Hogan Motor Co. Of Rankin To Show New Plymouth This Weekend

Plymouth will display its 1954 line of automobiles in dealer show rooms here this week, President John P. Mansfield announced today.

The new models have optional power steering and three choices in power drives.

They are longer than last year's models. New body lines, a new front end design, new interiors, new advanced design seat cushions and engine improvements are among the 64 advancements in styling and engineering design.

"We are confident that people will like the new beauty of our 1954 cars," Mansfield said. "We are absolutely certain that they are the most durable, best riding, best performing and roomiest cars that Plymouth has ever built."

Plymouth is using the link type of power steering. The hydraulic "muscle" is in the steering linkage. Plymouth officials say it is the most effective, compact and serviceable installation produced for cars in the low price field. It reduces steering effort up to 80 per cent, permits fingertip control in tight parking situations and promotes safe driving through lessening of driver fatigue and absorption of road shock.

In its 1954 line, Plymouth offers three options in power drives. Hy-Drive, a no-shift unit made up of a combination of torque converter and three-speed transmission, was introduced during the 1953 model year. It will be in volume production for 1954 models. The two other options are Synchro-Silent three-speed transmission and Synchro-Silent with Overdrive, which provides a fourth forward speed for cruising. Mansfield said more than half the Plymouths now being produced have either Hy-Drive or Overdrive.

The new Plymouth line is made up of 11 body types in three series. Aristocrats of the line are the Belvederes consisting of a sport coupe of "hardtop" design, a four-door sedan, convertible and Suburban steel-bodied station wagon type car, all beautifully color-styled in 2-tone combinations. In the Savoy series are a four-door sedan, club coupe and two-door sedan. In the lowest priced Plaza series are a four-door sedan, two-door sedan, business coupe and Suburban.

All models have completely new interiors. Other changes include an increase of 3 and 5-8 inches in overall length, a new front end styling treatment, new chromium side moldings and modifications in virtually all exterior design features.

Interiors are designed with emphasis on color harmony and modern decor. Seat and back cushions and door side panels are upholstered in new types of fabrics which are exceptionally resistant to wear.

Plymouth is introducing a new type of seat cushions with Dual Flex springs. They are made up of a combination of coil springs and jack springs which, working in combination, provide a softer cushioning action in normal riding situations and resistance to "bottoming" when the car hits a bump.

To extend top engine performance over a long period of time, Plymouth is using new silicon chromium alloy intake valves in the 1954 models. Exhaust valve inserts have been retained to maintain high compression engine performance in years of service.

Other mechanical improvements include a higher capacity oil pump, new improved clutch, and improved electric windshield wipers.

TRANSPORT DRIVER SERIOUSLY INJURED IN TUESDAY CRASH

Jack Smith of McCamey, driver for the Swick Oil Transport Company of Midland, was seriously injured early Tuesday when the truck he was driving crashed and burned about three miles north of McCamey on the Rankin highway.

Smith said he felt a tire blow out and as the truck was turning over he was thrown out of the cab and as the cab turned over on him he received severe injuries. The cab left him free, however, and he dragged himself to the other side of the bridge and lay there around 20 minutes. Two Latin-American boys in a pickup from Fort Stockton stopped to view the wreckage and Smith tried to attract their attention by lighting matches. As this failed he finally stood up and was noticed. He was taken to the Rankin Hospital, and underwent surgery immediately.

Mrs. Luella Huffman, superintendent of the Rankin Hospital, reported Mr. Smith's condition was good.

At the time of the accident Mrs. Smith was in Kansas. She flew back to be with her husband.

The Red Devils lost their first conference game 13-6 last Friday night at Van Horn. It was a hard-fought ball game all the way. Rankin outplayed the Van Horn Eagles the entire game, but failed to score on long drives. Several times the Devils drove down to within striking distance only to lose the ball. Rankin fumbled seven times and Van Horn recovered five of these fumbles.

Rankin scored early in the second quarter on a six yard drive by Jimmy Yocham to start the scoring. Don Vickers failed on the try for extra point.

The Eagles' first score came late in the third period on a two yard quarterback sneak. The Devils received a 15 yard penalty to their own 1. In three tries the Eagles had been set back one yard. Then on the fourth down the Van Horn quarterback broke through for the score. The try for the point was good. The next Van Horn score came midway in last period when they hit on a fourth down pass attempt for 30 yards and a score.

Rankin then came back and carried the ball to the Van Horn 2 yard line where a fumble stopped them short of the goal.

Jimmy Yocham and Arthur Dean spearheaded the Rankin offense, while Gene McCain, DeWayne Lindsey, Joe Smith and Dean were the defensive standouts.

