LISTEN TO LUKE

You have had quite a lot to say about our past outbursts about the out-of-town buying that is hurting our economy by a pretty large amount of do-re-mi every week. Francis Burt, publisher of the Sanderson Eagle, began last week a series of articles on local business.

Did Burt in the first of the series, of people who travel 60 to 100 miles in search of a bargain?

Quite often our local people buy more about the goods available in metropolitan stores than they do about goods in the Sanderson area here at home because of the extensive advertising originating in larger trade centers.

When local merchants do not enter the out-of-town advertising it is natural for some shoppers to believe that the goods and services they seek cannot be obtained locally.

My comment on the above is that Mr. Burt is absolutely right. There are little if any cheaper goods other stores, and the service quality need not be any better than at home.

Some people have been known to say — when we start on this subject — "Why do you insist on making our town? If you don't do something good to say — don't say it!"

We cannot think of anything to say when we stop to realize how much money is being taken out of town that could be kept here! If several local people were allowed to handle the business before they went out of town, the entire populace would fit in the long run.

We take most of the blame for this because we are not able to convince the people — our readers — that they should trade at home, nor can we convince the sellers — our readers — that they should combat such tactics every way possible.

It is a joy, indeed, to see all of our beautiful flower gardens of the spring, and to rejoice with other enthusiastic souls that our efforts at beautification are not in vain. Cleaner yards, prettier yards, thus a cleaner town, are the fruits of the efforts of many people's efforts.

The easiest way to really appreciate such beauty is to put out little money, a lot of work, and to get in return, a little pride, and a lot of good.

Lots of people here are making plans for possibilities of future growth of the town.

There is a lot of activity going on that would not make a show-up on the surface, but will have a lot to do with possibilities in the future.

It is our humble opinion that there will be some changes made in the future months that would surprise a lot of people if they knew those plans today.

We don't know them, and we are not talking big, for big talk looks around and see some of the possibilities, and see some of the possibilities.

Would you care to voice your opinion on one side or the other of the proposed water district? If you have facts that are pertinent, and would be willing to share your knowledge on either side, just write up what you have and pass it on to the rest of us. We will speak your piece for you.

Chamber Directors To Meet Next Monday Night at 7:30

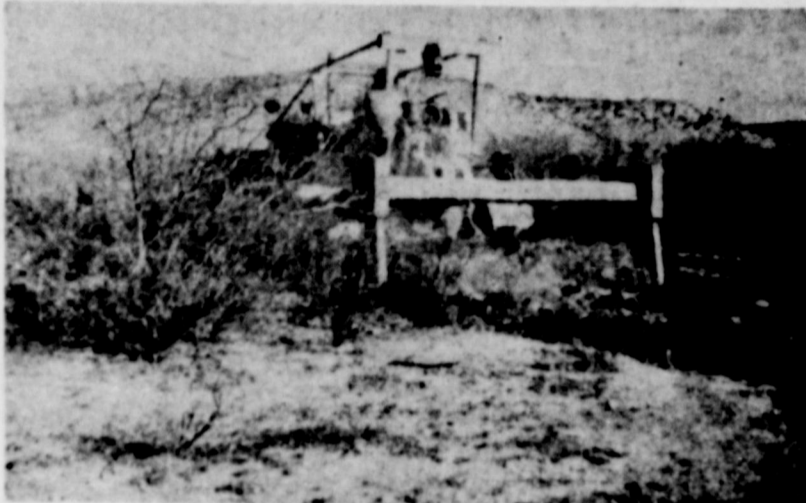

Directors of the Terrell County Chamber will have their regular monthly meeting Monday night at 7:30 at the court house.

All directors are urged to attend and members are welcome.

Former Resident's Brother Dies

Word was received from Mrs. E. J. Pearce, a former resident, that her brother had died in St. Clair, Penna., last week.

Mrs. Pearce went by air from her home in Luling to Pennsylvania to attend the funeral services.

FFAer Practices Soil Conservation

Butch Stavley recently became the youngest cooperater in the Rio Grande-Pecos River Soil Conservation District. Stavley operates about 260 acres of land near Sanderson as part of his F.F.A. project.

On March 21, Stavley and the Sanderson F.F.A. Chapter met with the SCS Work Unit Conservationist L. D. Booker, Jr., on Stavley's land. Booker explained to the chapter the objective of the soil conservation district, how it is organized, and how it is run. He also explained how the SCS culture works with the locally organized districts.

