LISTEN TO LUKE

Balloting for various officers of the local and higher governments has already started on an absentee basis and will end, for all practical purposes, on May 7.

There is much to be considered in this election, as in all elections. And we would like to speak our piece about some of those things now.

It would seem imperative to us for the voters in precincts 2, 3, and 4 to elect precinct Democratic chairmen. The reason for this is so that when the time comes, and it has in the past and will in the future, for some action to be had on the part of the Democratic Executive Committee, that there will be a committee to act in an official capacity.

There are and will be many important things to be decided by such a committee and any action taken by any group in that capacity and under that name is not the action of the Democratic Executive Committee.

A Democratic Party, if there is to be one in this county, should be a party including all four precincts in the county and each of the precincts should have a representative to all of the functions and decisions of the party.

Pick a good Democrat in each of those precincts and name him as the precinct chairman. It will be a good action.

We stay about half-burned in listening to some of the state politicians and their insults to the intelligence of the people.

How can so many of them look at the figures of the state treasurer and continue to talk about donations and refuse to look at the necessity for increased taxes?

One man who recently was in El Paso outlined an eight-point program which was led by "the sales tax" and seven give-away programs following. It's ridiculous!

We don't necessarily favor a sales tax, but we know of nothing better, and we know there is a need for additional taxes.

Men of supposedly high calibre will — for political expediency — try to dupe, and oftentimes succeed, the public into believing that they have strange powers to pluck money from the air and stand around handing it out all day.

Let's look at this intelligently for a change.

There is bound to be a lot of waste in overlapping duties and wheel-spending efforts on the part of many state agencies. That should be eliminated where possible. But it is not eliminated by continued giving of money to each and every cause in blanket programs.

We see waste around us every day in various parts of governmental work — state and national. But we don't have to like it and support other wasteful programs.

If every voter would get off of his own pedestal of selfishness and work toward the good of the state for a change, some of this lying by politicians might stop.

They may be honest by nature, but it's up to the voters to keep them that way.

Politics county-wise seems to be relatively quiet and makes us wonder just what are the reasons therefor.

We think there should be as much interest in a local race as there is in a state or national race. Those who are our leaders locally should get as much consideration as any candidate. And there should be a little stumping going on in behalf of the local candidates by interested citizens.

We have always dreamed of a Utopia, probably too much so, but we like to think that good

Census Decreases 620 During Past Ten Years

There has been a decrease in population in Terrell County during the past 10 years, according to census figures released this week. Population in the county in 1950 was 3,189 and now is 2,569.

The figure released for the population of Sanderson is 2,163, denoting a population outside of Sanderson of 406, including the Dryden residents on which figures are not available.

The decrease is due, in a great measure, to the abolishing of section crews, signal maintenance crews, water section crews, etc., by the T&NO Railroad.

From all apparent signs, the population of Sanderson has increased over the past 10 years. There have been many new houses built and living facilities are

Mrs. C. F. Cox, Area Ranch Woman, Named 'Conservation Homemaker' of This Year

Mrs. C. F. Cox of Sanderson has been chosen as the Conservation Homemaker of the year in the Big Bend Soil Conservation District. Mrs. Cox is vice president of the Pecos County Home Demonstration Council and the immediate past-president of the County Council and the Ranch Home Demonstration Club. At the present time she is a Council Delegate and yearbook chairman for the club.

Mr. and Mrs. Cox have four children: C. W. Cox of Monahans, Foster Cox of Sanderson, Mrs. Tex Matton of Meridian, Mrs. M. T. Gober Jr., of Petaca, N.M.; and eight grandchildren. All the children and their husbands or wives are graduates of Sul Ross College, except Foster, who is a student in the Sanderson High School.

When Foster was nine years of age, Mr. and Mrs. Cox moved from Alpine back to their ranch and Mrs. Cox drove 100 miles a day for five years to take Foster to and from school as bus facilities were not available. Mrs. Cox says she really appreciates the driver education program since Foster is now able to drive this distance alone.

Mr. and Mrs. Cox designed and built their modern long ranch home, constructed of concrete tile, and it is equipped with all modern conveniences, including telephone, butane, electrical appliances of all kinds and three bedrooms and five baths. The yard is attractively landscaped with a lawn, flowers and shrubs and is surrounded by a tile fence.

The ranch consists of 20,000 acres in Brewster County, and 5,600 acres in Pecos County. They have 1,000 sheep, 300 goats, 100 cows and calves, and 10 saddle horses.

Mr. Cox has been a member of the Board of Supervisors of the Big Bend Soil Conservation District since it was organized. He was awarded the Highland Hero Conservation Award as the outstanding conservationist in the Highland Big Bend area, in 1956 when the district was judged top soil conservation district in the state in the Fort Worth Press contest.

