

Former Baird Youth Killed Monday As Car Overturns

A 15-year-old Snyder youth was thrown from a car and killed late Monday night on a county road 1.7 miles west of Snyder.

Charles (Chuck) Cockrell, 15, was a passenger in his father's 1955 automobile which was being driven by a friend, Richard Simons, 19, of Snyder. He was the son of Dr. and Mrs. C. Ray Cockrell, former residents of Baird.

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. Wednesday in the First Methodist Church.

Rev. Lennol Hester, pastor, officiated. Burial was in Hillside

Memorial Gardens under direction of Bolger Funeral Home.

The car apparently skidded on loose gravel and hurtled on through a borrow ditch into a field. It overturned.

Cockrell was thrown from the car. He was dead on arrival at Cogdell Memorial Hospital in Snyder.

Simons and Jim Goldsmith, 17, of Littlefield, another passenger, suffered only minor injuries. Simons and Goldsmith were rooming together and working in the oilfields. Simons came to Snyder from Dallas.

State Highway Patrolman E. W. Green and Scurry County Sheriff Homer Whisnand investigated the wreck.

Green said Simons apparently hit the brakes and the car went out of control.

Cockrell would have been a freshman in Snyder High School this fall.

He was a member of the First Methodist Church.

Survivors include his parents, Dr. and Mrs. C. Ray Cockrell; three sisters, Joan, Barbara (Bebe) and Susan; his paternal grandfather, C. A. Cockrell, Sr., of Abilene; and his maternal grandmother, Mrs. R. H. Bedell of Dayton, Ohio, who was visiting in Snyder.

The youth was a nephew of highway patrolman C. A. Cockrell, Jr., of Abilene.

He was born April 7, 1940 in Baird.

Palbearers were Bob Harlin, Fritz R. Smith, Jr., Tommy McClatchy, Bud Morgan, Milton Ham, Jimmy Cloud, Israel H. Jones and Bobby Slaton.

Attending the funeral from Baird were: Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Bell, Jerry Loper, Hugh Ross, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Sladous.

Rev. Douglas Brown, of Snyder will be speaker at the First Baptist Church Sunday. Rev. Brown will preach at both morning and evening services.

70% Receive 2nd Salk Shot

Dr. Henry A. Holle, Commissioner of Health, stated today that the second inoculation of first and second grade pupils against poliomyelitis has been completed in most areas of Texas. Approximately 70 percent of those receiving the first shots were on hand for the second group.

It is hoped that vaccine will be available soon for use by private physicians to immunize those not eligible under the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis program; also that some arrangements can be made to secure vaccine for the medically indigent of the state. Under the Foundation program, use of vaccine has been limited mostly to children in the first and second grades.

Dr. J. E. Peavy, Chief of the Division of Communicable Diseases, says that polio occurs both sporadically and in epidemics at irregular intervals, with the highest incidence in Texas during the latter part of July and the month of August.

During the past five years 37.4 percent of the reported cases of poliomyelitis in Texas occurred in the age group under five years; 26 percent in the group 5 to 9 years; 12.6 percent in the group 10 to 14 and 23.8 percent of the cases reported were 15 years of age or older. During epidemics paralytic cases rarely exceed one per thousand of population. The most deaths from poliomyelitis are in the 20-29 year group.

Poliomyelitis can be recognized by your physician by clinical manifestations assisted by examination of the spinal fluid.

ATOMIC ENERGY

By BILL JURY
General Electric News Bureau
Hanford Atomic Plant

(The following is the fourth of a series of seven articles disclosing the highlights and sidelights which have accompanied the nation's development of atomic energy. Prepared at the Hanford atomic energy plant, the series deals with the human things which followed in the wake of the first historic announcement that man had harnessed the atom. It touches upon the things which lie ahead.)

Strange and awesome devices are among the tools with which scientists today are probing the mysterious world of the atom.

By-products of the atomic age and America's search for nuclear knowledge, many of the new instruments might have been fostered in the mind of Jules Verne or H. G. Wells, and later discarded because they were considered "too incredible."

Yet, their collective presence in the laboratories and workshops of American industries and research laboratories eventually may have as profound an effect on the lives of the nation's farmers and city-dwellers as the steam locomotive or the automobile.

The nation's atomic scientists today are employing these hyper-sensitive instruments to explore minute worlds to a degree never before imagined possible.