After Stavley had signed a district agreement, a range site and condition map were made of his land. This map showed fences, roads, windmills, and other improvements, as well as the range sites and conditions.

It was an inventory of what Stavley had on his land. It also pointed out some things Stavley needed to do in order to use the land within its capabilities and treat it according to its needs for protection and improvement.

Different conservation treatment measures were discussed by Booker and Stavley picked out the one that would best fit into his plans for the land.

The conservation plan included deferred grazing on part of the land each year to allow the better native grasses to make seed and increase in vigor; proper utilization of the native vegetation by adjusting his stocking rate seasonally and annually to the amount of forage being produced; and brush control and reseeded in an area that had become heavily infested with mesquite.

The class had an opportunity to see part of the plan being carried out when they witnessed the rootplowing and reseeded being done.

80 Acres Rootplowed On Nichols Ranch

Joe Nichols has completed approximately 80 acres of rootplowing and seeding on his ranch 12 miles southeast of Sanderson.

The rootplowing and seeding was done in strips 100 feet wide on the contour. An undisturbed strip, about 300 feet wide, was left to provide extra water for the rootplowed areas. There is little penetration of rain in the undisturbed strip because of the surface crust.

The rootplowed area was seeded with two pounds of Blue Panic per acre. The pasture where the treatment was carried out is being deferred this year. Nichols plans to fence the area next year so that it can be managed differently than the rough stony hills that border the treated area.

These practices are part of a basic conservation plan Nichols has with the Rio Grande-Pecos River Soil Conservation District.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Whipkey and children of El Paso were week-end guests in the home of his mother, Mrs. W. C. Pearce, and Mr. Pearce.

Hahn Wins Race For School Post By Only 8 Votes

A. J. Hahn was re-elected to the Board of Trustees of the Terrell County Common School District by the slim margin of only eight votes, according to unofficial returns.

H. G. Cates was the opponent in the balloting.

In the balloting for Trustee of the County School Board from Precinct 1, G. E. Babb was re-elected; precinct 3, Harkins was re-elected; and for County Trustee-at-large, John Harrison was re-elected.

Both men were well pleased with conditions here and have promised to return for a longer stay.

Boundaries of Proposed District Set by Survey

The local steering committee for the proposed water district here received a map this week of the proposed boundaries of said district from the engineering firm working with the committee in the preliminary stages of the proposal.

The engineers, knowing that any line which was set would be an arbitrary line, with reasons for being moved any number of feet in one direction or another, were faced with the necessity of having metes and bounds set at some place or another. The engineers have placed the following boundaries on the proposed district:

Brown-Bassett Below 4,200 Feet; 9,200 at Good Well

The Magnolia Petroleum Co.-Western Natural Gas Co. Brown Bassett No. 2 is reported to be drilling below 4,200 feet in Section 216, Block Y. Operator is using natural gas in drilling operation and making hole speedily.

The Richardson-Bass No. 1 M. H. Goode was reported to be below 9,200 feet drilling with air.

The Goode well is in section 6 of Block R.

Wind Blows, But No Rain

The wind blowing through the area during the past week has seemed to be testing its ability. Some visible damage has been done to local buildings and highway signs, and unseen damage has resulted to the pasture forage in this area.

The winds cause considerable drying-out of surface moisture in the ground and dries moisture out of weed and grass shoots and leaves.

Easter Sunday was still and bright, a beautiful spring day.

Hard winds blew all day Saturday, slacked off some for Sunday and Monday, but came up with considerable force Tuesday.

The weather has been unsettled, colder, both nights and days during the past week. Some wind, few clouds, warmer temperatures prevailed Wednesday all day.

Riggs To Rope With Nation's Best At Bandera Show

Jack Riggs will be one of the 77 top ropers of the nation who will compete at Bandera on May 2-3-4 in a $10,000 purse.

The ropers will have four calves each.

The roping is slated to be the largest ever staged in the Hill Country of Texas and will draw performers from all over the nation, as well as many spectators.

The ropers will try at two animals on Friday and Saturday nights and the Sunday performance will be matched ropings.

O.E.S. Postpone Play To Saturday, April 19

The date of the play, "Hill-Billy Wedding", to be sponsored by the local chapter of the Order of Eastern Star, has been postponed to Saturday, April 19. Unforeseen circumstances interfering with rehearsals have caused the postponement for a week, according to Mrs. Emmett Young, the director.

