LISTEN TO LUKE

Ground-hog Day came and we didn't see any ground-bogs, and if there was one he could have seen his shadow.

But we've gotten to the point where we have very little faith in the prognosticational ability of the lowly ground-hog any more.

Corns and rheumatism are still very accurate, though.

About the best way we know is to look outside and then to evaluate the current weather. That is sometimes difficult.

There is an announcement in this week's paper about the deadline for filing for the school bond race to be in April.

Probably all of the story behind the announcement couldn't be printed, since it is paid for and it might get costly, but we can add our bit without it costing anybody anything except time in getting the type and time for printing.

We have heard rumors that there is to have some basis in fact proposed raises in tax rates, evaluations, or something to get more money for the school this week in the raise. There is another tax raise expected in order to raise the salary of the teachers.

The handling of the school's business is a big one and requires some good-thinking men.

We are not going to question the need for the pay raise, nor the need for lots of improvements for our schools.

We do think that our school elections should not be a popularity contest, but the action of sound-thinking voters who are trying to do the best for our schools.

Our schools are divided into governing, administrative, teaching and learning categories, and sometimes it is difficult to ascertain where one's duties and obligations leave off and another's begin.

There are those who must decide how much is to be spent for the various educational and recreational facilities of the school and by their actions place precedence of one over another, or to strive toward equality of keeping the balance of all — but it is all done according to the individual thinking of the individual board members.

For example, in my own mind, I may be convinced that public speaking is the most important thing of the local school system, and in my thinking I crowd much importance into that department as I can. I am conscientiously doing what I think is right for the students, and the school.

$149.69 Received for MOD From Local Benefits

Proceeds from the benefit basketball game last Saturday night amount to $69.10 for the local March of Dimes drive, according to Mrs. M. W. Duncan, chairman.

The basketball game was in the school gymnasium between members of the Sanderson Kiwanis Club and Sanderson High School.

The chairman of the local fund drive expressed her appreciation to those who participated in the game and to those who attended the game and gave their support to the drive for funds.

A total of $61.59 was netted for the local March of Dimes when three local cafes contributed the proceeds from coffee sales toward the project.

The Oasis Restaurant gave microfilm sales Monday, Harry's Restaurant on Wednesday, and the Club Cafe on Friday.

New License Plates For Motor Vehicles Are Available

Vehicle license plates for 1965 went on sale Monday, according to Mrs. Tol Murrah, deputy tax collector.

The plates have a new look this year having three letters instead of two and three numerals instead of four. "Texas" is in larger letters.

The purpose of the change is to increase readability and to meet the growing demand for more license plate numbers, made possible with the change.

The six by twelve inch plates have black letters and numerals on a white background. In Terrell County the designated numbers will begin with CMX 375 and go through 999 and then CWY10 through 275. The new plates must be on all motor vehicles in operation by midnight April 1.

The available combinations under the old two-letter, four-digit combination would soon become inadequate for the increase in demand for license plates. The three-letter, three-digit system, called the English system, makes available 7,920,000 combinations which should be sufficient for some time to come.

The plate was designed so that the identifying letters and numbers could be read a distance of 125 feet and so that the name of the state may be read from 60 to 70 feet. Since identification of the vehicle is the prime purpose for the plates, no slogan is included on them.

M.M. Academy Appointments Are Available

Congressman Richard C. White announced this week that 14 appointments annually are available to the State of Texas for the Merchant Marine Academy at Kings Point, N.Y. Perhaps because of the remoteness of his district from the sea, there have been no applicants for a nomination to the Academy, although applications have been received for the other four service academies.

The young men receiving nominations, Congressman White said, will then be eligible to participate in the competitive examination with the other nominees from Texas.

The top 14 boys will receive appointments to the Academy. Applications must be made not later than February 15. Applicants must be United States citizens, by birth or naturalization, at least 17 and not yet 22 years of age on July 1 of this year, in good physical condition, single and never have been married, high school graduates and must qualify in the college entrance examination board tests, administered nationally on scheduled dates.

Requests for nomination should be made to Congressman Richard White, 407 Cannon Office Bldg., Washington, D.C.

Methodists Slate Revival

The First Methodist Church has set the date for its revival as February 21-28. Rev. Maurice Haines, pastor of the Methodist Church at Dexter, N.M., will be the speaker for the services to begin on Sunday morning.

