SANDERSON, TERRELL COUNTY, TEXAS

JUNE 30, 1966

LISTEN TO LUKE

By Albert---

According to a news release we received this week from the Texas Medical Association, at the beginning of this year there were 11,218 doctors of medicine in Texas and 292,088 in the U. S. The release also stated that with the recent graduations from the medical schools in the nation, the physician population should go over 300,000, a new medical milestone.

The release goes on to state that the ratio of doctors in this state is one to every 954 people. It would appear that with this figure and with this ratio, there should be a physician someplace in this state or nation for this community.

We realize that this figure includes all of the specialist fields and cuts the ratio of GPs down to a figure somewhat below the 954 mark, but if there are one-to-one in the medical field - specialists to GPs - that would raise the ratio to one GP for every 1908 people.

This figure would make Sanderson about the right size for a doctor, wouldn't it?

It didn't take the news release from the TMA to prove such a statement, however, as it has been proven in the past by doctors that have been here.

In case you thought you were seeing things when you read about the golf tournament on the Joe Chandler Ranch - you were not. There was!

And for anyone who ever used a golf club, you ought to go out and try it.

And to those who thought they were seeing things when they read that Jim Spann and his partner won second place in the contest, he says he did!

The Chandler resort has a nice facility to offer for the outdoor pleasure of picnickers, swimmers, golfers, fishermen, etc., and it is worth a drive down to see.

And we feel safe in saying that this is the first golf tournament ever to be held in Terrell County. And thus another record goes into the history books.

And while we were talking of the tax picture last week, we just didn't have the room to suggest the fact that it appears that all the expenditures that will be necessary for the county's part in paying for the work necessary to get the flood-control dams built on the watersheds above Sanderson can be done without the increase in taxes.

There will be some cost in paying for the planning party to come out and work, and some more expense involved along the way, to the tune of upwards of $25,000.00 probably. And if the figure doesn't go too far beyond that, we are told that it will not be necessary to raise taxes to pay for this work.

Have you who have the chance noticed the hills around Sanderson recently?

They have taken on a green hue that is rather becoming.

We haven't been out in the country much of late, but we hope that the hillsides look as green all over as they do here.

We have had some travelers in recently who also noticed it and

Airman Miguel Perez
... to train at Sheppard AFB

Airman Miguel Perez, son of Mr. and Mrs. Isabel Perez of Sanderson, has been selected for technical training at Sheppard AFB, Wichita Falls, as a U. S. Air Force metal repair specialist.

The airman recently completed his basic training at Lackland AFB. The new school is part of the Air Training Command which conducts hundreds of specialized courses to provide technically trained personnel for the nation's aerospace force.

Airman Perez was graduated from the Sanderson High School in 1965 and attended San Antonio College.

Two Boys, Lool, Returned Sunday After Arrest Here

Two young men, 20 and 18, were returned to Eagle Pass Sunday after they were apprehended here following a tip from a Dryden merchant.

The men admitted the burglary of a store in Eagle Pass, and five cars in San Antonio recently.

R. G. Cole and M. L. Vick were apprehended by Deputy Sheriff Dalton Hogg Sunday after being notified of suspicion of their actions by the Dryden business man. They had many cartons of cigarettes and candy in their possession at the time, and told local officers that they had stolen five cars in San Antonio at various times.

Officers from Eagle Pass came after the pair Sunday afternoon and Sheriff Bill C. Cooksey said they were also wanted in San Antonio following action by Maverick County officers.

Cadet Jack Bogusch ... on Academy honor roll

Cadet Jack Bogusch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bogusch, has completed his first year at the Air Force Academy with a grade point average of 3.2, earning a total of 46.75 hours of credit for the school year. This has placed him on the Superintendent's list for academic and military excellence.

He is currently on tour of air bases in California, Ohio, New Mexico, and Georgia, and will return to the Academy in July to assist in the training of the new cadet class. In August he will go to Fort Benning, Ga., for paratroop training.

Plans Comlere For 4th Celebration

Plans are complete for the observance of the Fourth of July in Sanderson Monday of next week.

There will be a parade at 10:00 a. m. going from the Eagle Lumber Co. to the Legion Hall where a barbecue lunch will be served beginning at 12 noon.

Tickets have been on sale for several days and those not having tickets may pay at the head of the line for their meal.

On Sunday and Monday afternoons there will be rodeo events at the roping arena on the Fort Stockton highway.

Monday night there will be a dance on the slab at the Legion Hall from 9:00 p. m. to 1:00 a. m. Tuesday.

The American Legion, sponsors of the barbecue and dance, announced that the proceeds of those two events would go to pay the pledge of the Legion to the Trans-Terrell Medical Center.

The public is urged and invited to attend all of the affairs.

