Ranch Rider Wins Featured Races

Ranch Rider, a sleek, tall thoroughbred owned by Dr. J. L. Cooper of McCamey, ran just a neck ahead of Little Pal over three-quarters of a mile to beat a field of eight horses in the highlight of opening day, Friday, June 7, of the Upton County Race Meet and then followed up Sunday afternoon, June 9, the last day of the meet, by running away with the one-mile derby in the good time of 1:42.6, finishing well ahead of Helen Joe in second spot and Red Jay in third.

Friday's program of six purse races was crowded with thrills and in a three-eighths mile open race, only the camera adjudged the winner. Wongera, owned by Jack Schisler of Monahans, won first and Betty, owned by M. M. Crowell of Sonora and Nocat (sometimes known as Mecat) owned by Jess Barker of Sonora ran a dead heat for place and show.

In the first race, for 330 yds., Lucky, owned by W. A. Simpson of Carlsbad, N. M., scored first, and for second and third an official ruling was withheld until the photo-finish film was developed. Twist, owned by Wayne Ewing of Coleman, finished second officially, with Nero, owned by Leroy Spires of Mertzon, third. Then, after study of the photo-finish, officials altered the original announced results and gave Lucky, first; Nero, second, and Peggy, third.

The feature race on Saturday's race card was won by a dark horse named Conbar who pounded home over the five-eighths mile at the head of a field of five.

Following are the complete results of each race for the three-day race meet:

FRIDAY'S RESULTS:
330 yds. open, first, Lucky, W. A. Simpson, 17.5 seconds; second, Twist, Ewing; third, Nero, Spires.

Two young cowboys, Bill Teague, 14, of Crane, and Clay Cade, 14, of Sheffield, roped 12 salty brahmas between races Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Although young Cade won the match, both boys demonstrated conclusively that they make good cowpunchers young in this section of the country.

Mrs. M. F. Holmes of Texarkana holds a 30-inch, 12 1/2-pound fish that she and her brother, Al Lindsey, caught in the Pecos River near the old Girvin bridge. The fish seems to be a new-comer to the nearby waters of the Pecos. The NEWS has sent a picture of the strange critter to Austin in an effort to obtain identification. Some of the local brethren claim 'tis a hobbo sea trout from the Gulf.

What Is Americanism?

—BY—
CHANNING POLLOCK

In support of the campaign of the National Americanism Endowment Fund to raise $450,000 in Texas, as the opening of a $15,000,000 nation-wide drive to support an expanded program of public welfare work and education in the fundamental principles of Constitutional Americanism, permission to use this editorial was given The American Legion by Channing Pollock, famous playwright and essayist and King Features, Inc. (Editor's Note).

The United States is unique in that most of its population started at scratch.

Our original settlers, James Truslow Adams says in "The Epic of America," "came from prisons, from hovels, from little farm cottages, from country manor houses and rectories, but never from palaces."

Europe was frozen into ruts from which it was impossible for anyone to escape: frozen into classes, and limitations of earning power, and prescribed religious faiths. A poor man must remain poor; a common man remain obsequious and subservient.

So THE best of Europe, in the sense that they were the hardest and most enterprising, set forth on the long, painful and hazardous voyage to a wilderness sunlit by opportunity. Here, they believed, were to be found fair rewards for industry, thrift and intelligence, and a social position depending wholly upon these. They wanted food and freedom; material betterment and things of the spirit.

Fundamentally, theirs was the religion of self-reliance. Let everyone be his own man, and let the best man win. There was no room for weaklings and parasites. The "delicate and unfitted . . . that cannot endure the biting of a musketeer," William Bradford, one of the leaders wrote, "we would wish to keep such at home, till at least they are musketeer proof." A Maryland colonist wrote that "the Son works as well as the Servant, so that before they eat their bread they must earn it." If they worked well enough, the bread might become cake.

Out of all this came not only the best government, the strongest and most prosperous nation in history, but the blossoming, throughout the Occidental world, of the bud of liberty that had been more than a thousand years in development. As Ogden Mills pointed out in "The Seventeen Million," it is no accident that material progress has been greater during the last 150 years than in all the preceding centuries. The explanation is that in 1776 these settlers, these seekers after freedom and opportunity, proclaimed both, that the ideal become almost universal, and that henceforth men assured of the full rewards of their labor, of the right to think and speak and act as they pleased within laws of their own making, reached a new zenith of happiness and achievement.

