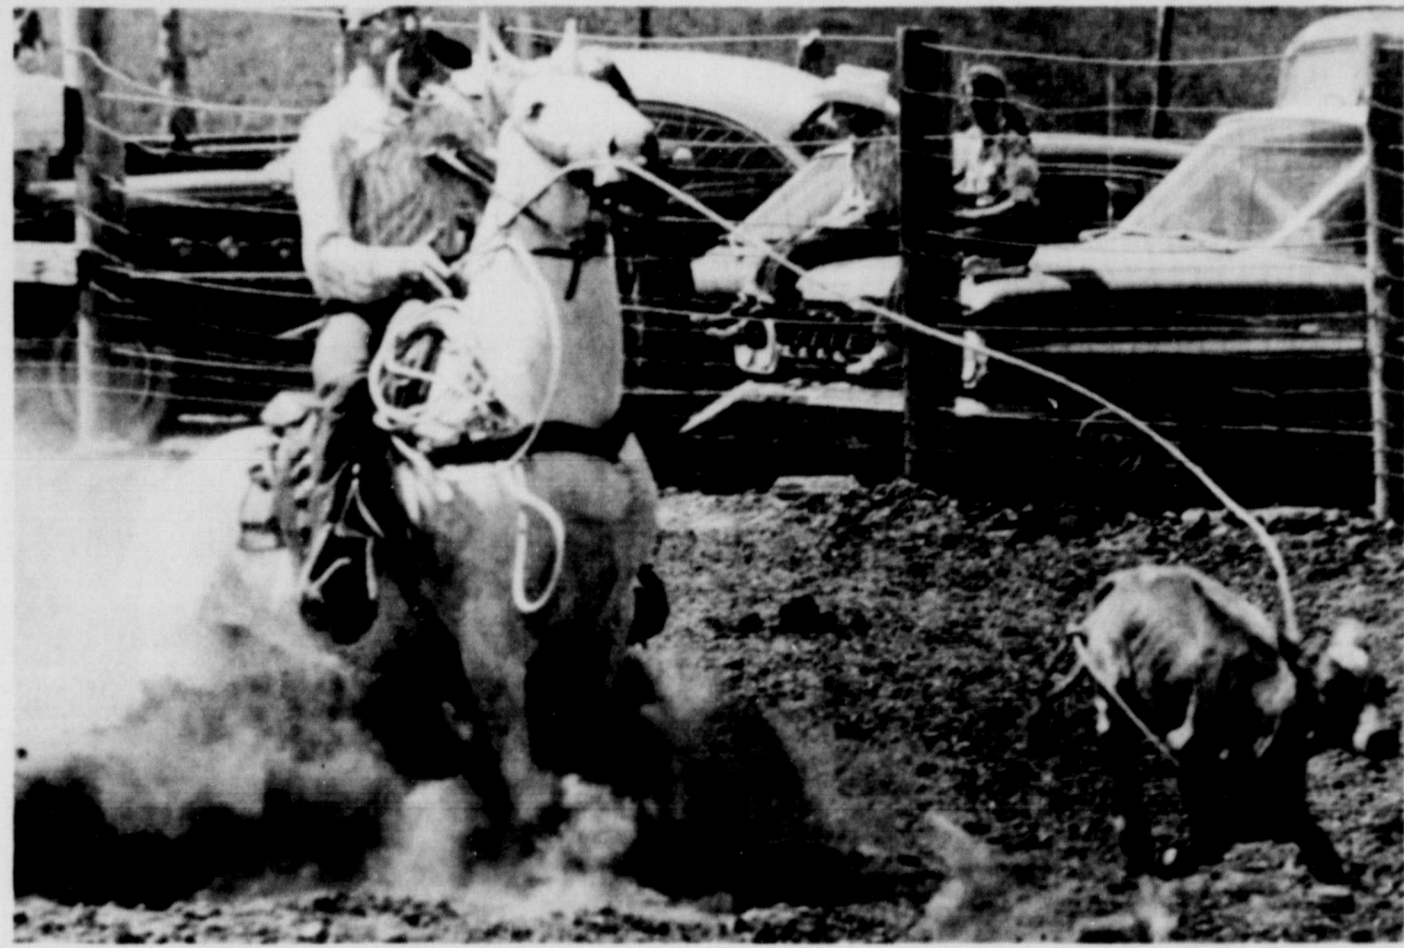

Sponsors Select Baseball Teams

Managers and sponsors of Little League teams for the Friona Summer Baseball Program will meet in the Friona State Bank Friday at 8 p. m. to select teams and buy players.

Boys who want to play are asked to notify Coach Scott or Ralph Taylor at his Barber Shop before the Friday meeting.

If a boy has not signed up when the players are selected, they may have to wait for a vacancy or until they can be placed with a team, according to Scott.

Plans call for the organization of 15 teams in the program. Practice is expected to start this month.

Fort Worth Press Presents Awards Here

Visitors from some 51 counties included in Region I will converge at the Friona School Cafeteria Monday night at 7:30 for the Fort Worth Press Soil Conservation Awards Banquet.

The annual banquet is being held in Friona this year for the first time and is expected to draw people from through the Northwest Texas area.

Walter R. Humphrey, editor of the Fort Worth Press, pioneered the conservation awards program which is not the largest in the nation. He will present at least 15 awards to winners from the region, according to the schedule.

The program is not limited to agriculture practice alone but through the essay contests, involves the schools and students.

It seems to me as if "old Mother Nature" just can't make up her mind as to what season this is. Monday, it was air-conditioner weather until late in the afternoon.
That was when another of those real, down-to-earth, sudden Northerners sneaked up on us, I don't know exactly how much the temperature dropped because I wasn't within reach of the thermometer, but it sure seemed like 15 or 20 degrees. I know I switched off the air conditioner in a hurry.
But, I feel sure that the temperature didn't drop more than a few degrees at the time. The strong wind just made it seem colder. It waited until sometime during the night before it really got cold.
I had to scrape an eighth of an inch of ice off my windshield Tuesday morning before I could see through it enough to drive to the office.
Although I am sure that it didn't do any kind of plant any good, I haven't been able to see where it hurt any -- at least, so that it is visible at the moment. The leaves still seem to be firmly stuck to the trees.
I wish the weather would stick to some kind of general pattern other than general haphazardness.

ISOLATION OF SEED FIELDS ENSURES
PRODUCTION OF TOP QUALITY CROPS

Robert Wood, Asgrow Seed Company of Texas production manager and Henry Harms, field supervisor inspecting grow-out tests of sorghum hybrids.

Situated about 100 miles south of San Antonio, the seed-production fields of the Asgrow Seed Company of Texas ensure maximum isolation from undesirable pollen sources. This area was chosen as ideal for seed production for the following reasons: isolation prevents undesirable outcrosses, irrigation and soil assure perfect moisture control and high yield, favorable weather conditions at harvest time minimize damage to seed from the standpoint of both quality and discoloration. Asgrow is the only large commercial seed company producing seed in this select southwest Texas area.

TEST PLANTINGS OF EACH SEED CROP

Because of this ideal seed production location in southwest Texas, Asgrow sorghum hybrids are harvested in July. This enables Asgrow agronomists to plant grow-out tests in the same season, early in August. This in turn, permits specialists to determine the quality of sorghum hybrids in September. Thus, farmers can be assured of proven high quality seed far in advance of distribution.

QUALITY CONTROLLED PROCESSING

All seed is milled and cleaned by modern machinery in Asgrow's fully automatic processing plant at San Antonio. The seed is accurately size-graded for precision planting, treated with fungicide and insecticide for maximum protection at planting time. It is then conveniently packed in water-repellent and pest-repellent containers, further ensuring high yields and consistent quality for growers in the Southwest.

CONTINUOUS FIELD INSPECTION

Under the supervision of Asgrow agronomists, skilled crews run continuous quality control checks. Off-type plants are identified and discarded prior to blooming time. Irrigation is carefully watched during the season and soil moisture content is controlled to ensure maximum germination and vigor of seed.

Following the Presidential visit, the destroyer headed for Vieques, Puerto Rico, to take part in a three-week joint Navy-Marine Corps maneuver involving more than 40,000 sailors and Marines aboard some 83 Atlantic Fleet ships to be climaxed with an assault on Vieques.

After a brief cruise in the fleet ballistic missile submarine USS Thomas A. Edison, the Presidential party boarded the tactical command ship USS Northampton to observe night air operations by the attack aircraft carrier USS Enterprise and USS Forrestal.

The next morning, the President received full honors in a review of the Second Fleet, and, following an anti-submarine warfare exercise and an aerial firepower demonstration by the Enterprise and Forrestal, his party observed amphibious assault landings using both landing craft and helicopters at Onslow Beach, N. C.

MIX-ALL

LET'S YOU BE YOUR OWN BOSS

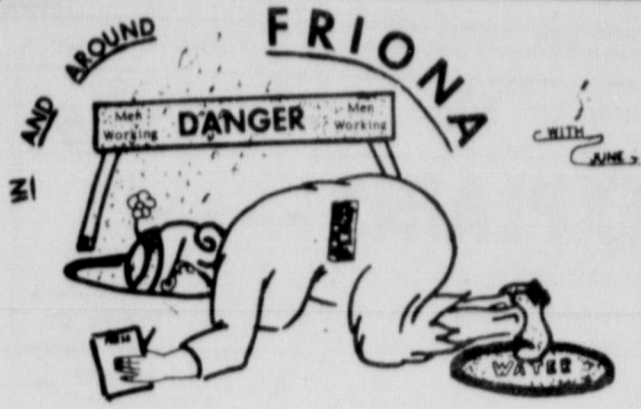

The Gehl Mix-All with the swinging auger and optional crusher-feeder gives you the fastest, finest grinder-mixer in the field. You can lower your feed costs by doing your own feed formulating, grinding, and mixing and do it cheaper and in far less time than it takes to haul it back and forth.

Control the quality of your mixture with your own grain antibiotics and other additives. You can own a PTO Feedmaker that mixes the exact amount of feed you need, when you need it... then hauls it where you want it and unloads it into bunks, bins or bags.

The four-speed auger lets you select the speed to keep the mill full... provides positive delivery of feed to the crusher. The optional crusher-feeder with sure-grip action speeds grinding of ear corn, bale slices or small grains. And continuous circulation gives you a uniform formula and top quality mixture every time. It's the perfect way to lower feed costs and increase profits on every type of livestock feeding.

Making telephone calls has provided me a great deal of pleasure twice within a week. One of the times was when I made a long distance call and the other was when I got a wrong number. Friday afternoon I attempted to call my mother, who lives in a small Western Oklahoma town. The operator was very helpful and made every effort to put the call through. Even though she was unable to reach the called party, she did more than the law requires and did it very cheerfully. Her courtesy and patience will serve as an inspiration to me the next time I find myself in an exasperating situation. Then Tuesday afternoon I picked up the wrong list of telephone numbers when attempting to get in touch with Roy Wilson. A small polite voice answered the ringing telephone. I asked him to let me speak to his mother. He said, "Mother, someone wants you on the phone." She assured him she would be there in "just a minute." He waited patiently for awhile, then very politely reminded her "Mother, you'd better come on, I think a minute is just about up." Right away Mrs. Glenn Harrelson answered. After I learned that I had "goofed" in making the call, I really wasn't sorry I had reached a wrong number. I enjoyed talking to the little and his mother, too. Apparently Kelly is like most mothers with small babies around the house. Most of us make that "just a minute" seem like a long time to anyone who happens to be waiting on us. In view of the circumstances I didn't mind waiting at all and really enjoyed catching up on the latest news about the newest member of the Harrelson family.

