NUMBER 52

LISTEN TO LUKE

This week's issue of The Times marks the 52nd year of publication of this newspaper. The years roll by in a hurry, and it seems like only yesterday that we were looking about the end of the 52nd year. But our personal birthdays seem to be rolling around a woman lately, too! But anyway, next week will be the first number of the 54th volume of The Times. Happy birthday to us!

We hear more and more about the necessity for government controls and the more we hear about it, the less we think about it. And the less we think about it, the more we feel inclined to talk against it. Among the government controls that has been in the news a lately, is the alleged control of the educational system along with federal aid to education. We had firmer and more firm in our opposition to federal aid to education and mainly on the basis of pending federal controls. If we have to raise the money to send to Washington to operate schools, we can eliminate a middle man and do it better sans dictatorship of bureaucrats. We think our own school board do the job better and we ask other school district can do it for us.

Rotary, Lions Hear Bob May Speak For Red Cross Drive

Members of the local Rotary and Lions Clubs heard Bob May, field representative for the American Red Cross, as he spoke to the joint meeting at noon on Wednesday. The meeting and luncheon was at the Oasis Restaurant and about 50 were present. May outlined the work of the national organization and told of the need for more volunteer workers to keep the local chapter active. The month of February is traditionally the month for the Red Cross Drive and it was pointed out that more local volunteer workers were needed to make the drive a success. The speaker told of the local work that could be done by a Red Cross Chapter and stressed the need for an active Chapter here. Many services are covered by the funds received by the local chapter, many calls are made for assistance from families of service men, and many times telephone calls and wire services are needed for the families of service men. Assistance is also sought by destitute families traveling over the country. Mr. May insisted that those interested in helping in this worthwhile organization should contact Mrs. Jettie Peavy, or W. W. Sudduth.

It was a district game for the A team and gives the Eagles slimmer chances for a district title with two losses and four wins. There are four conference games remaining on the schedule. In the B game, Buddie Joe Hahn saw action for the first time this year and had 13 points for high-scoring honors. The B team score was 38-25. In the A game, Bill Dunn looped 17 points and Larry Harrell scored 11. The A game ended 62-49 in favor of the Braves. The Eagles will play Marfa on the local hardwood next Tuesday night and will play Wink here Friday night of next week. The Marfa fray is a non-conference game.

The Mothers' March for Dimes which was slated for Monday night this week, was held on Wednesday night and receipts from that source were not known at press time. Citizens who have not contributed to the fund are asked to mail their contributions to Mr. Caroline.

State Capitol NEWS

Austin—A proposal that would take the monkey off the backs of the legislators who campaigned on a no-sales-tax, no-income-tax platform has been made by one of the State Capitol correspondents.

It is the feeling of many persons in Austin as well as over the state that the public is ready for a definite, long-time tax program, whether it be a sales tax, an income tax, or the Governor's proposed payroll tax.

They are convinced that the state has to take some drastic financing steps. And they are ready to foot the bill. Many legislators realize this fact.

Trouble is that a goodly number of them campaigned on a no-sales-tax, no-income-tax platform. Many legislators felt at the time that such was a popular campaign theme; that the public did not want either type of tax; that their resentment to either would be bitter.

It is the opinion of a number of the legislators that the people are far ahead of the lawmakers in this type of thinking; that they understand the problem better than the legislators realize; and that they are willing to face the facts.

But the legislators as a whole are hesitant. They are not sure the people are ready. They are fearful that they will get all the blame.

Richard Morehead of the Austin bureau of the Dallas News suggests that legislators feel the public pulse by ordering a referendum on the April 4 ballot. Voters will be going to the polls anyway to vote for a new U.S. Senator.

Morehead's proposed referendum would point out the state's need for at least $100,000,000 a year in new revenue. Each voter would be asked to check which of the three tax proposals he preferred... a payroll tax to be paid equally by employer and employee, a general sales tax, or an income tax.

Such a referendum would give the voters a voice in the tax program... an opportunity to express their own preference in the matter. And at the same time it would lift the problem off the shoulders of the legislators.

As Morehead points out, there are other ways to raise money but informed people generally agree that some variation or combination of the three methods outlined herein is going to be passed by the legislature. And by April 4 the voters will have heard many sides of all proposals.

Other Tax Plans Advocated
 Lawmakers have proposed numerous methods for raising additional tax money.
 Rep. W. W. Glass of Jacksonville suggests a constitutional amendment authorizing a one per cent levy on the gross income of all businesses. He estimated it would bring in $100,000,000 a year.

A 10 per cent tax on the gross receipts of trading stamp firms was suggested by another representative.

A graduated levy on gross income at the wholesale level and on income from personal services — for an estimated $300,000,000 yearly — was put forward.

One took the opposite approach by proposing a constitutional amendment that would prohibit either a state income or payroll tax.

Raciest suggestion came from a San Antonioan who, as he promised in his campaign, introduced a bill to legalize horse racing and parimutual betting and to levy a tax on the track proceeds.

