Local Lions May Get 'Goat' When Attending

Some members of the local Lions Club may shortly be the recipients of a goat as well, according to an announcement made Monday night at the regular club meeting.

The newly-elected Lions Club president, W. M. "Dub" Day, announced that the club had acquired four goats to be handed out to members who are delinquent in attendance.

He stated that the recipient of the goat will be required to feed and maintain the goat for one week or until he comes to a meeting. The animal will be weighed prior to being handed out and must weigh the same or more when returned, Lion Day said. He added that if the goat weighs less than when loaned that the borrower will have to keep him until the weight is back to normal.

Anticipating the possibility of an unscheduled goat barbecue or other mysterious disappearance of the animals, Lion President Day warned that a "kangaroo court" would investigate the animal's loss or demise and would mete out appropriate justice upon the head of the offender.

Lion Day officially took over the leadership of the Lions Club Monday night after having been installed in office the preceding Monday night. He took over the reins from Past President Ted Hogan, the first president of the new club and one of its organizers earlier this year.

Committees were formed Monday night and were delegated with their respective duties for the coming fiscal year, 1953-54. The Rankin Lions Club meets regularly at 7:30 p.m. each Monday in the Rankin Park Building.

State Fair Of Texas To Present State's Water Problem

The State Fair of Texas will attempt to serve as a unifying force in the current drought crisis by pointing up the state's overall water problem during its 1953 exposition, Oct. 10-25.

James H. Stewart, executive vice president and general manager, said features of the fair that will have bearing on the drought will include:

1. A giant "agriculturama" that will explain the water resources problems of the state as a whole as well as those of its diverse areas, prepared with the cooperation of the Texas A&M System.

2. A grass nursery exhibit which will include grasses capable of withstanding long droughts with experts from the Texas Research Foundation on hand to answer questions.

3. Texas Water Conservation Day, Oct. 13, which will be a highlight of the Texas Water Conservation Association's ninth annual meetings in Dallas, Oct. 11, 12 and 13.

New Post Office Construction Is Now Under Way

Construction is now under way on Rankin's new post office building with the walls beginning to take shape this week.

The new structure has been located just south of the two-story building in which the present post office is located.

J. P. Rankin was the successful bidder and is building the new building for the Post Office Department. The local post office has been seeking a new building for about two years and received the go-ahead signal from Washington last month.

Edwin Helmers of Rankin has the labor contract for the construction of the new post office while materials are being furnished by the Wallace Lumber Co.

The new building will be 25x80 feet and will be constructed of a single block in a modern design.

Acting Postmaster W. O. Adams expects to move into the new post office quarters in the early fall.

When the move is completed, he said, almost 200 more boxes will be available in Rankin. The present post office has 335 boxes while the new one will have a total of 525 boxes with space for an additional 500 boxes at a later date.

Rankin Postal Receipts Down

Receipts in the Rankin post office for the quarter ending June 30 dropped slightly below the receipts for the preceding quarter, according to information released this week by W. O. Adams, acting postmaster.

Receipts for the period, April-May-June, totaled $3,496.82 as compared with total receipts of $3,477.30 for the first quarter of this year. This brings the total post office business for 1953 to a total of $6,884.12.

The difference, however, between the first and second quarters of this year was only a decrease of $70.48.

The figures disclosed that Rankin postal receipts were running this year somewhat below the figures for the same period in 1952.

Postal receipts have long been used as a barometer of business trends in any town and are generally accepted as being indicative of a town's economic condition. This would indicate that both the prolonged drought and the recent shutdown of the Spraberry trend oil wells have affected Rankin's condition. However, the percentage of decrease is comparatively low.

water to agriculture on a regional basis.

"The State Fair was founded in 1866, the year of Texas' most devastating drought to date," Mr. Stewart said.

"Since that time, Texas farmers and ranchers have learned a great deal about irrigation, dry land farming, soil conservation and other progressive agricultural techniques. The fair has contributed to Texas agriculture by introducing farmers to contour plowing, seed selection, crop diversification and modern farm machinery." The fair this year, as it has

He added that his service department staff will be equipped to service International trucks and will maintain a supply of parts in the future as governed by the demand.