The cast is made up of 18 characters, including four "extras". The play promises to be a riot of mirth and laughs from the opening scene on.

Tickets for the play will go on sale next week, selling for 25c for grade school children, 50c for high school children and 75c for adults.

Mrs. Russell Walker and children returned to their home in Fort Stockton Monday after spending the Easter holidays here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Arrington.

The boundary would include all of section 4, Block 151, which is the section in which the town-site of Sanderson is located; a strip 1000 feet wide across the south end of Section 3 which is north of Section 4; a strip 1200 feet wide across the west side of Section 9 which is east of Section 4; approximately 1800 feet south and 1200 feet east in the northwest corner of Section 8 which is southeast of Section 4; approximately 700 feet west and 1800 feet south of the east and north lines of Section 5 which is south of Section 4; following the railroad northward across Section 15, Block 152, which is west of section 4, to a point approximately 1600 feet from the west line of Section 15; then north to a point approximately 900 feet north of the north line of Section 4, Block 152 which is north of Section 15, Block 152; then west 2800 feet then south to the north line of Section 15, Block 152, then east along the section line to the corner of Section 4, Block 151 and Section 15, Block 152.

The plat of the proposed boundaries is located at the office of D. E. Anderson for viewing by interested parties.

AUSTIN — It's a comparatively dull season at the State Capitol now. About the only noticeable "sound and fury" is generated by the workmen putting air conditioning in the legislative chambers and building new state structures nearby.

Last year at this time the Capitol was a turbulent area. Lawmakers' pounding debates, electric disclosures and close votes kept galleries filled, committee rooms jam-packed.

Now the lawmakers are scattered. But state issues are being decided — elsewhere. Next year's legislators are out "talking with the people to see how they feel."

They're at the church suppers, P-TA carnivals, civic club luncheons, lodge nights and cemetery "workings." They're feeling out support, asking questions, making commitments — in your town.

Answers they get and commitments they make now will, in a large measure, determine how the close votes go this time next year.

Small Turnover Possible

Prospect now is mostly for familiar faces at the legislative desks next January.

Barring a sudden rash of announcements, at least two-thirds of house members and nearly 90 per cent of senators will be old hands.

Latest statewide survey by the Texas Legislative Service shows only three senators—Otis L. Searcy, Bracewell and Carlos Ashley—bowing out of politics. There will be a scramble by House members for those seats.

Of the other 12 senators up for re-election only one, at last count had an opponent. Remaining 16 in the upper house are having a "breather," since only half of the senate runs each two years.

House of Representatives generally has a large-scale assault on incumbents every election, and about a 30 per cent turnover.

Less upheaval seems likely this year. Only about 20 representatives are not seeking re-election, including those running for the senate. Of those running for the house again, or still undecided, only about 30 have announced opponents.

A question mark enters into race decisions this year. Whether or not legislators will have annual sessions and annual salaries will not be decided until the constitutional amendment is voted on next November—after the primaries. For some the prospect of $7,500 yearly is a lure. Others don't like the idea of having to be away from homes and businesses a good part of every year.

At Last Spring
Spring has finally sprung in Texas employment, bringing the long-awaited seasonal pick-up in jobs.

Texas Employment Commission's latest report, for the first time since Dec. 30, showed a significant decline in the number of unemployment claims. Drop was from 92,435 to 89,326.

TEC said some 14,974 claimants had exhausted their benefits during January and February. Maximum allowed is $28 a week for 26 weeks.

Grow With Us
Some 3,000 major new factories will locate somewhere in the South within the next ten years.

In reporting this prediction, Governor Price Daniel urged the state's new Industrial Commission to get in and pitch for a Texas-sized share of the incoming wealth and job-making industries.

Chairman E. B. Germany of Dallas said the commission would accept the challenge. He said the commission would study industry attracting techniques of other states and prepare a brochure on Texas' advantages.

Chief among these, said Germany, head of Lone Star Steel, is a "healthy attitude" among Texans toward industry.

Commission members serve without salary and without state funds to pay for projects. Several hundred dollars in donations have been received.

If voters next November approve an amendment removing the ban on state-financed advertising, the legislature can appropriate money for that purpose.

"Make It Painless"

Tax talk towers over other topics in the build-up for the 1959 legislative session.

