VOLUME 56

The fact of the meeting of the chool board for the purpose of ensidering the budget for next chool year is printed in other plumns of The Times. Because a this fact, we thought it interesting to consider some of the hings about which we do not hink too often.

That is the workings of one of he largest businesses in the ounty - the school system.

Almost $300,000.00 is spend w the county's school system in is operation and it is amazing to know and to understand how the money is derived and allocated, and eventually spent. It is a very revealing thing, too.

It is not an unnusual thing for te county school system to wind p the year in the red and with me local or out-of-town merhants holding on to a bill until he next year's funds come in, or are given a check that causs the school to be overdrawn at the barrk.

But it appears that the new budget will be a "black" budget and that the operation of the school will be within the revmue. And we think this is a fine thing and we like to see it done s often as possible.

This, too, without any increase in taxes, but a slight increase in revenue in the county's list of taxable properties.

We have heard hints of a proused raise in taxes for next year and even one outright statement of the inevitable need for a raise a taxes to take care of the pro-

Velez Infant Not Typhoid Case, Doctor Reports

Infant Jose Velez was not a victim of typhoid fever, according to information received this week from Dr. John W. Pate, attending physician in Alpine where the baby was hospitalized for observation and treatment.

The information came following an extensive period of tests and examinations and is given for the benefit of all who had received information that the child did have typhoid

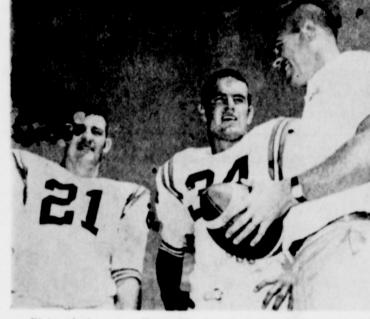

The Times published information last week that the infant was a typhoid fever case because all information available at that time pointed to typhoid, according to the attending physicians, and the case was treated as such until positive diagnosis could be made, due to the outbreak of two cases here previously in the past few weeks

A two and one-half inch rain fell in Sanderson Sunday afternoon late in just over an hour. The rain put water up. curb high on main street, but there was no damage reported from the water locally.

The heaviest rain was limited generally to Sanderson only with less than one inch of rain reported from all ranchers who received any of the moisture.

Rainfall has been reported almost daily for the past several days from the north part of the county, but the souh and souheastern parts of the county are probably the driest with the dryness continuing northward in the eastern part of the county. Cool weather and cloudy skies has continued since Sunday with some parts of the county receiving additional moisture since

New Program For Girl Scouts Begins This Year

ANDERSON I IMES

There is a brand new look in Girl Scouting! When the local Girl Scouts resume their troop activities this month they, like their sister Scouts all across he counry, will be starting out with a new design in Girl Scout program.

For the girls themselves, there are two changes which will be most apparent at first: the four new age levels into which their troops are divided and the new names for two of these age levels While the general age range for Girl Scouts remains the same as always (7 through 17 years), the groupings within this range have been reorganized. Brownie Girl Scouts are 7 and 8 year olds (grades 2, 3); Junior Girl Scouts are 9, 10, and 11 (grades 4, 5, 6); Cadette Girl Scouts are 12, 13, 14 (grades 7, 8, 9); Senior Girl Scouts are 15, 16, and 17 (grades 10, 11, 12). Each girl will wear the distinctive uniform of her own age level and will use the new handbook especially design ed for her group.

Each of the new age groupings represents one stage of a girl's development. Brownie Scout ac tivities appeal to the imagination. curiosity and need-to-be-needed of the seven and eight year-olds. Junior Scouts want to make and do more things on their own, to explore and experiment. As young adolescents, Cadettes are becoming more aware of themselves as individuals; they begin to examine values, to seek their own identity through wider social relationships and expanded interests. Senior Scouts, on the

Graveside Rites Here Saturday For C. Roy Chandler

Graveside rites were held here Saturday afternoon for Charles Roy Chandler, 58, a retired ranchmen who lived on the Pecos River north of Dryden. Mr. Chandler died Thursday morning in the Rankin hospital after a long illness. Burial was in Cedar Grove Cemetery, Rev. W. C. Pearce of Sheffield officiated at the rites.

