LISTEN TO LUKE

We all, each one of us, leave a mark of some kind on this world of ours. That mark is reflected, often, in those with whom we are in contact. Many people, being aware of that fact, try to leave an impression in the sands of time that will be looked upon with favor by their fellow man, and most important, by the All-Seeing Eye of the Great Examiner.

Such an effort, in our humble opinion, was being made with sincerity and devotion by "Brother John" Byrd. And surely a great aid to him was the existence of a good companion.

The Byrds left this week for their new home in Van Horn after serving the people of the Presbyterian Church for about 22 years. There will be a vacancy in the life of the community because of their leaving!

Beside the work in the church, he was active in the local Masonic Lodge, a member of the Scottish Rite bodies in Alpine, a Rotarian, member of the county's Chamber of Commerce, and the Sanderson P.T.A. prior to its disbanding. Mrs. Byrd was active in the work of the church's organizations, Sunday School teacher, a member of the Sanderson Culture Club, Home Demonstration Club, and also a member of the P.T.A.

They were a part of the community. The influence of the Byrds is far-reaching and its extent will probably never be known, but we will miss them.

We sincerely hope that their lives will be blessed by their associations here to the degree of benefits they have given. We also hope that they are happy in their new home.

The damage at the school by the explosion Tuesday night was negligible to the damage that might be done to someone if that someone is not apprehended and shown the error of his ways. There is a possibility that some youth might be either restrained or ruined beyond rehabilitation as a result of last night's action. The far-reaching effects of "getting away with it" could be disastrous for some young man — if it was. The door — Continued to Page 4

VA Benefits Said To Be Tax-Free

Although payments for Veterans Administration benefits are tax-free and need not be reported on 1962 Federal income tax returns, interest earned on GI life insurance dividends left on deposit with VA is not a "benefit" and is taxable.

P. J. Mims, manager of the VA regional office in San Antonio, said the ruling on dividend interest was made by the Internal Revenue Service.

Still tax free are the proceeds of a GI life insurance policy, including the dividends themselves, he said.

Mims added that other VA benefits which need not be reported on Federal income tax returns include: education and training allowances, subsistence allowances, disability and compensation payments received by veterans for service-connected and non-service connected disabilities, grants to seriously disabled veterans for homes designed for "wheel chair living", grants for motor vehicles for veterans who lost their sight or lost the use of their limbs, and WWI emergency officers' retirement pay.

Mims pointed out that VA death benefits to families of deceased veterans are also exempt from taxation. They include death compensation and pension, indemnity and all GI insurance payments.

New Post Office Slated Here

Plans to acquire a new post office in Sanderson were announced last week end by Postmaster General J. Edward Day.

"The new building," Mr. Day said, "is designed to carry out the Post Office Department's objective of providing newly constructed postal units where they are most urgently needed in the interest of more efficient postal service and improved working conditions for postal employees. The emphasis in our lease construction program will continue to be on adequate space for postal operations, not only for current needs but for the foreseeable future. The Department's policy is to use existing buildings where they can be suitably altered or remodeled to meet the needs of the ever increasing volume of mail. As circumstances dictate, we will also consider moving our postal operations into more spacious quarters if they are available. Where neither of these conditions is feasible, we will authorize the construction of new postal units, such as the post office at Sanderson."

The construction program is being concentrated in those areas where the need is urgent and suitable space cannot be obtained except through new construction.

The building in Sanderson will be located on Downie St. between School and Persimmon Streets. The Department holds an assignable option on this site.

Construction of the new building will have a beneficial economic impact on Sanderson, which is located in an area eligible to take part in the new Area Redevelopment Administration's program of assistance to areas of chronic unemployment and underemployment, the Postmaster General said. Not only will the project provide jobs during the construction period, he pointed out, but the new facilities will increase the community's attractiveness for industry and commerce. This, in turn, can be translated into new economic opportunities for Sanderson. "This is in line with President Kennedy's directive that the full weight of the Federal Government be brought to bear on the problems of these areas," Mr. Day said.