With the electron microscope used by General Electric company scientists in research work at the Hanford atomic energy works, for example, particles one ten-millionth of an inch in diameter can be observed.

Viruses and certain molecules became visible under this magnification for the first time in the history of the world, and if you could write letters that small, you could cram 40,000 printings of the Gettysburg Address onto the tip of a human hair. Members of the Biology section of the GE organization operating the Hanford plant for the Atomic Energy Commission use the microscope to observe animal tissues and other materials which have been exposed to radiation.

Seeing to it that Hanford vacuum and gas-filled tubes used in research work are "leak-free" is the job of a mass spectrometer leak detector. The device is so sensitive that if used on a fully inflated passenger automobile tire, it could detect a leak so small that it would require 2000 years for the tire to lose all its pressure.

Weight-measuring instruments used at the Hanford plutonium-producing plant register weights of particles so small that they are beyond human comprehension. A micro-balance, one of three super-sensitive instruments in use by GE scientists, can measure particles weighing no more than one one-hundredth of a gram.

There is no place for such a device as this in the butcher shop around the corner, but to the scientist in his laboratory, it is an indispensable tool in his quest for greater knowledge about the amazing world of the atom.

(Next Week: "Atomic Age Sheep")

Today's Meditation

Whosoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him shall never thirst; but the water that I shall give him shall be in him a well of water springing up into everlasting life. (John 4:14)
Read John 6:35-40.
Jesus—transformed into a spring of living water the soul of a woman who had lived a hard, poor life, a life without vision. The lesson Jesus taught her at Jacob's well is an eternal miracle. Christ is the everlasting Fountain of the water of life.

Christ's message is for every generation, for every person. It is God's will that we accept the water He offers through Christ. Only by our willingness to accept it will it be ours in reality.

To be a well of living water is to leave the pitcher behind, as did the Samaritan woman; for it is no longer of service to us. It belongs to the well, and we need no longer the well. To be a fountain of living water is to feel the divine currents springing up within us. It invigorates us, cleanses us, broadens our vision, and makes us move and live completely in God. The living water Christ gives us has a way also of overflowing and reaching others in need of it.

Prayer

Our heavenly Father, transform our dead wells into living fountains. Let the rich currents of Thy Holy Spirit flow within us and transform us into blessings for others. In the name of Christ, the eternal Fountain of life. Amen.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM Your State CAPITOL

By—VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

First convictions in the 319 indictments shrouding the veterans land program came last week.

A three-year penitentiary sentence was fixed by a 98th district court jury for the program's founding father, Bascom Giles.

Surprised, Giles promised to use all his legal rights to fight the conviction. Motion for new trial was quickly overruled, clearing the way for appeal to the Court of Criminal Appeals.

Conviction was on a charge the former land commissioner aided and abetted Brady land dealer B. R. Sheffield in the theft of $6,800. Sheffield was jointly indicted with Giles and still awaits trial.

Involved was the state's purchase last fall of the 10,114-acre Kinney County Rosenow Ranch, subdivided into 54 tracts for resale to 54 veterans. One tract sold for $6,800 to a veteran who testified he thought he was signing up for a $100 loan.

Giles stoutly denied state charges that he over-appraised the land as part of a scheme to defraud the state. He said he knew nothing of $100-per-name purchases of veteran's signatures to put through the transaction.

Many a courtroom spectator had predicted an acquittal prior to the closing argument of young Dist. Atty. Les Proctor. He waived in the faces of the jury a $25,000 check from Sheffield to Giles and called it "corroboration" of state testimony as a payoff. Giles had testified it was in payment for a real estate sale in which he acted as agent.

Free on a $2,000 appeal bond, Giles awaits trial again Aug. 15 in San Antonio. He is charged there with accepting a bribe in another land program deal. Other indictments are still pending in Travis and Zavala Counties.

State Recovers Land Money
In the second of many civil suits resulting from the veterans land scandals the state last week recovered $89,868.

Byrd Cattle Co. of Dallas was ordered by 53rd district court to repay that amount plus three per cent interest.

Action was initiated by the cattle company. It offered to buy back at the purchase price the 700 acres of Dimmit County land sold to 15 veterans. Court judgement was necessary, however, to rescind the transaction.

No allegation of fraud was made by the attorney general's department against the company. It did, however, accuse J. Paul Little, Crystal City attorney who promoted the transaction with making false representation to the Veterans Land Board.

Little is under indictment in Zavala County. Committee Ousts Morrow Way was cleared last week for a new Texas Democratic national committeeman.

