Ted Williams Hits Sport Jackpot

Baseball immortal Ted Williams (right) accepts congratulations amid the trophies from his "Sportsman's Marathon" in New Zealand, during which he landed a 587-pound thresher shark, caught a three-pound rainbow trout and felled two deer — all in ten hours and 25 minutes. In the background is the elaborately carved entrance to the Maori model village at Rotorua, on New Zealand's North Island. The marathon was sponsored by the New Zealand tourist office to dramatize the sporting opportunities available in a compact area. Annual competition is planned in which teams from various countries will seek to better Williams' record.

New Post Office To Be Ready For May 1 Occupancy

The completion of the post office building for Sanderson will be before May 1, according to J. R. Hodgkins, postmaster. He said that it was not certain that occupancy of the new building would begin on that date.

It was learned that the new boxes for the new building had not been shipped on April 21 from the east coast and there was a possibility that the boxes now in use would be moved to the new building until the arrival and installation of the new boxes, or that the post office would remain in its present location until the arrival and installation of the new boxes.

All other phases of construction will have been completed before that time.

Damage From Lightning, Wind Last Thursday

Good reports of moisture came from all sections of the county following the downpour last Thursday night which left about 3.0-inch of moisture in local rain gauges.

Some heavy damage was reported by wind, hail, and lightning.

A shearing crew which had taken refuge in a trailer during the rains at the Goode ranch in the eastern part of the county was stunned and two were hospitalized after lightning struck the trailer. A dog beneath the trailer was killed instantly.

One of the men was said to have had one eye literally knocked out of the socket when the bolt of lightning hit the trailer. He and a companion were knocked unconscious and taken to an Iraan hospital for treatment. It has been reported that one is in serious condition.

High winds unroofed the house on the Henshaw place south of Dryden, causing extensive damage to that structure. There was also some report of hail killing many goats on the John Harrison ranch.

Some damage was also reported to livestock by hail on the Clarence Jessup ranch in the north part of the county.

Rains up to two inches have been reported from some parts of the county, with ranges of .40 to 2 inches on some ranches.

LISTEN TO LUKE

Any one who tries to figure out an election, past or future, asking for a pack of trouble. We have never been guilty of diagnosing events gone, let alone prognosticating on these yet to come.

Some inferences seem to be indicated in some elections, and one can always draw some conclusions — warranted or not, by the outcome of an election.

What all this is leading up to is the lack of interest apparent by the lack of numbers of absentee voters in the Democratic Primary.

One might assume that there is as much more interest in the school board election. This would indicate that the majority of the people think that it is more important to vote in the school race than in party primaries.

We are of the opinion that one is as important as another. There are wide differences in the several jobs up for grabs in the primary, and as much difference between any one of them and a school board slot. But all are vital and necessary and all should merit the complete duty of the citizen who is sure to vote in all elections.

We think that interest in all of the races should be based on the importance of participation in the selection of our officials and not use the ballot boxes or election day as a battleground to settle our differences.

More and more we see more and more of the efforts of different people in their clean-up campaigns.

It is encouraging and comforting to see these worthwhile efforts.

There is a little boom of con-

Clean-Up Drive Gets Boost By Junk, Trash Pickup

The Terrell County Chamber of Commerce's clean-up drive got a boost this week with the promise of trash and junk pickup by county employees at the homes of infirm or senior citizens.

County Commissioner F. M. Weigand stated that any infirm or senior citizen who had trash or junk near the trash can and wished it hauled away, to call him so that arrangements could be made to pick up the refuse.

Weigand stated that the men would not go into a yard and clean it up, but that where an accumulation of trash or junk was in the vicinity of the trash can and infirmities prevented the owner's moving it to the pick-up place, that the employees would pick it up if they were asked to do so and directed as to what was to be hauled off.

J. R. Coker, maintenance supervisor for the Texas Highway Department, has asked that citizens be particularly careful and help with the clean-up drive by not throwing anything out in the highway right-of-way. He said that a lot of money and effort was spent every year in Terrell County alone by picking up trash and litter that had been thrown out.

