LISTEN TO LUKE

By Albert: ---
It is our considered opinion that the person who is able to get the most done the quickest in the flood control project will get the greatest amount of appreciation from the residents of Sanderson whose lives and much of their property is in the balance.
It is nearly seven years since the disastrous flood hit which took 27 lives and many millions of dollars in property. And while much has been done toward the completion of the project, much is undone. Spring rains of 1972 could never be controlled by the dams in the proposed project. It just takes longer than that to get things done. Spring rains of 1972 are a concern of many of our residents. But many of them, according to what is told to us, are beginning to wonder about the spring rains of 1973, 1974, 1975, 1976, etc., etc.
The way we look at it, this should be the NUMBER 1 project for everyone in the county.

People are funny!
In last week's Fort Stockton Pioneer, Frank Baker had on his editorial page, an article: "Buy Locally" in which he stated: "A local $50 item 50 miles away would have to sell for $34.50 in order for you to break even." The statistics are based on certification by the American Automobile Association that it costs 15.5¢ per mile to drive your car. The story goes on: "Local merchants, whether it is groceries, clothing, drugs, hardware, appliances, or whatever, feature top line, nationally advertised products. They also support your local schools, churches, and organizations. They also help to pay for improvements to make this a better place to live. And they'll be here tomorrow to serve you personally."

It sounds like Frank copied that out of The Times, doesn't it?
What's odd is that they have the same trouble there that merchants do here, people go to Odessa, Mohahans, or San Angelo, or even Pecos to buy a bargain, while people in those places drive somewhere else for the same purpose. Wonder why we couldn't work out some kind of a deal with the Stockton merchants to advertise: "If you have to leave Fort Stockton, buy in Sanderson!" And speaking of savings, in the Fort Stockton Pioneer last week, they had an ad on processed beef from a Pecos merchant for 65¢ per pound. The Times had an ad for processed beef for 66¢ a pound. Big deal in Pecos!

Like we said last week, our mail is something else!
Among the many bills, offers to earn a million dollars in 42 days, win $1,000 a day for the rest of my life, etc., etc., etc., we got a news release that should command the attention of every citizen of our state. It was from Col Wilson E. Speir, director of the Texas

Pilot Medical Program Possible For Sanderson

Dr. Ralph Chase spoke to a hurriedly-conceived group of local citizens at noon Tuesday at the Oasis Restaurant explaining his ideas of possibilities for medical services for residents of Sanderson and the area. He and his wife came to Sanderson after conversations with Sheriff Bill C. Cooksey.

Dr. Chase is a practicing pediatrician in San Angelo.

The medical doctor told of several plans that were potentially possible to see that qualified medical service would be available to local people at least on a part-time basis if there was sufficient interest expressed and a willingness to cooperate with sponsoring physicians on a "pilot program" in Sanderson.

Members of the Sanderson Emergency Squad were briefed on some of the particulars so that a telephone campaign could be held to find out the feelings of the residents for such a program and even to learn their opposition to it, if possible.

Under the plans submitted by Dr. Chase, there was the basic fact that any help that was obtained to better the situation locally would not be the most desired situation, and that it would be on a "two or three days a week" basis for visits by a medical doctor, at best, with the possibility of a "nurse practitioner" here possibly full time -- and these facilities only in compliance with the existing laws governing such activities at the time they were initiated.

He stated that there was interest by a medical group and by some in the legislature to Department of Public Safety, and it stated that 3,594 persons died last year on Texas streets and highways. An additional 121,082 were injured and the total economic loss was $1.045 billion.

No, one, not any person, should complain about the diligence of officers in trying to get drivers to operate their vehicles safely and within the law. And everyone should be pleading for every effort to some way cut down on the tremendous waste of human life, ability, and money.

We found very accidentally last weekend about the work Supt. Buddy Card is doing by taking some children to a dentist in Alpine to see that they get the attention and treatment they need.

We are publishing this information not to embarrass Mr. Card in any way, but to let the people know that the "over and above" effort is being done. It might inspire someone else to do something for someone else just because they need it!

Eric Severeid could possibly talk for 15 minutes about why the school board race came out like it did, but we think we can sum it up quickly and simply -- that's the way the people wanted it! Those that voted did so because they wanted to and also for the candidate they wanted to; and those that didn't vote, did not do so because they didn't want to.

try to see that outlying places had some kind of medical facilities to try to assure some of the needs of the residents.
It was the strong opinion of this writer, and substantiated by Dr. Chase, that with the willingness of the people to cooperate with such a program, that there would be every effort made by the sponsoring medical society to insure the success of the program here so that it could be used as an example for other communities in their efforts to obtain medical service.