Just now learned that Mrs. Jaunez Green has been awarded a teaching fellowship at Oklahoma State University at Stillwater. Mrs. Green will be leaving Friona pretty soon after school is out and will work on her Master's degree during this summer. Then this fall she will begin duties as a counselor of one of the dormitories on the OSU campus. Those of us who have upcoming forth graders regret to see a capable member of the teaching staff leave, but realize that only through change do we make progress. Our best wishes for success in her new undertaking go with Mrs. Green to the Sooner state and in whatever projects she undertakes. Looks like "Clean up Paint up" time has already arrived in Friona. Cunningham's Helpy Selly Laundry in the north central part of town has a new coat of white paint. A vacant lot just east of the city storage barn has been cleared and a number of other clean up projects are going in other places. Mrs. Sam Jones has a very pretty display of potted plants in her front doorway. Apparently she grows geraniums inside then when it is warm enough for them to thrive outdoors she just moves pots and all outside. Star staffers are pleased that our candidate for Maize Days Queen last year won the title, then went on to win title of Miss Deaf Smith County Electric last week. Good luck, Kay, in your next competition. Friona, The Star, and your community are pulling for you all the way! Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Bell and family of Clovis and Mr. and Mrs. John Renner of Canyon and Clyde Renner, Friona were Sunday guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rector and family.

Board Studies Plans For Gin

The board of directors for the proposed Farmers' Co-Op Gin are applying for a charter to operate beginning this year. The board reports that enough funds have been raised and pledged so that they feel confident that the project will become a reality. Although a considerable amount of funds still must be acquired, they feel confident enough to begin the legal arrangements for the construction of the gin. "The greatest need is to get farmers with cotton acreage to contribute toward the building of the gin and pledge their cotton to the gin for processing," Keith Brock, board secretary, said yesterday. Members of the board conferred with members of the Bank of Cooperatives of Houston in Lubbock Tuesday. They presented their plan of financing to the bank officials who accepted it as being sound, according to the reports of board members. The board also consulted representatives of Continental Gin Co. and were informed on the cost, financing and details of the equipment. They inspected the equipment at Amarillo. The board also will meet with representatives from the Friona area within the week, according to Ellis Tatum, president of the board. "All stockholders will be called to a meeting after the plans have been selected and will explain why the particular plan was selected over all the others," A. W. Anthony, Jr., said.

The Case Against Race Track Gambling

Texans on May 5 will vote their opinion "for" or "against" legalized gambling. The primary ballots of both parties will carry the question. We who are against legalized gambling urge every thoughtful man and woman to vote "against."

Not one valid argument can be advanced on gambling's behalf. The total experience of mankind argues eloquently against it.

Is gambling economically justified?

Virgil W. Peterson, director of the Chicago Crime Commission, testifies "Gambling drains the salaries, savings and investments of a community into a business enterprise that serves no human need. Those who benefit from gambling profits are almost without exception members of the underworld who invariably control the gambling business."

Gambling is the biggest single cause of such crimes as embezzlement and invariably brings in its wake a mounting stack of unpaid bills, skipped installment payments, repossessed automobiles and furniture, and lapsed insurance policies.

Since some people gamble anyway, shouldn't we make it legal in order to police it?

The Chairman of the United States Senate Investigating Committee says no. "No plan for legalized gambling that was presented to us seemed to carry any guarantee of success."

Isn't race track gambling a good source of tax revenue?

Senator Alexander Wiley of Wisconsin says, "The idea that legalized gambling will be a revenue-raiser is an illusion. Every dollar raised from such sources means five dollars spent in higher police costs, higher court costs, higher penitentiary costs and higher relief costs."

But after all, isn't pari-mutuel gambling pretty harmless? So a guy loses two dollars.

This is the same, tired, fallacious combination of words mouthed by every gambling profiteer from Al Capone to Benny Binion.

The sad fact of gambling can be told in four words of Damon Runyon, "horse players die broke." A two-dollar bet is murder. Gambling . . . two dollars . . . ten dollars . . . a hundred to recoup . . . is a cause of broken marriages, neglected children, poverty and sometimes suicide.

Ask a bank examiner. Ask a divorce court judge. Ask a probation officer. Ask your retail credit association. Ask the relief people. The easy money boys won't give you the answer.

Small wonder that the three D's of gambling have been described as Debt, Degradation and Death.

You won't succumb to the fever, nor will we. But frankly we don't want our kids to be exposed to such characters as Hot Horse Herbie, Harry the Horse, Bookie Bob and John the Boss.

We don't want our kids to grow up around a race track.

Do you?

Mrs. Ralph Price Speaks At Recent Club Meeting

Mrs. Ralph Price of the Black Community was guest speaker at the recent meeting of the Hub Home Demonstration Club in the Community Center Building. Mrs. Price presented a vacation "dress-o-graph," illustrating ideas and tips compiled by Carol Lane, "The First Lady of Touring." This included family travel, budgeting for travel, packing suggestions, clothing, food and recreation while away from home. She suggested that a "four-ette," a planned two day trip within a radius of 200 miles of home, has a special appeal for many families. At the close of her talk, Mrs. Price gave each one present a pattern of a smart hat that can be packed flat and created at home to complement any costume. Mrs. W. E. Stringer conducted the business session with eleven members answering roll call. Council report was given by Mrs. John Renner and plans were discussed for the luncheon to be held May 1 at the Community Center. Members voted to give $25.00 to the Foreign Exchange Student Fund and $25.00 to two families for food. Mrs. Gilbert Wenner served a refreshment plate to Mesdames Price, Jack Shirley, John Renner, W. H. Long, A. L. Black, Edgar Walters, Paul Daniels, John Hand, W. E. Stringer, E. J. Hall, Albert Cannon, a new member, Mrs. Leroy Johnson and two guests, Mrs. Hattie Burkett of Lubbock and Shirley Wenner.

Something To Think About

6th. Street Church of Christ
Box 515 -- Friona, Texas

Here are some observations that will be invaluable to those who are really interested in their souls salvation. If you dislike and avoid religious conversations and the company of the saints; If you stay away from the services of the church for no better reason than the fact that you prefer it that way; if you worry more about a clean conscience than a clean heart; if you are more afraid of being called overly strict or narrow, than you are of standing firm on the gospel of Christ; if you acknowledge that you are a sinner and make no effort to forsake that sin; if you acknowledge that you have certain obligations to perform but neglect them; if you trifle with temptation or think lightly of sin and its consequences; if you condemn in others what you tolerate in yourself; if you profess to be a follower of Christ and say unto him, Lord, Lord, yet do not the things which he has commanded you; if you profess to love the Lord yet insist on harboring hatred in your heart against a brother -- if any of these things prevail in your life, you are spiritually sick, and might very well be in unto death. Christ is the "great physician" and can heal you if you will let him come into your heart.

"Battle Stations"

Many of you have been wondering why the Republican candidate for State Representative has not been beating more bushes. Well, I have been catching up with my farming, trying to stay calm about the birth of a fine new son, and listening to what my three opponents in the Demo primary have to say. I even went fishing one day, snagged three plugs in the underwater brush, and didn't catch a thing. As any fisherman knows though, even this is fun.

J. FRANK FORD JR.

Now I reckon its time to unfurl my battle flag and get down to politicking. You folks who paid your $1.75 are going to get your money's worth this year. I like farming and I'm not in this race because I want to get on the public payroll. It is because there are a lot of things that have been needing saying the last few years, and the old system of standing staunchly on a non-controversial platform just won't be sufficient in these times. It's too dull as well as too dangerous. Every person in Texas has the right to have the issues which affect our future decided in the open, in honest, fair debate. It is for this reason that I have entered this race, and on the Republican ticket. The status quo does not suit me. Our affairs have been controlled too long by a power-hungry organization in this state which is neither conservative nor liberal but merely interested in perpetuating and increasing its financial and political power. I refer to the LBJ machine. This is not idle talk, I've been there and seen it at work. When an issue came up for debate in our Legislature which affected this organization, the phone lines from Washington got hot, pressure was exerted from dozens of sources, and whether it was a bill to allow LBJ to run for two offices at once, or a bill to protect some special interest, it usually seemed to pass.

Whether one is of liberal or conservative persuasions, the fault and danger of this system should be apparent. Crafty, greedy expedience, coupled with a willingness to use coercive measures when necessary, is in direct contrast to the dedicated men and women who made great sacrifices in order to establish a free nation -- and it will be the death of freedom unless those responsible are separated from the power over our lives which they seek.

Mr. LBJ has predicted that his group will strengthen its hold on Congress and the Legislatures. If it does, it will be unfortunate for all of us. What we need desperately, I think, is a balance of power between the parties over which we can exert proper control, both at state and national levels. Then honest men will have a better chance to reach good conclusions in a fair and open manner.

I am a conservative by conviction, and have been for over ten years. My motivation is the same as that of many liberals but we differ in the fact that I feel the cure of the Bureaucrat is often worse than the illness. We do still have illnesses in our society, and they must be met with consideration and concern, not used as a means of obtaining political power.

It will be my pleasure to meet with any group in the district to talk things over, and I shall also be looking forward to some public debates with the winner of the Democrat Primary. Let's get things out in the open.

We live in a troubled world today, and many are fraught with troubles of various kinds. Therefore a premium is being placed upon peace of mind, peace of heart, and peace in general. No one knows all of the troubles besetting men today, but the Minister is being constantly faced with the problems of those to whom he ministers. We face adversity of every kind. Some cannot find enough work, or the work they do does not pay enough to live on. Some are plagued by unsuccessful plans, ill health makes it impossible for some to work and make a living. From these mentioned we see two factors which form a great deal of our troubles today . . . health and finances. Then there is family troubles. Many parents are troubled by the ungrateful conduct of their children. "How sharper than a serpent's tooth it is to have a thankless child!" Bereavements and the apprehension of death causes concern for many today.

These are common to all today . . . to the Christian and to the non-Christian alike. What makes the difference? The Christian has a source of comfort which the unbeliever knows nothing about. "Let not your heart be troubled; ye believe in God, believe also in me," John 14:1. "Comfort ye, comfort ye, my people, saith the Lord; yea, speak comfortably unto Jerusalem," Isaiah 40:1-2.

How comfortless must sinners be in their troubles! They go not to God for support; but to artificial means . . . physicians of no value.

Political Season Poses - -A Difficult Task For All

By Travis Harrell

One of the difficult chores of a newspaper editor during the political season in Texas is attempting to weigh the qualifications of one candidate against those of his opponents, sift the facts from the fiction and present the readers with sufficient information with which to arm themselves and go to the polls with something more than a will to vote.

The difficulty is usually compounded by the fact that we must depend, to a large extent, on what a candidate says he stands for and what his opponents charge his record shows, and then read through a maze of political propaganda in an effort to determine the true facts.

