LISTEN TO LUKE

In the Nov. 5 Congressional Record there appeared one of the most interesting stories for the youth of America. We are reproducing it in hopes that other youth groups will be inspired to participate in these contests and be able to know more about the American way of life and about their responsibilities in government. Sen. Vance Hartke of Indiana received this short essay from 16-year old Rick Cannon of Elwood, Ind., and asked the Senate for consent to have the essay printed in the Record.

The essay had won the Nathan Hale Youth Award in Indiana and also the Freedoms Foundation George Washington Medal and $100. Last year Rick was 2nd place winner in the State American Legion contest, and last April won the National Catholic Welfare Conference oratorical contest.

Here is the copy of the essay as printed in the Congressional Record: "Our American Heritage, by Rick Cannon"

"Do you have a family heirloom in your house? One that you have treasured through the years, perhaps an old uniform your grandfather wore at Gettysburg, or maybe a tarnished helmet from World War I, or is it a faded Bible with a record of family milestones, its yellowed pages worn at the edges through years of use."

You know that as an American citizen you share a priceless heirloom with 190 million other Americans — our Constitution of the United States of America.

Just what is this Constitution of the United States? It is the great imperishable credo that built the strong, united, proud America we live in today. It had its beginnings in many lands in the hearts of your ancestors and mine when they dreamed of leaving their children a secure future. And they willingly gave of themselves to insure it.

"Nothing can triumph unless it has met a challenge successfully, or righted a violation. Our Constitution has met challenges and righted violations not once or twice, but hundreds of times. And each time it has triumphed, it has become more treasured."

"But too often the Constitution of the United States is considered just a code of laws, remote and impersonal, lying in the Archives in Washington. And the phrases we hear 'Guarantee of freedom, bulwark of strength, hope of the Nation,' these are impersonal, too."

"Actually the Constitution is simple and direct and personal. Yes, our Constitution is a credo of freedom for every American from all time and for all time — freedom that can be best compared to the air we breathe. Only when we are deprived of it do we realize that it is the essence of life."

Hospital Bond Vote Fails By Only 4-Vote Margin

The Terrell County vote for or against the issuance of $140,000 in bonds for the construction and maintenance of a hospital in the county failed by a 4-vote margin last Saturday.

The rural vote in the county was strongly opposed to the issue with Sanderson going decidedly in favor.

Other voting in the county was on four proposed constitutional amendments, only one of which got county-wide favor, that of the proposed increase in welfare payments.

The poll tax repeal issue failed to pass locally by a decisive margin, while the Jefferson County pensions issue — not affecting the taxpayers or voters of Terrell County — did not carry locally, as did the veterans land fund increase proposal.

The tabulations on the issues follows, showing voting in each precinct, in absentee ballots, and the total votes for and against each issue.

Proper Managing Is The Answer To Drouth's Ravages

by W. O. Ray
Soil Conservation Specialist

Frequent drouths in the Trans-Pecos area of Texas over the past few years have greatly reduced the number of livestock that can be carried on the range. There is, however, an insurance against drouth which will actually increase carrying capacity at the same time.

Managing rangeland from a conservation standpoint brings about a higher type of vegetation which is considerably more tolerant to drouth and provides an abundance of winter forage.

Generally speaking, if about half of the most predominant grass is removed each year, the better grasses will begin to increase. In order to harvest no more than half of the predominant forage may call for a slight reduction in livestock numbers temporarily. However, this reduction is compensated for in reduced feed bills due to less livestock, an increase in percentage of lambs, due to a better condition of breeding ewes, and heavier lambs and wool clip.

Proper management should be determined from now through the end of winter. Choose a predominant grass and determine whether or not approximately 50 per cent of the forage is being removed.

Vets' Day Observed Here Monday With Memorial Service

Veterans Day was observed by the Clarence Hallie Mulkey Post No. 166 American Legion and other local citizens at a memorial service at the high school auditorium Monday morning.

Speaker for the occasion was Pete E. Turner, Midland, past commander of the American Legion Department of Texas, who has spoken at various functions in Sanderson over the past four years.

