Dance Honors Local Grads

A Hawaiian motif was used to decorate the Legion Hall Saturday evening for a dance given by several mothers of the junior class members of Sanderson High School. Invitations were extended to a large crowd of the high school set and an out-of-town orchestra provided music for the dance.

Flowers were entwined in the fish nets hung on the west wall for decorations and the piano was covered in grass mats. Clusters of tropical fruit hung from overhead lights.

Vines and bright red poppies were used to cover the fireplace and shells and brown nets were in the fireplace. For decoration on the mantel, brilliant-colored flowers were arranged in a piece of driftwood with large sea shells on each end.

In one corner of the hall was a beautiful Hawaiian scene with a full moon and blue sky for a background. A fountain, palm trees in which there were birds, flowers, and shells completed the scene with simulated rocks in the foreground.

Punch and cookies were served throughout the evening. The bar was covered in fish net with tikilights, a statue of the Tiki God, ceramic pineapples, straw hats filled with tropical flowers for a further decorative note. A silver punch bowl and silver trays were used.