During the past few weeks, editors across the state have been virtually flooded with reams of campaign literature. Most of the mail is naught but pure propaganda which is designed to influence the weak, uninformed and apathetic citizen. Fortunately, all the population is spared this flood of "junk mail".

In an effort to provide the citizens of Parmer County with a few of the facts with most, if not all, of the propaganda shaved off, the Parmer County Newspapers' staff has gone through the mountains of mail, propaganda, reports, speeches, and records and submits the following summaries of the candidates for major contested offices.

Unfortunately, the amount of information available varies with each candidate as does the amount of reliable information. Undoubtedly, we will not do justice to each candidate, but it will probably be due to omission rather than addition. Of this, we are regretful.

Our hope is to be of some aid to the voters of Parmer County in the monumental task of selecting the candidate most suited to their wishes.

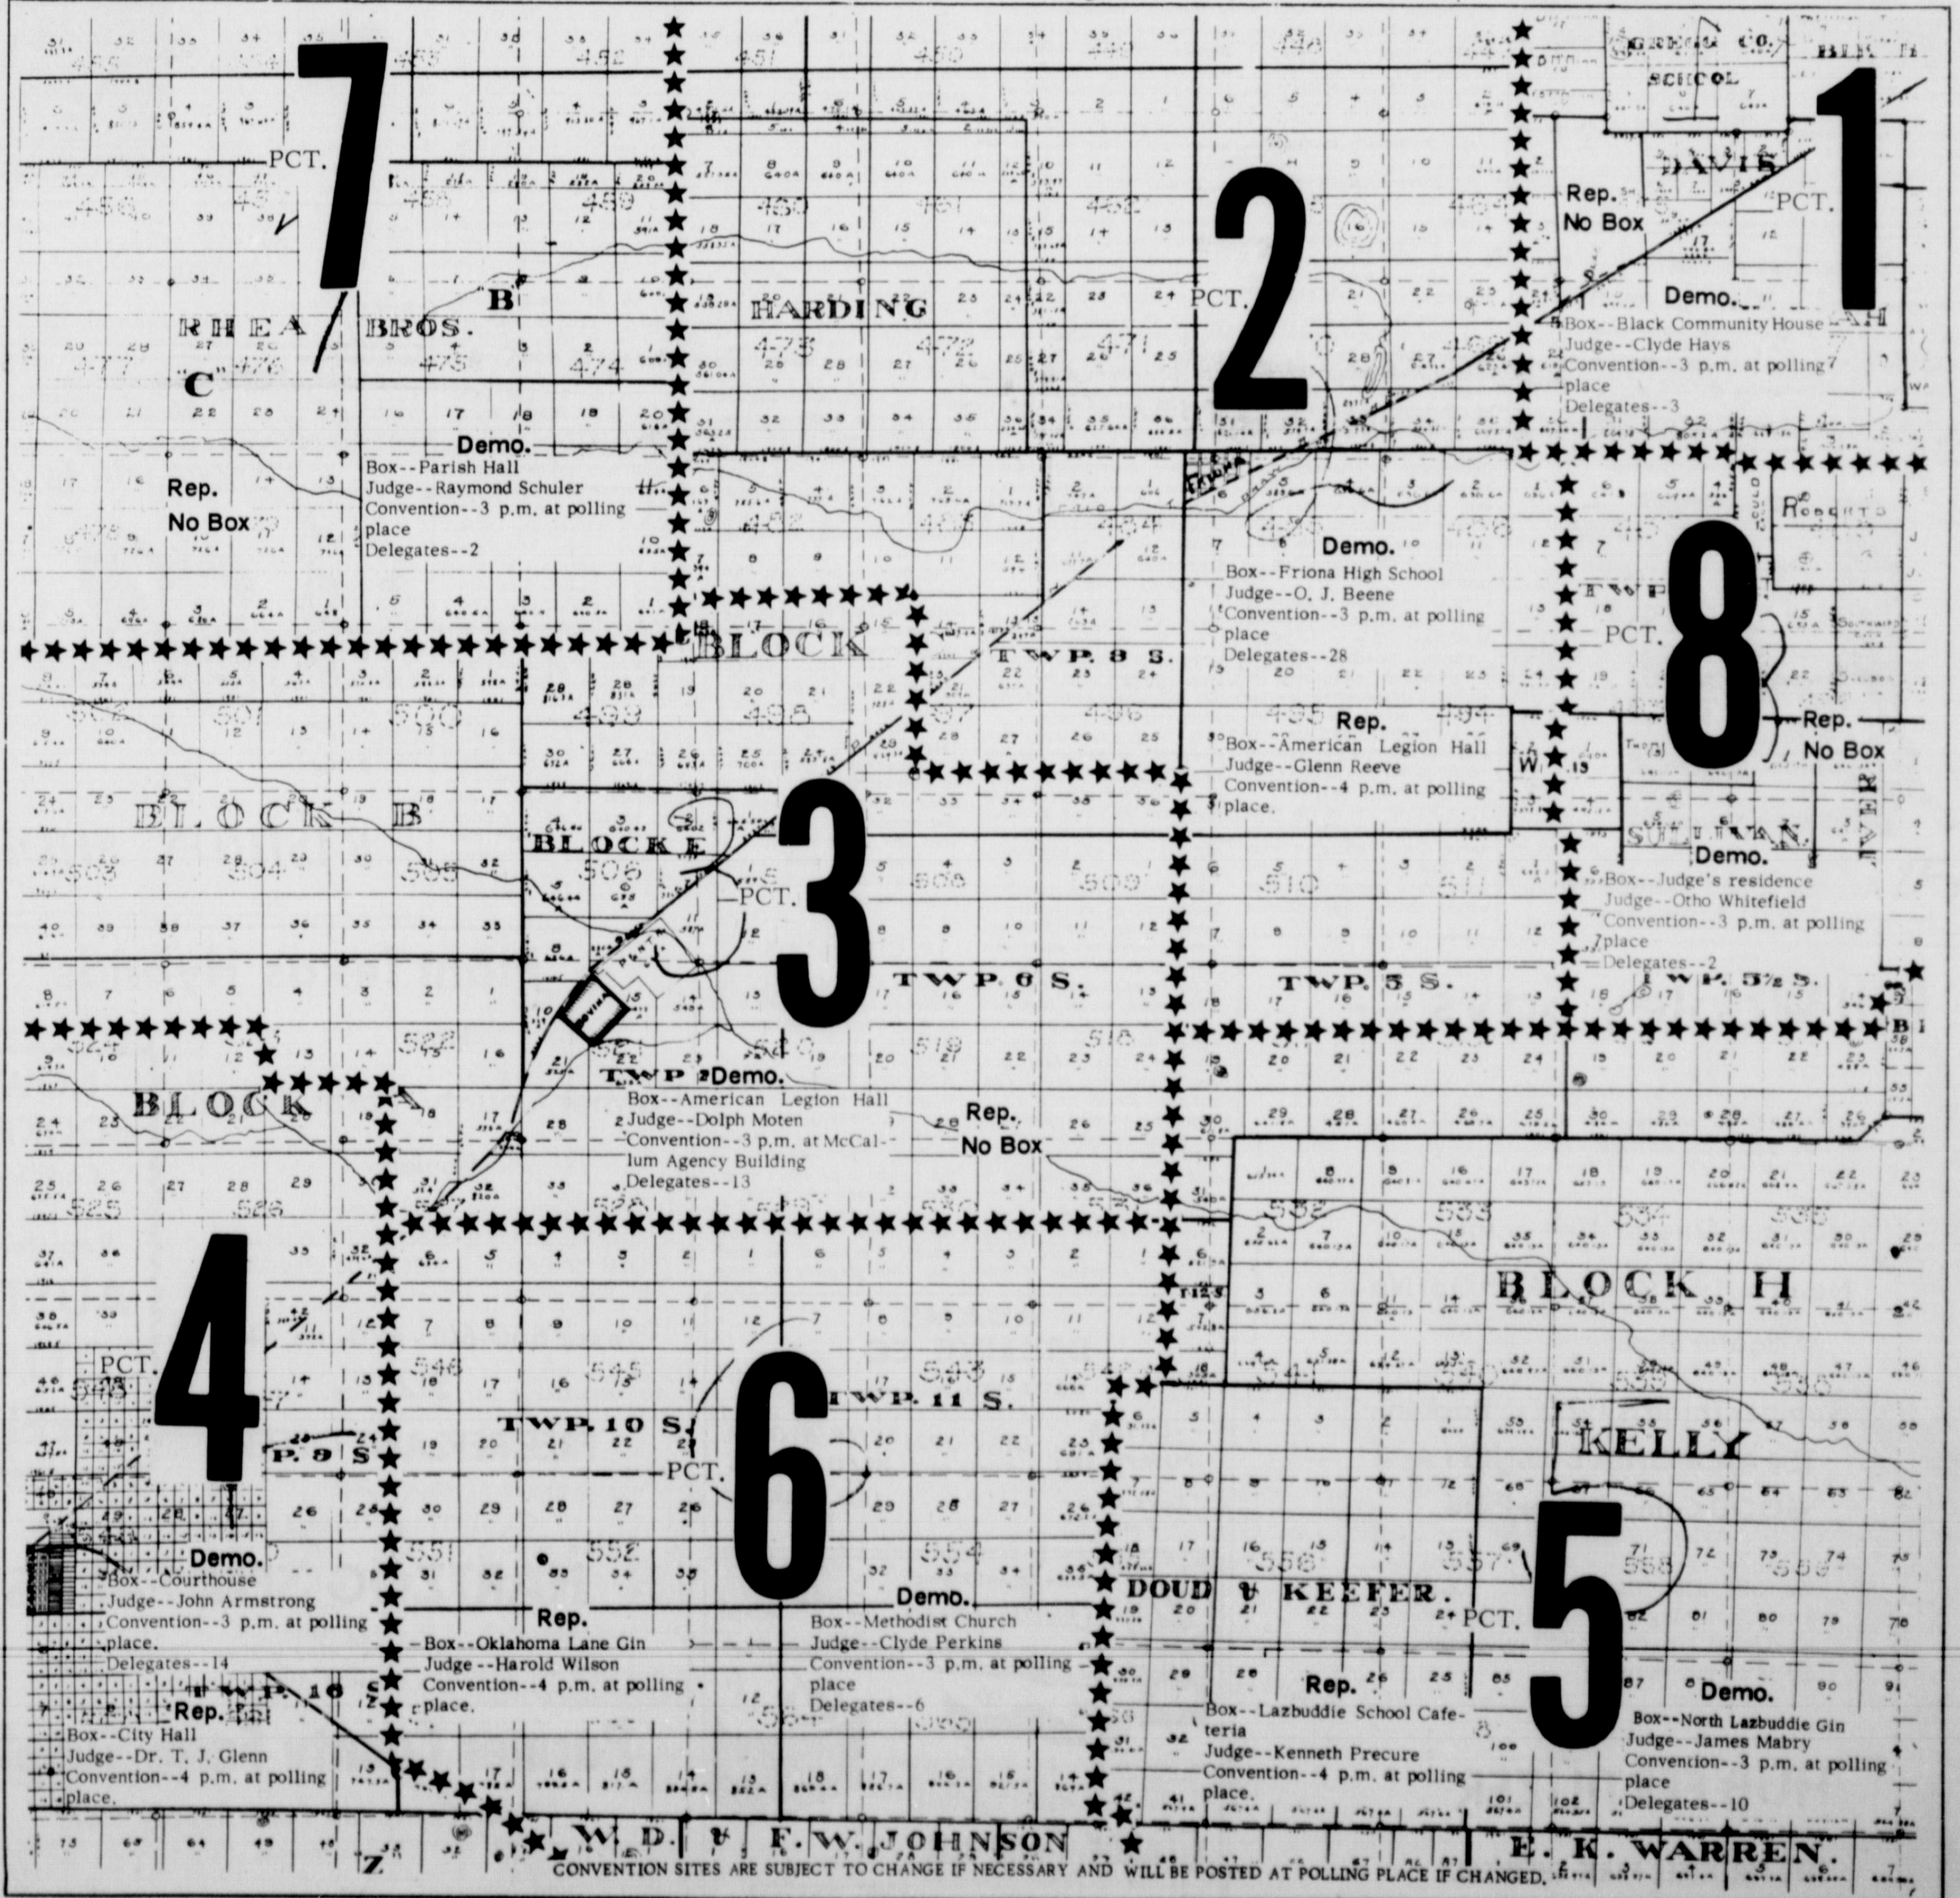

Our major hope is that EVERY qualified voter will take the time and trouble to vote and vote as his conscience dictates.