The table below gives the number of tackles that the Rankin defensive players were in on:

Gene McCain	9
DeWayne Lindsey	8
Joe Smith	8
Arthur Dean	8
Don Vickers	7
Jimmy Yocham	6
Jimmy Ingram	6
All Bonnett	5
Tommy Hudson	4
Joe Ellis	3
Murray McCain	2

The Grandfalls Cowboys will be here tonight for a conference affair at 8 p. m. Grandfalls has only been defeated once this season and holds a 20-6 conference win over the Sanderson Eagles. They have averaged 31 points per game and held the opposition to 5-1-2.

The Cowboys tied the Devils last year 13-13 and have only lost one man from that squad.

CARDS OF THANKS $1.00

WHY SOAK THE TAXPAYER

Shortly before Congress adjourned, the House passed, by a heavy majority, a bill authorizing five taxpaying, regulated electric utilities to undertake a $390,000,000 hydro project at Niagara Falls. When Congress meets again, the bill will go before the Senate. Every effort will be made to defeat it by socialistically-minded groups, which want government to undertake the project. So the people of the whole country, who will pay the bill if socialism prevails, should know the facts.

If government does the job, little or no taxes will result. If private enterprise does it, some $23,000,000 a year in new taxes will be paid.

There is no doubt of the ability of private enterprise to build and operate the huge project. The utilities concerned paid $170,000,000 in taxes last year, carry a $200,000,000 annual payroll and have a 1953 budget of $220,000,000 for improving their facilities.

The project isn't complicated by irrigation, flood control or any other such consideration. It will produce power and nothing but power. It is not connected in any way with the St. Lawrence Seaway proposal.

If private enterprise is permitted to go ahead the public interest will be fully protected—by the authorizing law, and by federal and state commissions. The rates charged will be fixed by the regulatory bodies.

Actually, the only real argument in favor of government development is that freedom-destroying socialism is better than private enterprise. And mighty few Americans believe that.

GREATEST OF DANGERS

"I place economy among the first and most important of republican virtues, and public debt as the greatest of the dangers to be feared."

That was written nearly a century and a half ago, by one of the ablest of our Presidents, Thomas Jefferson. And it applies with infinitely more force to the conditions that exist now as against the conditions that existed then.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

Time will tell if Sir Sidney Palmer is stupid, or a self-assured Briton who knows how to handle Washington.

In few months, American public will get idea who controls Congress. Apparently, Sir Sidney thinks he does.

Sir Sidney, representing Malayan rubber interests, wants Congress to raise synthetic rubber price now.

Synthetic rubber now sells at 22c per pound, keeping natural rubber down at 21 1/2c. This, Sir Sidney doesn't like. Low natural rubber prices foment communism, he says. If U. S. hikes synthetic price, natural rubber will jump in price, too. This, he claims, will strike bitter blow at Communism. He doesn't mention what it will do for the profit picture of British and Dutch combines or Big American rubber interests with foreign plantations.

Sir Sidney wants to spring the same trap twice. In 1949, when Dean Acheson headed State Department, an International Monetary Conference decided to curtail U. S. World War II rubber plants to beat communism. Synthetic production dropped to its lowest level in years. Apparently, Sir Sidney didn't know production cut would stop communism.

In fact, Kremlin soon started Korea. Immediately British and Dutch rubber interests jumped in to deal a still harder blow at communism. With U. S. needing rubber badly, rubber price soared to over 70c. But higher natural rubber prices didn't seem to stop communist shooting.

The U. S. took steps to reduce rubber price but taxpayers paid millions for the big gouge.

But now Sir Sidney says to stop communism, more money must be paid for natural rubber. He says government should raise synthetic price now to level that will prevail when private interests buy government plants.

Thereby hangs a tale.

Forthcoming sales of plants must be confirmed by Congress. Many Congressmen feel private enterprise should be favored.

But 9 of 13 plants are operated by Big Rubber for big fees with major oil companies also cut in.

Prospective buyer, cannot fully inspect properties operated by majors, eliminating chance for free intelligent bidding.

Big profits are at stake. In 1952, government made $62 million profit. If subject to income tax, it would have still left $31-million.

Sir Sidney is sure when private companies take over plants, synthetic price will jump 4 to 6c.

Sir Sidney may have something. John Dulles, State Dept. head, says "friendly nations find it hard to believe that the U. S. the champion of free enterprise, competes with their natural rubber resources."

It's the same tune sung by same department. And so many seem confident that when Big Rubber completes monopoly by owning all U. S. synthetic production, prices will zoom.

Action Congress takes in confirming sales of plants will be indicative.

