LISTEN TO LUKE

When one visits around town and talks to people he is able to hear some talk about the proposed hospital for Terrell County. Some of the talk goes one way and some of it another. It depends on how the interest goes, and also, to some degree on how well-informed the talker is.

One would think, by listening to some of the talk, that there is a cut and dried plan, number of rooms, costs, staff, operational procedures, etc. already drawn up. But, according to what we can find out, this is not the case.

According to our best source of information, there is no one who can now say how big the building will be, how much it will cost, how much of a staff it will have, what sort of procedures one can expect in its operation, or any thing else specific about the project, in fact, even if we will have a hospital.

And in the face of all of these unknowns, we cannot understand how anyone can say that they are opposed to the project unless they are willing to say they are opposed to a hospital under any and all circumstances regardless of cost, regardless of operational expenses, if any, and regardless of any thing, they are opposed to it.

By the same token, a person may be completely "sold" on the project, regardless of how big or small it will be, how much it may cost, and how much good it may do, or regardless of all other things, he may be sold.

While we cannot agree with the ideas and beliefs of either of the extremists, we respect their rights to their opinions.

We think that the committee that is charged with the presentation of certain details to the Commissioners Court and to the people may move a lot slower than some would like, or they may move faster than others desire, but we feel that they will move with deliberation, and that the people should have confidence in them and realize their businessness throughout all of this.

If there is any room for open-mindedness in the consideration of this project, let's use it in our approaches to the problems or to the information as the project develops.

There has been a hue and cry raised concerning the abolition of the poll tax in Texas, but few of those people we have heard or read of their opinions seem to be interested in righting the wrongs that exist under the present method of naming voting eligibility and other following problems.

There are those who think the poll tax only a payment for the right to vote and base their opinions against it on that fact and that fact alone. Those same people often are willing to overlook the desirability of a literacy test as a voting qualification. The reasons for that are obvious, in our opinion, and one of the reasons we will always oppose the abolition of the tax until certain other qualifications and rules are set down specifically.

It is often said: "Get out the vote!" "Be sure everyone has paid their poll tax!" — and many other such statements. But how many of those people are willing to spend much time in seeing that all poll tax holders are really qualified voters by knowing the thing being voted for and knowing the candidates that are to be chosen.

Yes, they are instructed on "how to vote" — they come up to the polls with the sample ballots marked, in fact, so they cannot possibly miss voting "correctly". We are talking about intelligent votes, based on information from both sides, and an intelligent vote also includes voting all

Plans Complete For 'Fun Day' May 4

The committee in charge of plans for "Fun Day", Saturday, May 4, announce that things are in good shape for an entertaining day for all citizens of the area.

Carnival-type concessions will be on the court house block during the afternoon and beginning at 5:00 o'clock a barbecue will be served to all ticket holders. The price of the barbecue will be $1.25 for all students and adults, with small children being fed at no charge, according to the committee.

Participation in the carnival-type activities will be on an individual basis.

Following the barbecue supper there will be a boys' calf riding at the football field and admission of $1.00 for adults and 50c for children will be charged.

About 40 boys are expected to participate in the calf-riding and the committee has 40 fresh and young calves that are as new as being ridden as the boys are at riding. There will also be some other events and contests staged by the younger group of students.

It has been pointed out that one of the purposes of the day is to raise money for school athletic activities, also of the major purposes and aims of the committee is to afford an afternoon and evening of pleasant and enjoyable entertainment for all residents of the area. It is hoped that the spirit of "fun day" will be reflected in all of the day's activities and by all participants.

Babes High in Rate Of Passenger Deaths

Babies under the age of one year were killed more frequently last year in automobile accidents than almost any other age of passengers, it was revealed by an analysis of 1962 statistics by the Department of Public Safety.

The DPS reported that the only age to exceed infants in number of deaths resulting from automobile accidents were 19-year-old passengers.

In 1962, the Department said, a total of 44 babies under the age of one year were killed in car crashes, as compared to 48 19-year-old non-driving passengers. These two categories make up over 10 per cent of the total number of persons killed as passengers, with the infants accounting for almost five per cent of the overall total.

The study also revealed that 109 or 12 1/2 per cent of the total number of passengers killed during 1962 were of pre-school age.

Col. Homer Garrison Jr., DPS director said: "These statistics should be brought to the attention of every mother and father, since they point up a most tragic aspect of the frightening toll of human life on our streets and highways that has not heretofore been noticed. The need for extra precautions to protect little children in automobiles is obvious."

The analysis of the 1962 traffic situation by DPS Statistical Services brought to light these additional facts:

The 2421 motorcides were 107 or five per cent more than in 1961.

