LISTEN TO LUKE

There were lots of people doing lots of talking and working before the Demo primary last month who have been pretty silent since then concerning the run-off of the three major offices in the state. Even some of the gubernatorial stickers adorning local vehicles or posts have been faded and muddled and worn by time and the weather since then, without having been replaced by new stickers to indicate new or renewed enthusiasm on the part of some of the political pushers around town.

One would have to deduce that there was more interest in local offices than state offices or that there is no enthusiasm for any of them in the run-off.

We would like to think that the people of the state would be completely satisfied with either of the two in the run-off for the office of governor, but we rather opine that the attitude is: "What difference does it make?"

Since the first primary lots of people have sat back and taken a good look at what is in front of us and don't like what they see. Charges and counter-charges of influence here and influence there, of backers of both candidates, and each charging such a high expenditure by the other for the office, while one is riding a train all over the state and the other is using all of the state's TV networks. Both have spent enough money to pay Texas' deficit individually, almost, or so it seems, and each has his own idea about how to pay off that deficit.

It seems that there is pitted a real liberal with a middle-of-the-roader. (That phrase was most widely-used by Lyndon B. Johnson.)

We predict that there will be a last-ditch fight waged during the rest of this week by the supporters of each candidate in an effort to put one of them in the general election.

It could be that with the lack of rainfall in this area, and with the agricultural industry's dim outlook, among other things, that the people here are just complacent about who gets the Democratic Party's nod for the general election.

People of the state have heard so much recently about hand-outs of money to people in offices of importance that it is getting rather disgusting to us. We have heard of and read of these charges connected with the B. S. Estes case and also with others of prominence in our state and nation until we wonder if there is anyone on a state level who is not guilty of accepting gifts for influence?

We have never traveled in circles where when people greet you with a handshake they would leave $1,000 in the palm. But, we have never been in a position of (Continued to page 4)

Cherry Jubilee Cuplets

Cherry desserts are symbolic of two well loved holidays—Washington's Birthday and Valentine's Day. If you are planning to celebrate these days or some other fun occasion during the "cherry" months of January and February, here is a festive, new dessert to serve.

Cherry Jubilee Cuplets are made with a special ice cream flavor, appropriately called Cherry Jubilee, which is hooped high in crisp, cookie shells. To create the delectable flavor, Meadow Gold has twirled vanilla ice cream with generously fruited cherry ice cream. You'll find it in stores now.

Cherry Jubilee Cuplets

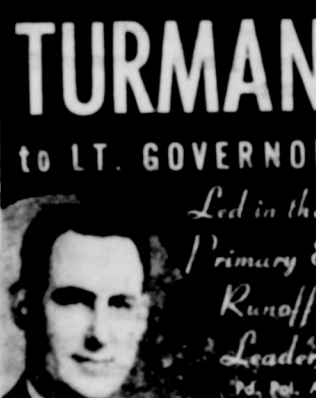

- 6 egg whites 1 cup sifted bread flour
1/4 teaspoon salt 1/2 cup finely chopped, blanched almonds
1 1/2 cups sugar 1/2 gallon Cherry Jubilee Ice Cream
1 cup melted, cooled butter

Add salt to egg whites; beat until stiff. Gradually add sugar and beat until thick and glossy. Slowly blend in butter. Fold in flour and almonds, mixing well. For each cuplet, take 1/2 cup batter and turn out onto well greased and lightly floured cookie sheet, putting just two on a sheet. Spread each out into a 6 1/2 inch circle. Bake at 350 degrees 8-8 minutes. Carefully remove from cookie sheet. Place each over back of custard cup, pinching into pleats in 4 places to form cuplet. Leave until cool. Remove and fill with ice cream. Makes 12 servings.

May 30, 1962

I am respectfully asking the people of my district to vote for Preston Smith for Lieutenant Governor in the Democratic runoff June 2.

Young Set Has Hawaiian Party

A group of 52 seventh and eighth graders was invited to a Hawaiian luau last Thursday evening following the eighth grade graduation program. The hostesses were several mothers of the graduates.

An attractive setting was created at the Legion Hall for the party. The ceiling was covered with draped fish nets in which were caught shells and floats. Paper fish and luau lights hung from the ceiling. The center posts were converted into palm trees. Palm trees were in the corners of the hall and a South Sea island hut concealed the fireplace.

