Upton-Ector County Commissioners Have Road Talk Tuesday

Members of the Upton and Ector County Commissioners Court held an informal meeting in Rankin Tuesday to discuss the growing needs in the Sweetie Peck and Pegasus oil fields.

Ector County expressed interest in the possible use of FM funds of that county to aid in establishing a road system into that area.

At the present time, Ector County has considerable FM funds that they desire to use to develop a road into the area, but have not reached a satisfactory arrangement with Midland County on the project.

The talks in Rankin were to discuss the situation in the north part of Upton County, and to have a general agreement with Upton County on a project which might be presented to the State Highway Department.

The members of the two courts plan to make a trip to Austin in the near future to discuss the proposals with members of the State Highway Department. An appointment with the State Highway group is to be made as soon as possible.

Three members from the Ector County Commissioners Court, along with their county auditor, attended the meeting. All Commissioners of Upton County were present for the talks.

Rankin Red Devils Begin Heavy Workouts

The 1951 edition of the Rankin football team is beginning to take shape. Heavy workouts with lots of blocking and tackling drills have dominated the work-outs.

Coach Scrivner has issued 23 uniforms so far. Some of these boys are young and have not had any experience, but they will be the foundation for future Red Devil teams.

The defending regional champions will be one of the lightest teams in the district. However, what the Devils lack in weight, they make up for in fight and spirit.

Ten letter men are returning from last year's championship team. They include three all-district men. Norman Yocham, Bruce McCain and George Broyles. Other returning lettermen are: Loyd Yocham, Paul Johnson, Elbert Eckhols, Bobby Goodwin, Gentry Holmes, Don Murphy, and Jimmy Yocham.

Returning squadmen are: John Schlagal, and Don Treadwell.

New comers to the Red Devil's camp are: Joe Ellis, Joe G. Loftin, Bob St. Clair, Charles Shurley, Charles Snell, Edward Ward, Jerry Morgan, Andy Lyle, Paul Abalos and Eddie Rumble.

The Rankin team has one of the toughest schedules in the school's history.

On the non-conference side the Devils will face one district champ, one bi-district champ, and one district runner-up of last season.

It looks like all of the conference teams will be rougher than last year.

Danish Volunteers Build New School for Greece

The Greek village of Agnandero had no school. As in many other places its schoolhouse was destroyed during the war. Today, thanks to the contributions of Danish school children and of a team of Danish workers, a new schoolhouse is beginning to rise in the war ravaged Greek town.

The initiative was taken by the Danish Society for Reconstruction in War-Ravaged Countries and the Danish National Commission for Unesco. Members of the Danish voluntary team cut stone and mix batches of mortar for the brand-new school which is expected to open some time this summer.

UNCLE SAM AGAIN PLAYING SANTA CLAUS FOR BILL JACK

By Robert P. Vanderpoel

During World War II there was a firm in Cleveland called Jack & Heintz Inc. It was started on a shoestring by William S. Jack, formerly a labor organizer and Ralph M. Heintz, an inventor who had patented an airplane starter. The company was financed almost entirely by the government.

While other companies were having difficulty securing needed workers, Jack & Heintz never had any such trouble. Men and women fought for jobs there for the simple reason that Bill Jack was throwing money—Uncle Sam's money, the American tax-payers' money—around like a drunken sailor.

He called his workers "associates" and nothing was too good for them. A girl secretary was given a bonus of $39,000 for one year's work. There was summer vacations, all expenses paid, in the North Woods, and winter vacations on Honeymoon Island in the Gulf of Mexico. The "associates" were encouraged to take their families with them on their vacations—also at the company's (the taxpayers') expense.

At Christmas time, turkeys, watches, $100 bills were passed out in lavish fashion and at the end of the year there were bonuses for everyone, said to average an entire year's salary.

A Contrast, Overseas and Here

Far overseas American boys were living and dying in foxholes and trenches. They were sleeping in crowded barracks, marching in the mud under tropical suns, but in Cleveland the Jack & Heintz "associates" were living the life of Riley.

Long-established, well-managed firms were hard put to secure needed workers, but there were near-riots at the Jack & Heintz plant as men and women fought for an opportunity to participate in this great giveaway. There were literally tens of thousands on the waiting list, lured by the tales that here workers were becoming wealthy almost overnight.

The story of Jack & Heintz was one of the most bizarre, fantastic and shameful of the war.

Eventually and inevitably there came times of reckoning. The War Department attempted to renegotiate some of its contracts with Jack & Heintz, charging that even after all these extravagances, the company had reaped a profit in a single year of almost 500 percent on its invested capital.

Bill Jack answered this move by trying to raise $30 million from his "associates," not because the money was needed in the business (the government had supplied the necessary funds) but in order to increase his capital base. He proposed to buy government bonds with the proceeds and then because of this added "investment" in the business claim an additional profit on his war contracts of 10 percent on the $30 million.

Horse Of Another Color

This nefarious scheme to "take" Uncle Sam for another $3 million fizzled because the "associates" who had been on the receiving end weren't so enthusiastic about "investing" in the enterprise.

As the end of the war approached and the Army and Navy began to cut back on their contracts, the Jack & Heintz Garden of Eden with its milk and honey and love and light became a more mundane place. Jack asked for voluntary resignations from his 4,300 "associates." Only 20 responded. Jack then declared there were "slackers" and "discord seekers" in the company's midst and they would be purged from the payroll.

When peace came Jack & Heintz had some beautiful plants financed almost entirely by the federal Treasury and war profits. Eastern interests put in additional capital to convert the company to peacetime production and the gratuities one-by-one began to disappear.

