Happy New Year

LISTEN TO LUKE

We put off a lot of comments we had last week on account of the season, etc.

We see no reason to hold off though now.

Have you read the story in the Reader's Digest about the house that has been built on Capitol Hill in Washington, D.C.? It is interesting reading.

And another interesting story came out of Austin last week. It concerns the political chicanery being used by Governor Connally in an effort to set up a powerful education coordinating board with authority to control programs and buildings of the 22 state colleges and universities.

The story stated that Connally stated that he would recommend substantial pay raises for college presidents, administrators, and teachers, if the coordinating board is set up, but he would withdraw those recommendations for pay raises if his proposal is turned down by the legislature. Thus with that statement is lined up about 6,900 "lobbyists" for his proposal.

Recently we have seen several instances where columnists and cartoonists in some of the dailies have taken pot shots at LBJ on some occasion. We hardly feel that it is proper just prior to the inaugural, especially since they worked so hard not so long ago to get him into position for his inaugural.

We probably will be hearing soon and reading about the state of the union.

We don't know, by any means, what the state of the union is, but we do know this much . . .

We are still fighting a war in Viet Nam which is unwinnable without the full cooperation of the people of that country, who don't seem to want to get into the fight too badly . . .

Castro is still in power in Cuba and whatever weapons they had, they still have . . .

Nassar told this country to "go to the other day . . .

The Philippines have now started tagging demonstrations against us . . .

We have not gained the friendship of any nation recently . . .

Billie Sol Estes has not yet gone to prison . . .

The Bobby Baker case has not yet been completely aired . . .

Along with other things, like inventory, closing out the year's business, etc., there comes the pleasant chore of expressing our sincere appreciation to all of our friends and customers who helped with their patronage, passing on news to us, etc.

We feel that we have been truly blessed with such friends as we enjoy and we hope that our association will continue as it has in the past, and that our circle of friends may grow larger as we make new acquaintances.

We know that we have printed some things in this column that all of our readers have not agreed with, but we appreciate the fact that we can still disagree and remain friends.

There will probably be times when we will disagree again.

But thanks a million for your friendship and your patronage.

And our wishes for a happy and prosperous 1965!

Miss Charlene J. Chandler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe B. Chandler of Dryden, is a civilian recreation specialist with Army Special Services in Europe. She is a graduate of Texas Tech.

James Word To Seek MOD Funds From Businesses

James Word accepted chairmanship of the business and industry committee of the 1965 March of Dimes.

The appointment was announced by Terrell County campaign director, Mrs. M. W. Duncan.

"Not many of us are aware of the real tragedy of birth defect, their direct effect on children through physical or mental disability and their indirect effect on parents and grandparents through their loss of a normal home life," said Mr. Word.

"The March of Dimes is trying to put the cold facts about birth defects before the people so that in place of fiction and fatalism, there may arise a determination to do something about these conditions which take such a terrible childhood toll," he declared.

Mr. Word appealed for substantial contributions from business and industry to support the March of Dimes program already under way in the field of birth defects. It includes broad scientific investigations into the nature and causes of birth defects and a nationwide network of medical care centers where birth defect victims receive highest quality treatment.

"The organized attack of the March of Dimes on birth defect is also part of a scientific revolution in biology now going on all over the world," said Mr. Word. "Your check to the March of Dimes makes you a front-line participant in this fight for better health."

Texas Legislators will be back in Austin on January 12 to grapple with an array of problems which could keep them here throughout the summer.

Congressional and legislative redistricting, taxes and appropriations top the agenda of controversial subjects for the 59th session.

Many lawmakers feel they barely will come to grips with the redistricting issue before expiration of the regular session in May. Special sessions very likely will be necessary to settle this explosive matter in line with the one-man-one-vote theory laid out by court decisions.

Proposed expenditures for higher education and teacher pay raises look like top topics for debate in the spending area.

Other legislation sure to stir strong interest and hot tempers includes horse race betting, oil and gas lease pooling, water planning and development, mixed drink sales, and judicial pay raises.

No significant change in the power structure of either house of the legislature is likely. House Speaker Byron Tunnell is assured of another term and Lt. Gov. Preston Smith will begin his second term as presiding officer of the Senate.

There are only two new members in the Senate and 42 in the House.

Crime Rate Up Texas' crime rate jumped nearly 12 per cent in 1964, says the Department of Public Safety. Rate increased from 2,361 offenses per 100,000 population in 1962 to 2,675 this year. This fact led a committee of Texas mayors to call on Gov. John Connally for advice as to action needed. Connally promised to cooperate and urged the 10 mayors to have their city attorneys review proposed revisions in the state code of criminal procedure.

Mayor Hank Avory, Texas Municipal League president, blamed the increase on crowded court dockets, loose bail bond procedures, easy paroles after short imprisonment, weakening of parental responsibility and separate trials for codefendants. Avory is mayor of Midland.

Dallas Mayor Erik Jonsson and San Antonio Mayor Walter McAllister noted the high number of repeat arrests. Jonsson suggested that traffic violations by drivers with suspended licenses be made penitentiary offenses.