Motor vehicles traveled 94,907 miles each minute during the year, for a total of almost 50-billion miles.

The death rate increased from 48 deaths per hundred million miles in 1961 — the lowest in history — to 49 in 1962.

June was the deadliest month since November 1956. There were 258 motorcides in each month. Friday, June 1, took the greatest toll of any single day in the year with 22 fatalities.

Bridge Is Open To Trains Tuesday

Tuesday was the day for the first train over the new six-span railroad bridge at Devil's River in the Amistad Reservoir.

Laying the last 800 feet of the track at the east end of the bridge started Monday and was completed Friday, Joe Cruz, resident engineer for the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers, said this week.

"Painting of the bridge had been completed," Cruz stated, "and the signal and grading work had been finished. With the completion of that last 800 feet of track Friday, the structure was ready for Southern Pacific traffic to start April 23."

The huge bridge is 300 feet high, over all, the engineer said, with the bridge itself 235 feet above the water and the steel superstructure 65 feet higher at its highest point.

It stretches 2,250 feet in length and was built at a total cost of $5,000,000.

"The entire project, including the bridge, labor, signals, grading, and track, runs around $10,000,000," Cruz said.

With the opening of the new bridge, a railroad line in use since the 1880s was abandoned. The new train went over 14.2 miles of new mainline tracks. The railroad re-location was necessary to put the tracks above the ground to be inundated by the future lake to be formed by Amistad Dam. A two-mile siding called Amistad was also built, replacing two shorter sidings on the old route being abandoned.

Disability May Be Eligibility For SS Benefits

Visti your social security office if you want to learn about the benefits which may be your right if you are severely disabled. So suggests H. P. Thomas, district manager of social security in Odessa.

Some disabled workers and their families are not getting the social security benefits to which they are entitled because an application has not been filed by the disabled worker or by someone on his behalf. Whether the oversight is through ignorance of the law or because of carelessness, Thomas urges anyone to inquire at the Odessa Social Security Office if he is totally disabled, under age 64 1/2, and has worked under social security in at least 5 of the 10 years before the disability stopped him from working.

Many people who have become disabled have not made application and are losing cash disability insurance benefits. Furthermore, Manager Thomas adds, a disabled worker may be cheating his dependents of benefits they would be entitled to.

If you are unable to "engage in any substantial gainful activity" and have social security coverage in half of the 10-year period just before your injury or illness stopped you from working, phone or visit your social security office now. Nothing is lost by making the inquiry; whereas, delay may prove very costly — costly to you and your loved ones. Thomas, therefore, urges that if you become seriously disabled, you check with your social security office promptly as to your right to disability benefits.

A complete overhaul of the election code is due. Senate already has passed a bill correcting scores of errors in the old law, which was overhauled in haste in 1951.

House members amended the bill to eliminate the 'agent form' of paying poll taxes. Instead, prospective voters would have to go to the court house or get a deputy tax collector to certify qualification to vote.

House also refused to require county tax assessors to name civic workers as deputies.

Progress is slow on the proposals to abolish the poll tax as a prerequisite to voting.

Senators passed a proposed constitutional amendment to let the people say whether they want to keep the poll tax. But, after some delay, a House committee put it in subcommittee.

Meanwhile, the national constitutional amendment to outlaw the poll tax in election of President, Vice-President, Senators and Congressmen has been ratified by 30 states. When eight more ratify it, use of the poll tax would be out the window.

Sen. Abraham Kazen Jr. of Laredo envisions the possibility that the 1964 election could be held with state officers elected by poll tax holders, federal officials by everybody.

Shortest Session?
A modern-day record for short legislative sessions may be set if Lt. Gov. Preston Smith and Speaker Byron Tunnell can get legislators to wind up their business by May 7.

A May 7 adjournment has been filed. But the Constitution would allow them to work until May 27 if they can't finish by the 7th. Both houses have been making progress on "local and uncontested bill" days.

Big Bills Pending

Length of the legislative session hinges on the three biggest issues yet unsettled.

One is the House-passed tax bill to provide $32,000,000 to finance Gov. John B. Connally's higher education, tourist, and industry catching programs.

Then there's the appropriations bill, which is being worked out in conference committee headed by Sen. Grady Hazelwood of Amarillo and Rep. Bill Heatly of Paducah. It allocates the funds to each agency for spending during the next two years.

And there is the loan regulation bill, which Speaker Tunnell and Governor Connally consider a "must". It may be in trouble since the Senate bill, which mustered a bare majority, was changed considerably by a House subcommittee.

Rural Development Act

Rep. Joe Canno of Mexia told the House State Affairs Committee that Texas' rural counties are in "tremendous trouble" and need help from the state.