In the change, Gov. Allan Shivers hopes to regain the vote

Texas has lost on the national committee. Wright Morrow has not been nationally recognized since he renounced the Democratic presidential nominee to support Eisenhower three years ago.

To set the stage, the State Democratic Executive Committee last week declared the national committeeman post vacant after stirring speeches.

Morrow bitterly assailed Shivers, who for several months had urged the committeeman to resign.

Shivers, Morrow charged, wanted to replace him with "someone acceptable to Speaker Sam Rayburn...and somebody who supported the Democratic ticket in 1952." He challenged any member of the committee to say he could so qualify.

Shivers denied intention to appease Rayburn. He declared Texas conservative Democrats need full representation on the national committee to help get their delegation seated at the 1956 presidential convention.

A successor to Morrow is to be named at a September meeting. Liberal Democrats quickly tried to wedge the conservative breach.

Ralph W. Yarbough of Austin, twice defeated by Shivers for the governorship, extended his sympathy to Morrow. Even though the two have long disagreed politically, Yarbough said he regretted to see any man "double-crossed."

James Sewell of Corsicana, chairman of the Democratic Advisory Committee, spoke up for Morrow as a "victim of political connivers."

Integration Committee Formed
A statewide advisory committee on public school integration problems is meeting in Austin this week.

Governor Shivers invited 33 men and women, both white and colored, to serve on the committee. Additional legislative members were named by Lieut. Gov. Ben Ramsey and Speaker Jim Lindsey.

Shivers said the committee was needed to study critical desegregation problems and prevent "hasty, ill-advised action."

He urged school districts to appoint similar committees. They would study local level problems and serve as liaison with the state group.

Anti-Crime Group Formed
A non-profit corporation pledged to fight crime on a statewide basis will set up headquarters in Austin.

Called the Texas Law Enforcement Foundation, it grew out of recommendations of the attorney general's Citizens Advisory Committee on Law Enforcement. Its aim is to provide a broad program of education in scientific crime-fighting techniques.

It will provide libraries on criminology, make awards to outstanding officers, publish bulletins on new crime-combating tactics, assist training schools, sponsor additional schools.

Traffic Fatalities Increase
Texas traffic deaths the first six months of 1955 are up two per cent, and June totals are still incomplete.

Mrs. Duke McIntosh attended the funeral for her aunt, Miss Lulu Carter last week in Abilene.

Mrs. Paul Dugan and daughter returned to their home in Borger Sunday after visiting Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Price here and Mrs. Joe Dugan, Clyde.

Mrs. Bennie Everett of San Antonio, who has been in Hendrick Memorial Hospital in Abilene was brought to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Bailey last weekend.

The Robert Holder family went to Sipe Springs Sunday for a homecoming.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Shipman and sons, Kenny and Davy, accompanied by Sharon Holder, visited Robert Holder and family for the weekend.

Mrs. Alfred Lastovica and children of Temple were recent visitors in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Estes.

Veda Yarbrough

Hi there neighbor, near and far, wherever you are, I had hoped that by today I could report a good rain to you, but no, not even a sprinkle. Sure is getting dry.

Yes, we went to Sunday School and Church this morning. We had 53 in Sunday School. We were so glad to see that many. Our enrollment is only 65.

Mrs. Ida Earp spent last Tuesday afternoon with me. We were very glad to have Mrs. Earp. She brought her crocheting to work on, but didn't get much done on it. We spent the afternoon talking. Lillie Eubank visited with us awhile too. Lillie also visited with Mrs. Dell Jones, Dove Gunn, Annie Park and Minerva Jones Tuesday afternoon. They were doing okay, resting and taking life easy which is very good this hot weather.

Mr. and Mrs. Edd Griffin of Lubbock spent a few days the past week visiting with Miss Dell, Dove, Annie and Miss Jones. It seems they have more company than anyone. Think I will visit them one afternoon this week if I don't get too lazy.

Ross Bailey and daughter Sandra of Houston; Nelson Bailey of Cisco visited with Jim and I last evening. Also visited with D. A. Yarbrough too. Sandra is a grown young lady now. She is 17 years of age. My, it seems only a little while ago she was a tiny little girl. We were real glad to see them.

E. C. and Joan Collinsworth and daughters spent a couple of days with Burette and Johnny Ramsey. E. C. plowed for Burette while here. Burette and Johnny were not at church this morning. Hope they are not sick.