Eight Candidates Try For Governor's Chair

The governor's race appears to be one of the hottest contests in the primary race.

On the Democratic ballot, six candidates are making the final push to win the nomination -- or at least, a spot on the ballot for the runoff.

Two Republican candidates are named on that ballot, but due to lack of sufficient reliable information they are not included in the following summaries. They are Jack Cox of Breckenridge and Roy Whittenburg of Amarillo.

FORMBY

Marshall Formby, 50, refers to himself as a conservative Democratic gubernatorial candidate "of the people and for the people."

As for qualifications, the Plainview attorney and farmer began his political career as County Judge of Dickens County in 1936. He was president of the West Texas County Judges' and Commissioners' Association in 1939 and 1940. State Senator for four years beginning in 1940 and by 1959, had served on the Texas Highway Commission, of which he was chairman during the last two years.

As his platform, Formby proposes:

- 1) A simplified tax system
- 2) Amending the so-called unfair merit car insurance ruling
- 3) Increasing the speed limit to 70 miles per hour on four-lane highways in rural areas and then strict enforcement
- 4) Solving the State's water and soil conservation problems.
- 5) Less red tape for small businessmen and farmers.
- 6) Operating Texas on a cash basis.

In his campaign, Formby is putting particular stress on the merit car insurance ruling by promising to remove or amend the plan. How he will go about accomplishing this goal has not been made clear.

As for the constitution, Formby says that "Texas needs a new constitution and if I were elected governor, I would work toward getting our present one re-written. It is not flexible for our present day operation."

He says that he believes that the poll tax is outmoded and should not be a prerequisite in Texas for voting.

"We should do away with it on a State level and not be forced to do so by the Federal Government. If the poll tax is eliminated, we will of course have to have a registration," he said.

In reply to a request to give his opinion of the use of the sales tax as a method of raising state revenue, Formby said: "I hate to see a sales tax passed but I suppose in this day and time it is a necessity. We did need and do need a growth tax, one that will bring revenue in as the economy grows. Ad valorem taxes are not the answer for State revenue. I would favor most of our State taxation should be based on a growth tax."

Formby is the only candidate from West Texas and is hoping to prove that a man from the plains area can be a good governor of the state.

DANIEL

Price Daniel, 51, has been governor of Texas since January 15, 1957.

His whole case for re-nomination over his five opponents must rest on his record. The record does not show anything spectacular in the way of accomplishments nor does it show any administrative scandal.

His platform for re-election as stated -- part of which he has asked for several regular and special sessions of the legislature -- is as follows:

- 1) Stronger criminal laws and Code of Criminal Procedure plus additional curbs on narcotics and stronger control of lobbyists.
- 2) Proper small loan regulation.
- 3) Paid juvenile parole system for better supervision and rehabilitation of young offenders.
- 4) Prohibition of obscene movies.
- 5) Drivers license revision and a chemical test for drunk driving.
- 6) Continued improvement in public schools and colleges.
- 7) Adequate financing for the attraction of tourists and new and expanded industries.
- 8) Better fiscal system and balanced budget.

As a solution to the re-writing of the Texas constitution through the passage of a large number of amendments, Daniel proposes, "Revision of Constitution to eliminate outmoded provisions, strengthen state and local government and remove necessity of continuous amendments to handle problems that should be solved by statute."

"I recommended creation of Study Commission on revision in 1957 and will work for action promptly," he added.

He favors substitution of workable registration law instead of using the poll tax as a PREREQUISITE for voting. He supported a proposed constitutional amendment abolishing poll tax in 1949.

As for the use of the sales tax as a means of obtaining revenue, Daniel states, "Texas has had selective taxes for many years, and all states must employ them, I have opposed a general sales tax and regret the legislature could agree only on this type of tax last year, even though it is more limited than the taxes of many states. Inequities and administrative handicaps in the tax must be corrected after we have had sufficient experience on the tax to do this."

He is not making the extensive statewide campaign as are some of his opponents, but he is occupying a great deal of television time in many areas. In his television appearances, he is asking for another term so that he may be allowed another chance to continue to work for legislation to curb lobbyists, regulate small loans and complete other bills which he had been advocating.

WILSON

Will Wilson, 49, has been Attorney General of Texas for the past five years and is hoping to win the governorship in November.

The greatest boost in his campaign has undoubtedly been his investigation of the much publicized Billy Sol Estes case during the past few weeks. Television and radio have brought him and his voice into focus for many thousands of Texans.

Wilson was elected District Attorney in Dallas in 1946 and served in that position until 1950. He was Supreme Court judge six years and was elected Attorney General in 1956. He received the "most outstanding Attorney General" award from the National Association of Attorney Generals in 1960 and was chairman of the association's anti-trust committee that year.

His platform includes the following:

- 1) Reducing the two percent sales tax to one percent by eliminating all loopholes and exceptions for special interests; by simplifying the whole existing tax structure to eliminate inequities; and by economy in government.
- 2) Creation of an adequately-financed state industrial commission to bring new industry, new jobs and new payrolls to Texas.
- 3) Elimination of waste and duplication in state government. He pledges to institute an "Economy in government" study commission to recommend economical changes in governmental procedures.
- 4) Raise the educational standards in Texas -- more content and less "window-dressing" -- from grade school through university.
- 5) Tighten control of lobbyists in Austin.
- 6) He has proposed a bill to regulate small loan operators, covering loans up to $1,000 and pledges to end the loan shark menace in Texas.
- 7) Help cities solve their financial problems by relinquishing the state's share of ad valorem property taxes for local use, thus providing more funds for local use without any over-all increase in taxes.
- 8) Bring more tourists to Texas with an imaginative expansion of our state parks system to provide new attractions. Wilson also favors a revision of the Texas Constitution so "it will function as the foundation upon which our laws are based, rather than as an accumulation of laws. Many present amendments to our Constitution should actually be legislative matters rather than Constitutional questions."

He does not believe in a poll tax as a prerequisite for voting.

"However, we obviously must have some system of voter registration to ensure honest elections. A system of voter registration necessarily must be set up by the legislature before the poll tax requirements can be abolished. The revenue produced by the poll tax also would have to be replaced from some other source," he said.

In commenting on the sales tax as a method of raising state revenue, Wilson said: "Texas had a choice between a sales tax and an income tax, and it chose the sales tax. Now we must make it work. The sales tax is a growth tax, and once the loopholes and inequities are eliminated, we should not increase the tax -- but confine the growth of the state government to the tax revenue. I favor revision of our tax structure to eliminate inequities in all our present sales taxes. I oppose any tax increase."

He is a graduate of Oklahoma University and SMU Law School. He taught law in SMU and Baylor University.

YARBOROUGH

DON YARBOROUGH, 37, 1960 candidate for Lt. Governor, has raised his sights and aimed for the Governor's chair this year.

One of his major campaign platforms has been supporting the 88 1/2 mile Padre Island park proposal. He referred to the bill to establish the park as "another milestone of progress for the Kennedy administration."

In his campaigning, he has advocated:

- 1) repeal of the sales tax,
- 2) better wages for the people of Texas,
- 3) improved schools,
- 4) creating better job opportunities in Texas
- 5) initiate fundamental programs for farmers and small businessmen upon which true progress must be built.

He received his law degree from the University of Texas. As for the Constitution, he says that "modern Texas urgently needs a modern constitution."

"I pledge to devote all my energies toward working for complete revision and modernization of our 86-year-old constitution," he added.

In reference to the poll tax as a prerequisite for voting, he said, "A price tag should not be put on the exercise of one of the fundamental rights of democratic citizens. Only five of our 50 states still have the poll tax requirement. Modern Texas requires no such limitation on the scope of our democracy."

As for the sales tax, Yarbrough says, "It is widely known that I traveled the length and breadth of Texas in the 1960 campaign, fighting the sales tax lobby which I regarded then -- and still regard -- as little more than a front organization for Eastern-owned interstate gas pipelines that were seeking to avoid taxes on themselves. The general sales tax that emerged from the last session and became law when the Governor failed at the moment of truth to veto it, is a cumbersome, unfair, regressive tax."

- 1) Fiscal soundness for the state,
- 2) attraction and development of industry in Texas,
- 3) an education system second to none,
- 4) stronger law enforcement,
- 5) care for the needs of the aged,
- 6) development of the tourist industry,
- 7) and curtailment of oil imports.

How he is going to accomplish these goals remains to be seen, but he has been very positive in assuring the people of Texas that he will accomplish what he promises during his campaign.

He received his law degree from the University of Texas and has maintained a private practice of law in Austin. He operates a South Texas ranch, along with two brothers.

He has served as administrative assistant in Congress to now Vice-President Lyndon B. Johnson and vice chairman of the Texas delegation to National Democratic Convention in 1956.

He professes being closely associated with two of the state's leading industries -- petroleum and cattle. He also says that he "knows first hand what government should do, and what it shouldn't do."

WALKER

General Edwin A. Walker, 52, is often referred to as an active patriot and idealist. He served in various phases of the U. S. Army for 30 years where he rose from Lieutenant to Major General.

He has voiced the belief that his experience in handling men and dealing with the people of foreign countries -- along with his beliefs and ideals -- qualify him for the office of governor. He has been reported to have said at one time that he would win the nomination in the first primary and there would not be a run-off for the office.

His platform varies from that of other candidates somewhat. If elected, Walker promises that:

- 1) We will restore public respect in keeping with the State sovereignty and constitutional authority, always with a prayer for Divine guidance.
- 2) Texas will again be placed upon a sane and sound financial footing.
- 3) Texas will guarantee the right to work and the protection of property to every citizen.
- 4) We will stop the unconstitutional trespass of Federal power upon the rights of Texas citizens -- in education, welfare, business and labor.
- 5) We will re-establish the respect of the people for the government of Texas -- which under present leadership has sunk to an all-time low.
- 6) We will restore our State to its rightful position of leadership and high esteem throughout the United States by ridding her of special privilege, scandal, and corruption.
- 7) We will take party control away from the Potomac pretenders -- who have perverted the purpose, debased the ideals and, by control of political party machinery at the national level, have turned the Democratic Party into an instrument of Federal power.

