

Construction In Friona Hits $598,000 In 1965

Construction in Friona during 1965 was valued at an estimated $598,000, according to a tabulation of building permits issued during the calendar year.

The total figure was down somewhat from last year's all-time building record, but was still more than the totals of three recent years.

Building total for 1964's record year stood at $1,978,040, including the permit for the new Friona High School complex. Without the school figures, the 1964 total was $1,149,040, still a record.

The 1965 total, as is generally the case, is made up to a large extent of new home construction. Of the total, $405,050.00 was earmarked for new homes, with 20 permits being issued during the year for new residences.

The new home total compared to totals of $315,100.00 in 1961; $457,669.00 in 1962; $577,350. in 1963 and $818,300.00 in 1964. Non-residential construction during 1965 stood at $139,600.00. This also was down somewhat, as totals for the preceding three years were: $215,780.00 in 1962; $231,950.00 in 1963 and $278,000.00 in 1964 (not including the new school figures). However, the past year's non-residential building topped the total for 1961 ($36,800.00) by a good margin.

At least one category for the past year topped itself from the preceding year. That was for additions and alterations. This total for 1965 stood at $52,740.00 for 1964. There were 31 such permits issued during the 1965 calendar year, compared to 32 in 1964.

The majority of the non-residential building total was made up of a $73,000.00 addition to the physical plant at the First Baptist Church. Another $24,000.00 permit was for the new Conoco station, and the $23,000 new home for the Friona Star and Graphic Arts rounded out the major non-residential construction jobs.

Of the new homes, two were in the $30,000-class. One was constructed at 1204 West Seventh by Taylor Construction Co., and another was built at 1208 West Seventh by Phillips and Son of Amarillo.

Other $25,000 - plus homes were built at 1206 W. Seventh ($27,500) by Taylor Construction Co.; at 1303 W. Seventh ($27,000) by Taylor and at 1302 W. Seventh (R.L. Fleming & Son).

Open House Slated By Gifford-Hill-Western

Winners Attend Bowl Contests

Winners of the Friona Star's annual football contest enjoyed two of last weekend's bowl games. Mr. and Mrs. Edward White and family attended the Cotton Bowl Game in Dallas in which LSU upset Arkansas, 14-7.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Monroe were in El Paso for the Sun Bowl game, in which Texas Western downed TCU, 13-12. All reported a good time. Accompanying the Monroes to El Paso were Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Day.

The contest was co-sponsored with the Star by 18 Friona businesses. Also winning two tickets to the Cotton Bowl game was G.W. Fleming, in a special drawing from among contest sponsors.

Partnership Told By Firm

Bill Sheehan and Richard T. Collard this week announced the association of W. Doyle Elliott in the law firm at 715 Main Street.

The law firm as of January 1, is now officially Sheehan, Collard and Elliott.

NO LOST TIME . . . "Preach" Cranfill, left, and Jim Johnston of Continental Grain Co., are shown admiring a trophy the company received recently from Continental's home office, recognizing the fact that the Friona office had no lost time because of accidents during its past fiscal year. It's the first such award won by the local elevator.

Did you start the new year with some New Year's resolutions? We hope so, because it's healthy to strive to do better.

We're making a set, included is one to try to please all of our readers, although in the same breath we realize that this is quite a resolution.

A newspaper is kinda like Abe Lincoln's description of politicians fooling the people; we can please all of the people some of the time and perhaps some of them all of the time, but it would be factious to expect to please all of them all of the time.

For instance, if we print jokes, some readers probably think we're silly -- if we don't others say we're dull.

If we print original matter, they say we lack variety -- if we "lift" articles from other publications, they say we're too lazy to write.

If we stay on the job in the office, we ought to be out hustling news. If we're out hustling news, we're not attending to business or answering the phone.

If we use copy as it is, we lack education -- if we change the copy, we're spilling someone's story. If we select certain articles over others, we're too critical -- if we don't we're asleep.

If we're scanning newspapers or magazines on the job, we have too much manpower -- if we don't read other publications, we're not up on the news.