Mr. and Mrs. John Shrader and granddaughter visited with the Mark Burnams Tuesday evening.

De Witt Chandler and family had dinner and visited with Mark and Ollie a while Saturday evening.

Good morning! Nice and hot this Monday morning. Little Boy Jim is stacking feed. Johnny Hock and Glen Shirley are helping him.

Bert, Gertrude Jones and Johnny left Saturday afternoon on their vacation. After they did not get to go the first part of the week they did not go to Wyoming as the vote is already over. So they went to South Texas instead. Hope they have a nice trip any way even if they were disappointed on their trip west. Maybe the bears won't catch you in Texas.

Well, today is the first day of August. Had you ever thought that Christmas would soon be here. I have been making some Christmas gifts already. Would even address my Christmas cards if I could find some to buy as I always get in such a mad rush just before Christmas. Think I will see if I can buy them right soon.

Mark Burnam is having some terraces built today in his field. I see Weldon Isenhower has several terraces laid off in the Grisham Field. Guess he will have them built soon.

Jim and D. A. took some calves to the Abilene sale Thursday. They really sold good.

I visited in Cisco with my sister, Fay Wood, Thursday. She works nights now at the Glove Factory.

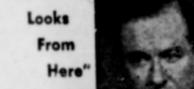

Maurine and Willie McCollum visited a while Thursday afternoon with us. Enoch went to Breckenridge to a ball game with Clovis and family. Helen's oldest son plays with the Little League team in Cisco. Think he is a pretty good player. I was at the Mc's a while the other afternoon and the boys were riding their new horse they had bought for them. She really is a pretty thing. I told Helen one horse, two boys wouldn't work. Both want to ride her at the same time. Maybe they can get another one some time so they both can be cowboys and have a big time.

Mildred Carter sent me a Sunbeam Electric Skillet last week. Sure is nice and I bought myself a deep fryer and boiler so guess I will have to do a lot of cooking if I can find something to cook. Think I might get a mess of good old blackeye peas tomorrow.

Oh, my goodness! I have got to get busy and fix lunch for these hungry and tired men so be good until I see you next week.

Washington

"As It Looks From Here"

OMAR BURESON
Congressman
17th District

The well known Natural Gas Bill, which we have been battling for in Congress for several months, finally passed the House of Representatives.

The vote was 209 to 203 in favor of the measure. Those of us who have been working on this matter for more than a year have known all along it would be a tremendously hard fight.

Your Bank Wants To Serve You. Always Ready to Assist and Advise — 1ST NATL in Cisco — Member F. D. I. C.

The Baird Star, Baird, Callahan County, Texas, August 5, 1955

It is to be hoped that the Senate will immediately act on this legislation when the Congress reconvenes.

Each year I have been in Congress, it has been my hope that we would not end up in a great rush of legislation crowded in during the last days. It invariably happens and this year is no exception.

It always seems that we should have some of the time wasted in the earlier part of the year to apply to these last days. Twenty-four hours a day is simply not long enough when the Congress is in the process of adjournment.

It is my intent to return to my District the latter part of August. I have been honored with an invitation to speak at several functions, including the dedication on Sept. 3rd of Lake Leon, sponsored by the towns of Eastland and Ranger. On the following Saturday, September 10th, I look forward to having a part on the program at the Gorman Peanut Festival. On both these occasions I will meet many of my friends of long-standing.

After about two weeks of speaking engagements, it will be necessary for me to return to Washington for a short time, and then back home for further visits around over my Congressional District.

A part of my duties during the Fall when Congress is not in session is to look into the matter of Government printing. An effort is going to be made to cut down the tremendous paper work in which the Government is engaged. An order by the President now directs Government agencies to cut out so much duplication of all sorts and kinds of forms and reports. It has been found that dozens of different departments, commissions, and bureaus actually harass people, and particularly businessmen, with a lot of needless forms for this, that, and the other.

Perhaps the idea of some high Government officials instructing Federal employees to write "chatty" letters might be a good one.

A Southern newspaper commented, "Don't be surprised to receive a letter from the Internal Revenue Service beginning, 'Good morning - How's every little thing? By the way, you really didn't think you'd get away with those large deductions you listed, did you?'"

If I can feel that this column is of interest while Congress is not in session, it will be continued for the time being, or at least until I am back home.

From the Lions Club bulletin of my home town of Anson: "Did you ever notice that he who has an hour to kill usually spends it with him who doesn't?"