8) We will inspire and reinvigorate the Union -- thus leading the way for the restoration of National unity and the American Republic.

Walker has published a number of speeches and documents in which he berates the present administration for its tactics in dealing with the menace of Communism. The tone and statements in the published works reveal him as a pure idealist advocating a firm, headlong countering of the Red threat, strict, to-the-letter adherence to the constitution and unrelenting strong believer in states' rights.

As a solution to the large number of amendments to the constitution which continues to occur, Walker suggests "better education and training of individuals for voluntary civic responsibility."

"Too many amendments and too much legislation are instituted which lose their principle, denying and isolating the people from their responsibilities. Any civilization or society, as well proven by history, can be legislated out of its freedom and responsibility, particularly responsibility at the local level," he explained.

On the subject of the poll tax as a prerequisite for voting in Texas, he states:

"Some preliminary registration and certification is necessary prior to appearing at the polls to vote. The present poll tax appears to provide a minimum requirement, as well as initiating the necessary interest to qualify the voter for his responsibility, and to eliminate those who have no desire for the responsibility of voting."

When asked his opinion on the sales tax as a method of obtaining revenue, he said, "I personally would hate to be faced with the absolute necessity to initiate a sales tax, or to increase one, I certainly would use every means available to avoid the necessity, by reducing expenditures. All taxation is a necessary evil, by the requirements of government, which should be kept at a minimum."

Standards Revised For Grain Sorghum

The revision of the U. S. Standards for Grain Sorghum, which will become effective August 1, increases the minimum test weight per bushel for Grade No. 1 from 55 to 57 pounds, for Grade No. 2 from 53 to 55 pounds, Grade No. 3 from 51 to 53 pounds, and Grade No. 4 from 49 to 51 pounds. Maximum moisture limits have been reduced for Grade No. 1 from 14 to 13 percent, for Grade No. 2 from 15 to 14 percent, and for Grade No. 3 from 16 to 15 percent. No change was made for Grade No. 4.

Revision also eliminates all the subclasses, and eliminates nonrain sorghum as a specific grade determining factor. Special grades "Bright Grain Sorghums" and "Discolored Grain Sorghums" have also been eliminated.

Candidates for State Representative and State Senator are shown above at the program in Friona last week. Seated are: Cotton John, KGNC-TV who acted as quizmaster at the program; J. Frank Ford, Jr., representative - Republican; B. M. Nelson, representative - Democrat; Bill Clayton, representative - D.; Andy Rogers, senator - D.; W. T. "Bill" Millen, representative - D.; and John Zahn, senator - R. Harry Hamilton, Farm Bureau president, is standing.

FOR STATE LEGISLATURE

Candidates Discuss Views At Farm Bureau Meeting

Area state representative and senatorial candidates attempted to enlighten 45 local citizens as to their views during the "Measure the Candidates" meeting in the Friona High School Auditorium last Thursday.

The program was similar to several others sponsored by the Farm Bureau in the state and area. Each candidate was originally allotted two minutes to answer each question but at the last minute, the time was reduced to one minute and the questions were kept rather specific in nature.

In addition, each candidate was allowed two minutes for opening his remarks and another three minutes for a closing statement. Cotton John, KGNC-TV, asked the questions from a list prepared by Farm Bureau. The four subjects touched were schools, welfare, taxes and labor policy.

Appearing were: Andy Rogers, Democrat and present senator from Childress and John Zahn, Farwell real estate agent and Republican candidate for state senator; Bill Clayton, Springlake farmer, and grocery store operator; Bill Millen, Muleshoe farmer and civic leader; and B. M. Nelson, Dimmitt publisher, all Democratic candidates for state representative and Frank Ford, Jr., farmer and mill operator from Hereford, Republican candidate.

In brief, the question and each candidate's answer was as follows:

Q. Do you feel that there should be expanded federal aid to education and, if so, in what respect?

ROGERS: We should not have any more than what we already have, such as the school lunchroom program.

ZAHN: Keep the control of education on the local level--down where people can take care of it. There is no room to play politics with our schools.

CLAYTON: No additional federal aid should be given or accepted. Any problem should be tackled on the lowest possible level.

NELSON: No federal aid except in lunchroom programs and for impacted areas where an influx of population creates a hardship on the community, and in states where the state is not able to provide for its own needs."

MILLEN: No federal aid for education. "What the federal government supports, it controls. Besides, we only get about 10 cents return for every dollar invested through the federal government. It's like giving yourself a transfusion from the left arm to the right and losing 90 per cent of the blood in the process."

FORD: No federal aid should be given. "I think this is one of the most dangerous aspects of the New Frontier, just because there is a deficiency, there is no reason for the federal government to come in."

Q. Do you feel that the degree of a teacher's ability to teach should be a factor in determining an individual teacher's pay scale?

ROGERS: I don't think Austin should devise a bill to tell how to hire and pay your teachers.

ZAHN: I don't think that is a job for the legislature. It should be left up to the Board of Education.

CLAYTON: I would like to see competition between our teachers. I think it would be healthy for the school systems.

NELSON: This is somewhat of a moot question. There is no way to determine differences in abilities to teach. Who can say what degree one teacher is better than another? I don't think such a bill would be possible.

MILLEN: I don't know how such a bill could be worked out.

FORD: I believe we would create more problems than we would solve with legislation of this sort.

Q. What changes, if any, do you recommend in our state tax structure?

ROGERS: Corporation tax needs changing. If a corporation moves into Texas from another state and begins to do business, they pay from 20 to 40 per cent less tax than the corporation where the owners are residents of Texas. Also, the property owner takes too much of a beating under the present setup.

ZAHN: Work out a bunch of the bugs in the present structure before changing it.

CLAYTON: Change the sales tax to one per cent straight across the board and restrict it to the retail level only. I think we would receive all the money necessary with this system.

NELSON: Sales tax should be simplified and a constitutional gas tax should be constructed.

MILLEN: Enforce the present tax laws and pass a natural resource tax.

FORD: I think the sales tax could be lowered but I believe that it is here to stay and must be worked out.

Q. Since we now have a state sales tax, do you favor exempting items of production from the tax?

ROGERS: I can't agree to an across-the-board tax because it would catch too many items of production. A sales tax should operate only at the consumer level and not on means of production.

ZAHN: Yes, but leave it as it is on other items.

CLAYTON: I am a farmer but I feel like we are qualified to carry our share of the burden under one per cent across the board at the retail level.

NELSON: A sales tax should be on consumer goods and not on production goods.

MILLEN: I sure don't want to see any more tax put on the farmer.

FORD: If the sales tax applied to production goods, it could build up to as much as 10 per cent by the time it reached the consumer. I am against such a tax.

Q. Do you feel that the concentrated power now vested in some labor unions is in the best interest of the national welfare? If not, would you favor making labor unions subject to anti-trust laws now applicable to other segments of our economy?

ROGERS: Yes -- on both counts.

ZAHN: I don't want to see any laws added if we can do without them but I think labor has overstepped its authority.

CLAYTON: Labor has too much control over politics and power over the government. I do not approve of this and think it should come under controls.

NELSON: Recognizing the right of labor to organize, I think laws similar to the anti-trust laws should apply to labor. I don't see how the present law could apply.

MILLEN: They should be subject to the law and proper authority like everyone else.

FORD: There is too much centralized power now.

Q. Do you support Texas' "right to work" law?

ALL CANDIDATES: Yes.

Q. Do you favor extending minimum wages and hours laws, either state or national, to farm labor?

ROGERS: Bills have been introduced for that purpose but they didn't get very far. No.

ZAHN: In order to keep welfare individuals off the farm, leave it up to the individual and the farmer.

CLAYTON: The farmer furnishes a house and utilities in addition to other benefits. A stated wage is not practical because of the difference in actual living costs of a farm laborer and industrial laborer.

NELSON: I don't think extending the minimum wage to the farm is necessary.

MILLEN: Such a law would breed laziness and inefficiency on the farm. Piece work is better in many instances because it promotes individual enterprise.

FORD: We are better off like we are now. I would oppose any extension of minimum wage laws.

All the candidates favored tighter enforcement and restrictions on the welfare programs and indicated some degree of approval of a practical program where recipients of welfare programs could perform labor for local governments in accordance with their abilities if such work allowed the individual to maintain his self respect.

In their closing remarks: Rogers promised to continue to represent and do what they want the people and not do as some officials do--try to do what they think is best for the people.

Zahn promised to work to preserve the individual rights created and set forth in the constitution to pass on to "our heirs," and not let government come between the individual and his rights.

Clayton classed himself as a conservative Democrat and said that he believed that he was familiar with the problems and desires of the people in the district and would be guided by that knowledge. Millen promised to work for a gas law to give the irrigation farmer the same rights as cities, abolish obscene movies, a small loans law, and a fair auto insurance law among other things.

Nelson promised to study every bill on its own merits and support any bill which will help the agriculture areas of Texas.

Ford said that he had been a Democrat but was running on the Republican ticket because he had seen too much collusion in high office under the New Frontier and wanted to be free of it. He said that it was time for conservatives to put on record whether or not they would go with the New Frontier when the chips are down because that is when it counts.

Skip Row Qualifies As Diverted Acres

Grain sorghum and cotton may now be planted in a skip row pattern and the skipped rows designated as diverted acres when other requirements of the County A.S.C. Committees are met. To qualify, the field must be planted in a regular pattern, the idle rows in the skip row planting must be the same width as the crop planted (but not less than 36 inches) and be four rows or more wide to count as diverted acreage.

A.S.C. Committeemen have given as examples: A field planted two rows of cotton and four rows of diverted acreage; also, a field planted four rows of grain sorghum and four rows of diverted acres. County A.S.C. Offices should be checked for details.

On May 8, in Corpus Christi, cotton gin operators and employees will have an opportunity to get practical information on the operation, maintenance and repair of each piece of machinery in a modern cotton gin, says B. G. Reevey, extension cotton ginning specialist. On that date, cooperating cotton gin machinery manufactures will staff five schools in which the information and training will be presented. Local county agents can provide registration blanks and detailed information,

Candidates For Attorney General

CARR

WAGGONER CARR, 43, Lubbock attorney, Democrat, has been Speaker of House of Representatives four years; County and Assistant District Attorney, Acting Chairman of House Crime Investigating Committee.

As Speaker he helped create Law Enforcement Study Commission. He is a graduate of Texas Technological College and University of Texas Law School and has had 15 years, active law practice in State and Federal Courts.

He states, "The prime responsibilities of the office I seek."

When asked about the prime responsibilities of the office of attorney general, he replied: "Ours is a government of laws and the Attorney General must bear the responsibility of enforcement of the law - effectively, impartially, judiciously. He represents Texas in its disputes and dealings with other states and the Federal Government and renders legal opinions and advice to all agencies of the State Government and local authorities. He must at all times maintain the dignity of the Constitution and Laws without regard to whether he personally approves of the law.

To the question, "What efforts will you make to carry out these responsibilities?" he answered:

"I will base my actions on the principle that every man be accorded his full rights under the law but no man can be accorded special privileges. I will work in close cooperation with the State and local law enforcement officials being careful not to destroy the responsibilities of local officials to the people who elected them. My platform is basically the strengthening of our local framework where needed, and more vigorous enforcement of laws, once enacted.

