

Hadaacol, Con't.

booming business when we got there (about three o'clock Sunday afternoon.) With several new fixtures the inside was very clean and neat appearance, and there was no place to sit down. It can seat 39 people. The cafe also has a fountain service, the first such service to be offered at Hadaacol Corner. The owner Virgil Walker, is assisted by his wife, two more waitresses in the front, and two additional persons in the kitchen. He comes from Odessa, Texas.

Going "back downtown," we stopped by Calson's Service Station owned by R. R. Calcote. We had to ask no questions to learn that his business was booming as the front help kept calling in gallop that poured into cars and trucks as we waited to talk awhile. B. W. Lawson was keeping the station. He verified our beliefs, and could talk only in the future of the thriving Hadaacol Corner.

Incidentally, Lawson is owner and operator of the Rancho Package Store in Hadaacol Corner, but being Sunday, the business was closed.

Back up on "the corner," we went into Calcote's Cafe which was in the midst of a building expansion program. The new addition to the front of the cafe was complete, but workers were still busy inside. On back in the cafe proper, business was rushing. Twenty-seven persons were in the cafe when we entered. When completed, the cafe will accommodate some 50 persons, instead of the 22 capacity it previously had.

We learned from Mrs. R. R. Calcote, the manager, that she normally served from 700 to 900 customers daily in the 22 seat capacity cafe.

Mr. and Mrs. Calcote have lived in "The Corner" since 1934 having ranched on Vic Tippett property. To see the great growth and development that has come to Hadaacol Corner "it has been amazing," she said.

And amazing it is.

In August of this year, only Hadaacol Daris had a little trailer house at "The Corner" in which he sold ready made sandwiches, drinks, cigarettes and candy. The demand was great and the business was booming. Every day it was a sell out. It was then that Mrs. Calcote decided to go into the cafe business. At first she ran it alone, but for only a couple of days. She now has 15 others working and still needs more help. She plans to have 24 hour service when the addition on the cafe is completed.

In addition to operating a service station and cafe, the Calcotes also have a trailer court.

While in the cafe, we met M. M. Busby who came to Hadaacol Corner in October and started hauling water and oil. He has four trucks in operation and said they were busy "nearly all the time."

Five welding services are located at Hadaacol Corner, and three more trucking concerns. Also, the Midland Construction Company offers welding, general construction, oil field workers and water hauling.

On to the far end of the street, a new cafe is being built by Mr. Olive of Odessa. It will probably be completed within two weeks.

On last Sunday, there were 57 trailer houses in Hadaacol Corner. There were others that could be seen from the corner beside the roads.

We ran across talk of Halliburton and ICI constructing camps in Hadaacol Corners in the near future. Supposedly, Halliburton have already completed arrangements for their location right in Hadaacol Corner.

In conversation, we also learned that 200 rigs could be counted at night from Hadaacol Corner. Indeed, it is surrounded by derricks at the present time as it had been covered by mesquite only two short years ago.

We were told that we should have come up "when we are busy instead of Sunday" . . . but what we saw was plenty. And with the new paved road that is to be built into the Spraberry Trend, and through the center of Hadaacol Corner, they all believe that the best days are yet to come.

Water is no problem as all the businesses have wells, and the water is good. They have had very little trouble, but a deputy will go on duty at the "Corner" this week.

Alf Hodges, resident in and around Rankin for many years, has been named by Sheriff H. E. "Gene" Echols for the job, and he is to go on duty this week. With the new deputy, Hadaacol Corner will have a taste of old "McCamey" as the old "iron cage" once used for wayward culprits in the boom days of McCamey is to be moved to Hadaacol Corner to serve a similar mission once more. Since early day, the American Legion Post in McCamey has been custodian of the cage and has used it often in connection with conventions held in McCamey. Also, the Boy Scouts in McCamey have used it on various drives. But once more it is to perform the duty for which it was built.