Miss Betsy Jean Hickman left Thursday for San Marcos where she will enter school.

Mr. and Mrs. S. L. McElroy spent the weekend in Austin and on Sunday Mrs. McElroy attended a meeting of the Texas State Tuberculosis Association. Mr. and Mrs. McElroy left Monday afternoon for Denver, Colo. for a visit with Mrs. McElroy's sister.

Butch Waggoner is visiting in Abilene with his aunt, Mrs. W. B. Gibbs and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Ting Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Vance Stephenson and son, Ben Preston returned Saturday after a vacation trip to Poudre Canyon, Colo. They also went to Estes Park and Colorado Springs, Colo.

C. S. Boyles, Jr., Former County Resident, Publishes Book "The Border Jumpers"

C. S. Boyles, Jr., of Sherman, former newspaper editor and author of many magazine stories under the pen name of "Will C. Brown," has had his first book published.

Boyles was born in Baird and was reared in Callahan County where his father was an early-day hardware merchant.

The book is "The Border Jumpers," a novel of post-Civil War days with a setting in Southwest Texas, when the railroads were first building westward across the prairies. The book has just been published by E. P. Dutton & Co., New York.

Boyles' second Western novel, "Guns Along the Chisholm," is to be published this fall by Popular Library. A reprint edition of the Dutton book will be published next year by Dell Books.

In addition to his work as public relations director and journalism instructor in Austin College, Boyles has long been engaged in magazine writing. His short stories, novelettes and articles, under the "Will C. Brown" pen name, have appeared in practically all the Western magazines, as well as in such variety of others as Saturday Evening Post, Holiday, Argosy, Adventure, This Week, Progressive Farmer, Ford Times, Sports Illustrated and others. Three of his short stories have been published in anthologies of frontier fiction, the latest being in the book collection titled "Cattle, Guns and Men," published by Bantam Books and selected and edited by Luke Short. The author's interests in pioneer times in the Southwest are natural, since his grandfathers on both sides were early-day Texas cattlemen. Many of his stories have Red River and Chisholm Trail settings. Some of the named places in "The Border Jumpers" include Odessa, Crosscut and Ft. Worth, and the westward route of the Texas & Pacific Railroad.

Boyles is related to the pioneer Callahan county cattle families of the Cutbirths and the Seales, and the Baird residence in which he was born in 1905 is still standing. He attended public schools in Cross Plains and Brownwood, and Howard Payne College. He is former editor of newspapers in Sweetwater, where his father now lives, Lufkin, Marshall and Sherman, and joined the Austin College faculty in 1947. He served in the U. S. Marine Corps in World War II and is now a major in the Marine Corps Reserve. He and his wife, the former Irene Embrey of Brownwood, have two children. Their son, Lt. Cullen S. Boyles, has been a public information officer at the Marine Corps base, Camp Pendleton, Calif. Their daughter, Mrs. Douglas F. Fraser, was assistant editor of juvenile books for Henry Holt & Co., New York, before her marriage.

Boyles recently returned from New York where he conferred with publishers and his literary agent regarding options on two more novels due for completion by the end of the year.

Aden Atwood returned home Sunday after visiting his mother in Fresno, Calif. Before going to Calif., Mr. and Mrs. Atwood and Donnie visited Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Dunlap, San Venita and went to Matamoros Beach in Old Mexico.

LET'S TALK LIVESTOCK BY TED GOULDY

CATTLE PRICES WELL ABOVE 1954 LEVEL AT FT. WORTH

Several people recently have inquired of us as to how prices as we turn into the month of August compare with a year ago. Going back to our Weekly Livestock reporter files we find most cattle enjoy considerable advantage over a year ago.

The market at Ft. Worth Monday on most cattle and calves was around steady despite the offering here being 1,500 above a year ago, and the run around the 12 major markets being about 30,000 cattle and calves above the previous Monday.

We can credit improved pasture and feed conditions for the strength of the market at Fort Worth at this time in the opinion of observers here.

COMPARATIVE PRICES FOR CATTLE AND CALVES

A year ago a Fort Worth choice grainfed cattle were quoted $20 to $22, few $23; common, plain and medium kinds $10 to $18. Recent sales of choice cattle at $21 to $23.50, and common, plain and medium sorts from $11 to $18, show a little better prices for top cattle than a year ago.