JAMES

TOM JAMES, 32, Dallas attorney, Democrat, is currently serving as State Representative. He is a licensed and experienced attorney with seven years administrative experience as executive with manufacturing concern. He has served two terms as Legislator and Vice Chairman of the House General Investigating Committee studying problems in law enforcement.

When asked about responsibilities of the office he is seeking, James answered:

"To serve as the executive head of the state's law firm representing the many administrative departments of government; to give leadership in the field of law enforcement and to serve as a spokesman and leader for necessary reforms in legislation, administration and enforcement."

Upon being asked "What efforts will you make to carry out these responsibilities?" he replied:

"I will continue to serve with independence, ignoring the politically powerful and special interests that have dominated our state government. I will act directly on the political machines that have through pressure prevented our law enforcement at all levels of government from doing its job. I will not attempt to be a super-policeman, but I will not hesitate to act when law enforcement breaks down, I will neither be swayed nor controlled, but as Attorney General independently serve the best interest of this state and its people.

BOB LOONEY - No reply.

MCDONALD

W. T. McDONALD, 50, Judge of Court of Criminal Appeals of Texas, is seeking the Attorney General's post on the Democratic ticket.

He received his LL.B degree from the University of Texas and served eight years as a state representative. He has been a judge of one degree or another for eight years, and has spent 19 years in civil and criminal practice.

As prime responsibilities of the office, he cites:

"To represent the state in all litigation of a civil nature; to give opinions to all state departments and agencies, including the Legislature; to supervise the corporations of this state from the standpoint of seeing that the anti-trust laws are not violated; to enforce violations of the anti-trust laws. Also, see that corporations do not exceed their charter rights; that is, engage in ultra vires activities."

"I shall diligently strive to impartially discharge the duties of the office with favor to none but equal and uniform interpretation and enforcement of our laws to all people," he stated. LES PROCTER, 41, enters the Attorney General race after seven years as District Attorney of Travis County and an additional seven years experience in lesser attorney positions.

He views the responsibilities of the office as "to protect state and public rights and interests in all matters wherein legal advice or judicial proceedings are necessary for their protection and to provide a competent, hardworking office that will deal with the people fairly and impartially, placing the law above political consideration and proceeding in all matters upon a basis of law and fact."

If elected, he promises to give a complete hearing to any interest that might be affected by his office or action and to fight the usurious lender and any interest that abuses state and public rights and interests.

BAKER
Robert W. Baker, 40, Houston, a Democrat of Harris County, State Senator and attorney, is a graduate of Texas A&M, with a B. S. in Economics, and of University of Texas Law School. He has been a member of House of Representatives six years and of Texas Senate four years.

He states that the only effective method of rewriting the Texas Constitution would be to call constitutional convention for the purpose of a complete redraft. Each time the Constitution is amended it becomes more cumbersome and is badly in need of revision, according to Baker's statement.

He further states, "I believe that the poll tax as a prerequisite to voting should be abolished, I feel that a person should be entitled to vote by virtue of the right of citizenship and not because he has purchased a poll tax."

"Although the payment of the sales tax in many cases is an inconvenience, I feel that it has been proven to be an accepted method of obtaining state revenue, I further feel that the sales tax now on the statutes needs certain revisions to cure existing inequities."

SMITH

GENE SMITH, 41, a Fort Worth Democrat is District Clerk of Tarrant County. He has served two terms as State Representative, and nearly four years as District Clerk of Tarrant County. He attended Fort Worth public schools, West Texas State College, Texas Wesleyan College and Texas Christian University.

He has had business experience and is an Overseas War Veteran, Member of IOOF, Seroma Club, VFW and American Legion.

He states, "There are two schools of thought on Texas' need to draft and adopt a new constitution. A few revisions in keeping with Texas of today seem to be in order, but nothing is basically wrong with our constitution. The Legislature has perhaps been too free in submitting amendments and this is not an efficient or advisable manner of perfecting any needed revisions.

"There must be some type of voter registration. The cost of registering and providing lists of qualified voters must be paid for by the public, State funds, school money, etc., are provided by the poll tax, and should the Legislature make a change, this money will have to come from some other tax. As it is not the duty of the Lieutenant Governor to initiate legislation, I feel that a committee should be appointed to study this question.

"My opinion of the recently enacted GENERAL SALES TAX for Texas is that 'IT STINKS!' The Texas General Sales Tax law and the administration of this law contains many inequities, and it is still the judgment of many Texans that it was not necessary in the first place. I am equally opposed to a state income tax."

MARTIN

CRAWFORD C. MARTIN, 45, Hillsboro democrat, is a lawyer, farmer, cotton ginmer and banker. He is a graduate of University of Texas Law School and has served 13 years as State Senator of the 12th District. He was Pro Tempore of Senate in 1955 and re-elected to Senate three times without opposition.

Martin served on virtually every standing committee; served as Chairman of Senate Committees on Finance, Congressional, Legislative and Judicial Districts, Contingent Expense, Local and Uncontested Bills.

He states, "Many sections of our present Constitution are obsolete and can be eliminated. In my opinion, the only feasible method of rewriting the Constitution would be for each Regular Session of the Legislature successively to undertake to rewrite an article, beginning with Article III and rewriting the articles in sequence until the remaining articles have been revised. I do not feel that any revision is necessary in Articles I and II. I am opposed to a Constitutional Convention.

"I have voted to abolish the poll tax as a prerequisite to voting. However, the problem has another facet. There must be a sound system of voter registration, and so far this problem has not been resolved entirely to my satisfaction. The voter-registration bill passed by the Legislature in 1949 (contingent upon approval of a Constitutional Amendment abolishing the poll tax) offers the best registration system involved thus far. The Constitutional Amendment failed; hence the registration bill is without effect. I am still in favor of abolishing the poll tax.

"I opposed the sales tax consistently until the legislative session of 1961, as I felt there were other, more equitable methods to obtain revenue. However, I supported the sales tax bill which was enacted because I felt that it was the only tax bill which offered a solution acceptable to that Legislature or probably to any future Legislature. The law as enacted contains several good exemptions, but it needs some minor adjustments as to collection procedures."

SMITH

PRESTON SMITH, 49, Lubbock business man and Democrat, He is a graduate of Texas Tech with a BBA degree and has been owner-operator of the same business 26 years and still meets his payroll every week. He has had 12 years experience as a Legislator.

"Revision of our constitution. Until this happens, we have no choice but to amend.

"Poll tax as a prerequisite for voting is a constitutional provision and I would vote to submit any changes to the voters of Texas.

"If the revenue is needed to efficiently operate our State and provide the essential public services, the sales tax or broad based tax is the best solution. My position is that if needed, we should have the broadest base with the lowest rate possible."

TURMAN

JAMES A. (JIMMY) TURMAN, 34 of Gober, is a Democrat farmer-educator. He has BS, MS, BBA and Doctor of Education degrees. He has been a classroom teacher, principal and assistant to president of Texas Woman's University and has been a state representative from 1954 to the present time. He was elected Speaker of House in 1961.

He states, "I am only candidate for Lt. Governor who has had experience and responsibility for organizing and presiding over a legislative House.

"I favor careful examination of the problem of effectiveness of the Texas constitution, with the idea of finding the best way to remodel our Constitution without endangering the foundations upon which our State was built. I favor a Constitutional Commission which would make use of the excellent research already available. However, care must be exercised regarding the manner in which members of the Commission are to be selected so as to guard against the machinations of special interests.

"I am in favor of abolishing the poll tax as a prerequisite to voting. Texas has long had a poll tax, but the prerequisite to voting feature was added in 1903. These lost funds can be replaced from other sources, I suggest a semi-permanent registration system as is found in other states, but one designed to suit Texas, part-

Eight of the eleven teams from Parmer County who took part in the District 4-H Method Demonstration Contest placed among the top three teams. Seventeen 4-H Club members represented Parmer County in the contest Saturday, April 28, in an all-day event on the West Texas State College campus in Canyon.

Gary Foster, Jr. Leadership 4-H Club, won a blue ribbon in the senior division of the Tractor Operators contest. Top two teams in each contest received blue ribbons. Both of these teams will compete in the State Contest, June 5-7, during the Texas 4-H Roundup in College Station.

ceived ribbons in the district contest but are not eligible for state competition. Only senior division teams can compete in the state contest.

Ribbons were furnished to top four teams or individuals by the Pioneer Natural Gas Company.

amount of fuel used in the house protected from north winds was 20.2 percent less than that used in the unprotected house.

Research done in states adjoining the Texas Panhandle found that cattle wintered out doors during a mild winter in natural brush and tree shelters gained 34.9 pounds more per head than those kept in a shed lot. Both groups were fed identical rations. In Nebraska and South Dakota 86 cattle feeders figured that a windbreak saved each of them $800.00 annually.

A well located windbreak protects buildings and livestock from north and west winds. Such evergreens as Red Cedar, or Chinese Arborvitae and such shrubs as Tamarisk, Russian-olive or Desert willow should be grown in the windbreaks with Chinese elms or other deciduous trees.

This is the first time ribbons were presented to district contestants. Ribbons were presented by Walter Nichols during the afternoon general assembly.

Bermuda grass lawns are heavy feeders on soil fertility, and with the first signs of early growth, fertilizer applications should be made if we expect to have a pretty yard this summer.

Plant food for yards should carry a high percentage of nitrogen with enough phosphorus to assure grass vigor and health. Since our soils already have high amounts of potassium available for plant use, there is no need to worry a great deal about this element.

Grasses are heavy feeders on nitrogen; thus on a yearly basis, more nitrogen than phosphorus should be applied.

One way of using fertilizer is to put down all the phosphorus the yard will need in the spring, with a like amount of nitrogen. For example if you wanted to use 16-20-0, you would need about 15 pounds of this material for every 1000 square feet, which is a good spring tonic for Bermuda grass. Then you could apply a straight nitrogen fertilizer later in the summer as the grass needs it. Each time you apply nitrogen you should try to put about one pound of actual nitrogen for every 1000 square feet. You can judge the grasses need for nitrogen by its growing vigor and color, if the lawn is receiving enough water.

Watering is the maintenance practice that most often is done incorrectly. Lawns should never be watered until the grass shows a definite need. Grass suffering from lack of moisture takes on a definite sheen and the plants wilt and curl. When this occurs, the lawn should be soaked thoroughly to a depth of 6 inches or more. Soaking the lawn until the topsoil can absorb it. Light sprinklings are never recommended except during excessively hot spells following a prolonged period of heavy rainfall.

Deep watering of 6 inches or more encourages development of a deep root system capable of utilizing more efficiently the nutrients available deep in the soil.

Light frequent sprinklings produce shallow, weak root systems which encourage weed invasion. Shallow rooting does not allow efficient utilization of plant food or moisture in the soil. Disease incidence is more likely to be severe under conditions which produce shallow rooting. Light sprinklings continued over a long period may make the maintenance of a good lawn prohibitive.

Improper mowing is responsible for the deterioration of many lawns. Mowing too close encourages thinning of the turf and shallow rooting, resulting in lowered resistance to drought, diseases and invasion by weeds. Clipping too high results in many of the same problems. Mowing to close also allows excessive soil drying and baking and heat damage to grass during the summer.