Cool Weather Hangs On Here

Cool weather has continued to hang on in Terrell County and offer a respite from the heat that is so common over most of the rest of the state.

Early-morning clouds appear to be heavy with moisture, but there have been no reports of any rainfall in this area within the last several days.

Old-timers and new-comers do not seem to remember any time in West Texas when it was so cool during all of the month of June.

The coolness and heavy dews that have been present on some of the mornings have helped to encourage the green growth of plants and weeds of the area. It has also aided in holding in the moisture that has fallen previously.

Walton Opens Garage, Welding Service Here

Les Walton has opened a garage and welding service in Sanderson in the building formerly occupied by M. A. Robertson on Oak St. just west of the corner of Downie St.

Walton stated that he would do complete engine and automatic transmission overhaul and repair work; air conditioner service and installation; wheel balancing and alignment; and welding. He will also repair lawn mowers and sell welding supplies.

Walton stated that he was a GM Certified Master Technician and was qualified also as an automotive electrical system specialist.

He stated that he would appreciate an opportunity to serve the needs of the automobile owners of the county.

Medical Center Fund Continues To Increase

The fund for the Trans-Terrell Medical Center continues to grow, according to County Judge R. S. Wilkinson, treasurer.

The fund now has $39,859.47 in cash and $5,547.50 in pledges and over $8,000.00 of the cash is in a saving account and drawing interest, Wilkinson said.

The pledges are coming in on schedule, and faithfully, too, according to the treasurer.

"Our records indicate that the people who made pledges are meeting their obligations well; and there is reason for all of us to be proud of the way we have not only responded to the need, but in the way we have continued to respond by meeting the obligation of our pledge to the fund," Judge Wilkinson stated.

FIRE IN SPANN KITCHEN MONDAY, LITTLE DAMAGE

A fire in the kitchen at the J. E. Spann home Monday just before noon, caused little more than smoke damage to that room. Some grease on the range ignited, but was quickly extinguished by Travis Spann, who threw some cloths on the blazing pan.

Mrs. D. A. Pollard, Former Resident, Dies In Del Rio

Mrs. Jim Neal, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Irvin Robbins, took her baby son to Fort Stockton Wednesday for a medical check-up.

Since the last two feature pictures were on aviation, we continue with the publication of this one taken of Admiral Richard E. Byrd when he landed in Dryden on February 7, 1936. The admiral was en route to San Antonio from El Paso and the stop was routine. He had lunch with Sgt. and Mrs. Richardson prior to departing. He was met at the air port in Dryden by the Sanderson High School Band and many area citizens who talked with the admiral and received autographs. The admiral has on a leather flying suit and his mittens are fur. Photo loaned by Mrs. W. J. Ferguson Jr.

Giants Lead Little Leaguers

The Little League baseball season is more than half over with 14 of 27 games scheduled already in the records, according to an announcement by Ernest Couch, head of the organization, the first of the week.

The Giants, coached by Johnny Benavides, have won nine of their games, losing none; the Dodgers, coached by T. J. Stewart, have won three games; and the Yankees, coached by Gene Black, have won one.

Games are played at the Legion Field each Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday nights. Mr. Couch stated that the support of local fans has not been as good as in previous years and is urging the attendance of more local fans to see the boys play.

To help meet a deficit in the Little League funds, there will be a cake and pie sale at the Ferguson Motor Co. Building on Friday morning, July 1, beginning at 9:00 o'clock. The patronage of the public will be appreciated.

Local Students In Band, Twirling Classes In Abilene

Eight Sanderson youths have been enrolled for the summer vacation band and twirling classes which begin July 10 on McMurray College campus in Abilene. They are: Sharon Ayers, Mitzi Cash, Patricia Dishman, Christine Downie, Sharon Hill, Vickey Rogers, Nelda Kay Suduth, and Vernon Thompson.

The classes are designed to improve concert band performance as well as marching showmanship. For mature and advanced players, a course in "reading band" will be offered again this year. Attention will be given to all individual instrument instruction, conducting, marching, and twirling, theory, percussion, and drum majoring.

Inter-Church VBS Closes Last Friday

The closing service for the Daily Vacation Bible School by the Methodist and Presbyterian Churches was held Friday evening in the Presbyterian Church where all of the classes were held this year. There was an enrollment of 43 in the school that met for 10 days.

Mrs. E. H. Jessup, general superintendent, introduced her departmental superintendents and each gave a resume of the accomplishments of her classes and gave out certificates.

Those present were invited to the Fellowship Hall where handwork done by the children was displayed. Refreshments of coffee, punch, and cookies were also served.

Three Attend Tennis School

Three Sanderson residents participated in the Texas Tennis Camp at Texas A&M University last week: Christine Downie, Joe Williams, Barton Harkins.