Beer cans and bottles account for most of the litter, according to Mr. Coker, and these are left beside the highway in bunches signifying the littering being done by local people.

Kerr Mercantile Is Burglarized Tuesday Night

The Kerr Mercantile Company was burglarized again during the night Tuesday, according to Edward Kerr, manager of the business. The extent of the loss of merchandise has not been determined.

Entry into the store was gained by breaking out a window on the east side of the building above the awning. The window was an opening into the director's room.

The person or persons entering the building climbed up on to the awning to break the window.

The burglary was not discovered until employees came to open up Wednesday morning.

Some Services Not Available At PO Saturdays

The limited adjustments in some postal services ordered in Washington March 10 by Postmaster John A. Gronouski to save $12.7 million will begin to take effect in Sanderson and other cities May 4, Postmaster J. R. Hodgkins said today.

Service changes planned locally include the following, Mr. Hodgkins stated:

1. Postal money orders will not be available on Saturdays.
2. Processing of insurance claims on parcel post cannot be done on Saturdays.
3. Postage meter settings will not be available on Saturdays.
4. Post office box rentals cannot be accepted on Saturdays.

We will continue to open out window on Saturdays from 8:00 a.m. until 12:00 noon for the sale of postage stamps, delivery of parcel post packages, and C.O.D. packages, Hodgkins stated.

"We believe the above changes will not seriously effect the postal patrons of Sanderson and will at the same time reduce the cost of operations of our post office. The citizens of Sanderson have always been ready to cooperate on large scale projects and we hope no great inconvenience is caused anyone by these changes," Mr. Hodgkins said.

The postmaster emphasized that no essential major services are affected under the orders. There will be no change in special delivery mail for example Letters and other first class mail will be handled with the same priority as ever.

"The economy step," Hodgkins explained, "is in line with President Johnson's program under which the recent Federal income tax cut was provided."

Workshop For Masons Slated For This Friday

A workshop for all local Masons will be at the local Masonic Hall Friday night at 7:30.

F. J. Howard, master of the Sanderson lodge, stated that all Masons were urged to attend that meeting, but it was specifically for the officers.

Braves Win Two Baseball Games

The Sanderson Braves won both ends of a double-header here Sunday when they met the team from Rositas, Coahuila Mexico.

In the first game, Rodriguez did the mound duty for the Braves and held the opponents to two runs while the home-townners brought in six tallies.

Celestino Fuentes held the Mexican team for a complete shut-out ending the game with a 10-0 score. Fuentes had 14 strikeouts to his credit besides hitting a home run to aid the Braves cause.

The Braves will meet a team from Ozona here Sunday, according to Julian Martinez, sponsor for the locals. The Ozona aggregation has promise of stiffer competition, according to Martinez.

Only 13 Vote Absentee To Dale

Only 13 persons had voted absentee Tuesday of this week, according to Ruel Adams, county clerk. The small number, two of whom are in another precinct indicates a lesser interest that was displayed in the school board election three weeks ago.

The last day for voting absentee is April 28, Tuesday of next week.

Local, county, district, state and national officers are to be elected this year, many of whom will be virtually elected by receiving the Democratic nomination, which is tantamount to election where there is no contestant on an opposing ballot.

All interested citizens are urged to go out and vote absentee if they are planning to be out of town on Saturday, May 2, the date of the Democratic Primary.

Fifteen Students Hear Talk On County Government

Fifteen students who had been named as various officials in "government week" at the local high school were at the courthouse Saturday morning to hear talks by various county officials.

Following the morning's sessions, the entire group was guests at a luncheon served by the Legion Auxiliary at the Legion Hall.

Mrs. C. P. Peavy, president of the Auxiliary, welcomed the group and introduced those present. Several of the students expressed their gratitude to the sponsoring organization and to the county officials for their cooperation in the program.

The students present were: Charles Riggs, Linda Babb, Bob by Hatchel, Cookie Felts, Pixie Mansfield, Tato Casillas, Billy Garza, Emma Castro, Ricky Felts Travis Harkins, Johnnie Winn Beulah Winn, Irma Galvan, and Jodie Kay Tronson.

