Mr. Gerald McGuire, Principal of the McCamey High School, is acting as the Navy's local civilian representative, and will be pleased to provide specific information. According to a letter received by City Secretary Gene Eckols from the Johns Mansfield Transite Pipe Manufacturers, shipment on the transite pipe purchased by the City of McCamey will begin in the first quarter of 1947.

Delivery of this pipe will be made over a year's period of time, the second shipment to arrive in July and final shipment in September, therefore it will probably be this time next year before work can be started on the laying of this pipe.

The past performance of the American petroleum industry in raising the quality and reducing the price of its products is the best assurance the public can have that those services will continue.

"Prices of gasoline and oil products have always been determined by costs, by free competition among hundreds of active and efficient oil companies. The oil industry believes that more production, more efficient distribution and better products hold the key to American

This basic fact is not changed by the ending of OPA. Prices of petroleum products, whether gasoline, motor oils or the multitude of fine products manufactured by the industry, will not be changed because of the ending of OPA.

Under normal conditions, costs vary and prices vary with costs. If we all work together, in due course not only can product prices be held, but in many cases they can be reduced as full production and efficient operation are achieved by the effective cooperation of com-

HOTELS for LIVESTOCK

The central livestock market is as American as the "hot dog." No other country has the like of it. European sellers and buyers haggle over individual animals. In South America most of the dealing is done right on the estancias, where the livestock is raised. But here in the leading livestock nation of the world, for 75 years central markets have played a big part in the job of moving meat toward dinner tables of the United

When a carload of livestock rolls off the prairies or out of the mountains into one of the 65 or more great central markets, the animals are "greeted" and "registered" at the unloading dock, much as travelers are received and registered in hotels. From there they are sent to their "rooms"—the pens assigned to the commission man to whom the owner has shipped his animals. There these hogs, cattle, calves and lambs are rested and given food and drink.

Just as hotels compete for guests, so these central markets compete with each other for the business of accommodating the 88 million head of livestock which come in each year. Thousands of livestock buyers and order buyers bid against each other and the sale is made to the highest bidder. With 26,000 meat packers and other commercial slaughterers active in livestock

Things Are NOT Always as They Seem

The mechanical device pictured above shoots the ball marked A and at the same instant drops the ball marked B straight down. It certainly looks as if B will hit the ground first, since ball A has so much farther to go. But the fact is that they will both strike the ground at precisely the same instant. In our business, too, things are not always as they seem. On September 1, 1946, the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture reported that in the entire country there are 356 million pounds of meat stocks in cold storwere 356 million pounds of meat stocks in cold storage. That is a lot of pounds. But actually it is the lowest on record for that date . . . and compares with 626 million a year ago and a 631-million average for 1941-1945. Here in America we eat about 50 million pounds of meat a day, so the September 1 supply of meat in cold storage was barely enough to feed us for These "livestock hotels" are a separate branch of the livestock-meat industry. They are privately owned. Swift & Company does not own a single share of any stockyards company.

Thanksgiving

In this Thanksgiving month, the people of our nation-and of many other nations-owe a debt of gratitude to the ranchers and farmers of America. All through the war, in spite of its tremendous requirements, our people ate well. And in spite of sharing with the earth's hungry, our people are still eating well. Today, to be sure, not all the meat they would like to have . . . but plenty of nutritious food to keep them well and strong. That is because for large years millions of form and ranch more recommendations. long years millions of farm and ranch men, women and children have kept the food supply up, working harder than ever before, overcoming shortages of help and machinery and many other obstacles. Yes, Americans may well offer thanks this month to all those who produce our food.

FERTILITY OF RANGE BEEF CATTLE by A. L. Baker and J. R. Quesenberry United States Department of Agriculture

Now he is our sickly cousin!

Cows in the western ranch states drop from a 40 to a 70 percent calf crop with an average of 63 percent. This means that for every 100 cows the average rancher can expect to get only 63 calves.

However, the following recommendations, based on a study made, should aid the rancher in increasing his production:

Cows should be identified by proper markings so that shy breeders can be culled from the herd at an early age. Good producing cows may be kept until at least ten years of age without loss of fertility.

SPREAD

When visiting with livestock producers on farms or ranches. or at meetings, the subject of "spread" often comes up for discussion. Then I give them an explanation of the difference between the price they get for livestock and the price we meat packers receive for the meat we sell. To me it is a source of continual surprise that the spread is not greater than it is. During my years of experience in the livestock-meat industry, here is what I have learned about spread. We at Swift & Company have been paying farmers and ranchers approxi-mately 76¢, on the average, out of every dollar we receive from those to whom we sell, for all products we process and handle, including hides, glands, and all by-products. That leaves us 24¢ to cover the cost of processing and marketing.