As bills dropped into the hamper, State Treasurer Jesse James announced that the general revenue fund deficit has risen to $85,381,122.

Savings Sought
 Legislature is also considering proposals aimed at cutting expenses.

Texas Research League, reporting on a study made at the request of the Legislature, made 19 recommendations for reducing the cost of collecting taxes.

A representative has proposed a bill that would set up a commission to study the agencies of the state government with a view to eliminating duplication and bringing about maximum economy and efficiency. It has been dubbed the "Little Hoover Commission".

Loan Controls Urged
 Drive to enact loan company regulations got new push when the State Supreme Court made final its ruling that the "certificate plan" for loans is not legal.

Under this plan a borrower had to buy an investment certificate from the loan firm and pay for the certificate as well as pay off the loan.

Atty. Gen. Wilb. Wilson said it is urgent that the Legislature set up a grade by which loan companies can operate legitimately. Several lawmakers have announced plans to sponsor such bills. One would allow for total charges (interest plus other charges) of 3 per cent per month on the unpaid balance of the loan.

Short Skirts
 Sen. Jarrard Secret of Temple is back with his proposal for "flexible rating" of automobile insurance rates. It would allow individual companies to set up their own rating plans rather than following uniform rates by the State Board of Insurance.

George Corse of Graham, who sought unsuccessfully last session to get his own job of county school superintendent abolished, is back for the same purpose. He says eliminating the county school superintendent in counties with no county schools would save the state $711,000.

A bill to allow rural electric cooperatives to continue serving an area after it is annexed by a city has been introduced by legislators.

SS Death Benefits Are Payable To Surviving Spouse

"One of the many different kinds of benefit payments made by social security is the 'Lump Sum Death Benefit'." H. P. Thomas, manager of the Odessa social security office, reminds workers.

This payment is made at the time of death of any person who is insured under social security, and is entitled in addition to any monthly benefits payable on the account of the deceased.

The amount is three times what the old-age benefit was or would have been up to a maximum of $255. The smallest lump sum is $99. It is paid to the surviving spouse if he or she was living with the insured at the time of death.

If there is no eligible spouse, the payment is made to the person or estate paying burial expenses provided a claim is filed within two years after death.

The 1960 amendments to the Social Security Law now permit the person responsible for payment of burial expenses to authorize the Social Security Administration to make payment directly to the funeral home.

When no one has assumed this responsibility within 90 days after death, the funeral home may apply.

The Odessa office is located at 1428 East 8th Street and is open Monday through Friday from 8:45 to 5:00 p.m. The telephone number is FEderal 2-9423.

There is a political answer, but there is not a common-sense resort.

Our good state government is having trouble, teacher-wise. The legislators, the governor, and almost everybody in the state who ran for any office promised a pay raise for teachers.

When the legislators get a way of retiring the $75-million state deficit, and find a way to get the money for the teachers, they might get the raise.

Donations to the 'New March of Dimes' Will Help Prevent Crippling Diseases

Millions of families throughout the United States this month have received March of Dimes "mailers."

If the millions on the receiving end of this gigantic mail operation coast-to-coast and in Hawaii and Alaska have not already done so, now is the time to return the familiar envelope with a donation to the county March of Dimes chapter, local leaders urged this week.

The world's largest voluntary health organization is seeking to prevent crippling diseases, with its sights set at birth defects and arthritis and at continued work in polio.

These mailers, which reproduce the campaign theme, "Prevent Crippling Diseases—Please Say Yes to the New March of Dimes," were addressed in great part by selfless volunteers who, by combing through telephone and other directories, were able to "spot" just about every family in their county.

Addresses of new homes, not included in telephone books, were obtained by these volunteers from real estate boards, tax lists, and from other official records, and from chambers of commerce.

Hopefully, each of the 44 million families in the United States will have an opportunity to help prevent crippling diseases by contributing to the March of Dimes between now and Jan. 31.

The blue mailer contains an envelope with a pocket for a March of Dimes contribution by check or cash and with space for the donor's name and address. A brief message addressed to "Dear Neighbor" explains the expanded program of The National Foundation, and elsewhere on the mailer a few health figures are given—for example, that birth defects cripple one out of every 16 babies in the United States; that arthritis and rheumatism afflict 11 million Americans; and that polio can still strike down any one of more than 85 million unvaccinated persons in the country.

County chapter officials say that they "hope our mailer message brings speedy replies in the form of cash, money orders and checks" because March of Dimes contributions are desperately needed to finance National Foundation programs of aid to patients, of research and in the training of health workers.

"Mailers, mailers everywhere!" says Linda Brees, of Columbus, Ohio, 1961 March of Dimes National Poster Child, as she "models" one of the contribution envelopes. Mailers are to be returned this month to local chapters of the National Foundation to support expanded health program in birth defects and arthritis, and continued work in polio. Linda is recovering from birth defects of an open spine and excess fluid on the brain.