"In addition, the livestock premiums totaling $79,336 at this year's fair should prove a great incentive to western breeders in the drought-stricken area to hold their foundation herds together." Ray W. Wilson, the fair's livestock manager pointed out.

New Schedule Of Deadlines Announced By News

A revised schedule of news and advertising deadlines to become effective next week for The Rankin News were announced this week by Bill McNitzky, managing editor.

This move, he said, was in preparation for complete production of The Rankin News in the new building at 918 Grand Street in Rankin.

The new deadlines are set ahead of previous deadlines in view of a planned change from a Friday publication date to a Thursday publication date as soon as complete production of The Rankin News is under way at the new plant.

All routine club and church news must be in the News office by not later than Tuesday night in order to make that week's edition. "Spot news," that of a sensational or sufficiently important nature will be accepted until noon Wednesday.

Personal items will be accepted at all times and will be published in the following edition or as time may permit.

All display advertising must be in the office by Tuesday night and classified advertising will be accepted until noon Wednesday. However, advertisers are asked to submit ad copy on Mondays if at all possible.

WMU MEETING

The WMU of the First Baptist Church met Monday, July 13, at the church for their Royal Service meeting. Mrs. W. A. Hudson, royal service program leader, was in charge of the program with "Lifting the Loper" as the topic. About 12 members were present.

LADY DIAGNOSES ENGINE — Lucille Pieti, woman engineer with Chrysler Corporation's "New Worlds in Motion" automotive show, proves she understands the practical side of her profession. As judge of an old car contest, staged in connection with the traveling styling and engineering show when it played in Milwaukee recently, Miss Pieti expertly analyzed the motor of the winning car with the latest scientific equipment. The contest was designed to discover the oldest Chrysler-built car still operating in Milwaukee. The winner was a 1928 Chrysler with 63,000 miles on its speedometer. Miss Pieti found the 25-year-old car "mechanically sound." The engineering exhibit is scheduled for Omaha, Minneapolis and Dayton in the next three months.

Local Citizens Seeking Information On Water

In view of the critical shortage of water now facing Rankin, a delegation of local citizens appeared before the Upton County Commissioners Court Monday seeking information as to the progress of the proposed water program.

Rankin citizens are eyeing the recently-voted $360,000 park bond issue with a view of receiving aid from surplus water developed through the county park water development program to be financed through the bond issue.

HD Club Elects Delegate To State Convention In Fall

The Rankin Home Demonstration Club men in a regular meeting Thursday, July 9, at the Park Building.

During the business session, Mrs. Chris Bieri presided and a delegate to the state convention at Galveston Sept. 29 through Oct. 3 was elected. Mrs. Bieri was named delegate with Mrs. Mary Jo Kennedy as alternate.

Members were asked to consider and choose what subjects they wanted for major demonstrations for 1954 and report at the next club meeting which will be an all-day meeting on July 23. Each person is asked to bring a covered dish and some project to work on. County Home Demonstration Agent Myrna Holman will be there to help with different projects including picture framing. The McCamey club will meet with the local club on that day.

Miss Holman gave a helpful demonstration on selection and hanging of pictures and also how to make inexpensive picture frames.

Picture frames are a very personal matter and should be what you like, Miss Holman said. Continuing, she said that both subject and framing should be in relation to background and surroundings and should be selected with reference to size of wall spaces and colors prevailing in other furnishings of the room. Choose a picture to suit the room where it is to be hung.

Picture frames should be hung flat against the wall with large picture hangers hung from the moulding with two parallel wires or cords, never on a cord forming a triangle.

Quarter-round and different types of moulding can be used in making inexpensive picture frames and blotter paper is used for matting. Color of frames should pickup some color in the picture.

Rankin citizens attending the Monday court session were J. P. Rankin, H. G. Yocham, Loyd Yocham, Marvin Bell, John Holmes, J. L. Manry, Jr., and Mayor Ivy.

Midland Livestock Auction Sale Report

The market was strong and active with all classes from 50c to $3 per hundred higher.

Fat calves and yearlings, good to choice, $17 to $20.25; medium to good, $14 to $17; cull to common, $8.50 to $14.

Cows, good to choice, $12 to $13.25; medium, $9.50 to $12; canners and cutters, $6 to $9.50.