The sale of water on a commercial basis is also an enterprising business operated by Joe Treadway. But unlike the old boom days of McCamey, a barrel of water at Hadaacol Corner brings on 10c a barrel. In old McCamey, it sold for a dollar a barrel.

In addition to law enforcement for the evergrowing community, the Rankin Independent School District started a bus run into Hadaacol Corner this week to bring children to school in Rankin.

The bus run covers 75 miles a day, but the school fathers in Rankin were quick to see the necessity and approved the purchase of a bus last week. There are 16 students enrolled in the Rankin schools from the Spraberry Trend area as of last week, and several more were expected to be enrolled during the coming week.

In addition to the oil companies who have been named in the story, the Magnolia, Cameron & Simmons, Paul Barnhart, Atlantic Refining Co., Sharples Drilling Company, and Rowan Drilling Company are others who have operations in the Spraberry Trend.

Located in the northeast corner of Upton County, the road that is traveled by workers and oil service units in the corners of Midland, Glascock and Reagan counties go through Hadaacol Corner. It was estimated that some 3,000 persons daily travel through the "Corner" . . . and many of them stop.

Hadaacol Corner lies about 32 miles from Rankin, their nearest post office. It is a post office that most of the people want to do something about. And from the talk that was heard last Sunday, something will be tried to get such a facility as soon as possible.

Also from various conversations, we found that the infant Upton County community has a feature that is destined to make it a community forever, there is to be no whiskey or beer sold on the north side of the street, and such establishments must be located on the south. The land on the north belongs to Dick Midkiff, the land south of the "main street" belongs to Vic Tippett.

As the little community continues to grow and develop, it will be interesting to watch the entanglements coming from the above division.

So there you have it . . . an infant community bursting forth in a near wilderness with a church, varied merchants, law enforcements, school facilities open to them and a natural "local" political question.

What the future holds, no one knows . . . but today, it is one of the most widely mentioned communities in the entire Permian Basin area . . . Hadaacol Corner, Upton County, Texas, U. S. A.

Mrs. M. G. Phillips Dies Wednesday Morning; Services Here Today

Mrs. Marion Green Phillips, a granddaughter of Mrs. J. G. Lorenzen of McCamey, died in a Lubbock hospital Wednesday morning, Dec. 5, following a lingering illness.

Mrs. Phillips was a long-time resident of McCamey and a graduate of the McCamey High School. Her many friends will remember her as Marion Green, adopted daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Green of Odessa.

Survivors include her husband, Arliff Phillips, Lubbock, and one daughter, Lynn. One sister, Mrs. Margaret Knollhoff, of Sudan, Texas; her grandmother, Mrs. J. G. Lorenzen of McCamey, and her foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Green, Odessa.

Funeral services will be held on Friday morning at 10 o'clock at the Spalding Funeral Home. Rev. Ross Welch will conduct the services. Interment will be beside her mother, Mrs. Vera Coleman, in the McCamey cemetery.

THE "LITTLE MAN" PAYS

Economic Intelligence, a publication of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, points out that our present program of heavy government spending and soaring taxes is threatening the efficient performance and future growth of the American economy.

It is undermining the incentive to work and take the risks.

It has reduced the ability and willingness of people to provide venture capital for new undertakings.

It is eliminating opportunity for the individual and for business.

It causes inflation, with consequent loss of confidence in the value of the dollar.

It has led to more and more growth and centralization of government powers.

It has burdened even the low-income groups with a weight of taxation which, up to now, was known only in the days of the greatest despots.

It is a commonplace to justify the ever-increasing tax burden by pointing to the need for a powerful military establishment and for aiding our anti-communist allies. That is a phony alibi. Very heavy cuts in government spending—perhaps as much as $10,000,000,000 a year—could be made without harming a sound arms or aid-to-Europe program in any way. This is the money which is being wasted on projects which are either totally unnecessary, or which could be indefinitely postponed.

