Three Upton County 4-H Club Boys Guests at Goodfellow Field

Frank Robbins of McCamey, members, and County Agent C. Snell of Rankin toured Goodfellow Field Saturday as guests of Col. H. A. Gunn. The three Upton Coun- own. ty lads were among more than 60 4-H Club boys who raised enough meat or other food to feed a fighter for one year. While at Goodfellow, the boys and Snell sampled some of the food the GI's eat.

The meal, served Army mes style and featuring Swiss steak. was one of the high points of a three-hour trip through the cadet training field, which is producing bomber and fighter pilots for the various fronts. The 4-H boys were in charge of W. I. Marshall, District 6 Agent, and H. C. Atchison, Tom Green County Agent.

The boys received certificates of appreciation signed by the quartermaster general of the U.S. Army for raising cattle which were transferred to the Quartermaster Corps to be used to feed the armed forces. The certificates were presented by a Goodfellow Field officer

Germans Counterattack to Slow Allies' Smash Into Rhineland; OWI Warns of Hard Pacific War

As Holland became a flaming battleground, civilians are shown fleeing from battle zone near Kerkrade to safety.

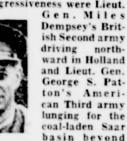

EUROPE:

'Greatest Battles'

In what the Germans said was the greatest battle of material e world's history . . ." with the world's history . . 2,500,000 men facing each other on a 460-mile front, Allied forces moved slowly on the Siegfried line against stubborn enemy resistance.

All along the curving battle-line the Germans launched extensive counterattacks, throwing in large numbers of tanks to stem the Allied drive on their all important indus-trial belt along the Rhine.

Bearing the brunt of the enemy's aggressiveness were Lieut. Gen. Miles can Third army lunging for the coal-laden Saar basin beyond Gen. Dempsey Metz and Nancy.

In Holland. strong German counterattacks were aimed at thwarting General Dempsey's Tommies from pressing past the northern anchor of the Siegfried line at Kleve, and of throwing an arm to the great water basin of the Zuider Zee to the northwest to cut off an estimated 200,000 Nazis still engaged in the lower extremity of the country.

In addition to employing masses of tanks against General Patton's men before the Saar, the enemy also made good use of the hilly and gooded terrain in the sector to reduce the valiant doughboys' advances sources. Despite desperate German attempts to stem their drive, the Allies pushed on, with Lieut, Gen. Mark Clark's American Fifth army threatening to close an escape route for stubborn enemy troops ringed between it and the British Eighth army to the east.

As the remnants of Germany's Baltic armies pulled out of Latvia, the spotlight on the eastern front swung back to East Prussia in the north and Hungary on the south, where the Reds pushed offensives to crack these anchors of the Nazis' eastern front.

While the Germans could fall back on swampy, wooded lake country in East Prussia to slow the Russian drive, they had no such advantage in Hungary, where the Reds pressed for the broad open plains to the southeast of Budapest.

Having landed on the western coast of Jugoslavia, strong Allied forces worked inland to cut off the retreat of an estimated 200,000 Germans moving northward from the lower Balkans.

Jap Resistance

With Japan possessing many strategic materials in the home islands and Korea enabling her to increase war production; with the country capable of putting 8,000,000 men in the field, and with American supply lines stretched, U. S. victory in the Pacific may require from 1½ to 2 years after Germany's defeat, the Office of War Information said.

To America's advantage in pressing for victory, OWI said, was its own tremendous war output, capable of turning out 8,000 planes a month to Japan's 1,500; the threat to cut the enemy's supply lines from the Indies area and blockade the homeland, and the overrunning of his outer defenses which has brought U. S. forces close to the inner ram-

Far from slaking the Japs' fervor, Germany's fall might strengthen the enemy's determination to resist, OWI said.

POSTWAR GERMANY: Allied Plans

With Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau's proposal for stripping Germany of all of its manufactories and reducing the country to an agricultural basis rejected, Allied postwar plans looked forward to the maintenance of the Reich's industrial machine under close supervision.

Challenging Morgenthau's position, Secretary of State Hull and Secretary of War Stimson declared that not only did Germany turn out certain essential industrial products for the rest of Europe, but that its business also put it in the market to purchase other countries' goods.