Local Pipe Line Is Completed

The pipe line to bring water into Sanderson from the newly-acquired McCue wells, was finished this week and work is expected to start soon on the installation of pumps and the construction of the pump house and storage tanks.

The concrete-lined six-inch transmission lines are buried 36 inches deep and run from the wells to the location of the booster station.

Contracts for the balance of the work to bring the water into town have been signed and processed and the completion is now awaiting the contractors the water board officials say.

Construction going on in Sanderson. About half dozen or more projects of new building or major renovation or improvement are under way here, and for Sanderson that is a boom.

We are happy to see those expressions of permanence on the part of our citizens.

Measles has really hit the attendance records at the schools and is causing a lot of discomfort and some pretty sick little kiddos over the county.

And we hear now that chicken pox is right behind and spreading fast.

The rain of last week was a welcome sight and occurrence to all of the people of this area. The tragedy of loss of life, member livestock, or property, is unfortunate, however, and to a degree spoils the jubilation of such an event.

The loss of property and livestock would have been great indeed, if we did not have rain so we pretty well even up the ledger in a way.

In Appreciation

The local Girl Scout organization would like to express appreciation to all who during the past year have given memorial donations. Thank you.

License Plates Due Change For Next Year

The production of the 1965 license tags has been under way since prior to the deadline for purchasing the current plates.

The plates are manufactured by the Texas Department of Corrections in Huntsville under an inter-agency agreement with the Texas Highway Department. The Highway Department provides the design and materials specifications for plates, maintains inspections, and accept delivery within the plant.

Inmates of the Department of Corrections finished the '64 license plates by January 30. After a 30-day period for spring cleaning, the tag plant is known as the "show place of the prison plants" inmates started turning out those plates for next year.

The 1965 plates will have a "new look," according to R. W. Townsley, Director of the Highway Department's Motor Vehicle Division, which is located in Austin.

Each passenger plate will have three letters and three digits (i.e. AAA 111) instead of the usual two and four combination. Studies show this combination can be perceived quickly and accurately with little difficulty. (Commercial and miscellaneous vehicles will retain their own special registration system.)

By adopting a new license numbering system, the Highway Department will be better able to cope with the rising registration rate. Since World War II approximately a quarter-million more vehicles have been registered yearly by the Department. This trend should continue.

Because of the spiraling registration rate, Texas was about to exhaust its license number combinations. Taking stock, Department officials decided to revamp its system. After careful consideration, the three-letter prefix English System was adopted. It is known as the English System because it has been used in that country for more than 20 years. This is the only system yet devised which will handle adequately the number of passenger vehicles to be registered in Texas in forthcoming years.

Using all 26 letters of the alphabet as part of the prefix, the system provides as many as 17 1-2 million possible combinations. To fit its own needs, however Texas has modified the system. Only 20 letters will be used. Besides "Q" the vowels will be eliminated to avoid possible formation of undesirable words. For obvious reasons, letter combination prefixes of "LBJ" and "JFK" will also be eliminated. Although the modification reduces the prefix possibilities to around eight million, this system should produce enough numbers for passenger plates for the next 10 to 15 years.

The predicted registration increase has had another effect on plate production. Although production of plates has been a year-round operation, prison inmates — thanks to automation — may be finished sooner than usual this year. With an eye to the future, the Highway Department installed two new presses. The presses emboss two sets of plates at once and will be well able to cope with the growing demand.

The presses — and processing of plates — will proceed at top speed anyway this year, so that prison inmates will be able to expand their industrial endeavors. If the inmates finish processing the '65 plates before the year is out, they will devote their time and equipment to the other industries.

Naturally, when you call Grandmother's phone, that's the one you expect to get, and you do. But that's not as easy as it sounds.

Your call must work its way through all sorts of interconnections, wires, cables, switches and so forth until, finally, it picks the right phone out of some 83 million in the U.S.

Yet, out of all the possible chances for mistakes, your call goes where you send it . . . in town or out-of-town, to Grandmother, wherever she is. This sort of reliability is the result of service improvements that keep increasing the convenience and personal value of your telephone.

State Capitol NEWS

By Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association

Austin — Only the upper 25 per cent of Texas high school graduates ought to be taken in the state's top universities, the Governor's Committee on Education Beyond the High School has been told.