Rev. Haines is the Carlsbad District director of youth work.

According to Rev. Miller H. Stroup, he is a young man, easy to know, and a powerful preacher.

Additional information will be carried in future editions of The Times.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Conner

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Conner were honored at a reception Sunday afternoon at the Legion Hall, the occasion being their 50th wedding anniversary. The hostesses were friends of the honored couple and included Miss Carol Horton and Mmes. Bob Allen, C. T. Wrinkle, Jack Harrell, Gene McSparran, H. W. Johnson, Aubrey Harrell, Don Allen, Jack Hayre, H. A. Mullings, Roy Webb, and Ellis Owens.

Gold and bronze chrysanthemums formed the mantelpiece. Gifts were displayed on tables arranged along one side of the hall.

The hostesses and their husbands took turns standing in the receiving line with Mr. and Mrs. Conner.

The guests registered in a beautiful gold silk moire-bound book in keeping with the occasion. The table which held the book had wide satin ribbon bands with "Roy" and "Ava" in gold letters across the white linen cloth. In the background was a photo of the couple made on their wedding day, the photo in a white net heart outlined with a full-gathered net ruffle. Presiding at the register were Clifftina Wrinkle, Judy Owen, Susan Mc-

ZIP Code To Be More Effective Soon, P-M Gen. Says

Postmaster J. R. Hodgkins said today he has received word from Postmaster General John A. Gronouski in Washington that a big "breakthrough" has now been made on electronic machines to "read" zip-coded addresses on mail.

"The Postmaster General said he expects to begin installing these sophisticated new machines in major post offices starting in about a year," the postmaster explained.

Mr. Hodgkins said each machine will be able to sort, as well as read, at the rate of 35,000 letters an hour.

The offices to get the address readers have not been announced, but the local postmaster said they will have significant effects on the mail in and out of each community regardless of whether it gets the new machines.

This is because they will speed incoming mail to smaller offices from major cities and step up the dispatch of mail deposited in smaller communities but which must be processed enroute at major massing points.

The postmaster emphasized, however, introduction of the "seeing eye" device next year does not mean Zip Code isn't useful already.

"Zip Code," he explained, "is important in mail handling under the system of mail processing already in use which will continue to be in use as the basic system at most points. These machines will be just another step — in conjunction with the mechanical mail sorting machines we have developed — to help keep pace with the growing volumes of mail. Neither will the machines endanger jobs — they will only help us meet mail expansion with minimum manpower expansion."

Sparran, Vicki Allen, Carol Johnson, Dawn Harrell, Sandra Webb and Virginia Hardgrave.

The refreshment table was covered in a white net ruffled cloth over gold. White wedding bells trimmed in gold braid were applied on the cloth across the sides and on the corners. White lilies of the valley were entwined around the white candles in crystal holders. Punch was served at one extremity of the table and coffee from a brass samovar at the other end. The large tiered cake, iced in white and decorated in bells and tiny flowers, formed the centerpiece. The gold numerals "50" were atop the cake which was encircled with a white net ruffle.

Mr. Conner and the former Ava Allredge were married on January 31, 1915, in the home of her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Allredge, near Wingate. No children were born to the couple. They have spent their married life in Pecos County near Fort Stockton, and in Brewster County with the exception of four years when they went to Coke County for him to try farming. They have resided on the C. W. Burdett ranch for eight years but four years ago purchased a home in Sanderson where they plan to reside during their retirement years. The house is now occupied by the Don Carpers and the Conners have a small house on the back of the lot where they stay when in town from the ranch.

Three persons attending the reception Sunday were present for the Conners' wedding: his brother, Harney Conner of Glenrock, Wyo., his sister, Mrs. Ethel Green of Robert Lee, and her brother, Robert Allredge of Goldsmith.

Other relatives here were his sister-in-law, Mrs. Harney Conner; his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Gray of San Angelo; her sister-in-law, Mrs. Robert Allredge of Goldsmith; Mr. and Mrs. J. C. McBride, Big Spring; Wayne Allredge, Iraan; Garland Green, El Paso; Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Cramer and children, San Angelo.

Only 510 Polls Paid in County

Only 510 poll taxes were paid in Terrell County this year, according to Mrs. Tol Murrah, deputy tax collector-assessor. This is considered a low figure for the county, even in an off-election year.