If we publish a "pinup" the women complain -- if we don't the men complain. If we print more club news, the sporting fans complain -- if we print more news, the clubwomen complain.

If we misspell a name, the person and his regiment of friends complain. If we spell 99,999 names right, no one comments.

If we print divorce court proceedings, we're scandal-mongers -- if we leave a name out, we're protecting the "clique."

Like as not, someone will say we stole this item from another publication.

Well, they're right. We did -- at least most of it.

The cold weather and the holiday season has again combined to bring on thoughts of snow-covered mountains to winter sports enthusiasts. Folks in our area retreated en masse for the hills of New Mexico with their wooden slats strapped atop the cars.

However, while they were whizzing down the mountainside with a spray of snow in their faces, I enjoyed being huddled in my den watching whatever bowl game happened to be on at the time.

Most of my readers know that I'm a pretty hot sports fan but winter sports leave me cold.

I realize that it's just as easy to break a leg stepping out of a slippery bathtub as sprawling upsidedown and sideways in a snowdrift. However, we'd hasten to point out that at least would be warmer in the bathroom.

What brought all this on? I just finished reading an article by a fellow who feels exactly the way I do about winter sports. This writer claims that the ski resort people are being backed financially by the markers of crutches, splints, wheel chairs and linament, not to mention ambulance drivers, tire-chain manufacturers and the makers of automobile anti-freeze.

If I had my druthers, I'd hibernate from the first day the temperature dropped below 50 degrees until spring was quite completely sprung. I somehow can't find any enjoyment in a froshitten face and a sprained ligament.

And if you'll pardon me, I've got to quite and go find my jacket. I just felt a draft.

A kind word is never lost. It keeps going on and on from one person to another, until at last it comes back to you again.

Television is called a medium because so little of it is either rare or well-done.

One matron to another: "We're trying to enlarge our circle of friends to include people we like."

Former Resident Relates Experiences In Nigeria

Mrs. B.B. Banner, the former Vera Ann Jones, has been living in Nigeria more than a year. Her husband, an employee of Gulf Oil Company, accepted a two year appointment in this Africa country and the family plans to return to the United States upon the expiration of his appointment. The Banners and their three children spent several weeks visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Jones of Friona and Mr. and Mrs. B.B. Banner Sr. of Greenville this fall. Mrs. Banner, a former English teacher in Friona High School, wrote the following article at the request of the Star editor. An interesting, but disappointing incident happened in London as Mrs. Banner and the children were on their way home.

Mrs. Wayne Bainum, the former Ruby Shaffer, and a classmate of Mrs. Banner has lived in England almost two years and the two have corresponded regularly while living on foreign soil. A visit with Capt. and Mrs. Bainum and their children was included in Mrs. Banner's plans for a visit home, but an unavoidable circumstance caused her to leave the Bainum's telephone number behind when she boarded a plane for her flight to London. The Banner family arrived in London with one day to stay, but were unable to contact the Bainums. However, Mrs. Bainum had been advised that they would be there and was able to call them and the two women visited by telephone. Perhaps leaving a telephone number behind when one plans a long visit so many miles away from home with three small children is a small thing, but Mrs. Banner nor Mrs. Bainum will forget their disappointment for a long time. Nigeria, long-known as "the white man's grave," is now considered one of the most promising countries on the African continent. Located at the bottom of the hump in West Africa, just above the Gulf of Guinea, Nigeria is about twice the size of California. It is the most populous African state, and possibly the most complex due to the diversity of terrain and tribal languages, customs, etc. Proceeding from the coast, northward, there are 3 principal geographical divisions: the delta area of swamps -- sluggish streams and tangled mangrove forests; the forest region of evergreen or deciduous trees, better known as the rain forests; and the plateau region of dry plains reaching toward the Sahara. Until its independence in 1960, Nigeria was Britain's largest colony. English is the official language, and most natives can at least speak some English.