A sub-committee also informed the panel that some type of higher education must be made available to all and there is an urgent need for general upgrading of the college system. Enrollments must be built up, dropouts reduced and standards steadily improved, the study group heard at a meeting last week.

Court Speaks

State Supreme Court upheld lower court decisions that approval of $65,000,000 Millican Dam on the Navasota River is final.

Grimes and Brazos County landowners challenged feasibility of the big federal project.

High Court also held an East Texas oilman, Austin Stewart can keep on operating two slant-oil wells that bottom under his own property. Decision overturned a district court order which had knocked out a Railroad Commission order permitting Stewart to produce from the wells.

Juvenile Program Improving

Texas Youth Council reports that there has been a sharp and welcome drop in the number of repeaters among juvenile offenders sent to Gatesville, Gainesville and Crockett correctional schools.

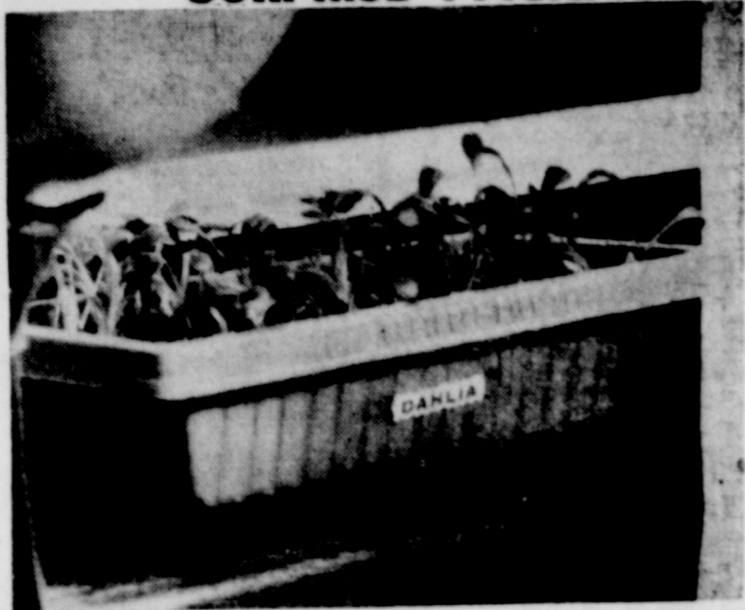

In the fall of 1961, the rate of returnees was 45 per cent. Then the 1961 Legislature appropriated funds for expansion and improvement of school facilities and for five council parole officers. By August, 1963, the return rate was down to 29 per cent and youth council spokesmen say they hope to hold this since the parole personnel was increased to 20 last month.

Rev. Clint Kersey, council parole supervisor, said, "We believe that by an increased stay we can keep them in school. Then when they are paroled they are better able to adjust and hold a job, and that cuts the chance of return."

Screwworm Appropriation Asked

SURPRISE PACKAGE

Although this planter is clearly marked "Dahlia" it still is a surprise package as is also the packet of seed from which the dahlia seedlings were grown. For the flowers of dahlias grown from seeds may be of several forms and of many colors.

Here are some "samples" of the surprises you may find in your packet or planter of dahlias. Three different flower colors are represented. They might be red, yellow, white or salmon, orange and pink. Flowers shown are semi-double but often single or double forms appear. Surprises always come when blooms unfold in late summer on 3-foot, bushy plants.

Gov. Connally has requested a $5,500,000 congressional appropriation for continued protection against the screwworm menace.

While southwestern states, the livestock producers and sportsmen have financed over half of the $12,000,000 program to date Connally said, it is now an international matter and should be financed by the U.S. without local matching funds.

The state, producers, and sportsmen would continue to provide inspection, survey and other services in the U.S.

Oil Field Brine

The Texas Water Pollution Control Board scheduled a hearing for July 1 at 9:00 a.m. on its order prohibiting the surface disposal of oil field brine in Area II of the Ogallala formation — the Middle High Plains. All Area II permit holders are to appear at the hearing and show cause why their permits should not be amended to conform to the no-pit order.