Final vote may show Sir Sidney not as stupid as he appears. Unknown to most Americans, he may know Pennsylvania Avenue is a suburban extension of Downing Street, the great thoroughfare of world cartelsists.

AUSTIN, Texas.—Eyes of all the nation were focused on Texas during President Eisenhower's visit.

Entering the state by plane, the president proceeded to Sharyland, baronial home of Governor and Mrs. Shivers near Mission.

Next on the program was a 65-mile drive to Falcon Dam, where Mr. Eisenhower was met by the Mexican ambassador to the United States.

Crossing the international border, the president met President Adolfo Ruiz Cortines of Mexico on the steps of Nuevo Guerrero's municipal palace.

The two presidents reviewed a festival in the plaza below the palace.

Later Mr. Eisenhower and Sr. Cortines lunched together at Falcon Dam, then proceeded to the dedication ceremony, where both made speeches.

After the ceremonies, President Eisenhower drove to Laredo and took a plane for Washington.

President Eisenhower, incidentally, is the second Chief Executive of the United States who has ever visited the Lower Rio Grande Valley. Warren G. Harding spent two weeks fishing in the Gulf of Mexico off Port Isabel in November, 1920, while he was president-elect.

Eisenhower's visit with President Cortines of Mexico marks the fifth meeting between presidents of the United States and Mexico since 1912. Previously President Taft met Diaz at Juarez, in 1912; Roosevelt met Avila Camacho at Monterrey in 1942; Truman met Miguel Aleman in Mexico City in 1947 and Aleman and Truman met in Washington in 1948.

Behind all the pomp and excitement of the Eisenhower visit to Texas a political struggle was going on as three factions sought the favor of Texas voters.

These were the Republicans, the Shivers or Conservative Democrats, and the Adlai Stevenson or Liberal Democrats.

National Republican Chairman Leonard Hall concluded a visit to Texas after exhorting his party's members to whoop up their efforts.

"If you work hard," he said in a speech at Houston, "it will not be long before we find as many Republicans in Texas as we find in New York."

Meanwhile, Sam Rayburn, a leader of the so-called Liberal Democrats, doubted that the Republicans were getting anywhere very fast in Texas.

He expressed himself at San Antonio as being glad that Hall had come down this way, and:

"I hope they send all their big shots down here because I would be interested in hearing their excuses for not carrying out their glorious campaign pledges of 1952."

In the third political camp, that of the Shivers Democrats, there was activity too, but it was mostly organization work—that hard and dreary but necessary precinct-level ringing of doorbells that has to be done in order to win.

Texas Congressman Lloyd M. Bentsen Jr., who had frequently been listed as a possible candidate for governor next year, added some warmth to the political situation.

He has been making talks all over the state, but when asked about his plans, he answered, "I have nothing to say at this time about my political future."

Bentsen represents the Fifteenth Congressional District in the Rio Grande Valley. The question asks itself.

If he is not thinking about a statewide political race, why is he speaking so extensively?

Maybe there will be a special session of the Legislature in November to deal with the state's part in a winter hay program for drought areas.

Rains during the past month have vastly improved the situation in most sections of the state, but there are areas which are still suffering from lack of moisture.

Governor Shivers put off his decision on a special session until after a meeting in Kansas City with President Eisenhower and governors of other drought-affected states.

"If the federal government is going to participate in a winter hay program," Shivers said, "I feel the states should also participate very strongly, by management, money, or otherwise. That may necessitate a session of the legislature."

HI-LITES & SIDELITES — Gal 2
If called, the session would deal only with the hay plan, and not concern itself with teacher pay.

There has been hope that money for teacher salary increases would become quickly available if the U. S. Supreme Court refused to consider the validity of a gas gathering tax passed by the Texas Legislature in 1951.

Such a ruling would have had the effect of upholding the tax and would have made the tax revenues, now being collected under protest and unspent, subject to appropriation by the legislature for teacher pay hikes or any other purpose.

But the court decided to hear arguments on the appeal of test cases brought by a number of pipeline companies.

That takes time, and it will probably be next year before there is a supreme court decision in the case.

More money for teachers is an essential and urgent proposition, says James A. Redmond of Beaumont, president of the Texas Association of School Boards.

Speaking at a meeting of the association here, Redmond stated that unless something is done soon about the shortage of teachers things will "certainly become critical and can only result in further curtailment of education."

Governor Shivers told the school board members that there is no disagreement about the need of teachers for a pay boost, but there is disagreement about how to bring it about.

There must be a meeting of minds on how to effect the salary increase, the governor said, or a special session of the legislature on the subject would get nowhere.