Mixed breed stocker calves and yearlings cashed at $9 to $14.

Cows and calves ranged from $60 to $110 with no choice pairs offered.

Passed by Upton County voters in April, the bond issue was set up to provide an adequate water supply for the county parks and other county installations in the Rankin area. This came about after the water system of the City of Rankin had failed to provide adequate water to fill the swimming pool in the Rankin Park and for fire protection for the courthouse and park buildings.

A secondary provision of the statutes will allow the county to sell any surplus water wholesale to the City of Rankin.

Led by Mayor A. E. Ivy, the delegation found out that a contract for the sale of bonds totaling $150,000 had been let and that Henry Neil of Midland had authorized the county to make tests for water on his land from two to three miles north of the city of Rankin. If water is located on those tracts, the county has secured a water rights option with Mr. Neil as well as an option to sell an 80-acre tract for another county park to be constructed out of the bond money.

Representatives of the firm of Hasie & Green, engineers from Lubbock, were to have been present at the Monday meeting. However, they were unable to attend and have informed the commissioners that they expect to be in Rankin later this week when they will meet with the commissioners court regarding the water development plans.

Rankin citizens attending the Monday court session were J. P. Rankin, H. G. Yocham, Loyd Yocham, Marvin Bell, John Holmes, J. L. Manry, Jr., and Mayor Ivy.

San Angelo's Annual Ram Sale To Be Held On July 16-18

The 17th Annual Registered Rambouillet Ram sale will be held in San Angelo July 16 through 18. Some 335 rams have been consigned by leading breeders from three states.

Wednesday morning a committee of breeders will select stud rams from a large pen in which each consignor has placed his two top rams. This committee will also select not more than 10 pens of three rams (A-B-C pens) which are sold with the buyer privileged to take all or any number from the pen. Thursday, the consignors will be available to show their offerings to prospective buyers. The sale proper will get underway promptly at 10 a.m. Saturday.

All rams in the sale will be carefully checked by a rigid sifting committee. All rams are bred by the consignor.

For the first time, this sale will be held at Fields & Johnson Sale Barn north of town, instead of the San Angelo Fairgrounds which were destroyed by the tornado.

ONE THING IS CERTAIN

At various times, surveys have been conducted to find out what the general public thinks businesses earn in the way of profit. Some of these surveys have concerned retail trade. And it has been learned that many believe the typical retailer pockets as much as 25 cents out of each dollar spent with him.

The retailer would be a mighty lucky man indeed if that were true. But it isn't. In 1952, for instance, the nation's department stores, after taxes, averaged but 2.4 per cent of sales. In 1951 the figure was 2.3 per cent. In other words, every time you spend a dollar in a general merchandise store, only a fraction more than two cents belongs to the owner. All the rest, almost 98 cents, goes for merchandise, wages, taxes, rents, and all the other costs that are an inescapable part of running a business.

Profits may be a trifle larger than this in the future, or they drop even lower. But one thing is certain: So long as we maintain the free competitive system, profits will be moderate.

FALSE LIBERALS

Liberalism is one of the greatest and most honorable of words. But few words have been so misused and abused.

In the light of that, this excerpt from a recent speech of Herbert Hoover's is well worth remembering: "It is a false liberalism that expresses itself by federal operation of business in competition with the citizen. It is the road not to more liberty but to less liberty. True liberalism is found not in trying to spread bureaucracy, but in striving to set bounds to it. True liberalism seeks all legitimate freedom, in the confident belief that without freedom, all other blessings are in vain. Liberalism is a force truly of the spirit coming from a realization that economic freedom cannot be sacrificed if political freedom is to be preserved."

DIVIDING UP YOUR RETAIL DOLLAR

A large food retailing organization in Florida recently described what happened to each dollar its customers spent with it in a late year. And this actual story is a significant one for budget-conscious consumers.

Here is how that dollar was divided up: 85.11 cents went to buy merchandise; 8.4 cents was used to meet the payroll and to support various employee benefits; taxes took 1.39 cents; miscellaneous overhead expenses totaled 1.32 cents; rent and utility services cost 1.20 cents; depreciation claimed .85 cents; advertising accounted for .72 cents.

After all these costs were paid, 1.02 cents was left. And that was the retailing organization's profit.