Our home is in Lagos, a coastal city and the capital of Nigeria. Actually, we live on Ikoyi Island which is part of the Federal Territory of Lagos. There are many modern buildings here, including some "skyscrapers" of more than twenty stories. Out of a population of more than a third of a million, nearly 40 per cent of the city's people live on Lagos Island, less than 2 square miles in area. In Lagos, temperatures range from 75 to 95 degrees. The humidity is generally heavy. Technically, the rainy season lasts about 5 months in this part of Nigeria, but most of the rain comes in June, July, and August. Last July we had twenty inches of rain. Our "dry" season of seven to nine months is hotter, but not so humid as our rainy "winter". Tropical foliage abounds; oleanders, hydrangeas, bougainvillea, flame trees, hibiscus, frangy-pangy, palm trees, coconut trees, and many others whose names I never encountered in West Texas. We have banana and papaya trees in our yard. Grapefruit, lemons, oranges, pineapple, cassava, mangoes, yams, green beans, okra, corn, tomatoes, onions, cauliflower, eggplant, rice, and peppers are grown in Nigeria. Cotton, cocoa, and groundnuts (peanuts) are among the chief crops. Certain precautions have to be taken for reasons of hygiene. Food which is not peeled or cooked must be thoroughly washed and soaked in a disinfectant solution. We boil our drinking water thirty minutes. A malaria suppressant is taken regularly; the kind we take is a pill prescribed daily according to an individual's weight. In contrast with beauty of nature there is much ugliness -- the smell of the open sewers, the myriad of beggars, the prevailing evidence of poverty and disease which has long been Africa's burden. A recombinant milk is available under the supervision of Foremost Dairies (U.S.A.). Powdered milk is preferred by many people. We buy many imported foods, canned and frozen, but they are very expensive. Imported meat, likewise, is high. For a Fourth of July celebration, we paid $1.40 for a pound of American frankfurters. We were really eating "high on the hog" that day. The local beef is not aged, but it makes excellent stews. Both the local beef and the local pork are unrefrigerated. A roast will have a roll of fat tied around it. The fat does not grow on the meat. The people of Nigeria are generally friendly and courteous. They are a proud and sensitive people. They move with the grace of those accustomed to balancing small-to-heavy loads on their heads. It is not unusual to see a man on bicycle, balancing a twin-size mattress and springs on his head. Like many tribal peoples, the women carry their babies on their backs. This is

EDITORIAL . . . . . Action Urged Toward Hi-way Improvements

For longer than we'd like to admit, we have made resolutions that we were going to start pushing for widening and improving State Highway 214 south of Friona, with hopes for an overpass at the Santa Fe railroad. With our first issue of 1966, we're officially kicking off a concentrated effort, and hope before the year is out to be able to report some good news along this line. Here are the facts of the matter: State Highway 214 south of Friona originally was constructed as a Farm to Market road. In time, the road was linked to the similar farm road north of Muleshoe, and eventually received state highway designation. Traffic on the road has increased steadily in recent years, but the width of the road in the Farmer County segment is still the same as a Farm to Market road. According to County Judge Loyde Brewer, who has discussed the matter with state highway department officials -- the project has more than a glimmer of hope. Officials asked Judge Brewer if he thought the City of Friona would cooperate in securing right-of-way for a possible railroad overpass. Judge Brewer is to meet with the council on Monday to report his conversations with highway officials. We would strongly advise city dads to take advantage of this "opening," and let highway officials know of their interest in the project. The widening of the road would be nice -- but the possibility of an overpass at the railroad would be a God-send. The number of fatalities and critical accidents at the Main Street crossing testify to the needs of this facility. Anything which can be done to hasten its realization, which we believe, be done.

HERE'S ANOTHER ONE FOR YOUR COLLECTION . . . Mrs. Raymond Jones has a special corner in her home on North Main for objects she has collected from many places in the United States and a few foreign points. Mrs. Jones is pictured here with a collector's items from Nigeria which she presented to her mother upon her return from that country for a visit last fall.

Nigerian Experiences . . .

a custom I should have adopted.

The most significant experience for us this past year was the birth of our baby, Donna Ray, last February, at the American Baptist Mission Hospital in Ogbomoso, about 150 miles inland. Our praise is high for the facilities and the personnel there. These missionaries are highly qualified and very busy people, and we are very grateful for their time with us.