The Cox family is known for their warm hospitality and friendliness. A visitor in the home is made so welcome that he feels almost a member of the family. Mrs. Cox serves as hostess to the landowners in the subdivision at the election of a Soil Conservation Supervisor for the southeastern part of Brewster County, attends the ranch tour held by the Board of Supervisors for the Alpine Ministerial Alliance in preparation for Soil Stewardship Week, and takes a great interest in the conservation work that her husband does on the ranch. She shares equally in happiness when a conservation practice proves successful.

Mrs. Cox was entered by Miss Lucille Watson, Pecos County Home Demonstration Agent, at the Big Bend Soil Conservation District in the "Save the Soil and Save Texas" awards program sponsored by the Agricultural Extension Service of the Texas A&M College in cooperation with the Fort Worth Press.

Absentee Balloting Is Light Here

Only 14 had cast absentee ballots Monday afternoon for the Democratic Primary set for May 7. This is a light absentee vote, according to Ruel Adams, county clerk.

Voters in the Democratic Primary this year are electing precinct, county, district and state officers and there is an urgency expressed by leaders of the state and nation for all qualified voters to express their opinions at the polls in all elections.

Local opposition in the sheriff's race and precinct 1 constable race, and in the district attorney's office should demand the action of citizens in expressing their views at the polls.

CHEVROLET OVER BACK-COUNTRY ROADS AT 45 WITH A SKY-HIGH LOAD OF TIMBER

Chevy middleweight shows the big rigs how it's done!

That's a 6303 medium-duty Chevrolet powered by a 283-cu.-in. V8. But there's sure nothing medium-duty about the load. Mr. J. E. Blankinship, Arkansas logging contractor, says both of his torsion-spring 6303's "move along at 40 to 50 miles per hour with 55,000 pounds gross weight and maintain a 5-trip-a-day schedule with no trouble at all." Figure the money you save when you've got a medium-duty truck that can cover 30,000 back-country miles a year with a high-tonnage load!

We've never seen anything like the amount of praise truck owners are heaping on Chevy's new torsion spring suspension. Owners like the fact the truck handles a whole lot easier, can move faster off the road without heating the driver to death and shaking loose all the sheet metal. They like the idea of extra thousands of miles before trade-in. . . Drive a '60 Chevy just once. It's a whole new experience.

Chevy middleweight averages 200 miles of back roads a day dogging timber out of the woods and delivering it to the mill at Crossett, Arkansas.

Heats your food --not your kitchen

Electricity is your better way to cook because it's COOL

The homemaker who cooks electrically can count on having a cooler kitchen this summer. Why? Because an electric range cooks with a minimum of heat waste. Electric surface units transfer heat to utensils by direct contact . . . with no air space between to let heat escape into your kitchen. The flameless electric oven, insulated on all six sides, requires no oxygen, so there's no draft of hot air through the oven and into your kitchen. See your local appliance dealer soon for a cool cooking electric range!

Born in Alabama, 1844, he was one of Moseby's (Confederate) guerrillas before his whiskers sprouted. At 25 he had served with the Emperor Maximilian in Mexico and toured Central America, no restful region then. By 1878 he was Captain of Co. C, Frontier Battalion, Texas Rangers. And no outlaw was safe. One party of horse thieves he chased to the New England states and fetched back to jail. In 1879 Arrington established the first Ranger camp in the Panhandle in Crosby County. There he charted the high plains, located the legendary Lost Lakes, rode herd on warring Indians and tangled with the U. S. Army. During that disagreement the Indians gave up... vanquished. "Texas soldier no bueno." Two years later Arrington retired to ranching and was promptly elected Sheriff of Wheeler and 14 attached counties, serving for 8 turbulent years. He seems to have proved conclusively that tranquility is not necessary for longevity. He lived 79 un-peaceful years, one of Texas' greatest peace-men.

Just as we have always needed the fearless courage and integrity of our lawmen, so do we need industry and commerce. When an industry provides a whole community with payrolls and revenue, relaxation and the pleasures of moderation, it "belongs" in Texas. "Beer Belongs". The United States Brewers Foundation constantly works with brewers, wholesalers, retailers and local authorities to assure the sale of beer and ale under pleasant, orderly and law-abiding conditions.

Continued from Page 1— citizens will sit down and weigh issues and men and offices in respect to the duties of the job they are seeking and vote accordingly. If citizens would conduct themselves thuswise politically, there is a good chance that type of conduct would extend beyond that realm and we would be closer to a Utopia.

We think it pretty general that voters will support a man politically when, if that man were in any other field and conduct himself in a like manner, he would certainly be condemned by the populace.

If you are working for someone and doing a good job, or if you have an employee who is doing a good job, should that man lose his job because he has held it for eight or ten years? We think not!

If, on the other hand, he is not as efficient an employee as when he was hired, if he is not conscientious, if he is not working for the best interest of the people, then, if there is a better-qualified man, he should be elected. We can't see good reasoning condemning a man because he has done a good job, can you?