Today is the "little man" who must bear the main burdens of taxation. He, and he alone, must pay for the bulk of any new tax increases. It remains to be seen whether he will continue to let the government waste his money by the billions—while his take-home pay shrinks and shrinks because of the tax collector.

ANOTHER RECORD FOR OIL

This year, the American people will burn a record-breaking 46,500,000,000 gallons of gasoline. Since 1946, the increase in demand alone has amounted to 40,000,000 gallons a day—which is more than the total daily consumption of gas as recently as 1929.

On top of that, we will use over 60,000,000,000 gallons of other oil products by the time 1951 becomes history. Total consumption comes to about two gallons per day per man, woman and child. By comparison, the average for the rest of the world is approximately half a pint a day per person.

These facts are clues to the high state of American living standards. In the home, in industry, on the farm, on the highway, oil has been a revolutionary factor. It does—efficiently, quickly and cheaply—a thousand and one tasks that used to be performed with the muscles of man or beast. And it is the source of a multitude of valuable products—from cosmetics to "soapsuds"—which, in many instances, bear no superficial resemblance to oil at all.

One of oil's most spectacular achievements has been in filling the huge military requirements and taking care of the ever-growing civilian demand at the same time. Within a year after the outbreak of the Korean war, military use of oil actually doubled. It is still increasing. But the industry is sure it can handle whatever comes, and it's past record certainly justified that confidence. Oil is used to doing the near-miraculous.

THE AMERICAN WAY

Time To Put In The Champs

GO SLOW—MEN WORKING!

"Although millions of words have been written and spoken on our current taxation program, too little attention has been paid to one aspect of it which jeopardizes the nation's future," says W. Alton Jones in the Magazine Service.

"In the early days of the Republic, John Marshall stated that the power to tax was the power to destroy, and James Madison described one way it could be done—by eating up the seed corn.

"What is seed corn? As any farmer knows, seed corn is that part of the year's harvest which is set aside for the next year's planting . . .

"The seed corn of business is likewise the difference between what a man produces and consumes. It is called profit, or savings . . .

"When political agencies expend a nation's savings in non-wealth producing enterprises, rather than individuals in the development of new industries, there can be no progress.

"Two-fifths of our total employed in 1930, as Senator Byrd pointed out recently, had jobs in industries which did not exist in 1900.

"Here are two facts: For twenty years, more and more of our seed corn has been consumed by Washington agencies in non-wealth producing enterprises . . .

"Thoughtful men realize that no political organization since the world began ever developed a great industry. Even water works and the post office were developed by the savings and energies of individuals who pooled their resources under private management . . .

"We advise our representatives in Congress, to whom we have given the power to tax, that they keep constantly in mind that it is also the power to destroy. They should consider well whether the so-called present-day 'welfare' we are distributing so widely at home and abroad is unduly depleting our seed corn, and our eating it today will deprive us of the conveniences and even the necessities of life tomorrow.

"Let us make certain that under the guise of promoting the general welfare, we are not, as the Chief Justice feared, destroying it."

Income taxes may be unpleasant but we know of no other tax that we would like to pay in larger amounts.

McCamey Lions Sponsor Turkey Shoot Saturday, Sunday This Week

The First Annual Turkey Shoot, sponsored by the McCamey Lions Club, will be held Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 8 and 9, it was announced this week.

The turkey shoot will begin at 1 o'clock each afternoon, and will be staged at the old million barrel tank near the Shell Pipe Line Camp just east of McCamey. Direction arrows will be up over McCamey on both days to direct persons to the location.

Printed targets will be used in the turkey shoot.

The following type guns may be used: 22 rifles with iron and scope sights; high power rifles with iron and scope sights; any caliber of pistols; and 12, 16 and 20 gauge shot guns.

Persons not having guns, there will be one made available for your use.

Roy Smith is in charge of the affair for the Lions Club.

MIDLAND Livestock Report

The cattle market continued strong and active at Midland Livestock Auction Co. sale Thursday, Nov. 29. Bidding was especially active by out of state and North Texas buyers for good grade stocker calves and yearlings. Consignments totaled 1158 head.