There is no mystery in Americanism. It is the warrant that a man may be Master of his Fate and Captain of his Soul. You will find it in every paragraph of the Declaration of Independence, beginning with the assertion that Governments derive "their just powers from the consent of the governed," and throughout the Constitution, which provides for political equality and free and secret elections.

It provides more: The protection of minorities against majorities. "Consent of the governed" does not mean 51 per cent of the governed, but ALL of them. The fact—if it were a fact—that 99 per cent of our citizens voted to take the life, liberty or property of the remaining one per cent gives them the right to do so under the Constitution. These guarantees were safeguarded by what has been called a system of checks and balances—by provision for the independent functioning of the Executive, Legislative and Judiciary branches of Government.

They were further safeguarded by the first ten amendments to the Constitution, known as the Bill of Rights. Among these rights are:

The right of free speech and free press; that is, the right to hold and express opinion, and to free sources of information. Also, the right to get together for public or private discussion and the right to worship as we choose.

The right to bear arms—to protect ourselves, by force, if need be, against tyranny.

The right to be secure in our persons, houses, papers and effects against unreasonable searches and seizures.

The guarantee that we shall not be deprived of life, liberty or property without due process of law, "nor shall private property be taken for public use without just compensation." What constitutes a fair trial is defined, and punishment is limited.

Finally, if in common sense and the spirit of the Declaration and the Constitution, you have any right that was overlooked, you are assured that it remains your right.

All these rights, and many more, have been nullified and violated under the "isms"—Communism and Fascism—now being urged as superior to Americanism.

Naturally, I have spoken of the spread of liberty "throughout the Occidental world," but it never spread to the Orient. Slavery and absolute monarchy, under whatever name, have continued to be Eastern concepts, and were adopted by the Fascists. Individualism is an Occidental invention; collectivism is Oriental.

The possessor of the blessings of Americanism will do well to think hard before he sacrifices any of them to the fancied security of a planned economy or a totalitarian State. Whatever they promise can be no compensation for having every word and deed reported by secret police, for dreading the knock of the Gestapo or the OGPU, and liquidation at the nod of dictatorship.

There is no need for any radical change in Americanism. We have done pretty well without that change so far, and none of the recently instituted "isms" seems to have helped much. Slow, normal and organic development within the framework of the Constitution is another thing, and it has been going on from the beginning.

But Communism and Fascism are Asiatic systems, and a sure return to the bondage from which we escaped more than two centuries ago.

Regional Round-Up

By JAMES CARLL

Possibilities of a bond-financed public hospital adequate to take care of the medical needs of the Trans-Pecos region centering about Pecos County are being studied by the board of directors of the Pecos County Chamber of Commerce. Investigation has been in progress for the past year on the possibilities of increased hospital facilities for Pecos County.

A suggestion that a $250,000 institution be financed by Pecos County has been studied by Judge H. H. Butz and County Auditor W. P. Rooney in light of the county's present favorable financial condition, and Judge Butz states that a $250,000 bond issue could be retired in ten years with a levy of 7 cents on the hundred dollars.

Retirement of formerly voted bonds would enable the county to carry the levy for a new issue without any increase in the 69 cent rate which has prevailed in the county for the past four years.

Investigation has been made of the county-owned hospital at Seminole and of the plans for construction of a new county institution in Winkler County. New provisions of Texas laws permit county financing of hospitals which may then be operated by appointed boards of trustees authorized to hire competent management. Such hospitals are open to all recognized doctors and surgeons and to their patients.

Should a petition be presented to the commissioners court asking that an election be called, the calling of an election is mandatory, and in the case of hospital bonds, only a simple majority is needed.

Judge Butz' analysis of county finances shows that Pecos County has a tax valuation of $42,985,530—17th in the State of Texas—being more than the combined total of the seven neighboring counties of Brewster, Terrell, Presidio, Jeff Davis, Reeves, Culberson and Crockett.

Bonded indebtedness has been steadily reduced during the war years, dropping from $910,500 in 1941 to $226,000 Jan. 1 of this year, and retirement of $122,000 this year will leave the total at only $104,000. Completion of one road bond issue will mean an 11-cent tax saving over previous years.

High construction costs of the present times are greatly offset by the extremely low rate of interest prevailing on the bonds of substantial counties such as Pecos, and a rate of one and a half per cent or less is indicated for any Pecos County issues, says Judge Butz.

Tentative plans for a county hospital propose a 30- to 40-bed hospital in Fort Stockton, with a clinic and several beds for emergency cases at Iraan. The central hospital would have adequate laboratory facilities and complete surgical and technical equipment, as well as quarters for the nursing staff.