High school and junior high school students attended the observance, along with other interested citizens.

Turner told of the cost of winning and holding freedom throughout the life of this nation and of the number of lives that had been lost to preserve our freedom. Tribute was paid to the men who lost their lives and made great sacrifices, but he also impressed the audience with their responsibility to "take care lest we lose what we have tried to save."

"In this service today," he said, "we are not dedicating a monument, a building, or even a day on the calendar. We are in some feeble effort, dedicating a civilization made possible by the sacrifice of a billion lives or more. In a greater sense, we cannot dedicate, we cannot consecrate, we can only speak of those who, in God's wisdom, have kept for us over the centuries, the principle of freedom."

"The New Frontier offers us culture and entertainment, security and welfare and more socialism. The heritage earned by our people and proved over and over again from Valley Forge to Korea is being squandered in appeasement to international Communism. Our leaders rush forward to embrace our enemy, knowing that each time this is done, freedom is lost someplace the enemy fill their larders from the wheat and corn of capitalist America — they gain a reputation of world acceptance by American recognition and diplomatic relations. They build their war machine with United States dollars. The spirit that gave us victory has had an enemy in its household for more than 30 years."

Mr. Turner noted that the challenge facing us today is to face the personal and direct responsibility of the highest standards of citizenship and patriotism if we are to meet the threat of international and domestic Communism.

The program was opened with the invocation by W. L. Lafleur, minister of the Church of Christ. The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag was led by W. H. Savage, followed by a moment of silent prayer. Then the Legion firing squad gave a three-gun salute which was followed by the sounding of "Taps" by Bobby Hatchel.

L. H. Gilbreath introduced the principal speaker.

Benediction by Rev. Miller Stroup, minister of the First Methodist Church, closed the service.

The placing of the wreath on the War Mother's Memorial was by J. L. Whistler, after which L. R. Hall, post chaplain, pronounced the benediction to end the day's observance.

Sanderson's scores came in the second, third, and last periods on 50, 37, and 10 yard runs by John Ed Robbins, with the two extra points coming after the first and last touchdowns.

Iraan's scores were in the same periods with Sanderson's, but the Braves doubled up in the final frame to get the winning margin. They made the extra two points after each of the TDs.

Sanderson was short of first downs in comparison with Iraan, but led in total yards rushing and passing.

The Eagles intercepted two of the Braves passes and had only two five-yard penalties during the game.

The last game of the season for the Eagles will be in Ozona Friday night. Ozona previously won over Iraan, their only win of the season.

WANTED BY THE FBI

EDWARD HOWARD MAPS

Edward Howard Maps, "beatnik," firearms expert, college graduate, artist and sculptor, who is charged with brutally slaying his wife and four-month-old daughter, is one of the FBI's "Ten Most Wanted Fugitives."

Firemen attempting to extinguish a blaze in Maps' Stroudsburg, Pennsylvania, home on January 21, 1962, found the infant dead of smoke inhalation, and Maps' young wife dying of a fractured skull and cerebral hemorrhage. At least ten fires had been set in the home and the gas oven was turned on.

Maps was missing but allegedly telephoned two neighbors shortly after the crimes were discovered, threatening one with being "next." A Federal warrant charging Maps with unlawful interstate flight to avoid prosecution for murder and arson was issued on January 23, 1962, at Scranton, Pennsylvania.

Generally known as an artist and sculptor, he is a nonconformist who shuns ordinary footwear, going barefoot in the summer and wearing sandals without socks during the winter. A sloppy dresser of unkempt and untidy appearance, he was discharged from the Marine Corps as a schizophrenic.

A white American, born on June 29, 1922, at Passaic, New Jersey, Maps is 5' 8" tall, weighs 170 pounds, has a ruddy complexion, broad shoulders, a barrel-chested build and is unusually strong. His eyes are brown, he has bushy, curly graying-black hair and sometimes wears a full beard and mustache.

Consider Maps armed and extremely dangerous. Please immediately notify the nearest FBI office of any information concerning his whereabouts.