Court Reforms

cial Selection, Tenure and Ad-U. S. Supreme Court Justice Tom Clark came to Austin for the Texas Conference on Judicial Selection, Tenure and Administration, sponsored by the State Bar of Texas.

Two hundred and fifty lawyers, judges and laymen talked about how to improve the Texas judicial system.

Court organization and administration, and judicial selection tenure, retirement, discipline and removal were discussed. Lawyers and judges from a dozen other states where court reforms have been enacted participated.

Aging

Governor Connally revealed that 1,400 of the 3,500 senile patients in state mental hospitals have been moved to private nursing homes in the last year.

He told his Committee on Aging that this is one method being used to better the lot of older, ill persons. Many have been sent to mental hospitals because there was no place else to go. But under the new Federal state program of paying nursing home costs of the ailing aged these not really mentally ill, can be taken out of the state hospitals.

He urged the committee to find further ways of bettering the lot of older Texans.

Higher Education

Texas Commission on Higher Education allocated $3,980,000 in appropriation to meet student enrollment increases in the 23 state-supported senior colleges for the coming school year.

At the same time, the Commission took a step toward higher standards in the state colleges when it moved to abolish state financial support for "questionable" or "frill" college courses including:

1. Courses not counted toward graduation requirements;
2. Tour or travel courses;
3. Certain "work experience" courses;
4. Dramatic and forensic activities not in regularly organized classes;
5. Courses devoted exclusively to learning operation of one of two simple business machines;
6. Social or self-improvement courses;
7. Remedial courses on high school level not carrying college credit;
8. Orientation courses aimed at counseling or guidance of freshmen students.

Commission approved recommendations to strengthen graduate and research programs in the North Texas area and authorized new third and fourth-year courses for Angelo State College in San Angelo.

Courts Speak

Fifty-third District Judge Herman Jones granted the first injunction sought by the state to enforce the new small loan act.

Action was against E. L. Parker, operator of an Austin liquor store, whom Regulatory Loan Commissioner Frank Miskell alleged was lending money at rates in excess of 10 per cent without obtaining the required state license.

State Supreme Court knocked out a state law granting a land owner, whose property is surrounded by another's right of way across the neighbor's land. It's decision, overturning lower courts, denied Baylor County rancher Wilmer Cleghorn authority to a road through the property. —Continued to Page 11

if you have a great transmission.

Buick has a great transmission.

An automobile transmission, we grant you, isn't the most soul-stirring subject on earth. Nothing to look at either. But if you'd like for your next new car to give you a better break on performance and gasoline mileage, something happened last week to be your guide.

The Los Angeles to New York Mobil Economy Run proved one thing for sure. There's quite a difference in the transmissions of new cars.

Three out of four for Buick

The long-time champion in the transmission league—Buick—walked off with the 1964 economy pennant. No other single make of car won as many events as Buick. Four entries, three winners.

The winning Special carried the new Super Turbine 300 automatic transmission; the LeSabre was equipped with the Super Turbine 400 (both optional at extra cost). They're the latest in a long line of Buick transmissions well known for their smoothness and absence of "shift feel". The Super Turbine is a refined and improved torque converter type to help you safely pass cars and trucks as well as gas stations. You'll hear a lot about it in the next couple of years as this modern kind of transmission is adopted by more and more car builders.

What about engines?

Of course, an efficient transmission gets more efficient when teamed up with a lean, agile engine. The winning Buick power plants were our new V-6 and V-8. The 300 cubic inch V-8 in the winning Buick Special (the lowest priced of all Buicks) and the Buick LeSabre (the lowest priced big Buick) is like a well-conditioned fighter. All muscle, no fat. Weighs in at far less than other V-8's of similar punch. It took every other V-8 in the Economy Run.

