VOLUME LVIII SANDERSON, TEXAS, FRIDAY, JUNE 19, 1964 NUMBER 20

LISTEN TO LUKE

Sanderson got a taste of the significance of rail traffic stoppage here Monday, and the sensation was — to say the least — disheartening.

The taste came as a result of the Brotherhoods of Railroad Trainmen of the state calling a strike against the company beginning at 6:00 a.m. Monday.

There was no action locally except the strike itself and the orderly picket lines which formed. But we could see no reason why there should have been anything more than that.

The employees had a grievance against the company which — according to what we were told — had not been settled, or even considered — and the Brotherhoods figured that it was time to get something settled.

But one couldn't help but notice the lack of the sound of trains coming in and going out or the fact that there was an unusually large number of railroad employees with nothing to do but sit and wait until things got settled somehow.

While the men were, in a sense, unemployed employees, it recalled to us the days when like numbers of men, and even more were sitting around with nothing to do. And the thought, the recollection, was awesome.

The operating unions have had other arguments cooking with the railroad companies for several years, and there is a possibility that there may be similar action at some future date or dates until they get their differences ironed out.

We who have been in Sanderson for a period of only 17 years — and those who are newer comers — don't know anything about living in a railroad town without the constant threat of some action by the company that would seriously affect the economy of the town. And those who have been here much longer than we have, say that such conditions have existed for almost as long as even the oldest citizens can remember.

When a man's working conditions are concerned, when wages is a matter for consideration or other such changes or action is pending, then the persons involved and their friends are all concerned. But when action is pending that will put men out of work, then it becomes a serious matter for those concerned and their friends and associates.

We join with our fellow citizens who are employees of the railroads in wishing, for their benefit, an early settlement of their latest trouble, and all other pending action.

Several real fine rains have fallen on some parts of the county and the amount of rainfall is up to where it should be in those areas. But we have another side of the picture that is just the opposite. Some ranchmen are not talking about that last drought because the last one is the present one for them.

Some of the ranches in the Independence and Pecos Rivers area last week got four inches of rain in one wetting.

There is a lot of concern on the part of many newspaper editors over the country over the proposed civil rights legislation. There also seems to be some kind of a trend away from the loyalty of the South to the Democratic Party because of the bill, its authors, its proponents, and its effects if passed.

To put in another idea for the readers — have you noticed the fact that during the state convention of Texas Democrats in Houston that both the Connally faction and the Yarborough faction backed LBJ to the hilt. Did

Cattle Raisers Urge Legislation Controlling Imports

Directors of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association meeting in Bay City last week passed a resolution strongly supporting legislation to restrict beef imports to reasonable levels.

The resolution reaffirmed the Association's previous position of strong support for legislation now under consideration by Congress which would restrict future foreign importations of beef to the average of the five immediately preceding years. This would be about seven and one-half percent of domestic production.

It was emphasized that beef imports are a threat not only to the cattle industry but to the economy of countless communities and related industries.

The cattlemen also were brought up to date on the status of the screw worm eradication program. Dolph Briscoe Jr., Uvalde president of the Animal Health Research Foundation, said that on February 14 it had been declared that eradication was complete and the program now was one of preventing reinfestation. He said this makes it an international program and as such it could be carried on only by the federal government.

However, financing of the program remains a problem. "It is my hope and belief that producers will not again be asked to contribute," he said. "But if this is asked, I believe it behooves all in the livestock industry to lend support to a statewide meeting where a program of action could be planned."

Work Nears End On More Rail, Wider Bridge Here

Work is almost completed on the installation of longer side track and a wider bridge on the Sanderson Canyon railroad crossing on the east end of the local rail yards.

The installation will permit the side track to handle longer trains, which are becoming more common.

The siding will extend to the cemetery east of town from the yards.

The bridge foundations had to be widened on the south side to accommodate the second track that goes across the canyon, and a further cut made in the hill just east of the bridge, to permit a parallel curve of the two tracks.

Little League Play Interest Increases

The Little Leaguers' three games a week at the Legion Field are attracting large crowds and enthusiasm is built up as the season's play continues.

The players are attracting attention by their ability to play and the enthusiasm and sportsmanship in evidence.

Games are played each Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday nights and attendance has been good all season.

Adults who are spending so much of their time with the boys are now feeling proud of their accomplishments as the boys' interest continues to mount.

Local Girls To Attend Camp or Girl Scouts

Kathy Balkum, Linda Stutes, and Nancy Harkins will be campers at Mitre Peak Girl Scout Camp near Alpine August 2-8 and Candace Cooksey will go August 9-15, according to word received this week.

Camp Mitre Peak has recently been improved with the installation of a new shower house and latrines.

Blond Blue Flame

Miss Sondra Brewer was crowned Miss Blue Flame as the National LP Gas Association opened its convention in Chicago.