Professional Tut Bartzen is heading the school for 130 students. A tournament Friday and Saturday highlighted the clinic.

Car Insurance To Go Up $4 To Average Owner

The average motorist in Terrell County will pay $4 more for automobile insurance if the proposed change in rates is made by the State Board of Insurance, according to the Southwestern Insurance Information Service in Dallas.

Present cost of insurance on a new Ford or Chevrolet private automobile driven to and from work and not driven by a male under 25 years of age is $138. The new cost would be $142. This includes basic liability coverage of $10,000 for injury or loss of life of one person; $20,000 for two, and $5,000 property damage; $100 deductible collision; and full coverage comprehensive insurance.

Under the new rates, motorists would pay $1 more for bodily injury and property damage liability and $5 more for comprehensive. But the cost of $100 deductible would be reduced $2.

Other types and older cars have different rates. Texas has 26 rating territories and eight automobile classifications. The cost estimates given are for cars in classification 1B, which includes about half of the private automobiles in Texas.

Mrs. T. L. Leader left Thursday for San Antonio to visit her son and daughter, Charles Leader and Mrs. Carl Davis and their families and other relatives.

Wonderful are thy works. —(Psalms 139:14)

We truly become aware of our spiritual sonship to God, when we measure ourselves in wonderment before our Creator. We can sing out with the Psalmist who said, "I am fearfully and wonderfully made." What inventory of ourselves can we make to realize the wondrous work that God has done? Our heads are high, our vision spans the unexplored heavens, and our very souls kneel at awe before the greatness that has authored us.

SPANISH SARDINE CASSEROLE — HEARTY, TASTY, OUTDOOR MEAL

Whether you're camping out or eating at home, this hearty, delicious Spanish Sardine Casserole takes only minutes to make from packaged and canned convenience foods. The basis of this "meal in a kettle" is rice and vermicelli prepared from Spanish rice-a-roni mix. Simply add water, a can of tomatoes, a can of sardines and slices of processed American Cheese for the best "fireside eatin'" ever.

SPANISH SARDINE CASSEROLE

- 3 tbsp. salad oil
- 1 pkg. (8-oz.) Spanish Rice Mix
- 2 cups water
- 1 can (1 lb.) tomatoes
- 1 can (3 1/4 oz.) sardines, drained
- 1 pkg. (8 oz.) processed American Cheese

Heat oil in frying pan or large kettle. Add rice and vermicelli mixture from package and cook until vermicelli is lightly browned, stirring frequently. Remove from heat and allow to cool for a few minutes. Add water, contents of seasoning envelope (from mix package) and tomatoes to rice mixture and blend well. Bring to boiling point; reduce heat, cover and simmer 12 to 14 minutes until rice is tender. Cut sardines in half and add, tossing gently with rice. Cut cheese into 1/2-inch-thick slices. Arrange on top. Cover and heat until cheese is slightly melted, about 5 minutes. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

There is much discussion of job training as a part of the ballyhooed War on Poverty.

So far, little results have been shown compared against the millions of dollars of tax funds spent on this activity.

On the other hand, much is made of the fact that the unemployment rate is now down to 3.7. Yet how valid is this figure?

Rep. Thomas Curtis of Missouri, points out that affecting this figure is the fact that 500,000 additional people have been put to work due to the Vietnam war, and that 300,000 young men have also been drafted.

C. W. Harder

This, he points out, is an artificial means of contracting the force of the unemployed, and unless it is planned to keep wages going, is not a solution to the basic problem.

The National Federation of Independent Business finds an interesting development in data from its current year's continuous field survey.

It is finding that 66 per cent of the nation's independent business proprietors report they when they need employees they can, and are willing, to train unskilled workers in their operations without one cent being paid by the taxpayers to teach to them skills.

Of course, it must be recognized that 85 per cent of these respondent businesses are located outside the big cities largely along Main streets that stretch across the land.

Thus, this sort of data seems to put a different light on this matter of unskilled workers.

Is it not possible that the biggest problem is that the unskilled are huddled together in the big cities, and that with a little push, they could spread out into the countryside and find jobs where they also earn. As it is now, some are seeking to learn skills on tax money, with no assurance that the big city of their residence offers a job even if trained.

There is nothing in the U.S. Constitution that guarantees that everyone that wants one shall have a job in a big city. Is it not possible that many of the present unemployed are in that condition because they lack initiative?

This is one of the major paradoxes of our times. Politicians, sociologists, and others keep promoting slum clearance in the big cities at taxpayer's expenses on the basis it is not humanity for the unemployed to live in such circumstances.

But in an older day, when Americans did not like their conditions, they struck out across country to find something better.

And so far, it seems that there is work for all some where in this land if people just go out looking for it. But no one can expect a job to come looking for them. Or is this perhaps an unreasonable point of view.