In every branch of retailing, the profit item is far smaller than most of us realize. In fields where problems of style and seasonal changes are involved, the profit naturally must be higher than in the case of staple merchandise. Even so, the net profit of representative stores rarely runs above four or five cents, and often is much less.

No other people get so much for their retail dollar as we do.

IT'S AN OLD TRICK

Next time you hear someone damning the real or alleged shortcomings of American business, and demanding more government interference with the free enterprise system as the cure, it would be well to remember a recent statement by Secretary of Commerce Weeks.

This top-level official observed that, for more than 20 years, private enterprise has been "burdened by government, shackled by government, punished by government, and then blamed by government for not performing as many miracles as it could have, had it been free."

It's an old trick of certain politicians to throw money wrenches into the wheels of progress and then blame everyone but themselves for the results.

Fawns Escape Screw Worms

AUSTIN, July—Look out for those spike bucks come the fall of 1954! The Director of Wildlife Restoration for the Game and Fish Commission reported an unusually good survival rate among this year's fawns in the Hill Country big game areas.

He said the principal reason for the fawns coming through is the dry weather which retards the screw worms. This parasite is a great menace to baby fawns during wet seasons.

The Director said one particularly favorable report came from Game Warden Adolph Heep of Fredericksburg, stating that the survival rate among fawns is one of the best in all the years he has been in the key big game country.

The Director explained that the screw worm develops from fly eggs laid in open wounds in the fawns' body. These infestations oftentimes are fatal.

Many men do not allow their principles to take root, but pull them up every now and then as children do the flowers they have planted, to see if they are growing.—Longfellow.

Construction of a new Oceanographic Laboratory to meet the Navy's urgent need for important oceanographic research began this year at Falmouth, Mass.

Rio Grande Fish May Be Restored

AUSTIN, July—The Rio Grande River, noted for its giant catfish, can be restored to its principal eminence, according to the Executive Secretary of the Game and Fish Commission.

He said the record drought, with consequent lack of flowage along great stretches of the Rio Grande will be costly to the fish population. But he explained that river observers report many large pools, enough to sustain adequate brood stock.

Meanwhile, deep South Texas fishermen are looking forward to the vast lake created by the Falcon Dam, below Laredo and above the rich irrigated fruit plantations in the Valley.

This lake, which is expected to be filled within a year, will provide a large impoundment of water for stocking with fish as well as providing a constant flow of water in the river below the dam.

The Executive Secretary said the lake will be stocked with catfish, bass and other species which, he added, should provide unlimited sport.

Expedients are for the hour; principles for the ages.—Henry W. Beecher.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Did you enjoy the butter you bought today? If you eat toast dry, or margarine spread, you still bought butter today, because every day the government uses over a million dollars of taxes collected from all families to buy surplus butter to hold up the price. Today, Uncle Sam has almost 200 million pounds of butter.

That fact stands behind report that government plans huge nationwide sale where by for every pound of butter you buy C. W. Harder at regular prices, you will be able to buy a pound from government stocks for only 10 cents.

There was discussion of selling to foreign governments, taking their currency for it, instead of requiring dollars.

However, it was learned this would upset economy of butter producing nations, by taking their customers.

Government also owns over 100 million pounds of dried milk, plus huge daily mounting supplies of other farm products.

And neither Brannan or Henry Wallace have anything to do with it.

Instead, Ezra Benson of Utah, who has, both publicly and privately, abhorred government price supports, directs the program.

Yet, as Agriculture Secretary he directs a program as obnoxious to him as deals with the devil would be to his beliefs as a pillar of the Mormon Church.

Many explanations are made why the government is supporting

THE STATE OF TEXAS

TO: Charles G. Gill and wife Mrs. Charles G. Gill, GREETING:

You are commanded to appear by filing a written answer to the plaintiff's petition at or before 10 o'clock A. M. of the first Monday after the expiration of 42 days from the date of issuance of this Citation, the same being Monday the 17th day of August, A. D. 1953, at or before 10 o'clock A. M., before the Honorable 112th District Court of Upton County at the Court House in Rankin, Texas.

Said plaintiff's petition was filed on the 9 day of April, 1953. The file number of said suit being No. 1014.