Chosen as hostess for the 33rd annual convention of the LP gas trade association was blond, same-featured Sondra Brewer of Chicago. Shown bestowing on her the blue and gold flame-studded crown is John A. Storm, of Tulsa, Oklahoma, president of the association. Sondra greeted 2000 conventioners from all the countries of the free world, most of them suppliers of LP gas fuel service. They attended meetings devoted to improving methods of serving their customers and touring the 50,000 square foot display area filled with new lines of appliances, containers and equipment used with LP gas. Versatile LP gas serves some 11 million American homes, farms and businesses. LP gas is also an increasingly popular motor fuel.

Funeral Services For Clyde Carter

Funeral services were held in the First Baptist Church last Thursday afternoon for Clyde Carter who died in a Del Rio hospital Tuesday morning after several weeks of illness. He was an SP conductor and had been in the employ of the company for 40 years.

Rev. J. C. Hancock, pastor, officiated at the rites and burial was in Cedar Grove Cemetery.

Pallbearers were H. W. Chamberlain, Weldon Cox, Eddie Hanson, N. W. Carroll, H. B. Louwien, and Y. F. Bowley of Lubbock.

The family considered all of the railroad friends of Mr. Carter as honorary pallbearers.

Besides the widow, Mrs. Nancy Haynes Carter, survivors include three daughters, Mrs. Charles Taylor of Del Rio; Mrs. Paten Black of Austin, and Mrs. Eddie Crump, Monahans; four grandchildren, one brother, and three sisters.

Among out-of-town relatives and friends here for the funeral were: Mr. and Mrs. Wynn Haynes and sons, Uvalde; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Haynes and son Marathon; Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Haynes and son, Marfa; Leslie W. Carter and son, Bill Carter Esparto, Calif.; Miss Sue Haynes of Del Rio; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Haynes, Van Horn; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mansfield, San Saba; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Burreston and Mrs. Hallie Blair, Alpine.

US285 Job Estimated To Be Near $650,000

The reconstruction of 20 miles of US285 southeast from 20 miles southeast of Fort Stockton is estimated to cost $650,000, according to State Highway Department Senior Resident Engineer J. Russell Walker of Fort Stockton, who will be in charge of the project.

Two hundred and 20 working days will be allowed for the job scheduled for July letting.

The project was called for bids last summer but was not let due to the excessive costs of the bids turned in and plans were revised for a new letting.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesus Marquez are the paternal grandparents and Mr. and Mrs. Santiago Zepeda the maternal grandparents.

Plans Set for P. O. Dedication

Sanderson's new post office will be dedicated at 4:00 p.m. on June 24. Postmaster J. R. Hodgkins announced this week. The new facility is part of the Post Office Department's lease construction program, the local postmaster explained.

Like most of the new postal buildings that are going up across the country, this post office is leased to the Post Office Department. This gives the Department some flexibility in adapting its building program to changes in mail volume, transportation and population, Hodgkins said.

The following are among the guests expected to attend: J. Allen Depree, assistant to the Regional Director for the Dallas area, and Senator Ralph Yarborough if he can fit it into his schedule.

Mr. Dupree entered government service with the Houston post office in 1936 and received advancements through the years and in 1961 was named to his present post.

Local Team Beats Pony Leaguers Of Fort Stockton

The Fort Stockton Pony Leaguers suffered a 4-2 defeat here Saturday night when the locals took advantage of errors and walks to get their four runs in the fourth inning of a close tilt.

Tommy Weigand pitched for the locals and allowed only three hits and had 11 strikeouts to his credit. McClish garnered eight strikeouts and gave up only three hits in the four innings he was on the mound for the visitors. Garvin relieved McClish to complete the seven-inning game without the locals scoring.

Sanderson will go to Fort Stockton next Saturday for a return game. It is planned to have a game here every other Saturday if possible.

Bible School's Closing Program At 7:30 Friday Night

The closing exercises for the vacation Bible school jointly held by the Methodist and Presbyterian Churches, will be at 7:30 p.m. Friday at the Presbyterian Church.

All parents and friends of the two churches are urged to be present for the closing exercises and to view the work done by the children during the week.

Mmes. W. D. O'Bryant, O. J. Cresswell, and F. G. Grigsby were business visitors in Fort Stockton Monday.

New Arrivals

To Mr. and Mrs. Richard Carroll was born a daughter, their first child, in a Fort Stockton hospital on Saturday, June 13. Her birth weight was six pounds and 14 ounces and she was named Sherry Lynn.

Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Carroll are the paternal grandparents and Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Ewing are the maternal grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. Eleno Marquez are the parents of their first child, a son, Steven Ray, born in Del Rio Sunday. He weighed six pounds and 14 ounces.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesus Marquez are the paternal grandparents and Mr. and Mrs. Santiago Zepeda the maternal grandparents.