The Postmaster General said the building will be constructed under the Department's Lease Construction Program, which utilizes the resources and investment funds of private enterprise while leased to the Federal Government and the owner will pay local real estate taxes.

Plans and specifications for the new building, as well as bidding forms and other pertinent data, will be made available to prospective bidders at an early date, at which time the Post Office Department will advertise for bids. The site option will be transferred to the successful bidder, who will purchase the land, construct the building and lease it to the Department on a long-term basis.

The 85-foot front lot on Downie Street has as its east line a point in approximately the center of the street running from Downie Street to the post office.

Kite-Flying Dangers Are Pointed Out

Life in the 20th Century can get complicated, as anyone living nowadays knows. Take kite-flying for instance. Time was when a kite-flyer did not have much to worry about except trees, wind, and the proper amount of tail for ballast.

In this modern era, however, this traditional sport is threatened by many hazards, such as electric power lines, television antennas, and busy highways, and many youngsters do not realize the dangers in this innocent pastime if safety rules are not observed.

This reminder comes from Jimmy Caroline, local manager of Community Public Service Co. in an appeal for caution directed to children and parents alike.

"The most important rule," Mr. Caroline declared, "is never to fly kites where there is a possibility of their getting tangled in electric power lines."

Other "don't's" include: don't use metallic cord or wire for kite string, don't use metal in the frame, don't pull on the string or climb a power pole to loosen a kite snagged in electric wires, and don't fly a kite over television antennas.

To help impress children that safety is all-important in kite-flying, Community Public Service Co. has provided safety rule posters for school bulletin boards.

Conservation Plans Completed For More Area Ranches

The Rio Grande-Pecos River Soil Conservation District reports that conservation plans have been completed on the ranches of Sid Harkins, Don Allen, and Lindsey Hicks.

Plans are in the process of completion on the C. O. Walker A & A Ranch, and Seth Davenport Hicks and Davenport have prepared basic conservation plans on their ranches and plan to apply the practices with cost-share funds from the Agricultural Stabilization Conservation Service and Great Plains Conservation Program.

Correction

The date of the birth of Thomas Allen Herring, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Herring, in last week's Times was incorrect. It should have been February 21, 1963.

The baby has been hospitalized in Alpine for several days for medical treatment this week and is reported to be improved.

Re-Organization Of Girl Scouts Is Under Way

Girl Scout leaders are going back to school this spring. In the greatest effort ever undertaken by their organization, all 439 troop leaders in the Permian Basin Girl Scout Council will polish up their present knowledge of Girl Scouting and learn some new ways of doing things.

Purpose of the training is to prepare Girl Scout volunteers for a program change that will become effective in September of 1963. "We have known for some time," says Mrs. Jack Turner, Girl Scout Neighborhood Chairman for Sanderson, "that new handbooks were being written for four Girl Scout age levels instead of the three we now have. Our leaders are excited about the training course that will prepare them for the program change."

Local leaders will attend sessions at the Scout House on March 19, 26, and April 2. The trainers in charge are Mrs. J. A. Gilbreath and Mrs. Leslie Price of Fort Stockton.

Each leader will be introduced to the program design for all four age levels before receiving special instructions on the one she will be leading next fall. This is being done because one main purpose of the program change is to establish better continuity from beginning to end of the 7-through 17 age range in Girl Scouting.

Mrs. Turner adds that the Permian Basin Girl Scout Council is ready and eager to train new volunteers, as well as experienced ones, for leadership of troops in the new age levels. "We believe that Girl Scouting will be more fun than ever before, for leaders as well as for girls," she says. "I hope that women who are interested in joining us will call Mrs. Gilbreath for information on requirements for Girl Scout leadership."

Sen. Tower Asks For Udall Report On Eagle Killing Ban

Washington — Senator John Tower has asked Secretary of the Interior Stewart Udall for a report on hearings held in Texas concerning the ban on shooting golden eagles from airplanes.