J. Rutledge Hill of Dallas was named chairman of the state board of hospitals and special schools, succeeding James M. Windham of Livingston.

James G. Dudley of Houston was elected vice chairman, succeeding Hill.

Texas' system of hospitals for mental and tuberculosis cases is under the board's supervision.

To find out whether the University of Texas system is operating in the most economical and efficient manner, a survey will be made of the administrative set-up, announced Tom Sealy of Midland, chairman of the university board of regents.

Making the survey will be the Texas Research League, which will share the expense equally with the Ford Foundation.

Pecos Valley Rod and Gun Club Report

A SPECIAL MESSAGE TO M-CAMEY PARENTS:

Your boy is a typical American boy. He likes all the things a typical American boy likes. Among the things he likes are football, baseball, pop corn, red soda pop and the movies. If he didn't like these things, we would probably consider him abnormal. Another characteristic of the typical American boy is his liking for guns. He usually has a cap pistol before the age of five and by that time is already planning and looking forward to the day when he can become the owner of a real honest-to-goodness BB gun. He puts in many happy hours plunking with his BB gun and planning for the day when he can do some real man shooting with his own .22 rifle. He likes to hunt and shoot and talk about them. In fact, it is hardly possible to try to visualize an American boy without this trait.

Does your boy have a gun? Do you know if he is doing any shooting? We of the Pecos Valley Rod & Gun Club know some boys who are shooting and are members of our Club. These boys shoot under the supervision of adults. They are taught to handle firearms safely and to shoot accurately. They learn what safety and good sportsmanship mean. They learn about hunting, fishing and game conservation and they learn it under expert leadership.

Then, we know a few boys in our community who roam about in group of four or five and shoot at anything in sight. They have no leadership; they shoot road signs, dogs, cats, tin cans, and about everything else that draws their attention. They even shoot each other. Since boys are what they are, we don't know of any way to keep them from shooting—it is perfectly natural for them to shoot and they are going to do it whether you know it or not. Do you wonder what to do about this situation? Here is a suggestion that is working in a lot of localities for a lot of boys: Arrange for your boy to learn to shoot under proper supervision. One of the main objectives of the Pecos Valley Rod & Gun Club is to do this very thing for the youth of our community. You, as parents, can encourage this by attending our meetings and learning about the aims and objectives of our Club. If you will become a member and take an active part in the business of the Club you can do a great deal of good for your own as well as other boys of the community. Think it over—the situation is quite serious—as parents let's do everything possible to prevent a tragedy among our boys.

Mrs. Harold Congdon Honored At Regular Meeting Of W.S.C.S.

The closing study session of the "Life and Task of the Church Around the World" met Monday evening at the Methodist Church.

Mrs. R. H. Johnson prepared a combination worship and interesting center, using the Cross and Salman's head of Christ above the table with a hymnal and open Bible, a staff and a pair of sandals on the table. Back of this table was a map showing the missionary journeys of Paul and on either side of the table, large maps showing on one, the 28 countries in which the Woman's Division of Christian Service is at work and on the other, a map of Rankin. Just below the surface of the table was a picture of Uncle Sam on his knees in prayer. The whole arrangement was an allegory of the praying Christian with his highest allegiance to Christ and His Cross, the open Bible and hymnal in His hands as He takes His staff and walks the paths of our own communities and the uttermost parts of the earth to tell the good news of the Gospel.

With this in mind, the session opened with the group singing world fellowship songs and a prayer by Mrs. Ross Wheeler.

For several minutes information was looked up regarding each prayer partner and the type of mission work which was being done. Then the group discussed the task of the church and what could be done individually and collectively assume her share.

Mrs. D. O. McEwen presented the "treasure chests" as a means of augmenting the giving of the group, and a free will offering was made to the benefit of the projects assigned to this jurisdiction.

Prayer was mentioned as a means of both inspiration and service and Miss Myrtle Reed gave the qualifications and duties of missionaries. Mrs. R. O. White stressed the needs for more of these and also the need for mothers to see to it that their children serve the church.

The session closed with the reading of St. John 17:20-26 by Mrs. Harold Congdon, followed by sentence prayers.

At the social hour which followed, Mrs. Wheeler and Mrs. Johnson were hostesses. The table was beautifully laid with silver, pink dahlias, punch bowl and colored napkins. Mrs. Congdon was escorted to a table piled high with nursery gifts, much to her surprise. Guests were served lemonade and cake squares iced with pink and blue, while the honoree opened the wrapped gifts, which were later displayed on the refreshment table. Besides the individual gifts, there were personal gifts from the W.S.C.S. and the Night Circle of which Mrs. Congdon is chairman.

Sixteen members and two visitors were present.