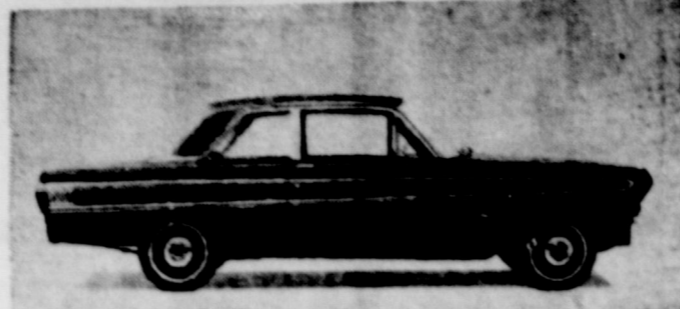

Requirements for Aliens From Mexico Is Changed

Changes in the requirements to be met by employers importing Mexican Aliens for visas to enter the U. S. as permanent residents were announced by Joe Wolf, office manager of the Pecos office of the Texas Employment Commission.

Effective at once, the employer must present a new form, Form MEX II (B), to the Employment Commission office. The form will be issued by the American Consulate to Mexican aliens applying for permanent immigrant visas. Form MEX II (B) is not given to the alien by the consulate until his turn on the waiting list has been reached. When the alien receives this form, he has 120 days in which to submit documentary materials pertinent to obtaining his visa. The alien is advised by the consulate under the new arrangement to forward a copy of the form which is stamped and dated, to his sponsoring employer. On the form, in addition to the name of the alien, is a "Note to Employer", informing him that the form must be presented to the Employment Commission office serving his area. The employer must appear and present the form to the Commission office to get a set of ES-320, Alien Immigration Job Offer Endorsement Record forms for use in applying for TEC clearance. The only exception is that when the employer lives a long distance from the local office, he may send the MEX II (B) form to the office by mail.

This change was brought about since there were too many forms in circulation. In some cases, the alien did not have a visa application on file; in other cases, the employer took the initiative in obtaining the form long before the alien's name came up for consideration. Since the job offer Form ES-320 is good only for six months, new forms had to be prepared by the time the consulate was ready to process the application and issue a visa.

Although it retains its handy compact size, the Ford Falcon has an exciting new look of action for 1964. Completely restyled for the first time since its introduction four years ago, the new Falcon offers added comfort inside, improved economy and a softer, big-car ride. Both tall and short drivers will find the visibility improved and the seating position more comfortable. The Falcon matches its look of action with a choice of engines ranging from the economical 144-cubic-inch six-cylinder to the high performance 260-cubic-inch V-8. The Falcon has the widest model choice in the compact field with 17 models in five series including 2- and 4-door sedans, hardtops, sports coupes, convertibles, station wagons and the Station Bus, Club Wagon and Deluxe Club Wagon.

Employers also are reminded that there is no priority in issuing visas, according to the job needs. Priorities are issued only in family matters. If a resident alien or U. S. citizen wants to bring in a parent, spouse or child under 21, he can get priority at the consulate, provided he can show a job, offer or earnings that would prevent the alien from becoming a public charge.

TEC endorses the employer's application only after determining the individual making the job offer is the actual employer, the job is not temporary in character, and after determining if the alien admission would have an adverse effect on jobs of U. S. citizens.

"In a day this freedom may be lost for centuries. Or without our noticing, it may be slowly nibbled away. Neither Congress, nor the Supreme Court, nor the President of the United States can preserve our national heritage for us. This is the precious right and privilege and duty of every American.

"I am a teenager who has never known the horrors of war or depression. I am soft. I live in a prosperous nation in a comfortable home. And I am not unusual. There are millions of young adults like me.

One of the most critical problems facing America today could well be, 'How can our teenagers preserve the Constitution?' We must learn to study, to evaluate to think beyond ourselves. This is the first step.

I grew up hearing over and over how the Constitution was founded - how great it is - how strong it is - but I had never thought of it as being alive and belonging to me personally. But I do now. And I am grateful to groups like you who encourage student research and thought. You are challenging us teenagers to think beyond ourselves, and this is the first step toward our growing into responsible adults."