Senator Tower has voiced his opposition to the Interior Department ruling, which has also been vigorously protested by ranchers in west and southwest Texas. Secretary Udall was given authority to regulate the killing of golden eagles in a resolution sponsored in the Senate by Senator Yarborough.

Tower, in his letter to Udall, asked that "Copies of the pertinent documents and results of this study and conclusions determined be made available for my information."

The Department of the Interior, in placing a ban on killing golden eagles from airplanes bowed to the wishes of organizations such as the Audubon Society which claimed that the golden eagle is becoming extinct.

Texas ranchers, on the other hand, have testified that the golden eagle, far from becoming extinct, has actually increased in number, and that it poses a serious threat to newborn lambs and kids.

Also making the trip to El Paso were Ervin Grigsby, Eloise and Beverly Farley, and Benje May.

Explosion Tuesday Night Blasts High School Door

An explosion shortly after 10 o'clock Tuesday night caused many local residents to get out of the house to seek the cause.

Officers looked around town until the early morning hours, finding no apparent cause of the explosion, figuring that such a noise would indicate extensive damage which would be visible.

Luis Pena, custodian of the high school, on coming to work Wednesday morning early, found the east door to the high school damaged by an apparent explosion and notified school officials and officers. The door to the school is on the breezeway between the gymnasium and the school.

Officers found the neck of a bottle with about 18 inches of fuse attached, two broken panes in the door and a hole about four or five inches in diameter in the door.

The explosion was heard in all sections of town.

Local school officials and enforcement officers stated that every effort would be made to apprehend the guilty party or parties and prosecute them in order to serve as a deterrent against such future actions.

Officers stated that the explosive would have caused extensive damage had it been confined in any way and was also very dangerous to the handler. The explosive was a crude one, and the circumstances indicate that it was the job of an amateur, and a foolish act, according to the officers.

Four More File For School Board

Four more local men have filed for a post on the board of the Terrell County Independent School District.

Jack C. Turner, who is also completing his term of office on the board, is seeking re-election on the basis of his continued interest in the school's operation.

Carlos Dunn is the third applicant for one of the two vacancies to be filled. Dunn is currently serving as Democratic Chairman of Terrell County.

W. G. Shoemaker, a T&NO employee, is the father of four school children.

Also to be named at the same time will be County School Trustees in precincts two and four. Currently serving in those capacities are Jack Riggs in precinct 2, and Charlie Turk in precinct 4.

No one has filed for the county post in either of those two precincts.

Wednesday, March 6, was the deadline for filing for the school posts. The election will be on April 6.

Some like it hot. Some like it cold.

Politicians seem to prefer the latter. So, candidates again will campaign from the freezing weather of January and February right up to the heat of summer.

This preference on the part of office holders became evident when the Texas House of Representatives killed a bill that would have moved the spring voting dates to August and September.

The passage of the bill to bring the voting dates closer to the general election and thus cut campaigning time in half. But the House would have none of it. Legislators decapitated the bill 97 to 44.

Opponents argued that August was vacation time, therefore a poor time to try to get out the voters.

Absentee voting would take care of that problem, according to the author.

But the House refused to concur. In fact members proved their almost total dislike for the bill by a most unusual move. They struck the enacting clause — which was like severing a head and leaving only the body.

First Filibuster
 Gov. John B. Connally's program on higher education has run into trouble in both houses of the legislature.

House State Affairs subcommittee, considering the bill to create a 25-member study committee on higher education, is holding up the measure in the lower chamber.

Sen. Andy Rogers of Childress delayed action on the bill for at least six days with a Senate filibuster.

House subcommittee and Senator Rogers both feel that other top officials, in addition to the governor, should have a say in selecting the 25-committee members. They propose that the governor name 15 committee-men, Lt. Gov. Preston Smith five, and Speaker Byron Tunnell, five.