Chandler was born February 18, 1905, and had lived on the Chandler ranch since he was one year old.

Funeral services were held Saturday morning at the Mother Holmes Baptist Church in Sheffield.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Frances Chandler; a son, Charles Roy Chandler Jr., San Jose, Calif.; his mother, Mrs. Minerva Chandler of Kerrville; three brothers, Clarence, Herman, and Joe Chandler, all of Independence Creek; two sisters, Mrs. Iva Brooks of San Angelo and Mrs. Alvin McGilvary of

The Eagles showed their powthe Class AA Alpine Bucks here er early in the game, when, aflast Friday night and won over ter taking the opening kickoff, scored in eight plays. John Ed Robbins, Eagle halfback, carried over from the 4-yard line for the score. The try for the extra points, a running play with Robbins in possession, failed.

NUMBER 33

The second Eagle score was in the second period when Robbins scored again from the 16-yard line. His try for the extra two again was no good.

In the same period, Eraclio Espinosa, for the Bucks, went over from about the 2-yard line. The Bucks tried a placement kick for one extra point and it failed.

The third period was scoreless. In the final frame, the Eagles worked the ball down to within inches of the goal line and Robbins again got the honors by going over the goal line. A pass play failed to net the two extra points.

Late in the final period the Alpine Buck quarterback, went back deep to pass and was tackled behind his own goal line to earn a safety for the Eagles and the two points, which rounded out the scoring for the evening.

Sanderson was rusty on ball handling in some plays of the game, resulting in fumbles on several occasions, but there were few other miscues in assignments in offensive plays that made any reciable difference in the an pearance or effectiveness of the team. Some stalwart front line work was accomplished by the defensive team, causing some concern to the offensive efforts of the Bucks.

The preparation of a realistic budget of this kind - within the current tax structure of the county - it seems would take some careful planning on the part of those responsible for the action. the careful stewardship of the supplies, and funds, and a sense of dedication to one's duties.

The Times is going to make a statement that sounds like an apology, but really is not: We are sorry for any inconvenience caused by the consideration of an illness as a case of typhoid at the time that Jose Velez was hospitalized in Alpine.

All of the people connected with the case had every reason to believe that there was a strong indication that the illness was typhoid at the time, and due to the association of the child with a positive case of typhoid, there was no reason to think that it might not be until it was proven not to be.

We believe that everyone acted in good faith, the news was so reported to us and we passed it on to the readers for what benefit it might have been to them. The best thing and the thing we are most grateful for is the fact that the child did not have typhoid fever. Certainly there was some inconvenience to them and inconvenience to all others. to a lesser degree, but it was al! in the best of intentions.

The budget, which has been

Supt. Richardson stated that the above figures were slightly higher than the original 1961-62 budget, but less than the amended budget of August 1, 1963, for the current school year.

The original budget, set up for the current term of school was $286,741.00. This figure was amended, he said, on August 1 of this year to $291,610.00, to take care of some $5,00.00 of expenses left over from last year's operation and budget, and some work that was done during the summer, including the installation of new steam lines from the junior high school to the high school, the refinishing of desks, work on the Lamar Ward School for its conversion into a band hall, etc.

Richardson also pointed out that the estimated income of the school district last year was $282,352.00, $4,389.00 less than the budget.

The budget for next year, and the estimated income for next year will give the school district a balanced budget, with a slight cushion to take care of any emergencies that are not taken care of in the budget, and which may or may not arise.

It aims to bring a richer and more meaningful Scouting experience to a larger number of girls while it keeps intact the fundamental principles on which the movement was founded more than 50 years ago.

Throughout its history, a major tool in activating this expanded program is the four new Girl Scout Handsbook and Leader Notebook series, published simultaneously this summer. For the first time in the 50-year history of Girl Scouting, the entire program for two and one-half million girl members has been researched, analyzed, redesigned. redeveloped, and rewritten. Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. is the first organization to have done a complete redevelopment of its youth program. The results, these handbooks provide a bridge of constructive, creative guideposts for fun and learning, and will cerainly become the prized possession of every Girl Scout and avaluable reference for all those interested in youth.