The names of the parties in said suit are:

The First State Bank of Rankin, Rankin, Texas, a corporation, as Plaintiff, and Charles G. Gill and wife, Mrs. Charles G. Gill as Defendants.

The nature of said suit being substantially as follows, to-wit:

Defendant, Chas. G. Gill, made loan from The First State Bank of Rankin, Rankin, Texas, a corporation, on April 17, 1952, and executed to it his note of $1540.00 dated April 17, 1952, payable in 15 installments, fourteen of $103.00 each, and last of $98.00, first installment to become due May 17, 1952, and one to become due on 17th day of each succeeding month until whole indebtedness was paid in full, to order of plaintiff in Rankin, Texas, bearing 10% interest from maturity until paid and 10% attorney's fees; said debt and note were secured by first chattel mortgage registered in County Clerk's office in Upton County, Texas, on April 18, 1952, on following property in Upton County, Texas:

One 36ftx30ft sheet iron building with pipe frame and cement floor located on one acre tract of land out of section 23, block B, H. E. & W. T. R. survey, Upton County, Texas, described in conveyance from H. F. Neal to A. F. Vinson, dated 4-16-52, and all equipment located therein:

One Porta-Power Serial No. A-80950.
Welding Equipment, Mecco Weldmaster.
One Drill Press Ser. No. 103 23141.

Two Electric Drills, No. 351 and 1172550.
One Bench Grinder, No. 115 7221 (K249).
Parts Washer, No. 157300.
One Vise, No. 951.
Welding Table and Vise-Yost 31C.

Lathe & Attachment No. 101 07403.
Tap and Die Set, No. 5505.
Flexible Shaft, No. 23926331.
Hack Saw, No. 1157267.
All Miscellaneous Tools.

Balance due on note is $1128.00, 10% interest and attorney's fees. Thereafter defendant Chas. G. Gill obtained additional cash ading butter prices. Increased margarine use is frequently cited.

Yet government also owns a billion pounds of cottonseed oil, which with dried milk, is principal ingredient of margarine.

Thus Benson, or any Agriculture Secretary is constantly tossed on the horns of a dilemma. If butter sells at expense of margarine sales, more dried milk, more cottonseed oil will pile up.

Thus in Washington belief grows that not the Agriculture Department, but the anti-trust division of the Justice Department must solve the farm problem.

In the dairy industry, for example, producers receive smaller share of consumers dollar. Retail stores also get small share of this dollar. But between the farm and store, there's a lot of "water" in dairy products.

But distribution and marketing of dairy products has been concentrated into a very few hands, aided by a monopolistic control of dairy labor.

Thus, many are taking the point of view that the nation's farmers are not plagued by over production, but by monopoly control of the distribution of their production.

The belief is growing that unless this control of farm products is broken by enforcement of anti-trust laws, the American taxpayer will always be assessed to keep the nation's farming community from collapsing. Monopoly business practices, it has long been held, are the most inefficient practices and eventually require government support, and rigged-prices to exist. Thus in the dairy industry, the public pays two ways to support a monopoly, through higher prices, through taxes to support the farmers.

vances from plaintiff, all secured by above lien and defendant, Chas. G. Gill executed following notes payable to plaintiff at Rankin, Texas:

(a) One of $617.50, dated May 23, 1952, first installment of $61.75 due June 17, 1952, and one on same day each month thereafter until paid in full, bearing 10% interest from maturity until paid and 10% attorney's fees, with balance due on principal of $432.25, 10% interest and attorney's fees.

(b) One of $618.00 dated August 27, 1952, payable on demand, bearing 10% interest per annum until paid and 10% attorney's fees; with balance due on principal of $256.96, 10% interest from date, and attorney's fees; (c) One of $273.25, dated September 9, 1952, payable on demand, bearing 10% interest per annum until paid and 10% attorney's fees, with balance due on principal of $273.25, 10% interest and attorney's fees.

Defendant Chas. G. Gill made loan from First National Bank of Carthage, Carthage, Texas, a corporation, on December 12, 1951, and executed his note dated December 12, 1951, of $648.00 due in monthly installments after date and bearing interest at 10% from maturity until paid, with 10% attorney's fees, with balance of $406.00 due on principal, 10% interest and attorney's fees.