For the past year we attended worship services at the Anglican church, formerly known as the overseas chapel.

Our other children, now three and five years of age, have adjusted to this environment and like Lagos pretty well. Barry, the 5-year-old misses his grandparents most of all. His second greatest desire is for "hamburgers at a drive-in cafe. Our little girl, Valerie, being a blue-eyed blond, is an outstanding attraction to the Nigerians. She is more appreciative of having a nanny than is Barry.

In addition to the nanny we have a steward who cleans house, does most of the washing and ironing, some of the marketing, and some of the cooking. Gulf (Oil Company) provides us with a gardener and a night watchman. Servants are a necessity here, not just a luxury.

Not many wild animals are left in Nigeria, but reptiles are still plentiful. The elephants, lions, gazelles, and leopards that we see are on TV. (There are two television stations in Lagos, with programs in the evening from about 5:30--mostly American programs, but some English, and some local.) Some of our friends, children have monkeys and parrots for pets. Our children have a Tabby cat.

Cars are mostly small European models with right-hand steering wheels. We drive on the left side of the road, as in England. As in most cities, the traffic is hectic, but here the constant stream of bicycles and pedestrians make driving even more hazardous.

One of the most unique services offered here is door-to-door hair-cutting by bicycling barbers. Those who prefer a more sophisticated cut can patronize one of the several barber shops in the major hotels and department stores.

There are several relatively modern beauty shops, the most popular one being under the supervision of an American Negro man. He has trained about ten Nigerian girls to shampoo and set hair. Some of them do combouts. A few give permanents and do hair coloring under Mr. Mitchell's supervision, and a few give haircuts. Mr. Mitchell does hair styling and most of the combouts himself.

Politically, there has been little disturbance since Nigeria gained its independence. Minor flare-ups are inevitable from time to time I suppose, but for the most part, Nigeria has handled its independence with more dignity than many of the other African nations.

Nigeria has pinned high economic hopes on oil production. The resources of crude oil are vast. Several oil companies have had tremendous discoveries--mostly offshore. Some Nigerians are impatient, of course, for the distribution of wealth resulting from this oil production.

Bill's work for Nigerian Gulf is primarily in the Lagos office as a drilling engineer, but from time to time he goes out to one of the offshore rigs as a drilling foreman.

We find life here interesting, though often frustrating to people accustomed to the importance of time. It is difficult to adjust to a slow-paced pattern of living.

Nigeria is changing, and our attitudes are apt to change in accordance. One thing we can say with certainty: "Our first year in Africa was not boring."

Dear Sir: While visiting in Amarillo this week I read an article in the paper about the 'Lucky Apache Tears' of the Friona ball teams. I have a supply of these lovely stones picked up in the mountains. I decided to run an ad in your paper to see if I could sell some of them.

I am also sending you a couple of them as a gift. Maybe they will bring you good luck in the new year 1966.

Sincerely yours,

CONSTRUCTION SCENE . . . An 80 foot electric transmission line structure can be lifted and set into place in 8 - 1/2 minutes with Southwestern Public Service Company's new hydraulic crane. The unit, the second one to go into service in the nation, was specifically designed for use in the electric utility industry. Southwestern Public Service Company has announced a 1966 construction program calling for the investment of $19,353,000 in new facilities, with a large portion of the additional investment to be in transmission lines.

Public Service Announces 1966 Construction Plans

Hub Sale Set January 20

The 10th annual Hub Community Sale will be held Thursday, January 20, it was announced this week by Clarence Monroe, president of the Hub Community Association.

A 1966 construction and improvement program which calls for the investment of an additional $19,353,000 in new facilities throughout the company's service was announced today by A.R. "Lon" Watson, president and general manager of Southwestern Public Service Company.

"Comparing our construction plans with a military operation, 1966 could be described as a year when we are going to strengthen and consolidate our position. In other words, this is a year when we are going to build into an already strong interconnected electric system new facilities which will provide even greater service dependability for our customers," Watson said.

