LISTEN TO LUKE

It happens every time! About the time that one meeting is scheduled, another, and sometimes another meeting or session comes up for the same time.

Such is the case this week. Tonight (Thursday) the Sanderson High School has scheduled a concert and the Eagle Boosters are meeting.

Next Tuesday, besides a big group of prospective jurors being called for the morning, there is a meeting that evening to hear discussions on eagle predator problems, basketball games, and a spelling what else will be slated before the time arrives. Any hearing of somebody who is nowhere to go, nothing to do, is heard?

In case some of the readers do not know, the Eagle Boosters are not an organization in opposition to the Eagle Annihilators or ranchmen interested in getting legal permission to kill predator eagles. The Eagle Boosters help the Sanderson High School sports activities when and where possible.

It is interesting to notice the laws and regulations governing the destruction of eagles—not by air plane or poison—and only during April, 1963.

Most lambs and kids that survive the ravages of predators are drought, the weather, and other scourges, are half-grown in April and able to fight off the eagles.

And you can find the roosting place of the eagle and climb up there and shoot or otherwise destroy the bird; or you can catch him on the ground and sneak up on him and catch or kill him; or you can try to shoot him while he is flying; or you can try to shoot him.

Either or all of which is a pretty good chore, and all methods are only designed to protect the species. Few eagles are destroyed by methods other than poisoning or shooting from an airplane.

The killing of eagles isn't exactly like killing deer, or some other law-protected animal, in my opinion. The eagle is believed by every ranchman to be a predator, particularly destructive during lambing and kidding seasons. If a ranchman kills an eagle, he is doing so to protect his own property, not trying to do something to eat, or obtain a profit for his den.

The same thing would be true of protecting the mountain lions or termites. Wood peckers might also come under such protection in case there is a danger they may become extinct, or if they are considered a stately bird by some.

We can see laws reading that the taking or killing of termites is prohibited except during January of 1963, and may not be done by poisoning or asphyxiating. Other methods of killing or capturing are allowed only between sun up and sun down on alternate days of the week, except when permissive days include Sunday when there will be a skip of two days, with the first day of each alternate week permitting the killing of termites on Monday, except when Monday is a national holiday, then alternating days begin on Tuesdays.

With the excellent work of the FBI, the public enemies number 2, and 3, recently were captured, and with continued success, those who moved up into these numbers will be taken down. Theoretically, and under a "hanging-La" existence, there will be no more public enemies. Surely those destroyers of public and private property will not go down a high-priority list for their reservation.

Ranchers, Game Officials To Discuss Eagle Problem

Word was received this week that Bill Fitzwater of the Department of Interior, along with members of the Wildlife and Game Division, will be here on February 5 to meet with ranchers of the area. It was stated that the purpose of the meeting was to discuss problems concerning the control of the Golden Eagle during the lambing and kidding seasons.

All ranchment of the area are urged to be present to participate in a thorough discussion of the problems with the proper representatives of the government agency involved.

It was stated that every effort would be made to make the problems of the ranchmen known in regard to the predator.

The meeting will be at the courthouse at 7:30 p.m. Secretary of State Stewart Udall last week announced regulations halting the legal killing of eagles, except in carefully controlled circumstances to protect livestock.

A protective feature of a bill signed last year by President Kennedy went into effect on April 1 and extended the same protection to golden eagles as for bald eagles, the national bird.

The rules, according to information available to The Times, requires that the secretary of the interior authorize the taking of golden eagles for the protection of livestock at times and in areas that the secretary considers necessary, when asked to do so by the governor of any state.

It is understood that Secretary Udall has received such a request from Governor John Connally and recently authorized the killing of golden eagles, except by poison or airplane, by the ranchmen or their agents in 28 counties of Texas. The permission will be granted to kill the eagles only during the month of April, according to information received.

Terrell and adjoining counties are included in the counties to be allowed permission to kill the predators during April.

Many ranchmen of this area who are beginning to lamb or kid now or before April are concerned over the new regulations and their inability to protect their stock legally.