Your type of driving—regular gas

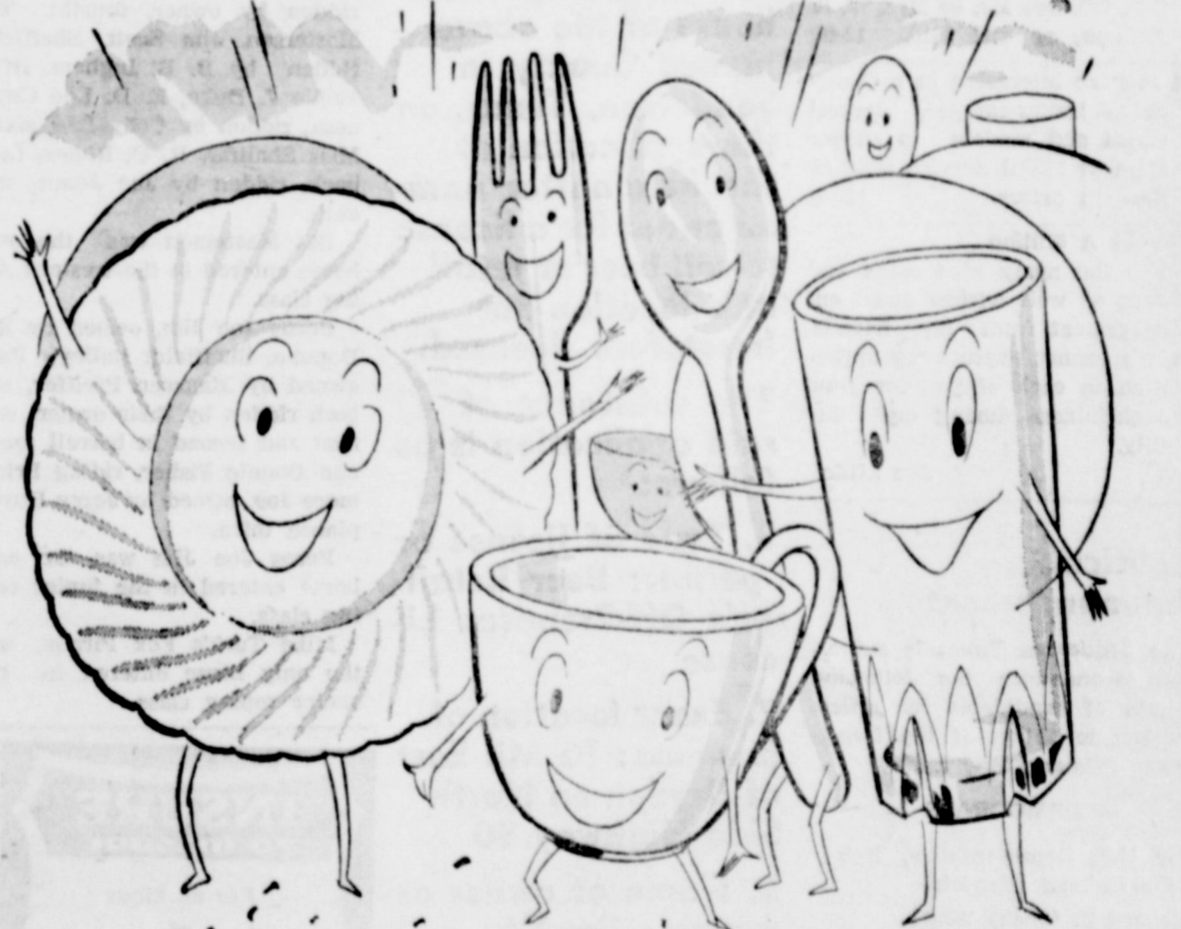

The Run was through cities and towns, across super highways, in traffic, out of traffic. This was not race track driving or proving ground driving. This was your kind of driving—even though you can't expect to get as good mileage as these expert drivers in their finely tuned production cars. The distance was 3,243 miles, about what most families log in four months. All three Buicks used regular gas. So the Economy Run is not just a cross-country tour for the Mobil people and a few car buffs. It's a reliable test of a car's power team and what it's able to squeeze out of itself.

We don't expect everybody to rush out this week-end to buy a new Buick just because we won a few economy trophies. There are so many other good reasons for leaning to Buick that economy usually gets second billing. There's styling, naturally. An unusually great ride. Extraordinary engineering and workmanship. And very young performance. Small wonder Buick sales are running at 11.5% over last year.