New transmission lines, and related equipment, are the largest single investment in the 1966 program, with nearly $7,500,000 of the total construction program designated for the construction and improvement of the electrical highways which bring the power from the generating stations to the areas served by the electric company.

A particular result of this new construction will be that the "backbone" transmission line, or principal electric artery linking the three largest generating stations will become a 230,000 volt line. Nichols Station, northeast of Amarillo, Plant X, in Lamb County, and Cunningham Station, west of Hobbs, New Mexico are the three generating stations.

This means that early next year, it will be possible to move four times more power than we are able to now transmit between these three major plants.

"Let me emphasize that this conversion to 230,000 volts of the 'backbone,' or main, line is an addition to existing facilities, and means there will be one more way to move power throughout our system. In other words, there are other transmission routes, in addition to this new one, which can transport the power between all of our 11 generating stations and carry the load in the event of an emergency," Watson reported.

Watson went on to point out that the generation and transmission of electric power is controlled automatically insofar as the principal transmission lines are concerned, and that the changeover to an alternate route is accomplished instantaneously in most cases.

Major construction will begin during 1966 on another 210,000 kilowatt steam-electric generating unit at Nichols Station, northeast of Amarillo. This will be the third generator installed since 1960 at this location and will increase the capability of the plant to 435,000 kilowatts. Completion of the new unit is scheduled for mid-1968.

"The continued installation of major electric generating units is, of course, the best kind of evidence of our confidence in the future of our service area. There are many opportunities to attract small industries to this region, and a number of communities are actively engaged in well-planned industrial development programs. The advantages of this area are obvious, with our excellent climate, the optimism of our people, and good local governments. All of these will lead to new progress for the region," Watson said.

Electric power's role in meeting the municipal water needs of the region are a part of the 1966 improvement program. A 115,000 volt transmission line will be completed during the year to provide the power to pump the water from Lake Meredith to a storage reservoir near Amarillo. The Lake Meredith water is scheduled to be distributed to the 11 member cities of the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority, beginning in late 1967.

"1965 was another year in which the average cost of our service to all of our customers was lower than the previous year. As a matter of fact, it was the 13th consecutive year for a decline in the average cost of electricity used in our customer's homes. Our customers have helped make this possible by using more of our service. This enables us to install new and more efficient equipment, the type that will go into service as a result of this 19-million dollar improvement program in 1966. Reddy Kilowatt is still the servant who charges less for each hour the more hours you work him," Watson concluded.

Janet Rushing Leads Squaws In Scoring

Janet Rushing is the leading point-maker and Frieda Floyd has the best defensive mark among players on the Friona Squaw team this year according to statistics released this week by Coach Mel Williams.

Statistics were based on the team's games through December.

After 15 games, Miss Rushing has scored 333 points, an average of 22.2 points per game. This is some 6.4 points per game better than Cindy Ingram, who is second with 237 points and an average of 15.8.

Betty Taylor, the third starting forward, is just a shade under 10 points per game with 137 points.

Miss Floyd leads the defensive players in rebounds with 57, in "positive" points (Rebounds, Steals, blocked shots, tie ball and controlled tips), and has the best positive percentage among the guards at 62.1 per cent.

Next best percentage is owned by Linda Fallwell at 59.6 followed by Lou Cochran at 54.1 and Martha Martin at 50.5. Judy Shirley has the most steals (21). Miss Cochran is second in rebounds with 41.

The Squaws, with a 10-5 record at the holiday break, are scoring at a 54.7 points-per-game average. Losses have been to Farwell, Tullia, Friendship and Springlake twice.

Teams Start Year Right

There's nothing like start the new year off on the right foot, and that's exactly what both Friona High School basketball teams did Tuesday night.

The Squaws collected a prize feather for their war bonnet, surprising previously unbeaten Springlake's girls, 57-48. It could be termed a revenge win, since Springlake had handed Friona its first and only loss on its new home court here December 21.