Mrs. Lizzie Green Buried Sunday

Mrs. Elizabeth Bell (Lizzie) Green died in a Fort Stockton hospital Saturday morning following an illness of several weeks. After being hospitalized in that city for six weeks, she was brought home for a week and when her condition became worse, she was returned to the hospital by ambulance Thursday afternoon.

Emergency Feed Date Moved Up To April 22, 1963

The present emergency feed program for Terrell County, originally scheduled to end February 21, has been extended through April 22, 1963.

Ranchmen may make application at the Terrell ASCS office to purchase directly from Commodity Credit Corporation minimum carloads lots of 80,000 pounds of bulk No. 2 yellow milo. The grain will be delivered by rail to the nearest unloading point to be specified by the applicant. The ranchman will not pay freight or unloading costs at the delivery point. Any other expense will have to be borne by the rancher.

The rate to be paid for the grain is determined by the support price in the county of delivery. In Terrell and Pecos Counties, the rate is $1.425 per cent. More detailed information is available at the ASCS office.

Tourist Industry Up By $31 Million

The economy of the State of Texas received a substantial $31 million boost in 1962 as the Texas tourist industry registered a seven per cent gain, the Texas Highway Department announced this week.

Making its annual report on the tourist industry, the Department said tourists spent $471 million in Texas during 1962—a healthy $31 million increase over the previous year.

Texas also showed a vigorous gain in total numbers of tourists with 9.6 million out-of-state visitors coming to Texas in 1962. This was 1.2 million more than the comparable total for 1961.

Under the authorization of the Texas Legislature, the Highway Department carries on a tourist attraction program, compiling and distributing numerous publications, films, posters and other material to fill the needs for travel information. In 1962, the Department distributed 200,000 travel brochures, and 750,000 highway travel maps.

In speaking of winning the important position, Congressman Foreman said:

"I am very pleased indeed that the Republican leadership has recognized the needs and desires of the people of West Texas by assigning me to membership on the powerful Armed Services Committee. This is an encouraging personal endorsement by my colleagues, and I appreciate the consideration shown me and the people of my district by this major committee assignment which is usually reserved for only the senior members of Congress. I humbly accept the challenge and will work to the best of my ability to uphold the confidence placed in me."

Rates for the phones, according to Haynes, is governed by the REA and FCC and in no instance of existing facilities, have they permitted a charge of more than $11.00 per phone per month.

Haynes stated that his company planned to furnish telephone service for less than that amount.

He stated that existing REA poles would be used for the telephone transmission lines where possible and that lines would be built from nearby REA lines or radio-telephones would be installed at ranches where REA lines do not go.

Sanderson would be the center for all telephones within the trade-area, and other exchanges will be so arranged, Haynes said. He added that these exchanges would connect with existing telephone exchanges to make possible the same use of these telephones as is possible with any telephone anywhere else in the nation.

The owners also advised that a maintenance man would be located in Sanderson to take care of all telephones in the local exchange belonging to the Big Bend Telephone Co.

The company has detailed maps of the entire area to be served by the company showing every road, every house, and existing REA lines and phone lines, canyons, etc., so that engineering can begin immediately, upon approval of the loan by REA, which has been promised, according to Haynes.

All ranchmen will be contacted in the very near future, Mr. Haynes stated, to be given the full particulars of the proposed installation, cost, and for his agreement to make a contract for the service.

This Educational Void Must Be Filled

Our youths have been called economic illiterates which in plainer words means they don't know which side of their bread is buttered.

This is a harsh indictment but, unfortunately, it is well substantiated. Repeated surveys have disclosed that high school students have much less than even a nodding acquaintance with the principles of our free-enterprise system.

Here are a few of the shocking revelations of youthful beliefs concerning the proper role of the federal government in our economy:

62 per cent said the government has the responsibility for providing jobs.

62 per cent said the government should own and operate such industries as steel, automobile, oil, electric power, railroads, and banks.

66 per cent said that though stiff progressive taxation may be hard on the individual it was good for the country!

Tracking down the reason for these far-out attitudes is not difficult. It stems from the fact that less than 5 out of every 100 high school graduates have been ex-

MAN TO MAN

"What Do I Get Out of Enlistment in the United States Army?"