Out of the 24¢ comes the cost of buying livestock and other agricultural products.

The cost of preparation and refrigeration.

The cost of loading them into cars and trucks. The cost of transporting them to our branch houses or to retailers. The cost of branch house operation and of selling and delivering the products to the retail dealers. In additional transporting the products to the retail dealers. the products to the retail dealers. In addition, we have taxes to pay; plus insurance and all the other necessary costs of doing business. When all these expenses have been paid, we make a profit, which over a period of years has averaged a fraction of a cent a pound on the 6½ billion pounds of products we handle annually. we handle annually.

There is no other business in the country that does so much for so little.

2. Cows that fail to produce calves in two successive years should be culled from the herd.

3. Where practical, it is advisable to test bulls for semen quality before breeding season in order to eliminate the partly sterile bulls.

There is an advantage in using bulls four years old or over, of proven breeding ability.

5. The establishment of small breeding pastures capable of maintaining herds of about 30 cows is recommended as a means of increasing the calf crop.

Even some larger ranches would do well to resort to pasture breeding if they could thus obtain even the 6 percent raise in calf crop obtained in this U.S.D.A. study.

How to Handle a Fortune

Some months ago I reported in the Clarion how Mel Bate's uncle died up north, and left him with a

Naturally, our town was curious to see how Mel would spend it: Traveling around the world . . . getting a new house or car . . . wearing fancy clothes . . . or dining on cold pheasant and cham-

We can now report, Mel hasn't changed a bit! Drop in on him any night, and you'll find him in his shirt sleeves by the fire, chatting with the Missus, sharing a mellow glass of beer with friends.

From where I sit, Mel has learned the art of handling money -as well as handling people. You don't let cash-in-the-bank push you around any more than you let people push you around. If you like the simple, homey life; companionship and quiet ways; a glass of beer and friendly talk - that's worth a fortune, after all!

Progress on getting telephones to those waiting.

Every day we're making progress on the big telephone job to bring service to the people who want it. New applicants keep the waiting list long, but as new equipment is placed in operation, we're able to put in telephones for those who have waited longest.

It's not a short or easy job, but we're hard at it. We are working at getting telephones for not a few persons or a few towns, but . . . for more than 230,000 persons . . . living in some 700 towns . . . in five states.

"Getting telephones" means making and shipping and installing switchboards and other telephone equipment, stringing wire and splicing cable, setting poles and placing conduit, and all the rest that adds up to a telephone system.

All over the United States people are waiting for, telephones. Thus we get only our fair share of the new telephone equipment being made for the 48 states.

The raw materials the factories work with copper, lead, rubber, cotton-are just as scarce as many of the hard-to-get things you yourself need these days. That's why getting telephones in takes longer today than we like.

That isn't normal, and it won't last. One of these days we'll be putting in telephones again the day people want them installed. Everyone who wants a telephone will have one, and service will be better than

Meanwhile, the best way we know to hurry that day along is to work hard-harder than we once believed we could work-and make that badly needed telephone equipment faster than it has ever been made before. As you read this, 100,000 workers in telephone factories—an all-time high—are doing that. They are making telephone equipment in far greater volume than ever before. That's the best answer to a shortage that we know.

Sul Ross Band Receives Uniforms

ALPINE, Tex., Nov. 6 .- New band uniforms have arrived for the Sul Ross State College Band, according to John Carrico, director. The band will now consist of 50 students well uniformed. The scarlet coats will be trimmed in gray with the Bar S R Bar insignia on the shoulder patch. silver-gray trousers have scarlet stripes while the caps are white, West Point style, trimmed scarlet plumes of the droop design. The belts are of the Sam Brown style. The drum major has a new white uniform trimmed with scarlet with a 16" white fur shake, while the majorette uniforms are also white with scarlet trimmings.

Vernon Bailey, Laredo, Texas, is the drum major and he will lead the band when it goes to Las Cruces Nov. 9. He will be aided by the majorettes, Miss Bobbie Jim Sparks of Kermit, and Miss Bennie Allen of Dallas.

The Sul Ross Orchestra, which is composed mostly of members of the Band, has already made a place in the music world of the Trans-Pecos country, and Mr. Carrico, the director of both the groups, hopes to be making trips to various meetings over the area soon.

Winston Holcomb of Rankin is a member of the Sul Ross band.
