Water District Begins Operations Friday of Last Week

The Terrell County Water Control and Improvement District No. 1 began operations officially Friday of last week after the transfer of title was made last Thursday.

The transaction was the transfer of the ownership of the water utility by the Community Public Service Co. to the Water District which is comprised roughly of the town of Sanderson

The water district was created by a vote of the people in the early summer of last year and directors were elected to work toward the completion of the transaction and attend to other business of the district. The elected directors were those now serving in that capacity: Greene Cooke, M. W. Duncan, Jimmy Caroline, Don Anderson and Edward Kerr. Jack Hayre was a member of the original board named by the Commisjoners Court until such time as a board could be named by the electorate. He resigned and Duncan was named as his replacement by the board.

The original plans for the water district were formulated by a "steering committee" an independently operating group comprised of Marion Batson, L. H. Gilbreath, Lawrence Janes and Anderson.

Jimmy Caroline, manager of the Community Public Service Co., is also manager of the water district. Mrs. Martha Anschutz is office manager.

The work during the past week has been mostly the transferring of security deposits to the water district, making up of new meter books, and other items essential to the beginning of operations as the water district.

The office for the water district will be in the space next door east of CPS and equipment will be moved in there as soon as it is expedient. The office is in operation in the CPS building

Sheepmen To Vote On Promotion

Sheep producers in this area will have an opportunity to vote during September on whether or not to continue their promotion and advertising program conducted by the American Sheep Producers Council, headquartered at Denver, Colo.

Don Clyde, president of the council and himself a sheepman from Heber City, Utah, said it would be a tragic occasion for the sheep industry if the program is not continued. "It is self-help programs such as this that are removing some of the stigma from agriculture in the eyes of the general public," Clyde declared.

"In its three years of operation the ASPC has developed a program of advertising and promotion for lamb in 21 major marketing areas across the country and a nationwide program for

'We are trying to educate the consumer to eat more lamb and wear more wool. The sheep industry, if it is to survive, must broaden the demand for its products," Clyde asserted. "No one is going to do it for us," he added He pointed out that it has tak en time to stop the downward trend in sheep production and the corresponding drop in markets for lamb and wool. That trend has been stopped, and sheep production is on the in crease. "The sheep industry," Clyde declared, "has a bright outlook if it continues to expand markets for its products."

We can't expect increased production of lamb and wool to find a good market at a fair return to the producer unless we help to create such a market," Clyde

Archers Seek Pre-Deer Season

Bow and arrow hunters will have an opportunity to pass on recommendations on their proposed pre-season hunt this year to the Game and Fish Commis sion, it has been announced by the executive secretary. Hearings will be held in each of the regulatory authority areas, where the suggestions may be passed on either in person or in writing.

The hearing for the Trans-Pecos area will be in Fort Davis on Thursday, August 20, at 8 a.m.

These hearings affect only the counties under regulatory authority. Although the act calls for a 30-day pre-season, hunting will be permitted in each county only for a duration equivalent to the regular open season. This means if the regular deer hunting season is only 10 days, then the pre-season nunt can be for only 10 days.

Three counties in Texas: Parker Wise and Jack, are limited in their hunting to local residents only. This limitaton was placed in the bill by local representa-

Austin - With the bottleneck broken on a tax bill for regular spending, legislators began to look down the road.

A resolution was proposed that pointed up the lawmakers' uneasiness about having more rough decisions before the year is out.

The resolution called on Gov. Daniel to say immediately whether he would call another special session to raise money for the Hale-Aikin school improvement program.

Hale-Aikin proposals, which include an $800-a-year salary boost for teachers, would cost an estimated $120,000,000 a year. There have been repeated rumors that the governor will re-call the Legislature next fall to enact Hale-Aikin. Also floating around is a rumor that a le per gallon hike in the gasoline tax is being "saved" for that purpose.

At Last

When the Legislature finally voted out the new $185,000,000 tax bill, it voted it out in a big way. Tally was 29 to 2 in the Senate and 115 to 24 in the House.

This is well over the required two-thirds to make the bill eitective immediately on the governor's signing.

House, which had been hamstrung for seven months on the tax issue, came unstrung so suddenly it surprised the bill's advecates. Voting ended good naturedly with "yea" votes recruited in the atmosphere of an oldfashioned revival meeting.

Most talked-about feature of the new bill is a severance beneficiary tax of 1.5 per cent on natural gas. It was the first time the Senate had approved this tax. Many House members had said they would not vote for any biil that didn't include it. It will bring in an estimated $15 to $18.

Three-fourths or more of the bill's revenue will come from selective sales taxes. Newcomers are a 3 per cent tax on jewelry and furs, a 3 per cent tax on hotel and motel room rentals, 3 per cent on boats, motors, cameras air conditioners, 25 per cent or tobacco products other than eig-

Taxes on cigarettes will go up-3 cents a pack; liquor and wine, from 1.1 to 1.5 per cent.

Utility gross receipts will go

Senate debate on the tax bill was enlivened by the arrival of a "women's march on the Capi-

Leaders were Mrs. Jud Collier of Mumford and Mrs. Minnie Fisher Cunningham of New Waverly, both workers in the militantly liberal Democrats of Tex-

They were, according to Mrs Cellier, "infuriated by the scandalous lobby which has blocked action on the tax bill." Specifically, they favored a bill heavy on gas taxes and light on selective sales taxes.

Legislating Ending Abruptly

Tax bills have had a lot of attention during the currenet special session of the Texas Legislature. But there were more eyes on charming Miss Carol Ralphs when she stopped in for a capitol building visit than ever looked at a tax bill.

This fetching miss from Farron, Utah, whose theme song is Remember the A-La-Mode", is America's Miss Dairy Princess. She was accompanied by Mrs Anne Reeve, whose husband Lew s publisher of the Oceola (Wis.) Sun. Mrs. Reeve is the chaperone for Carol's journeys about the country.

Miss Dairy Princess was introduced in the House, addressed the Senate, and was the recipient of complimentary resolutions from both branches of the legis-

Install an AUTOMATIC Electric Heat Pump

Regardless of outside weather, it's always spring in a home equipped with a Heat Pump. In summer, it pumps heat out of your home. In winter, it automatically reverses itself and pumps heat into your home. And during changeable weather, it switches automatically from cooling to heating or back again, as needed, to maintain the indoor climate you like best. There's no seasonal start-up or shut-down of cooling or heating equipment . . . nothing to remember or forget You just set the thermostatic controls once and the Heat Pump does the rest. For additional information, phone, write or visit our office.