A seascape was created on the bar by using sand, shells, and floats with fish nets in the background.

Candles burning in hurricane lamps lighted the concrete slab outside where a spotlight was on Tiki, the carved wooden Hawaiian god, surrounded by palm trees, shells, and bamboo.

Three large rush mats on the floor were decorated with fresh pineapples, mounds of fresh fruit, and leis in true luau fashion. The guests were seated on the floor to partake of the luau sandwiches, dips, Fritos, potato chips, and Hawaiian punch.

Mrs. J. L. Smith, Y. F. Bowley, and Mrs. E. E. Harkins Jr. welcomed the guests as they arrived and gave a lei to each.

A grand march led by Jody Kay Tronson and Harry Harkins opened the activities. Music was furnished by the high school dance band dressed in Hawaiian and beachcomber costumes.

Games and dancing furnished diversion for the evening.

being able to influence many people.

It would seem to us that if a either be crazy or they would be either be crazy or they would be expecting something in return.

Since we are not influential, it would be our opinion that the donor would be crazy. If we were influential, it would be presumed that they were trying to buy some of that influence. And if we accepted that gift, it seems that we would have established a price on our worth and would have indicated our own opinion of that worth.

As Gertrude Stein said in one of her poems: "A rose is a rose is a rose. . . ." A bribe is a bribe and a gift is a gift is a gift.

We learned a long time ago that you can make several different dishes out of ground meat, but regardless of how you prepare it, embellish it, camouflage it, cook it, and serve it, it's still ground meat. It can be made easier to digest by certain care in its preparation, and it can be made more appealing with the garnishing, and it can even be made to look and taste like something else completely different, but it's still ground meat.

Just this morning on the radio we heard about the fear of polio in epidemic proportions in San Antonio.

This fear could be completely eliminated here and with little trouble. All that is necessary is to make arrangements with your physician to take the series of anti-polio vaccine and if you are not able to pay for the vaccine you can go to the county health officer and the vaccine may be obtained free.

And lest we be falsely accused of something, the vaccine is available from all physicians, but only from the county health officer may it be obtained without cost to you if you are not able to pay.

It is our understanding that the vaccine is given by putting a few drops of it on a cube of sugar and you eat the sugar. There's nothing to it except immunity against a very dreadful disease. Let's work to immunize all of Sanderson and prevent the possibility of any cases here. Talk to your neighbor, and after you have encouraged them to get the vaccine, talk to others.

A QUESTION AND AN ANSWER Q. - How were men saved BEFORE the Incarnation, Cross and Resurrection? A. - God has always had but ONE PLAN for saving men and Christ is the CENTER and SUBSTANCE and PERSON of that Plan. Salvation has always been by God's GRACE on CONDITION of the sinner's REPENTANCE and FAITH. Always, too, salvation has been on the BASIS of the ATONEMENT, for the Cross was but the expression in time of that which was in the heart of God from all eternity. The Cross was not an OVERCOMING of God's reluctance to save; rather it was the EXPRESSION of His gracious EAGERNESS to save men. In O.T. times, people were not saved BECAUSE they were Hebrews, nor were they saved BECAUSE they kept the Law. Neither were they saved BY the Mosaic ritual system, which was but the FORESHADOWING of the ATONEMENT in Christ. Although the patriarchs had no knowledge of a PERSONAL CHRIST, they were saved BY BELIEVING IN God according to the light which He had given them concerning Himself and His Plans. "Abraham SAW My Day and was GLAD." "Abraham BELIEVED God and it was IMPUTED TO him FOR righteousness" God COUNTED IT TO him FOR righteousness. THIS IS THE SAME RIGHTEOUSNESS which Paul writes in his Roman letter, "THE RIGHTEOUSNESS OF GOD BY FAITH IN Jesus Christ." "BY Him, ALL WHO BELIEVE are JUSTIFIED FROM ALL things." Abraham's FAITH ISSUED in good works, but the GOOD WORKS were NOT the GROUND of his salvation; they were ONLY PROOF of it. "IN NO OTHER ELSE can salvation be found, FOR in all the world NO OTHER NAME has been GIVEN but THIS, and BY THIS NAME that we must be saved." IRL R. RICHARDSON Pastor, First Baptist Church