Other classes: 1954—Fat cows, $9.00-$12.00; canners and cutters $6.00-$9.00; a few under $6.00. 1955—Fat cows, $10.50-$13.00; canners and cutters, $7.00-$10.50. Bulls $10.00-$14.00.

1954—Good and choice slaughter calves $16.00-$19.00; common and medium $9.00-$15.00; culls $7.00-$9.00. 1955—Good and choice slaughter calves $16.50-$19.00; common and medium $12.00-$15.50; culls $9.00-$11.00.

1954—Stocker steer calves, medium to choice, $15.00-$19.00; steer yearlings $18.50 down; heifer er calves and yearlings $15.00 down; stocker cows $8.50-$10.00. 1955—Medium, good and choice stocker steer calves $16.00-$21.00; steer yearlings $19.50 down; heifers $16.00 down. Stocker cows $8.00-$12.00.

HOG TOP AUGUST 1 IS $6.00 BELOW SAME DATE YEAR AGO

Top hogs Monday sold at $17 to $17.25 at Fort Worth, and sows were also steady with last week's low close of $8 to $15. Inbetween grade butchers sold from $15.50 to $17, and some pigs sold around $14.

This date a year ago top hogs drew $23 and sows sold from $13 to $19.

SHEEP AND LAMBS SELLING WELL ABOVE 1954 LEVELS

Slaughter Spring lambs were 50 cents to $1 lower at Ft. Worth Monday, and other classes of sheep and lambs ruled about steady. Top lambs scored $19, and feeders sold at $15.50 downward. Comparison of the various classes with 1954 shows:

1954—Good and choice slaughter Spring lambs $16.50-$18.50; common and medium killers $10.00-$15.50; culls down to $8.00. Feeder lambs $10.00-$15.00; slaughter yearlings $8.00-$12.00; aged wethers $6.00-$9.00; slaughter ewes $3.00-$4.50; old bucks $2.00-$3.00; breeding ewes $5.00-$10.00.

1955—Good and choice Spring lambs $17.50-$19.00; common and medium $12.00-$16.50; culls $10.00-$12.00; feeder lambs $13.00-$15.50; slaughter yearlings $9.00-$15.00; aged wethers $7.00-$12.00; slaughter ewes $4.00-$5.00; old bucks $3.00-$4.00; stocker ewes $7.00-$12.00.

CARLOAD LOTS FEATURED IN FALL FEEDER CALF PROGRAM

In response to requests from feeder buyers both the Texas Aberdeen-Angus Association and the Texas Hereford Association have changed rules for their shows and sales this fall. At the Angus show to be held on the Ft. Worth Market Sept. 9, and at the Hereford shows and sales slated for Sept. 16 and Oct. 21, the judging will be on lots of 10, lots of 20 head and carload lots of 50 head. Weight differentials will be dropped. This allows three classes of steers and three classes of heifers. Corn Belt buyers asked for the carload division.

Q—If a farmer's average monthly income is determined by including the period back to January 1, 1951, will he not be penalized since he had no "covered" earnings until 1955?

A—Generally speaking, a person's average monthly earnings are figured by dividing his total covered earnings from 1951 to the date of his retirement or death by all the months in that period. However, under the new law, these four years from 1951 to 1955 can be dropped out in figuring his average monthly earnings on which his benefit will be based. One additional year can be dropped out if the insured worker has five years or more of coverage. The years dropped out need not be consecutive ones. They can be any 4 or 5 years of low or no earnings, so long as they fall within the period used in determining his average income. In this way the farmer gets the same consideration that was given the self-employed persons who were brought under the program in 1951.

Reminiscing With Sidney Harville

When we think back about grain harvest days times sure have changed a lot. When we tied together a couple of old quilts and our faithful old folding cot. And left everything on the farm in the care of a kind and loving wife while I greased and ran a separator and had several weeks of threshing life. Ralph Morse ran his Dad's old engine and it was my job to thresh the grain.

A lot of times I crawled into the machine to get out of the wind and rain. Ralph was always the kind of fellow that thought he had his job and I had mine and we worked together a lot of years and we got along mighty fine. We always had along our cook that fried the bacon and always had spuds to peel and he thought it was very funny that I liked the light bread heel. One thing we always liked for sure was to know we had fresh eggs and when we had fresh garden squash to remove the yellow grasshoppers wings and legs.