Stocker steer calves sold for $33 to $37.50, top price going to Claude Sutphen of Andrews for a group that averaged 255 pounds. Ray Hightower of Garden City drew $37.50 for his bunch of 33 mixed calves that weighed 310 pounds and Van Casey of Sanderson got $36 for 20 steer calves that were just over 400 pounds. A lot of 310 pound heifer calves also consigned by Sutphen auctioned for $34.50. A few lighter heifer calves were up to $36. Twenty past yearling steers that averaged 653 pounds brought R. H. McCrummen of Seminole $32.60.

Fat calves and yearlings cleared at $28 to $34, mediums $25 to $28, commons $20 to $25.

Fat cows cashed at $23 to $27.25, the higher price going to Foy Proctor of Midland for several cows that weighed over 1,200 pounds; medium cows $20 to $23, canners and cutters $14 to $20.

Bulls went at $23 to $27.50.

A local woman says they have eaten so many fried chickens that they've taken the mattress off their beds and started roosting on the slats.

Regardless of your walk in life, smooth running gets you there a lot quicker.

Reagan Ranch Foreman Dies of Shotgun Blast

Kenneth Bullard, ranch foreman on the Gene Linthium Ranch in the extreme northwest part of Reagan County, was found dead in the ranch yard about 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

Bullard's body was discovered by a neighbor ranch hand named Griggs who had stopped by the ranch.

The wives of the two men had gone to San Angelo, and Griggs had stopped by to see if they had returned, according to reports.

Bullard was shot in the right breast by a 12 gauge shot gun found resting on the jeep that he had been riding in during the day. The death was termed as accidental by investigating officers.

The body of Bullard was taken to the Cox Funeral Home in San Angelo, with services pending. He was about 30 years old.

Upton County Sheriff H. E. Eckols and Deputy Bob Schlagal assisted Reagan County officers in the investigation.

Reuben W. Masters Dies of Heart Attack Thursday, Nov. 29

R. W. Masters, resident of McCamey for about seven years, died of a heart attack Thursday, Nov. 29, while at his work.

Mr. Masters was born in Collinsville, Ala., Nov. 3, 1894.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Eula Masters, of McCamey; his mother, and a brother, Dawson Masters of Comanche, Texas, and several other brothers whose residence is not known.

Services were conducted at the Assembly of God Church in McCamey, Friday afternoon, Nov. 30, at 3 o'clock with the Rev. A. R. Vaughn of Mexia, officiating.

The remains were taken overland by the Spalding Funeral Home to Comanche, where graveside services were held in the Comanche Cemetery.

Girls' B. B. Activities

By Maetta Higgins

Rankin's Junior Boys and High School Girls met Garden City Dec. 3. The Rankin Juniors outscored the Garden City Juniors 36-8.

Clifford Chandler was high point man for Rankin with 11 points, Glenn Welling was next with nine points and Bill Lewis and Robert Hurn tied for third with six points each.

Others playing for Rankin were Coxe Wheeler, Mac Yocham, Gene McCain, Geo. Schovajsa, Kenneth Rhea, Sammy Sossaman.

This was the Rankin Juniors' first game of this year.

The Garden City High girls defeated Rankin by a score of 34-28. Nola Boyd was high scorer for Rankin with 15, Joan Hood scored six and Jean Shaw three. Adrienne McDaniel and Maetta Higgins each scored two points.

Others on the team were Ann Shaw, Virginia Branch, Gaynelle Black, LaWanda McDaniel and Mary Beth Shipp.

The score reflects a hard-fought game on both sides.

Upton Road Bonds Sell For 1.7845% Wednesday

Roger Pierce & Co. of San Antonio submitted the low bid of an average 1.7845% on the $1,050,000 road bonds at the letting at the court house in Rankin Wednesday morning. Four bond companies joined the firm in buying the bonds.