In order to check German industry's war-making capacity, Allied plans call for control over all strategic materials, with possible elimination of factories adapted to arms production.

BUTTER:

Tight Supply

With only 12,000,000 pounds of butter in storage earmarked for civilians and consumption on a day-today basis, the point value on the product was raised from 16 to 20 points per pound, OPA officials said.

Despite the government's plans for withdrawing from the butter market in October until production climbs in the spring, no immediate relief in the tight supply was seen. Said OPA Administrator Chester Bowles: " . . . We civilians are going to have to get along with less butter than formerly, at least during the next 90 days or so.

Besides reserving 126,000,000 pounds of the present stocks of 138,-000,000 pounds, the government has been purchasing great quantities of butter fat from producers for powdered milk and other uses.

Cars

Thinking in terms of a utilization in space and weight, Ford Motor company officials are working on plans for large scale production of the lowest priced automobile since Ford's model A.

Declaring that the vehicle would not be a miniature doodlebug type, Henry Ford II declared: "Such a car would be in addition to our regular line. What it will sell for, what it will look like, are matters of conjecture at the moment. The logical result . . . would be a better auto mobile for the American family."

PRICE CONTROL: Must Stay—Byrnes

Until total victory is achieved in the Pacific, price and wage controls must be maintained to prevent at under supply of goods and overly stuffed pocketbooks to set off a dan gerous inflationary cycle, War Mobilization Director James F Byrnes declared.

Stating that figures of the bureau of labor statistics showed only ar increase of 25 per cent since January, 1941, Byrnes said that farm income rose 81 per cent and the average weekly pay of workers 51 per cent during the same period.

"The stabilization program has hurt neither the farmer nor the worker," Byrnes asserted. "The white collar workers and the people with small fixed incomes have fared less well during the war, but the only way to help them is to continue to hold the line against inflation."

Seek Higher Wages

Even while Byrnes spoke, organized labor pressed for revision of the government's stabilization program, urging that the formula for limiting wage increases to 15 per cent over January, 1941, levels be

In appearing before the War Labor board, CIO Chieftain Philip Murray argued that public members of a WLB panel had found living costs increased almost 30 per cent since January, 1941, rather than 25 per cent as claimed by the bureau of labor statistics.

RADIO TUBES:

Small Surplus

With such scarce radio tubes as the 12SA7 and 12A8 commanding as much as $10 in black markets, army release of 1,000,000 surplus tubes for civilian use will tend to only slightly ease the tight supply situ-

To be returned to manufacturers for testing and packing before distribution to customers on an "equitable basis," the 1,000,000 tubes will not even approximate the produc-tion of 1,754,000 in July, which met only a fraction of the demand.

Because of the services' extensive use of radio equipment for com-munications between units on the fighting fronts, trade circles saw little hope for increased civilian supplies until Germany's defeat permitted a cutback in military orders.

FOOD STOCKS:

Orderly Disposal

With the War Food administration already feeding the govern-ment's excess stocks of food to civilian outlets without disrupting the markets, U. S. officials will make every effort to maintain orderly disof surpluses with the war's end, WFA distribution director Lee Marshall said.

"We must maintain specified war reserves no matter how favorable the war may be going," he said, "but I, for one, don't think it necessary to build a separate stockpile of the same foods for postwar relief feeding."

In disposing of surpluses, Marshall said, salable goods would first be offered to companies which furnished the government with the products. Others in the same business would be given second choice.

WOMEN WORKERS

Tasting well the fruits of boom-time employment, with many ad-justing themselves to industry since 1941, seven out of ten women war workers intend to stay at work after hostilities cease, a survey by the Northwestern National Life Insurance company revealed.

Nearly two-thirds of the married women and four-fifths of the single women declared their intention to remain in industry, the survey showed. Only 19 per cent planned to return to housework

Cake Bazaars, Cookie Sales Boost Funds

Spice cake is hard to resist when it has a fluffy seven minute or marshmallow icing and ts sprinkled lightly with coconut. Church groups and women's clubs know that one of the best ways of and philanthropic purposes is by having cake bazaars or bakery Few can resist home-made cakes and cookies at such sales, and it is truly an ideal way of meeting the year's budget. It is here where the good ladies bring their best wares, Orange icing can be made and finance committees really have their day.