Governor Connally, who still is recuperating from a hernia operation, believes he can get a better balanced committee if he names all members.

Trespassing Bill
 Rep. Bill Rapp of Raymondville, wants to simplify trespassing convictions.

He has introduced a bill that would allow a landowner to establish ownership simply by going into court and swearing he owns the land. But Rapp found few supporters when he appeared before the House Criminal Jurisprudence Committee.

Rep. Travis Peeler of Corpus Christi backed him up. "I know of no convictions in my area," he said. "It is so absurd to spend maybe $500 to establish title to get a $50 conviction, no one tries it."

Rapp told the committee, "I own no land, but I feel that a man who owns land should be able to keep me off if he doesn't want me on. People know they can get by with trespassing under the present law, so they trespass."

 He said ranchers in his part of Texas are especially plagued with trespassing hunters.

Criminal jurisprudence committee agreed with Rapp that a man should be able to protect his land from hunters who might mistake cows for deer. But some were afraid that the bill could be used to establish title in an ownership dispute.

So the bill was sent to a subcommittee to have the wrinkles ironed out.

Senate Change Proposed
 Big city legislators joined Rep. Tom Bass of Houston in a new effort to break up the rural domination of the state senate.

Bass' resolution calling for a vote on a constitutional amendment that would cut out the limitation of one senator per district was signed by representatives of the larger cities of Texas.

Under Bass' proposal, Harris County would get four senators on the basis of qualified electors. But no one has suggested a solution to the constitutional limitation that restricts the senate to 31 members.

Open Meetings
 By the time Rep. Chet Brook's

bill to ban secret sessions by all state and local boards, commissions and councils passed the House of Representatives, it was little more than a legislative resolution in favor of open public meetings.

Brooks — news reporter on leave from the Houston Post — failed in his attempts to fight the exclusion of a penalty. So the way the bill now stands, if a citizen is barred from a meeting of elected governmental officials, he may seek an injunction against the barring group.

Rep. Charles Whitfield of Houston said, "Ordinarily, it takes eight or 10 days to get an injunction. Meanwhile the meeting is over."

A 14-Man Jury?
 House criminal jurisprudence committee praised a bill by Houston representative Paul Floyd and sent it to the House for a vote.

Bill provides for the selection of one or two alternate jurors, to be used in case regular jurors become ill.

Present law calls for only 12 men. Often this results in mistrials because a jurymen may become sick midway through a trial.

Under the bill, the 13th and/or 14th juror would sit through the entire trial and follow regular jury rules. But he would sit in on a verdict decision only if one of the regular dozen became incapacitated.

'Cheap' Gas Billed
 Mexican gas may not be so cheap for Texas motorists in the future.

A House bill has been offered which would require payment of a five cents a gallon state tax on all gasoline bought in Mexico, or states adjoining Texas, unless the motorists have been out of Texas more than 24 hours.

He told the House Revenue and Taxation Committee that residents along the Rio Grande, particularly in the El Paso area, find it cheaper to drive their vehicles across to Mexico and fill up with gas at 10 to 12 cents a gallon less than the fuel costs in the U.S. border cities.

Sales Tax Lid
 Texas voters may be given an opportunity to clamp the lid on sales tax increases.

House Constitutional Amendments Committee approved a measure, sponsored by Rep. John Allen of Longview, to freeze the tax at 2 per cent.

The large assortment of gifts was displayed in the bedrooms. The tea table, covered in a white linen damask cloth, was centered with an arrangement of white mums, carnations, and acacia in a crystal vase on a reflector and flanked by white candles in silver holders. OLDER WORKERS CAN EARN MORE, STILL GET SOME SOCIAL SECURITY

Many working people 65 and over who have not applied for their social security benefits may have some money coming to them under a change in the law recently enacted by Congress. This change makes it possible for older workers to earn more and still collect some of their social security benefits.

Under the law as it stands now a social security beneficiary can earn as much as $1200 in a year and still collect all his social security benefits.