The Chieftains, who had slaughtered Springlake here before Christmas, had a battle on their hands in pulling out a 56-49 win. Bobby Jordan scored 20 points to pace the Chiefs, whose record was pushed to 12-3.

The Squaws were paced by the 29-point performance of Janet Rushing. The Friona girls are now 11-5, with two of their losses being to Springlake.

Three-Way Battle For Leading Scorer

Three players are making a rat-race of the scoring leadership on the Friona Chieftain team at mid-season, according to statistics released this week by team coach James Anglin.

Current leader on the team is Travis Graves, who has scored 158 points for an 11.3 point-per game average. Graves is four points ahead of Gene Weatherly, who has an even 11-point average, and eight points ahead of Bobby Jordan, who is at 10.5.

Jordan was the leading scorer going into the team's last game against Springlake, but due to an injury did not see much action, and dropped to third. (Statistics are through games of December 21).

A fourth player, Ray Braxton, has scored over 100 points (115) and three others have scored 35 or more.

The Chiefs, off to another fine start under Coach Anglin, have a record of 11-3, and are scoring at an average of 52.5 points per game as opposed to 41.2 points per game for opponents.

Losses have been to Canyon, Littlefield and Muleshoe, all class AAA teams which have also been beaten by the Chiefs on other occasions.

Last season the Chiefs posted a 22-5 record enroute to their first district title in 20 years.

1965 Rainfall Tops Previous Year's Mark

Rainfall recorded in Friona during 1965 totaled 17.33 inches, a nice increase over that recorded during 1964. Total rainfall for 1964 was 10.84 inches, or 6.49 inches less than the year just ended.

Wettest month was June, when 5.47 inches were recorded. Other big months moisture-wise were July (3.65 inches) and May (2.31 inches). Most moisture for a single period was received June 10 and 11, when 3.70 inches fell.

A recording of 1.83 inches was made on July 28 and 29; and .95 inches fell May 13-14.

Blakest month during the year from the point of moisture was November, which held the record hands down. Not a drop was measured during the month, which has just a big "0" by its side in the yearly tabulation.

Following is a rundown of the year's moisture as recorded by the City of Friona:

January: .36; February: .50; March: .69; April: .58; May: 2.31; June: 5.47; July: 3.65; August: 1.32; September: 1.18; October: .64; November: 0; December: .63.

On The Farm In Parmar County

By JOE VANZANDT
County Agent

As we start the new year out, I want to remind you that it is time to start figuring your 1965 income tax return.

In 1966 edition of the "Farmer's Tax Guide," prepared especially for farmers to use in working up their 1965 income tax reports, is available at your local county Extension office in Farwell or from offices of the Internal Revenue Service.

It would be hard to place a value on this publication. It is written and illustrated for farmer use and is just about a must for tax filing purposes.

One of its most useful sections is the example tax return. On this sample tax return, Schedules B, D, and F are used. Also the major form of all, Schedule 1040, is shown with the completed return and computed tax. Each step is preparing the return is illustrated and explained.

Every tax payer who received two-thirds of his gross income from farming is due to file his return and pay the tax by February 15, 1966, unless he files an estimate and pays this amount by January 17, 1966.

PROTEIN SUPPLEMENTS

Now that winter is here and we are due to have much more cold weather, cattlemen need to plan a head for protein supplement requirements. One local protein source is often overlooked today -- cottonseed. Cottonseed is a 20 per cent crude protein feed. Four pounds of cottonseed furnished as much protein and more than twice as cost, one may feed cottonseed when the price of 100 pounds of cottonseed does not exceed the cost of 40 pounds of cottonseed meal and 60 pounds of grain sorghum. Not more than 4 to 5 pounds of cottonseed should be fed daily per head to mature cattle.

FERTILIZER IRRIGATION AND MANAGEMENT

The first of a series of farmer meetings is scheduled for January 13 at 7:00 p.m. in the Bovina School Cafeteria.

Three Extension Specialist will be discussing fertilizers, fertilizer recommendations, and new developments in the fertilizer industry. Value of soil and plant food lost in water run off and practical methods to reduce this will be discussed along with value and management of crop residues.