Cattle, Oil Get No Help From LBJ, Tower Says

Senator John G. Tower charged President Johnson with "callously turning his back on the two industries of most importance to his own state, and of great importance to the entire nation, the oil and cattle industries."

Tower noted that he has received letters from the Johnson Administration in which the Administration flatly recommends against any import limitations on foreign beef, mutton, veal, and lamb, and in which the White House refuses to even concern itself with the question of oil import restrictions.

Senator Tower had written to President Johnson that "there is a drastic need throughout the domestic oil and gas industry for measures that would relieve the present unhealthy oil import situation." He asked for "some definite action in the way of drastically reducing foreign imports so that this vital domestic industry may survive."

Last weekend, Tower said he has received a curt note from White House Assistant Lawrence O'Brien noting that "since oil controls are the responsibility of the Department of the Interior your letter to the President has been made available to Secretary Udall."

"The true responsibility for revitalization and salvation of the oil industry lies with the President," Tower said, "and it is beyond my understanding that President Johnson would refuse to accept that responsibility and would refuse to even consider possible solutions."

Concerning the cattle industry Tower said that he has received a letter from the general counsel of the Treasury Department in which the Johnson Administration flatly opposes enactment of bills and amendments now pending in Congress which would curtail foreign meat imports.

"I have suspected for some months," the Texas senator said "that this Administration would not move to assist the financially hard-hit cattle industry, yet I am amazed at the flat statement now issued in which the drastic increases of meat imports is cast aside as an unimportant factor. Indeed, it is the major factor, and the other gyrations of the Johnson Administration have utterly failed to assist the industry."

"I note," Tower said, "that the Treasury Department says meat import limitations would create 'an atmosphere of resentment and mistrust of the U.S.'"

"I can only guess at the resentment and mistrust among Americans which has been provoked by the high-handed actions of the Administration in its refusals to come to grips with the problems of the oil and cattle industries."

"For myself, I will continue to press for the import limitations which would strengthen these basic American industries. I do not believe that dedication to the general principle of free trade means that we must relegate oil workers and ranchers to the poverty with which the Administration is so obsessed."

Bogusch, Cates Return From Austin And Boys State Meet

Jack Bogusch and John Cates have returned home from Austin where they attended the week-long session of Boys State with 718 high school boys registered. They were sponsored by the Clarence Hallie Mulkey Post No. 160 American Legion.

The enrollment this year brought the total to 10,406 boys who have attended since 1940 when Boys State was first inaugurated in Texas.

Upon arrival at the University of Texas campus, each citizen was assigned to one of two political parties — the Longhorns or Pioneers. Each citizen then functioned as a member of his party, attending conventions caucuses and voting in primaries.

In Boys State, the American Legion provides the type of program where the young citizen has the opportunity to learn for himself that his government is just what he makes it. The boy learns to do by doing.

Highlight of Boys State was a trip to the Capitol on Wednesday morning where each elected Boys State official was given an opportunity to serve in his respective office for a day, followed by the Governor's Ball Wednesday evening.

Speakers appearing were Department Commander John E. McKelvey, Electra; Dr. Harry Ransom, Chancellor of The University of Texas; Zollie Steakley Associate Justice, Supreme Court of Texas; American Legion Auxiliary President, Mrs. Harold J. Cooper, Beaumont; National Vice Commander of the American Legion, Harry Wright, Mexico City; Robert W. Calvert, Chief Justice, Supreme Court of Texas; Dave Shanks, Austin American Statesman.

Roger Dudley Sr. Dies In Angelo

Roger R. Dudley Sr., 78, longtime Ozona ranchman and business man died in San Angelo last Thursday. Funeral services were Friday afternoon in the Ozona Methodist Church with interment in that city.

Survivors include his wife and three sons, including Lee Dudley of Sanderson.

He had been a resident of Ozona since 1898.

George Adams of Dryden remains in an Alpine hospital for treatment following a heart attack recently.

B. of R.T. Strike Cancelled by Court

Members of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen struck against the Southern Pacific Railroad Monday morning at 6:00 o'clock. The strike was over at about 2:00 p.m. when it was learned that the company had obtained an injunction which halted the strike action.

Picket lines were respected by other operating locals Monday.

The Southern Pacific's No. 1 passenger train was tied up in the local yards after its arrival at around 8:00 a.m. as were two freight trains which had arrived after the strike was called.

Local railroad officials and other officials flown in from Houston and San Antonio took the passenger and freight trains out of the local yards.

It was stated that the strike was over issues with the Southern Pacific's lines in Texas and Louisiana.

Members of the striking union and other operating brotherhoods remained off the company property after the strike was called until the word of the court order reached here.

There were about 128 union employees in the strike locally according to F. J. Howard freight agent.