Elections that are known to be coming up this year are the election of two school board members in April and the election of water board members next January.

There are approximately 80 people in the county who are exempt from paying their poll tax because of being over 60 years of age, and there will also be a few who will be exempt for their first year of eligibility of voting.

Normal voting strength in the county is near 900.

Sen. John Tower Introduces Bill For SS Benefits

Senator John Tower has introduced a bill in the Senate to increase and liberalize benefits for recipients of Social Security.

The bill is essentially the same as the measure of the last (88th) Congress that became entangled in debate over medicare. It grants $7 a month across-the-board benefit raises for primary beneficiaries, and proportionate increases for other beneficiaries, with a family maximum range of $70.50 and $312 per month, depending upon the amount of covered earnings.

It increases the earning exemption by $300 to a $1,500 maximum, and provides a $1 reduction in benefits for each $2 of earnings on the next $1,500. This reduction now applies to the next $500.

The measure also revises Social Security financing to set a wage base of $5,600, as compared to the present base of $4,800. It revises rates over a five-year period to a maximum of 5.2 on employees and 7.8 per cent on self-employed persons.

It increases matching aid for the needy, blind, and disabled, and increases earning exemptions for old-age assistance programs.

Physicians are not covered. Tips are not included as wages. Firemen and policemen with existing state and local retirement plans are not covered. Certain religious groups which make provisions for their own members are not covered.

The bill proportionately increases those railroad retirement benefits which are tied to Social Security rates. It liberalizes the definition of "dependent child," and the disability insurance definition of blindness.

Tower said the bill was offered to cover "the cost-of-living increase of recent years."

"I have not included in this bill the controversial medical care proposals which prevented its passage last year. I hope that those proposals will receive the separate consideration they need and deserve. In the meantime, I do not believe we can delay further in granting to Social Security beneficiaries the cost-of-living increases they so desperately need."

First Fashions Receive Wool Quality Mark

Consumers shopping for wool suits, coats and dresses have new protection this season. Many stores are featuring men's and women's apparel bearing a unique quality mark licensed for all-wool products meeting the standards of The Wool Bureau.

The purpose of the wool mark is to distinguish quality products made wholly of fashion's most dependable fiber and to dispel the confusion caused by various fibers claimed to be "like wool," "good as wool," or having such characteristics of wool as durability, warmth, wrinkle resistance, resilience or staila resistance.

Inspectors spot-check the products to make sure that quality standards are maintained at all stages of manufacture and right up to the point of sale. Worsteds are first to be included in the program because the problem of control is simpler, but soon a wide range of wool products, including carpets, will be licensed.

The symbol—designed by an Italian, Francesco Sargola—is classically simple with swirling lines which have a constant movement symbolizing both the timelessness of wool and its modernity in the space age.

The wool mark is the first and only certification mark for which world-wide registration has been sought in connection with a material commonly on sale to the public.

Clothing initially approved for the wool mark in the United States includes men's suits by Hart, Schaffner & Marx and Society Brand, and women's wear by Larry Aldrich, Dalton, Stella Sloat, R. H. Wragge and Zelinka Matlick.

AWARDED WOOL MARK - Among first styles authorized by The Wool Bureau to carry the new mark of pure wool quality apparel are these: a Hart, Schaffner & Marx suit of putty-toned all-wool hopsacking and a B. H. Wragge dress of 100% wool flannel in a pewter shade. Inset: th-

Homemakers Meet Tuesday Night

The Young Homemakers Club met Tuesday evening at the Homemaking Cottage. This was a called meeting as the January meeting had been postponed.

One of the topics discussed was a re-organization of the club programs. The members present decided to have one major project for the year with special reports on topics of interest presented at the business meetings. The project of the year is interior decorating with emphasis on upholstery and furniture refinishing. Mrs. Ray Fitzgerald and Mrs. Jim Neal will be co-chairmen on this project.

The members also decided to change the meeting date from the fourth Monday of the month to the fourth Tuesday. The change will be effective for the February meeting. There is to be no change in the hour or time or place.

Mrs. J. D. McDaniel gave a report on home management and economy. After hearing this informative program, it was decided in the broadest sense that both problems could be solved or helped with careful family planning.