A beneficiary who earns more than $1200 in a year gives up only $1 of his social security benefits for each $2 that he earns from $1200 up to $1700. For every $1 that his earnings go over $1700, he gives up a matching $1 of his benefits.

The table below will give you a rough idea of how this works out. It is set up along the lines of the mileage charts you find on many road maps.

First look in the column on the far right for the amount closest to the amount of your monthly social security benefit (or your family benefit, if other members of your family will be receiving benefits based on the same social security account).

Next look in the steps that go up starting on the left for the amount nearest to your expected earnings for the year. Directly under that step in the box on a line with the benefit amount, you will find the amount of benefits payable for the year.

If you do not know how much your benefit (or family benefit) rate will be, you can ask your social security office to give you an estimate. Or you can ask that office for a copy of Leaflet No. 855 and estimate the amount yourself.

MODERN EXTERIOR of new R. E. Thomason General Hospital in El Paso is evident in this section.

EL PASO—Years of devotion to improving health standards for the community of El Paso culminates in the opening of the new $6.2 million R. E. Thomason General Hospital here March 1.

Two years on the drawing board and two years in construction, the new hospital is considered the finest in the Southwest.

Serving all the citizens of this fast growing community on the Texas-Mexico border, the new R. E. Thomason General Hospital was built with $3.7 million of bonds approved by El Paso taxpayers and $2.5 million of Hill-Burton funds.

Standing in sharp contrast next to the old Thomason hospital, which it is replacing, the hospital's modern exterior is a hint of the up-to-date equipment and facilities within.

The hospital has 250 beds—30 on each of the top five floors which comprise the patient room tower—and can take care of 60,000 outpatients and 30,000 emergency patients a year.

A circular memorial fountain, the gift of Judge and Mrs. R. E. Thomason, graces the approach to the new hospital.

The first floor houses the lobby, admitting and business offices, library, outpatient department, special treatment departments, therapy departments, emergency operating and treatment rooms, recovery and intensive care facilities, surgery with six operating rooms, radiology rooms and an extensive laboratory.

Kitchen, cafeteria and pharmacy are located in the basement, which also has an auditorium equipped with closed circuit television to permit viewing surgical operations. Conveyor systems from the basement take food and medicines to all parts of the hospital.

tion of the lower floor surrounding a fountain-pool and garden. Considered the finest in the Administrative offices, conference rooms and staff facilities are on the second floor. Rooms in the patients tower are designed to be cheery and convenient. Each has at least one floor-to-ceiling window, with colorful drapes. Each has a bath room with dressing table and mirror.

Privacy for each bed in the wards is obtained with colorful curtains which can be drawn around the beds. Pillow communicators allow each patient to talk to the nurses' station on the floor, helping to cut down the number of steps the busy staff must take each day.

Dedicated last week in services that honored Federal Judge Thomason, who has served El Paso as mayor, State legislator, congressman and federal judge, the hospital was described as "one of the finest, if not the finest of its size in the United States."

Dr. W. R. Gaddis, president of the El Paso County Medical Society, noted that the hospital and its special treatment annexes is a community health center symbolizing "the desire of man to care for the needs of his neighbor."

Judge Thomason said he hopes the hospital will always be a facility to "comfort and heal the sick and suffering of El Paso and the Southwest."

can be fixed or replaced. So can the attitudes and activities of a person, if efforts are made in time.

The school has been entered illegally on two previous occasions this year, according to Supt. Richardson, and each time it was by people who were not bent on malicious damage to property, but were searching for something — say like test questions. This illegal entry, even for one's own personal possessions, is bad, but for any other purpose only compounds a violation or a wrong.

Some times lack of apprehension of a person or persons guilty of such acts only builds up confidence in their ability. And the old adage is only too true—given enough rope, they will hang themselves.

Our Texas Senatorial District neighbor to the west has a man that is making himself known in Austin. He is a freshman Representative, but he is standing up and being heard.