West Texas Chamber of Commerce has added a new idea to the stacks of proposals and counter-proposals being presented to the Texas State Tax Study Commission. It suggests making available for general use some of the unused balances tied up in the state's more than 100 special funds.

AFL-CIO says stricter application of present property tax laws might solve the problem without enacting new levies. "Proper enforcement," said a labor spokesman, would tax, not only real estate, but bank deposits, boats, bank shares, stocks, etc. AFL-CIO had previously suggested a corporation income tax to meet the state treasury's expected need for more than $1,000,000,000 in additional revenue.

Business groups, generally, have opposed the corporation tax, saying it will hamper Texas' industrial development. Some have proposed a general sales tax.

Tax Study Commission already has issued two of a series of 8 to 10 research reports to lawmakers for tax decisions. A third report, on how tax money is used and what future needs will likely be, is due later this month.

Though taxes are a prime campaign issue, legislative candidates are retreading delicately around the subject. One said in his announcement that he opposed a general sales tax and a state income tax and that "if additional taxes have to be levied, let's make it as painless as possible."

Good Roads Ahead

State Highway Commission has given approval to final phase of a 1959-60 state highway building program to cost $319,000,000.

It calls for immediate spending of $9,200,000 for right-of-way buying under the new 50-50 cost-sharing plan between state and local governments.

First phase of the advanced planning program was approved in February. Second phase covers 1,630 miles of roadway in 13 districts at a cost of $140,000,000. This does not include future work on farm to market roads and interstate highways.

Short Snorts

State Selective Service Headquarters has asked local draft boards to send up 4,247 men for pre-induction physical examinations during May. It will be second successive month of high quotas — highest since Korean War — to replenish pool of potential military manpower.

Price index of Texas farm products rose two per cent from February to March, reports U.S. Dept. of Agriculture. Crops rose three per cent, livestock one per cent.

Texas Champions of Freedom
AUGUSTUS MAGEE
Defender of Individual Rights

When Augustus Magee championed the cause of Texas freedom, the Spanish flag was flying from the Sabine to Yucatan. But for a while, the Green Flag of the Republic of the North replaced it this side of the Rio Grande... Texas' first taste of independence.

It was 1812 when Magee resigned his commission in the U. S. Army and crossed the Louisiana border to help free Texas from Spanish rule. With his free Texas from Spanish rule, Goliad and San Antonio. Though unrecognized by foreign governments, Texas was completely free for one brief summer, with a formal declaration of independence issued and a constitution written. The young republic lasted only until August 18, 1813, when the battle of Medina saw the Green Flag lowered and the red and gold of imperial Spain again triumphant. But the determination to be free lived on in a handful of American pioneers. Soon others of their kind joined them in the cause of liberty, and a great state was born and prospered.

Today Texans still demand and get their right to choose the way they want to live. In this vigorous and freedom-minded homeland... "Beer Belongs" and this is why the United States Brewers Foundation works constantly, in conjunction with brewers, wholesalers and retailers, to assure the sale of beer and ale under pleasant, orderly conditions. Believing that strict law enforcement serves the best interest of Texans, the Foundation stresses close cooperation with the Armed Forces, law enforcement and governing officials in its continuing Self-Regulation program.

Local Car Dealer Gets Safety Award

McKnight Motor Co. was presented a Highway Safety Award by the Texas Automotive Dealers Association last week for efforts in helping high schools turn out courteous, capable young men and women drivers.

The award was for their loaning cars and pickups to Sanderson High School for use in "behind the wheel" instruction under the high school driver training program.

The president of the Association calls this driver education program one of the most important phases of high school training.

Highway safety is dependent upon safe drivers, he said, pointing out that young men and women who have successfully completed a high school driver training course are given a preferred insurance rate because they have been proven to be safer drivers.

Fountain of Freedoms...a Free Press

Tax history of the press, since its development five centuries ago, has been a history of restraint. It is natural for men in authority to resent the sting of criticism. It is human for them to be ambitious, and to seek to entrench themselves. Hence rulers often avoid criticism and disagreement by stifling it. But the courageous men who founded this new nation sought here full freedom for each individual. When they established a constitution, aware of the human frailty even of rulers elected from among them, their First Amendment provided that "Congress shall make no law...abridging the freedom of speech and of the press..." With the widespread education and enlightenment that resulted, the people here have advanced farther toward all freedoms than the people of any other nation. The beacon of this Western World, marks for all nations the start of the path to Freedoms: Freedom of Speech and of the Press.
