Christ came to Sanderson tonight to pick the greatest individual among us, who would he pick? Christ's teachings about greatness are the most revolutionary in the world. His definition of greatness is bound up in our service to our fellowman. His new concept was not understood then nor is it understood now - service to mankind. It is a dangerous sickness of our age to not be interested in serving our fellowman, in being careful many times to "not ge! involved". We are not only our brother's keeper, but our brother's brother. When we look at greatness in the light of the definition that Christ gave, there are no 'nobody's' in this world of ours: everyone may be somebody and be great," he concluded.