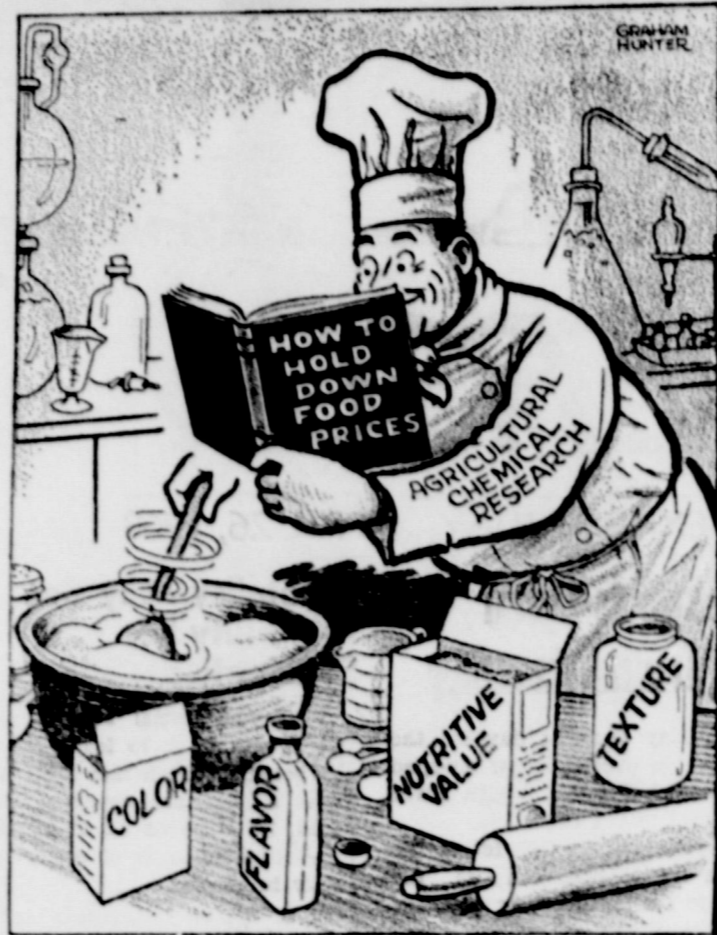

Canon appeared on behalf of his bill, co-sponsored by Rep. H. G. Wells of Tulsa, which would apply to nine-tenths of the counties in Texas. Specifically those with less than 45,000 population.

Bill would require State Comptroller to compile a list of the low-population counties and set up a rural development fund. It would be built up through a refund of two per cent of all taxes collected by these counties.

Rural development fund would provide about $2,000,000 annually that could be spent to lure industries to counties that lack money to advertise their attractions.

Drop-Outs Deadly
Some startling facts about the high school drop-out problem have been revealed by the Texas State Teachers Association. They stated that "drop outs face a dead end in a world where education and its skills in the employment field are becoming a necessity."

Victor Sumner of the Texas Education Agency predicted that in the next five years about one-years ago," Sumner stated.

Code of Ethics

Tighter rules over the private business activities of state officials has been the talk of the Capitol since William J. Murray Jr. resigned from the Railroad Commission. Murray said he had made more than $1,000,000 in oil deals while regulating that industry.

Rep. Bob Eckhardt of Houston, James Nugent of Kerrville, and Travis Peeler of Corpus Christi introduced a bill to outlaw investments by state officials in the fields which they regulate. Old Code of Ethics — passed in 1957 third of a million young Texans will leave high school between ninth grade and graduation.

He estimated this fatal step would cost these youngsters nearly $75,000,000,000 in lifetime income.

"People in the employment field tell me that the hard core of unemployment now is composed of drop-outs from 20 to 30 — merely called on them to disclose any such interests."

Rep. John Allen of Longview, chairman of the House State Affairs Committee, named a subcommittee to go over the bill — to tighten up the tightening up. He indicated that he will try to bring the bill out for House action quickly.

Bill would prohibit legislators from appearing for pay before state boards and commissions while they are considering appropriations which are the lifeblood of state agencies.

Murray Successor Speculation

Big guessing game these days is "Who will Connally appoint to fill Murray's place on the Railroad Commission?"

Eugene Locke, Wally Scott Jr. and Claude Brown, all three members of the State Democratic Executive Committee — have been mentioned. Also discussed have been U.S. Rep. Joe Kilgore and Secretary of State Crawford Martin.

Scott has withdrawn his name. Others who have oil or gas interests which would have to be divested before they could accept an appointment are expected to do the same.

also is perched on top of the slant-hole oil well investigations — is a hot seat.