Operation by a board of directors appointed by the commissioners' court and a business manager would permit supervision by a chief surgeon or resident physician, and would permit practice in the hospital by the surgeon or doctor chosen by the patient. Advocates believe that a modern open hospital would attract ample professional personnel to the community to care for the needs of this section, and that it also would serve patients from a large area, resulting in substantial savings in traveling expenses and in improvement of general health.

Trans-Pecos people may well be elated this week by the announcement that the Texas A&M college board of directors Saturday accepted the 400 acres of land at the old Marfa Municipal Airport as the new location of a disease-weed laboratory, bringing to fruition the efforts of numerous people for nearly a year and a half.

The laboratory will replace the field laboratory for loco weed research near Alpine, where it was operated until last year when the property on which it was located had to be returned to the owner. The Sentinel this week requested details of the directors' action from G. B. Winstead, A. and M. Director of Information, and received this answer:

"The college accepts with thanks the proposal for a 99-year lease of 400 acres of land out of Survey 271, near Marfa, and a gift of the buildings and equipment on the land.

"The president of the college is instructed to renew the project at the new location, employing such personnel as may be required under the appropriation, and to get the projects on disease investigation and poisonous plants, particularly loco weed, under way—pursuing them vigorously in the hope that definite results may be obtained."

Mr. Winstead added that additional details would be supplied when definite plans are made.

The county's action in leasing the land at $1 a year came in the early spring of last year. At the same time $4,800 was given by Trans-Pecos individuals and business firms for the purchase of improvements on the land, and for the purpose of moving the station here from Alpine. The two residences on the property were bought from J. S. Livingston. Other improvements include a lean-to alongside the metal hangar, a windmill, tank, engine, pipe line, and lighting facilities. The hangar was bought by Jim Chancey but is now owned by W. L. Stoddard, flying service operator.

Most active in the securing of needed money for the project, and in furthering the proposal to have the state institution located on the Presidio County land, were Hayes Mitchell and C. K. Smith. Mr. Mitchell said yesterday that the hangar can be removed upon 30 days notice to the owner. Official notice has not been received, Mr. Mitchell said, as to when the land and improvements should be made available.

Dr. Frank P. Matthews, who was in charge of the work that was done at the station in Alpine, is no longer with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, operating agency of Texas A&M College. The laboratory is operated jointly by the Experiment Station and U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The laboratory is the only one in Texas west of the Pecos River which has as its chief concern the study of diseases affecting livestock. Although the laboratory's work has been chiefly with the loco weed that long has been a problem to livestock raisers in the Trans-Pecos, it is hoped by ranchmen of this area of Texas that the scope of work may be broadened.

Those attending the 16th annual show of the Texas Cowboy Reunion to be held in Stamford on July 2, 3 and 4, are assured of witnessing the finest rodeo performance and of having lots of fun and plenty to eat.

One of the most unique features of the Texas Cowboy Reunion is the Chuck Wagon Camp. After the spring roundup and the branding are finished, bosses and cowboys load up the old chuck wagon and head for Stamford and the Texas Cowboy Reunion as a sort of vacation. There the ranch hands set up camp on a special reservation provided for that purpose. They eat at the chuck wagon, compete in the cowboy rodeo and take in the other attractions of the annual celebration.

R. G. Bowdry, chairman of the visiting chuck wagons, announced this week that all ranches are invited to bring their wagons. All provisions, including groceries and meats, are furnished, without charge, to all wagons after they reach the reunion grounds, providing that they have notified the chairman of their intention to attend. Visitors have the privilege of buying meals at these ranch chuck wagons, and of visiting and mingling in the chuck wagon camp.

Among the famous West Texas ranches which brought their wagons to the reunion last year were: the Pitchfork Ranch of Guthrie; the Davis Ranch of Throckmorton; the 6666 Ranch, Guthrie; the Masterson Ranch, Truscott; the SMS Flat Top Ranch, Stamford; the SMS Spur Ranch, and the SMS Throckmorton Ranch.

Dancing will be another feature during the three nights of the reunion. Two dances will be held on each of the nights. The Old-Timers dancing the square and other folk dances will hold forth in the Round-up Building of the Texas Cowboy Reunion Association with an outstanding string band furnishing the music.

The Round-up building is a beautiful rock structure belonging to the old timers themselves, and will accommodate over five hundred dancing couples. The Old-Timers' Bunk House is also a rock structure, and is decorated inside with many old cow brands and pictures, lounge chairs, game tables, and all the facilities for the comfort of the old-time cowboys and their families and friends.