For displaying the goodies, a well set table is necessary. It's a good rind of one orange and enough oridea to have a good looking table ange juice to make a spreading cloth and flowers. The cakes and cookies will do the rest.

You will find today's recipes just as delicious as they sound, and not too expensive to make. I'm giving different types of recipes in case you want to clip the sheet and pass the recipes among the members of your particular group.
*Lady Baltimore Cake

4 cup shortening 114 cups granulated sugar 2 cups cake flour, sifted 21/2 teaspoons baking powder

14 teaspoon salt 1 teaspoon almond extract 3 cup milk

5 egg whites Cream shortening and sugar until light. Add sifted dry ingredients and milk alternately. Last fold in stiffly beaten egg whites and flavoring. Bake in three eight-inch layers in a moderate (375-degree) oven for 25 minutes. Frosting

1½ cups sugar ½ cup boiling water 16 cup hot maraschino cherry

1/2 teaspoon light corn syrup 1 tablespoon lemon juice 2 egg whites beaten stiff 34 cup chopped blanched

almonds, toasted 14 teaspoon grated orange rind in eighths

15-20 maraschino cherries, cut Combine sugar, water, fruit juices and syrup and bring to a boil quickly, stirring only until sugar is dissolved. Boil rapidly without stirring until syrup spins a thread when dropped from spoon and forms soft ball in cold water (238 degrees). Pour syrup into a stream over egg whites, beating constantly. Continue beating until of a consistency to spread. Fold in remaining ingredients and spread in between and top of layers of Lady Baltimore Cake.

*Red Devil's Food 2 cups pastry flour ½ cup cocoa ¾ cup shortening 11/2 cups sugar

What Makes It So? If cake batter runs out of the pan when baking, it may be due to too small a pan, too slow an oven, too much sugar or shortening, or too much leavening. If the cake has a moist sticky crust, it is due to too much sugar in the recipe. If the crust is thick and heavy, the recipe may have too much flour, too long baking, too hot an oven, or not enough sugar or shortening. If a cake humps or cracks on top it may be because it has too much flour or was baked in too

Coarse texture is due to too much leavening, not enough liquid, insufficient creaming of shortening and sugar, or too slow

> 2 eggs l teaspoon seda e cup buttermilk 1 teaspoon vanilla 1/2 cup boiling water

Sift flour once, measure and resift twice with cocoa. Cream shortening and sugar thoroughly. Add well beaten eggs and beat until light and fluffy. Add soda to buttermilk. Add dry ingredients alternately with buttermilk to creamed mixture, beating hard after each addition. Add vanilla, pour in boiling water and beat until smooth. Bake in two eight-inch greased tins in a moderate (350-degree) oven for 30-35 minutes. Spread between layers and top with Seven Minute Icing.

Of all the cakes that have been developed, the one which is always ready to go over with a bang is this Graham Cracker Cake with a delicate orange topping: Graham Cracker Cake 1/2 cup butter or shortening 1 cup sugar 3 eggs

34 cup milk ½ cup coconut or chopped nutmeats 28 graham crackers, rolled fine bananas. Add alternately the sifted dry ingredients and milk. Fold in the egg whites. Bake in a large square pan which has been well greased, in a moderate (350-degree) oven 35 minutes. Ice with marshmallow icing. Pop corn nuggets are an interesting addition to your money-raising bazaar. They will go over with the ladies who don't like to be caught munching a big mouthful of pop-

*Pop Corn Nuggets 2 cups sugar % cup water

14 teaspoon cream of tartar tablespoons molasses, 1 tablespoon butter Few grains of salt

5 quarts pop corn Place sugar, water and cream of tartar in a saucepan and bring to the boiling point and boil without stirring to 280 degrees or until syrup will crack when tried in cold water. Add molasses, butter and salt, and boil, stirring constantly until candy becomes brittle, being careful not to let it burn. Have ready a pan of freshly popped corn; pour candy over it, mixing thoroughly. Spread lightly on a buttered slab or platter and when firm, cut into pieces or break up into little bunches of three
