LISTEN TO LUKE

We have been reading recently of the increase in deaths on the highways of the state. This has been most appalling to us for several reasons. First, we had hoped that the raise in the legal speed limits in Texas would make absolutely no difference in the total death rate, accidents or any other factor.

Secondly, it has disturbed us because of the seemingly indifference of drivers for their own safety and the safety of others.

In all of the statistics released by the Department of Public Safety, the fatality rate has increased in single-car accidents and this category has always led the fatality accident incidence. We tolerate a situation that is costing thousands of Texas lives and hundreds of thousands of Texas dollars each year. We think this waste should cease.

We have received two pamphlets in the mail—both alike—and reprints from an article in the current Readers Digest—which we take and had already read—in efforts to expose the area Redevelopment Act for the waste which it is.

There were efforts at one time really to get this act in operation in Terrell County, and it was quashed. It has always been openly presented as a waste of money and anyone who looks at it must know that. The trouble with it and a lot of other wastes of the government is that some people can't stand it to feel that they don't have their finger in the pie, too.

It has been amusing to watch people in the new post office trying to unlock their boxes with the new combinations. We can laugh because we have a key!

The post office is a fine addition to our town and we are proud of it.

We hope that we are able to get some of the money back in local taxes on the building, because local taxpayers got very little benefits from the building material or labor.

Yes, local contractors had their opportunity to bid, and some did and all lost out in the awarding of the contract.

The rest of the story is that local taxpayers, and other citizens of the nation will pay about $100,000 a year for 10 years for the building and still not own it. And it could be that we will have to turn around and build another one, and if things don't change, we won't own it, either.

But our good benefactors in Washington did us a great favor and we appreciate it!

It's fun to watch people trying to open their new boxes!

Missing Vehicles Mystify Officials

AUSTIN—The "Mystery of the Missing Vehicles" has been baffling Texas Highway Department and police officials for a long time.

Each year approximately 17,000 automobiles are stolen in Texas. Most are recovered eventually, but a relatively large number—about nine per cent—never are found. They seem to vanish, like the vapor trail of a high-flying jet.

"We don't have a single clue," says R. W. Townsley, Director of Motor Vehicle Division, Texas Highway Department.

Townsley is a member of Texas Police Association's Major Crimes Committee. The committee is holding seminars around the state to enlist the aid of the small-town officials in watching for these and other stolen vehicles.

Police statistics show that an automobile is involved in over 90 per cent of major crimes committed in Texas and it is through license plate identification that many a car has been traced and criminal apprehended. Hence Townsley's place on the committee.

None of the missing vehicles—in toto or in recognizable part—ever have turned up in Texas or in any surrounding states. It is as if they never had existed.

Usually, stolen vehicles turn up somewhere. Mexico, for instance. But our neighbors South of the Border haven't uncovered even one of the missing cars.

Searching the junk yards has proved fruitless, too.

The wrecking yards are checked anyway by Department personnel. It's just policy. Current plates on wrecked automobiles are picked up by THD field men and destroyed on the spot, says Townsley, to prevent reuse on stolen automobiles.

Until 1961, scrapped cars—complete with plates and negotiable ownership papers—could be purchased for $50. To prevent both plates and papers from falling into the hands of auto theft rings, the Texas Legislature passed a law in 1961 requiring each salvage yard operator in Texas to remove immediately the current plates from any vehicle purchased as salvage. The plates and papers then are kept under lock and key until claimed by the Highway Department.

"We pick up an average of 10,000 titles and 3,000 current license plates per month," reveals Townsley.

Meanwhile, officials of the Texas Highway Department and the police seek a clue to the missing vehicles.

RICHARD WHITE BELIEVES EFFECTIVE REPRESENTATION IS STILL THE KEY ISSUE
Richard White served two terms in the State Legislature. During these two terms he became recognized as one of the most active and effective legislators in the House. While in office, he authored, introduced, and passed six times as much legislation for his state and his home district as did McGregor who was serving on the same delegation at the same time. Just as important, he carefully studied each piece of legislation to come before the House and as the result of his studies he introduced many amendments to improve proposed legislation. White also received a committee chairmanship and served on the important Judiciary and Conservation and Reclamation Committees among others. After completing his service in the House, White remained active in the Democratic Party being elected to serve as El Paso County Democratic Chairman. He is a proven aggressive legislator who votes by content of a measure instead of fancy titles, and he is an active Democrat.
WHITE'S OPPONENT
Malcolm McGregor has served ten consecutive years in the Texas House. With such a tenure, it should be assumed that he is by now one of the most respected and influential members of the House, a man at the top of the seniority ladder. THE OPPOSITE IS TRUE. During the last session of the Legislature, when McGregor should have been at the height of his political career, he was, instead, relegated to political obscurity. HE HELD NOT ONE SINGLE CHAIRMANSHIP, not one single vice-chairmanship, nor was he a member of any major committee. He was able to pass only two of the bills which he introduced. McGregor's loss of prestige in the House is attributed to his voting record over the last several years. While some of the legislation he has supported has been good, he has tended to vote by title rather than content of a bill, and he has usually ended up IN THE CAMP OF A LOSING MINORITY BLOCK. Titles of some of these bills have been appealing, but they were defeated because of content which would have been unfair to a majority of the citizens of Texas.

Miss Diane Brown, Kenneth Andrews Are Wed June 1

The back yard at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Brown was the scene of a beautiful wedding Monday evening, June 1, when their daughter, Miss Diane Brown, became the bride of Kenneth Ralph Andrews, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Andrews of Ysleta.

Rev. Miller Stroup, pastor of the First Methodist Church, used the double-ring ceremony for the marriage rites. The couple knelt on a white satin prie dieu for the wedding prayer.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of traditional white peau de soie fashioned with figurine bodice and bateau neckline. Appliques of pearl-embroidered lace accented the bodice and enhanced the bell-shaped skirt which swept in a chapel train. Her butterfly veil of imported silk illusion was attached to a crown of pearls. The bouquet which she carried atop her white Bible was of frenched carnations with an orchid in the center and white satin streamers tied in lover's knots.

Miss Barbara Brown, sister of the bride, was the junior bridesmaid; Miss Margaret Marsh of El Paso, the bride's roommate was the maid of honor; and the bride's sister, Elaine Brown, the flower girl.

The bride's chosen colors of yellow and white were noted in their dresses of yellow silk organza over tulle. They wore circlets of yellow satin with short veils and their bouquets were of white frenched carnations tied with yellow satin ribbons. Elaine had a yellow bow in her hair and she carried yellow and white daisies in her basket.

Dale Andrews of Ysleta was his brother's best man.

Immediately after the wedding, for the reception on the south lawn at the Brown home, the bride's table was covered in a white linen cutwork cloth centered with an arrangement of yellow gladioli and white mums in a silver basket.

Mrs. Lynn Hicks of Sonora served the punch from a silver punch bowl. The bride's cake served by Mrs. W. W. Holt of San Angelo, was on the other extremity of the table and was a beautiful three-tiered confection, iced in white, and decorated in yellow and white sugar-spun flowers.

For her going-away costume the bride wore a blue spring suit with white accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrews will reside in El Paso. He is an employee at White Sands Proving Grounds.