The sale of the bonds was on ten year maturity, with a three-year option clause. Total interest amounted to $116,889.85, less $47,750 premium.

The bid was based on a 2% interest rate for 1953-55, and a 1 3/4% interest rate from 1956-62.

The schedule of payments by the county will be $25,000 in 1953; $50,000 in 1954; $100,000 in 1955; and $125,000 on the remainder of the schedule.

A total of 33 companies were represented in 13 different bids submitted by seven bondsmen present.

The First State Bank of Rankin was named paying agent by the Roger Pierce Co.

Clothing For Koreans Shipped This Week

The annual clothing drive for the Koreans sponsored by the Sacred Heart Church of McCamey, resulted in 309 pounds of clothing which was assorted and tied into bundles and shipped this week. There were 477 articles.

The committee wishes to thank everyone who contributed to this worthy cause.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Yocham of Quemada visited relatives here on last weekend and attended the Rankin-Pyote football game.

Mr. Jack Marshall has been a recent visitor in Lubbock, with her father and other relatives.

Avoid Drinking While Driving During Holidays

A look into the record books this past week showed that 61 persons had been tried and convicted of driving while intoxicated in Upton County, and that three cases filed just last week were pending on the docket.

Though it is admitted that this is more such cases than the county should have of this nature, the presence of a great number of transient oil field workers over the county due to the fast developing oil fields in the area, it is considered normally small.

But as the Christmas and New Year holidays approach, the number of such cases may even reach the 100 mark unless a great deal of reason is used by celebrants.

Sheriff H. E. "Gene" Eckols and County Attorney John Menefee urged the citizens of the county to be overly cautious during the holiday season and advised following the simple rule, "If you drive, don't drink, if you drink, don't drive."

Remember, "the life you save may be your own."

MOTHER REPORTED ILL

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Eades were in Jayton the past weekend where Mrs. Eades' mother is quite ill.

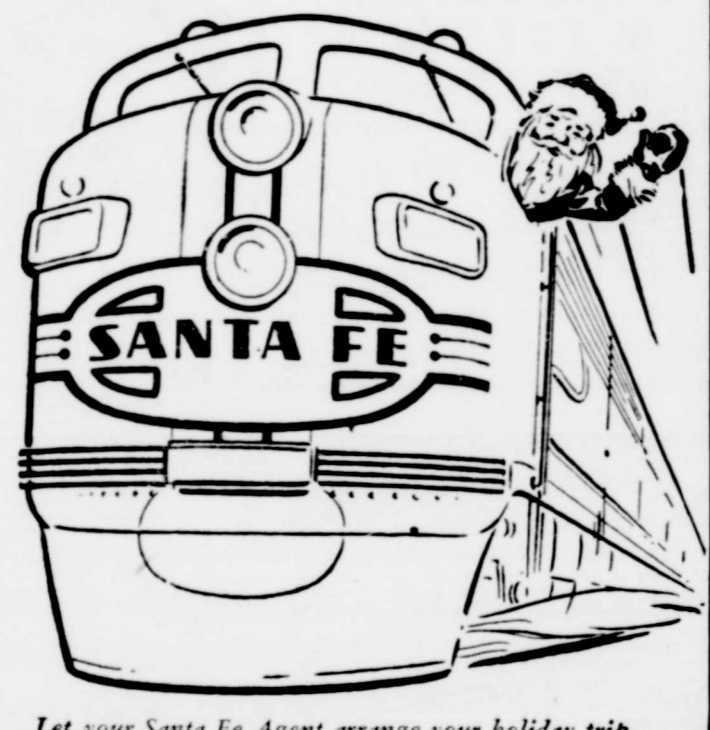

The Eades' daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Jackson and three children, have recently moved from Odessa to El Paso.

The Rankin WSCS has Xmas Cards, Stationery, Children's Books, Gift Wrappings and other gift items for sale. See Mrs. R. O. White.