Too Many Facts

Sculpture is subtraction. The figure takes shape as the artist, wielding his chisel, cuts away from the original block all that is surplus.

Something similar happens in a trial. The issues take shape as the judge, wielding the rules of evidence, seeks to cut away whatever is surplus—facts that are not "relevant" to the case. The purpose is to remove those facts that are not important, the better to see those facts that are.

Which facts are relevant? Basically it's a matter of common sense, applied to the circumstances of the individual case. Thus, in a murder trial, the fact that the defendant owned a gun might well be relevant—but not if the slaying was done with a dagger. For then, ownership of the gun would have no logical connection with the murder.

Even if there is a connection, a fact may be held irrelevant if the connection is too slight. Consider these examples:

In an assault case, the court ruled out evidence that the defendant was found drunk—a considerable time after the crime had been committed.

In a theft case, the court ruled out evidence that the defendant often used profanity.

In an abduction case, the court ruled out evidence that the defendant knew a man who had a police record.

Each of these rejected facts might have been interesting enough as a conversational tidbit. But none of them shed much light on the

SHORT AND SWEET

Ever since an enterprising chef at the St. Louis World's Fair of 1904 chopped beef, broiled it, and served it on a bun, the dish now known as hamburger has been an American favorite. Today more than 21 billion hamburgers are consumed in the United States every year and billions more in other nations. Hamburgers are now slapped into patties, rolled into balls, molded into loaves, stuffed in leaves, floated in soup, fried, broiled, barbecued, braised and served en brochette.

Enticing burgers are made with pizza, pickles, bagels, bananas, wine, nuts, onions, soybeans and lobsters. The first version of the versatile meat turned up on medieval menus in the Baltic states. Then it was eaten as raw beef shredded with a dull knife. Merchants from Hamburg, brought it home as Steak Tartar. German immigrants in the United States introduced the raw specialty here and named it hamburger. When a broiled version was introduced at the St. Louis World's Fair it became popularly known as hamburger.

An African sausage tree is one of the more intriguing specimens that can be found in Greater Miami. The tree bears fruit that looks like a wooden salami but can't be eaten. The fruits are 10 to 30 inches long, weigh nearly a pound an inch and are set in long, cord-like stalks. The tree has no known stalks. The tree has no known use. It is said that the tree's fruits are so woody that they must be sawed open for the pale seeds that are in abundance to be found. The sausage tree grows in a variety of soils, but only in the warm parts of the peninsula. The sprawling, open tree, which can be anywhere from 20 to 40 feet high, is a native of Abyssinia.

Delivering letters is one of the oldest public services. In 500 B.C. Darius the Great operated a postal system throughout Persia. Post is derived from the Latin positus, meaning "placed," because horses were stationed at intervals to relay Roman dispatches. A gallon of seawater contains about a quarter of a pound of salt. In all, oceans have about 4,500,000 cubic miles of salt. Major efforts are being made to find large-scale, economical means of extracting the salt, so that seawater can be used for drinking and other human needs.

There has been a noticeable moving of houses lately that has made a difference in the appearance of the town.

Sometimes there is a "musical houses" here when someone moves, but lately there has been a "musical lots" game, it seems.

For the benefit of out-of-town readers familiar with the town, there are no houses now east of the Eagle Lumber Co. in that block, and only two houses on the north side of the street in the block west on Oak St. or main.

These houses are being moved to a new site and will be remodeled.

This will make for a better appearance of the old houses and makes room for the construction of some new buildings or houses on the main drag.

Man-Sized Cats Seen In Amistad

The layman trying to comprehend the fishing opportunities when mighty Amistad Lake is readded has a great deal in common with the old pro fisheries people around Texas Parks and Wildlife Department regional headquarters.

Leo Lewis, fisheries chief for Region One who operates out of San Angelo, was conferring with top level personnel when the variety of excitement incident to Amistad's recreational possibilities was mentioned.

The $80,000,000 impoundment, straddling the Rio Grande River above Del Rio and enveloping both Devils Lake and Lake Walk, is scheduled for completion in 1968.

Just about every popular fresh water fish is expected to thrive in the vast lake that will cover some 87,400 acres of land in both Mexico and the United States.

Black bass, as the fisheries experts see it, probably will be the target of anglers the year around. But they also envision giant blue cats, a massive crappie population and probably exploding white bass numbers.

White bass originally were successfully placed in Lake Walk under experiments conducted by the Department years ago. Now these have moved downstream in the Rio Grande and have stocked Lake Falcon.

Research underway now suggests a huge selective kill of undesirable species in both Devils Lake and Lake Walk and converting both lakes as a gigantic natural black bass restocking facility.

Great rock caves along the banks of the Pecos and Devils rivers, up to 26 miles distance on the latter, will be ideal spawning spots for the big cats.