But it's nice to get economy as a plus in a Buick. Beyond the dollars saved on gasoline, there's a certain pride in knowing you have a car that's built to get the most out of every tank of gasoline.

Wouldn't You Really Rather Have a Buick?

Dishes love
automatic electric dishwashing, too . . .

They get cleaner and there's less breakage

Doing dishes the old fashioned way by hand is hard on dishes—and homemakers. And, since automatic electric dishwashing costs only pennies a day, there's no reason to deny yourself this modern convenience. Using water too hot for hands, an electric dishwasher actually gets dishes cleaner, then dries them sparkling bright. Tests show there's less breakage with automatic washing than with handwashing. And, of course, less kitchen drudgery. See your dealer soon about an automatic electric dishwasher, built-in or portable.

T. Waggoner Ranch. An El Paso army sergeant convinced the Supreme Court it should hear arguments on April 22 in his suit for Texas voting rights. Many servicemen have complained about state regulations which permit them to vote only in the county where they resided on entering service.

Texas Court of Criminal Appeals rejected the third appeal of Billie Sol Estes from an eight-year prison sentence for swindling. However, the court made technical corrections in its earlier opinion which enables Estes to file another motion for rehearing.

Court of Criminal Appeals ordered a new trial for a Bandera County man convicted of sheep theft. He was sentenced to lime imprisonment for the theft of one sheep after the jury learned he had two prior convictions for passing bad checks.

Court ruled that state's attorneys had failed to prove the man's guilt since the sheep-theft charge was filed by one rancher but testimony centered around "suspicious activities" of the convicted man in the pasture of another rancher who had not filed charges.

Restoration Of Old Fort Davis Is Under Way

Superintendent Michael J. Becker announced this week the completion of the restoration of roofs and porches along Officers Row at Fort Davis National Historic Site. Visitors from far and near, first-timers and oldtimers are impressed by this first phase of the National Park Service's MISSION 66 program to preserve and to partially restore the old frontier army post.

Facing the parade grounds the 13 restored quarters lie at the foot of the impressive, rugged ridges of the Davis Mountains. The 78 restored porch pillars and 13 roofs contrast distinctly with the dark browns of Sleeping Lion Ridge. Supervisory Architect Thomas N. Cerlino noted that one of the most complicated roofs to restore is on the commanding officer's house. This handsome stone building has several wings that presented some complicated angles for the designers and carpenters. Now completed, the roof-line is exactly the same as it was when such post commanders as Merritt, Shafter, Grierson, and Bliss lived there in the 1870s and '80s.

One of the quarters was changed from one and a half stories to a single story. But the change had historical reasons behind it. The building was originally a single-story house, and not until it caught on fire and was rebuilt by the Army in 1884 did it acquire the second floor. Now this adobe house looks once again like it did in its earlier days.

The contractor on this first project was Robert L. Gaylor Co., Lampasas. The bid, the lowest of nine submitted, was for $53,831.00. Superintendent Becker said that work is underway in the historical research and drawing.

of plans and specifications for the next step in restoring the fort, the complete exterior restoration of an enlisted men's barracks on the opposite side of the parade grounds. The interior of this barracks will be designed to house the visitor center for the park. Later a second barracks will be completely restored inside and out and will be furnished as it was in 1880.

Comet...World's 100,000-Mile Durability Champion

At Daytona, a team of four specially equipped '64 Comets each traveled day and night 100,000 miles at over 105 miles per hour - an unequalled feat of stamina and durability. In Africa, Comet showed its stamina again in "the wildest ride on earth" - the moon-swept East African Safari Rally. 94 cars started. Only 21 finished the run - two of them were Comets.

Leads the sales success parade! Is it any surprise that Comet sales are up to almost double last year's? Comet proves what it can do. After 100,000 miles at Daytona, one of these special Comets has traveled another 31,000 and is still going strong. Then rally-equipped Comets slogged through 3,188 miles of African mud, rocks and jungle - the first to carry America's colors in the world's toughest car event. Want more reasons? Just take a look at this new Comet. Husky, racy, beautiful, and built, really built. Make tracks for a Comet at your Mercury dealer's.