Late one evening Ralph and I had to move and we got there too late to set and the farmer we were to thresh for the next day was the kind to worry and to fret. We pulled the machine into the field and went to the cook shack for a bite. We did not think about the father and a son trying to have a fight that night. We ate our supper and talked awhile and went back to the threshing and our bed. The boy came in late that night but we could not hear a lot that they said. He made a grab for the boy and the boy said "Faw you had better stop." His Dad was barefooted and in grass burrs and he could not even hop. He could not sit down and he could not stand but he sure had a lot to say. We heard him use God's name a lot so I guess he thought it best to pray. We were always glad when the threshing job was done but it is a thrill to look back again and say we had a lot of fun.

ATOMIC ENERGY

By BILL JURY
General Electric News Bureau
Hanford Atomic Plant

(The following is the third of a series of seven articles disclosing the highlights and sidelights which have accompanied the nation's development of atomic energy. Prepared at the Hanford atomic energy plant, the series deals with the human things which followed in the wake of the first historic announcement that man had harnessed the atom. It touches upon the things which lie ahead.)

Atomic energy and its development has been pictured as a vast and mysterious operation, imagined run by groups of bushy-haired little men who carry pocketfuls of gamma rays and drag behind them long chain reactions.

But misconceptions of this phase of development in America's industrial and scientific history rapidly is being dispelled as official facts and information are reported to help shed light into the shadows of the unknown.

Atomic energy was developed in time of war, and as long as we live in a world of war and under threats of war, secrecy must guard those phases that are important to the security of the nation. But much of the atomic story can be reported to the public, and much of it is being told today through congressional and Atomic Energy Commission representatives.

Researchers at the General Electric Company-operated Hanford atomic energy plant force the day when workmen will handle radiation problems as routine. They predict farmers will utilize atomic isotopes in their crop planning, just as they now employ types of fertilizer, and terms like "fission," "reactor," and "neutrons" will become household words.

Industrial nuclear power points toward the use of atomic energy in much the same way that energy from the burning of coal is utilized in an electric power plant. The difference is that one pound of uranium-235, completely fissioned, yields energy equivalent to that obtained from burning 1500 tons of coal.

The practical means of direct conversion of atomic energy to achievement, although if the promise of the new atomic generator is fulfilled on a large scale, the power plant of tomorrow will need only an atomic generator and direct cables to connect power straight to far-flung communities. Boilers, engines and cumbersome electric generators conceivably could become as obsolete as the candle.

Atomic isotopes, for example, can affect our everyday lives in almost every field of endeavor. They play a major role in diagnosis and treatment for health. They are used in agriculture to increase the bounties of the farms. They can be employed to separations in the water treatment, metals recovery, antibiotics, and numerous other phases of industry.

Transportation systems could be revolutionized. The first atomic-powered submarine already has been tested satisfactorily. Atomic-powered ocean liners are seen as a definite possibility for the future. Scientists now are working to find the key to atomic-propelled aircraft.

Atomic energy is so new, so big, so revolutionary and so full of commercial possibilities for the future that many American corporations have been attracted to the field. These companies are engaged in engineering studies, spending their own money in attempts to produce answers to the foremost question of economical nuclear power.

Nuclear physics is an infant science; the things that are known are as nothing compared to the things unknown. Locked up in the atom is practically all the energy of the universe, an energy in such fantastic quantities that it defies comprehension.

VICTORIAN FURNITURE STILL POPULAR—Furniture just like Grandma's is still mighty popular. For example, this Victorian ensemble was extremely popular with retail furniture store buyers at the recent Southwest Furniture Market in Dallas. The sofa and foot stool were mauve Venetian velvet; the tables marble topped. Each year, period furniture retains its popularity despite strong competition from contemporary designs. The pieces shown here were manufactured by the Victorian Furniture Corporation of Montgomery, Ala., and home furnishing experts say their soft lines blend beautifully with the more angular lines of modern furniture.

Tecumseh Topics

Well, we hear the saying that goes like this, "Don't drink if you drive, or drive if you drink", but I expect to hear one like this soon, "Don't write as you ride or ride as you write." Last week was a very busy time down our way but a very enjoyable one as Dad came the 25th. He plans to go home the last of this week.
He seems to be in better health and enjoys meeting old friends, but says "Things have changed so much since he lived here."

I must say a word about our revival at the Baptist Church.
We had a great revival but was enjoyed most by those who heard the gospel messages delivered by Bro. Tom Flippen of Andrews.

