LISTEN TO LUKE

By Albert---

We don't know if we can put in print what we are trying, or if it can be said like we want to say it, but we're going to try! We don't want to hurt the feelings of anyone, or to be critical of anyone's actions, but try to get over a message that we think is absolutely vital for all of our future actions.

Every person in Sanderson is less fortunate than some other person in the world in material possessions, social status, and all those things by which some people falsely judge others!

And by the same token every person in Sanderson is more fortunate than some other person in the world by those same flimsy standards.

If history is used as some kind of criteria, people are remembered there for outstanding activity: Caesar, Brutus, Napoleon, Hitler, Francis of Assisi, Lee Harvey Oswald, and so-on down the lines are all recorded there, so being remembered by history is no accomplishment!

There is only one criteria of greatness that we know of: the measure of greatness that will mean the most for the longest time. By that measure, it is an acceptable fact that social acceptability, personal wealth, family name, race, nationality, etc., are not even a consideration!

Rather: "The more lowly your service to others, the greater you are. To be the greatest, be a servant. But those who think themselves great shall be disappointed and humbled; and those who humble themselves shall be exalted."

Since we are all greater in riches than some and poorer in riches than some, and the same in social standing, prestige, family name, etc., that means that we are all in the same boat and we have the obligation -- and privilege of helping our neighbors when they need it.

Maybe we should put it this way: It's about time we began practicing what we preach!

And there is so very much that depends on how you look at it!

If you don't know what might have prompted the opinions above, and if you do, they are only to try to help everyone to determine a future course of action in our community relations.

Sanderson's three young men who went to Austin last week for competition at the state level in their respective events in track, are to be commended for their accomplishments.

To gain that level is something, and to place among the best of the state is really something!

We don't doubt but what the boys did the best they could; each of them beat all previous marks they had made in their respective events.

Ricky Marquez was able to outrun all his competition in the mile and won 1st; Jim Cash vaulted 13'3" for 3rd place (1st place was 12'6");

They represented Sanderson well!

No one should have been greatly surprised at the Texas Legislature's efforts to protect the cougar. For a while, it seems, all wildlife will be protected in preference to domestic or range animals. We honestly predict the rattlesnake, copperhead, and water moccasin to be the next species of wildlife to come under the protective wing of the law. At least the rattler, if not the other two.

Junior-Senior Banquet Monday

Using the theme "Spring in Spain", St. James Parish Hall was attractively decorated for the banquet given by the members of the junior class of the Sanderson High School Monday evening honoring the members of the senior class.

Wrought iron furniture was in the entrance foyer with colorful pillows, pictures, and large paper flowers adding to the decor. On the south wall there was a large spread with bright orange flowers. Squares of bright colored tissue paper were used on screens of small chicken wire to form simulated flowers and leaves for a further decorative note.

Wrought-iron grills were over the red-curtained windows in the hall and at the base of each were large paper flowers and foliage. Generous use was made of vines to cover other areas of the walls. Potted plants in baskets and pottery containers were at vantage points. In a flower-decorated fountain in the center of the hall there was a Spanish singing troubador. To one side was a Mexican parrot in a wrought-iron cage and in another area white doves were perched on a large bird bath. The wire-covered screen across the north end of the hall was decorated in simulated flowers of tissue paper with streamers in varied shades of green across the base.

Mounted on a gold-covered screen were caricatures of the seniors, the Spanish motif being used with their individual photos. The caricatures were given as favors to the seniors later.

Place mats on the tables were of red net trimmed in black lace. Candles in varied shades added to the decor. The fan-shaped net-covered programs were printed in Spanish carrying further the color scheme of red and black.

The welcome was extended by Jimmy Davis, junior class president, and Chago Flores, president of the senior class, gave the response. The invocation was by Miss Janice Carter.

For entertainment, Rosela Falcon and Eddie Benevides danced two Spanish numbers. Later a quintet composed of Janice Carter, Wynne Massey, Robert Kline, Barbara Freeman, and Jimmy Davis, sang several songs, the young men playing guitar accompaniment. Floyd Watson gave the class prophecy and Maje Harrison read the class will.