That said $648.00 note was secured by chattel mortgage dated December 18, 1951, executed by defendant, Chas. G. Gill on following in Upton County, Texas:

One Craftsman 10" lathe 36 inch centers, complete with motor, grinding attachment and other tools.

One 14 inch drill press
One 8" Bench grinder
One complete acetylene welding unit.

Together with all small tools used in shop in Rankin, Texas, which chattel mortgage was duly registered in County Clerk's office of Upton County, Texas, on December 22, 1951. Thereafter said note and lien were transferred to plaintiff for good and valuable consideration paid and now owned and held by the plaintiff.

That all of said notes are past due and unpaid and defendant, Chas. G. Gill though often requested has failed and refused and still fails and refuses to pay same or any part thereof except as above set out to plaintiff's damage in the sum of $2576.46, together with interest and attorney's fees thereon.

That both chattel mortgages were duly and timely registered in proper County Clerk's office, and both are and remain in force and effect and are valid and subsisting liens against all personal property described therein.

That the true name of the defendant Chas. G. Gill is Charles G. Gill, and Chas. G. Gill and Charles G. Gill are one and the same person. That defendant, Mrs. Charles G. Gill is wife of defendant, Charles G. Gill, and was at all times mentioned in plaintiff's petition. Plaintiff has placed all of above described notes in hands of Roy R. Priest, attorney of Rankin, Texas, for collection and has contracted to pay him 10% attorney's fees stipulated therein, same being reasonable and customary fee.

Plaintiff has declared all said notes due and payable, and it is entitled to and should have foreclosure of its chattel mortgages and liens on personal property described therein.

CHECK TITLE WHEN PURCHASING HOME

A real estate title is a claim of ownership, or your right to land you have purchased. Most of us have little or no idea of the possible pitfalls in acquiring a good title when we buy a home. Many prospective home buyers' title difficulties result from commonly held misconceptions of the significance of certain kinds of real estate papers.

If you can prove your title against all the world, it is a good title. If in addition, the evidence of your claim of ownership is contained in proper public records it is a good record title. Ordinarily, only a good record title is salable.

How do you know if you are receiving a good title to property you plan to purchase? The safest method is to have a title examination made—that is, a careful study of the abstract and other title evidence.

Here are a few of the common sources of trouble in real estate transactions to show why the minor expense of a title examination is justified.

Many persons sign "earnest money contracts" believing that they are mere receipts with no serious implications. In reality they may specify, among other things, the kind of title you must accept.

A "warranty deed" from a responsible seller is comforting to have but it is a poor substitute for a careful title examination. A warranty deed does not guarantee a marketable title.

Moreover, serious title defects may not come to light until long after the seller on a warranty deed is dead, has moved to an unknown address, or is bankrupt. Even if he is available a good title is much better than a law suit.

The fact that the seller has possession of an "abstract" does not mean that he owns the property. An abstract is only a history of a title. Possession of an abstract no more indicates ownership of land than possession of the history of Texas means that you own the state.

Some purchasers of land feel safe because the title is being examined at the time of purchase by an attorney for the mortgage lenders. This seems logical but is a dangerous theory. Mortgage lenders are sometimes willing to accept less than good record title as security. This is sound business for them because, among other reasons, the chances are that the mortgage will be paid off so that no expense in perfecting the title would ever need be incurred. It is risky business for you when you are putting your life savings into the purchase.

These are a few of the reasons why a title examination is an important safeguard to you. When it is completed, the attorney gives you a written opinion stating his conclusions as to who owns the land, the defects in or charges against such ownership, and the requirements to be met, if any, to make good record title.

Off-hand this may seem a simple operation. In fact, it is not. It requires the interpretation of numerous deeds, mortgage, wills, court decrees and other instruments; the consideration of the order in which transactions and events affecting the title occurred; and the application of statutes and court decisions to the various situations disclosed in the abstract.

A free pamphlet containing useful information on legal and other problems involved in buying a home has been prepared by Texas lawyers. To obtain a copy, print your name and address on a postcard and mail to State Bar of Texas, Austin, 15, Texas.

U. S. Naval Reserve Now Has Special Rating Program
NEW ORLEANS, La.—Announcement of a special rating program in the Naval Reserve which allows civilian men and women to enlist and be assigned certain ratings up to and including chief petty officer, was made today by Eighth Naval District headquarters here.