In December, 1946, it was announced that President Bill Jack had decided to take a year's vacation. His son, who had been on the company's payroll at a salary completely unjustified by his age and experience, "quit."

Just before Christmas, Vice President Ralph M. Heintz called the "associates" together and said:

"It is time we faced facts. The free meals, health benefits, massages, holiday turkeys and other benefits we formerly received were paid for by Uncle Sam."

Against This Record—Read On

The words were almost identical with those which I had used four years earlier in calling attention to this disgraceful situation.

It wasn't long before the company was reorganized, Jack was given the heave-ho and once more Uncle Sam (via the RFC) was asked to come to the company's rescue with a loan of $3 million.

It was against this background that I learned with astonishment last week that the Defense Production Administration had authorized an "emergency" loan of $2 million to W. S. (Bill) Jack to get him back into the production of aircraft parts.

The loan is to be made to the Bill Jack Scientific Instrument Co., of Solana Beach, Calif., "to purchase land and buildings, make building improvements and purchase equipment." The loan application reveals that the company has no employees at the present time but expects 1,500 "when production starts."

I wonder if some patriotic American citizen couldn't secure an injunction against the use of taxpayers' money in this manner?

Bill Jack has already cost the people of this country many millions of dollars. It is unthinkable that the government once again should finance a man with a history as outrageous as that of Bill Jack!

Texas County Seats Invited To Participate In Texas State Fair

Every county seat in Texas has been invited to participate in the 1501 State Fair of Texas, Oct. 6-21, with special representation and by having a special day designated in its name.

James H. Stewart, executive vice president and general manager of the State Fair, has written a personal letter of invitation to the mayor or Chamber of Commerce manager in each of the 254 towns and cities.

The county seats are being invited to take part in the fair in conjunction with special days set aside to honor each of the 14 Extension Districts of the Texas A & M System.

The fair's fabulous "Storybook of Texas Agriculture" tells the colorful, true story of the state's agricultural economy in terms of crops raised and agricultural progress that has been made in each of the 14 districts.

In urging the county seat cities to participate in the special day set aside for their various districts, Mr. Stewart said the fair would be glad to provide facilities for presentation of special programs either on the Agriculture Building stage or on the steps in front of the Hall of State.

Special days for the various districts have been designated as follows: Oct. 8, District 1, the Panhandle; Oct. 9, District 2, the South Plains; Oct. 10, District 3, the Rolling Plains; Oct. 11, District 4, North Texas; Oct. 11, District 11, Hill Country and Winter Garden area; Oct. 21, District 6, the Big Bend; Oct. 12, District 7, the Edwards Plateau; Oct. 16, District 5, Northeast Texas; Oct. 16, District 9, the Piney Woods; Oct. 17, District 8, Heart of Texas; Oct. 17, District 13, the Gulf Coast; Oct. 18, District 10, Central Texas; Oct. 19, District 14, Rio Grande Plains; Oct. 19, District 12, South Texas.

Two Newfoundland towns will share the gift of a 27-bed Navy-built hospital given by the U. S. in gratitude for "heroic services" given to crews of two naval vessels wrecked nine years ago.

Today 42 percent of all the officers and 51 percent of all the enlisted men in the First Marine Division are reserves and about 25 percent of the fleet are activated reserves.

Forest Fire Losses Higher In Texas During 1950

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Careless smokers and incendiaries, together started 1,540 forest fires in Texas during 1950. Of these, 773 were the work of willful woods burners. The 1950 forest fire loss in Texas amounted to 395,922 acres resulting from 5,278 fires.

In 1949 Texas reported 1,837 fires and 66,137 acres burned. Sixty percent of the acreage loss and half of the forest fires occurred on forestland without organized protection. Last year 53.4 percent of the 15,420,000 acres of Texas woodland was under protection.

This information is contained in a report distributed by American Forest Products Industries—a national campaign in forest fire prevention that operates locally under the banner 'Keep Texas Green.'

Commenting on Texas' 1950 forest fire control record, J. C. McClellan, chief forester for AFPI stressed the need for greater cooperation by the public in preventing woods fires. Since most wood fires are caused by local residents, the 'Keep Green' program provides a most effective vehicle for grass roots education in forest fire prevention.

"Man's most effective tool in preventing forest fires is education," Chief Forester McClellan declared. "An alert public, aware of its collective responsibility for preventing fire in the woods can keep America's forests green, growing and productive."

The AFPI report, based on U. S. Forest Service figures, emphasizes the continuing need for full public support of federal and state fire control agencies. It points out that continued cooperation between industry, the public agencies and woodland owners in preventing fire is an integral part of the nation's defense program.

HUNTSVILLE, Texas — Prison Rodeo, where the toughest riders mount the toughest stock, will open in Prison Stadium in Huntsville on October 7th this year. The 20th of the series, the 1951 show promises to be the biggest and best yet, and ticket sales and reservations by mail or wire began September 1.

The world famous rodeo pits convict cowboys against livestock owned by the Texas Prison System and has earned the name of "the world's wildest rodeo." More than 100,000 persons have paid to see this show on October Sundays in past years. That is all the recommendation anyone needs who has not yet seen it.

When the rodeo starts with the Mad Scramble, the show's most dangerous event, the two hours that follow are jam-packed with Saddle and Bareback bronc riding; bull riding; wild horse racing; mule racing and the riotous Chariot Race. Each event a spine-tingling, nerve chilling fight to the finish between outlaw riders and outlaw beasts.

Prices for reserved seats are $2.40, tax included, and may be obtained by ordering by mail or wire is remittance is enclosed. Patrons are asked to specify the number of reservations they desire and the date they plan to attend the show. Tickets will not be held in reserve at the Prison Ticket Office unless accompanied by check or money order.