Because an electric hot water heater is flameless it requires no flue, or ventilation. It can easily be installed in closets, under kitchen drainboards or under stairs. You can safely place an electric water heater anyplace it will fit because it produces so little external heat. A modern electric water heater is clean and quiet because it's flameless... the heating elements are completely immersed in the water so they heat quickly and efficiently. Notes from the Big Bend

by Ro Wauer

water sources for wildlife is being returned to rejuvenated springs. And that's one of the park's major goals.

The year 1971 was a strange one in West Texas in at least one way; the severe drought was broken by a very wet late summer and fall. Within a few months springs were flowing within the park where there had been no water for many long years. Although Cottonwood Creek has flowed during wet periods in recent years, the finding of Gano Spring flowing across the roadway, and Mc-Dinney Ranch wells overflowing and constricting travel on the Old Ore Road, is a little more than was expected. Why, after years of quiescence, should some of the old water sources begin to flow again?

Management of the old stock tanks and springs has been a topic of real concern to park officials. Suggestions of all kinds have been made over the years. Some people thought that the park should completely rehabilitate the drainages and eliminate any signs of stock tanks, while an equal number of folks voiced their opinion that all of the tanks should be reconstructed. Although everyone seems to have the same objectives in mind, available water for wildlife, heated arguments could develop with only the slightest comments.

Park Service left the tanks and springs alone. Some of the springs dried. The demise of Neville and Estufa (Rice) springs could be pretty well traced to use of water at upper elevations. Tanks eroded at varying degrees. Some of them, such as those within the drainages, have long ago lost much of their water-holding abilities. Others, such as those at the Chimneys, Lone Mountain, Dagger Flat, and on Burro Mesa are still holding quantities of water during some parts of the year. Others, such as Willow Tank and the Gambusia Pond at Rio Grande Village, contain springs that continue to flow within the tanks. Still others, such as Mailbox and Rice Tanks, are being retained because of their historic nature.

Apparently, it is all working out reasonably well. Vegetative studies, conducted by Sul Ross State University, show that the native vegetation has come back a long way since the ranching days prior to the establishment of the park. Increased vegetation suggests a more healthy environment that allows percolation of water into the soils where storage units develop.

As the water-holding tanks are eroded away, their use as

An Open Letter To The People Of Texas

Dear Voter:

I'm a candidate for attorney general of Texas because I believe it's time for a change in the office.

Crawford Martin is seeking a fourth term. It's the first time in the history of Texas an attorney general is running for a fourth term.

Campaigns should be run on the issues and I don't like to inject personalities and personal relationships into a political campaign. But, the relationship between Frank Sharp and Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin cannot be swept under the rug.

The new book about the Texas stock fraud scandal, "Texas Under a Cloud," tells about that relationship. On page 128 the book says:

"Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin... got some free newspaper publicity when it was revealed in October, 1971, that he received a 'stock tip' from Frank Sharp - while Martin and his family were Sharp's ranch guests late in 1969 and again at Sharp's Houston office early in 1970.

"Sharp was trying personally to sell National Bankers Life stock to Martin, although the attorney general said that Sharp never mentioned the possibility of Sharpstown Bank loans to buy the stock.

"Martin said that he turned the stock offer down because it would have cost too much, because NBL was in 'shaky' condition, and because he did not buy 'speculative' stocks.

"He did not comment on the ethical aspects of a state official's accepting a stock tip of that sort - perhaps, because Martin, as attorney general, had ruled in favor of Sharp on a key legal issue about Sharpstown State Bank only two and one half years before Sharp made the stock offer to Martin.

"Martin's ruling had the effect of increasing the bank's capitalization dramatically and thus its ability to make large loans, ultimately giving Sharp the financial resources he used in the manipulations charged by the SEC."

As you know, hundreds of Texans lost their life savings because of Sharp's stock manipulations and it probably wouldn't have happened but for Atty. Gen. Martin's legal opinion.

Don't you agree, it's time for a change in the office of attorney general of Texas?

Just so you'll know what you'd be changing to, I'd like to tell you a little about John Hill. I'm a native Texan, grew up in Wink and Kilgore, was national debate champion at Kilgore Junior College and graduated from the University of Texas Law School. I served in the Navy during World War II, practiced law (much of the time in courtrooms) in Houston, and was secretary of state from 1966 to 1968.

I certainly would appreciate your support.

It is time for a change.