The modern ball room dancing honoring the Cowgirl Sponsors will be held each night on the second floor of the Pavilion building of the Texas Cowboy Reunion, located directly east of the rodeo arena. Swing music will be provided by an outstanding 12-piece orchestra.

It Seems Like Yesterday

It seems like yesterday that Nancy was playing with dolls. Now she's pushing her own baby carriage. Yes, there've been a lot of changes in the last fifteen years—most of them so gradual we hardly noticed them at all.

Nancy didn't grow up all at once. A tooth at a time—a curl at a time—an inch at a time—and suddenly a little kid sister was Mrs. Joe Jones, mother of Joe, Junior.

Like Nancy, the use of electricity has grown a lot in the last fifteen years. But the price of electricity has been going down steadily. You may not have noticed it because your bill may be about the same—but how many appliances have you added to your home since 1931? Actually, you're getting twice as much electricity for your money now as then.

Keeping electric service plentiful and cheap through years of rising costs was not easy. That today's electricity is at its very lowest price in history is a tribute to the hard work and experience of the men and women in the industry, and to its sound business management.

QUICK BREAD FOR BREAKFAST

County H. D. Agent

Many of the Upton County housewives these days are faced with the problem of making a quick bread for breakfast when they are unable to buy bread for the usual toast.

Hot biscuits or muffins can be prepared with almost as little effort as toast if one learns the secret.

A biscuit mix which can be stored in the refrigerator and quickly made into biscuit or muffins is the answer. The recipe is: 12 cups sifted flour, 1-3 cup double-acting baking powder, 4 teaspoons salt, 1 to 1 1/2 cups fat. Sift flour and measure. Add baking powder, salt, and sift the three together. Cut in fat until mixture has a fine even crumb. Place in a closed container and keep in a cool place, refrigerator preferred.

For roll biscuit, combine about 2-3 cup milk (enough to make a soft dough) with 2 cups mix. Turn out on slightly floured board. Knead very lightly about 18 strokes. Roll to 1/2 inch thickness, cut with biscuit cutter first dipped into flour, place on baking sheet either ungreased or only slightly so, and bake in hot oven (450 deg. to 485 deg. F), for about 12 minutes.

For muffins: Combine 1 slightly beaten egg, 1 cup milk and 2 T. sugar. Add to 2 cups biscuit mix and stir only until dry ingredients are moist. Fill well-greased muffin tins about 2-3 full. Bake in hot oven (400 deg. to 425 deg. F) about 20 minutes.

This recipe makes about one gallon of mix which will keep in refrigerator at least a month. Whole wheat flour may be substituted for white flour.

TERRY CLOTH FOR PLAY — Bright blue and white stripes in terry cloth make this snappy playsuit worn by Josephine Hipple, of NBC's "Today's Children" and "Guiding Light." The narrower stripes on the shorts do wonderful things for a girl's figure and buttons across the shoulders make the bodice easy to get into. The new plastic balls are not only nice for the photographer, they're lots of fun to play with on the beach as well.

Marking 50 YEARS of FORD Progress

1896-1946

Just fifty years ago, on a quiet, rainy day in June, the first practical Ford car chugged erratically along a Detroit street. It was powered by a small, two-cylinder engine, steered with a tiller and looked like a buggy with bicycle wheels. It was the forerunner of all the many millions of Ford cars that have contributed so greatly to the steady development of individual transportation and to the growth of a nation.

The results of this policy are ever greater economy, comfort, reliability and value. We are proud of our association with the creation of this great industry, and proud to join with the thousands of Ford people all over the world in celebrating this milestone of automotive history—the Golden Anniversary of the Ford car.

In these fifty years, the basic Ford policy has never varied—to build through constant research and refinement an even better product at the lowest possible price.

"Fifty Years of Ford Progress"—an illustrated history of automotive development—is yours for the asking. Get your free copy of this colorful story at our salesroom, with our compliments.

Three McCamey Men Rescue Drowning Man on Devils River

Harry Anderson, Junior Steele and Leon Belcher assisted in the rescue of a drowning man and recovery of one body about 4 1/2 miles above the upper dam on Devil's River last Saturday, June 8.

The three local men, accompanied by Mrs. Belcher, Mrs. Anderson and Donnie Belcher, arrived at the upper dam early Saturday afternoon with intentions of spending a quiet week end fishing and outing. A motor boat was rented and while preparing it for the trip to the upper waters of the lake, a party of three men arrived and began loading their own small motor boat with fishing and camping supplies. It was noticed that the last mentioned group seemed to be overloading the small craft. They started up the lake and were followed a short time later by Belcher, Anderson and Steele.