Mrs. L. V. Harris and Ira of this community, Irene Crawford of Denton Valley and Mrs. J. B.
Sherrod, Abilene visited relatives
last week in Socorro and Pie Town, N. M.

I think it must have been a very pleasant vacation as the weather was cool to rainy and crops and mountain scenery must have been beautiful since they have had more rain than we have had here.

Dale, Betty Jane and Hulon visited out our way over the weekend.

Mrs. James Paschall and chilren of Abilene visited her mother, Mrs. Ballard Sunday.

been awaiting for their pass-husband and father, who awaits them in Venezuela. They were succeeded to catch a plane and

Wildlife Crop Shows Promise

Mid-summer reports indicate the animal kingdom in Texas is beginning to rally from the drought-dictated slump, according to the Director of Wildlife Restoration for the Game and Fish Commission.

Field studies, he added, show mourning doves to be in particularly good numbers while quail are coming back in some areas. Also water and food conditions presage possibly attractive habitat for the migrating ducks come November. Deer are present in average numbers and a favorable antelope fawn crop is reported.

One negative report concerns wild turkey which seems to have had another poor production season after promising spring prospects. However, good hatches of young turkeys have been reported from some sections.

"Of course, no one can tell just what will happen before the harvest season begins in the fall, but present indications point to a pretty good overall hunt," said the Director.

"Our field men agree that right now Texas has one of its greatest mourning dove populations. Food is abundant, mainly because of the usual fine weed crop that always develops when prolonged drought conditions are eased. Whether these birds will remain here for the fall shoot is something that Nature alone can determine.

"Adult deer seem to be on the rebound. Bucks are fat and are growing good antlers. Last year the ranges were so barren and nourishment so short, many bucks did not even grow horns. We are concerned now over the usual screw worm infestation that always hits the fawns in wet seasons. The loss from this cause has been reported as above average in some areas.

"Rain has fallen in sufficient quantities to fill pot holes and has stimulated good grain growth—both for the ultimate benefits of waterfowl which reportedly are having a good hatching season. Of course, many things can happen between now and migration time. Quail comeback reports have been particularly promising from the Panhandle, South Plains and parts of East Texas."

Mrs. Myrtle Berry and Mrs. Lawrence Bowlus visited last week with Mrs. Berry's daughter, Mrs. Aubrey Ground and family in San Angelo.

Mrs. T. P. Bearden returned late Thursday night after a two week's visit with relatives in Bakersfield, Calif.

Mrs. Bessie Henry returned to her home in Dallas Monday after a three week's visit in the home of her son, John Towler and family.

Gasoline Is Still Best Shopping Bargain

Competition, research and the public's price-conscious buying habits are the reasons "gasoline continues to be the family's best shopping bargain," according to Medford Walker of the Callahan County Oil Industry Information Committee.

Speaking as a representative of the oil industry nation-wide as well as a local businessman, Mr. Walker, who is Distributor for Premier Oil Company, said the U. S. Consumer Price Index substantiated these facts.

"Clothing prices, for example, have gone up 63 per cent since 1925," he said. "House furnishing increased 65.8% and food costs rose 71.1%."

"In contrast, gasoline prices have risen very little. If you discount federal, state and local taxes, over which neither oilmen nor competition have any control, records show that the increase in gasoline prices since 1925—the year gasoline improvement really began—is only 7.3 percent."

The spokesman added that, even with taxes included, the average increase in U. S. gasoline prices since 1925 is 30.8%. "That is below other basic commodities and below the average for all items, which is 53.1%. Gasoline taxes, incidentally, have increased 250% since 1925.

Mr. Walker credited competition among the nation's 200,000 service stations and 42,000 other oil companies for keeping gasoline prices low. He pointed out that American people spend their dollars "where they can get the most or the best." This, he said, keeps their buying habits so flexible that businesses and industries must constantly raise quality and lower costs "to woo and win consumer dollars."

"At the same time," he added, "competition among oil companies to develop better products has brought about remarkable improvements in gasoline quality—two gallons of today's gasoline will do the work that required three gallons in 1925."

Mr. Walker said recently-compiled American Petroleum Institute information upon which he based his statements was issued to supply answers to five questions most frequently asked about gasoline and the petroleum industry. In addition to clarifying the factors that determine gasoline prices, he said this data deals with the variety of branded gasolines, adequate supply, the future of oil as affected by atomic energy and "myths about a so-called 100-mile-per-gallon carburetor."