The strike was on a state-wide basis and paralyzed the transportation of passengers and freight by rail within the state, according to information received here.

An orderly picketing was conducted during the hours of the strike locally and following the receipt of the news of the court order halting the strike, business and activity of the railroad was resumed normally with no indication of the action noticeable by late afternoon.

Most all of the employees of the railroad that were away from their home terminals when the strike was called remained there until the strike was over.

Water Pollution

Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr's opinion committee on the oil-field-waste disposal question may postpone its decision meeting indefinitely now that Superior Oil Company has filed suit against the Texas Water Pollution Control Board, asking for a declaratory judgment against the agency.

A decision by former Atty. Gen. Will Wilsin ruled that the board has jurisdiction over disposal of oilfield wastes under the Water Pollution Control Act passed by the 1961 legislature.

Railroad Commission asked Carr to issue a new opinion after a group of oil companies raised strong objections to the board's regulatory actions. Superior's filing of the suit may change the picture entirely on any new opinion.

Manufacturing Plants Totaled

Texas had a total of 10325 manufacturing plants which added $6,400,000,000 of value by processing raw materials into finished goods in 1962, according to the "Annual Survey of Manufacturers", recently released by the Bureau of Census.

Figures represent an addition of $389,000,000 capital expenditure for new plants during a single year. Some 500,000 plant

Indexing the Medicine Chest

Sometimes it takes time to save time.

This is particularly true of a job which is too often postponed or never done at all—cleaning the medicine chest. Taking time for a good clean up (which includes a thorough throw-out) will result in a well organized storage place for essentials for good health and good grooming. When you can find things right away you save useless searching time.

To simplify the whole process, here are a few sorting-out rules, with some cautions for hoarders, which will put you in quicker (and safer) touch with the items in your medicine chest:

1. Remove everything from the medicine chest, including shelves. While glass shelves are soaking in a detergent bath, clean interior with a good disinfectant, outside and mirror with one of the new aerosol glass and metal cleaners.
2. Sort. Look at every label on every prescription. If it's more than six months old throw it out, unless your doctor has specifically advised that it can be kept.
3. Adjust top shelf for small bottles, particularly prescription drugs which should be kept furthest from reach of children.
4. Rearrange: group cosmetics on one shelf and medicinals on another.
5. List: after cleaning make a list of needed replacements. Incidentally, keep in mind that you will find many more medicine chest products in aerosol containers. They are both a safety and money-saving investment. Products such as spray-on bandages, spray room decontaminants (useful for children's sick room), and analgesics keep longer in push-button containers because no air can get to them.

Investigate at your drugstore when restocking the medicine chest to make the most of the many pharmaceutical aerosols.

If your house has more than one medicine chest (which is very likely) don't forget that duplicates of such essentials as bandages and antiseptics (in both aerosol and other forms) are wise precautions. For instance, the downstairs medicine chest is often the first one to be reached after a skinned knee or burned finger, not to mention more serious accidents. And, in this connection, a special "kitchen medicine" chest is also helpful. Here the new aerosols for burns and bandages are particularly useful. Keep them, as with all medicines, on a high shelf away from high heat and small children.

States involved would jointly investigate and determine their own needs in the area of passenger rail transportation. He further stated that "in my judgment passenger rail transportation has not been adequately developed and it not presently competitive with other modes of transportation—particularly in the Southwest."

Fire Insurance

After July 1, it will be illegal for an insurance company to charge less than 6 per cent interest per year on delayed premium payments for fire insurance, a new State Board of Insurance ruling decrees.

Several years ago, the board issued the same rule, but withdrew it when an objection was made by a company which charged no interest at all for deferred payments. An attorney general has held on two previous occasions that the board has no authority to set minimum interest rates on delayed payments but Attorney General Carr has advised the board to take a new tack.

However, litigation is entirely possible on the part of insurers who would prefer to deviate from the ruling by charging less than the new minimum.

you ever notice that to the liberal Democrat, LBJ is just that and that only, and to the conservative Democrat, he is nothing but a conservative and did you ever think that one man cannot be both without deceiving either one or both factions?

We have not seen proof, but other editors state that even now from the President's office, the nation is being urged to delude the Senate with letters demanding passage of the civil rights bill.

The passage of the bill can do nothing more effectively than deprive some rights from all citizens of this nation, white or black, and offer a greater power to the bureaucratic-led centralized government headed for a socialistic dictatorship unless the tide is turned.

Lyndon Baines Johnson is a master politician; of this there is no doubt. Otherwise he would not have risen to the fame he did without the power of wealth in the beginning to aid in his climb to power. From a very humble beginning to the Presidency, is truly a display of the opportunities of this nation.

But the garnering of a fortune worth close to $10-million in the process, shows what the proper application of influence, advice, and other political advantages can do for a man.

A greater master in the art of manipulating people and persuasion will have to follow LBJ.