The program, dependent solely upon the person's civilian experience, and by producing evidence that he meets the qualifications, includes either civilians without prior military experience or servicemen with considerable civilian experience. Particularly, this applies to anyone employed in a craft or semi-skilled position. Applicants with supervisory experience of one year are eligible for assignment to first class petty officer; three years for chief petty officer. Eligibility for enlistment in the Naval Reserve is the first primary consideration for people wishing to enlist under this program. Then, in giving consideration to their civilian skills, advanced rates can be awarded. No examination is required. Maximum age for third class petty officer is 35; second class and above 44.

The Navy said that applicants interested in this program should contact the naval reserve unit closest to them. These local units can interview applicants and determine eligibility for second or third class petty officer.

But those desiring assignment as petty officer first class or chief petty officer, in addition to having their application and substantiating documents processed by the local unit, must also have them reviewed by the rating review board at district headquarters.

Mexican Nationals May Be Contracted Under New Procedure

The crop-killing drought prevalent over a great portion of Texas has cut down the number of Mexican National workers needed to harvest crops, particularly cotton, but areas with good stands of cotton may require supplemental labor, the Texas Employment Commission announced today.

When local or U. S. citizen labor is not available, Mexican Nationals can now be contracted under a new procedure which became effective on July 1, by individual farmers as well as associations. The new procedure, the agency pointed out, will make it easier, faster and less costly to the farmer.

The contracting procedure, which formerly took from five to six weeks, can now be completed in six to ten days. For the farmer needing only from five to 15 workers, the time may be even less because that many workers are usually on hand at the reception centers. Farmers needing several hundred workers may be delayed for as long as it takes to recruit them out of the interior of Mexico.

Farmers who contracted Mexican Nationals last year will also find that the rate per worker has been reduced from $15 to $11 on original contract, and from $7.50 to $5.50 on a recontracting basis.

Three major requirements must be met before Mexican Nationals can be contracted by either an individual or an association. First, the Texas Employment Commission must certify that it cannot fill the farmer's order from domestic sources, at which time the local office of the Texas Employment Commission will issue to the farmer or the association an "Authorization to Contract Mexican National Agricultural Workers."

Second, the TEC must mail the authorization to one of three reception centers located at El Paso, Eagle Pass or Harlingen—which ever the farmer may choose. Third, the farmer must send his check ($11 per worker) to the reception center.

When these three steps have been completed, the reception center will notify the farmer direct when he may come and pick up his workers.

Farmers contracting small numbers of workers may, in some cases,

Kiplinger Reviews 30 Years, Sees Better World Ahead

WASHINGTON — W. M. Kiplinger marked 30 years of reporting world events and predicting trends for a highly-restricted list of subscribers with a forecast that "the world will be better" in the next three decades.

In a special 30th anniversary issue of his Kiplinger Washington Letter, written "partly for fun, partly for thoughtfulness," he said, too, "we cannot stop the improvement, but we can hold it back or speed it up."

The Ohio-born, former newspaper reporter, who originated the method of dispensing business, economic and governmental news, condensed into a weekly, four-page, privately-circulated letter, reviewed events since 1923, and then, with a "look to the future," said: "Out of our experience as observers comes a conviction, which is this: the world will be better. Improvement is the basic law of life.

"We cannot stop the improvement, but we can hold it back or speed it up. To speed it up requires more than noble wishes and pious good intentions. It takes hard knowledge, brains, intelligence, judgment, savvy, wisdom. Both the worldly sort and the spirit sort—both are highly essential—because working and living, as everyone knows, is not just materialistic."

Kiplinger was 32 and relatively unknown when he started typing out weekly analyses of Washington developments with emphasis on predictions of the future economic significance of those developments. With a second-hand typewriter, a borrowed $1,000, "Subscribers, none. Hopes, frail," he struggled to prove that the information he could furnish would be valuable to businessmen.