House Bills

Beetles better beware if Conroe Rep. David Crews' bill to cause forest landowners to pay for their extermination becomes law.

Victoria Rep. Dick Cory's bill authorizing district judges to provide jurors' meals in the jury room, rather than dismiss them is ready for Governor Connally's signature.

House endorsed a bill to require school boards to advertise for competitive bids on purchases totaling $1,000 or more.

Kerrville Rep. Jim Nugent gained approval of his bill to set up strict supervision by the Secretary of State for charity fundraising organizations which solicit $10,000 or more a year.

Women's righters gained a small victory when the House passed bills, authored by Rep. George Cowden of Waco, to allow a woman to make contracts concerning her own property.

One of a series of reports by this newspaper and the Print Advertising Association on the advantages of print media

Don't you read before you buy?

Most people do. They count on advertising in print to give them the information they want on products that interest them—information on features... designs... and prices, for example. People not only read about products and services, they show ads to their family and friends; they clip coupons for information and samples; they tear out ads to take along when they go shopping.

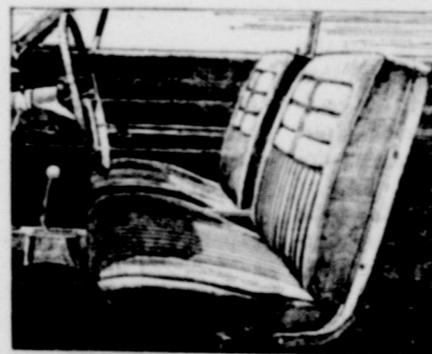

When you add it all up, print advertising—the kind you read in the pages of this newspaper—makes sense. And because it measures up to the buying habits of most consumers, print makes sales. Most people read—and then buy. Don't you?

Tangy sweet California raisins and rich chocolate are a flavorful combination in these bewitching Halloween cookies. Wrap them in twos or threes to surprise the trick or treaters on your block. Youngsters will also love to fill their sacks with little packs of raisins for an extra bonus. Little packs are 1 1/2 ounces each — a generous handful of naturally sweet fruit from the sun-drenched fields of California. They may be bought individually or in convenient bundles of six to keep on hand throughout the Halloween season.

One of a series of reports by this newspaper and the Print Advertising Association on the advantages of print media.

Don't you read before you buy?

Most people generally do. Not only do they read; they cut out and show ads to their family and friends; they clip coupons for information and samples. When people see an advertisement in print, they can compare designs, features, and prices of nationally known products and services. (And people do compare before they buy.) Advertising in print is a handy thing. You can always check back; the message is still there even if your attention is distracted. When you add it up, print advertising—the kind you read in this newspaper—makes sense. And because it measures up to the buying habits of most consumers, print makes sales.

of the ballot, rather than for two or three candidates.

Such "controlled" votes would be easier under the "no poll tax plan", since tightening the laws on the sale and purchase of the poll tax.

Now, lest some would say we are opposing equality, we must continue to say that equality is nothing more than fairness to one and all. When you talk of fairness to one and all you talk about the privileges of the voter and immediately the obligations of the voter come into the picture. Our privileges demand certain obligations. One of those is that if we are to have the privilege of voting, we should have the obligation of voting freely, intelligently, and honestly.

People who are charged with holding an election always have their hands full if they qualify themselves in knowing the laws concerning holding an election and then after qualification, in seeing that those laws are upheld. There is no prejudice involved in this, it is only fairness, honesty, and completely right under the law.

You can't beat fairness.

biggest of them all; the 570-foot San Jacinto Monument, commemorating decisive battle of Texas history; Gulf Coast Beaches, some of the finest in the world; the Alamo, "Cradle of Texas Liberty," and in the center of the state, Texas Longhorn Cavern, biggest cave in the state and third largest in the world, one of Texas' most spectacular natural wonders. Tuesday, October 16, was the only day during the year in which there were no fatal accidents.

During 1962 there were five accidents that killed seven persons each and three accidents that killed six each. In these eight accidents, there were 53 deaths.

On an average in Texas traffic during 1962, a person was killed every three hours and 37 minutes, a person was injured every three and one-half minutes and an accident occurred every 87 seconds.

The economic loss from traffic accidents in Texas is estimated to be $738.00 per minute.

Garrison pointed out that it is significant that in every single fatal accident in which more than one vehicle was involved there were one or more violations of Texas traffic laws. In the one-car accidents there were only 10 per cent of the total accidents in which no traffic violation occurred.

Driving too fast for conditions led the list of violations contributing to accidents, being listed as a causative factor in 51 per cent of the total accidents. Driving while drinking figured in 37 per cent of the fatal accidents, while being on the wrong side of the road was present in 17 per cent.