The leaves not only produce the desired green color, but they are necessary for the manufacture of food required by the entire plant. When too much of the leaves are clipped off, the entire plant suffers. Removing 2 inches or more at one mowing is a severe shock to the turfgrass. The grass should be mowed often enough that not more than 1 inch of the leaf tip is removed at any one clipping.

The 53rd annual summer cotton school will be held at Texas A&M College from June 4 through July 13. Professor J. M. Ward, Department Agricultural Economics and Sociology, will again be in charge.

Attention: Livestock Owners

Special From The County Agent

Now that a screwworm eradication program is a reality, its complete success will be dependent upon individual livestock producers accepting their responsibility.

The program now planned calls for the establishment of a buffer zone approximately 100 miles wide in the southern tip of Texas along the Mexican Border. Frequent drops of the sterile screwworm fly will be made in this buffer zone in order to eradicate the fly in that area.

It is extremely important that you inspect your animals frequently for possible screwworm cases and when you find one, treat the wound promptly with a recommended chemical for screwworm control. After treatment of the wound, you are asked to collect ten worms from the wound, putting raw worms in either alcohol or water in a small vial, and bring to my office immediately.

I will send the specimen to the Animal Disease Eradication Laboratory for identification. You will receive a prompt report. If the worms are true screwworms, field inspectors working on the program will visit you to check for further cases. Sterile screwworm flies will be dropped in the county if we have real screwworm cases.

It is extremely important that you collect specimens from every possible screwworm case so that they can be properly identified and necessary action taken immediately to stop the spread of the fly.

I am sure that most of you realize there may be more than one kind of worm in the wound. In some cases, worms in the wound might not be the true screwworm fly but maggots or other flies.

You will find a list of six specific items below for your part in helping eradicate the screwworm.

1. Inspect all livestock frequently. Pay particular attention to the navels of new-born animals, a favorite site of the screwworm.
2. Collect ten (10) maggots from every infested wound after treatment. Place in a container of alcohol or water, and take to your county agent.
3. Do not move animals from any area unless all wounds are treated with a recommended insecticide.
4. Do not move animals out of counties where screwworms have been reported until the animals have been sprayed and all wounds treated with a recommended insecticide.
5. Do not accept or move animals from other States where screwworms may exist unless the cattle dealer, buyer, or hauler inspects and treats all animals at origins indicated in item 4 above.
6. Remain alert to all information released through newspapers, television, radio, or your county agent's office concerning the screwworm status in your county and State so you may prevent screwworm infested animals from entering your neighborhood or help find and promptly eliminate any screwworms that do enter.

The HAPPY HOMEMAKER

BY JUNE FLOYD

For a number of years I have enjoyed trying recipes that were printed in the Farm Journal. Some of these I have saved and used over and over again. However, I had never seen a copy of Farm Journal's Country Cookbook until recently.

Mrs. Joe Boeckman was kind enough to loan me her copy and I've enjoyed using several of the recipes. It contains more than 1000 recipes and would make a nice addition to any homemaker's collection.

One recipe that is a nice variation of hamburgers is called

MIXY BURGERS
 1 tablespoon shortening
 1/2 cup chopped onion
 1/4 cup chopped green pepper
 1/4 cup chopped celery
 1 lb. ground beef
 1/4 cup Cheddar cheese, diced
 1 (8 oz.) can tomato sauce
 1 tablespoon vinegar
 1 tablespoon sugar
 1 1/2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
 1/8 teaspoon pepper
 1 teaspoon salt
 4 or 5 toasted hamburger buns, split in half.

Melt shortening in top of heavy skillet directly over heat. Add onion, green pepper and celery; cook until lightly browned. Add beef; stir with fork or spoon while meat browns. Add remaining ingredients. Simmer 10 minutes, stirring occasionally. To serve, spoon onto warm buns. Eat with fork. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

This same cookbook has recipes for three cakes that are exceptionally good for freezing. All of these may be frozen in halves or layers and stored for later use. A frosting recipe is recommended, but not for freezing.

CREAMY CHOCOLATE FROSTING
 2 1/2 cups sugar
 1/2 cup cocoa
 1 cup light cream or evaporated milk
 1 teaspoon vanilla
 Mix sugar and cocoa in saucepan; add cream. Cook over moderate heat, stirring constantly, until it begins to boil. Boil about 3 minutes, or until a teaspoonful will form a soft ball in cold water. Add vanilla. Cool and beat until thick and creamy. Spread on cake.

3-WAY GOLD CAKE
 11 egg yolks
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 2 cups sugar
 1 cup milk, scalded
 2-1/2 cup sifted cake flour
 2 teaspoon baking powder
 1 teaspoon lemon extract
 1 teaspoon vanilla
 1/2 cup butter or margarine, melted

Beat yolks with salt until thick. Gradually add sugar; beat until thick and puffy. Add hot milk; mix.

Sift together flour and baking powder; add to egg mixture. Add flavorings and butter. Pour into greased 9x13x2" or 15 1/2x10 1/2x1" pan. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 35 to 40 minutes, or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Remove from pan; cool, cut in thirds and wrap separately for freezer.

To serve; frost one section a dainty pink and cut in small diamonds; split one, put together with mint jelly or raspberry jam and sprinkle top with confectioners sugar; cut last third in fingers to serve with fruit compote.

ORANGE CAKE
 4 large oranges (1 cup juice)
 1/2 cup milk
 1 cup shortening
 3 cups sugar
 4 tablespoons grated orange rind
 4 eggs, beaten
 4 cups sifted cake flour
 5 teaspoons baking powder
 1 teaspoon baking soda
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 Squeeze juice from oranges. Add milk. Cream shortening. Gradually add sugar, orange rind and eggs. Sift together flour, baking powder, soda and salt. Add alternately with liquid to creamed mixture. Beat well.

Pour into 3 greased 8x8x2" pans. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 45 minutes. Cool on racks. Frost 2 layers with Creamy Chocolate Frosting; freeze third layer for use later.
BANANA LAYER CAKE
 2 cups mashed bananas (4 or 5)
 1/4 cup milk
 1 cup shortening
 2 teaspoons vanilla
 2 cups sugar
 4 eggs, unbeaten
 4 1/4 cups sifted cake flour
 4 teaspoons baking powder

Tests Show Efficiency Of Irrigation And Fertilizer Methods

Four different irrigation methods and four fertilizer treatments on cotton were tested to determine the effect on the efficiency of cotton production at the High Plains Research Foundation in 1961.

James C. Valliant, recently promoted from Assistant to Associate Water Engineer, stated that the tests were designed to determine the combination of irrigation method and fertilizer treatment which would produce the greatest net return and the highest irrigation efficiency in the production of cotton.

Four irrigation methods combined with four fertilizer treatments and three varieties of cotton were used. The irrigation methods were: (1) First bloom only, (2) First bloom plus mid-bloom, (3) First bloom mid-bloom and September 5 compared with (4) dryland cotton. Full details of the test are in the complete High Plains Research Foundation Report No. 45, issued April, 1962.

The three varieties of cotton were Gregg, representing early maturing; Lockett 88-A, representing mid-maturing, and Paymaster 88-90, representing late maturing as well as the open-boll type cotton.

Mr. Valliant concluded from these tests that, "Results from the 1961 cotton irrigation test indicate that in early and mid-maturing cotton, response to fertilizer is directly related to the rate of irrigation water, while response to fertilizer in due to the period of time the plant demands nutrients."

The 1961 results indicate that applying irrigation water at early stages of growth, first bloom or first bloom and mid-bloom and a low rate of fertilizer will produce the highest practical irrigation efficiency. Balancing time of irrigation and amount of fertilizer can increase lint cotton, net return per inch of irrigation water and net return per acre.

Fertilizer applications on a per acre basis were: 40 pounds of nitrogen and 60 pounds of phosphorus; 80 pounds of nitrogen and 60 pounds of phosphorus; 120 pounds of nitrogen and 60 pounds of phosphorus, compared to the non-fertilized plots.

This type of research was conducted in 1960 as well as 1961 and will be continued in 1962.

Farm Facts

There are some exciting new developments in food processing, according to Philip B. Dworkin of the Marketing Economics Division of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

In "dehydrofreezing," fruits and vegetables are dried to about 60% of their original weight and then frozen and kept frozen. Quality of the thawed and cooked food is equal to that of the normal frozen product, and there are savings in freezing, packaging, storage, and shipping costs.

"Freeze-drying," another development, offers even more convenience and produces foods of high, fresh-flavor quality.

Food (cooked or uncooked) under this process is dehydrated under vacuum while frozen. Freeze-dried foods apparently do not become toughened or shriveled, and when rehydrated, regain their original flavor and texture. Properly sealed, these foods can be stored at room temperatures for long periods of time.

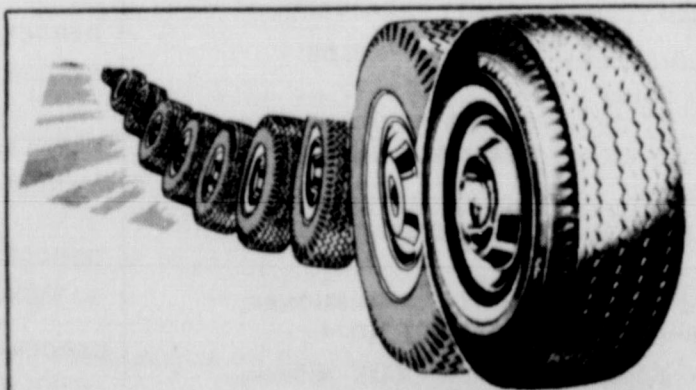

Although present emphasis is on meat products, fresh-dried shrimp are available for the institutional market, and sportsmen can buy complete, already cooked entrees.

PHOSPHORUS RESULT DEMONSTRATION ON WHEAT

1. VARIETY - Concho
2. IRRIGATION - Wheat was watered up and watered three times during growing season
3. FERTILIZER APPLIED - All of fertilizer was applied before planting
4. SOIL TYPE - Sandy loam
5. CROP HISTORY - 1957, 1958, 1959-grain sorghum Wheat-1960
6. REMARKS - Preston said that the plot with phosphate was twice as good for grazing and looked better all through the growing season. Both plots had a 15% hail damage. Extra harvest cost 10¢ per bushel, and extra hauling cost 5¢ per bushel.

Prepare Spray Rigs Says Entomologist

Want to increase the income from your cotton crop? One proven way to do this, says H. A. Turney, area extension entomologist, is to control insects. A properly performing spray rig is a must, and now is the time to get it in top working order.

Here are suggestions from Turney on getting the rig in order. Clean all nozzles by washing them in kerosene or soapy water. Check to see that all nozzles are the same kind and size. Replace all worn nozzles and hoses. Test the pump and pressure gauge. If they are not working properly, replace them. A breakdown during the growing season could mean dollars lost in time and cotton.

"For the application of early season insecticides, Turney recommends the use of one cone-type nozzle per row. Nozzle spacings of 20 inches on the boom are adequate for late season control. Good foliage coverage can be obtained by placing the boom 10 to 15 inches above the tops of the cotton plants, he says.