Junior mothers prepared the food, the menu consisting of baked chicken breasts, green bean casserole, baked potatoes tossed salad, tostados, relishes, French rolls, and iced tea with a dessert.

Over 100 attended the banquet, also including Supt. C. B. Card and wife, Principals Wayne Mitchell and Jack Cosby and their wives, members of the school board and their wives, and the members of the high school faculty and their wives or husbands.

The servers, all chosen by the members of the sophomore class, were Debra Druse, Vonda Wallace, Sandra Villarreal, Hanna Sullivan, Jeannie Falcon, Linda Hageigans, Kevin Phillips, Donald Jones, David Carter, Danny Montalvo, and Carlos Munoz. The girls wore peasant blouses with long skirts and the boys wore bright colored boleros with matching cummerbunds, dark trousers, and white shirts with full sleeves, all emphasizing the Spanish motif.

People 65 and over without Medicare Hospital Insurance Can Apply Now

Starting July 1, people 65 and over who haven't been able to get Medicare hospital insurance before may be eligible and they can apply for the protection now, according to social security officials here.

"Previously, to get Medicare hospital insurance, you had to be 65 or over and either eligible for social security payments or have a certain amount of social security work credit," a spokesman said. "Under recent amendments to the social security law, people 65 or over who were not eligible before may now purchase Medicare hospital insurance protection. To get this protection, however, they must also sign up for the medical insurance part of Medicare."

"This new provision is designed to extend hospital insurance coverage to people 65 or over who have little or no work credit under social security and are unable to get comparable insurance through private companies," he said.

The initial premium for hospital insurance will be $33 a month plus $6.30 a month for medical insurance. "The protection will begin July 1, 1973, for people who sign up before June 1," the spokesman said.

"This year, you can sign up as late as August 31," he said. "If you delay past May 31, though, coverage will begin later. If you delay past August 31, you can sign up in the first 3 months of any year."

Medicare hospital insurance helps pay for hospital bills and many related expenses.

The medical insurance part of Medicare helps pay doctor bills and other medical expenses not covered by the hospital insurance. It is funded by individual premiums and by general revenue.

For people who become

65 after June 1 who are not otherwise eligible for hospital insurance, there is initially a 7-month period to apply for both the hospital and medical insurance parts of Medicare. "You can apply during the 3 months before you're 65, the month of your 65th birthday, or the 3 months thereafter," the spokesman said. "But you must apply in the 3 months before you're 65 to get coverage beginning with the month you become 65."

Starting in July, Medicare will also be extended to workers under 65 who have been getting monthly disability payments from social security or railroad retirement for 2 years or more—and to many people with chronic kidney disease.

Medicare is administered by the Social Security Administration of the U.S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare.

Man Is Now Using Nuclear Pacemaker

Nuclear-powered cardiac pacemakers developed for the Atomic Energy Commission by ARCO Nuclear Company of Leechburg, Pa., a subsidiary of Atlantic Richfield Co., have been implanted in humans.

The nuclear heart pacers are designed to operate for at least 10 years compared with the two or three year life of conventional battery-powered devices. The longer life of the nuclear pacemakers could mean fewer operations for those who require a pacemaking device to regulate their heartbeats.

Mrs. Cora Cottle of Del Rio was a weekend visitor with her daughter, Mrs. John Whistler III, and family.

Mrs. Edubijes Escamilla went to Odessa last Thursday and after visiting her daughters, Mrs. Ruben Flores, and family and Miss Lupe Pena, she brought her daughter, Miss Margarita Pena, who is employed there at a pharmacy, to Sanderson for two weeks to recuperate from a recent illness.

Thoughts

From The Living Bible

"Honor your father and mother (remember, this is a commandment of the Lord your God); if you do so, you shall have a long, prosperous life in the land he is giving you. You must not murder. You must not commit adultery. You must not steal. You must not tell lies. You must not burn with desire for another man's wife, nor envy him for his home, land, servants, oxen, donkeys, nor anything else he owns. The Lord has given these laws to each one of you from the heart of the fire, surrounded by the clouds and thick darkness that engulfed Mount Sinai. Those were the only commandments he gave you at that time, but he wrote them out on two stone tablets and gave them to me."