Miss Peggie Cooke, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Greene Cooke, and Brooks Hickerson, son of A. L. Hickerson of Odessa, and Mrs. Geraldine Hickerson of Austin, were married on Saturday, January 30, at 9:00 a.m. The ceremony was in the Chapel of the Religion Center on the campus of the University of Houston.

Rev. James W. Gunn officiated at the double-ring ceremony. Miss Claire Timmons of Houston sang "One Hand, One Heart". Miss Nell Norwood of Houston was the maid of honor. She wore a white wool dress and carried deep red roses.

The best man was Greg Wene of Weslaco, and the ushers were Carl Hickerson, brother of the groom, and Parker Loeffler, both of Austin.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a street length white silk dress which had piped sleeves and neck. Her headress was a white French silk lace mantilla from Spain. She carried a bouquet of pink camellias.

The altar of the chapel was decorated with a large bouquet of white gladioli and two white candles.

Following the wedding a reception was held in the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. James H. Chappee, in Friendswood, near Houston. Members of the house party were Miss Jan Gage, Miss Mary Jane White, both of Houston, and Miss Helen Hickerson, sister of the groom, of Austin, and Miss Robie Harrison, of Sanderson, a niece of the bride. Listen To Luke - Continued from Page 1-

And, if that were my thinking and you disagreed with me, I am the one who would be wrong! - Right?

The local school and the school in every community in the state is going to be run exactly like the people want it run. The same is true in the churches, the law enforcement, the water district, and all other public functions.

If you are interested in how the schools are run, then seek quality and not quantity in candidates.

It is not a matter of taxes only. These are only the source of revenue for the operation of the schools.

The prime consideration is the education of the students.

A second consideration is the reputation of the school system - a factor in teacher availability, administrative availability, athletic supervisory availability, and considerations extended or withheld students under many circumstances when out of town.

A third - and you list these in your own order of importance - is the moral fibre of the students.

And the moral fibre of the teachers.

And we can't overlook the student-teacher relationship.

Or the parent-teacher relationship.

We could go on and on and list many more important things in connection with our schools.

And almost all of them are the direct result of the school board elections.

Card of Thanks

Until I come home and thank you in person, may I use this means of saying "thank you" to my wonderful Sanderson friends for every kindness and consideration shown me while I was in the hospital. For the cards, flowers, gifts, and letters I am most grateful.

Some Taxpayers May Use Card Form

Taxpayers may use the simple card Form 1040 A in filing their 1964 Federal income tax return, if their incomes are less than $10,000, Samuel Haslam, administrative officer of Internal Revenue in Del Rio, said today.

Husband and wife may file a joint return on Form 1040 A if their combined income is under $10,000.

Taxpayers whose incomes were less than $10,000 and consisted entirely of wages subject to withholding, or entirely of such wages and not more than $200 total of other wages, dividends, and interest may use the Form 1040 A.

Taxpayers who use the Form 1040 A must take the standard deduction allowed in lieu of medical expenses, contributions, interest payments, taxes, and other itemized deductions.

Taxpayers were reminded that the minimum standard deduction was established by the 1961 tax law. It permits a deduction of $200, plus $100 for each allowable exemption of the taxpayer. A married taxpayer filing a separate return, however, is limited to a $100 deduction, plus $100 for each allowable exemption.

Both the 10% and the minimum standard deduction are subject to a maximum limitation of $1,000 for single taxpayers or married taxpayers filing jointly. The maximum is $500 in the case of married taxpayers filing separate returns.

If the taxpayer computes his own return and if there is tax due, a check or money order, payable to "Internal Revenue Service", must accompany the return.

More information on this subject and others may be obtained by telephoning Internal Revenue.

Mrs. Web Townsend was taken by ambulance to a Fort Stockton hospital last Wednesday afternoon to have X-rays made of her foot which was found to be sprained after a fall at her home.

T.S.T.A. Aims Views On Raise In Salary Plan

The legislative committee of the Texas State Teachers Association this week commended Gov. John Connally for his recognition that salaries paid Texas public school teachers are in need of marked improvement.

But the committee reaffirmed its support of TSTA's $45 per month salary increase proposal which already has 92 co-signers in the House of Representatives and substantial support in the Senate.

Teachers would get less money under the governor's program, and local school districts would have to pay about 90 per cent of what they do get, said Joe B. McNeil, Wichita Falls school superintendent who is TSTA legislative chairman.

McNeil stated that the proposals of the governor are inadequate for the immediate and long-range needs of teachers.