The per acre output of a spray machine must be known before the correct insecticide mixture can be maintained or even mixed in the spray tank. The rig's output can be determined by spraying a measured acre. Local county agents can supply a chart which shows how far your spray machine must travel to cover an acre, and this will make the job of adjusting the machine for output of insecticide easier.

Turney suggests that you also ask the county agent for other information on insect control and especially for a copy of L-486, Insecticidal Spraying of Field Crops with Ground Machinery. He has other information proved by research and farm demonstrations that good cotton insect control programs are income producers.

Something new in infants' wear promises a longer wearing span as the child grows. It is called an "extenderall" of dacron and cotton poplin, which is a one-piece garment much like a overall. It "grows" as the infant grows, because of a foldover tuck above the waistline which can be expanded. The manufacturer (Merry Mites, Inc.) said the garment comes with a button-in lining which can be removed for warm weather wear.

HD Agent's Notes

BY MISS ETTIE MUSIL

Special word has just been received for all of you rose growers. Have you been wondering about the new shoots growing from the rose bushes below the ground? I had my doubts about this growth as replacement to the rose bushes following so much winter injury.

Many of the rose bushes have added new stems or canes above the bud for the improved stock. However, other roses have begun to grow below the ground level and below the bud of the plant. Check your roses for this growth.

To settle my doubt after several calls from you homemakers I wrote to our Extension Horticulturist. These are his comments about this growth below the bud. "I have little doubt that the shoots that you are referring to are being produced by the rootstock rather than by the improved top. I would strongly recommend that these shoots be removed from the plant as they will certainly be of no use except as rootstock material. It may be necessary to re-bud many of the plants if they were killed back below the original bud."

The tender pruning of the bushes requires much care. Carefully dig to the root from which the new shoot is growing. If its source is below the bud carefully prune it off. If the growth is above the bud leave it as part of the improved variety.

If you have any further questions about the care of roses do feel free to call or come by. You may want to get a free copy of two bulletins about roses, "Roses in Texas" and "Growing Roses."

Incidentally black spot disease on roses is starting. Check the leaves for black spots or streaks that appear on the top side of the leaf. Start now to spray the bushes with Captain fungicide mixed according to directions on the container. This is National Home Demonstration Club Week at which time we pay special tribute to the hard working homemakers in the nation who are organized to receive up-to-date homemaking practices. Congratulations to the eight home demonstration clubs in the county and to their 120 members.

Many interesting programs have been planned by the year-book committee of the clubs from the recommendations made by the County Program Building Committee. Programs planned for this year include "Pruning Shrubs and Trees," "Home Landscaping," "Happy Vacationing," "Highway Safety," "Canning Vegetables -- One Step, Cold Pack Method," "Accessorizing the Home," "Refinishing Furniture Workshop," "Citizenship -- Communism and Socialism," "How to Buy Furniture" "Let's Have Fun (Recreation)", and others planned by the program chairman of each club.

Club and community demonstrators are most important in each club. This year forty homemakers work closely with the home demonstration agent as interested volunteers in improving their homemaking individuals and citizens. We have nine clothing demonstrators, ten home improvement demonstrators, six as foods and nutrition, seven as family economics, and eight as yard improvement demonstrators.

This is also Spring Cleanup Week, April 29-May 5. This is a fine time to look around to clear up potential hazards in your home and on the farm. While cleaning up don't forget to check your farm wiring and electrical equipment.

Cobwebs, dirt and trash should be removed from around lights or switches, especially in hay barns, cribs and feed rooms. Heat from bulbs can set off an explosion or cause fire where dust or cobwebs accumulate.

Make sure that no clothes line poles, antennas or other such possible contacts can be made with your system of wires around the farmstead. Replace wall switches or convenience outlets that have bad contacts or do not work properly.

Congratulations go to all 10 teams or individuals in the District 4-H Demonstration Contest. Eight of the ten teams placed among the top four teams in the contests.

The United States Naval War College at Newport, R. I., was founded in September, 1885. Admiral Stephen Luce supervised the first one month course, which eight officers attended.

"Man in Space"—the Fair's Science Theme

SEATTLE, Wash. (UPI)—Lift-off is just sixty ticks of the clock away.

You're standing in the darkened Spacearium at the Seattle World's Fair ready for a simulated flight that will take you millions of light years into space. A jet of air hisses and the doors of your "space ship" close and air locks tighten.

"It is 7 minus 5 seconds," the intercom reports. "Please grip handrails."

Music crashes as the rocket blasts off. Then — "Altitude 150 miles; course southeasterly."

You are now an astronaut. Well, not exactly. But the illusion becomes startlingly real as the dome shutters widen and you and your fellow space travelers become enveloped in a unique motion picture surrounding you on all sides and above.

Quickly your space ship (actually the movement of heavenly objects across a huge screen) approaches to within 2,000 miles of the moon.

On through space you hurtle to view our sun from a simulated distance of 800,000 miles and gasp at geysers of hydrogen spurting from its surface.

Then come Mars and the rings of Saturn. Soon our solar system is far behind and your voyage into space continues to the outer galaxies.

Actually, if such a trip could be made it would take billions of light years even traveling at millions of miles an hour. But it will take you only 12 minutes in this show-stopper at the United States science exhibition at the Seattle World's Fair.

It's but one of many exhibits carrying out the "Man in Space" theme as science stretches for tomorrow. But the fair also takes time to show where man has been as well as where he's going.

Many major industries will use the fair as a showcase for products of the future.

Another scientific highlight of the 6-month fair is the second national conference on the peaceful uses of space, May 7-10. It is expected to attract about 10,000 persons, among them some of the nation's leading space scientists.

The heart of the fair's scientific theme is the five-building complex housing the United States' science exhibit for which Congress appropriated $10 million.

The first of its five major sections features a motion picture produced by the famous American designer, Charles Eames. Depicting the "House of Science," Eames' picture is a combination of animation and photography projected on six standard-size motion picture screens.

The second section shows the history of science in its approach to knowledge.

The third section, presented with the cooperation of Seattle's Boeing Co. features the Spacearium where 750 persons at one time can experience the thrill of space flight without any of its dangers.

This simulated space flight by the way, was made possible by the development of the world's largest cinematic lens and represents a break-through in photography projection. It employs a single lens to create a viewing area of 360 degrees horizontally and 160 degrees vertically to give the viewer the illusion he is soaring in the nose of a space ship.

Previously, the greatest vertical angle covered by a motion-picture screen was 140 degrees. used in World War II to train flyers. But those screens were much smaller than the one here which is a dome 39 feet high and 78 feet in diameter.

The fourth section of the science complex involves a review of the methods of science. It necessitated the building of a zoo to house animals used in types of research actually conducted in this section.

At what age is it safe to put babies in low shoes?

It is safe at any age. The old idea that infants should have the ankle support of high shoes has been discredited.

I think that high shoes are cute and appropriate on babies but that is a matter of taste.

The truth is that high shoes do not support babies' ankles. No mother laces the shoe like a corset on the baby and if she does inadvertently lace the shoe snugly the child will pull on the lace.

The reason for high shoes for infants is practicality. The high shoe may be fitted with enough room for 3 or 4 months growth but still not slip at the heel.

A low shoe necessarily must be fitted closer and may be outgrown sooner.

Some people condemn high shoes on the grounds that support will weaken the ankle. This would be true if there is support; but there isn't.

NEWS FROM THE
FARM BUREAU

BY RAYMOND EULER

We thought the "Measure the Candidates" meeting was well worthwhile, even though we would like to have seen many more people there to hear it. It would be even better if all candidates for state and national office could be gathered in a similar meeting.

It is a generally admitted fact that many people do not know, when they go to the polls just who they should vote for or why. If everyone would take the trouble to learn some of the general philosophies of candidates, it might make a difference in the results of some of the elections. However, we are hopeful that there will be a good turnout at the polls all over Texas. This will indicate more interest in at least some of the offices, and this is a healthy situation for Americans to find themselves in.

We have a few hundred attractive vote reminder sheets that anyone is welcome to distribute to remind voters of the election.

It is in color and says, "Don't be the goat-Get out and vote!"

Federal, state and local governments collected nearly $55 billion in taxes in fiscal 1950, the government accounting year ending just before the Korean War. In fiscal 1962 ending June 30, Tax Foundation estimates total tax collections will reach $143 billion. On a per family basis, taxes have increased $1,380 to a new high estimated at $2,531 this year.

It is our understanding that more than a third of this tax is paid through withholding of the tax from paychecks of industrial workers. This money is, in the final analysis, paid by the consumer through increased pay granted the workers from time to time.

It should also be noted that Texas is still operating in the red to about the same degree as it was prior to the beginning of the sales tax. This causes the question to arise as to the possibility of the need for some trimming of unnecessary expenses in our state operating expense. New taxes should, it seems, cause a drop in the indebtedness of the recipient state or nation.

We think Cotton John and Harry Hamilton are due commendation for the fine way in which they conducted the candidates meeting.

CONSIDER THIS: Commit thy works unto the Lord, and thy thoughts shall be established. Proverbs 16:3.

Puffy Prices
Ruffle Truffle
Loving Gourmets

WASHINGTON (UPI) — These are dark days for gourmets, reports the National Geographic Society. Truffles are selling for astronomical prices.

Truffles are the vital ingredient that imparts a distinctive pungent flavor to sauces, garnishes and soups. Gourmets also relish truffles baked whole in hot coals, steeped in cream or wine, grated in omelets, chopped in fondues, sliced over eggs benedict and tossed in salads.

But the "black diamond of the kitchen" recently brought a record $21 a pound in Paris. The reason — the small, black fungus is hard to find, the society said.

The roots of trees, usually oaks, are believed to supply nourishment but the fungus is capricious in choosing a host tree, the society explained.

The truffle hunter needs, besides trees, a dog, a pig or a goat. The human sense of smell rarely can detect a truffle. The French usually hunt with trained pigs. In Italy dogs lead the search. Sardinians use goats.

Not every pig is a potential truffle hunter, the society said. French farmers test the females in a litter by offering them truffle tidbits. The animals that display the most interest receive basic training around the age of two.

Dogs are not as perceptive as pigs in sniffing out truffles, but they are more obedient and tire less quickly, according to the society. There is a school for truffle hounds in Alba, Italy.

W.T. (Bill) MILLEN
Candidate for STATE REPRESENTATIVE
91st District
Subject To Democratic Primaries
May 5, 1962

BASIC PLATFORM

I believe in the God given rights of the worth and dignity of the individual. I believe that the power to govern and to spend public funds is a sacred trust and that every effort should be made to keep governing authority as close to home as possible. I am and shall always be opposed to any efforts aimed at more centralization of government at the state or national level. I favor honesty, integrity and fiscal responsibility in county, State and National Government; therefore, if elected I will take a long hard look at any new taxes or increase in existing taxes.

I believe our natural growth will continue to increase revenues in proportion to our needs. If we continue to increase taxes, we will create an unhealthy tax climate for business and bring a halt to the migration of new business into Texas.

I will keep an ever constant eye on those who would raid the public money for giant welfare and giveaway programs, thus causing a welfare State and Nation. I refuse to barter incentive for a dime.

I believe that a nation that values its privileges more than its principles will surely fall; That we must uphold our constitution against all those that would tear it down. If elected I shall represent two groups, the 91st District and Texas.