The McCamey men, upon reaching a point about 4 1/2 miles above the dam, noticed an overturned boat about 50 yards off shore with a man clinging weakly to it. The man was pulled into the boat and was found to be physically exhausted and suffering from shock. Floating near by was the body of Abe Gross, peckage store operator from Big Lake. Gross' body was taken to shore where Harry Anderson immediately began administering artificial respiration while Belcher and Steele returned to report the tragedy.

Hope was abandoned for Gross after the application of artificial respiration for over 2 1/2 hours. The rescued man was identified as D. W. Dean, also of Big Lake.

The body of the third member of the Big Lake Party, L. A. Corbell, 25-year-old Marine Corps veteran, was recovered from the 18-foot, snag-filled water by the Del Rio Fire Department shortly after noon Monday.

THE G. I. BILL

TERMINAL LEAVE PAY
The legislation for terminal leave pay for the enlisted personnel of the armed forces of World War II has made further progress in Congress.

The House Military Affairs Committee has recommended the measure for passage with the stipulation that in the future the payments of such terminal leave pay benefits be discontinued for everyone.

If approved, the measure would give enlisted men and women of all branches of the armed forces the right to receive pay at the time of discharge for all furlough time to which they were entitled but which they did not actually receive.

Officers now collect such pay. The payment would be at the rate of compensation and allowances to which they were entitled at the time of discharge, computed on the basis of 2 1/2 days for each month of service, up to a limit of 120 days. The benefits will be retroactive to those already discharged.

The committee's action followed circulation of a petition to which signatures of 218 House members were obtained, with intensive support of Veterans Organizations, to relieve the committee of further consideration of the legislation and bring it to the floor of the House. An early vote by the House is now expected on the bill.

There is very little doubt that this bill will not go through; in fact, it may be passed before this item goes to press. Your Veterans County Service Officer will keep you informed as to what has happened on this. Watch this column.

Dr. Cox Advises Not To Hoard Medicine Until It Is Old

AUSTIN, Tex., June 12.—There are many persons who naturally hoard anything and everything, including old clothes, boxes, and other useless articles, some of which constitute no greater danger than a possible fire hazard, but a very real danger is present when this tendency is applied to hoarding old medicines in any form.

Most medicine finds its way into the home through a doctor's prescribing it for some specific illness. For the sake of safety, left-over medicines should be destroyed immediately when they have fulfilled their purpose and never be stored in the medicine cabinet for future unprescribed use in case of another illness, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"Self-medication with the use of left-over drugs which were of great benefit to some previous illness can sometimes turn a simple ailment into a very serious condition of actual poisoning," Dr. Cox said. "This is particularly true of the indiscriminate use of sulfa drugs which have been prescribed for some previous specific condition."

"It is wise to use medicines as indicated for the illness for which they are prescribed by your doctor, and when they are no longer needed, destroy the remaining medicine immediately," Dr. Cox said. "Even if you expect a return of the same condition at a future date, it would be better to obtain new medicine if the condition recurs than to retain this old medicine in the cabinet and subject the members of your family to the danger of using it unwisely."

Methodist Church To Begin Revival Meeting Wednesday, June 19

Rev. J. H. Estes, pastor of the First Methodist Church, announced today that his congregation would begin a revival meeting Wednesday evening, June 19, to extend through Sunday, June 30. Services will be held each morning at 10:00 and evening at 8:00. Preparations have been made for the evening services to be held on the church lawn with morning services in the church.

Rev. Mr. Estes has secured the services of Dr. Frank L. Turner, General Evangelist of Ft. Worth, who will bring the messages and conduct the work of personal evangelism.

Dr. Turner was with the McCamey Church last December in a meeting which resulted in much good to the church and community, but it was felt that on account of the influenza epidemic, the church did not have a fair chance at that time and so is holding this second meeting.

Rev. Mr. Turner was for 15 years a pastor in the Central Texas Conference, holding pastorates at Hamilton, Cisco, Ballinger and Fort Worth. He was for four years President of McMurry College, Abilene. During his presidency, the school enjoyed great progress, both material and educational. He resigned this post in 1942 to enter the field of Evangelism.

Since going into this important work, he has held 70 revivals in five states and nine annual conferences. These meetings have resulted in more than 1,200 conversions and additions while other thousands have rededicated their lives to Christ at the altar of the church. Everywhere he has labored, there has been a great spiritual uplift. He comes to McCamey from Hedley where last Sunday night he concluded another successful meeting.