Every man who enlists in the Army can be sure of getting two very important things. You'll get Army training, which includes advanced technical knowledge and valuable leadership experience—both of which can mean a lot in your later career.

The other thing the Army gives you is the chance to serve your country. The technical training that builds your future protects America's future too. And the same goes for the leadership training. The Army will teach you to depend on yourself, because America depends on you.

There are a lot of different ways to do something for your country. That's one reason the Army offers you the privilege of choosing your own job training before you enlist. Of course you have to qualify to make sure you have the aptitude required for the training you pick. And when you qualify, you get a guarantee that you'll get the training you want.

Think of it! While most high schools provide automobile driving instruction they fail to teach the students how our economic system makes it possible for them, or their parents, to own cars.

It seems that school boards and administrators should consider the possible need for this courses in the training of our youth through institution of economic courses in every high school in the nation.

by any means is illegal. Eagles are killing lambs and kids today. We think the law should be changed.

A group, including several of the county's officials, is going to Sonora this week to look at and find out about a flood control project there. Soil Conservation Service employees and members of the Soil Conservation District will also accompany them.

The findings of the group will be considered in some way by the Terrell County commissioners in their decision to help the flood control project on the Sanderson Canyon and Three-Mile watersheds, or not.

We think we can say beyond a reasonable doubt that officials of the SCS will want the flood control project to be initiated.

Without being critical, and being realistic, such projects are their "meat" and the reasons for their existing. We can say with equal certainty that those who do not go to any trouble to find out anything about the proposal or who are not concerned in any way with the financing will be for it. That is only being realistic, also.

Some who look into the project and see that the federal government is footing the biggest end of the bill, will say "we might as well get ours".

There has been very little water damage from floods, as far as we can find out, to any property here besides railroad property. We don't know what high water might do now and there is no way of telling if it will ever get high or not and what might result. That is not known.

There are those who are for the federal government spending money any time. Some who do not ever get any direct benefits from federal spending oppose it on those grounds. Some who get some federal money in some way, oppose spending any other federal money in other ways. Some don't want the federal government to spend any money.

We venture this guess: Whatever the findings and decision of the local or area commissioners the SCS officials, and others involved, there will be some who will criticize.

Among college students spending between-semester holidays here were Miss Peggie Cooke of the University of Texas; Buddy Monroe, SWTSC, San Marcos; Dee Gray, Baylor; Mary Duncan Darleen McDonald, Foster Cox Sul Ross College; Bobby Littleton, McMurray College; Linda Morris, Howard Payne College; Bob Little, Texas A&M.

Card of Thanks
The people of Sanderson have always been "tops" to me, but now I know there isn't a better bunch of people on earth. I can't find adequate words with which to say "thank you", there are none. But I do know Dad, Mom, and I were deeply moved by your unselfish generosity. Never will we be able to repay each of you.
Bobby Sid Wood.

Card of Thanks
We would like to see each one of you personally to express our thanks and appreciation, but that is not possible. To each and everyone who did so many kind and thoughtful things for us during our time of sadness caused by the long illness and death of our loved one, in her memory we gratefully and humbly by this means say "Thank You". We will never forget how much those things meant to us.

Policies For School Basketball Games For Next Year Told

Supt. H. L. Richardson releases the following as policies adopted by the Terrell County Independent School District Board at the regular meeting on December 17, 1962. THE FORD IDEA: build the fun in... build the worry out!

Spend fifteen minutes at your Ford Dealer's - see how much difference the right idea makes! These cars are more fun than cars have ever been before. The Super Torque Ford (foreground) has V-8's up to 405 horsepower, a $10 million ride, rich interiors and luxury features like an optional Swing-Away steering wheel. The sleek new Fairlane middleweight (center) is quick, nimble, solid as a bank - and offers America's newest V-8! Don't miss Falcon (top) - now with a new dash of fun, including the first Falcon convertible. The '63 cars from Ford are designed to be less trouble than cars have ever been before. They're tight, quiet, solid as they come - and all* have Ford's Twice-a-Year (or 6,000-mile) Maintenance!

America's liveliest, most care-free cars!