Under the TSTA "45 for '65" salary plan, the state would contribute about $34 million a year and local districts about $8.5 million yearly.

McNeil said this added load to local districts would do two things: (a) require local school board to add heavily to the already overloaded ad valorem tax burden on local homes and businesses and (b) as a result, reduce local capacity to pay salaries higher than the present minimum scale and continue improvements in the school program.

McNeil pointed out the local school boards can raise money only by taxing local property, while the state has many tax resources.

The TSTA plan call for a $405 annual increase in the minimum salary schedule for teachers, which now starts at $4,014 and goes to a top of $6,075 for a master's degree teacher with at least 17 years' experience. The average salary paid Texas teachers this year is estimated at $5,461, almost $800 below the national average. TSTA would expect to ask for additional increases during the next 10 years.

The Connally plan, McNeil said, would provide only $486 over a 10-year period to a new teacher beginning next fall, or $48.60 a year. The highest amount any teacher could receive would be $1,296 within 10 years, or $129.60 per year average. This compares with average annual national increases of $200 to $240 per year.

McNeil pointed out that Texas has been slipping behind the national average of teacher salaries by almost $200 per year. With an average salary increase of $129 per year or less, as proposed, Texas would remain $800 below the average and continue to drop further behind at the rate proposed by the governor.

"TSTA has always approached the legislature, the governor, and other state officials in a spirit of cooperation and teamwork to solve the problems facing our public schools," McNeil said. "This is our desire now."

"The TSTA salary program is not the final solution, but it offers much more than the governor proposes. We believe that the legislature and the governor will agree with us upon further study," he concluded.

If you're going to enter something like the Pure Oil Performance Trials, you might as well do it to win.

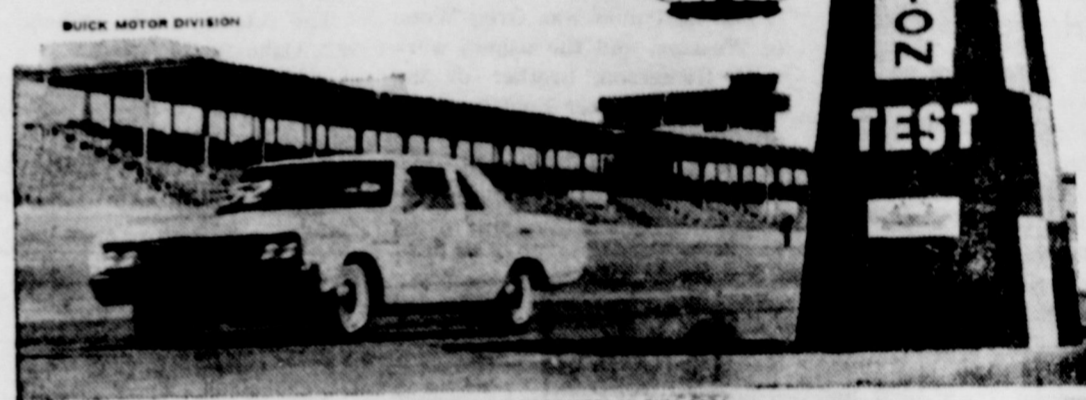

So we did. Class IV—won by Buick Special.

Down at Daytona Beach, we gave everyone another look at Buick's "Win Policy". A V-8 Buick Special won over stiff competition (sorry, boys!) in Class IV—in the 1965 Pure Oil Performance Trials. The winning Special was equipped with our 300 cubic inch Wildcat 310 V-8 and Super Turbine Transmission.

Remember that the drivers in the Performance Trials are skilled professionals, and the cars finely tuned standard production models. (If it can be said that the Special is "Standard" anything.) Also remember that the trials are an exhausting, carefully graded test of a car's all-around ability. In economy, acceleration and braking. Small wonder the Special came out on top. Handsomely.

(The specific detail? Our hero averaged 20.689 mpg in economy, to score second among 10 cars. It accomplished the acceleration test—from 25 to 70 mph—in 9.315 seconds, for a fifth. And took another second in braking: from 65 to 0 mph in 172.0 feet. The cumulative result: we won all the marbles in Class IV.)

Now then, if you're going to enter something—like a car—you might as well do it to win, too. Your Buick dealer can introduce you to the driver's seat of a Buick Special.