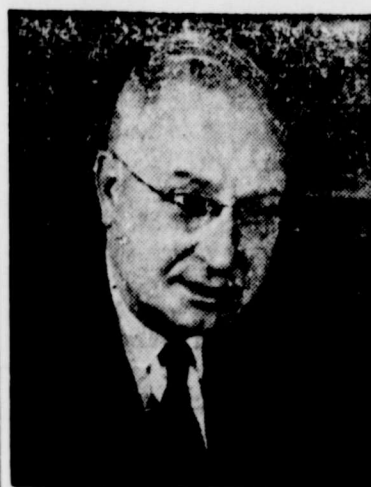

It took about five years to convince more than his three original staff members that he was right; that the Kiplinger Washington Letter was destined to become a distinctive force in American journalism. The struggle for bare survival emerged into an even harder fight—against scores of imitations.

Today, built around that original typewriter which Kiplinger still uses, is a staff of 250, housed in a modern, ten-story office building and a printing plant, and each sharing in the earnings of the Kiplinger Washington Agency. The Letter is delivered every Monday morning to business and professional men and women, teachers and students, housewives and political leaders in every state and 50 foreign countries.

In his review of the past 30 years Kiplinger says the present "is merely a piece of the past and the future," and continues:

"Now look back and ponder on the material advances of the past. How the average man is better off . . . than 30 years ago or less. Wages and other forms of pay have more than tripled, in 30 years. Living cost prices have less-than-doubled . . . so there's a margin. "Note the new things: Sound movies, color movies, radio and TV, refrigerators, freezers, washers, cleaners, and other household gadgets, air conditioners, airplanes big and fast, tough metals, new chemicals, plastics, man-made fabrics, electronics, radar, new drugs, psychiatry, new farm machines, modern architecture, 3-D movies, and the atom at work.

"Changes in ways of thinking: Growth of ideas akin to socialism. The New Deal era. Big government. Paternalism. Laws to spread income. Weakening of reliance on private and individual effort (perhaps temporary). Ascent of labor . . . union members in 1923, 3.6 million . . . now 16 million." All this adds up, says Kiplinger, to a better world ahead.

'Miss Wool' To Be Chosen In September

SAN ANGELO.—Coronations are in style more than ever in 1953, and the crowning of this year's "Miss Wool" is no exception.

Some lucky Texas girl this September will get the coveted title and all the prizes that go with it, including the spectacular $5,000 all-wool wardrobe, a set of matched luggage, and an all-expense paid tour to the fashion centers of America, valued at $5,000.

With the deadline for entries set for Aug. 1, candidates for the title are hurrying their applications to the "Miss Wool" contest headquarters here.

Sponsored by the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association, the contest rivals the "Maid of Cotton" competition each year in Memphis, Tenn.

To enter, any single miss between 18 and 25 need only write for an application form to the "Miss Wool" contest headquarters, Box 712, San Angelo. After filling out the form and sending her picture to the contest headquarters by Aug. 1, she awaits the choice of the finalists for "Miss Wool," which is made by New York's John Robert Powers, who chooses the famed "Powers" models.

All finalists will enjoy an expense-paid three days in San Angelo at the Wool Fiesta where "Miss Wool" will be crowned. The finalists will have to pay only their transportation to and from San Angelo.

Among the manufacturers and designers who have already said they would contribute garments to the 33-piece, $5,000 wardrobe for "Miss Wool" are Ben Reig, Paul Parnes, Fred Block, Addie Masters, Pattulo, Herbert Sondenheim, Anna Miller, Adelle Simpson, Ted Stein, Eisenburg, David Crystal, Ellis, International, Ann Fogarty, Wragge, De De Johnson and Davidow.

An Honest Night's Sleep

Slim Johnson, just back from a business trip, tells about a hotel he stayed at one night.

"I hit town late and went right to the hotel. There was no clerk at the desk, but there was a sign that said: 'Gone to bed. Rooms $3. Take a key. Pay when you leave. Sleep Well.'"

"Upstairs, the room was real clean, the bed comfortable, and I slept like a log. Came down in the morning—still no clerk. So I left three dollars at the desk and went on. Can you imagine folks that trustful?"

From where I sit, running a hotel on the honor system shows a real trust in people. And people always appreciate being trusted. Letting your neighbor follow his personal preference is a kind of trust too—trusting in his good judgment. I like a temperate glass of beer occasionally, you may prefer buttermilk, but let's hope neither of us "registers" a complaint against the other.