West Texas Racing Association to Meet Soon In San Angelo

A meeting of the West Texas Racing Association will be held within the next few days in San Angelo, according to President J. L. Cooper of this city. On the agenda will be a discussion of rulings of tracks at Del Rio and McCamey, two recent meets held under general rules of the association. This information will be passed on to the Mason meet officials.

One thing which has shown up as a "must" in the racing business in this section is the use of photo-finish picture equipment. Del Rio had it, and it settled definitely and quickly results of several close races. San Angelo and McCamey didn't, and there was considerable discussion about the outcome of several of the races. In the long run, however, despite the expense, photo-finish pictures form up the only correct answer to who wins many a race.

Jo Ann Qualls visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. "Red" Qualls, last Friday. She is now attending the San Angelo Junior College this summer.

Martha Lou Neal visited with relatives and friends in Monahan's over the past week end.

"MASQUERADE IN MEXICO"

New Musical Stars Lamour And de Cordova

Director Mitchell Leisen has concocted another formula for fun and frolic which can be summed up in three words, "Masquerade in Mexico," the Paramount picture arriving Wednesday at the Grand Theatre, with co-stars Dorothy Lamour and Arturo de Cordova supported by Patrick Knowles, Ann Dvorak, George Rigaud and Mikhail Rasumny. According to prevue commentaries, it's a gay whirl of music, merriment and breath-taking costumes which definitely make the Dorothy Lamour and Arturo de Cordova seem comparatively demure. She is reputedly more glamorous than ever in the svelte, sophisticated creations designed by Edith Head.

Action Blazes On Grand's Screen

Fearing every outlaw in the West, idolized by every cowboy on the range, the Durango Kid rides again in another exciting adventure, "Texas Panhandle," which, starring Charles Starrett, starts Friday at the Grand Theatre.

The screen once more echoes to the roar of barking guns and blazing action as the mysterious masked horseman uncovers a fortune in stolen government gold and hits hard against land-grabbing, quick-shooting renegades.

Boys Kiss Girls In Zany Joyride

When boys meet girls, boys kiss girls and boys get girls in Columbia Pictures' screwiest joy ride of the year, "One Way to Love," featuring Willard Parker, Marguerite Chapman, Chester Morris, Janis Carter, Hugh Herbert at the Grand Theatre.

They never stop loving, you'll never stop laughing.

It's a kisser-diller of a comedy thriller.

Beery and O'Brien Score Together In "Bad Bascomb"

Not since the early Wallace Beery-Jackie Cooper pictures has as delightful a team been seen on the Grand screen as that presented in the new M-G-M outlaw drama, "Bad Bascomb," co-starring Wallace Beery and Margaret O'Brien.

Both the veteran Beery and the tiny child actress have tailor-made roles in this compelling story of a two-gun bandit sought by the constabulary of three states, who meets his match in the love of an orphan traveling across Wyoming with a caravan of Mormons.

BRRRR! IT'S FUR — Ever see a sealion and wish you could glide through the water like that? NBC's Dinah Shore had exactly the same idea so Esther Dorothy designed this fabulous fur bathing suit for her. And that's not the worst of it, for believe it or not, the fur is eye-shadow blue moleskin.

To the Voters of Upton County

IT IS NATURAL DURING ELECTION YEARS FOR RUMORS TO GET STARTED ON CANDIDATES RUNNING FOR PUBLIC OFFICE. IT WAS ANTICIPATED AND EXPECTED WHEN I CONSIDERED RUNNING FOR SHERIFF, TAX ASSESSOR AND COLLECTOR THAT SUCH WOULD BE THE CASE.

IT IS SINCERELY HOPED THAT THE CITIZENS OF UPTON COUNTY WILL WEIGH EVERY RUMOR, AND CONSIDER THE SOURCE THOROUGHLY BEFORE MAKING UP THEIR MINDS AS TO THE AUTHENTICITY OF IT. I FEEL AS THOUGH I HAVE A NUMBER OF FRIENDS IN THIS COUNTY, WHO HAVE KNOWN ME FOR SIXTEEN YEARS, AND WILL GLADLY GIVE YOU THE TRUE FACTS CONCERNING MY PAST AND PRESENT.

I AM RUNNING FOR THIS OFFICE ON MY OWN MERITS, AND IF ELECTED WILL RUN THE OFFICE FOR THE BEST INTEREST OF ALL THE PEOPLE.
